NAZI BEACHHEAD DRIVE IS HALTED

MARSHALL

Explosive-Filled Radio Controlled Tanks of Germans Smashed.

MAR 2 1944

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, Naples, March 1. — (AP) Allied forces today blocked a strong German lunge on the Anzio beachhead which may have been intended to start a new Nazi offensive.

Brief dispatches from the sector reported no great centralized drive toward the sea as having developed yet, although the Nazis applied pressure at several points along the perimeter of the British and American lines.

Field guns and mortars roared against Germans who had appeared to be making a third major effort to drive the Allies into the sea.

(The Nazi-controlled Rome radio broadcast a report tonight that the Allies were attacking. The British radio, in a broadcast reported by NBC, quoted the Rome radio as saying that "one of the heaviest artillery barrages yet seen in the beachhead was laid down by the Allies." German positions were reported "subjected to prolonged and concentrated shelling.")

As the reinforced enemy launched his attack, Allied headquarters disclosed that Field Marshal Albert Kesselring had been equipped with a new "secret weapon"—an explosive-filled, pilotless tank meant to be steered by remote control into Allied positions and detonated in the midst of the defenders.

This latest Nazi weapon had its initial try-out in the enemy's second big assault against the beachhead just two weeks ago, and was singularly unsuccessful. Fourteen were exploded by Allied artillery as they waddled across no-man's land.

Punching and probing harder at American and British lines at several points around the approximate 25-mile perimeter of the beachhead, the Germans opened their newest thrust with a strong attack by infantry and tanks about midway between Carroceto and Cisterna yesterday morning after a heavy artillery bombardment of the entire beachhead.

Writing from the battle ground today, Edward Kennedy of the Associated Press said that the "expected German attacks along the perimeter have begun and fighting is continuing." He said the Nazis were relying on steady pressure and occasional jabs behind a heavy mortar barrage. A German tank thrust in the Isola Bella area, about two miles southwest of Cisterna, was smashed by Allied artillery fire, Kennedy said.

Air Support Asked

Observing the massing of German troops in the Cisterna area, Allied ground forces called upon their air support for help, and soon Invader dive bombers and medium bombers were attacking three ravines in which enemy men and armor were concentrated.

The Germans stepped up their constant shelling of the beachhead, apparently having brought in great quantities of artillery and ammunition. The Nazi guns thundered night and day. Under this shelling American troops threw back two strong Nazi patrols that attacked them Monday night southeast of Carroceto.

British troops employed artillery and mortar fire to beat off a small but determined force of German attackers southwest of Carroceto and took some prisoners. Four German tanks had been knocked out in three days of skirmishing in that sector.

German Report Quoted

[Wednesday's German high command communique said that a "major enemy group" had been encircled southwest of Cisterna and that Nazi shock troops had mopped up some Allied strong points. A German DNB news broadcast dwelt upon the "strategical hopelessness" of the Allied situation on the beachhead and made the estimate that 200,000 Allied troops were crammed into the area.]

With the weather somewhat milder but still laced with showers, fighting remained at a virtual standstill on the original battle front some 60-80 miles below the beachhead. Six Allied and six German planes were destroyed during the day, which saw the Allied air force make some 700 sorties over the beachhead alone.

Nazis Hurl 'Suicide' Tanks Into New Anzio Drive

Allied headquarters, Naples, March 1 (AP) — German troops, armed with a new "secret weapon," a tank loaded with explosives, have slugged out in new assaults against the Anzio beachhead, and Allied headquarters said this may be a third great offensive aimed at driving the invasion troops into the sea.

The Nazis opened a heavy attack midway between Carroceto and Cisterna Tuesday morning, and this was growing stronger.

Artillery duels thundered, and front dispatches last night said the enemy had pounded the beachhead with the heaviest bombardment since the landings.

Trapped, Nazis Claim

(The German communique asserted that "a major enemy group southwest of Cisterna" had been encircled and that the Nazis were maintaining strong artillery pressure against the Allied position.

(The Cisterna area has been the main American theater in the beachhead.

("By means of shock troop operations, we succeeded in mopping up enemy strong points," the communique, broadcast from Berlin, said.

Sinking Reported

(The Germans claimed their bombers sank a 5,000-ton transport in Anzio harbor and damaged four others totalling 15,000 tons and a landing barge.

(Lively reconnaissance and artillery action on both sides was reported on the southern Italian front. The Germans said they destroyed 12 planes with ground fire.)

Headquarters disclosed the Germans had used new radio-controlled tanks, bearing 1,000-pound charges and designed to blow up within Allied lines, in their offensive against the beachhead, but that Allied artillery had exploded 14 of them before they reached the Allied lines. The blasts probably caused great damage to Nazi positions instead.

The Germans struck at the beachhead at two points Monday and Tuesday night, and continued to "exert pressure" without result, headquarters said.

Massed Tanks Bombed

There were no details on the thrust against the eastern half of the beachhead between Carroceto and Cisterna, but if it develops into a major offensive, it would be the third attempt to wipe out the strongly held Allied sector.

Allied artillery and bombers lashed back, with United States planes hammering Nazi troops and tanks massed in the Cisterna area.

The Germans were probing the beachhead lines, apparently seeking a soft spot, and Nazi tanks appeared in increasing numbers.

Attack Broken Up

Allied artillery and mortars broke up a small but determined attack on British positions in the Moletta area southwest of Carroceto, where close fighting continued. This was the third attack there in three days.

A British company on patrol captured prisoners in this area.

The Germans heavily shelled American positions southeast of Carroceto Monday night and then two strong enemy patrols pressed forward, but were thrown back. Allied shells scored hits on what seemed to be two enemy ammunition dumps.

Artillery also repulsed a German patrol in the coastal area along the northern part of the beachhead.

Eighth Army Advances

On the main Cassino front to the east, British troops threw back a Nazi attack near Mount Ornito in the lower Garigliano river bend, and Allied guns successfully shelled German motor-borne troops on Highway 6, near Cassino.

Along the Adriatic sector, Eighth Army forces improved position on a ridge south of Guardiagrele, and Allied patrols felt out Nazi lines.

An official announcement described the Nazi radio-controlled tanks as having a low silhouette, with a radio aerial for directing it and then exploding it by remote control against a chosen target.

Crack Unit In Area

The former Lehr regiment, a crack unit which had been stationed permanently in the great German training center of Doeberlitz to demonstrate the latest weapons and tactics, was brought to Italy to put the tanks into action.

With great fanfare, the regiment, now known as the 309th infantry, paraded before the main Nazi forces and staged an abortive demonstration of the new weapon.

The tank wheels spun around, but the tanks themselves failed to move at that time.

Used in the second offensive against the beachhead, none of the tanks actually reached Allied lines.

Nazi Camp Bombed

Allied airmen flew some 700 sorties over the beachhead yesterday, compared with 30 by the Germans.

United States Invaders dumped 14 tons of bombs in an hour's attack at Cisterna, an average of 500 pounds of explosive a minute ripping into the Nazi camp. Warhawks drove home the blow with 1,000-pound bombs, and just before dusk Bostons pounded the town of Cisterna itself.

Six Allied and six German planes were lost during the day.

Airfield Lashed

Other Allied formations pounded Nazi targets ringing the beachhead, and Marauders raided the Viterbo airfield northwest of Rome. The railroad station at Giulianova, on the east coast, also was hit.

Thunderbolts and Spitfires attacked along the Yugoslav coast, hitting a merchant ship near Dubrovnik, trains and motor transports, fuel dumps and an enemy seaplane base. Spitfires sank an E-boat off Corfu.

2 U. S. Flyers Blast Train

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, Algiers, March 1 (AP).—Captain William P. Benedict, of San Quentin, Calif., and Captain Charles O. Leaf, of South Orange, N. J., the "double-trouble boys" of a Thunderbolt fighter group, were credited today with strafing a German troop train, destroying a locomotive, damaging five motor transports and silencing two gun emplacements in a sweep along the Dalmatian coast.

400 GERMANS DIE AS MINES WRECK TRAIN IN GREECE

CAIRO, March 1. — (AP) Four hundred German soldiers, including a Nazi general and his staff, were killed Feb. 22 near Mt. Olympus in Greece when Greek guerrillas led by a British officer exploded mines under a troop train and sent 11 cars plunging into the icy Pinios river, it was reported reliably here today.

Every soldier in 10 cars was said to have been killed in the wreck, while others who survived the plunge were fir'hed off by the guerrillas. The train was enroute from Athens to Berlin in a heavy snowstorm when the mines, strung out over 300 yards of track, hurled it from the rails. The name of the British officer who set the death trap was not given.

Increasing guerrilla activity of this type is reported to have brought strong Nazi reprisals on the Greek population. At Messina the Germans were said to have shot 317 citizens and hanged three others on Feb. 10.

GREEK GUERRILLAS WRECK NAZI TRAIN

Cairo, March 1 (A. P.).—Greek guerrillas led by a British officer derailed a German troop train on February 22 near Mount Olympus, killing 400 Germans, a Nazi general and his staff, it was learned reliably today. Many others were injured.

The first eleven cars plunged into the icy Pinios River when mines exploded under 300 yards of track at night during a heavy snowstorm. None of the men on the first ten passenger cars escaped, but apparently a few survived in an armored car immediately behind the locomotives.

The Greek Andartes and their British officer attacked the armored car with automatic weapons, grenades and bombs. Many were killed. German storm troops rushed to the scene later and evacuated wounded, numbered by one British report at several hundred.

The train was en route from Athens to Berlin It was learned that a high ranking general and many senior officers were aboard, en route to a conference in the German capital. Instructions were issued from Cairo for the carefully planned attack.

SHARP FIGHT LEAVES 100 OF ENEMY DEAD

Airstrip Soon To Be Ready For Use—Navy Planes Bomb Wake

Southwest Pacific Headquarters, Thursday, March 2 (AP)—Troops holding Momote airfield on Los Negros Island in the Admiralty group repulsed a Japanese counterattack yesterday, less than 24 hours after the Americans' surprise landing.

Gen. Douglas MacArthur, who personally directed the invasion, said in his communique today the enemy's counterattack was "bloodily repulsed" and that landing troops of the dismounted First Cavalry Division had "successfully consolidated" their position.

Attack "Pretty Sharp"

"There are a few details available, but apparently the enemy attack was pretty sharp," said a headquarters spokesman.

[The Tokyo radio declared Japanese garrisons in the Admiralty Islands were fighting fiercely against the Americans and claimed the pre-invasion bombing had little effect. A Japanese commentator, saying the landings were intended to encircle Rabaul, added that "Rabaul is fortified so thoroughly that such an empty strategy could hardly be dangerous to the Japanese base."]

The American spokesman said that approaches to the 5,000-foot-long airstrip were on favorable terrain but very narrow, forcing the enemy to concentrate his counter-attacking force along a narrow front.

Driven Off Before Daylight

The Japanese attacked about 4 o'clock in the morning, but were driven off before daylight. Nearly 100 enemy dead were counted.

The communique said that American losses "throughout these operations have been negligible." The invaders went ashore Tuesday from destroyers without interference from Japanese planes or aircraft. They soon wiped out Japanese resistance to take possession of the airport.

MacArthur said the airfield, which was taken with little damage, "will shortly be in full use by our air forces."

Could Reinforce Garrison

The Japanese could be reinforcing their Los Negros garrison from Manus Island, across a narrow strip of water to the west. The size of the force on Manus was not precisely known.

American Liberator heavy bombers and Mitchell mediums are supporting the ground forces by hammering enemy positions.

Today's communique also told of heavy Allied air blows against Japanese South and Southwest Pacific airfields Monday, nailing enemy planes to the ground while elements of the First Cavalry Division's Fifth Regiment were being taken through Vitiaz strait and on across the Bismarck Sea for the Admiralties invasion.

153 Tons At Rabaul

The base at Rabaul took a 153-ton repeat bombing by Allied aircraft from Solomon Island bases, which struck at Vunapope and Rapopo airdromes and Rabaul township doing heavy damage to installations. It was the 14th consecutive attack in nine succeeding days in which no enemy aerial interception was encountered.

Other enemy bases bombed were Wewak, Hollandia, Hansa Bay and Madang, all on the northeastern New Guinea coast.

Admiralty Attack Cuts Deep Into Jap Defenses

Southwest Pacific Headquarters, March 1 (AP)—American troops of the Sixth Army have pushed far into Japan's South Pacific defenses with a bold landing on the Admiralty Islands under the personal supervision of Gen. Douglas MacArthur, who announced the invasion today.

Dismounted units of the First Cavalry Division hit the beach at Los Negros Island, in the northeast corner of the Admiralty, and quickly captured Momote airdrome, in one of those perfectly coordinated army-navy-air thrusts which caught the Japanese completely unawares.

Not a single enemy plane or ship disputed the operation.

Destroyers Carried Troops

Destroyers of the Seventh fleet, commanded by Vice-Admiral Thomas C. Kinkaid, of Philadelphia, carried the troops to the island through the Bismarck Sea, which a year ago was almost wholly enemy domain.

The invasion, MacArthur said, makes the end of the Bismarck campaign "clearly in sight," and, "in addition to troops trapped in the Solomons, some 50,000 of the enemy, largely in New Britain and at Rabaul, are now inclosed."

The soldiers swept aside resistance and soon Brig. Gen. William C. Chase, of Povidence, R. I., on-the-spot commander, reported that Momote airdrome, one of the best the enemy possessed in the South Pacific, had been seized. The airstrip still was in excellent condition.

His Second Invasion

MacArthur watched the invasion from the bridge of a warship. It was the second time he had been personally present when his troops went into battle, the first occasion being a paratroop operation in New Guinea.

The islands, he said, stand at the "northern entrance to the Bismarck Sea" and the invasion tightens the blockade of the enemy's remaining bases in that area.

Next Objective

First reports mentioned only invasion of Los Negros Island, which lies off the northeastern tip of Manus Island, the largest in the group.

Lorengau, on the northeast tip of Manus, may be the next objective of the Americans. It is on Seadler harbor, a 55-mile waterway formed by a lagoon which could accommodate a large fleet.

The Admiraltys, a former German possession and an Australian mandate under the Versailles treaty, were occupied by the Japanese in January, 1942. The enemy has been using them as a refueling stop on the line from Truk, 750 statute miles northeast, to New Guinea.

The enemy base at Kavieng, New Ireland, which American destroyers have bombed three times recently, lies 250 miles to the east of the Admiraltys, and 350 miles to the southeast is Rabaul, heavily bombed Japanese base in northeastern New Britain.

Wewak To Southwest

Wewak, enemy troop and supply center on the notheastern coast of New Guinea, is 275 miles southwest.

Rabaul's Lakunai and Vunapope airdromes and installations were hit with 161 tons of explosives Sunday in another of the heavy daily raids there by Solomons-based aircraft. It was the eighth consecutive attack in which Japanese planes had failed to fight.

Other Allied bombers dropped 123 tons on the supply area at Hansa Bay, on the New Guinea coast, and 53 tons were dropped on supply dumps at Boram, near Wewak.

Part Of Sixth Army

The First Cavalry Division which supplied units for the Admiralty's invasion is commanded by Maj.

Gen. Innis P. Swift, of El Paso, Texas, and belongs to Lieut. Gen. Walter Krueger's Sixth Army, which has furnished troops for other invasions in the Southwest Pacific.

These invasions from the sea have been made at Arawe, on the southwest coast of New Britain, and at Saidor, on the New Guinea coast below the Japanese base at Madang. The first marine division which invaded Cape Gloucester, northwestern New Britain, and captured the enemy airdrome there, was attached to the Sixth Army.

M'Arthur Goes Ashore; Lauds Invasion Force

Southwest Pacific Headquarters, March 1 (AP)—The text of a special communique issued today at Allied headquarters:

"General MacArthur watched the bombardment of Los Negros from the deck of a warship, getting a running account from observation planes over the island. He was informed at 8.20 A. M. that the first assault wave was ashore without opposition and that others went in on schedule, with minor opposition from Japanese marines around the airfield.

MacArthur Defies Snipers

"As soon as machine-gun fire at the narrow harbor entrance was silenced, General MacArthur, accompanied by Vice-Admiral Thomas C. Kinkaid, went ashore in a landing craft. He met Brig. Gen. Chase, immediate commander of the ground forces in action, and walked through the muck and blasted palms to inspect the extent and condition of Momote airfield, disregarding possible Japanese snipers. Snipers were killed on the edge of the airfield 20 minutes before the general arrived.

"In recognition of a gallant soldier, as well as a gallant unit, General MacArthur presented the Distinguished Service Cross on the battlefield to the first man to land, First Lieutenant Frank Henshaw, Alice, Texas, saying: 'I take great pride in citing you to the order of the day for distinguished service. You were the first ashore in this momentous landing. This decoration will be for all eyes and all time a symbol of the fortitude and the determination and courage with which you and the First Cavalry have served your country.'

General Chase Congratulated

"Before leaving General MacArthur congratulated General Chase, saying: 'You have all performed magnificently. Hold what you have taken, no matter against whatever odds. You have your teeth in him now. Don't let go.'

"Everything clicked beautifully from the opening air bombing through the naval bombardment to the landing and consolidation of positions, with negligible losses. The clocklike precision and inspiration of the general's presence had an electrical effect on all troops.

"Returning, General MacArthur conferred with General Krueger (Lieut. Gen. Walter Krueger, Sixth Army commander) at his headquarters."

MAR 2 1944

Allies Meeting Strong Resistance, Tokyo Says

New York, March 1 (AP)—The Tokyo radio announced in a foreign broadcast today that Allied troops had landed on the Admiralty Islands and were "meeting strong resistance."

The Spanish-language broadcast to Latin America, recorded by United States Government monitors, said:

"It is reported from a certain base in the South Pacific that on the morning of February 29 enemy troops began to land on the Admiralty Islands, meeting strong resistance from the garrison which continues vigorously to defend itself."

The broadcast was the first recorded Tokyo assertion about General MacArthur's new strike. Government monitors said they had not yet heard a Japanese broadcast to the Japanese people on the landings.

It helps open the sea lanes toward the Philippines, 1,300 miles from the Admiraltys.

It secures positions won on the northeast New Guinea coast and on western New Britain from a Japanese flanking attack from the direction of Truk.

Beyond Admiralty Islands Lie Philippines and Tokyo

MAR 2 1944

WASHINGTON, March 1 — (AP) Beyond the Admiralty Islands lie the Philippines.

This was military Washington's reaction today to the news that the combined forces of General Douglas MacArthur had made their long-planned landing to outflank and isolate the enemy's withering fortress at Rabaul.

The Admiralties are little islands almost unknown in this country, but their conquest is considered of great strategic importance. It may be measured in these ways:

1—For the future—the southwest Pacific campaign now takes a definite swing to the west in the direction of the Philippines where America's land forces in the Pacific are destined, some time this year by all portents, to come to grips with armies of Japan in major fighting.

2—For the past—the first American offensive of the war, the invasion of Guadalcanal in August, 1942, has been brought to its logical conclusion with the cutting off the key base on which the enemy positions in both the Solomon islands and New Guinea depended.

3—For the present—with the New Britain stronghold of Rabaul isolated the job there is one of mopping up, and the base has been rendered so useless to the enemy by the combination of flanking maneuver and direct air and sea attack that the cleanup may be spread over weeks or months if that is cheaper.

MacArthur's communique estimated 50,000 enemy troops cut off at Rabaul in addition to 22,000 previously trapped in the Solomons. These forces moreover are additional to perhaps 30,000 cut off in the central Pacific by capture of the enemy bases at Kwajalein and Eniwetok in the Marshall islands.

Altogether it seems safe to say that beyond the thousands of Japanese soldiers killed and the few captured in these sweeping operations more than 100,000 have been marooned on a dozen or so scattered islands to starve or die under American guns—or commit harakiri if they prefer. The American lives thus saved can be credited to the brilliant tactics with which American commanders have flanked rather than assaulted the enemy's most heavily fortified positions.

The offensive in the central Pacific under Admiral Chester W. Nimitz and the MacArthur campaign in the south Pacific are now much closer together. Both are aimed at the same objective—reconquest of the Philippines for two purposes:

1—To furnish a base for a drive on the China coast and the opening of a sea supply line to the land armies of China.

2—To slice Japan's empire in half by cutting the enemy's sea lines to Burma, Malaya, the Netherlands Indies, and southeast Asia.

These are the transcendent aims of present Pacific fighting. It is probably important to note that they do not appear to require the capture of Truk, the enemy's widely advertised naval stronghold in the Caroline islands. It seems logical that the threat of Truk should be removed in the same way as the threat of Rabaul and the enemy's bases in the eastern Marshalls—by outflanking.

Facts Regarding Invasion Of Admiralty Islands

[By the Associated Press]

Here, at a glance, are significant facts about the invasion of the Admiralty Islands by Gen. Douglas MacArthur's forces:

It projects the Allies into the Bismarck Sea beyond the long-effective barrier of New Britain and New Ireland.

It by-passes Rabaul, 380 miles to the southeast.

It puts the Allies within 250 miles of Kavieng.

It gives the Allies an airdrome from which to constantly blast all shipping moving from Truk to Rabaul by way of Kavieng.

It severs the vital supply line from Truk to Wewak, New Guinea, which is 225 miles southwest of the Admiralty Islands.

425 Japanese Planes Lost During February

Allied Headquarters, Southwest Pacific, Thursday, March 2 (AP)—February was one of the busiest and most successful months for the Allied air force in the South and Southwest Pacific, with 425 Japanese planes reported destroyed, against the loss of only 43.

More than half the enemy aircraft were accounted for at Rabaul, the enemy base in northeastern New Britain.

Enemy losses there were 229 aircraft destroyed in combat and 22 smashed on the ground. The Allies lost 38 in striking Rabaul harbor and airdromes with more than 2,200 tons of bombs.

In clearing the Bismarck Sea of the enemy during the month in preparation for the February 29 American invasion of the Admiralty islands, Allied aircraft, American destroyers and P-T boats sank two destroyers, seven auxiliary warships, 37 cargo vessels, 194 barges and 18 small craft.

Navy Liberators Bomb Wake In 14th Attack

WAKE

Pacific Fleet Headquarters, Pearl Harbor, March 1 (AP)—Navy Liberator bombers gave Wake Island, 2,300 miles west of here, its fourteenth raid of the war Monday, probably destroying six grounded Japanese planes, Admiral Chester W. Nimitz announced today.

The text of the announcement:

"Liberators of Fleet Air Wing 2 bombed and strafed installations on Wake Island on the afternoon of February 28.

Attack At Low Altitude

"The attack was made at extremely low altitude. Airdrome installations were bombed and six planes on the ground were destroyed or severely damaged. All of our planes returned safely to base.

"A single navy search plane bombed Nauru on February 28.

Join In Marshall Raid

"On the same day Mitchell bombers and Warhawk fighters of the Seventh Army Air Force and Venturas of Fleet Air Wing 2 attacked three enemy-held bases in the eastern Marshall Islands."

As in almost all the previous attacks on Wake, Nimitz concluded his announcement with the words, "all our planes returned." There was no mention of losses or damage over Nauru or the Marshalls.

Washington, March 1 (A. P.).—American bombers flying in at low altitude have bombed and strafed Japanese installations on Wake Island, destroying six planes on the ground and dropping bombs on the airdrome.

MAR 2 1944

Ponape Pounding Is Stepped Up

Fleet Headquarters, Pearl Harbor, March 1 (AP)—Ponape, called Japan's Gibraltar because of the fortified rock guarding its fine harbor, is taking a steady pounding by Seventh Army Air Force Liberators.

Admiral Chester W. Nimitz announced that the bombers spread fires and explosions Sunday with 30 tons of explosives at that eastern Carolines base.

Ponape underwent its first raid of the war February 14, when 55 tons of bombs were dropped. Then the Liberators went back on February 17, 21, 25 and 27.

Other Raids Reported

This enemy base is 425 miles east of Truk and a like distance west of the newly won American air base at Eniwetok, in the western Marshalls.

Admiral Nimitz's press release yesterday also told of Sunday raids by army Liberators, Mitchells and Dauntless dive bombers and Warhawks and navy Venturas on seven undesignated Marshall atolls and a Saturday strike by navy search planes at Kusaie, in the eastern Carolines.

JAPS 'PLAY POSSUM,' VANDEGRIFT SAYS

MAR 2 1944

General Suspects Foe Seeks To Lure Allies Into Trap

Washington, March 1 (AP) — Two high military men agreed tonight that Japan is powerless to break up the "leaps and bounds" American attack in the Pacific, but one warned that the Nipponese are "playing possum" in hopes of a chance to hand out an unexpected smashing blow.

"The Marshalls campaign provided the Japs with a handwriting on the wall," said Maj. Gen. Willis H. Hale, commanding the Seventh Air Force in the Central Pacific.

"The pattern for the future will be to render ineffectual every island group which stands between us and the Japanese homeland."

Will Keep Guards Up

Lieut. Gen. A. A. Vandegrift, commandant of the Marine Corps, expressed the belief that the Japanese are lying back in an attempt to lull the United States into unwarranted optimism. Nevertheless, he said, "we have no intention of being lured into letting down our guard."

Noting at a press conference here that islands taken in the Marshalls provide bases from which land planes can strike at Truk, General Hale said that his force is "already blasting at the Carolines—anyone who wants to know where it is going from there need only look at the map."

[The map shows a line of Japanese islands, the Marianas and the Bonins, running north on a direct line to Tokyo, which is 1,900 miles from Truk. To the west of Truk lie the Palau Islands and the Philippines.]

Why Kwajalein Was Surprise

General Hale said the Kwajalein attack was an effective surprise because the Japanese detection devices had been bombed out in advance by army planes.

None of the ships involved in those operations saw an enemy plane, the general said, because the Japanese air strength had been knocked out on the ground by constant bombardment or shot out of the skies during the covering attacks of carrier-based planes.

Hale disclosed that Mitchell bombers carrying 75-mm. cannon played an important role in the Central Pacific operations.

The gun is "a highly formidable weapon with a surprising degree of accuracy," he said. It was used with good results against shipping and particularly to neutralize Japanese anti-aircraft weapons which previously had taken a heavy toll of low-flying medium bombers. The flying cannon have been used in the Southwest Pacific, also.

...mpshift Naval Command

New York, March 1 (AP)—Reorganization of the Japanese naval high command has been completed with the establishment of a "two vice-chief system" under Admiral Shigetaro Shimada, Navay Minister, the Tokyo radio said today in a broadcast recorded by the United States Government monitors.

The reorganization is in line with Premier Hideki Tojo's announced policy of coordinating the military and political leadership of Japan. In addition to his job of Navy Minister Shimada also holds the post of chief of the naval general staff.

The Navy Ministry announced Admiral Nishizo Tsukahara, chief of Naval Aviation Headquarters, has been made vice-chief of the general staff "along with" Rear Admiral Seiichi Ito.

Vice-Admiral Yorio Sawamoto, promoted to full admiral, was made acting Vice-Minister of the Navy.

Vice-Admirals Shiro Takasu and Naokuni Nomura were raised to the rank of full admiral, bringing the number on the active list to 13.

Sawamoto and Tsukahara were appointed members of the supreme Japanese war council.

Berlin Admits Bridgehead But Claims it Has Been 'Further Reduced'.

LONDON, Thursday, March 2.—(AP) Moscow announced today that the Red army in Estonia had punched a bridgehead across the Narova river south of the German-held fortress of Narva and cut the only escape railway from the town while farther south other Soviet troops, on the approaches to Pskov, captured 70 localities and cut the Pskov-Idritsa-Polotsk railway.

In White Russia Soviet forces were reported on the move again near the long dormant front of Vitebsk, capturing more than 30 populated places including Skulovichi, nine miles east of the German bastion.

The Moscow communique and its midnight supplement, recorded by the Soviet monitor from a broadcast, said the Russians "several days ago" crossed the Narova along a 22-mile front and penetrated nine miles beyond. German resistance was powerful but Soviet infantry and artillery were declared to have smashed through and reached the rail station of Auvere, cutting the railway between Narva and Reval, capital of Estonia.

Narva Encircled

This placed the Russians approximately 15 miles inside Estonia and left Narva virtually encircled. The Nazis could still escape by sea through the nearby Gulf of Finland but a highway westward was parallel to the cut railway less than a mile north of Auvere. The curving coastline was only three miles to the north.

Two regiments of Germans were routed in the bridgehead battle, the communique said, and they abandoned 25 guns in their retreat. In another sector 1,200 Nazis were killed in two days and much of their equipment captured.

A Berlin broadcast admitted the bridgehead had been established, but said it had been "further reduced" after "lively" fighting.

In the Pskov fighting, where the Russians were declared rapidly advancing upon this ancient communications center near the Baltic states, the Russian communique said "several heavily fortified strongpoints covering the approaches of the town" were captured.

However, populated places listed as captured by the Russians were all southeast, including Nevaditsy, 10 miles away. No communities were given in the north, where the Russians last were reported only six miles away.

Details of the Vitebsk fighting were scant, but the advance seemed to be from the east toward the city, which is already flanked on the north and south but has been stubbornly defended by the Germans.

German radio reports earlier said the Red army had "temporarily won" a bridgehead on the western bank of the Luchesa river which flows into the Dvina river at Vitebsk. It said the Russians attacked with two divisions of infantry and claimed the bridgehead later was wiped out by a counterattack.

Stockholm dispatches said the Germans had ordered the evacuation of Kovno (Kaunas), capital of Lithuania, and placed it under military control as the Russians stormed in toward the frontier.

The 22-mile-wide, 9-mile-deep bridgehead on the west bank of the Narova was established south of the staunchly-held citadel of Narva, a modern seaport with a 700-year-old history. As an ancient fortress Narva changed hands many times in the battles of Teutonic knights, Danes, Swedes and Russians.

The Russians had advanced steadily to the river after their complete liberation of Leningrad, but ran up against a stubborn defense at Narva itself.

The Narova river bridgehead as outlined by the Russian communique reached its farthest extension at Metskula, 15 miles southwest of Narva. The Russian line extended south from the railroad at Auvere south to Mustajoe and then curved along the river bank to Vaska.

The Germans made no mention of this advance, but Finnish reports Tuesday said the Russians farther south had crossed Lake Peipus and established another bridgehead in southern Estonia. This was not confirmed by the Germans or the Russians.

Russians Shatter Strong German Defenses on Estonian Front.

TWO RAILWAYS ARE SEVERED

Important Station Is Captured—Soviet Force Fighting in Outskirts of Pskov.

London, March 1 (A. P.).—Tonight's Russian communique said Red Army troops had established a bridgehead on the west bank of the Narova River.

The communique said that Russian troops had broken through a strongly fortified enemy defense line on the Estonian front and had established a bridgehead twenty-one miles long and nine miles deep.

The Narva-Reval (Tallinn) and Pskov-Idritsa rail lines have been cut, said the communique, which was broadcast by Moscow radio and recorded by the Soviet monitor. The railway station of Ouvere, nine miles west of Narva, was captured.

Red Army units continued their advances on Pskov, key to the Baltic States, the communique said, capturing more than seventy populated places, including the railway station of Russaki. Thirty more populated places were captured in the Vitebsk sector.

Earlier, Russian troops were reported fighting in the very outskirts of Pskov.

"Our troops are overcoming German resistance and advancing swiftly," a Russian communique declared.

[The battle for Pskov moved up to the outskirts of the city when Russian artillery set up a concentrated barrage on the German defenses in and around Pskov, BBC reported today from Moscow. CBS recorded the broadcast. This intense shelling, hour after hour, finally blocked the main roads, so that enemy tanks and mobile guns could no longer get through, BBC said:

["The Germans are making their last desperate efforts to hold the Russians at the gates to the city," the broadcast said. "Reserves rushed up from the rear in tanks and transport lorries are being pounded by the Russians."]

Helsinki dispatches routed through Stockholm, meanwhile, reported a Soviet drive across ice-bound Lake Peipus had established bridgeheads on the Estonian shore and asserted that the Russians were also attacking across the narrows between Lakes Peipus and Pskov, thirty-five miles northeast of the Baltic gateway city. There was no immediate Russian confirmation of these reports.

Escape Lines Menaced.

Twenty-eight miles southeast of Pskov, Soviet columns stormed into the town of Malkova, three miles from the railway running south from Pskov to Polotsk and eleven miles from the Pskov-Ostrov-Warsaw trunk line, both possible escape corridors for the Nazis. At Malkova the Russians were within twenty-six miles of the Latvian border.

Novorzhev Taken

Thirty-seven miles farther to the southeast, other Red army troops, driving up from the Novosokolniki area, captured the large town of Novorzhev, mounting an additional threat to the Pskov-Polotsk railway, the Moscow bulletin said.

The Germans were fighting desperately to hold the Soviet advance, the communique said, mining roads, blowing up bridges and staging ineffective counter-attacks.

Moscow reported a new Soviet offensive in the Ukraine south of the iron ore city of Krivoi Rog, where the Russians were declared to have captured 70 towns in a 26-mile drive down the Ingulets river to Nikolaevka. The towns of Ingulets and Shirokoye, southwest of Krivio Rog, were swept up in this advance, the Russians said.

Artificial Fog

Berlin broadcasts said the Red army was using artificial fog and major artillery units in this sector.

The Germans also said the Russians were attacking in the Vitebsk and Nevel areas, south of the Pripet marshes, and on the Kerch peninsula in the Crimea. The Russian communique failed to report any activity in these sectors.

"Mass Expulsion" On

Meanwhile, the Moscow radio says that Russia's war against Germany has reached the phase of "mass expulsion of the enemy from Soviet land."

In a broadcast underscoring a year of Russian victories since the battle of Stalingrad, a Soviet commentator said that the Germans can no longer "afford to launch counterattacks for the purpose of slowing down the advance of our troops."

The commentator said, however, that the Germans still have more than 200 divisions on the Eastern Front, plus nearly 50 satellite divisions and that "as long as they possess previously prepared defense positions they will fight stubbornly for every inch of terrain."

NAZIS SUFFER 'MASS EXPULSION'

London, March 1 (A. P.).—Russia's war against Germany has reached the phase of "mass expulsion of the enemy from Soviet land, says the Moscow radio.

In a broadcast underscoring a year of Russian victories since the battle of Stalingrad, a Soviet commentator said that the Germans can no longer "afford to launch counter-attacks for the purpose of slowing down the advance of our troops."

The commentator said, however, that the Germans still have more than 200 divisions on the eastern front, plus nearly fifty satellite divisions and that "as long as they possess previously prepared defense positions they will fight stubbornly for every inch of terrain."

FINNS INFORMED OF PEACE TERMS

SINGLETON

Important Newspapers Declare Terms Are Unacceptable to Nation.

MAR 2 1944

STOCKHOLM, Thursday, March 2—(AP) Important Finnish newspapers attacked Moscow's proffered peace terms today and declared them unacceptable.

LONDON, March 1—(AP) The Finnish people were informed in a Helsinki communique tonight of Russia's "Peace-Now-or-Else" armistice terms, which were disclosed to have been indorsed by Britain. Hope persisted that the little Axis satellite would accept the terms and get out of the war.

The Finnish radio outlined the six points of the Rusian proposal, broadcast last night from Moscow, and said the terms had been transmitted to parliament. It was emphasized, however, that no negotiations were in progress.

The effect of a Russian-Finnish peace on the other Axis satellites—Bulgaria, Rumania and Hungary—was not overlooked. The Hungarian MTI agency announced that Premier Nicholas von Kallay would discuss "internal and external matters of great importance" tomorrow before deputies in the Hungarian parliament.

Authoritative London spokesmen reported that the British government after consultations required by the Anglo-Soviet pact had agreed to the terms submitted by Moscow to Finland, terms described by one informed government source as "moderate."

There was no positive clue here to Finland's reaction, but the atmosphere generally was optimistic despite apprehensions expressed in dispatches from Stockholm. Some speculation developed on the possibility that Finland might offer counter-terms and that she might ask for British-American guarantees.

A Finnish legation source in Stockholm said that Finland was planning to send an armistice commission to Moscow headed by former Foreign Minister Juho Paasikivi who recently made a trip to Stockholm in connection with peace overtures.

The impact of the Finnish negotiations on Bulgaria, Rumania and Hungary was being watched closely and the feeling was widely held here that they were likely to await settlement of Finland's problem to measure the cost of leaving weakened Germany.

While Bulgaria in particular repeatedly has been rumored to be feeling for a way out, there has been no confirmation of any official moves. She undoubtedly has been frightened by the fate of Italy and it is reasonable to assume she is waiting now to see whether Finland is able to escape without turning the country into a battleground.

In the case of all Nazi satellites except Finland any peace negotiations would call for consultation with Washington, since the United States is at war with the others.

An end of the war between Britain and Finland—in which there has been no fighting—would come automatically if and when a Soviet-Finnish peace should be declared. Under the terms of the Anglo-Soviet treaty "a separate peace cannot be negotiated," a spokesman said, explaining that one signatory cannot negotiate a peace without consulting the other.

Publication of Moscow's terms to Finland failed to stir any considerable enthusiasm among informed persons in neutral Sweden, Stockholm dispatches said.

Three major factors prompted some diplomats in Stockholm to take a pessimistic view of Finland's chances of getting out of the war soon. The factors are:

1. Moscow may not have taken the step of publishing the terms unless there were indications the Finns had found them unacceptable.

MAR 2 1944

2. The Finns would not be capable of interning seven German divisions, as demanded by Moscow, and they are violently opposed to Russian soldiers coming into Finland for any reason.

30. 24

3. The Finns might accept all the 1940 peace terms except the lease of the naval base at Hangoe, which they say gives the Russians a base at the back door of Helsinki and would mean a regular movement of Russian men and supplies through Finland to Hangoe.

Russia, nevertheless, left the door open to the Finns for negotiations in Moscow, and the Finns know also, and they have Secretary of State Cordell Hull's warning emphasizing it, that this is their last chance to get out of the war without taking the full consequences of final defeat.

NEW YORK, March 1. — (AP) The partial text of a Finnish statement on Soviet armistice terms, as broadcast to the Finnish people tonight and reported by the U. S. Foreign Broadcast Intelligence service:

On account of rumors about peace negotiations that have been circulated during recent days, the Finnish News Bureau has learned the following information regarding the relations between Finland and the Soviet Union:

No peace negotiations have taken place between Finland and the Soviet Union. On the other hand, the Finnish government has learned the conditions that the Soviet Union is imposing for conclusion of an armistice, which Mr. Paasikivi during his visit to Stockholm received from the Soviet envoy in Stockholm, Madame Kollantay.

The conditions of the Soviet Union that have come to the knowledge of the Finnish government can be divided into two parts — conditions that are to be accepted immediately as a prerequisite for the beginning of peace negotiations and conditions that can be discussed in detail in Moscow after the conditions of the first part have been agreed upon.

The two parts of the conditions are as follows:

(The conditions of the first part to be accepted immediately)—

1. The Soviet Union does not demand that Finland go to war against Germany, but the Finns must naturally sever relations with the Germans. If Finland wishes to remain neutral she cannot tolerate the armed forces of a foreign power to remain on her territory; she must at least intern them. If this task is too great for the Finns, the Soviet Union is prepared to give the necessary assistance by airplanes and by armed forces.

2. The peace treaty of 1940 to become effective again, and the Finnish armed forces to be withdrawn to the 1940 frontiers.

3. Soviet prisoners of war in internment camps and in labor camps, together with other Soviet citizens, to be released without delay.

(The second part of the conditions, about which negotiations can be deferred)—

4. Questions regarding partial or total demobilization to be left over for negotiations in Moscow.

5. The question of compensation for damage that was incurred by military actions and by occupation of Soviet territory.

6. The question of the Petsamo area.

The Moscow radio broadcast an official communique that gave these armistice conditions and stated that the Soviet government simultaneously denied rumors about requiring unconditional surrender and occupation of Finnish cities by Soviet forces.

Britain Agrees To Red Terms To Finland

London, March 1 (AP)—Great Britain agreed today to peace terms submitted by Russia to Finland, demanding that the Finns cease "military operations," break relations with Germany, reestablish 1940 borders and intern all Nazi troops and ships in Finland with or without Soviet help.

Moscow dispatches said the Russians were ready to receive Dr. Juho K. Paasikivi, who negotiated the end of the "Winter War" in 1940 and who received the terms from the Russian Ambassador to Sweden, Mme. Alexandra Kollontay.

Finnish Parliament Meets

The Finnish Parliament held two secret sessions yesterday, but the official communique gave no inkling of the Baltic country's attitude.

A Moscow dispatch said Soviet authorities were aware of the difficulty in clearing the Germans from Finland. The same dispatch said "there is reason to believe the Finns would soon meet the Soviet suggestions and that discussions would begin shortly."

Harsh Proposals Later

Should the Finns refuse to negotiate on Russia's original terms, proposals which would be made subsequently would be extremely harsh, the advice from Moscow said.

German Foreign Office spokesmen reserved comment.

Official British quarters said British acceptance of the peace terms came after consultation with Russia and that under terms of the British-Russian alliance, "a separate peace cannot be negotiated."

Swedish Comment

The Swedish newspaper Morgon Tidningen, which is the organ of the Social Democratic party in Sweden and has close contacts with the Social Democrats in Finland, said the terms were "harsh" but could be used by the Finns as a basis for further negotiation.

The Moscow radio broadcast the armistice demands last night and said that if Finland accepted the conditions immediately the Soviet Government was ready to open negotiations for a "concrete agreement" at once.

The British press termed the Russian proposals "generous" and the Daily Mail said they "should be accepted without delay."

Russian Help Offered

In demanding that the Finns stop fighting and intern all Nazi troops and ships as a prerequisite for any peace negotiations, the Moscow radio added that "if Finland considers herself incapable of fulfilling this task the Soviet Union is prepared to render her the necessary assistance by troops and aircraft."

The questions of the partial demobilization of the Finnish army, financial reparations and territorial claims were to be left to future negotiations in Moscow.

Release Of Prisoners

The Russians also demanded immediate release of all Russian and Allied prisoners of war and civilians interned in Finland.

The demand for internment of the seven German divisions now in Finland appeared to be the crucial problem facing the Finns. It was felt in London that Finland, still closely linked with the Germans, might hesitate to take such a step, or that the Finns might request a delay in answering the Russian offer in the hope that the fast-moving Red armies in the Baltic might compel the Germans to withdraw from Finland, thus obviating any need to intern the Nazis and preventing Finland from becoming "another Italy."

Stockholm, March 1 (AP)—Finland is planning to send an armistice commission to Moscow headed by Juho Paasikivi, former Foreign Minister, and negotiator of the 1940 peace who recently made a trip to Stockholm in connection with peace overtures, a Finnish legation source said today.

Stockholm, Thursday, March 2 (AP)—Important Finnish newspapers attacked Moscow's proffered peace terms today and declared them unacceptable.

Next Move Seen As Up To Finns

Moscow, March 1 (AP)—The Russian people awaited further word today on the negotiations for peace with Finland but Red Star and Izvestia gave them nothing more than last night's official statement from the Soviet Foreign Office.

Most people reasoned that further information might be given tonight.

Now Up To The Finns

The Foreign Office statement apparently left further progress in the negotiations for peace up to a quick acceptance of the Soviet proposals by the Finns.

Allied diplomats in Moscow expressed surprise at what they said seemed to them to be the "fair terms" of the Soviet statement, declaring they expected the Russians would be far more exacting than they were.

Paasikivi Expected

Moscow is ready to receive Dr. Juho W. Paasikivi, Finnish diplomat who has been in touch with Mme. Alexandra Kollantay, Soviet Ambassador to Sweden, it was learned today, but the Soviet authorities are aware that it will be no easy task to clear Finland of the Nazis even with the help of the Finnish army.

However, it was pointed out that it is going to be difficult for the Germans to remain in Finland without paying heavily because the Red army's northwest campaign has given the Russians excellent bases from which to blast the Nazi communication lines in and out of that country.

Supreme Soviet Meets To Set Up New Posts

Moscow, March 1 (AP)—The Supreme Soviet of the Russian Soviet Federated Socialist Republic, the Parliament for Russia proper, convened in the Kremlin today to establish commissariats of Foreign Affairs and National Defense for this republic.

The session, which was this body's first since the start of the war, was called to put into effect the recent act of the Supreme Soviet of the U. S. S. R. which granted the 16 individual republics the right to handle international and defense affairs.

Russians Plan Survey Of Oil Supply

New York, March 1 (AP)—The Russian Government has announced plans for a country-wide survey of all oil-bearning areas in Russia.

In a broadcast recorded here last night by the Federal Communications Commission, the Moscow radio said that 150 oil-prospecting parties would be sent out this spring to determine Russia's potential petroleum deposits. Main work of the prospectors would be centered in Uzbekistan, Saratov and Stalingrad provinces and in the Tatar Republic.

"Last year," the broadcast declared, "oil prospectors located well over 60 new oil-bearing areas. Geologists are now going to investigate these claims."

NEW RAF RAID IS INDICATED

Berlin Radios Go Off The Air After Lull During Day

MAR 3 1944

London, Thursday, March 2 (AP). Berlin's short and long wave radio stations went off the air last night, signifying the possibility that RAF raiders were over Europe again.

The indication of a new night assault on Europe came after a day of quiet on the Allied air front.

An increase in the striking power of American Marauder medium bombers was disclosed yesterday in a monthly review by United States headquarters and the Air Ministry.

During February 3,200 tons of bombs were dropped in 2,000 individual plane attacks made as part of 20 operations, providing an average bomb load of 1.6 tons for each plane. This is half again as large as the mediums were averaging a few months ago.

One explanation for the increase in the average tonnage is the great number of attacks made on the northern French coast, since the short flight across the Channel permits heavier loading.

Largest Force Used

It also was announced that the bombing of Nazi air bases February 25 by the United State Ninth Air Force involved the largest force of medium bombers ever sent from England.

The actual size was not disclosed, but it must have been more than 250 planes, a figure announced for a previous raid. The targets for the record attack were St. Trond, Belgium, and Venlo, Holland.

Thirteen Marauders were lost in February—nine to anti-aircraft gun fire and four to enemy fighters.

Mustang pilots of the United States Ninth Air Force destroyed 68 German planes and damaged almost as many as their contribution to the record operations during February in the European theater.

BULLETIN

London, Thursday, March 2 (AP) — RAF heavy bombers headed out over the east coast toward the Continent last night while the German air force made a small-scale raid on London early today, causing some casualties and some property damage.

Coastal observers said the RAF force headed for the Continent was in great strength.

London's attack, the first between midnight and dawn since February 22, was brief, but a tremendous barrage was thrown up in many districts. Few raiders broke through the defenses, which presumably followed the pattern of Tuesday night when the RAF sent out huge forces of night fighters over the Channel.

RAF Hits Targets In West Reich

London, March 1 (AP) — RAF Mosquito bombers attacked objectives in western Germany last night, an Air Ministry communique announced today. The British planes returned from their mission without loss, the communique added.

The assault followed a heavy daylight attack by United States Flying Fortresses on the German aircraft center of Brunswick and a Liberator raid on the Pas-de-Calais coast of France, which were carried out at a cost of one bomber and eight fighters.

Three Nazis Bagged

It was the third assault in 10 days on Brunswick and was a far different story from the raid January 11, when 60 heavy United States bombers were lost. At that time 152 Nazi planes were shot down. Yesterday the opposition was weak and only three of the few German planes which attempted to contest with the Americans were shot down.

The Germans, meanwhile, made a weak retaliatory attack on London last night and one raider was shot down.

The Eighth Air Force attacks on Brunswick and Pas-de-Calais rounded out a month in which record after record for aerial warfare was wiped out.

19 Raids In Month

During February the Eighth Air Force carried out 19 missions against enemy territory—seven more than the previous record. At least 632 enemy aircraft were destroyed, while 245 American heavy bombers and 61 fighters were lost. The bomber loss exceeds by 69 the previous record loss for the Americans, set last October.

The RAF was hindered by heavy weather last month, but managed to make seven heavy assaults. In a giant attack on Leipzig on the night of February 19 the RAF lost the record number of 79 planes to boost British bomber losses for February to 193.

Leipzig Hit Again

Following up the RAF night attack on Leipzig the United States Strategic Air Force hit the same city and other targets the next day with more than 2,000 planes in what was described as the greatest daylight aerial undertaking of the war.

Another aerial record set up last month was the simultaneous smash on Regensburg February 25 by American planes based in Britain and Italy.

Berlin has been virtually knocked out of the war, Sir Archibald Sinclair, air minister, told the House of Commons.

He said the RAF lost 446 aircraft—about five per cent. of the raiding forces and about 3,300 men—in the battle to obliterate the Nazi capital as a war center. Nearly 24,000 tons of bombs smashed at the city, Sinclair said.

Mosquitos Can Carry 2,000 Pounds Of Bombs

London, Thursday, March 2 (AP). The 400-M. P. H. all-wood Mosquito fighter-bombers which keep the sirens whining in Germany between the big raids can carry a bomb load of 2,000 pounds, it was disclosed today.

The explosive cargo carried is in addition to four 20-millimeter cannon and four .303 machine guns. This is double the weight for which the Mosquito originally was designed. It is made possible by 500-pound bomb racks under the wings. The racks can be replaced quickly by long-range gas tanks to make the plane a straight fighter.

The closest thing the Germans have to this is the Messerschmitt 410, a recent development of the Messerchmitt 210 twin-engine fighter. The ME-410 is unofficially estimated to carry 2,000 pounds also, but it is believed to have neither the armament nor the speed of the Mosquito, which is advertised by its makers, the De Haviland Aircraft Company, as the fastest plane in operation.

Other details of the Mosquito remain secret.

Nazi Flag Berlin-Bound With A Blockbuster

New York, March 1 (AP)—A Nazi flag captured in North Africa was started on its way back to Germany today. It is expected to arrive with a bang.

The swastika banner, bearing the signatures of Mayor F. H. LaGuardia and 20,000 residents of the Bronx, each of whom purchased a $100 war bond for the privilege of autographing it, was attached to a 4,000-pound blockbuster to be dropped on Berlin in some future air raid.

YUGOSLAVS BATTLE NAZI OFFENSIVE

London, March 1 (A. P.).—Heavy fighting is raging along the border between Austria and Yugoslavia, where the Germans have launched a powerful offensive against Yugoslav Partisan forces, Marshal Josip Broz (Tito) announced today.

A communique broadcast from Tito's headquarters also reported that a fierce battle was under way in the Petrinja-Glina sector in Croatia, about forty miles southeast of Zagreb.

The announcement added that Allied bombers had attacked German forces near Zagreb on February 25 in support of Partisan ground troops.

Germans Lose 43,000 To Tito, Moscow Says

New York, March 1 (AP)—The Moscow home radio said today that Yugoslavia Patriot activity under Field Marshal Tito had cost the German army 43,000 men during the winter campaign of December and January.

The broadcast, quoting the Russian army newspaper Red Star, said the German losses included 26,000 officers and men killed.

The Soviet Tass News Agency, in an English-language wireless transmission to North America, estimated that Tito's army now numbered 300,000 men. It "is a magnet drawing the Serbs, Montenegrins, Croatians, Slovenians and representatives of other Slav peoples," Tass said.

The broadcasts were reported by the Federal Communications Commission.

Nazis Claim Sinkings Of 42 Ships Last Month

London, March 1 (AP)—The German communique asserted today that U-boats and Nazi planes sank 26 cargo ships, totaling 144,183 tons; a cruiser and 15 destroyers or escort vessels in February.

The communique, broadcast by Berlin, said 11 "sailing ships" also were sunk and that 34 other ships of more than 200,000 tons were damaged heavily by bomb or torpedo. Eight motor torpedo boats and an escort vessel also were reported sunk. A second cruiser was reported damaged.

German General Killed

London, March 1 (AP)—The German news agency, DNB, said today that Gen. Fritz Kuehn, 53, identified as chief of the German Armored Corps and general of motorized forces on the army high command staff, was killed in the February 15 air raid on Berlin.

General Oswald Lutz, Nazi Tank Chief, Dies

New York, March 1 (AP)—A Berlin broadcast reported by United States Government monitors today said that Gen. Oswald Lutz, of the German armored forces, had died in Munich last Saturday.

Death, the broadcast said, was due to "an illness which was caused by his unsparing efforts, regardless of the state of his health."

It added that Lutz had been closely identified with the development of German tank weapons and tank formations.

Stockholm Now Reports Nazis Killed Generals

Stockholm, March 1 (A. P.).—The Foreign Affairs columnist of Aftonbladet said today that three German generals had been executed after a court-martial because they ordered a retreat recently in the Pskov section of Russia without orders from Adolf Hitler's headquarters.

Hitler and Heinrich Himmler, chief of the German Gestapo were said to have made a special trip to Pskov in connection with the situation.

U. S. British Post-War Shipping Compared

London, March 1 (AP)—The United States will have 30,000,000 tons of shipping against Britain's 10,000,000 after the war, Lord Winster told the Royal Empire Society today.

"In 1939 we had 18,000,000 tons against America's 9,500,000," he said, suggesting a conference of Allied nations interested in shipping and shipbuilding to prepare plans to meet post-war conditions.

Berlin Reports Slaying Of Belgian Financier

London, March 1 (A. P.).—The Berlin radio said today that Alexander Galopin, Belgian bank director and industrialist, was killed by revolver shots Monday. The broadcast, recorded by the Ministry of Information, did not say where the attack occurred.

Alexander Galopin, 65 years old, was a member of the board of the Bank of International Settlements and of numerous commercial and industrial companies. His prewar home was in Brussels.

Finnish Hero Dies

London, March 1 (AP)—Pehr Evind Svinhufvud, 82, Finland's national hero, who served as President of Finland from 1931 to 1937, and who was leader of a passive resistance movement when the Russian Governor General attempted to have the Finns fight for the Czar, died last night.

British Destroyer Lost

London, March 1 (AP)—Loss of the destroyer Warwick was announced tonight. The Admiralty gave no details.

CHURCHILL-BACKED CANDIDATE WINNER

London, March 1 (A. P.).—Government-supported Major E. M. Keatinge, National Conservative, won the closely contested Bury St. Edmunds Parliament by-election yesterday by 2,584 majority over Mrs. Corbett Ashby, Independent Liberal, after a bitter campaign.

Keatinge polled 11,705 votes; Mrs. Ashby, 9,121.

The contest attracted wide attention as the first test vote since the West Derbyshire election in which an Independent defeated a Churchill-supported Conservative two weeks ago.

QUADRUPLETS BORN TO BRITISH MOTHER

HEANOR, DERBYSHIRE, England, March 1—(AP) The soldier-father of Nora Carpenter's quadruplets was denied permission today to see his babies under a no-visitors order issued after MacDonald, slightest and frailest of the four babies, developed a cold.

Dr. P. H. J. Turton, physician in charge, said MacDonald's condition was not serious, but he ordered an oxygen tent placed in the room where the four were kept "just in case it was needed."

The condition of the other three—Madeleine, Maureen and Michael—was reported good, although all lost a few ounces since their birth Monday as babies of from three pounds to three pounds, 12 ounces.

Nora, 23, received a discharge from the WAAFS last November.

The busiest woman today in this coal mining town of about 15,000 persons was Mrs. Edith Mathews, superintendent of the nursing home where the quadruplets were moved Tuesday because of better facilities for their care.

The telephone rings constantly, with well-wishers from all parts of Britain offering gifts to the babies. They have had offers of carriages and food, the movie manager sent them passes for life and the Heanor town council is planning to start a fund for their education.

Mrs Mathews said the babies were getting sterilized cow's milk and glucose in water every three hours. Vitamins are given to guard against jaundice and build strength.

Nora is a brunette with dark, wavy hair. She will not see her babies for two weeks or longer. She is being kept in bed at her father's home, a seven-room house on the outskirts of town.

"The bigegst problem," she was quoted by The Daily Mirror as saying, "is the matter of clothes for the babies. I'd only counted on one."

The American Red Cross sent up some supplies from London at the doctor's request.

Sweden to Fire on Planes

STOCKHOLM, March 1 (AP)—Sweden will fire on foreign military planes flying over her territory unless the aircraft obviously are in distress, it was officially announced today. Tightening of the regulations followed the bombing of Stockholm on the night of Feb. 22 by planes that were said to have fired distress flares before dropping explosives.

Builder Of Germany's Submarine Fleets Dead

Madrid, March 1 (AP)—Hans Techel, 75, builder of Germany's submarine fleets in two world wars, died at Kiel February 22, according to German newspapers of February 28 which reached here today.

As chief engineer of the Krupp shipyards before and during the First World War, Techel was credited with great responsibility in building a submarine fleet for Kaiser Wilhelm II and later did much the same job for Hitler.

2 More Nations Oppose Jewish State

Beirut, Lebanon, March 1 (AP)—The Syrian and Lebanese Governments, with the support of their Parliaments, have joined in protests against United States Congressional suggestions favoring the establishment of Palestine as a Jewish nation.

(Egypt and Iraq earlier voted similar protests, and at Cairo it was said that the Iraq Minister already was believed to have delivered a note to the State Department in Washington.)

N. Y. Senator Rebuffs Two Iraqi Leaders

MAR 2 1944

Washington, March 1 (AP)—Two Iraqi leaders who asked Senator Wagner (D., N. Y.) to withdraw a pending Zionist resolution were informed bluntly today by the Senator that Congress "for more than a century has been able to reach its own conclusions without advice from officials of foreign nations."

Jamil Al Madfai, president of the Iraq Senate, and Muhammad Ridha Shabibi, president of the Chamber of Deputies, had protested in a message against the resolution which urges free entry of Jews into Palestine. They expressed fear the resolution, sponsored by Wagner and Senator Taft (R., Ohio), would lead to disorder and bloodshed in a land where Arabs are numerically predominant.

Wagner replied he was surprised at their objections and told them in part:

"Such an expression on our part is especially timely in view of the horrible events of which the Jewish people has been the victim. It is no more than a just recognition of the great service rendered the war effort of the United Nations by the Jewish community of Palestine. Surely your country, which has joined the ranks of the United Nations, will not wish to deny the worth of this service."

ALLIES MOP UP FOE IN BURMA

Japanese Casualties Since February 4 Put At 4,500

New Delhi, March 1 (AP)—Allied troops in Burma, now mopping up remnants of the enemy forces which tried unsuccessfully to encircle the Fifth and Seventh Indian divisions last month, have killed or wounded 4,500 Japanese since February 4, the Allied Southeast Asia Command announced today.

A communique from the headquarters of Admiral Lord Louis Montbatten said stragglers of the defeated Japanese units, which originally totaled 8,000 men, were being rounded up in Arakan.

Congratulated By Churchill

[Prime Minister Churchill sent a congratulatory message to Mountbatten and the British 14th Army today, saying "it must be a great satisfaction to all ranks and races engaged in our common effort that the Japanese have been challenged and beaten in jungle warfare in Burma and that their boastfulness should have received salutory exposure."]

The last enemy column was driven out of the Awlanbyin area February 28, but left a few snipers who are being "dealt with," the communique said.

Artillery was used against the Japanese west of Buthedaung yesterday. The enemy also attempted to organize an attack in this sector but was repulsed.

Chinese Advance

Chinese troops in the Hukawng valley had driven east and south, reaching the Tawang river at the town of Makaw. Ritu, recently captured by the Chinese, was bombarded by enemy artillery.

Patrol actions were fought in the Chindwin hills.

In widespread bombing, United States heavy bombers pounded railway yards at Mandalay, Akyab and Monya and the Japanese headquarters area at Pakokku. United States medium bombers also hit two bridges north of Taungtha in southern Burma. RAF heavy bombers made two raids on railway facilities at Rangoon last night, starting a fire visible 40 miles away. Two Allied aircraft were missing.

Jap Casualties In Burma Total 4,500 Since Feb. 4

New Delhi, March 1 (AP)—Admiral Lord Louis Mountbatten announced today that Allied troops had killed or wounded 4,500 Japanese soldiers since February 4 in routing an enemy force 8,000 men strong which had attempted unsuccessfully to encircle the Fifth and Seventh Indian divisions in western Burma.

Straggling Japs Rounded Up

Mopping up of the remnants of the enemy force, part of which now is retreating southward toward Akyab, is continuing successfully, the announcement said.

Many small parties of Japanese "straggling lost through the rear of the Seventh Indian Division area" are being rounded up, and yesterday one of these parties was surrounded and offered no resistance, the communique said.

British artillery went into action yesterday west of Buthedaung and the infantry followed through with a small-scale attack which made some progress. The night before the Japanese suffered heavy casualties when their strong local attack north of Buthedaung was thrown back.

Jap Party Ambushed

West African troops kept up their advance in the Kaladan Valley, and in the Chin Hills a party of Japanese was ambushed on Monday and the majority killed.

The communique reported continued progress by forces pressing east and south in the Hukawng Valley, where the Chinese have been pressing forward steadily.

U. S. Flyers Evacuate Wounded In Burma

At British 14th Army Headquarters in Burma, March 1 (AP)—A dozen American flying sergeants piloting tiny army liaison planes evacuated 400 wounded British and Indian soldiers cut off by enemy action on the Arakan front in Burma, it was revealed here.

Flying two-seated planes nearly 1,000 miles in short hops from their home base to a few miles behind the British lines, they were the first Americans to take part in the Arakan campaign.

They made several trips a day across the Mayu mountain ridge to a hastily constructed emergency landing strip inside the British camp returning with one stretcher case or two less severely injured soldiers crowded into a single seat.

ARMED REVOLT IN ARGENTINA SOON QUELLED

Col. Duco Leads Out One Regiment But Surrenders When Aid Fails

Montevideo, March 1 (AP) — A brief and bloodless armed rebellion by an army colonel who marched his regiment out in battle kit in an attempt to overthrow the Argentine government of acting President Edelmiro Farrell fizzled early today, and Farrell's troubled regime apparently had weathered its first crisis.

Lieut. Col. Tomas Duco, a political unknown, staged the revolt with his Third Infantry Regiment, perhaps in hopes of acting as a fuse for a revolution by the navy and other dissident army groups to return Gen. Pedro Ramirez to the Presidency. Ramirez stepped down in favor of Vice-President Farrell in a palace coup last Thursday.

Revolters Surrender

Duco and his men—perhaps 1,000 strong—"surrendered unconditionally" early today after marching from Buenos Aires to a suburb, a Government announcement declared.

Farrell's position appeared further improved, at least superficially, by the friendly attitude of Rear Admiral Alberto Teisaire and his naval colleagues when Teisaire was sworn in as new Minister of the Navy.

Naval leaders, it was reported, had demanded yesterday that Farrell either return presidential powers to Ramirez, or have them delegated to the Supreme Court.

Farrell Satisfies Navy

Some observers read the friendly ceremonies today as indicating that Farrell had promised to meet their minimum demands for restoring a stable, orderly government.

But Farrell's regime still faced prospects of new tribulations in foreign affairs as well as in domestic matters.

Duco, friend of Ramirez, led his men from their barracks inside the capital last night to Lomas de Zamora, a suburb 20 miles away, but failure of any other groups to join him left him out on a limb, his men in battle position in the town.

Peron Acts Swiftly

His threat was not enough to stampede Col. Juan Peron, acting War Minister known as the real leader of the present Government. Peron promptly assumed command of the First Infantry Regiment, ordering it into the empty barracks of Duco's men.

A Government communique declared that to avoid injuries to civilians, Duco was "told to deliver his men over immediately and unconditionally," adding that he "obeyed without resistance."

"The troops he had led out returned to their normal duties," the communique said. "A most complete calm reigns countrywide. Lieutenant Colonel Duco was detained at disposal of authorities charged with investigation.

"The army and navy remain firmly united in the task of maintaining the honor and sovereignty of the nation."

Own Officers Fail Duco

Earlier, the Government declared Duco's "officers and petty officers refused to follow him, so he failed in his absurd purpose." Duco acted, it said, in "an inexplicable and unconscientious manner."

Duco had not previously played a conspicuous role in the military Government, although his command of infantry troops stationed within the capital made him a factor to be reckoned with. He was said to have clashed once before with Farrell in the Government House, with Farrell threatening to arrest him.

Reports from Buenos Aires said the garrisons at Santa Fe, Cordoba, Bahia Blanca and Parana had pledged their support of Ramirez a few hours before the Third Infantry sallied forth. But there was no indication that simultaneous movements occurred at any of those points.

People Unaware Of Revolt

The people of Argentina generally remained unaware of the attempted coup. In the capital itself, troops maintained vigil, and a heavy machine gun was mounted opposite the War Ministry.

Ramirez remained at his Presidential estate, studying with satisfaction, it was said, reports from abroad that foreign governments including the United States viewed disapprovingly the manner in which Farrell had acquired Presidential authority.

One intimate said Ramirez already had received definite word the American republics would not recognize the transfer of power to Farrell.

Duco's Fate Uncertain

The question of the penalty likely to be imposed on Duco was the subject of speculation. Some observers considered that he might be shot and rumors even circulated that the execution had taken place.

Another version was that Duco was lodged in the naval hospital.

The only official comment as to his possible punishment was that of David Uriburo, Governor of Corrientes province, who told Argentine reporters that "exemplary measures" should be taken against him.

Move By Ramirez's Friend To Oust Farrell Fails

MAR 2 1944

Montevideo, Uruguay, March 1 (AP)—The Argentine Government announced today it had quelled a revolt by an army colonel and his infantry regiment seeking to oust Gen. Edelmiro Farrell from the Presidency he assumed last week in a palace coup engineered by the country's strongly nationlistic elements.

Lieut. Col. Tomas Duco, a close friend of Gen. Pedro Ramirez, who delegated his Presidential powers to Farrell last Thursday, massed his Third Infantry Regiment on the outskirts of Buenos Aires but failed to move on the capital.

Instead, he entered the city himself on a Government invitation for a conference with Farrell and War Minister Juan Peron, known as the man behind the throne in Argentina's turbulent politics.

Duco Is Arrested

The conference was held in the War Ministry.

Duco was arrested and held at headquarters of another regiment, a dispatch direct from Buenos Aires said, and his regiment was returning to its headquarters under command of officers loyal to Farrell's government.

The regiment earlier today was camped at Lomas de Zamora, 20 miles from Buenos Aires. The troops occupied the town hall and modern residential building where regimental officers were meeting when one reporter arrived there.

The reporter was able to see a Major Molinari, heading sentry duty forces, but he said: "You must not publish anything. Lieutenant Colonel Duco is not here."

Then Molinari added nervously, "Do you know where he is?"

Leaves For War Ministry

Molinari said: "Our commander left for the War Ministry, called by Farrell, who gave his word of honor he would release him after talking with him. As hostages, we are keeping here two colonels who came with the Vice-President's (Farrell's) message. That is all. Now please leave."

Apparently the attempted revolt did not extend beyond Duco's own unit, but the Argentine Navy was reported to have demanded that power be returned to Ramirez, who resigned ostensibly because of his health, or to the Supreme Court.

Text Of Communique

"The head of the Third Infantry Division, Lieut. Col. Tomas A. Duco, acting in an inexplicable and unconscientious manner, tried on the evening of February 29 to raise some of the members of the regiment to rebellion.

"The officers and petty officers refused to follow him, so he failed in his absurd purpose.

"The most absolute order reigns in the country. The news divulged by radio broadcasts from Uruguay in regard to clashes between the armed forces and mobs in Buenos Aires in protest against the Government, which is solidly supported by the people, the army and the navy, which repudiate unanimously the attitude of the aforementioned chief, is absolutely false."

Climax Of Hectic Day

Last night's confused events in Buenos Aires followed close upon a day of extreme tension during which elements of the Argentine navy, long displeased with the chaos existing in the Government, demanded either that Ramirez be permitted to resume full Presidential powers, or resign his power to the Supreme Court instead of to Farrell.

These proposals were reported to be still before the Argentine ruling faction when Duco decided to march his troops from the arsenal in the city.

Gen. Arturo Rawson, co-leader of the June revolution and president for two days, was said to have been taken from his home to the war ministry, being released after some hours. Rawson often has been mentioned as a likely leader of a prodemocratic revolution.

Night's Activities Described

The following picture was given of the hectic night in the capital and its outskirts, where several regiments were garrisoned:

Police Chief Colonel Filomeno Velazco arrived at the police department at 10.40 P. M., and ten minutes later received Peron, who was sworn in as acting war minister on Monday.

Colonel Peron left police headquarters at 11.10 P. M., refusing to make any statement, but at the same time the police broadcasting station instructed all precincts to wait for orders.

When Velazco left headquarters at 3 A. M. today, he said, "tomorrow I will make a declaration on the events of tonight, but today all newspapers must abstain from publishing anything. Those which do will never appear again."

The Third regiment moved out of its regular barracks in downtown Buenos Aires during the night toward Lomas de Zamora, where one regimental battalion already was quartered.

U. S.-Argentine Rupture Is Foreseen

Washington, March 1 (AP)—Relations between the United States and Argentina are moving swiftly toward their third crisis within a year and this time there seems to be little chance of avoiding a rupture.

The present Argentine regime of Gen. Edelmiro Farrell is believed to have come to power in such circumstances as will warrant a policy of non-recognition by this country.

Farrell Replaces Ramirez

Farrell replaced Gen. Pedro Ramirez in the Presidency under conditions which indicated that Ramirez was forced to hand over the government to Farrell, then Vice-President. Little credence is placed here in the explanation that ill health compelled him to step down.

The coup, apparently, forestalled any possibility that Ramirez might be able to lead Argentina all the way into the Allied camp with a declaration of war on Germany and Japan.

First Crisis Occurred Last June

The first serious threat to United States - Argentine relations developed last June when Ramirez took over the Government. Washington decided to recognize the Government after receiving assurances that Ramirez intended to break with the Axis.

The second threat developed last December with the Bolivian revolution, when it became evident that Axis forces working within Argentina had been instrumental in engineering the political upheaval in Bolivia. This country then prepared to take drastic economic action against Argentina.

Buenos Aires learned what was planned and sent through a rush promise that, if Washington would suspend the contemplated move, the government there would finally break with Germany and Japan.

The promise was made good a few days later, but the Farrell coup put a stop to Ramirez's efforts to clean out Axis spy nests within the country.

Montevideo News Handling Protested

Montevideo, March 1 (AP)—Argentine Ambassador Carlos Quintana protested today against the manner in which Montevideo radios and newspapers have been handling the news of the Argentine situation, and Uruguayan officials ordered Montevideo radio stations to tone down their Argentine comments.

Ambassador Quintana protested personally to President Juan Jose Amezaga and Foreign Minister Jose Serrato, while in Buenos Aires the Presidential office in a statement rebuked Uruguayan radios and newspapers, saying Montevideo was "the center of intrigues."

After Quintana's protest, radio stations were ordered to dateline every news item broadcast and to ascribe it to responsible sources.

Official circles in Uruguay expressed apprehension lest Argentine authorities accompany their protest with reprisals.

Rubber Output Boosted In Liberia

New York, March 1 (AP)—A system of forced tapping of rubber trees has boosted rubber production in Liberia by nearly one third, Walter Walker, consul general for Liberia in New York, said.

Walker, who arrived here by clipper plane at LaGuardia Field, added that "during 1943 from 18,000 to 20,000 tons of rubber were shipped from Liberia to this country."

Walker said "there is an economic upswing in Liberia resulting from the country's effort to help the United States in the war with its rubber."

BRUTAL OFFICERS TO DIE

NEW YORK, March 1. — (AP) Eight of 11 French officers and noncommissioned officers on trial at Algiers on charges of mistreating prisoners in North African concentration camps have been convicted and sentenced to death, the British radio said tonight.

MOUNTBATTEN AIDE VISITS PRESIDENT

MAR 2 1944

General Wedemeyer Follows Others Of Area Command

Washington, March 1 (AP)—President Roosevelt conferred today with Maj. Gen. Albert C. Wedemeyer, third member of the Allied high command in southeast Asia to visit the White House within a fortnight.

Wedemeyer, who is deputy chief of staff to Lord Louis Mountbatten, Allied commander in chief in the area, had lunch with the Chief Executive but did not disclose the purpose of his White House appearance.

Previous Visitors From Area

Previously, Mr. Roosevelt saw Brig. Gen. Haydon L. Boatner, chief of staff of the Chinese army in India, who commands the northern combat area under Mountbatten. That was on February 18. Four days later the Chief Executive conferred with Maj. Gen. Raymond A. Wheeler, who is Mountbatten's chief supply officer.

The engagement list of the President on his first day at the White House in more than a week had decidedly a military tang. In addition to Wedemeyer, Mr. Roosevelt saw Representative Vinson (D., Ga.), chairman of the House Naval Committee, who said he came in on navy "departmental matters," and the American chiefs of staff: Gen. George C. Marshall, Admiral Ernest J. King, Gen. H. H. Arnold and Admiral William D. Leahy.

New York City Congressman

The only other Presidential visitor was Representative Klein (D., N. Y.), who represents the district in New York city in which Mrs. Roosevelt has an apartment. He said his call was "social."

The Chief Executive has been out of town at a retreat where he had a chance to rest. The White House preferred that the place not be named.

RUBBER PACTS SOUGHT BY U. S.

Peru, Colombia And Ecuador May Finance Own Output

Washington, March 1 (AP)—Negotiations are under way for agreements whereby Peru, Colombia and Ecuador would take over from the United States the financing of their wild rubber production in exchange for a one third increase in price.

Disclosing this today, Douglas H. Allen, president of the Rubber Development Corporation, predicted a "very substantial increase" this year in rubber production in the Amazon countries. For the first time, he said, it has now become possible to transport adequate equipment and supplies to the interior as a result of development work.

Allen said the three proposed agreements would follow the pattern of the one made with Brazil and annouunced on February 8—provided that RDC finds increases in production costs in those three countries have been great enough to warrant the payment of a premium for their rubber.

Bolivian Talks Prevented

Non-recognition by this Government of the new regime in Bolivia has prevented conversations with that Government, but Allen said arrangements now were being made to pay rubber producers there a premium price on a day-to-day basis.

Production in the Amazon group countries now appears to have amounted to about 25,000 tons in 1943, Allen estimated. He said he had previously hoped it would reach 35,000 tons. The RDC official added it was impossible to estimate accurately how great the expected 1944 increase would be.

Allen's comments were made in connection with release of the text of the supplementary rubber agreement signed with Brazil, under which the Brazilian Government takes responsibility for financing the country's wild rubber development, in return for an increase in the price paid by RDC from 45 to 60 cents a pound.

U. S. To Cut Off Subsidies

The agreement runs until March 31, 1945. By June 30, of this year, the United States will have cut off all payments and subsidies covering increased wages and living costs in Brazil and those intended to stimulate maximum production.

Brazil, in turn, has agreed to assume all expenditures for rubber development, including costs of road building activities and labor subsidies in Southern Mato Grosso.

Tire and tube manufacturers in Brazil will pay the same price as RDC for crude rubber, it is provided, while the RDC will not pay more than in the past for Brazilian-manufactured tires and tubes.

'Good Neighbor' Checkup

Washington, March 1 (AP)—Senator Butler (R., Neb.) predicted today that Congress would "proceed cautiously in consideration of President Roosevelt's proposal to extend cultural feaures of its Latin-American "Good Neighbor" policy to other nations.

"If it means an interchange of professors, books and other literature, it probably won't meet serious objection," Butler said. "But Congress doesn't want any extension of some of the funny business and waste of the taxpayers' money."

Connally Gets Draft

Senator Connally (D., Texas), Foreign Relations Committee chairman, said the draft of proposed legislation to carry out the recommendation had reached his office and that he would discuss it with members at an early meeting.

Under a program sanctioned by Congress in 1936, the State Department works with South American countries in the promotion of economic, social, scientific and cultural relationships.

In Limited Form

The countries exchange professional men and libraries, as well as films and radio programs.

Acting Secretary of State Stettinius, in a report the President submitted with his message, said the program has been extended in limited form through an exchange of films with South Africa, Canada and Switzerland, but that further authority is needed to expand the program with these and other friendly countries.

Lend-Lease Called Sound Security

MAR 2 1944

Washington, March 1 (AP)—Leo T. Crowley, Foreign Economic Administrator, today described the lend-lease program as "an investment in American security—an investment so sound that it has already paid us enormous dividends in lives saved and in security for our homes and our soil."

He was testifying before the House Foreign Affairs Committee which has under consideration a measure to extend the lend-lease program for another year.

"Not to extend the Lend-Lease Act," he said, "would be to call off part of the war—and an essential part—just at the moment when we are poised for our greatest offensives."

Partners Active

Discussing reverse lend-lease, a subject in which the committee showed especial interest last year, Crowley asserted that "our partners in the United Nations are putting everything they have into the war."

Through the third quarter of 1943, Crowley said, the British Comonwealth had provided more than $1,500,000,000 in aid to the United States.

He emphasized that figures on lend-lease or reverse lend-lease would not reflect accurately the relative contribution of any of the United Nations to the war, nor were the costs comparable.

Russia's Case

"The Soviet Union," he added, "has been able to provide only a relatively small amount of reverse lend-lease, yet can anyone say that it has not given in fullest measure to the cause of the United Nations victory?"

Behind the air offensive on Germany there is a significant lend-lease story, Crowley said, adding:

"The great Lancaster and Halifax bombers used by the RAF are produced in British factories. Britain alone, in fact, is today producing more planes than all the factories at Hitler's command in Europe. This great plane production record is largely due to Britain's own effort, but it could not have been achieved without the machine tools, aircraft engines and parts, the steel and other metals sent from the United States."

Two Brazilian Aviation Cadets Killed In Crash

Washington, March 1 (AP) — Two aviation cadets of the Brazilian air force reserve were killed February 24 in a collision of planes 24 miles from Corpus Christi, Texas, the navy said today.

The two youths were Jose Alberto Rocha Souza, son of Alinzio Rocha Souza, of Rio de Janeiro, and Dyllo Regina Lenzi, son of Imcio Lino Lenzi, of Porto Alegre, Rio Grande do Sul. They were buried yesterday in Corpus Christi.

2 VETERANS SCORE LEWIS

Youths Visit Office And Lecture About Strikes

Washintgon, March 1 (AP) — Two youths who said they were veterans of the Italian campaign paid a visit to John L. Lewis today and gave him a half-hour lecture about strikes at home and the hardships of servicemen abroad.

The young men gave the names of Corporal Henry Kania, of Schenectady, N. Y., and Private Jacob Ricotta, of Rochester, N. Y.

One Wept, Adams Says

K. C. Adams, an official of Lewis' United Mine Workers, said one of the youths waved his arms and wept several times during the interview. Adams said no blows were struck or attempted, however.

Meet In Lewis' Office

The meeting, Adams said, took place in Lewis' sixth-floor office in the UMW building, to which the uniformed men made their way after failing to locate the union head Monday at his home in Alexandria, Va., and yesterday at the office.

Adams said Lewis invited the youths in when they came to the office, where he was conferring with two aides. Adams joined the group in a few minutes.

Tells Of Complaint

"You went on strike and wanted more money, didn't you?" Adams said one of the men complained, adding, "we didn't get any more money in the trenches."

Then, Adams related, the visitor told of going without food for 24 hours in a foxhole in Italy.

The UMW official said he and Lewis replied with "facts and figures."

HEARING PLANNED ON LIBERTY SHIPS

WASHINGTON, March 1—(AP) Chairman Truman (D-Mo.) of the Senate War investigating committe announced today that a special subcommittee investigating the cracking of a number of Liberty ships will hold a public hearing in New York City tomorrow.

"A substantial number of complaints have been received concerning vessels which are slated to have cracked at sea," Truman said in a statement.

Greater Speed Promised By Jet Plane

Washington, March 1 (AP) — Jet propulsion promises to give Uncle Sam's fighting planes another 100 miles per hour.

This suggestion was made today by Capt. Ezra Kotcher, of the army air forces' engineering division, writing in the official publication, Air Force.

Kotcher disclosed several points about the still highly secret plane not revealed previously. The army has reported only that it is a twin-engine propellerless fighter, with high speed and high ceiling, heavily armed and armored.

Army Issues New Capsules To Prevent Motion Sickness

MAR 2 1944

Washington, March 1 (AP)—Capsules designed to prevent "motion sickness"—the woozy feeling suffered by some troops while riding in various vehicles on land or sea—have been added to the army's medicine chest after months of successful experiment.

Making the announcement in its monthly bulletin, the Army Medical Department did not give details on the ingredients, but said they include a sedative.

"This item has been under test for several months in the continental United States and also has undergone limited testing in actual field operations," the announcement said.

"Experience indicates that it may produce at least a 50 per cent. reduction in the incidence of motion sickness."

Declaring the material may find a useful place both in amphibious operations and in the transportation of personnel by sea, the army doctors added:

"It is possible, though not conclusively confirmed, that it may be useful in the prevention of air sickness."

The preventive, which probably will be available for general distribution throughout the army this spring, is made up in capsule form. Individual boxes contain six capsules, each of which is wrapped in moisture-proof metal paper.

Not Ready For Fighting

Kotcher reports the plane is in production "for training purposes," implying that it is not yet ready for combat duty.

Talking of speeds Kotcher says: The standard, propeller-driven airplane "begins to be stymied" at speeds much above 450 miles an hour, because at such speeds air begins to be compressible, and this compressibility is felt on the propeller long before it is evidenced in the wings. Therefore, substitution of a net propulsion unit eliminates air drag created by the propeller.

Speed The Difference

The net difference for the two types of aircraft, Kotcher suggests, "may be about 100 miles an hour for the immediate future" of the jet-propelled plane.

Reiterating that the plane is not a rocket ship, Kotcher describes it as a turbo-thermal engine, and says this is how it operates:

"The unit is started by means of an external source of power which turns a turbo-compressor a few seconds. The compressor discharges air from its diffuser section into the combustion chambers. Fuel is injected into the chambers and ignited. The heated gases in the chambers . . . expand and flow through the turbine to develop power to drive the compressor.

Nozzle Boosts Velocity

"The gases, still above atmospheric pressure and hot, flow from the turbine into a tail pipe; then a final pressure drop takes place through a restriction—or nozzle—which greatly increases the velocity of the gases and thereby creates the momentum increase to develop the engine's propulsive thrust.

"The jet is smooth and continuous and the motor is remarkably free from vibration, inasmuch as there are only rotating parts."

High-Octane Fuel Not Needed

Because the compression required is much lower than in standard gasoline engines, special high-octane fuels are not needed, Kotcher reports, adding that "anything that burns, from kerosene to Napoleon brandy, can be used."

Roosevelt Signs Pension Bill

WASHINGTON, March 1 (AP).—President Roosevelt signed today legislation increasing from $60 to $75 amonth pensions of veterans of the war with Spain, the Philippine insurrection and the China relief expedition. The measure provides pensions for veterans sixty-five years old or older, and those totally disabled.

FEDERAL BALLOT FURTHER LIMITED

Washington, March 1 (A. P.).—Advocates of State ballots for armed service voting put another crimp in the administration's Federal ballot proposal today by blocking its use within the United States.

Going to work on a compromise bill, House members won conference committee approval of a provision making the Federal ballot available only to those service voters who are overseas on election day.

By yesterday's compromise the Federal ballot can be used only by voters from States whose Governors have certified its acceptance as a bonafide absentee ballot.

Senate conferees said today that the compromise bill will be taken up first in the Senate, probably next week.

To Name Liberty Ship Clapper

WASHINGTON, March 1 (AP)—The name of Raymond Clapper, newspaper columnist, will be given to a Liberty ship constructed by the shipyard having the lowest accident rate in the month-long safety contest beginning today among nine yards, from Maine to California. Clapper was killed in a plane accident while observing the invasion of the Marshall Islands.

GOVERNORS' POLL SHOWS APPROVAL OF STATE BALLOT

MAR 2 1944

WASHINGTON, March 1 — (AP) A poll of governors indicated general approval today for the federal-state servicemen's vote compromise, but the executives were practically unanimous in emphasis on the state ballots.

With most of them, in fact, approval was based on the fact that they believe state ballots can be made available. Some questioned whether they could approve the short form federal ballot which the pending legislation provides for use in event servicemen or women ap- but do not receive a State ballot by Oct. 1.

Under a change made in the measure today by a Senate-House committee hammering it into shape for final action, the federal ballot could be used in any event only by service voters overseas on Election day. Advocates of state ballots insisted on this ban against the federal ballot's use within the United States.

The compromise, which is expected to come up for House and Senate action next week, provides:

1—Use of a federal ballot for voters of states which have no absentee balloting machinery, if the governor certifies by Aug. 1 that the federal form is acceptable.

2—Use of a federal ballot to supplement state absentee ballots if the governor certifies the federal form is acceptable under state law. Service voters would have to swear, however, that they had applied for a state ballot but had not received it by Oct. 1. Thus state ballots would get preference.

The poll of governors indicated most expected very little call for federal ballots—their states either have absentee balloting machinery or arrangements are being made to provide it.

Governor Homer M. Adkins of Arkansas phrased in this manner a comment that many others also made:

"All we want of the federal government is to deliver and bring our ballots back by plane. . ."

Whether Kentuckians in the armed service can vote at all is uncertain. Governor Simeon Willis said he would 'do anything humanly possible to enable service men to vote," but the state constitution prohibits absentee balloting. He said he would study a Kentucky Court of Appeals decision of some years back upholding the constitutional provision before he decided whether Kentucky service men can take advantage of the federal ballot.

Among states whose governors said they were all set for use of state ballots were Montana, Iowa, New Jersey, Colorado, Kansas, Rhode Island, Wisconsin, and Maine. Other states described as in the same category, although not by the governor, include West Virginia, Missouri, Connecticut, Tennessee, North Carolina, Florida, and Illinois.

CIVILIAN GOODS CONTROL HINTED

FOR AFTER WAR

NEW YORK, March 1. — (AP) Arthur D. Whiteside, former director of the Office of Civilian Requirements, proposed today that government controls of civilian goods manufacturing be continued as long as three years after the war.

His views drew some sharp opposition when presented at the annual meeting of the American Retail Federation.

Whiteside, now back at his job as president of Dun & Bradstreet, Inc., mercantile reporting agency, asserted production should be restrained at pre-war levels to spread out the demand for goods and to prevent saturated markets and a let-down later on that might result in unemployment.

While commenting that he was no longer with government and "can say what I like," Whiteside implied that continued control was the policy of the War Production board, of which he had been a vice chairman.

Fred Lazarus, Jr., of the large retailing concern of F. & R. Lazarus & Co., Columbus Ohio, urged instead that any producer with men and materials available be permitted to produce at capacity.

Supporting a quota system for resumption of civilian products, Whiteside countered:

"If we let people loose now to produce anything they like, I don't know what kind of work you are going to offer those coming back from the war."

B. Earl Puckett, president of Allied Stores Corp., chairman of the meeting, commented that "any real repression of manufacturing to equalize opportunity is a dangerous precedent."

Lew Upton, president of Nineteen Hundred Corp., of St. Joseph, Mo., which makes washing machines, suggested that manufacturers automatically were limited to pre-war levels since they possess only the tools they had before the war and can't get new ones.

Whiteside offered this four-point program:

1—Plants taken off war work should go on a quota, not necessarily based on pre-war output. Control for two and one-half to three years after the war ends should see most manufacturers fully reconverted.

2—Prices should be controlled for a similar period.

3—New manufacturers should be permitted a place in the reconversion schedule of the industry they wished to enter.

4—Distribution controls should be continued to direct goods to those most in need of particular items.

Whiteside said he was "more interested in free enterprise for the rest of my life than I am for it in the next few months," and recalled the price panics that followed the quick saturation of civilian demand after the first World War.

From the floor, Whiteside was asked if the government should restrict output of a one-industry community regardless of the available men who otherwise might be employed, and replied that he would rather hurt one community than see the national economy collapse.

Army Nurse Is Killed In Action In Italy

Harrisburg, March 1 (AP)—Lieut. Carrie T. Sheetz, army nurse who escaped injury when the Nazis bombed a hospital ship in the Gulf of Salerno last September 13, has been killed in action in the front lines in Italy, the War Department notified her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Cox Thompson, of Harrisburg, today.

Lieutenant Sheetz formerly was an assistant in the State Health Deparement here. Her husband, Frank, is a warrant officer in the navy.

Germans Want Peace, Lord Halifax Says

Scranton, Pa., March 1 (AP)—Lord Halifax, British Ambassador to the United States, said tonight he believes that "if it were possible at this moment to take a free vote of the German people, a great majority would declare for peace—peace at once and peace at almost any price."

"No such vote, of course, is possible," he added in an address prepared for delivery before the St. David's Society, composed of Americans of Welsh descent. "The German people can suffer and complain, but they had surrendered their bodies and souls, even before the war began, and they are now powerless to control their destiny."

JAP CAMPS NEED MEDICINE

MAR 15 1944

Despite Lack, Death Rate Isn't Excessive, Doctor Says

Chicago, March 1 (AP)—The death rate among prisoners at the Santo Tomas internment camp in the Philippines will rise unless they receive proper food and medicines, a physician who returned from there reported today.

Dr. Frank E. Whitacre, of Sylvania, Ohio, who was repatriated on the most recent trip of the Gripsholm, gave a detailed account of health conditions among the 3,900 Americans and others held in the Jap concentration inclosure.

Deaths Not Excessive

His medical report, which the American Medical Association said was the first to be published in this country about the general health conditions among Americans interned by the Japanese, said:

"The number of deaths after 22 months is probably not much in excess of that found in a group of the same size in normal times. But it must be expected that the mortality rate will increase, for nutritional disturbances are growing and the drug and medical supplies situation is deplorable.

"There are no drugs for treating dysentery. The supply of insulin and liver extract is almost exhausted. There are practically no sulfonamide drugs, narcotics, anesthetics or glucose."

Loss Of Weight Common

He wrote in the Journal of the A. M. A. that the average diet provided only about 1,800 calories a day in contrast to the American average of 3,000. A weight loss of 30 to 50 pounds was a common consequence and diseases due to vitamin deficiency were prevalent.

He said there was an epidemic of inflammation of the intestine followed by amebic dysentery. Many suffered from dengue fever and influenza during the early months of their captivity, and approximately 150 cases of catarrhal jaundice were noted. There were many instances of diabetes and peptic ulcer. He attributed a "considerable number" of hernias "to the fact that middle-aged and older men who had done office work all their lives were forced to do heavy work on an inadequate diet."

Dr. Whitacre also reported that "after many months lethargy and mental deterioration affected a moderate number." Milk was reserved for the 300-odd children, he added, and they "are doing very well."

KAISER VISIONS NEW ECONOMICS

MAR 2 1944

Says People Will Get More of Wealth They Produce.

Chicago, March 1 (A. P.).—Henry J. Kaiser, builder of ships and dams and bridges, predicted today that in the peace to come "we will witness a far greater and more equitable balance between income and effort."

"Men are going to share more generously in the wealth which they produce," he said, in an address prepared for delivery at a meeting of the American Concrete Institute. "They are going to use it for humanity as a whole, rather than for a small segment which maneuvers its way to power."

Mr. Kaiser said he also believed that "we are not going back too very much in the way of economic procedures with which we were accustomed in the years before the war. Neither the radical nor the reactionary are going to win," he said. . . . The mass of mankind feels more keenly than it thinks, and today it feels the upsurge of the desire to possess and enjoy the good things of life."

Bright Outlook for Concrete.

Mr. Kaiser said that the concrete industry is on the threshold of its greatest opportunities. Domestically, there is the 30,000-mile highway system proposed by President Roosevelt, he said, and development of more hydro-electric power projects, swamps to be drained, gorges bridged, rivers dammed, tunnels pierced and airports surfaced.

Development of natural resources in South America, including "the choicest oil fields in the world," lies ahead, he said, and across the Atlantic and Pacific "are the ruined areas from which will rise new and modern cities, which will render many of our own inferior in all respects."

To Call 1,200,000 Men Before July 1

Biloxi, Miss., March 1 (AP)—Brig. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, selective service chief, told the Biloxi Lions Club today that 1,200,000 additional selectees will be taken into the armed forces between now and July 1.

Of 5,000,000 men deferred from military duty, 1,600,000 are in agriculture and 3,200,000 in industrial defense work, he said, and of the 2,600,000 men now classified as 3-A 860,000 will go into 1-A.

Of this number Hershey said about 250,000 soldiers will be secured and the balance will be placed in 2-A, 2-B, 2-C and 3-C.

Hershey added that of the 1,500,000 men in 1-A 420,000 of them will be inducted this year. He said that the balance of the quota will come from the 18-year-old crop, "of whom 50,000 to 60,000 reach draft age each month."

He said that this war has taken three times as many men as World War I, and that the army had rejected more men than the entire number which served in World War No. 1.

"We have put into service nearly 12,000,000 men and have discharged 1,200,000," he said, "and our responsibility includes seeing that discharged men get work, and to cooperate with the employment service in this respect. The discharge rate is 100,000 a month, but when the rate becomes higher we will have a more serious problem."

STOCKHOLM, MARCH 1-(AP)-THE RUSSIAN PEACE PROPOSALS TO FINLAND WERE TERMED "HARSH" TODAY BY THE STOCKHOLM NEWSPAPER MORGON TIDNINGEN BUT IT SUGGESTED THAT THEY WERE TERMS WHICH THE FINNS MIGHT USE AS A BASIS FOR FURTHER NEGOTIATION.

THE COMMENT BY THE NEWSPAPER, WHICH IS THE ORGAN OF THE SOCIAL DEMOCRATIC PARTY IN SWEDEN AND HAS CLOSE CONTACTS WITH THE FINNISH SOCIAL DEMOCRATS, WAS REGARDED AS SIGNIFICANT.

THERE WAS NO IMMEDIATE REACTION FROM HELSINKI TO THE RUSSIAN TERMS, WHICH WERE BROADCAST LAST NIGHT BY THE MOSCOW RADIO, AND THE ALREADY STRICT FINNISH CENSORSHIP APPEARED TO HAVE BEEN TIGHTENED.

THE MORGON TIDNINGEN SAID THE SOVIET PROPOSALS "CAN VERY WELL BE TAKEN AS A STARTING POINT FOR FURTHER STEPS LOOKING TOWARD AN ARMISTICE.

THE TERMS ARE "HARSH," IT ADDED, "BUT ONE MUST ADMIT THEY DO NOT MENTION RUSSIAN OCCUPATION NOR ANY THREAT TO THE COUNTRY'S INDEPENDENCE.

IT WAS GENERALLY BELIEVED THAT FINNISH PREMIER EDWIN LINKOMIES

CONVEYED THE RUSSIAN TERMS TO PARLIAMENT YESTERDAY DURING TWO CLOSED SESSIONS, BUT AN OFFICIAL COMMUNIQUE ISSUED AFTER THE MEETINGS GAVE NO INDICATION OF WHAT ACTION, IF ANY, WAS TAKEN.

A SWEDISH CORRESPONDENT IN HELSINKI, HOWEVER, ASSERTED THAT "AFTER TODAY'S PARLIAMENT MEETING THERE WON'T BE ANY MORE BOMBINGS OF HELSINKI."

IN DISCUSSING THE MOSCOW CONDITIONS ONE FINN IN CLOSE CONTACT WITH THE SITUATION SAID ONE OF THE TOUGHEST OBSTACLES TO ANY FINNISH-RUSSIAN PEACE HAD BEEN THE PRESENCE OF GERMAN TROOPS IN FINLAND.

"MOSCOW'S SERVING NOTICE OF HER DEMAND FOR INTERNMENT OF THE GERMANS MAY HELP CIRCUMVENT THAT HURDLE," HE SAID. "IT IS SOMETHING THE GERMANS CERTAINLY CAN TURN TO THEIR ADVANTAGE."

HE ALSO EXPRESSED THE VIEW THAT FINNISH FOREIGN MINISTER SIR HENRIK RAMSAY HAD LONG KNOWN ROUGHLY THE RUSSIAN DEMANDS BUT HAD BEEN AFRAID TO MOVE BECAUSE HE FEARED THE RUSSIANS MIGHT BOOST THE ANTE AND LEAVE FINLAND COMPROMISED.

Algiers, Mar. 1 (AP)--Delegates to the third consultative assembly, which opened yesterday, probed into the activities of the various commissioners of the French committee of national liberation today after a report on the committee's work since the last session of the assembly was criticized as being inadequate.

Under terms of a motion adopted by the delegates five commissioners will be examined personally on the general situation in France, particularly the committee's liason with the French underground; the progress of the war effort; diplomatic representations abroad; the colonial policy, and progress of the purge of former vichites.

At the same time a proposed program for reform of the French press after the war was placed high on the agenda of the assembly.

The sweeping changes in the proposed program would give France, one proponent said, a truly free and representative press for almost the first time in its history.

However, the plan now proposes tight government control of the press for a year during the transitional period.

One of the aims of the proposed new press program is to establish a cooperatively-owned french press agency. The agency at first would be underwritten by the government until the metropolitan press could assume its cost. The agency would have the sole right of distribution of news in france during the transitional period. This, it was said, would enable the agency to compete on more equal terms with American and British agencies until it could become firmly established. There would be no monopoly, however, after the transitional period.

Another part of the plan calls for the suppression of all existing newspapers within france as soon as the areas are liberated and the publication of one or two newspapers in each department under the agents of the government until french journalism had been purged of all collaborationist elements.

Gen. Emmanuel d'Astier de la Vigerie, interior commissioner, is expected to the called tomorrow as the first of the commissioners to testify before the delegates. Gen. d'Astier, as chief of the committee's

THIS BOLD THRUST WHICH CARRIED THE AMERICANS ACROSS THE BISMARCK SEA TO THE ADMIRALTIES AND GAINED THEM POSSESSION OF ONE OF THE TWO PRINCIPAL AIRFIELDS IN THE ISLAND GROUP IS NOT IMMEDIATELY THE STAGGERING BLOW TO THE JAPANESE THAT WAS THE LOSS OF THE GILBERT ISLANDS AND TWO ATOLLS OF THE MARSHALL ISLANDS IN THE CENTRAL PACIFIC--AT LEAST NOT IN THE POINT OF MEN, EQUIPMENT AND BASES LOST.

BUT AS THE BEGINNING OF THE CULMINATION OF A SERIES OF STRATEGIC MOVES CONCEIVED AND DIRECTED BY GEN. DOUGLAS MACARTHUR, THE LANDING VERY LIKELY WILL PLAY AN EARLY AND DECISIVE PART IN THE ELIMINATION OF RABAUL, NEW BRITAIN, AS PIVOTAL POINT OF THE ENEMY'S OFFENSIVE AND DEFENSIVE OPERATIONS, AND MAY HAVE A FAR-REACHING EFFECT UPON THE ALLIES' SUCCESS IN CUTTING OFF JAPAN PROPER FROM HER OUTER DEFENSES AND SOURCES OF RAW MATERIAL IN THE SOUTHWEST PACIFIC ISLANDS.

THE OCCUPATION OF THE ADMIRALTIES WILL NEARLY COMPLETE THE OFFENSIVE PATTERN WHOSE UNFOLDING SINCE THE AMERICAN LANDING ON NEW GEORGIA ISLAND LAST JUNE HAS SUCCESSFULLY ENDED RABAUL'S FUNCTION AS A SUPPLY LINE TERMINUS, HAS DRIVEN MERCHANT AND NAVAL SHIPPIKNJGMM ITS HARBORS, NEUTRALIZED ITS AIRFIELDS AV

SUPPLY LINE TERMINUS, HAS DRIVEN MERCHANT AND NAVAL SHIPPING FROM ITS HARBORS, NEUTRALIZED ITS AIRFIELDS AND CONVERTED IT FROM A FORMIDABLE OFFENSIVE THREAT INTO A DEFENSIVE LIABILITY.

LOOKING BEYOND THE EARLY EFFECT ON THE OUTCOME OF THE ALLIED CAMPAIGN IN THE BISMARCK SEA ISLANDS, "WHOSE END IS NOW CLEARLY IN SIGHT," SAID MACARTHUR TODAY, POSSESSION OF THE ADMIRALTIES WILL PLACE THE ALLIED PLANES AS NEAR TRUK FROM THE SOUTH AS THEY NOW ARE FROM NEWLY BASES IN THE WESTERN MARSHALLS.

FROM THE ADMIRALTIES, MOREOVER, ALLIED PLANES CAN PIVOT WESTWARD TO COVER THE NORTHERN COASTS OF NEW GUINEA AND NORTHWESTWARD AGAINST THE SOUTHERNMOST ISLANDS IN THE CHAIN EXTENDING FROM JAPAN PROPER THROUGH THE BONINS, MARIANS AND CAROLINES.

SINCE THE AMERICAN LANDING AT GUADALCANAL IN AUGUST, 1942, ARMCHAIR STRATEGISTS HAVE BEEN TALKING AND WRITING ABOUT A DIRECT DRIVE ON

MAR 2 1944

RABAUL. THE GUADALCANAL CAMPAIGN HAD TO BE FOUGHT, JUST AS THE JAPANESE HAD TO BE PUSHED BACK ACROSS THE OWEN STANLEY MOUNTAINS IN NEW GUINEA, IN ORDER TO HALT THE ENEMY'S SOUTHWARD ADVANCE AND TO GIVE THE ALLIES A SPRINGBOARD FROM WHENCE TO INITIATE OFFENSIVE STRATEGY

THE PATTERN FOR THE ELIMINATION OF RABAUL BEGAN TO UNFOLD LAST JUNE, WHEN SOUTH PACIFIC FORCES UNDER MACARTHUR'S STRATEGICAL DIRECTION LAUNCHED A NEW GEORGIA CAMPAIGN WHICH REDUCED THE JAPANESE STRONGHOLD OF MUNDA AND GAVE THE ALLIES A BASE FOR OPERATIONS AGAINST THE CENTRAL AND NORTHERN SOLOMONS.

WHILE HIS RIGHT WING WAS FIGHTING AND WINNING THE GRUELLING BATTLE FOR NEW GEORGIA, MACARTHUR STRENGTHENED HIS CENTER BY THE OCCUPATION OF WOODLARK AND TROBRIAND ISLANDS AND THE BUILDING UP OF GOODENOUGH ISLAND OFF THE NORTHEAST TIP OF NEW GUINEA.

IN SEPTEMBER, 1943, MACARTHUR HIT OUT WITH HIS LEFT WING, CAPTURING LAE AND SALAMAUA, NEW GUINEA, IN RAPID SUCCESSION AND BY NOVEMBER, WHEN HE WAS READY TO ADVANCE THE RIGHT SIDE OF HIS LINE TO BOUGAINVILLE IN THE NORTHERN SOLOMONS, HIS LEFT WING CONTROLLED ALL OF NORTHEAST NEW GUINEA AS FAR NORTH AS FINSCHHAFEN.

THE AMERICAN LANDING AND SUBSEQUENT CONSOLIDATION OF POSITIONS AT EMPRESS AUGUSTA BAY ON BOUGAINVILLE MARKED THE TURNING POINT, BOTH FOR THE AMERICAN AND JAPANESE OPERATIONS. FOR DURING THIS COMPARATIVELY SHORT CAMPAIGN, THE JAPANESE MADE THEIR LAST ATTEMPTS TO COUNTER THE ALLIED ADVANCE FROM THE SEA. FOR THE ALLIES, THE SIGNIFICANCE OF THE ESTABLISHMENT OF A FOOTHOLD ON BOUGAINVILLE WAS REPRESE BY A RAPIDLY BUILT AIRFIELD FROM WHICH FIGHTERS AS WELL AS BOMBERS COULD WORK ON RABAUL ALMOST DAILY.

IN DECEMBER, MACARTHUR LAUNCHED TWO SUCCESSIVE ATTACKS FROM THE CENTER AND A THIRD FROM THE LEFT, RESULTING BY EARLY JANUARY IN COMPLETE ALLIED CONTROL OF BOTH COASTS ALONG VITIAZ STRAIT SEPARATING NEW GUINEA AND NEW BRITAIN. THE JAPANESE NAVY MADE NO EFFORT TO OPPOSE ANY OF THESE SEA-BORNE THRUSTS.

OCCUPATION OF THE ADMIRALTIES LONG HAS BEEN AMONG THE PLANS OF THE ALLIED SOUTHWEST PACIFIC COMMAND, BUT THE DECISION TO LAND YESTERDAY WAS MADE WITH LITTLE WARNING. THE TIMING OF THE OPERATION WAS PROMPTED BY THE BELIEF THE JAPANESE, REELING UNDER HEAVY BLOWS DELIVERED BY AIR AND SEA UNITS AGAINST RABAUL AND KAVIENG, MIGHT BE PREPARING TO MODIFY THEIR DEFENSIVE STRATEGY IN THE SOUTHERN PACIFIC, EVEN AS THE TOKYO HIGH COMMAND IS FORCED TO REORGANIZE ITS POSITIONS IN THE CENTRAL PACIFIC AFTER THE LOSS OF MARSHALL ISLANDS BASES AND THE CARRIER FORCE ATTACK ON TRUK.

THE JAPANESE STILL HOLD RABAUL AND THE NEARBY ISLAND POINTS, BUT WHAT HAS BEEN ACHIEVED BY THE ALLIES TOWARD RENDERING RABAUL IMPOTENT BY SYSTEMATIC AMPHIBIOUS FLANKING MANEUVERS, SUSTAINED DESTRUCTIVE AIR BLOWS AND DOMINATION OF ITS SEA APPROACHES, MAY WELL PROMPT TOKYO TO ABANDON ALL PLANS TO RESTORE ITS FORMER STRENGTH.

UNLESS THE JAPANESE HIGH COMMAND IS ABLE AND WILLING TO SEND FAR MORE POWERFUL NAVAL AND AIR RELIEF THAN IT HAS RISKED AGAINST ANY ALLIED ADVANCE FOR MANY MONTHS, THE GARRISONS ON NEW BRITAIN, BUKA AND NEW IRELAND WILL BE LEFT VIRTUALLY ON THEIR OWN, WITH STEADILY DIMINISHING SUPPLIES, AMMUNITION AND AIR PROTECTION, THE LAST OF WHICH ALREADY IS SO INADEQUATE AS TO BE VIRTUALLY NON-EXISTENT.

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN THE SOUTHWEST PACIFIC,THURSDAY,MARCH 2 (AP)-ALLIED FORCES HAVE BURST THROUGH THE JAPANESE SOUTHWEST PACIFIC DEFENSE IN LINE INTO THE STRATEGIC BISMARCK SEA AND GAINED A FOOTHOLD IN THE ADMIRALTY ISLANDS BUT 1,300 MILES FROM THEIR ULTIMATE GOAL, THE PHILIPPINES.

UNDER THE WATCHFUL EYE OF THEIR COMMANDER, GEN.DOUGLAS MACARTHUR, THE ASSAULT FORCES OF THE FIRST CAVALRY DIVISION (DISMOUNTED) LANDED TUESDAY ON LOS NEGROS ISLAND, SWEPT ASIDE GROUND RESISTANCE AND QUICKLY SEIZED THE MOMOTE AIRSTRIP.

THIS BOLD SURPRISE STROKE WAS THE PAYOFF OF LONG MONTHS OF FIGHTING IN THE SOLOMONS AND ON NEW GUINEA AND NEW BRITAIN. IT PLACED UNITED NATIONS FORCES IN A STRATEGIC POSITION WELL TO THE NORTH OF THE ENEMY'S DEFENSE LINE AND WITHIN THE OCEAN CORRIDOR THAT POINTS TO MINDANAO AT THE SOUTHERN END OF THE PHILIPPINES.

RABAUL, NEUTRALIZED KEYSTONE OF JAPAN'S HOLD IN THE SOUTH PACIFIC, WAS BY-PASSED.

MAR 2 1944

KAVIENG, NEW ICELAND, IMPORTANT ENEMY SHIPPING BASE 250 MILES TO THE EAST, WAS OUT-FLANKED.

ENEMY SUPPLY LINES LEADING FROM TRUK TO MAROONED FORCES ON NEW BRITAIN, NEW IRELAND, THE NORTHERN SOLOMONS AND NORTHEAST NEW GUINEA WERE CUT.

TRUK, NAVAL BASE AND SUPPLY CENTER IN THE CAROLINE ISLANDS, WAS BROUGHT WITHIN BOMBER RANGE FROM THE SOUTH.

FROM THE DECK OF A WARSHIP OFF SHORE, GENERAL MACARTHUR WATCHED THE BOMBARDMENT OF LOS NEGROS ISLAND, WHICH IS ADJACENT TO MANUS ISLAND, THE LARGEST IN THE ADMIRALTY GROUP. OBSERVATION PLANES GAVE HIM A RUNNING ACCOUNT OF THE NEW AMPHIBIOUS OPERATION, CARIED OUT BY DESTROYERS OF THE SEVENTH FLEET, COMMANDED BY VICE ADM. THOMAS C.KINKAID.

WHEN ENEMY MACHINE GUN FIRE WAS SILENCED AT THE NARROW HARBOR ENTRANCE OF LOS NEGROS, SAID A SPECIAL COMMUNIQUE LATE LAST NIGHT, MACARTHUR AND KINKAID WENT ASHORE IN A LANDING CRAFT. THEY MET BRIG.GEN.WILLIAM C.CHASE, IMMEDIATE GROUND COMMANDER, AND INSPECTED MOMOTE AIRFIELD, WHERE ENEMY SNIPERS HAD BEEN KILLED ONLY 20 MINUTES BEFORE.

MACARTHUR PRESENTED THE DISTINGUISHED SERVICE CROSS ON THE FIELD OF BATTLE TO THE FIRST MAN TO LAND, FIRST LT.FRANK HENSHAW OF ALICE, TEX., COMMENDED THE FIRST CAVALRY AND TOLD GENERAL CHASE:

"YOU HAVE ALL PERFORMED MAGNIFICIENTLY. HOLD WHAT YOU HAVE TAKEN NO MATTER AGAINST WHATEVER ODDS. YOU HAVE YOUR TEETH IN HIM (THE ENEMY) NOW. DON'T LET GO."

OF THE INVASION ITSELF, MACARTHUR SAID IN A SPECIAL COMMUNIQUE:

"EVERYTHING CLICKED BEAUTIFULLY FROM THE OPENING AIR BOMBING THROUGH THE NAVAL BOMBARDMENT TO THE LANDING AND CONSOLIDATION OF POSITIONS, WITH NEGLIGIBLE LOSSES."

EARLIER, MACARTHUR HAD SAID THE INVASION MARKED A "FINAL STAGE IN THE GREAT SWING MOVE PIVOTING ON NEW GUINEA" WHICH BEGAN LAST JUNE 26. HE ADDED THAT NOW THE AXIS OF ALLIED ADVANCE "HAS BEEN CHANGED FROM THE NORTH TO THE WEST." THE PHILIPPINES ARE TO THE WEST.

CORRESPONDENT, THAT INVASION OF THE ADMIRALTY ISLANDS WAS MADE POSSIBLE BY THE NEUTRALIZATION OF RABAUL. THE GENERAL'S OBSERVATION WAS GIVEN IN AN INTERVIEW LAST WEEK, WHEN THE FIRST CAVALRY WAS PREPARING TO EMBARK. HE ADDED:

"THE JAPS HAVE GIVEN UP TRYING TO USE RABAUL AS AN AIR BASE."

THE ENEMY HIMSELF HAS GIVEN PROOF OF THAT STATEMENT. IN THE LAST[illegible] NOT A SINGLE JAPANESE PLANE HAS ATTEMPTED TO INTERCEPT THE RAIDERS.

MAR 2 1944

(THE PROXIMITY OF LOS NEGROS ISLAND TO MANUS MIGHT INDICATE THE NEXT MOVE IN THE ADMIRALTY GROUP WILL BE TO ELBOW THE JAPANESE OFF MANUS. THAT ISLAND IS THE LOCATION OF THE IMPORTANT LORENGAU AIRDROME, FREQUENT TARGET FOR ALLIED BOMBERS.)

AN ADVANCED BASE, NEW GUINEA, FEB. 29-(DELAYED)-(AP)-GREEN-CLAD AMERICAN SHOCK TROOPS, SWARMING ASHORE FROM A NEW TYPE "INVASION EXPRESS" USED BY GEN.DOUGLAS MACARTHUR FOR THE FIRST TIME IN THE SOUTHWEST PACIFIC, CAPTURED AND HELD MOMOTE AIRDROME IN THE FIRST LANDING ON LOS NEGROS ISLAND IN THE ADMIRALTY GROUP TODAY.

APPEARING SUDDENLY OUT OF THE BLACK RAIN CLOUDS OFF THE ISLANDS, THE INVASION FLEET OF FAST DESTROYERS MET LITTLE OPPOSITION IN ANOTHER OF MACARTHUR'S LIGHTNING THRUSTS AT ONE OF THE ENEMY'S STRATEGIC AIR INSTALLATIONS.

TO AERIAL OBSERVERS IT APPEARED AS SIMPLE AS THIS:

GREEN, SNUBNOSED LANDING CRAFT THREADED THEIR WAY SINGLE FILE THROUGH THE REEF-FILLED WATERS OF HYANE HARBOR EVEN WHILE LOW-FLYING MITCHELL MEDIUM BOMBERS STRAFED AND BOMBED THE LANDING BEACH.

THREE TIMES WITHIN NINE MINUTES THE MITCHELLS HAMMERED AT THE BEACH AND THEN STEEL-HELMETED TROOPS OF THE DISMOUNTED FIRST DIVISION CAVALRY SWARMED ASHORE AND TURNED TOWARD MOMOTE AIRDROME.

AT 9:55 A.M. THE RADIO CRACKLED AND SIGNED OFF WITH THE SIGNATURE "GANGWAY," AND WAITING WARSHIPS KNEW THAT THE FIRST TROOPS HAD SUCCESSFULLY MADE SHORE.

MINUTES LATER THE MITCHELLS HEARD THE RADIO WARN TROOPS NOT TO FIRE ON A TRUCK ON THE AIRSTRIP "BECAUSE WE GOT IT."

WITHIN AN HOUR AFTER THE LANDING, THE 5,000-FOOT AIRSTRIP IN FAIR CONDITION WAS IN AMERICAN HANDS.

THIS STORY OF THE INVASION OF THE NORTHERNMOST ISLANDS ATTACKED THUS FAR BY MACARTHIR'S TROOPS IS ONE AS SEEN BY PILOTS OF THE "BATS OUT OF HELL" BOMBER UNIT WHO BRAVED HEAVY TROPICAL STORMS TO GIVE THE TROOPS AERIAL SUPPORT.

THEY ARRIVED ON THE TARGET AFTER THE WARSHIPS--THERE WERE NO LUMBERING TROOPSHIPS TO SLOW UP THE CONVOY, THE LANDING FORCE MOVING ABOARD DESTROYERS.

"THE WEATHER WAS TERRIBLE," SAID LT.RICHARD REINBOLD, 25 LINVILLE ROAD, NEWARK, OHIO. "BUT WHILE IT WAS BAD FOR US IT PROBABLY WAS BEST IN THE LONG RUN BECAUSE IT SERVED AS A COMPLETE COVER FOR THE WARSHIPS.

MAR 2 1944

"A 70-MILE FRONT, IT APPEARED LIKE A BLACK LINE, STRETCHED OUT AWAY FROM LOS NEGROS AND RISING AS HIGH AS 15,000 FEET AND DROPPING WITHIN 900 FEET OF THE WATER.

"AT 9:16 A.M. WE BROKE OUT OF THE FRONT AND WITHIN MINUTES COULD SEE OUR WARSHIPS LINED UP IN POSITION.

"TO THE SOUTHWEST WERE DESTROYERS LYING BROADSIDE TO THE SHORE.

TO THE SOUTH WERE OTHER DESTROYERS AND LITTLE NIGGINS BOATS ALREADY HAD PUT OFF TOWARD THE SHORE. THE WARSHIPS WERE FIRING."

ABOARD A PATROL TORPEDO BOAT OFF NEW BRITAIN, FEB. 23-(DELAYED)- STRAIGHT AHEAD, A DARK OBJECT LOOMED IN THE NIGHT GLASSES OF LT. (JG) ROBERT KOENIG, OF CHICAGO.

"I THINK," HE SAID SOFTLY TO HIS EXECUTIVE OFFICER, LT. (JG) VIRGIL TULEY, OF HOUSTON, TEX., "THAT WE MAY HAVE A SUBMARINE SURFACED AHEAD."

THE PT WAS FAR BEHIND JAP LINES WHICH FACED CAPE GLOUCESTER. YET THE ONLY "DANGER" THOUGHT ABOUT WAS FAR AWAY.

"BOY," SAID A SEAMAN TO RADIOMAN WILLIAN TEEHAN, OF BAYSIDE, LONG ISLAND, N.Y., "I'LL NEVER FORGET THOSE SUBWAYS IN NEW YORK. THEY WHIZZED ALONG SO FAST THEY MADE ME DIZZY. THE CARS MUST ROLL AT AROUND 60 MILES AN HOUR."

FORREST MELVIN HALL, OF TALCOT, TEX., CROUCHED BETWEEN THE TWO RAPID FIRE GUNS HE MANS. HE KEPT HIS EYES GLUED ON THE DARK OBJECT AHEAD. THERE WAS SILENCE ON THE CRAFT AS IT INCHED CLOSER. THE MEN STOOD AT BATTLE STATIONS.

"HELL," SWORE A GUNNER, PUTTING DOWN HIS NIGHT GLASSES, "TAIN'T NOTHING BUT A ROCK."

THE PT CREPT CLOSER TO SHORE.

"IT WAS RIGHT ALONG HERE NIGHT BEFORE LAST THAT WE GOT TWO JAP BARGES," LIEUTENANT TULEY SAID.

"THERE WAS A JAP GUN POSITION ON THE HILL UP THERE ON THE SHORE."

THE PT ATTACK HAD MADE IT NECESSARY TO BEACH THE BARGES.

"PLEASE MR. KOENIG," PLEADED GUNNERS MATE CHARLES FERGUSON, ALBANY, N.Y., "CAN WE BOARD THOSE BARGES TONIGHT? WE CAN GET FIVE IN THE DINGHY AND WE WON'T TAKE HALL."

"I'M GONNA BOARD THEM BARGES IF I HAVE TO SWIM," GRUMBLED 17-YEAR-OLD HALL WHO TAKES A LOT OF RIBBING.

THE MEN PUT KNIVES IN THEIR TEETH. THE SEA WAS GETTING ROUGHER.

"WATER'S TOO ROUGH TO BOARD THE BARGES," THE SKIPPER FINALLY RULED.

THE PT EDGED CLOSER TO SHORE IN THE DARKNESS.

"THIS OUGHT TO WAKE THEM UP," SAID LIEUTENANT TULEY, SHINING THE SEARCHLIGHT ON THE GUN POSITION.

"MAYBE THEY WILL START SHOOTING NOW."

THERE WAS NO GUNFIRE. HE SHINED THE LIGHT AGAIN. NOTHING

APPENED.

MOTOR MECHANICS MATE RALPH COLEMAN, PHILADELPHIA, CROUCHED NEAR GUN. SO DID MOTOR MECHANICS MATE ANDREW HAROLD, OF WEST CHESTER, A., AND QUARTERMASTER CHARLES KABEL, OF ARLINGTON, VA.

THE SHORE GUN WAS SILENT. IT WAS SEVERAL HOURS UNTIL DAYLIGHT.

"I BAKED A CHOCOLATE CAKE TODAY ON THE WAY OVER," SAID RADIOMAN ANS ANDRO, OF ROCKFORD, ILL.

"LET'S EAT IT NOW," SAID GUNNERS MATE ROBERT GOUCKENOUR, OF SHEL-ON, IND.

QUARTERMASTER WILLIAN MAWROCKI, ROCHESTER, N.Y., AND MOTOR MECHANICS ATE FREDERICK SHUTTLEWORTH, OF NORTH RIDGEVILLE, OHIO, RUSHED BELOW D GOT SOME STRONG BLACK NAVY COFFEE.

THERE IN THE SHADOW OF THAT SLEEPING JAP GUN, THE CREW ATE THE KE.

THEN THE LITTLE PT WENT HOME WITHOUT HAVING FIRED A SHOT.

GUADALCANAL, THURSDAY, MARCH 2-(AP)-A NAVAL SPOKESMAN DECLARED TODAY THAT ALL JAPANESE ON NEW BRITAIN, NEW IRELAND AND THE SOLOMONS APPEAR DOOMED BECAUSE THEY ARE "SURROUNDED ON ALL SIDES, FLANKED ON THE EAST, WEST AND SOUTHEAST BY ALLIED GROUND FORCES AND PRACTICALLY CUT OFF FROM THE SEA."

MAR 2 1944

ADM. WILLIAM F. HALSEY'S DESTROYERS, RANGING NORTH OF NEW IRELAND, TO MUSSAU AND EMIRAU ISLANDS, HAVE REDUCED TO A NIGHT-SNEAKING MINIMUM THE NUMBER OF SURFACE SHIPS WHICH CAN SUPPLY THE TRAPPED NIPPONESE.

MEANWHILE, VICE ADM. AUBREY FITCH'S SOUTH PACIFIC AIRMEN ARE MAINTAINING THE TREMENDOUS BOMBING PACE WHICH HAS REDUCED RABAUL TO COMPARATIVE IMPOTENCE. RABAUL, THE ONLY TOWN TO BE SEEN BY THE AIRMEN IN ALL THE SOUTH PACIFIC, NOW HAS BUT FEW BUILDINGS UNDAMAGED.

ANTI-AIRCRAFT FIRE AT AMERICAN BOMBERS AND FIGHTERS STRIKING RABAUL DAILY HAS DECREASED IN INTENSITY. THE DEFENDERS MAY BE RUNNING LOW ON AMMUNITION. THEIR GUNS MAY BE WORN OUT -- OR BOMBED OUT.

THE JAPANESE ON MONDAY OFFERED THEIR FIRST OPPOSITION ANYWHERE IN THE RABAUL AREA SINCE FEB. 19. TWO ZEROS FROM A FLIGHT OF SIX INEFFECTIVELY ATTACKED TWO VENTURAS NEAR CAPE PALLISER MIDWAY DOWN THE EASTERN BULGE OF NEW BRITAIN. BUT THERE WAS NO INTERCEPTION AT RABAUL ITSELF.

CORSAIR FIGHTER LLANES DROPPED BOMBS FOR THE FIRST TIME ON THE NORTHWEST COASTLINE OF NEW BRITAIN, ENTERING THE BOMBER RANKS AS "FEATHERWEIGHT" BOMBERS.

MORE THAN 150 TONS OF EXPLOSIVES WERE DROPPED ON THE RABAUL AREA MONDAY. SIXTY DAUNTLESSES AND AVENGERS DELIVERED THE FIRST BLOW AT 10:55 A.M., DROPPING 48 TONS ON THE VUNAPOPE VICINITY. ESCORTING FIGHTERS REPORTED THE ENTIRE VUNAPOPE WATERFRON WAS AFIRE FROM THAT BOMBING AND THE PREVIOUS DAY'S ATTACK.

ONE P-40 WAS LOST BUT THE PILOT WAS RESCUED.

FIFTEEN MINUTES LATER, 20 MITCHELLS LAID 33 TONS ON NORTH-EASTERN RABAUL. THEY WERE FOLLOWED BY LIBERATORS WITH 43 TONS ON RABAUL AND 23 TONS ON RAPOPO WHERE ONE JAPANESE MEDIUM BOMBER WAS DESTROYED.

LIGHTNINGS DROPPED SIX TONS ON THE TOWN.

SEVENTY FIGHTERS ACCOMPANYING THE RABAUL BOMBERS COULD NOT ENTICE THE JAPANESE, ALTHOUGH THEY CIRCLED THE TARGET DOWN TO 12,000 FEET. TWO ENEMY PLANES WITH IN-LINE ENGINES WERE CHASED TO OPEN BAY WITHOUT CONTACT.

GUADALCANAL,SOLOMON ISLANDS,MARCH 1 (AP)-FOR EIGHT CONSECUTIVE DAYS, ADM.WILLIAM F.HALSEY'S SOUTH PACIFIC AIRPLANES HAVE ENCOUNTERED NO AERIAL OPPOSITION OVER RABAUL AND KAVIENG.

IN A RAID SUNDAY, TODAY'S REPORTS SHOW, SOUTH PACIFIC FLIETS GOT THEIR FIRST INTERCEPTOR VICTIMS SINCE FEB.19, BUT IT WASN'T OVER RABAUL OR KAVIENG, IT WAS AT WIDE BAY ON THE SOUTH SIDE OF NEW BRITAIN, WHERE TWO JAPANESE PLANES WERE SHOT DOWN.

RABAUL WAS HIT FIVE TIMES SUNDAY WITH ATTACKS RANGING FROM THE RAPOPO AIRDROME TO THE RABAUL HARBOR AND TOWN AREA.

AT VUNAPOPE, ACROSS BLANCHE BAY FROM THE RABAUL TOWN AREA, AT LEAST 119 BUILDINGS WERE DESTROYED IN RAIDS SATURDAY AND SUNDAY, PHOTOGRAPHS SHOWED. ONLY SEVEN BUILDINGS -- ONE THE SETTLEMENT'S CHURCH -- WERE LEFT STANDING.

SCORES OF ALLIED PLANES, INCLUDING HEAVY, MEDIUM, ATTACK AND DIVE BOMBERS, RIPPED INTO RABAUL'S STAGGERING DEFENSES IN DAY-LONG RAIDS THAT LEFT THE BASE BLAZING.

MAR 2 1944

FIVE DIRECT HITS WERE SCORED ON ONE NEST OF GUNS AND NINE ON ANOTHER ONE SOUTHWEST OF MATUPI ISLAND WHERE TWO MEDIUM NAVAL GUNS WERE DESTROYED. AVENGER TORPEDO BOMBERS DESTROYED THE LIGHTHOUSE AT CAPE WANUTA AND CORSAIR FIGHTERS SANK A 75-FOOT STEAM LAUNCH AND BARGE.

ON THE SUNDAY VUNAPOPE RAID BY LIBERATORS, ONLY TWO PLANES WERE HIT BY ANTI-AIRCRAFT FIRE AND DAMAGE WAS MINOR.

ONE LIBERATOR FELL OUT OF FORMATION ENROUTE TO THE TARGET, ARRIVED 10 MINUTES LATE, MADE ITS BOMBING RUN AND APPARENTLY CAUGHT JAPANESE DEFENDERS COMPLETELY OFF-GUARD. ONLY WEAK ACK-ACK GREETED THE LONE PLANE.

ITS PILOT, FIRST LT.ERNEST PHILLIPS, JR., 34 UPHAM ST., DORCHESTER, MASS., SAID THAT "AFTER ALL, WHEN YOU FLY THROUGH TO THE TARGET, YOU DON'T FEEL LIKE WASTING YOUR BOMBS JUST BECAUSE YOU AREN'T IN FORMATION."

PHILLIPS PRAISED HIS NAVIGATOR, SECOND LT.ROBERT EVERLEIN, CRANESVILLE, PA., AND HIS BOMBARDIER, SECOND LT.R.CHRISTIAN-SON, MORRO, ORE.

OTHERS IN THE CREW INCLUDED STAFF SGT.PAUL BURNETTO, (14 ATLANTIC ST.) NEW BRITAIN, CONN.; STAFF SGT.JOHN PARENT, (6655 BROADWAY) NEW YORK, N.Y.; SGT.WILLIAM OLIVER, (1950 NORTHWEST 25TH AVE.) THEN HE RECEIVED A RADIOGRAM FROM THE RED CROSS WHICH READ: "BABY BORN STOP WIFE AND BABY WELL STOP OTHER CHILDREN BEING SENT HOME."

JENKINS SAID HE STILL WAS ANXIOUS TO KNOW IF IT WAS A BOY OR A GIRL. HE ALSO SAID HE COULDN'T UNDERSTAND WHAT THE "OTHER CHILDREN" ANGLE WAS, BECAUSE THIS IS HIS FIRST CHILD.

ENIWETOK, MARSHALL ISLANDS, FEB.21-(DELAYED-(AP)-THE ADMIRAL

AND THE GENERAL CAME ASHORE TO RAISE THE FLAG TODAY.

THEY CAME IN A BOAT WITH A BALKY MOTOR; EACH WORE A KNIFE AND PISTOL.

REAR ADMIRAL HARRY HILL AND BRIGADIER GENERAL THOMAS E.WATSON LANDED ON A LITTLE COCONUT LOG DOCK AS TWO SCORE NAKED SOLDIERS BATHED IN A NEARBY LAGOON.

MAR 2 1944

THE ADMIRAL WAS MET BY COL.RUSSELL AYRES, WHO COMMANDED THE ATTACKING FORCES AND WHO HADN'T SHAVED FOR DAYS. THEN ALL THREE STUMBLED ON UP TO THE BEACH, A HOWLING MADHOUSE OF MANEUVERING TRACTORS AND CLOUDED WITH DUST.

THEY MET LIEUT.COLS.HAROLD J.MIZONY OF SPOKANE,WASH., AND WINSLOW CORNETT OF NEW YORK CITY. THE GENERAL CONGRATULATED BOTH ON THEIR WORK. BOTH SAID THEY WERE SORRY IT TOOK SO LONG, BUT EXPLAINED THE DIFFICULTIES.

THEY WALKED BACK TO A HILL WHERE THE FLAG HOIST WAS STRUNG FROM THE TOP OF A 125-FOOT STUMP OF A COCONUT TREE.

THERE WAS A LARGE DUD BOMB BESIDE THE STUMP AND BEYOND IT WAS A FOXHOLE WHERE SOME SOLDIER HAD SPENT A NIGHT OF COMPARATIVE COMFORT ON A MATTRESS OF COCONUT FRONDS. BEYOND THE FOXHOLE WAS A VERY DIRTY LITTLE TANK WITH A MAGAZINE PHOTO OF A BATHING BEAUTY ON ITS SIDE THERE WAS A JEEPNEARBY AND SOME ONLOOKERS STOOD ON THE HOOD OF THAT• OTHERS WERE HIGH UP ON THE SIDE OF AN ENORMOUS TRUCK.

NOBODY COULD FIND A BUGLE, SO PRESENTLY THE ADMIRAL MADE A SIGN AND SGT.HAROLD ZIELAZNY, 26, WHO WAS A TRUCK DRIVER IN CIVILIAN LIFE, (HIS PARENTS LIVE AT 38 ROSE AVE. GLEN COVE,LONG ISLAND), STARTED RAISING THE FOLDED AMERICAN FLAG. HALFWAY UP THE IMPROVISED STAFF THE FLAG UNFURLED WHILE EVERYONE SALUTED -- MEN IN HELMETS, MEN IN WORKING CAPS, MEN WITH NO CAPS AT ALL BUT ONLY GRIT STIFFENED HAIR UNDER THE TROPIC SUN.

AS THE SALUTE ENDED THE ADMIRAL SHOOK HANDS AGAIN WITH ALL THE JUNIOR OFFICERS. HE CONGRATULATED THE 106TH INFANTRY, WHICH RAISED THE FIRST UNITED STATES FLAG IN HAWAII NEARLY HALF A CENTURY AGO, UPON RAISING THE FIRST FLAG ON ENIWETOK ISLAND AND THE ONEST NEAREST TO TOKYO SO FAR IN THIS WAR. HE SAID HE HOPED TO SEE THEM RAISE FLAGS STILL NEARER SOON.

THE ADMIRAL STARTED TOWARD THE BEACH AND THE ONLOOKERS SCATTERED TO THEIR JOBS. THE NAKED MEN WHO HAD COME UP FROM THEIR SWIM TO WATCH THE CEREMONY WENT BACK TO THE SURF.

AMERICANS DON'T FIT EASLY INTO CEREMONY.

ENIWETOK ISLAND, MARSHALLS,FEB.20-(DELAYED)--THE ENEMY ARE DYING TONIGHT ON ENIWETOK, MANY IN MY BEDSIDE HOTEL. THE AMERICANS WHO CAME PAST OUR BED THEY ARE DEAD NOW BY MORE GRENADES. JUST TO BE CERTAIN.

MAR 2 1944

PLANES HAVE BOMBED THEM. SHELLS PLOWED THEM UNDER. THEY ARE DYING OF SUFFOCATION, BURNING WHEN THEY WERE NOT THE QUIET DOUBLE DEATH. THEY FOUGHT OUT WATER TANK, LEAVING THE ENEMY TO DIE. BUT THERE WERE CONCRETE PILLBOXES, CAVES IN THE BEACHES.

THE MOPUP SQUAD COMES PAST. A RIFLEMAN FINDS AN ENTRANCE TO A CAVE, WITH A DEAD JAPANESE HALF OUT OF IT. THE RIFLEMAN FIRES A FEW TIMES INTO THE BODY, TO BE SURE THE MAN IS DEAD. HE PEERS

INTO THE CAVE, SEES NOTHING. BUT HE EMPTIES A CLIP FROM HIS RIFLE DOWN THE ENTRANCE. THEN HE LISTENS.

IF HE HEARS ANYTHING OR IF HE FEELS ONLY THAT PRICKLING SENSATION WHICH SEASONED SOLDIERS TRUST MORE THAN THEIR EYES, HE SIGNALS TO A MAN WITH GRENADES. THE GRENADE IS THROWN IN.

AFTER THE EXPLOSION, THE SQUAD LOOKS INTO THE CAVE AGAIN. PERHAPS THERE IS SOME SOUND EVEN YET. THERE'S A CALL FOR THE MAN WITH HEAVY TANKS OF LIQUID ON HIS BACK. HE DROPS A MATCH ON THE GROUND, TURNS VALVES AS HE STAYS TO WINDWARD.

THE MEN IN THE HOLES SCREAM WHEN THE FLAME THROWERS HIT THEM.

THE FOXHOLES ARE OTHER FIGHTING POINTS. MEN GATHER IN CIRCLES AROUND THOSE OF THE ENEMY, 10 MEN OR 50, WAITING FOR THE SINGLE ENEMY SOLDIER THEY HAVE LOCATED. WHEN HE COMES OUT, THEY ALL SHOOT HIM; OR THEY TEAR HIS BODY APART WITH GRENADES. ONE TAKES HIS BAYONET. ANOTHER LOOKS IN HIS HELMET TO SEE IF HE HAD A BATTLE FLAG. THEN THEY MOVE ON TO THE NEXT FOXHOLE.

ONLY A LITTLE OF ENIWETOK IS NOT IN OUR HANDS TONIGHT.

THE TREES IN THE VILLAGE HAVE ALL BEEN KNOCKED DOWN. FALLEN FRONDS COVER GRAVES IN THE VILLAGE CEMETERY. THE HEADSTONES ARE KNOCKED DO NOW. BEER BOTTLES, SET WITH NECK DOWN IN THE CORAL, WHICH BORDERED THE GRAVES ARE BROKEN.

THE NATIVES HAVE BEEN, FOR THE MOST PART, RESCUED. THEY ARE PROTECTED BY HALF A DOZEN NAVY BLANKETS STRUNG ON POLES AS RUDE TENTS.

THERE ARE 12 STRINGY-HAIRED WOMEN IN TORN MOTHER HUBBARDS. AN ARMY DOCTOR SAYS AT LEAST ONE OF THEM IS PREGNANT. THERE ARE NINE MEN. MOSTLY TOOTHLESS OLDSTERS. ONE IS A YOUTH WITH A SHARPLY-

CHISELED FACE AND THE HEALED WELTS OF A LASH ACROSS HIS BARE BACK. THE REST ARE CHILDREN.

IN A FEW HOURS, THE ENIWETOK BATTLE WILL BE OVER. IN 10 YEARS, IT WILL BE JUST A LINE IN A HISTORY BOOK.

ABOARD THE U.S. CARRIER FLAGSHIP, OFF TRUK, FEB 17-(DELAYED)-(AP)-ONE WELL-DELIVERED AERIAL TORPEDO CAN OVERTAKE A JAPANESE WARSHIP MAKING 27 KNOTS AND SINK IT IN EXACTLY 90 SECONDS.

I SAW THIS ACCOMPLISHED INSIDE TRUK LAGOON FROM THE COCKPIT OF AN AVENGER TORPEDO PLANE. IT WAS ONE OF THE MOST PERFECTLY EXECUTED TORPEDO PLANE ATTACKS ON RECORD.

MAR 2 1944

ONE MINUTE THE SHIP--A LARGE TWO-STACK DESTROYER--WAS A GOING CONCERN CAPABLE OF CORKSCREWING VIOLENTLY TO EVADE ATTACK. THE NEXT MINUTE A 2,000-POUND TORPEDO WITH A WARHEAD SLAMMED INTO THE JAPANESE SHIP HARD AMIDSHIPS.

THE EXPLOSION THAT FOLLOWED THREE SMOKE, FLAME AND DEBRIS HUNDREDS OF FEET AND SEVERED THE BOW FROM THE SHIP. THE AFTER SECTION OF THE DESTROYER SANK IMMEDIATELY AND WITHIN 30 SECONDS NOTHING BUT THE TIP OF THE BOW REMAINED ABOVE WATER.

THE TORPEDO, LAUNCHED FROM A PLANE PILOTED BY LT.DELMER A. SCHAEE OF BROWNTOWN, MINN., MADE THE HIT WHICH FINISHED THE ENEMY

SHATZ

SHIP, BUT ACTUALLY IT WAS THE COORDINATED ATTACK OF ALL FIVE AVENGERS, LED BY LT.GRADY OWENS, 716 BOISEVAIN ST., NORFOLK VA., WHICH MADE ESCAPE IMPOSSIBLE FOR DESTROYER.

THE WAKES OF ALL FIVE TORPEDOES SPREAD LIKE THE THUMB AND OUTSTRETCHED FINGERS OF A HAND AND MADE IT IMPOSSIBLE FOR THE SWIFT ENEMY CRAFT TO EVADE DESTRUCTION.

THE SINKING OF THE DESTROYER WAS BUT ONE INCIDENT IN THE GREAT TWO-DAY STRIKE OF UNITED STATES CARRIER PLANES ON TRUK'S SHIPPING AND AIRCRAFT, BUT IT WAS SIGNIFICANT. IT MORE THAN PROVED THAT A TORPEDO DELIVERED AT CLOSE RANGE IS STILL THE MOST DEADLY MEANS OF ELIMINATING ENEMY SHIPPING.

A DESTROYER IS CONSIDERED THE MOST DIFFICULT OF ALL TARGETS BECAUSE OF ITS SPEED AND MANEUVERABILITY, BUT THE TORPEDO SQUADRON HAD THE ANSWER.

THE DISPATCH DID NOT GIVE THE PAY SCALE FOR AUSTRALIANS.

THE FEDERATION SAID SUCH ACTION WAS DESITABLE TO PREVENT INFLATION AND TO PROMOTE THE BEST INTERESTS OF THE ALLIED WAR EFFORT IN THE PACIFIC, ESPECIALLY AS UNITED KINGDOM TROOPS MUST EVENTUALLY BE STATIONED HERE.

ANOTHER RESOLUTION DIRECTED AT HIGHER PAY STANDARDS OF THE AMERICANS SAID:

FARRELL ASSUMED THE EXECUTIVE POST LAST THURSDAY NIGHT IN A SUDDEN POLITICAL UPHEAVAL GENERALLY INTERPRETED HERE AS A PALACE COUP ENGINEERED BY THE REACTIONARY "GOU" OR COLONELS' GROUP HEADED BY GEN. JUAN PERON, WHO SUBSEQUENTLY WAS INSTALLED AS ACTING WAR MINISTER.

RAMIREZ, WHO WAS SAID OFFICIALLY TO HAVE "DELEGATED" HIS AUTHORITY TO FARRELL BECAUSE OF POOR HEALTH, HAD BEEN UNDER FIRE BY NATIONALIST ELEMENTS EVER SINCE HIS GOVERNMENT BROKE WITH THE AXIS LAST JAN. 26.

AMONG THE WELTER OF RUMORS CIRCULATING LAST NIGHT WAS A REPORT THAT RAMIREZ HAD LEFT HIS RESIDENCE, WHERE HE HAD BEEN ISOLATED SINCE LAST THURSDAY, IN AN EFFORT TO ENLIST SUPPORT FOR A RETURN TO THE PRESIDENCY THIS REPORT LATER WAS DECLARED FALSE, HOWEVER.

MAR 2 1944

ANOTHER REPORT FROM BUENOS AIRES THIS MORNING SAID THAT GEN. ARTURO RAWSON, WHO OCCUPIED THE PRESIDENT'S CHAIR FOR 48 HOURS AFTER THE REVOLUTION WHICH OUSTED PRESIDENT RAMON CASTILLO LAST JUNE, HAD BEEN REMOVED FROM HIS HOME EARLY TODAY AND TAKEN TO THE WAR MINISTRY BEFORE WHICH AN ARTILLERY FIELD PIECE HAD BEEN SET UP.

LATER RAWSON WAS PERMITTED TO RETURN TO HIS HOME, THIS REPORT SAID.

(THE OWI QUOTED A CARACAS BROADCAST AS SAYING THAT RAWSON WAS ATTEMPTING TO LAUNCH A MOVEMENT TO OUST FARRELL AND PERON.

("THE MOVEMENT HEADED BY RAWSON, "THE BROADCAST SAID, "WOULD DIVIDE INTO THREE GROUPS THE MILITARY ORGANIZATION THAT ORGANIZED AND CARRIED OUT THE JUNE REVOLUTION." THE BROADCAST DID NOT ELABORATE ON THIS STATEMENT.)

MAR 2 1944

THERE HAVE BEEN INDICATIONS OF LATE OF A STRONG TENDENCY ON THE PART OF ARGENTINE NAVAL LEADERS TO STAY ALOOF FROM THE CURRENT MILITARY GOVERNMENT. THERE ALSO HAVE BEEN REPORTS THAT THE NAVY OPPOSED CONTINUANCE OF THE ARMY IN THE GOVERNMENT AND THAT IT FAVORED A RETURN TO CONSTITUTIONAL NORMALCY.

ARMY FACTIONS APPARENTLY HAVE BEEN MAKING A DETERMINED EFFORT TO COMPOSE THEIR DIFFERENCES WITH NAVAL LEADERS AND PRESENT A SEMBLANCE OF UNITY TO THE OUTSIDE WORLD. CONFERENCES FOR THIS PURPOSE WERE SAID TO HAVE BEEN IN PROGRESS ALL DAY YESTERDAY.

THE CABINET HELD ITS FIRST MEETING LAST NIGHT SINCE FARRELL TOOK OVER AS ACTING PRESIDENT, BUT THERE WAS NO INDICATION OF WHAT TRANSPIRED.

JR606AEW

BUENOS AIRES, MARCH 1-(AP)-THE ARGENTINE GOVERNMENT ANNOUNCED TODAY THAT A COLONEL DUCO HAD TRIED UNSUCCESSFULLY TO LEAD A REVOLT WITH HIS THIRD INFANTRY REGIMENT.

LT. COL. TOMAS (CORRECT) DUCO, A FRIEND OF GEN. PEDRO RAMIREZ WHO DELEGATED PRESIDENTIAL POWERS TO GEN. EDELMIRO FARRELL IN A COUP D'ETAT LAST WEEK, WAS REPORTED UNDER ARREST.

THE REBELLION WAS ATTEMPTED INSIDE THE CAPITAL, BUT WAS QUELLED, A COMMUNIQUE DECLARED.

UNOFFICIAL REPORTS INDICATED THE MOVEMENT WAS LED EXCLUSIVELY BY DUCO, AND HAD NO SUPPORT OUTSIDE HIS OWN UNIT. REPORTS FROM OUTLYING SECTORS TENDED TO CONFIRM THE COMMUNIQUE'S STATEMENT THAT THE SITUATION WAS UNDER CONTROL.

THE COMMUNIQUE WAS READ OVER THE OFFICIAL RADIO AT 6:10 A.M., ACCOMPANIED BY REPORTS THAT THE MONTEVIDEO RADIO WAS BROADCASTING FALSE REPORTS ON THE ARGENTINE SITUATION. MAR 2 1944

AN HOUR EARLIER, A TERSE COMMUNIQUE HAD DECLARED THAT QUIET PREVAILED IN ARGENTINA.

(IN MONTEVIDEO, IT WAS REPORTED THAT THE REBELLION MOVEMENT HAD SPREAD, WITH SOME ARMY FORCES FROM ENTRE RIOS PROVINCE SAID TO HAVE MOVED AGAINST FARRELL'S FORCES.

(THERE WAS A STRONG LIKELIHOOD THAT CLASHES WOULD OCCUR MOMENTARILY IN THE NATION, WHERE A POLITICAL CRISIS HAS BEEN BREWING FOR SEVERAL DAYS, MONTEVIDEO DISPATCHES ADDED.)

(THE FARRELL GOVERNMENT APPARENTLY STILL WAS MASTER OF THE SITUATION INSIDE THE CAPITAL, WHERE POWERFUL POLICE FORCES WERE MOBILIZED YESTERDAY AND LAST NIGHT.

(AT DAWN TODAY, WORD REACHING MONTEVIDEO THROUGH THE STRICT CENSORSHIP SAID, GEN. ARTURO RAWSON, CO-LEADER OF THE JUNE REVOLUTION AND PRESIDENT FOR TWO DAYS, WAS TAKEN FROM HIS HOME TO THE WAR MINISTRY BUILDING WHERE HE WAS KEPT FOR SOME HOURS AND FINALLY RELEASED. MEANWHILE A FIELD PIECE WAS MOUNTED OPPOSITE THE MINISTRY IN DOWNTOWN BUENOS AIRES.

(RAWSON OFTEN HAS BEEN MENTIONED AS THE MOST LIKELY LEADER OF A PRO-DEMOCRATIC REVOLUTION.)

OTTAWA, MARCH 1-(AP)-CANADIANS CAN BUY ALL THE MEAT THEY WANT TODAY FOLLOWING TEMPORARY SUSPENSION OF RATIONING RESTRICTIONS WHICH HAVE LIMITED THEM TO ABOUT TWO POUNDS PER PERSON A WEEK IN EFFECT SINCE LAST MAY. MEATLESS TUESDAYS ALSO ARE DROPPED FOR THE TIME BEING.

EFFECTIVE FROM LAST MIDNIGHT, NO RATION COUPONS ARE NEEDED FOR MEAT PURCHASES. CANNED SALMON ALSO HAS BEEN REMOVED FROM THE RATION LIST.

THE ANNOUNCEMENT WAS MADE BY DOUGLAS ABBOTT, PARLIAMENTARY ASSISTANT TO FINANCE MINISTER ILSLEY, TO MEMBERS OF THE HOUSE OF COMMONS LAST NIGHT.

HE EMPHASIZED THAT RATIONING WAS SUSPENDED--NOT ABANDONED. THE ACTION HE SAID WAS MADE NECESSARY BY ENLARGED CANADIAN LIVESTOCK PRODUCTION AND SHIPPING DIFFICULTIES WHICH PREVENTED MOVEMENT OF SURPLUSES TO THE UNITED KINGDOM.

THE SUSPENSION WILL CONTINUE UNTIL "THE CONGESTION IN BOTH STORAGE AND TRANSPORTATION IS CLEARED UP," ABBOTT SAID.

HE ADDED HE HAD NO IDEA HOW LONG THAT MIGHT BE, BUT HE NOTED THAT HEAVY LIVESTOCK MARKETINGS ARE EXPECTED TO CONTINUE FOR THE NEXT TWO OR THREE MONTHS.

THE PRICES BOARD, AS RATIONING AUTHORITY, FOLLOWED ABBOTT'S STATEMEN WITH A NOTICE THAT ALL MACHINERY FOR MEAT RATIONING WILL BE RETAINED READY FOR PROMPT OPERATION AGAIN AS SOON AS THE SUPPLY POSITION REQUIRI

MEAT SLAUGHTERERS WITH PERMITS MUST CONTINUE OBSERVING PROVISIONS OF A PRICES BOARD ORDER COVERING THE SLAUGHTERING AND STAMPING OF CARCASSES BUT TEMPORARILY THEY WILL NOT BE LIMITED BY QUOTAS AND NEED NOT REPORT TO LOCAL RATION BOARDS. DURING THE SUSPENSION, FARMERS MAY SLAUGHTER FOR SALE DIRECT TO ANY HOUSEHOLD CONSUMER.

DURING THE FIRST EIGHT WEEKS OF 1944, COMPARED WITH THE SAME PERIOD IN 1943, SLAUGHTERINGS OF HOGS WERE UP 80 PER CENT, CATTLE 50 PER CENT, CALVES 20 PER CENT AND SHEEP AND LAMBS 35 PERCENT.

MORE THAN 102,000,000 POUNDS OF MEAT WERE REPORTED IN COLD STORAGE, ALMOST TWICE AS MUCH AS AT THE SAME TIME A YEAR AGO AND 65 PER CENT MORE THAN NORMAL.

SAN FRANCISCO, MARCH 1-(AP)-TIPS ON HOW TO SABOTAGE RUBBER AND QUININE TREES WERE SHORT-WAVED TO THE NATIVES OF THE NETHERLANDS EAST INDIES AND OTHER JAPANESE-HELD SOUTHWEST PACIFIC ISLANDS TODAY BY CARVETH WELLS, EXPLORER, UNDER OWI SPONSORSHIP.

WELLS, STUDENT OF MALAYA AND NEIGHBORING AREAS, PREDICTED HIS MESSAGE ON RECENT OFFICE OF WAR INFORMATION REPORTS INDICATING THAT THE JAPANESE MIGHT BE RUNNING SHORT OF NATURAL RUBBER AND QUININE.

ONE OF THESE REPORTS SAID THE JAPANESE WERE MAKING SYNTHETIC RUBBER -- THIS DESPITE THE FACT THAT THE NIPPONESE NOW HOLD ABOUT 90 PER CENT OF THE WORLD'S NATURAL RUBBER SOURCES.

ON THE THEORY THAT JAPAN'S REPORTED SHORTAGE OF NATURAL RUBBER MIGHT BE DUE TO SOME EXTENT TO LACK OF COOPERATION BY THE NATIVES OF RUBBER PRODUCING AREAS, WELLS TOLD HOW THE TREES MIGHT BE RUINED AND HOW THEIR YIELD OF LATEX MIGHT BE DISSIPATED WITH A MINIMUM OF COMMOTION.

MAR 2 1944

HE SAID THAT IF TREES WERE TAPPED WHILE IT WAS RAINING, THE WATER WOULD FLOOD THE TAP AND WASH THE LATEX TO THE GROUND. BY MAKING DEEP TAP CUTS, HE ADDED, A WORKER COULD DAMAGE A TREE TO THE POINT WHERE NO MORE LATEX COULD BE HARVESTED FROM IT.

CINCHONA TREES, WHICH YIELD QUININE, CAN BE SABOTAGED, WELLS SAID, BY IMPROPER STRIPPING OF THEIR BARK. HE SUGGESTED THAT UN-COOPERATIVE OR INEXPERIENCED WORKERS COULD RUIN STANDS OF CINCHONA SIMPLY BY DOING A POOR JOB OF STRIPPING.

WELLS SPENT SIX YEARS IN THE MALAYA JUNGLE. THE BROADCAST WAS BEAMED TO JAVA, AUSTRALIA, NEW ZEALAND AND JAPAN.

Americans Regain Anzio Ground, Press On After Checking Nazis;

GEN. CLARK VISITS BEACHHEAD AREA, SEES ALLIES GAIN

MASSOCK

Situation Again Well in Hand, Says Fifth Army Commander.

PLANES IN BATTLE

Clearing Weather Permits Heavy Attack on Germans Near Rome.

MAR 3 1944

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, Naples, March 2.—(AP) Lt. Gen. Mark Clark, visiting the Allied beachhead below Rome today after a powerful two-day attack by three tank-led German divisions, brought out word tonight that the offensive had been repulsed, that ground lost to the enemy had been regained and that the beachhead situation was well in hand.

Ground troops, artillery and heavy bombers rolled back the third strong German attack in the 40 days since the landings.

Nazis Gain a Mile

The Allies threw the Germans back with heavy casualties after they had penetrated for 1,500 yards—nearly a mile—into the heart of the Anzio beachhead defenses with the big offensive launched early Tuesday. The battle raged through Wednesday.

Gen. Clark spent nearly all of today with his troops in the field, going far forward. In one instance a German shell hit the road harmlessly behind the general's party only 30 seconds after the officers wheeled by.

Upon his return to Fifth army headquarters Gen. Clark said he was convinced that Allied control of the bridgehead is now firmly established, and he was enthusiastic over the manner in which his men turned back the attacking foe and then re-won the lost ground.

He told British troops on the beachhead that he was confident the Allies could repel any attacks the Nazis might now launch, and he said the outcome of the battle Tuesday and Wednesday was a setback for the German army.

American heavy, medium and dive bombers in full force took advantage of the favorable weather to pound German troop concentrations, tanks and gun positions all along the battle front from Carroceto to Cisterna. Many tons of fragmentation bombs were dropped by the waves of attacking aircraft.

Planes in Action

Amid a relative calm that followed two days and nights of savage fighting, heavy American Liberators and Flying Fortresses swung over the battlefield in clear weather and poured thousands of fragmentation bombs on concentrations of weary Nazi troops.

The Germans latest attack was with only about half the force they employed in their costly offensive down the Carroceto-Anzio highway two weeks ago. With Nazi infantry riding on the broad decks of 60-ton "Tiger" tanks, Gen. Eberhard von Mackensen's forces jammed their way forward at dawn Tuesday along a 1,000-yard front in the center of the 10-mile stretch between Carroceto and Cisterna.

Before the American troops and their curtain of artillery fire succeeded in stemming the Nazi power drive, official reports indicated the enemy overran an important road junction and was shoving down a highway toward the village of Campo Morto, which is only seven miles from the vital Allied supply port of Nettuno. The American counterattack, launched at 7 p. m. Tuesday, regained the road junction.

Rain Aids Defense

A steady rain during the opening day of the attack aided the defenders, as it soon turned the ground into a quagmire and confined the heavy German tanks to the highways. Yesterday the weather continued bad, but skies were clear today.

Writing from the beachhead, Edward Kennedy of The Associated Press told of the happiness of Allied troops as they saw the big Fortresses and Liberators come sweeping out of a blue sky and dump their explosives on enemy guns and troops. Above and around the bombers were squadrons of escorting fighters.

German fighters swooped in to attack the Allied formations, and ground forces witnessed a series of spectacular dogfights. The crew of one crippled bomber was seen to bail out, after which the pilot brought it down for a crash landing within the beachhead.

Allied artillery again played a large part in halting the surge of German men and armor toward the sea. German prisoners, of whom 500 already had been taken, said the heavy casualties inflicted on attacking units by the plunging shells of American and British batteries had been demoralizing.

German artillery fire also remained heavy and constant, and at one point American troops actually were being bracketed from three directions. Instead of scattering their fire over the entire beachhead as on preceding days, the Nazis bore down on the actual battle area once their attack was under way.

Their reappearance over the beachhead today emphasized the intensity of the struggle. The Germans were said to be resisting strongly near a highway junction slightly south of the midway point between Carroceto and Cisterna.

[In a communique broadcast by the Berlin radio, the German High Command announced that the Allies at several points broke into "our advanced positions gained on previous days," and described "fluctuating fighting" south and southwest of Cisterna.]

500 Nazis Captured.

More than 500 German prisoners have been taken in the battle in which the Germans sent Mark IV and Tiger tanks against the Allied lines under heavy artillery fire from both sides.

A dispatch sent from the beachhead quoted the Americans as saying that the battle was the stiffest they had yet encountered, and that the enemy's artillery fire was the heaviest laid on them since the beachhead was established. The situation was well in hand at that moment, however.

Reported Demoralized

Kennedy said that engineers told how they had crept forward during last night and blasted roads along which the Germans were moving.

Some prisoners said the Allied artillery fire was inflicting so many casualties on the German units before they went into action that they had become demoralized.

Nazi Field Marshal Albert Kesselring's forces launched their Americans Push Nazis Back 1000 Yards and Keep Smashing Ahead—500 Germans Captured.

MAR 3 1944

Allied Headquarters, Naples, March 2 (A. P.).—Flying Fortresses and Liberators of the Fifteenth United States Air Force swooping into the renewed battle on the Allied beachhead south of Rome, smashed heavily at Nazi troop concentrations today, raining thousands of fragmentation bombs on the enemy forces.

The great bombers roared into action as bitter fighting continued aground. In what was apparently their all-out effort to wipe out the beachhead, the Germans hurled three divisions against the Allied line on Tuesday, driving the Americans back 1,500 yards; but in a fierce counter-attack the Americans had recovered 1,000 yards, Allied headquarters announced today, and were still smashing ahead.

After a week of rainstorms and overcast skies, today dawned bright and sparkling on the beachhead, and with only light clouds, it was an ideal day for an aerial attack. Headquarters gave no indication of the size of the attacking squadrons, but during the Germans' last big offensive, hundreds of Flying Fortresses spread a pattern of fire over their heads.

attack Tuesday morning along a thousand-yard front.

Tanks Lead Attack

The enemy threw two battalions, supported by tanks, into the initial phase with American forces bearing the brunt of the attack. By late afternoon three German divisions were plunging against the Allied lines.

The Nazis broke through to a depth of about 1,500 yards but the rest of the Allied lines stood firm. American troops launched a counterattack Tuesday night and up to noon yesterday had won back 1,000 yards.

In the opening hours of the attack German infantry rode tanks into battle and helped lift Allied mines. A steady rain, however, turned open fields into a quagmire and forced the tanks to stay on the highways.

Massed Troops Bombed

The Germans were given only minor support by their airmen. Spitfires shot down three Focke-Wulfe 190s out of six over the beachhead yesterday. A Junkers 88 was shot down Tuesday night over Anzio. No German planes appeared yesterday.

American Warhawks bombed German front-line positions yesterday and other Warshawks and Spitfires cut to the rear, hitting other targets. British Wellingtons were thrown into the fray last night, dropping blockbusters and hitting troop concentrations with fragmentation bombs. All returned safely.

In the gullies and caves of the upper Moletta river sector southwest of Carroceto, British troops still are engaging the Germans in successful encounters, it was announced.

ed and an Augustinian monk, a Dutchman, was injured. Fortunately there were no victims at the propaganda college."

The propaganda college is about 2,500 yards directly east of the Vatican.

The British Broadcasting company version of the Vatican announcement said:

"One of six bombs fell on extraterritorial ground of the propaganda fide (propaganda college). Two others fell almost in front of the palace of Saint Auspice and of Saint Peter's oratorium. The body of the killed worker was found near the entrance of Saint Peter's oratorium."

The Fascist-controlled Rome radio said the bomb blasts "also caused damage to the interior of Vatican city. Many windows were broken and some dwelling houses were damaged."

The Rome radio quoted an article which it said appeared in Vatican newspaper Osservatore Romano which declared that "once more the open violation of the Vatican must be lamented."

The Vatican broadcast said some walls of the propaganda college collapsed from the bomb blasts while "others were damaged."

Vatican territory was last bombed Nov. 5. Berlin attempted to blame the attack on the Allies but Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower declared no Allied planes had been over Rome at the time of the attack.

statement broadcast by the Vatican radio that the attack was "deliberately planned and dishonorably and unsuccessfully screened behind the anonymity of the pilot." His statement hinted that the plane's identity was known. Its nationality never has been publicly announced, however.

The Berlin radio said today that windows "smashed at St. Peter's by the Allied air raid on December 5" had been replaced, adding: "It took the Vatican authorities several months to find suitable panes and transport them to Rome. Also an alabaster pane by Bernini behind the altar room of St. Peter's has meanwhile been repaired."

There is no record of any bombing of the Vatican on December 5.

American Casualties In Italy Total 36,771

Washington, March 2 (AP)—The latest total of American army casualties in Italy is 36,771.

Secretary Stimson gave this total to his news conference today, but explained that the figures are two or three weeks behind.

The casualties since the Fifth Army landed at Salerno last September are 5,061 killed, 21,788 wounded, 9,922 missing.

abbey of Monte Cassino. The Germans had turned it into a fortress.

Few Troops in Rome

The Germans now have no large concentrations of troops in Rome, so far as is known, but the rail lines to the city and its yards are used in supplying and reinforcing enemy troops in southern Italy and about the Anzio beachhead.

"For these reasons," Secretary Stimson explained, "bombing attacks have been concentrated on the rail lines leading in and out of Rome and on the railway yards of Rome itself, as well as on the suburban airfields, while every attempt has been made to spare religious and cultural shrines and to respect the neutral status of Vatican city."

In a general discussion of the war," Secretary Stimson described the recent heavy aerial assaults on Germany as "only the beginning" of the European air battle.

This battle, it has been made evident, is aimed at pre-invasion elimination of the Luftwaffe as an effective force and Secretary Stimson noted with satisfaction that missions by American and British planes in the last week "resulted in the most severe damage to enemy plane production." He said American planes alone shot down 640 German fighters and destroyed others on the ground.

As for the fighting about Anzio, Secretary Stimson commented that Sicily's important port facilities are functioning again, financial institutions are operating and there are other evidences of an economic revival, he said.

AMG Seeks To Prevent Italian Protest Strike

Naples, March 2 (AP)—Lieut. Col. Charles Poletti of the Allied Military Government sought today to prevent a protest strike against Prime Minister Churchill's support of the Badoglio regime by substituting a mass meeting of Naples workers.

A strike had been called for Saturday, and some labor leaders had said they intended to go ahead with a 10-minute token stoppage of work even though Allied authorities have forbidden it.

Spokesmen for 18 Italian labor leaders, who conferred at length with Poletti, AMG director for the Naples region, today, said they would make a decision at another meeting with him tomorrow.

VERDICT IS AWAITED IN TRIALS AT ALGIERS

MAR 3 1944

ALGIERS, March 2—(AP) Verdicts are expected late tomorrow in the trial of 11 former concentration camp officials accused before a French military court of murder and brutality.

Closing arguments were completed today before the five-man special tribunal. The prosecution asked death for eight defendants, life imprisonment for two, and two years in prison for another.

(A British broadcast as recorded by NBC last night said erroneously that eight had been sentenced to death.)

Russian Maneuver Hints Plan to By-Pass Pskov and Narva.

LONDON, March 2.—(AP) Moscow announced tonight that the Red army captured 30 communities today in a drive toward Ostrov, 35 miles south of Pskov on the great trunk railway to Warsaw, while northward around the Estonian stronghold of Narva the Russians improved their bridgehead and flung the Germans from several strongpoints.

The drive upon Ostrov was a flanking attack by the Russians cutting south of the Nazi position and aiming at the second of three railways by which the Germans might retreat. The first was cut Wednesday when the Pskov-Idritsa-Polotsk line was crossed at several points.

May By-pass Two Towns

Moscow dispatches said the Red army might not wait for mopping up operations in Pskov and Narva but instead might by-pass these towns and plunge ahead toward Reval and Riga, capitals of Estonia and Latvia.

The Moscow communique, recorded by the Soviet monitor, made no mention of the fighting in the Vitebsk sector of White Russia where yesterday it reported the capture of 30 localities, including four which were 12 miles north, eight miles east, six miles southeast and seven miles southwest of Vitebsk itself.

Dispatches from Russia, however, said the Vitebsk operations carried great power and the offensive was still to reach its climax. The Germans' first lines, protecting the almost surrounded city, were reported breached Wednesday.

The communique indicated that major gains of the day were made in the Pskov fighting, especially to the south where on Wednesday the Reds were nine miles east of Ostrov with the capture of Kashino.

Among the communiques reported captured were Zamoshye and Rozhanka, 11 and 12 miles northeast of Ostrov and the rail stations Soshikhino and Sergino, 15 and 19 miles southeast of Ostrov on the Pskov-Idritsa line.

The Soviet midnight communique said guerrillas aided in the fighting in this area, killing 500 Germans and rescuing 9,000 Russian civilians and considerable livestock. Other Russian units killed 300 Germans and captured 250 carts with supplies.

In the Narva fighting, the late bulletin said, 1,000 Germans were killed.

Unofficial reports from Moscow said Red army tommy-gunners were fighting in the streets of suburbs around Pskov, and German broadcasts said the battle for the city was entering its decisive phase.

About Pskov itself, the communique merely said that the enemy "was dislodged from several strongpoints in his defense."

Nazi broadcasts stressed the fighting southwest of Narva, where it said fresh German divisions had been brought into action. Here the Russians had hacked out a bridgehead across the Narova river south of Narva and swung northwest to cut the Narva-Reval railway nine miles west of Narva and three miles from the Gulf of Finland.

The Russians merely announced tonight that they had captured several heavily fortified strong points in German defenses "in the Narva direction" and in addition improved bridgehead positions southwest of the town.

The Germans spoke of "very severe fighting," but said Red army attacks had been stopped despite their support by tanks and planes.

Hampered By Thaw

A sudden thaw was reported in the north, hampering Russian operations which had been proceeding over frozen rivers and lakes, Moscow reports said.

Russian activity in the Ukraine, north of Nevel in the Latvian frontier area and on the White Russian front around Rogachev was reported by the Germans. Berlin broadcasts said Soviet forces made a number of attacks near Krivoi Rog in the south, while north of Nevel they "are attacking strongly and without interruption."

In the Rogachev area, Berlin said, the Russians were trying for a break-through toward Bobruisk with several shock divisions.

SIX BOMBS FALL IN VATICAN AREA, KILLING WORKMAN

KAISERIKE

LONDON, March 2 — (AP) A single unidentified plane, flying at a 600-yard altitude, dropped four bombs on extraterritorial ground of the Vatican in Rome last night and two others near the Holy city itself, killing a workman and injuring a priest, the Vatican radio said today.

Four of the bombs, said the broadcast which was recorded by the Associated Press, "fell on the papal propaganda college and two on Santa Monica, directly opposite Saint Peter's. One worker was killed and an Augustinian monk, a Dutchman, was injured. Fortunately there were no victims at the propaganda college."

SIX BOMBS DROPPED NEAR VATICAN CITY

MAR 3 1944

London, March 2 (A. P.).—The Vatican radio declared tonight that a plane dropped six small-caliber bombs in the immediate vicinity of the Vatican City about midnight last night, striking a college on extraterritorial grounds, but that no bombs fell on the Vatican palace itself. One person was killed and a priest was injured, the station added.

The Vatican City was last bombed on November 5 when an unidentified plane was reported to have dropped four bombs. Berlin propagandists promptly attempted to pin that raid on the Allies, but Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower said that no Allied planes were near Rome at the time.

Pope Pius declared in a later statement broadcast by the Vatican radio that the attack was "deliberately planned and dishonorably and unsuccessfully screened behind the anonymity of the pilot." His statement hinted that the plane's identity was known. Its nationality never has been publicly announced, however.

Allies Will Attack Rome If Nazi Army Uses City

MAR

WASHINGTON, March 2 — (AP) War Secretary Stimson warned today that the Allies will have no alternative but to attack parts of Rome put to military use by the Germans.

At a press conference, he defined the Allied military policy as one of taking every possible precaution against the destruction of "cultural, historical and religious property" but of placing lives above material things.

"Should it become obvious, however, that the enemy is making use of such monuments for military purposes, and that the lives of American soldiers are thereby endangered, there can be no alternative," he said. "American lives must be safeguarded, whatever the cost in material things."

It was this policy, Secretary Stimson said, which dictated the Allied bombardment of the historic abbey of Monte Cassino. The Germans had turned it into a fortress.

Few Troops in Rome

The Germans now have no large concentrations of troops in Rome, so far as is known, but the rail lines to the city and its yards are used in supplying and reinforcing enemy troops in southern Italy and about the Anzio beachhead.

"For these reasons," Secretary Stimson explained, "bombing attacks have been concentrated on the rail lines leading in and out of Rome and on the railway yards of Rome itself, as well as on the suburban airfields, while every attempt has been made to spare religious and cultural shrines and to respect the neutral status of Vatican city."

This battle, it has been made evident, is aimed at pre-invasion elimination of the Luftwaffe as an effective force and Secretary Stimson noted with satisfaction that missions by American and British planes in the last week "resulted in the most severe damage to enemy plane production." He said American planes alone shot down 640 German fighters and destroyed others on the ground.

As for the fighting about Anzio, Secretary Stimson commented that a two-day enemy attack in force has been repulsed but said "it is doubtful whether his full strength has yet been exerted."

Allied Control Group's Work In Italy Lauded

Naples, March 2 (AP)—The Allied Control Commission's work in liberated Italy is "a new thing in peacemaking, so important it may determine the formula to be used elsewhere," Henry Grady, chief of the commission's economic section, said today in reporting general improvement in liberated areas.

He reported much improvement in Italy's food situation. "General recovery seems to be making progress in Sicily and Sardinia," he continued, adding that the black market generally is being whipped in Sicily with increased bread rations the major factor.

Reds Threaten 3 Key Cities

30.24 — 13375

London, March 2 (AP)—Red Army forces are closing in relentlessly on the three great German strongholds of Narva, Pskov and Vitebsk, key defense bases on the 350-mile-long northern front, Moscow declared today.

Dispatches from the Russian capital say that Red army tommy-gunners have fought their way into the suburban streets of Pskov, while to the north, between Lake Peipus and the Gulf of Finland, other Russian troops have badly outflanked the city of Narva.

Rail Line Cut

In Estonia, units of Gen. Leonid A. Govorov's Leningrad army threw a bridgehead across the Narova river, south of Narva, cut the only German escape railway leading westward to Reval, and are threatening the city from all four sides, a Russian communique announced.

Govorov's forces, pushing westward north of Lake Peipus, spread out over a large sector of the newest break-through inside the Soviet Estonian Republic, cutting in behind Narva.

Drive Toward Pskov

One hundred and ten miles to the south, another Russian army smashed closer to the Baltic gateway city of Pskov, capturing several heavily fortified strongpoints covering the approaches to the town, the Moscow bulletin said. More than 70 towns, including Nevaditsy, 10 miles to the southeast, fell to the advancing Soviet troops, who cut the railway leading south from Pskov to Polotsk at Russaki, 55 miles below Pskov, the bulletin added. Other Red Army forces previously had been reported less than six miles from Pskov on the north.

Two hundred miles southeast of Pskov, Gen. Ivan C. Bagramian's First Baltic Army was marching on the White Russian base of Vitebsk. The Russians said they had captured more than 30 towns and villages in a converging movement which drew a noose tighter around the key German-held fortress city.

Long Under Siege

Vitebsk has been under siege by Bagramian's army since late last year, when all rail lines into the city except one were cut.

Acknowledging the increased tempo of the Russian attacks, Berlin broadcasts advanced the suggestion that the Red army was striving to achieve its objectives, especially Pskov, before the expected thaw turns the front into a morass.

German commentators said that temperatures on the northern front were averaging less than 4 degrees above zero (Fahrenheit). It has been much warmer in the south, the Nazis declared.

15 Miles Inside Estonia

Moscow said that the Narova river crossing was made along a 22-mile front south of Narva and penetrated nine miles beyond to the rail station of Auvere. This placed Govorov's troops approximately 15 miles inside Estonia.

The Russians met powerful German resistance in the Narova crossing, the Moscow bulletin said.

Moscow, March 2 (A. P.).—Red Army tommy-gunners have fought their way into the suburban streets of Pskov, while to the north, between Lake Peipus and the Gulf of Finland, other Russian troops have badly outflanked the Estonian city of Narva, Soviet field dispatches said today. GILMORE

Units of Gen. Leonid A. Govorov's Leningrad Army pushing north of Lake Peipus spread out over a large sector of the newest breakthrough inside the Soviet Estonian Republic, cutting in behind Narva and destroying that city's rail communications with Reval, 120 miles to the west, the dispatches said.

HUNGARY GETS SET TO BATTLE REDS

MAR 3 1944

Istanbul, March 2 (A. P.).—Hungary is preparing to meet the Russian Army at the Carpathian Mountains, mobilizing more troops and fortifying mountain passes, according to information available here.

Besides the military steps, Hungarian leaders also are trying to prepare the country morally for a last ditch stand against the Soviets, it was reported.

Rumania Mobilizes New Troops

ISTANBUL, March 2 (AP).—Mobilization of the class of 1924 throughout Rumania is announced in orders appearing in Rumanian newspapers. In Bucovina, classes which normally would have been called between 1946 and 1950 inclusive were ordered to report immediately.

Reds Assert Germans Use Spanish Air Bases

London, Friday, March 3 (AP)—A Tass report from Lisbon said today that German engineers have been building secret air bases for German use on the Spanish coast of the Bay of Biscay.

The Soviet news agency quoted "persons close to Madrid military circles" and said 'certain Spanish airdromes, in particular those at Bilbao, Oviedo and Santander, are often used by German military air forces for operations over the Atlantic."

R.A.F. PLANES RAID NAZI-HELD EUROPE

HERCHER

Night Attack Follows Heavy Assault by U. S. Fortresses, Liberators.

MAR 3 1944

LONDON, Friday, March 3—(AP) R.A.F. heavy bombers streamed out over the southeast coast last night for their second successive night assault on German-held Europe.

The big black R.A.F. bombers went out as U. S. Flying Fortresses and Liberators returned to their British bases after hammering industrial targets in southwest Germany, the French invasion coast and Charters airfield, 50 miles southwest of Paris. U. S. Marauders hit the railway center of Amiens.

Powerful Air Armada

The daylight raiding force of American and Allied planes was believed to have been one of the most powerful air armadas ever seen over the channel.

Thunderbolts, Lightnings and Mustangs along with Spitfires of the R.A.F. escorted the bombers, presenting a formidable front which few German interceptors rose to challenge.

Eighteen German fighters were shot down by the Allied escort, while the bombers' toll was not immediately announced. From the day's operations 11 bombers and three fighters were missing, the American air command announced last night.

The strong assault was the second phase of the one-two punch technique developed by the Allied air forces. Exact targets were not announced immediately, but the area was the same as that in which the R.A.F. Wednesday night made a 600-bomber assault on Stuttgart with a record low loss of only four bombers.

Counting cross-channel assaults during the day it was estimated that between 2,000 to 3,000 Allied planes of all types had been flown against German targets since the R.A.F. set out for Stuttgart.

Clouds still covered southwest Germany as they did Thursday night, but the fires set by the R.A.F. served as beacons for the Americans, and lack of visibility failed to shield the targets from the Allied overcast-bombing methods.

No Nazi Fighters

Returning American fliers said that, as on Tuesday's long trip to Brunswick, their thrust failed to coax up the battered German fighter force, and anti-aircraft fire was their only hindrance.

The great force of escorting Allied fighters completely boxed in the bomber formations, so that some bomber crews said they made the whole round trip without seeing a single enemy plane.

Simultaneoulsy, hundreds of short-ranged planes of the American and British tactical air forces raced back and forth across the English channel throughout the day.

Raid "Too Peaceful"

"It was too peaceful over there today," said Staff Sergeant Charles Failla, of the Bronx. "It was like going around Central Park on a bicycle."

Medium bomber Marauders and Typhoon fighter-bombers planted explosives on German forward position in northern France in clear weather with no enemy fighter opposition. One Marauder was reported lost.

Thursday night's R.A.F. and Royal Canadian Air force attack on Stuttgart deposited 1,700 to 1,900 tons (American weight) of bombs on the targets, London papers estimated.

That important machinery-producing city was hit by 2,200 tons of R.A.F. bombs the night of Feb. 20, and a similar weight was dropped by the American Fortresses Feb. 25.

Clouds rose to 15,000 feet and were believed to have been an important factor in the fact that only four planes were lost

Large fires were still raging when Mosquito-bomber crews visited the same area at 4 a.m. Mosquitos also staged a diversionary raid on Munich.

The British previously had smashed the Bosch works at Stuttgart, one of the main sources of German aircraft ignition equipment, while the previous American daylight raid severely damaged the Norma ball-bearing works in the Bad Canstatt district.

German bombers attacked Britain Thursday night, but only a dozen were reported to have reached the London area and five were shot down.

Attack Followed By U. S. Blow In Same Area

HILL

MAR 3 1944

London, March 2 (AP)—United States Flying Fortresses and Liberators in strong force smashed at southwest Germany today hard on the heels of a 600-bomber assault by the RAF last night upon the important war center of Stuttgart.

The American target was not announced immediately, but the direction of the attack suggested a United States-RAF double night-and-day punch in the Stuttgart section like the ones highlighting last week's powerful aerial drive.

Other Targets Hit

More than 600 RAF and RCAF bombers participated in last night's operations with a record low proportional loss of only four planes. Mosquito bombers staged a diversionary raid on the shrine city of Munich, and other formations struck targets in France and the Low Countries.

London newspapers estimated 1,680 to 1,900 tons of bombs were dumped on Stuttgart last night.

The Allied daylight formations headed out toward Europe at dawn, with Marauders of the United States Ninth Air Force bombing "military objectives" in northern France, perhaps on the Nazis' "rocket coast."

More Bombers Out

More Allied medium bombers flew over the strait this afternoon.

German raiders about 100 strong retaliated against Britain by night, killing several persons and causing damage at widely separated places. Five were knocked down. Many houses were smashed on the southeast coast, but only a few bombers penetrated to London.

Loss of four RAF bombers was testimony to the effectiveness of the quickened pace of the war against Nazi air defenses and of the British feinting tactics. Bad weather at ground level on the Continent also was a factor, keeping many fighters grounded.

15th Blow In 12 Days

The assault on Stuttgart, transportation junction on the route to Italy and center of the Daimler-Benz engine and Bosch ignition works, was the 15th major blow against Nazi war facilities in 12 days.

(Field Marshal Hermann Goering, in an order of the day on the ninth anniversary of the German air force, declared, "You have again excelled yourselves both in attack and in defense, doing your duty." He praised the "magnificent bearing of the German people" in the broadcast recorded by the United States Foreign Broadcast Intelligence Service.)

Stuttgart, site of important German aircraft factories, was last bombed on February 25, when it was hit by a large formation of United States heavy bombers.

The city is located in southwest Germany, approximately 460 miles from the nearest bomber bases in Britain.

BRITAIN'S TROOPS READY TO INVADE

MAR 3 1944

LONDON, March 2.—(AP) Britain's army, fully equipped and reorganized for maximum striking force, is now ready to invade Europe, War Secretary Sir James Grigg told the House of Commons today.

At the same time, he said the task of carrying the war to Japan is not being neglected. Grigg disclosed that a special British mission had recently visited the U. S., Australia, New Zealand, New Guinea, the Solomons, India and Burma to study the requirements of the offensive against the Japs.

The army in Britain is now fully mobilized, Grigg reported. Equipment is adequate to the task, and includes potent secret weapons recently developed.

"General Montgomery, with his Eighth army laurels still fresh, finds ready to his hand material finely trained and tempered to make something which shall be even better than the Eighth army," Grigg said of the forces now awaiting the invasion hour.

Grigg told Commons that despite immense losses on the eastern front, Germany until recently managed to avoid large-scale encirclement of their armies, "but now it looks as if the master hand of Hitler which produced the disaster of Stalingrad is at it again."

Lone Okay Needed On Plans To Rule Invaded Europe

MAR 3 1944

By J. W. Gallagher

London, March 2 (AP)—Only Washington's approval of a proposal submitted by Gen. Charles de Gaulle for governing occupied parts of France was lacking today in the framework of political organization for the invasion of Western Europe.

Plans have been approved for military government in the Netherlands, Norway and Belgium.

An unofficial but reliable informant said that the French proposals were believed to have been approved by Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, supreme invasion commander, and that the British had been awaiting an okay by President Roosevelt for some weeks.

AMG To Go In With Troops

An Allied section known in the Mediterranean as AMG has been revamped under the title of "Civil Affairs for Western Front Operation" and many features to which exiled governments of occupied countries objected have been removed.

The Allies quickly reached agreement with Belgium, the Netherlands and Norway. Under the new plan Allied Military Government officers will go in with invasion troops and take charge of an operations area immediately behind the front. They will be assisted by Dutch, Norwegian or Belgian officers trained in Allied Military Government schools.

Control-Switch Later

When an area is far enough behind the front to be no longer in danger of becoming a battle zone, it will be turned over to the Dutch, Belgian or Norwegian military government, as the case may be. The territory will be governed by its own country's military, who will be responsible to the Allied command to see that the area remains peaceful and efficiently administered.

The Dutch and Norwegians have complete trained military government organizations ready to take over. The Belgians have a smaller force and because of a manpower shortage have had to depend more for help by British and American officers.

Should a country be freed entirely and become inoperational, military control would be passed directly back to the civilian government.

DeGaulle Wanted Purges

De Gaulle's French National Committee made a similar proposal which after some adjustments has been approved by the British and the Allied supreme command.

The French lack trained officers to take over the military government and desire to move in directly with a civilian organization, equipped to execute purges. The Allies objected that this might arouse the populace behind the front and endanger the military position. A compromise was reached along the lines of the Norwegian and Dutch agreements.

The French position is complicated politically because the de Gaulle regime has never been given full recognition as a government. This is believed to be holding up President Roosevelt's approval of the French agreement.

Allied officers are anxious that an agreement be approved for France as preparations for administering that country are considerably behind the progress of the other three.

Laval Predicts Nazis Will Beat the Invasion

Warns French to 'Think Fast,' Says Life Will Be Hard

LONDON, March 2 (AP).—Pierre Laval, in a statement broadcast by the Paris radio tonight, expressed belief that "the German Army will not be beaten" by an Allied invasion, and warned Frenchmen that "the German Army will tolerate no disorder. It will take a cruel counter-stroke against the impudent."

Laval said, "I advise Frenchmen to think well and fast. Something is going to happen . . . life will become very much harder in France. Villages will be destroyed, railways stations obliterated, rail lines cut and bridges blown up. Unless stocks can be accumulated, there will be no food."

Germans In Poland Reported Near Panic

London, March 2 (AP)—Germans in Poland are suffering from acute war jitters and such fear of the captive Polish populace that they are on the verge of panic, the Polish telegraph agency reported today.

Recently placards appeared in Warsaw ordering all German nationals to evacuate the city.

Mobs of Germans began seeking transportation, lined up at banks, packed belongings and besieged food stores for "getaway groceries."

The German police worked a full day to tear down the posters, which were fakes put up by the Polish underground to stampede the German residents, the Polish news agency said.

500 GERMANS SLAIN

LONDON, March 2.—(AP) Marshal Josip Broz (Tito) reported in a communique tonight that his Yugoslav Partisans had wiped out 500 Germans in a 14-day battle on the banks of the Soca river in Slovenia and dealt the Nazis heavy blows on other fronts.

Four bridges over the Soca river were destroyed by the 30th division, one brigade of which killed 260 Germans and took prisoners and much booty in one day's fighting alone, the broadcast war bulletin added.

In fighting near Novo Mesto, 35 miles east of Zagreb, a German column was said to have been routed and 176 Germans killed. The communique also reported destruction of railroad equipment.

Demobilization Plans Are 'Things To Come'

London, March 2 (AP)—Sir James Grigg, British War Secretary, told Commons today that "the shape of things to come, particularly in the period between the defeat of Germany and the destruction of Japan," was not clear enough for demobilization plans to be disclosed.

"Perhaps the only certainty is that for many years we shall be forced in our own interests and in the interests of world peace to maintain a considerable armed force," he said.

Sir James disclosed that a special British mission has visited the United States, Australia, New Zealand, New Guinea, the Solomons and India and Burma studying the requirements for carrying the war to Japan.

Army Ready For Invasion

He said Britain's army — fully equipped and revamped to its greatest possible striking power—is ready for the invasion of Europe.

He assured the House that everything possible has been done for the unification of command and said the finely-trained and tempered troops would be even better than the British Eighth Army, which fought through Africa, Sicily and into Italy.

Declaring that Germany was bound to crack, he disclosed that considerable work has already been done toward solving the problems of administrating the conquered Reich.

SOLDIERS' PAY ANGERS M. P.'S

MAR 3 1944

Increase Defeated, But Forty Vote Against Government

London, March 2 (AP)—In an angry scene in the House of Commons tonight after a debate on soldiers' pay, 40 members voted against the Churchill Government, but it was saved embarrassment by 63 who voted for it.

The margin, nevertheless, was the smallest the Government has had on an important issue, although the total vote was unusually small.

Defeat would have cost the Government some prestige, but would not necessarily have forced resignation of the Cabinet. There were relatively few members in the House, and it was what the British call a "snap vote."

No Lack Of Confidence

A legislative aide said the vote "did not necessarily display lack of confidence in the Government. Governments resign only when that lack of confidence is shown."

The vote was on an amendment calling for increases in service pay and allowances. The storm centered chiefly on comparisons of the pay of British soldiers with that of United States and Dominion troops and with the pay of men in British industry.

At the end of the night meeting, one of the longest and stormiest in months, Anthony Eden, Foreign Secretary, and leader of the House, promised that the Government would inquire into the whole question of army pay and allowances.

Many Change Minds

Apparently at the last minute, a good many Conservatives who were expected to vote against the Government changed their minds, which led to taunts and shouts of "rats."

Eden agreed there were [illegible] of families and servicemen [illegible] on subsidies and charities but refused a suggestion that pay be brought up to United States standards, saying the cost—about £400,000,000 ($1,200,000,000) annually—would involve inflation on the widest scale.

British army base pay is about 80 cents a day, according to the British Information Service, with Australian, $2; New Zealand, $1.50; Canadian, $1.30; South African, $1.25, and American, $1.66.

Says Britain Has No Interest in U. S. Vote

London, March 2 (A. P.).—Brendan Bracken, Minister of Information, asserting that Britain had no interest in any United States presidential candidate said today that the best way for a candidate to lose votes would be for his opponents to convince the Americans that the British wanted him.

Mr. Bracken told a press conference that the British Government realizes the American voter resents any interference from foreigners, and said that if he were running for office in Britain he would not want to be indorsed by the United States Government.

Mother of Quads Hopes To Marry, Come to U.S.

MAR 3 1944

By RUTH COWAN

HEANOR, Derbyshire, England March 2.—(AP) Nora Carpenter frail, attractive, 23-year-old mother of quadruplets, said tonight that she hoped to marry the American doughboy identified as the father of her babies and "would like to go to America with him."

Nora's mother, Mrs. Ellen Carpenter, and Miss Edith Mathews, nursing home superintendent, said the father is Staff Sgt. William Thompson of Pittsburgh, Pa.

Present as Babies Arrived

He was present at the birth of the babies and saw all four before rejoining his outfit, Mrs. Carpenter said.

Nora evidently was very much in love with the soldier whom she met while she was serving in the ATS. She described him to interviewers as a "fine fellow" and gave happy assent when asked: "Would you like to go to America?"

She smiled contentedly when told the babies were gaining in the nursing home where they were taken from their bureau drawer emergency beds in the grandparents' modest home.

"I am very happy about my babies," she said, "but I never could have believed there were four." Then she added, "I expect to be up and around in about two weeks" to take personal care of the children.

Miss Carpenter said the babies' father "was married about two years ago in America and they had no children."

Hopes to Marry

She added, "I understand he has seen his commanding officer about the quads and I'm hoping arrangements will be made to enable us to get married some time in the future."

The father, who helped to name the babies, has since rejoined his unit without being able to have another look at the two boys and two girls. His name has not yet been officially disclosed since the births have not been officially recorded and need not be for three months.

The mother declared, "Everyone in Heanor knows I'm single and it would be foolish for me to pretend I'm not. I've never claimed to be married.

"I met the American, who is a fine fellow, when I was in the ATS (Auxiliary Territorial Service)."

The friendly, brunet mother told me tonight just before she went to sleep that she was happy to learn that the eldest of her babies had gained two ounces and that the youngest and weakest was "doing all right now."

Nora's mother, who is a munitions worker, expressed hope her daughter might be married "for the children's sake."

Townspeople Friendly

She—like all the townspeople—was friendly and cheerful in greeting reporters who descended on this tiny Derbyshire village.

"It is quite a shock to become a grandmother of seven in such short order," she exclaimed, explaining that she already had three other grandchildren.

The elder Carpenters live in a combination store building and residence, the store section being vacant.

Mrs. Carpenter and her husband, Harry, a former miner, had six children of their own, of whom Nora is the fifth. A son, Albert died in a Bremen prison camp at the age of 28. Another, Raymond 26, has been posted as missing in the Merchant service.

Private in ATS

Nora was a private in the ATS, operating a teleprinter, when she met the quadruplets' father. She received her discharge last November.

The people of Heanor showed little concern about the paternity of the babies and seemed glad they were alive and gaining.

The mother and the babies are resting at the nursing home, with visitors to the children prohibited.

The townsfolk hope to see them soon, however, and many have voiced eagerness to help provide for them.

"Clothes have been a difficulty," said the superintendent, "but the American Red Cross has been very kind and has sent a parcel. We'll need a pram but I believe we are getting one, and the Red Cross is sending some more things."

MacDonald, youngest and weakest of the quadruplets, was reported making good progress today and the superintendent said there was no cause for anxiety about him or the others, Madeline, Maureen and Michael.

The grandmother said the doughboy father was waiting in an adjoining room at the Carpenter home when the quadruplets were born.

"I took the first in to show him," she said, "and while he was still admiring her the second was born. He saw them all before he left."

With a twinkle, she added that after the first baby was born "I knew there'd be another, because the nurse winked at me, but when the third came, and then the fourth, I hate to tell you what I said, but it was bloody awful. I was shocked."

The babies were put to bed in the opened drawers of a chest because there were no cradles.

As the word of the births got around town, a crowd gathered in front of the house, but no one was admitted.

Sgt. Thompson's Wife Hysterical at Home

PITTSBURGH, March 2.—(AP) The Pittsburgh wife of Staff Sgt. William Thompson, identified by an English nursing home superintendent as the father of quadruplets born to an unwed girl in Heanor, Derbyshire, was in seclusion today.

Mrs. Mary Jenemann, mother of Mrs. Thompson, said the family had "no definite proof" that Sgt. Thompson is the quads' father. She explained:

"When Eleanor (the 25-year-old beautician whom Thompson married here in 1942) came home from work where she was called by a New York paper, she was hysterical. She has been crying ever since.

"She is suffering from a terrible shock. This is a terrible thing.

"Until we have definite word that it is Eleanor's husband, I feel that I shouldn't talk about it."

Six months ago, Mrs. Jenemann said, Sgt. Thompson wrote Eleanor from England that he was in love with an English woman.

"He told Eleanor he wanted a divorce so he could marry her," Mrs. Jenemann added.

Quads Are Eligible For $90 Payment

WASHINGTON, March 2.—(AP) The quadruplets born in Heanor, England, will be eligible for a dependency payment of $90 a month if their father is an American soldier and acknowledged them as his children.

A War department spokesman said the Army allows payments for illegitimate children if the father acknowledges parentage.

The monthly payment for the first child is $30, with $20 for each additional child.

Dad Has to Leave Quadruplets

One Has a Cold, So Soldier Can't Say Good-by When He Rejoins Unit.

MAR 3 1944

Heanor, Derbyshire, England, March 2 (A. P.).—The soldier-father of the Heanor quadruplets, who was present at the time of birth and helped name the babies, has rejoined his unit, unable to take a farewell look at Britain's most-discussed quartet.

The father's name was not officially disclosed, since the births have not yet been registered at the City Hall. British law allows three months for registration. The mother is 23-year-old Nora Carpenter.

Nora's mother said the quadruplets' father had not been permitted to see the youngsters again before leaving because MacDonald, youngest and frailest of the four, has a cold and visitors had been prohibited. The father has now rejoined his unit, she added.

MacDonald, whose condition has caused some anxiety, is making good progress, and the other three are flourishing, said Mrs. Edith Mathews, superintendent of the nursing home to which the quadruplets were moved Tuesday.

"MacDonald is definitely better today," she said. "I don't think there is any cause for anxiety about him or the others."

All the babies now are taking ordinary food. MacDonald had been given brandy for a time. Gifts and messages arrive hourly from well-wishers.

An official said the Heanor Urban District Council was seeking a new house for the foursome because the home in which they were born is too small.

"We have been given the promise of a new nurse to look after them," he added.

Madeleine, Maureen and Michael were reported to have lost a few ounces since their birth Monday, but to be in good condition. They are getting cow's milk and glucose in water every few hours, plus vitamins.

Nora, 23, will not see her babies, for at least two weeks. She is in bed at her father's home on the outskirts of this coal mining town of about 15,000 persons.

Meanwhile, the American Red Cross sent supplies from London, at the doctor's request and well-wishers from all sections of Britain have offered gifts, such as carriages and food. The babies have been sent life passes from the movie manager and the local Town Council is planning an education fund.

Football Star Escapes When Bomber Explodes

A Bomber Base in England, March 2 (AP)—Lieut. Richard Nardi, former Ohio State University and professional football star, was one of two airmen who managed to save themselves when a Liberator exploded en route to bomb a Dutch airfield recently, it was disclosed tonight.

Still shaken from his experience, Bombardier Nardi told how he was forced to ride the disintegrating ship down more than two miles before he could extricate his parachute from a cable and jump the last 1,000 feet.

Every Effort To Negotiate Armistice, Party Organ Says

MAR 3 1944

Stockholm, Friday, March 3 (AP). The Finnish newspaper Social Demokratti, mouthpiece of the Social Democratic party which is the strongest in Finland's Parliament, indicated today that the Finnish Government intends to make every effort to negotiate an armistice with Russia.

"It is to be believed we will try to move along the road of negotiation if there is even the slightest possibility to do so with freedom and independence preserved," the newspaper said.

An informed Finnish source said the article was inspired by the majority view of Parliament, which gave the Government a vote of confidence Tuesday at a secret session.

Censorship refused to pass accounts of the Parliament's vote.

Major Consideration

Earlier a Finnish Foreign Office spokesman said that the Finnish Cabinet was giving the peace dilemma "major consideration," but there was no official indication that the Government had reached a decision on whether to accept Moscow's terms.

The Social Demokratti expressed the opinion that the Moscow terms were "meant only to form the basis for further negotiation and that Finland will have a chance to express its own views."

The newspaper said that at first glance the conditions proposed by Moscow are "harsh and even cruel."

Two Stumbling Blocks

In noting that "German reaction will have an influence on some points," the newspaper put its finger on one of the main armistice stumbling blocks—the presence of German troops in north Finland. The other touchy question is the demobilization of the Finnish army.

The Finnish Cabinet continued meantime to study the question of peace or continued war on the losing side, but informed Finnish political sources predicted that there would be no move within the next few days.

Helsinki's afternoon press continued a line begun in the Finnish morning papers after a day's delay in comment, declaring that the Soviet terms were unacceptable.

The Foreign office spokesman, asked for official comment, said there were "no new developments." He denied that a Finnish peace delegation was journeying to Moscow.

The Finnish afternoon newspaper Ilta Sanomat said the published terms were "not suitable as a basis for final negotiations" and added, "If Russia really wants peace with us it seems that these terms couldn't be final."

Svenska Pressen, which long has been favoring negotiations with Moscow, labeled the terms "frightening" and a "bad sign."

In view of the heavy censorship in Finland, such comment naturally is significant. In the absence of any official indications of the government's intentions, general opinion was both optimistic and pessimistic on the chances of peace.

The Liberal Huvo Dstadsbladet, the leading Swedish-Language newspaper in Finland, said the terms "do not open those perspectives to peace we so eagerly wanted. x x x Acceptance would expose ourselves to the risk of becoming involved in another war and transform our own territory into a war theater."

This paper said it would be impossible to withdraw an unconquered army in a good position and then open negotiations on such questions as demobilization and reparations. This was a reference to the Soviet proposal that the Germans in Finland be interned.

The Helsinki correspondent of the Stockholm newspaper Aftonbladet reported that the Soviet terms fell on the Finnish people like a "cold shower." This correspondent said that even those Finnish circles opposed to the government's wait-and-see policy took the view that the Moscow conditions could not be accepted.

Finns Are Cold To Red Terms, Paper Says

SHANKE

MAR 3 1944

Stockholm, March 2 (AP)—Russian peace terms, published in Finnish newspapers for the first time this morning, fell like a "cold shower" on the people, the Helsinki correspondent of the Swedish newspaper Aftonbladet reported.

Even circles opposed to a "wait and see" policy of the Government regarding armistice terms took the view that the conditions were impossible of acceptance, the correspondent wrote.

Evidence Of Disappointment

He added that recent developments in the move for peace were clothed in such secrecy the people were under the impression that there were grounds for hope for a settlement. The correspondent said there was evidence of great disappointment today.

Russian terms called for restoration of the 1940 boundary, immediate cessation of hostilties, no occupation or change in the Finnish Government, interment of German ships and seven Nazi divisions with or without Red Army help.

Both Sides Attack

Even as the peace issue was disclosed, a Finnish communique reported lively activity on the fighting front with both sides attacking. The war bulletin said Finnish troops penetrated Russian positions at four points on the western portion of the Aunus Isthmus and that the Russians had pierced Finnish lines near Ustua after a heavy artillery barrage. A counterattack was said to have restored Finnish positions.

The Finnish press sharply attacked the armistice proposals today, characterizing them as disappointingly severe and declaring that they gave Finland no hope of negotiating an honorable peace.

The Finnish press campaign was launched only a few hours after the Helsinki Government had disclosed the Soviet terms to the nation. A brief official announcement, outlining the proposals, said they had been transmitted to Parliament, but gave no hint of the Government's attitude.

"Peace Cannot Be Reached?"

The liberal Helsinki newspaper Uusi Suomi, of whose board Premier Edwin Linkomies is a member, declared flatly that "peace cannot be reached on the basis of the announced conditions.

"We can't abandon our essential natural rights and expose ourselves completely without protection," the paper declared. "Responsible organs of the State must decide. It is their duty to find an honorable peace. The announced conditions give no hope in this respect.

Uusi Suomi accused Moscow of publishing the terms in order to "gain a political and moral advantage so it can say 'You are unreasonable and stubborn if you don't accept.'"

"Cut Off Understanding"

Moscow's real aim, the paper said, "is to isolate us from the remainder of the understanding for us which perhaps still is alive among the western nations."

The liberal Huvudstadsbladet, leading Swedish language newspaper in Finland, declared that the Soviet terms "do not open those perspectives to peace we so eagerly wanted."

Would Make Finland War Theater

"Real peace," it said, "must create a state which permits the people to return to peaceful work and live without any anxiety in the near future. Such a state hardly would be reached if we accepted Moscow's conditions. Acceptance would expose ourselves to the risk of becoming involved in another war and would transform our own territory into a war theater."

The Huvudstadsbladet said it was out of the question to ask Finland to withdraw an unconquered army from good defensive positions and then open negotiations on such questions as demobilization, reparations and the cession of territory."

"Treachery Against Nation"

"Such a capitulation without conditions, even though masked, is impossible," the paper declared. "That would be treachery against the nation."

Finnish quarters in Stockholm expressed similar views and said, after talking with persons in Helsinki, that it was unlikely that Finland would accept the Russian proposals—mainly because she could not afford to withdraw her troops from their present positions as a preliminary to further talks.

Other earlier reports from Helsinki said the Finnish Government was planning to send a delegation to Moscow, but these were wholly unconfirmed.

Strong Reaction in Balkans.

London, March 2 (A. P.).—Strong reactions in both Bulgaria and Hungary to the Finnish-Russian peace negotiations were reported today in British press dispatches from the Middle East and both Axis satellites were represented as possibly trying to get out of the war.

At the same time, Berlin broadcast a DNB Sofia dispatch saying Bulgarian Premier Dobri Bojiloy would make an important radio speech Sunday; the Hungarian MTI agency announced Premier Nicolas Kallay would discuss "matters of great importance" today in the Hungarian Parliament, and the Budapest radio was permitted to describe the Russian peace terms as very lenient.

Dispatches from Ankara and Cairo saying both Bulgaria and Hungary might be seeking peace were treated with greatest reserve in London official circles, but considerable speculation was stirred over the arrival in Cairo of Sir Hughe Knatchbull-Hugessen, British Ambassador to Turkey, shortly after Bulgarian Minister Bababanoff returned to Turkey from conferences with his Government.

...HOLM, March 2. — (AP) ...e newspaper Dagens Nyheter said today that 18 Dutchmen were sentenced to death by a German court and executed within a week on charges of sabotage and spreading anti-German pamphlets in the Netherlands.

WASHINGTON, March 2—(AP) American Lend-Lease and British mutual aid shipments to Turkey were understood tonight to have been suspended in a move apparently linked with vigorous military and diplomatic preparations for the Anglo-American invasion of Europe.

The action, taken by the British with full Allied approval, cuts Turkey off, at least temporarily, from her sources of arms and other military supplies and confronts her with the necessity of deciding whether to go more deeply into the war on the United Nations side or continue a policy of neutrality, favorable to the Allies but in some respects helpful to Germany.

Holds Strategic Position

The Middle Eastern nation has a position of great strategic and political importance in relation to future European war developments. Her northern border flanks Bulgaria and any strong move on her part favorable to the Allies would undoubtedly hasten the end of Bulgaria as a German satellite and weaken the Nazi hold throughout the Balkans.

This in turn would facilitate the advance of Russian armies in the south by throwing the Germans' rear areas into turmoil. At the same time it would place additional strains on Germany at the very time Hitler is mustering his forces to meet the eventual Anglo-American assault from the west as well as the Russian drives.

The Allied suspension of munitions to Turkey may be considered comparable in one sense to the halting of February oil shipments to Spain and the recent Treasury order designed to curtail the flow of Axis gold through neutral countries. The great difference between the Turkish and Spanish situations is that Turkey is regarded as a good friend of the Allied cause while Spain's role has been friendship for Germany. The Spanish oil embargo was designed to stop supplies of wolfram to Germany and negotiations to that effect are still in progress.

advance in the form of steel and such manufactures as transportation equipment. This means the exchange has put additional strains on their manufacturing facilities but even so is considered to have worked to their advantage.

The stopping of supplies is not regarded a serious breach between Turkey and the Allies. The Allies are understood to realize that Turkey has many things to consider in going into the war and that she alone must make the decision.

Allied Aid To Turkey Reported Cut Off

MAR 3 1944

WIRING

Ankara, March 2 (AP) — Reports were current here today that Britain has halted the delivery of both military and civilian supplies to Turkey as a result of the recent collapse of British - Turkish military talks.

While there was no confirmation from Turkish officials it was obvious that they were disturbed by the reports, which were interpreted in some quarters as part of a campaign to high-pressure Turkey into entering the war on the side of the Allies.

It also was reported without confirmation that American Lend-Lease material was included in the stoppage. If the report concerning the British action is correct, however, this might be so, for most sea-borne shipments to Turkey arrive in British vessels and the overland routes are under British control.

Influence Doubted

Some quarters held that if the British have stopped shipments of war material to Turkey it might mean that they have now written Turkey out of the picture as a possible military ally and that they are planning a campaign against southeastern Europe as an alternative.

It seemed unlikely, at any rate, that Turkish policy could be influenced by the reported stoppage —if that were Britain's intent.

Taking cognizance of suggestions that this might be Britain's plan, one highly placed Turk said:

"It looks as though they are trying to work on our nerves, but they must remember we are people with strong nerves."

Hope For Turk Aid Gone?

London, March 2 (AP)—Reports that lend-lease arms shipments to Turkey had been stopped were interpreted today as meaning Allied efforts to obtain Turkish military action against Germany had come to an unsuccessful end.

"Arms had been sent to Turkey to kill Germans," one responsible source said. "They haven't been used for that purpose and we have other uses for them."

Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden may make a statement in Commons shortly on relations with Turkey.

Chinese Troops Take Makaw, Burma Town

MAR 3 1944

New Delhi, March 2 (AP)—Chinese troops captured the town of Makaw, north of the Tanai river in northern Burma, and West African forces driving south in the Kaladan valley met stiffened Japanese resistance north and northwest of Apaukwa, Admiral Lord Louis Mountbatten announced today.

British troops yesterday stormed Japanese positions east of Htingdaw on the eastern slopes of the Mayu mountain range and killed many of the enemy, the communique said.

Allies Meet Opposition

Other Allied forces met strong opposition when they attacked enemy positions east of the Kalapanzin river and northeast of Buthedaung.

The column which occupied Makaw moved south to take Lamungzup Ga, 4½ miles away, near the Tawang river.

RAF and United States fighters and bombers ranging over north and south Burma since Monday attacked Japanese communications, transport and troop concentrations. Heavy damage was reported and all planes returned to their bases, the communique said.

British Rank U. S. Arms Inferior to Their Own

By The Associated Press.

NEW DELHI, India, March 2 —Maj. Gen. J. S. Lethbridge, head of a special British mission, told a press conference today that one of the outstanding conclusions of a tour of the Southwest Pacific front was that British weapons were better than American.

"The Australians have tried all weapons belong to the Americans," he said, "and have gone back to their own. They have found them better.

"British weapons have been found superior both in quality and adaptability," he asserted, adding that British weapons were "foolproof."

His statement found ready challenge among both British and American correspondents, who recalled how eagerly British soldiers and officers had tried to equip themselves with American Colt automatics, American light carbines, American pack equipment and even American canteens, clothing and belts.

With American and Canadian associates from various general staffs, General Lethbridge has visited Asian battlefronts. He said twenty-nine reports had been sent in recommending changes in weapons or tactics and all had been adopted.

BOMBERS SWEEP JAPANESE SHIPS FROM CHINA SEAS

FARNSWORTH

HEADQUARTERS OF THE 14TH U. S. AIR FORCE IN CHINA, March 2.—(AP) Bombers of the 14th Air Force, some for the first time completely manned by the Chinese for a Chinese-American composite wing, have established a new air front virtually denying the east and south China seas to Japanese shipping.

Japanese cargo ships have been bottled up in harbors or rivers or forced from port to port along tedious Chinese coastal routes under cover of darkness, or have been compelled to skirt Formosa to the east where they are more exposed to submarine attack.

A strong element of suicide has been injected into Japanese movements on China's inland waterways as well as at sea. To dissuade the Chinese from working on or traveling on any of these vessels is one of the prime objectives in a psychological warfare being initiated by the 14th Air Force as an accompaniment to intensified and broadened air attacks.

Maj. Gen. Claire L. Chennault, commander of the 14th, is as determined to smash the Japanese shipping within reach of his precious B-24s as he is to "interdict" the Yangtze river, the main artery for the Japanese conquest of China.

This correspondent has just completed a tour of forward bomber and fighter bases during which he lived, ate and slept with the young men who are doing this job. The most striking fact in evidence is one on which security forbids elaboration—how much is being done with how little.

A young pilot of one of the B-24 Liberators which have been sweeping farther and farther to sea with their bombs put it like this:

"I'm afraid the folks back home have the idea that the sky here is full of American planes. That's one of the results of doing a job like we are doing it."

He is 24 years old, wearing his first moustache, but his face is as lined and tired as that of a much older man. He has about 400 hours of mission flying time.

One of the greatest handicaps of the 14th is war-weariness among its flying personnel. Once a man has learned the peculiarities of combat here he is counted far too valuable to be relieved after 30 or 40 bombing missions, as he might be in other theaters.

NEW TROOPS PUSH INTO JUNGLE PAST

CAPTURED AIRFIELD

Reconnaissance Thrust Becomes Campaign to Occupy Jap Bases.

BOMBERS HIT HANSA BAY

Enemy Convoy Attacked, Biggest Ship Left Sinking.

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS SOUTHWEST PACIFIC, Friday, March 3.—(AP) Heavy reinforcements have been landed on Los Negros island in the Admiralty islands, turning the surprise American thrust against the Japanese from reconnaissance in force into a campaign for complete occupation.

General Douglas MacArthur's communique today said the original landing by the Fifth Cavalry regiment Tuesday caught the numerically - superior Japanese force so completely by surprise that it was "outmaneuvered into dispersed positions" and the reconnaissance was "immediately developed into a penetration which is being exploited into complete occupation."

Jap Attacks Repulsed

The reinforcements were landed yesterday and were reported ready to push beyond the original beachhead after the first invasion troops had withstood repeated Japanese infiltration and mortar attacks Wednesday night.

The enemy attacks were against the thinly-held American perimeter around Momote airfield, the 5,000-foot long airstrip which was captured shortly after the Tuesday landing at the seaward edge of the airfield. Early Wednesday morning the troopers had thrown back a Japanese counterattack, taking a toll of nearly 100 enemy dead.

Fighting with their backs to the beach, the cavalrymen beat off all attacks until morning brought boatloads of men and equipment.

Work on Airfield

With the perimeter defenses firmly established, restoration work immediately commenced on the airfield which was pitted by bombs unloaded on it during the pre-landing bombardment.

Supporting ground operations of the First cavalry division units at Los Negros island, Fifth Army Air force Liberator and Mitchell bombers, with fighters and divebombers manned by Australians, smashed at the Japanese air base at Hansa bay with 170 tons of bombs. Numerous fires were started and damage was reported heavy.

Liberators ranging farther north attacked a five-ship enemy convoy off Hollandia and left a 7,000-ton vessel, biggest in the convoy, sinking after scoring direct hits on it.

In the Madang area, on the coast south of Hansa bay, attack planes and divebombers started fires on airdromes at Madang and Alexishafen, and blasted gun positions and supply dumps.

Rabaul Bombed Again

Mitchell medium bombers and fighters from Solomons bases struck Rabaul, the bomb-saturated enemy base in northeastern New Britain, and nearby Duke of York island with 38 tons of bombs.

Enemy installations and barges along the New Ireland coast were hit by fighters, which sank a troop-laden barge in Navuto bay, while naval units shelled Cape St. George on the southern tip of New Ireland and Borpop and Namatani airdrome sites on the east coast.

Japanese ground installations in the vicinity of Empress Augusta bay on Bougainville island in the Solomons, were hammered by a large force of torpedo and divebombers.

Latest reports from Los Negros island described the American beachhead as based upon a coral-fringed beach at the south end of Hyane harbor, extending about a mile north and south and three-quarters of a mile inland.

A few thousand Japanese still hold the rest of the island which extends seven miles westward and about eight miles northward of the American-held Momote airfield, which with the adjacent Hyane harbor is the strategic key to the island.

Allied bombers not only hit Japanese positions around Momote, but also ranged westward to adjacent Manus island to strike at sources of reinforcement for the enemy troops on Los Negros.

U. S. LOSSES LIGHT SO FAR

American Flyers Hammer Foe —Keep Nipponese Planes Pinned to Ground.

MAR 3 1944

Allied Headquarters, Southwest Pacific, March 2 (A. P.).—Jap troops were bloodily repulsed in a pre-dawn counter-attack yesterday against intrenched Americans in the Admiralty Islands, Gen. Douglas MacArthur said today.

The enemy, recovering from the surprise of the invasion and quick seizure of Momote airdrome on Los Negros Island Tuesday, hit the American line around 4 A. M., but before daylight came they had been hurled back leaving nearly 100 dead.

Gen. MacArthur's communique said that American losses for the entire operation so far have been negligible. The dismounted units of the First Cavalry Division, which made the thrust, have successfully consolidated their positions, the bulletin said.

Japs Believed Reinforced.

A headquarters spokesman said the enemy counter-attack apparently was sharp. The Japanese possibly are receiving reinforcements from Manus Island, which lies across a narrow strip of shallow water west of Los Negros.

[Tokio radio, in a broadcast to China but not for home consumption, claimed the entire American landing force has been "entirely wiped out," more than seven or eight ships sunk and more than 230 Americans killed. The broadcast said a landing attempt on Manus Island resulted in heavy United States losses. United States Government monitors said they had not yet heard the Tokio radio tell Japanese about the Admiralty landings.]

American heavy and medium bombers blasted Jap rear positions in support of the ground fighters.

Momote airdrome was described

by the headquarters spokesman as 5,000 feet long and so located that enemy troops would have to counter-attack along a narrow front. Gen. MacArthur said the field, which was captured so quickly little damage was done it, would shortly be put into full use by Allied aircraft.

No reports have yet been received of any Jap aerial effort against the invasion which has put the Americans deep inside the perimeter of the enemy's South Pacific defenses. This probably has been due to activity of Allied aircraft which continued hammering the weakened Jap base at Rabaul, New Britain, and other enemy air installations on the northeastern New Guinea coast.

Jap Flyers Pinned Down.

Bombers from Solomon Island fields blasted Rabaul Monday with 153 tons of explosives. Accompanying fighter planes maneuvered to entice the Jap fighters to come up, but as on raids of the previous eight days, the enemy flyers stayed home.

Nipponese airfields and installations at Wewak, Hollandia, Hansa Bay and Madang, all on the New Guinea coast and all within bomber distance of the Admiralty Islands, also were hit and neutralized while the invasion convoy cut through the Bismarck Sea bound for Los Negros.

utes," was the official word shortly afterward from MacArthur.

"That was about 3.45 P. M.," North said.

"Just five minutes before, cavalrymen had killed two Japs. We went out to the jetty and watched a Higgins boat come in. With MacArthur were Admiral Thomas C. Kinkaid, Col. Lloyd Lehrbas and others.

First Man Ashore

"He walked down the trail to the (Momote air) strip and asked who was the first man ashore. Brig. Gen. William Case, of Providence, R. I., told him the first man was Lieut. Frank Henshaw, of Alice, Texas.

(Yesterday's communique said MacArthur presented the Distinguished Service Cross to Henshaw.)

"When we came to the edge of the strip, there were a number crowded around by that time and MacArthur said, 'We don't want the party bunched up.'

"MacArthur, Chase and Kinkaid walked away, and then one of them said he thought it time to go back. We saw a bunch of soldiers out on the edge of the strip and we were told two Japs had been killed there. So MacArthur walked over there. Then we returned and he looked at pillboxes, talked to some of the boys and Chase brought up Henshaw, telling the general this was the first man ashore.

Back To Higgins Boat

"On the way back he walked along where the boys were dug in, told Chase it was time to be going and walked back to the Higgins boat.

"As the boat was ready to pull out, the general told Chase: 'You have got your teeth into him (the Japanese); now hold on to what you take.'

"Then he returned to the warship, and the warship sped away immediately."

MacArthur On Invasion Scene

(After watching the invasion of the Admiralty Islands February 29 from the bridge of an escorting warship, Gen. Douglas MacArthur, at personal risk, went ashore for an inspection. This dispatch tells about his visit.)

An Advanced New Guinea Base, March 2 (AP)—"They told us on the beach that MacArthur was coming ashore, but we just looked at each other, and then he came," said Capt. Phil North, of Fort Worth, Texas, press relations officer.

"He was the first one off the Higgins boat and there had been heavy firing up to within a few minutes of the time he reached the beach. He was ashore for some time, inspecting everything there and even viewed two dead Japs who had been shot just shortly before he arrived. Then he returned to his warship and it left immediately."

Tip From A Sergeant

North went ashore with others early in the landing and was walking along the beach in mid-afternoon when "a sergeant came up to me and said, 'Don't tell anyone, but MacArthur is coming ashore soon; he's on a warship.'"

"Am coming ashore in a few minutes where the boys were dug in, told Chase it was time to be going and walked back to the Higgins boat.

"As the boat was ready to pull out, the general told Chase: 'You have got your teeth into him (the Japanese); now hold on to what you take.'

tirely wiped out.

By Olen Clements

The Admiralty Islands, Feb. 29 (AP—Delayed) — Big, drawling cavalrymen, trained on the rough and tumble Texas border, stormed ashore on Los Negros Island in the Admiralty group at 8.15 A. M. today, and one hour and a half later had captured Momote airfield.

Their brilliant move was accomplished with negligible loss. Known Japanese casualties in the first few hours were 73 dead.

The dismounted cavalrymen, components of the First Cavalry Division, went ashore in small boats that weathered intense fire from Japanese shore guns. The first wave made it without a scratch, but the second and third waves were caught in heavy fire. One of them had to turn back momentarily but finally reached the island after a navy gunner had been killed.

Japs Surprised

The smooth landing caught the Japanese by complete surprise. Our convoy, all warships, showed up off the islands at dawn. The sky was overcast.

The warships spread out along the beach and began pouring heavy shells into the Japanese positions.

The Japanese shore guns replied. Shells churned up the water around several of the destroyers. One salvo came dangerously close to our destroyer, flagship of the task force.

Forty minutes after the naval shelling started it ended with the suddenness with which it began. Smoke poured from half a dozen places on Los Negros Island.

Assault Boats Put Out

Then the fast little assault boats put out from the destroyers which carried troops. The first wave rendezvoused about 150 yards from shore and then sped toward the beach. Destroyers rode up close to shore, their big guns menacing anything that the Japanese might care to offer. Nothing happened.

The small number of cavalrymen in the assault boats piled out on the beach and began to spray the tops of coconut trees with their rapid-fire guns to clear out snipers.

The empty assault boats pulled off for a second load. Army Mitchell bombers came in low to strafe the Japanese and drop bombs. The heavy bombs shattered the stillness and circles of smoke rose where they exploded.

Second Wave Starts

The second wave started in. The men were laughing and joking. Almost four years they had been training for this moment and here it was, not so bad after all.

One of them pulled out a harmonica and played a boogie-woogie tune briefly. Someone said something about their last words and Capt. Phil North, of Fort Worth Texas, said "my last words probably will be: 'Quick somebody get a doctor; I've been hit.'"

A few minutes later the navy gunner in North's boat was decapitated by a shell from shore. The coxswain turned the boat around and went back to the ship, unloaded the body, picked up another gunner and dashed to the beach.

Babe Is Japs' Battle Cry

Cape Gloucester, New Britain, March 2 (AP)—This will be news to the Babe, but Staff Sergeant Jeremiah A. O'Leary, a Marine Corps combat correspondent, reports that Japs, evidently eager to display their impoverished English vocabulary, charged marine lines here shouting the strange battle cry, "To hell with Babe Ruth!"

The charge was scored as an error. Thirty Japs were struck out for good.

In New York Babe Ruth replied: "I hope every Jap that mentions my name gets shot—and to hell with all Japs anyway."

BRITISH SUB SINKS JAP PLANE CARRIER IN MALACCA STRAIT

LONDON, March 2—(AP) British submarines in an intensified undersea campaign against Japan have torpedoed and probably sunk a 5,000-ton Japanese aircraft carrier in the northern approaches to the strait of Malacca between the Malayan peninsula and Sumatra, the Admiralty announced today.

In addition a Japanese cruiser was hit by torpedoes in the same waters, but "counter-measures by the enemy prevented observation of the full results of this engagement," the Admiralty said.

The aircraft carrier was attacked despite an escort of five submarine chasers. The carrier "was seen to be hit and was lying stopped," said the Admiralty announcement, and then "a further torpedo which struck the enemy amidships caused a violent explosion."

"The ship heeled over and is believed to have sunk," the Admiralty said.

Other British submarines sank a medium-sized supply ship by torpedo fire and destroyed a smaller supply ship by gunfire.

These successes provided fresh evidence that the British are now able to bring increased forces to bear against the enemy in the Far East, perhaps using craft freed when Axis naval strength was swept from the Mediterranean.

British Torpedo Jap Carrier, Hit Cruiser

London, March 2 (AP) — British submarines ranging "Far Eastern waters" torpedoed and probably sank a Japanese aircraft carrier of 7,000 tons, and scored torpedo hits on a Japanese cruiser, the Admiralty announced today.

A Royal Navy submarine first sighted the carrier, escorted by five submarine chasers, in the northern approaches to Malacca Strait, and fired a salvo of torpedoes. No hits were observed, and the subchasers drove the submarine off temporarily.

British Renew Attack

The British ship returned to the attack, scoring a hit and stopping the flat-top.

It is through Malacca Strait, which separates Malaya from the island of Sumatra, that most of the supplies to Japan's army in Burma must pass.

"A further torpedo which struck the enemy amidships caused a violent explosion. The ship heeled over and is believed to have sunk," the communique said.

Supply Ship Sunk

The cruiser was successfully attacked in the same area, but not in the same action. Full results of the attack on the cruiser were not observed.

British submarines also torpedoed and sank a medium-sized supply ship, and destroyed a smaller supply ship by gunfire.

Powerful Naval Force Had Field Day At Truk

By Spencer Davis

Aboard a Carrier Flagship Off Truk, Feb. 17 (AP—Delayed)—A powerful surface force detached to bottle up North Pass and sink crippled ships aided in exploding the myth of Truk.

The naval striking force, greatest ever assembled, hit in 10 precision strikes over a two-day period. United States carrier planes flew more than 1,000 sorties, dropping approximately 1,000 tons of bombs, torpedoes and incendiaries.

Cover For Raiders

A cold-weather front, sweeping south and east, provided cover for the raiders during the vital 11-hour period preceding the first pre-dawn blow.

During the height of the first day's raids, a powerful force of battleships escorted by cruisers and destroyers separated from the main group to bottle up Truk's North Pass.

This strategy led to the sinking of a cruiser and a destroyer within ten minutes in the maiden action for this nation's powerful dreadnaughts. Both enemy warships were sitting pigeons for the battleships after being roughly handled by Avenger torpedo bombers and dive bombers and left dead in the water.

Third Jap Ship Escapes

A third Japanese warship, identified as a cruiser, escaped at top speed to the west after a 20-mile chase.

Once the action was called off about noon of the second day, the fleet retired as successfully as it approached Truk. One ship received some damage during a night air attack, but was able to retire.

The American people can be assured they are informed of developments in the Pacific war almost as rapidly as they happen. The announcement of the initial attack on Truk was heard by radio while this force still was within range of enemy search planes.

Formidable Diversion

Success of the Marshall Islands campaign unfettered this great naval force and allowed it to embark on the new mission two weeks after carrier planes opened the new Central Pacific drive. The primary object actually was not a raid on Truk but rather the occupation of strategic Eniwetok atoll, about 750 statute miles northeast of Truk. The attack on Truk was a diversion but assuredly the most formidable diversion of the Pacific war.

On the bridge of this flagship Admiral Frederick S. Sherman's quartermaster said: "I've been waiting a long time for this moment. I was aboard the battleship Nevada at Pearl Harbor when the Japs blitzed us. This is the first equalization for that terrible day."

Warships Tried To Flee

Japanese warships at the first alarm attempted to pour out of Truk's passes, leaving a large quantity of merchant ships, tankers and transports to their fate.

One fighter pilot, Lieut. William W. Kelly, New Castle, Pa., returning from the first strike, said:

"It looks like a complete surprise."

As the day wore on, Helldiver and Dauntless divebombers and Avenger torpedo planes had a field day. They pounced on shipping to the exclusion of all other targets. Before the two days were over, they had wiped out two crusers, three destroyers, two patrol craft and 12 cargo and merchant ships.

(Latest official advices from Pearl Harbor placed Japan's losses at Truk at 23 ships definitely sunk, six probably sunk, 11 damaged and 201 planes destroyed.

Rammed With Torpedoes

The cruisers were pursued outside the lagoon and rammed with torpedoes. Helldivers attacked a small warship off Dublon Island and it was seen no more. Credits for hits went to Lieut. William Gerner, Dallas, Texas, and Lieut. Robert P. Friesz, Salisbury, Mo.

Particularly effective work was done by a torpedo bomber squadron which scored 18 hits for the confirmed sinking of six ships, including a cruiser and a destroyer.

Admiral Sherman, congratulating the air group on its performance, said:

"The Augean stables have been cleaned out."

Torpedo Sinks Ship In 90 Seconds

(Spencer Davis, of the Associated Press, was the only war correspondent to fly over Truk during the raid on the Japanese base by American carrier planes February 16 and 17.)

By Spencer Davis

Aboard the United States Carrier Flagship, off Truk, Feb. 17 (AP—Delayed) — One well-delivered aerial torpedo can overtake a Japanese warship making 27 knots and sink it in exactly 90 seconds.

I saw this accomplished inside Truk lagoon from the cockpit of an Avenger torpedo plane. It was one of the most perfectly executed torpedo plane attacks on record.

One minute the ship—a large two-stack destroyed—was a going concern capable of corkscrewing violently to evade attack. The next minute a 2,000-pound torpedo with a warhead slammed into the Japanese ship hard amidships.

Bow Severed From Ship

The explosion that followed threw smoke, flame and debris hundreds of feet and severed the bow from the ship. The after section of the destroyer sank immediately and within 30 seconds nothing but the tip of the bow remained above water.

The torpedo, launched from a plane piloted by Lieut. Delher A. Schatz, of Browntown, Minn., made the hit which finished the enemy ship, but actually it was the coordinated attack of all five Avengers, led by Lieut. Grady Owens, Norfolk, Va., which made escape impossible for the destroyer.

Deadliness Proved

The wake of all five torpedoes spread like the thumb and outstretched fingers of a hand and made it impossible for the swift enemy craft to evade destruction.

The sinking of the destroyer was but one incident in the great two-day strike of United States carrier planes on Truk's shipping and aircraft, but it was significant. It more than proved that a torpedo delivered at close range is still the most deadly means of eliminating enemy shipping.

A destroyer is considered the most difficult of all targets because of its speed and maneuverability, but the torpedo squadron had the answer.

THIRD OF JAP NAVY

DESTROYED BY U.S., OFFICIAL REPORTS

WASHINGTON, March 2.—(AP) One-third of the Navy with which Japan started the war has been destroyed, and the American fleet now can cruise the Pacific looking for trouble and battering any enemy forces encountered, a high Navy official said today.

He added the warning, however, that the enemy fleet still is strong and might in time be brought into battle.

Stipulating that he not be quoted directly, this source said the principal weakness of the Nipponese now appears to be airplanes which, flying from carriers, spearhead most naval assaults. Additional damage to the Japanese air arm was reported only today by the British Admiralty in announcing the probable sinking of a Japanese aircraft carrier by British submarines in the Strait of Malacca.

Mobility of the American fleet, this naval authority continued, now has reached the point aimed at for 35 years. Huge fleet trains—such as ships carrying fuel, materials and supplies of all types—now accompany task forces, making it possible for them to remain away from bases for indefinite periods.

As an example he cited the carrier force that launched the first big attack on Truk, principal Japanese base in the south Pacific, then moved on to pound enemy bases in the Marianas more than 600 miles further from its home base.

Three of the five carrier groups that hit Truk, he said, refueled at sea and moved on for the subsequent attacks on the big Japanese base at Saipan and nearby Japanese-held Guam, which was seized from American forces early in the war.

With such mobility of the American fleet, few enemy bases may be considered secure from attack unless the Japanese navy should attempt to intercept United States fleet movements. That possibility exists, but the naval authority said he did not expect such action until the Japanese are forced back so far that they have to fight.

To inquiries about the duration of the war, he said, that the United States is not overlooking any bets. As an example he cited the invasion of the Admiralty islands by Gen. Douglas MacArthur. He said the action started merely as a reconnaissance in force but when opportunity developed became an attack and occupation.

Dutch Ghost Subs Harass Jap Ships

Washington, March 2 (AP)—A ghost fleet of Dutch submarines, gallant remnants of a once powerful naval force that all but perished in opposing Japan's invasion of the Netherlands Indies, has reformed and is harassing the enemy's supply lines to Burma.

This was disclosed today by Capt. L. G. L. van der Kun, of the Dutch navy, former chief of staff of Netherlands forces in the Pacific who has just arrived here to join his country's military mission.

Sinkings Claimed

"In 20 months we sank 55,000 tons of Japanese shipping, and probably sank 25,000 tons more, in Malacca Straits, north of Sumatra and in the Andaman Islands area," he said. "This was accomplished despite the fact that we could average only two submarines in operation at one time."

The Japanese in Burma get about 90 per cent. of their munitions, food and other supplies by sea, Captain van der Kun reported, the rest coming overland.

Jap Route Discussed

Captain van der Kun explained that the enemy's lines to Burma pass south of Singapore, through the Straits of Malacca between Malaya and Sumatra, and then between Malaya on the east and the Nicobar and Andaman Islands on the west.

Because of this geography, military strategists here believe, a successful Allied amphibious operation against the Andaman or Nicobar islands or northwest Sumatra would flank the Japanese lines and virtually isolate the enemy in Burma.

Meanwhile the war in the Bay of Bengal is being fought as a campaign of harassment and attrition in which the Netherlands ghost fleet operates as an integral part of the total Allied force, which for the rest is largely British. The Dutch, in addition to submarines, have a small force of escort and patrol vessels and a fleet air arm.

Marshalls Bombed Again

Washington, March 2 (AP)—Army bombers dumped nearly 80 tons of bombs on four airfields on Japanese-held atolls in the Marshall Islands Tuesday.

The navy, reporting the raids today, said anti-aircraft fire was light and none of our planes was damaged.

ARGENTINA'S POLICY STAYS

Farrell Affirms He'll Stand By Axis Break

Buenos Aires, March 2 (AP)—The stringent control of the Argentine press which was promulgated last December would be abolished under a new press statute which acting President Edelmiro Farrell had under study tonight.

Buenos Aires, March 2 (AP)—Gen. Edelmiro Farrell, acting President of Argentina, declared today that Argentine foreign policy would not be modified and that close cooperation with the other American republics was an aim of his temporary regime.

In an interview at the Government House, General Farrell, who took over the executive power from President Pedro Ramirez a week ago in a bloodless coup, indicated he intended to prepare the country for elections in the shortest time possible. He said Argentina's present military leaders only desired that the people should not commit an error when the elections were held.

Clad in civilian clothing, General Farrell said, "I am occupying the Presidency only temporarily, fulfilling a mission which I accepted six months ago when I was made Vice-President."

To Stand By Axis Break

At the outset he emphatically rejected the idea that his Government intended to change the country's foregin policy, which includes a recent rupture of relations with the Axis.

He said he intended to guide the country toward a restoration of constitutional normalcy.

Of last week's bloodless insurrection, he said, "it is entirely logical that if the President decided to delegate his authority, I should be the one to succeed him. It is so simple, so common a practice that there is no reason to question its motives.

"My plans, as I already have stated, are to continue the single task of government—to build, not to destroy."

Cooperation His Aim

In an even more emphatic manner General Farrell turned to Argentine relations with the other American nations.

"We have cooperated and will continue to cooperate with America," he stated, "and nothing nor anyone will prevent us from carrying out this elemental duty of solidarity with all the other nations of the continent with the same determination and enthusiasm with which we have acted heretofore.

"Our history and that of America is filled with exemplary and heroic lessons of this kind."

Argentine Interest First

In line with the Presidential interview, it was announced this afternoon that the Government intends to maintain present foreign policies "in line with the interests of Argentina." The announcement followed a Cabinet meeting.

It also was announced that exchange of Argentine and German diplomats would be made as soon as possible and that Germans could leave the country within two weeks if a prompt reply came from Germany to the Argentine plan.

This calls for use of the Spanish ship Cabo de Hornos and an Argentine merchantman which would go to Lisbon for the exchange.

No plans have been announced for exchange of diplomats with Japan.

The newspaper Cabildo, meanwhile, asserted that news agencies and radio stations outside Argentina were waging a "war of nerves" against this country with the aim of spreading alarm in Argentina.

Farrell Tackles Key Issues

Montevideo, Uruguay, March 2 (AP)—Acting President Edelmiro Farrell of Argentina turned his attention today to a host of domestic and international problems which apparently were only slightly eased by his victory yesterday in quelling a minor revolt.

While Farrell, abetted by Acting War Minister Col. Juan Peron and local troops, easily met the threat to his newly delegated authority which was presented when Lieut. Col. Tomas Duco attempted a coup to restore Gen. Pedro Ramirez to the Presidency, he still is facing the fundamental decision of whether to head toward restoration of constitutional government or yield to the pressure of rabid Nationalists.

Key Questions At Stake

What action, if any, Farrell takes on such questions as the drastic press regulations now in force, recreation of political parties and calling elections may serve to indicate his future policies. He also must appoint a new Foreign Minister.

Although Farrell's Government has insisted it is only a continuation of the Ramirez regime, it is bound to take into account the skeptical attitude made evident in Washington and other American capitals.

Great Britain's assurance that it would concur in whatever policy Washington adopt could not help but give even the most extreme nationalist pause in view of Britain's economic importance as Argentina's best customer.

Possibly weighting the scales in favor of a more liberal policy was the Argentine navy's apparent decision to lend its support to the Farrell administration. The navy, while generally aloof from politics in Argentina, is considered a moderating influence opposed to extremist trends.

Ramirez In Background

Also the fact that Ramirez failed to exploit Duco's ill-fated action might be reckoned as a point in favor of stability existing in the present regime. On the other hand Ramirez has held off on any statement supplementing his original delegation of executive power to Farrell.

Duco's fate still was a subject for speculation today. Some rumors circulated that he had been executed. Another version was that he was lodged in the naval hospital.

SEIZED IN ARGENTINA

Montevideo, March 2 (A. P.).—Travelers from Buenos Aires said today that former Federal Attorney Gustavo Carallo and former Deputy Jose Aguirre Camara were arrested yesterday on undisclosed charges and were being held at police headquarters on orders of the Argentine Government. Senor Aguirre Camara was a member of the liberal wing of the Argentine Conservative party in the Chamber of Deputies.

Tells How Japs Killed Girl, 11

Ottawa, March 2 (AP)—The rape and murder by Japanese soldiers of an 11-year-old Canadian girl whose father is recovering in Toronto from wounds suffered in protecting another daughter, 7, were described here today by Capt. Lawrence Impey, former southwest Pacific war correspondent for the London Daily Mail.

The family was not identified.

Addressing a Canadian club luncheon on "The Battle for the Orient," Impey said a Toronto home contained the remnants of the family of a friend repatriated from Singapore with the last group of Canadian nationals returning on the liner Gripsholm.

Account Told By Father

"I have recently talked to my Toronto friend and he told me that Japs broke into his apartment when they entered Singapore," Impey said. "They saw his little daughter, Dorothy, aged 11, standing in the living room. They repeatedly attacked her before her father. She died.

"The father lunged to protect his 7-year-old daughter. They battered him with rifle butts and he fell, wounded, across his younger child. The Japs did not molest this girl, who lay under her father's unconscious body."

Impey said he had seen 800 Chinese girls requisitioned from a village in the early days of the Manchurian war and had later seen some of their bodies discarded in the snow.

Japan Rounds Up Non-Essential Phones

New York, March 2 (AP)—The Imperial Rule Assistance Association, Japan's totalitarian party, has begun a campaign to round up all telephones now being used for "nonessential" purposes, the Tokyo radio said in a domestic broadcast reported today by the United States Foreign Broadcast Intelligence Service.

"In this movement," the broadcast told the Japanese people, "persons who do not have any actual need for telephones in their homes will be asked to turn them in voluntarily, and more telephones will be installed in important factories, shipyards and other necessary places."

BRITAIN AND U. S. TO DISCUSS OIL

Washington, March 2 (A. P.).—A series of American-British conferences on subjects of common interest not directly related to military operations are in process of arrangement.

Acting Secretary of State Stettinius referred to the projected conferences at his press conference today by stating that they were under discussion between the two Governments. The handling of Middle-East oil will probably be among the subjects to be taken up, he said.

He declined specifically to discuss reports that the conferences will be held in London, but it was learned elsewhere that an American diplomatic official is expected to visit the British Capitol sometime in the next few weeks.

ICKES DEFENDS ARABIAN DEAL

MAR 3 1944

Calls Moffett a Playboy and a Great Resigner.

Washington, March 2 (A. P.).—Secretary of the Interior Ickes, defending his Arabian pipeline project today, called James A. Moffett, former executive vice-president of Standard Oil of New Jersey, a "playboy" whom "nobody in the oil industry takes seriously."

Mr. Moffett yesterday described the project as "an unjustified venture in bureaucracy" and suggested that Mr. Ickes resign as National Petroleum Administrator.

Secretary Ickes in his best press conference style, said Mr. Moffett had not felt happy "since I refused to put him on my staff when I was Petroleum Administrator under NIRA. He wanted to run the show; he told me so. I didn't think he rated even a second or third class job. He was very angry."

"Jimmy's a great little resigner," said the Secretary, asserting that two companies had accepted his resignation and "Jimmy hasn't anything else to do now except to talk about things he knows nothing about."

The Petroleum Industry War Council also opposes the United State Government project to build a $135,000,000 pipeline from the Persian Gulf to the Mediterranean, but Mr. Ickes said the council stand is an "honest difference of opinion; they weren't criticizing me as Petroleum Administrator."

Asserting that the pipeline would not put the Government in the oil business, Mr. Ickes said:

"This is merely a facility for the carrying of oil. There are no other projects pending. There is no intent on the part of any one in the Government so far as I am aware to go in the oil business."

He added that he "wouldn't be surprised" if private oil companies build the line for the Government, for "we will ask for bids."

O. W. I. to Label Candidates in Overseas News

Identification Is Ordered of Presidential Possibilities, Objective Reports Asked

WASHINGTON, March 2 (AP).—Elmer Davis, director, has instructed the Office of War Information overseas staff to identify Presidential candidates as such in O. W. I. dispatches distributed abroad.

In a memorandum, Mr. Davis told his staff to present the United States political scene as "objectively and factually as possible."

A spokesman said the O. W. I. hoped to prevent a repetition of the recent controversy involving Governor John W. Bricker, an announced Republican candidate for the nomination, who, in a broadcast about his recent Washington press conference, was identified by the O. W. I. simply as a "prominent Republican" and "Governor of Ohio."

Hereafter the status of Presidential possibilities will be described as accurately as possible, Mr. Davis said.

The most recent O. W. I. dispatch about Governor Bricker identified him as "Governor of Ohio and candidate for the Republican Presidential nomination."

Governor Thomas E. Dewey of New York, who has stated he is not seeking the Republican nomination, has now been mentioned by the O. W. I. as the "Republican Governor of New York State whose candidacy for the Republican nomination for President is being pushed by many supporters."

President Roosevelt so far has been described simply as the President or the commander in chief of the armed forces.

If developments should require transmission overseas of a story about the possibility of his seeking a fourth term, the O. W. I. spokesman said, the dispatch would state that the President has not declared himself on the question.

Vice-President Henry A. Wallace's recent statement of his belief that the President would be a candidate was not used in reports sent overseas.

Mr. Davis said today the British United Press was the news agency which sent abroad a story that a $50,000,000 fund was being raised in the United States to defeat President Roosevelt for re-election to a fourth term.

Mr. Davis identified the agency in a letter to Senator Harry F. Byrd, Democrat, of Virginia, who had characterized the story as "obvious propaganda." The story, which Mr. Davis said was sent from the United States and first printed in English newspapers, later was picked up and reproduced in a news pamphlet distributed to American troops arriving in England.

Imports of U. S. Exceed Exports In Latin Trade

$524,634,000 Balance in '43 Reported, 42% Above Margin of Previous Year

WASHINGTON, March 2 (AP).—United States imports from Latin America last year exceeded exports to those nations by a record $524,634,000—42 per cent above the previous year's net import balance and 50 per cent greater than the average for World War I years.

The Census Bureau, reporting the figures today, said merchandise accounted for $493,746,000, or 94 per cent, of the import balance with the remainder in gold and silver. War-time regulations restrict trade figures to export and import balances, thus cloaking the actual volume of trade.

Gold and silver imports were down from $112,882,000 in 1942 to $30,890,000, which the bureau said was attributable chiefly to a $59,362,000 decline in the net import balance with Mexico, placed at $7,232,000 last year. In addition, $10,814,000 more gold and silver was shipped to Argentina than was imported from that country, in contrast to a net gold and silver import balance of $193,000 in 1942.

Largest import balances were recorded in trade with Cuba—up from $27,790,000 in 1942 to $156,860,000; with Argentina—up from $78,180,000 to $109,036,000, and with Chile, although the latter balance increased only $1,153,000 to $102,562,000. Excess of imports from Brazil amounted to $72,129,000, compared with $60,140,000 in 1942. Trade with Panama resulted in an export balance amounting to $38,649,000, a gain of $13,334,000 over 1942. With Venezuela the balance was $16,699,000, a decline of $6,245,000.

Merchandise trade, excluding gold and silver, resulted in reversed balances for four nations during the year. Mexico, with a $23,724,000 balance of imports from this country in 1942, closed last year with a $7,388,000 export balance, while a similar reversal from $207,000 to $2,916,000 was listed for Ecuador.

Davis Reveals Source Of Story About Fund

Washington, March 2 (AP)—Elmer Davis, director of the Office of War Information, today said the British United Press was the news agency which sent abroad a story that a $50,000,000 fund was being raised in the United States to defeat President Roosevelt for reelection to a fourth term.

Davis identified the agency in a letter to Senator Byrd (D., Va.), who had characterized the story as "obvious propaganda."

Mrs. Roosevelt Favors Pay for Combat Service

Would Apply Plan for Flyers to Ground Forces

WASHINGTON, March 2 (AP).—Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt thinks well of a suggestion that service men in the ground forces get extra pay for combat service just as men in the air forces get more for flying combat hours.

Of course, the President's wife told her press conference today, nothing could really compensate any fighters for what they go through in combat.

Mrs. Roosevelt disclosed that when she leaves on her forthcoming air tour of United States bases in the Caribbean, she will wear a last year's spring suit and carry a coat in case it's chilly.

In her limited luggage, Mrs. Roosevelt said, she will carry one black crepe evening dress, and an extra pair of walking shoes.

She said she is not permitted to disclose any destinations, itinerary or time table in connection with the trip.

Saturday Mrs. Roosevelt will be among those attending services marking the eleventh anniversary of her husband's inauguration as President.

Asked about their thirty-ninth wedding anniversary on St. Patrick's Day, Mrs. Roosevelt exclaimed that she "had forgotten" that was coming up this month.

ARMY TO EXPAND TRAINING OF YOUTH

WASHINGTON, March 2—(AP) The Army said tonight that it contemplates "broad expansion" of its specialized training reserve program for men in the pre-induction, 17-year-old group.

This group was not affected by the recent decision to cut drastically the size of the Army specialized training program and to put the great majority of men into active service to make up deficiencies in total Army strength.

The War department did not elaborate on its statement that the reserve training program would be expanded, but said that details would be announced "soon."

The same announcement also reported procedure governing selection of medical, dental and veterinary trainees who will be retained in the ASTP after April 1, when the reduction becomes effective.

In addition to enlisted men now taking instruction in medicine, dentistry and veterinary medicine, soldiers currently enrolled in pre-professional courses will be continued in their studies and upon successful completion of that work will be advanced to the medical or dental phase of the program.

Assignment to training in medicine and dentistry in the ASTP for the remainder of the year will be made from among enlisted men who prior to April 1 have been accepted for 1944 classes in medical and dental schools.

Civilians now in those schools and who have been accepted for a 1944 class in an accredited medical or dental school but who did not receive a call for induction prior to March 1, 1944, will not be assigned for ASTP training in medicine or dentistry.

LABOR DRAFT BILL IS SUPPORTED BY SECRETARY KNOX

MAR 3 1944

WASHINGTON, March 2.—(AP) Predicting that most ferocious fighting lies just ahead, Navy Secretary Knox endorsed the Austin-Wadsworth labor draft bill today as the surest and fairest means of stablizing employment in plants and shipyards that must feed the war machine.

"The present program for selective and controlled employment needs immediate tightening up," he told Chairman Reynolds (D-N. C.) and Senator Austin (R-Vt.), the only members of the Military Affairs committee who appeared to receive his testimony.

Senator Austin is co-author of the pending bill; Senator Reynolds and a large proportion of the other committee members oppose the compulsory system.

"But we face 1944; and output for 1944 must be even greater than for 1943. In 1944 we will be fighting mightier battles with heavier losses in every quarter of the world. This means more and more men, more and more equipment, more and more supplies and more and more ships."

Sweeping his arms wide to describe casualty lists "that long" already pouring into the states, the cabinet officials said the resistance the Germans are putting up in Italy demonstrates the kind of battles that may be expected when the Allies' amphibious troops pound their gun butts on Hitler's European front door.

Secretary Knox said if people who are not fully employed would go to work where they are needed, and then would stay on the job, there would be no manpower problem.

"And that is precisely what a national service law would be expected to accomplish," he declared. "Our manpower problem has, all along, been especially hard to solve because of excessive switching from job to job."

PLANE PRODUCTION REACHES 350 A DAY

MAR 3 1944

8,760 Craft Accepted During February, Wilson Reports.

WASHINGTON, March 2.—(AP) Aircraft production climbed to a new peak rate of 350 planes a day in February, putting the total deliveries in the month ahead of schedule with a total of 8,760 planes accepted, Charles E. Wilson, chairman of the Aircraft Production board, announced today.

Although the total was 29 warplanes short of January production, the emphasis on heavier and long-range aircraft gave a four per cent increase in tonnage produced.

Commends Plane Industry

Mr. Wilson commended the entire industry on the February showing, particularly the uniformity in meeting or beating schedules. Forty-three aircraft plants equaled or exceeded their schedule output by a small amount, which Mr. Wilson said indicated "sound scheduling and excellent achievement."

From other government sources it was learned that heavy four-engined bombers, not specifically mentioned in Mr. Wilson's report, poured out of assembly plants in record-breaking numbers. Total output of heavy bombers however, is withheld for reasons of military security.

Production sources revealed also that total February production would have been considerably higher despite fewer working days, and might have exceeded 9,000 planes except for bad weather in the past two weeks and the Los Angeles power strike. Production was said to be running several hundred planes ahead of schedule at mid-month, but bad weather delayed a number of test flights and prevented acceptance by the government.

The 350-a-day production rate compared with a previous record of 339. Mr. Wilson said, however, that the true measure of productive effort is the weight of airplanes produced. This rose from 90,300,000 pounds in January to 93,500,000 pounds in February.

Democrats 'Falling to Pieces,' Willkie Says, Citing Disunity

NEW YORK, March 2. — (AP) Wendell L. Willkie declared tonight that "the Democratic party is falling to pieces" and urged Republicans to achieve internal unity "because the opportunity is now ours to step into power in the national government."

"A new party in power with a new point of view is doubly necessary to the welfare of the country today," Willkie, a candidate for the Republican presidential nomination, said in an address on the March of Time program over a national hookup.

"Because it is torn by disunity, the party now in power cannot give this nation a strong and effective government," he said. "The Democratic party is falling to pieces.

"Its congressional leaders and its executive leader are becoming involved in deeply disturbing disputes; its executive department is becoming increasingly petty and arrogant in its relationship to Congress; the antagonistic social, economic and political groups that compose it have begun to war among themselves; the Chief Executive has lost his power to hold them together, to direct them, and to produce within the Democratic party a concerted and unified effort toward winning the war or planning for the peace.

"Of course, he and other factional leaders of the Democratic party will have to try to make it appear to the American people that there is unity, and effective cooperation within the party, if they expect to be reelected."

Willkie declared that "no patching job, however skillful, can last for long" and said that should the Democrats be returned to power in November "the disruptive forces within the party will split it wide open once again and the American people will be saddled with a hamstrung, stalemated and ineffective national government."

SHARKEY, CORCORAN RETURN FROM FRONT

MAR 3 1944

NEW YORK, March 2. — (AP) Jack Sharkey, former world heavyweight boxing champion, and Freddy Corcoran, tournament manager for the Professional Golfers' association, arrived in New York today, completing a three-month USO tour of North Africa and Italy.

They were accompanied on most of their journey by Vernon (Lefty) Gomez, one-time New York Yankee pitching star, who returned Feb. 17. The trio made up the first all-sports unit to visit the African war theater.

Hoover 'Not Interested' In Coming Elections

Miami, Fla., March 2 (AP)—Former President Herbert Hoover said today he was "not interested" in forthcoming elections.

Arriving by Pan American Clipper after a Bahamas fishing trip, he said he was "only interested now in the successful conclusion of the war."

Hoover will fly to New York tomorrow.

Admiral Honored For Rabaul Attack

San Diego, Cal., March 2 (AP)—Award of the Distinguished Service Medal to Rear Admiral Frederick Carl Sherman, 55, Port Huron, Mich., former skipper of the carrier Lexington, for leading a carrier task force against Rabaul harbor, was reported here by the 11th Naval District.

The navy said the task force cleared the way for successful operations against the Japanese on Bougainville last November. The admiral already holds the Navy Cross for action in the first World War and the Gold Star in lieu of a second Navy Cross for service as commanding officer of the Lexington.

Signal Flares Kick Back On Japanese

Denver, March 2 (AP)—Men of the 22d Air Base Squadron remember well where the Japanese acquired much of that scrap metal they now are shooting back at American soldiers.

That's why they noted with glee that the silk used in a demonstration of parachute signal flares at Lowry Field was stamped "Made in Japan."

THE GERMAN AIR FORCE HAS NOT OPPOSED ANY FORMATION OF ALLIED PLANES IN STRENGTH SINCE THE FIRST PHASE OF THE CAMPAIGN TO WIPE OUT THE GERMAN AIRCRAFT INDUSTRY ENDED LAST WEEK.

AMERICAN HEAVY BOMBERS POUNDED THE PAS-DE-CALAIS AREA OF FRANCE AND PENETRATED TO BRUNSWICK IN CENTRAL GERMANY TUESDAY WITH THE LOSS OF ONLY ONE SHIP.

THE RAF'S LOSS OF ONLY FOUR BOMBERS OUT OF 600 IN LAST NIGHT'S STUTTGART ATTACK WAS A RECORD FOR A NIGHT OPERATION OVER GERMANY.

THE PERSISTENT OFFENSIVE AGAINST TARGETS IN NORTHERN FRANCE--TODAY'S ATTACK WAS THE 49TH IN THE LAST 72 DAYS--WAS GIVEN WEIGHT BY TWO FORAYS OF MARAUDERS AND ADDITIONAL FLIGHTS BY BRITISH MITCHELLS, BOSTONS AND MOSQUITOS THE LAST OF WHICH NOW ARE KNOWN TO BE CAPABLE OF CARRYING 2,000 POUNDS OF BOMBS.

MAR 3 1944

LONDON--~~FIRST~~ ADD ~~NIGHT-BOAD~~ AERIAL ~~(TOP-AVE)~~ XXX SHOT DOWN.

"THIS WAS THE EASIEST OF MY 23 MISSIONS," SAID LT.CARL R.PARSONS, (HERCHER) OF 1658 PRIMROSE ROAD, WASHINGTON, D.C., A CO-PILOT OF ONE OF THE HEAVY AMERICAN BOMBERS WHICH BLASTED SOUTHWESTERN GERMANY.

"IT WAS SMOOTH ALL THE WAY EXCEPT FOR SOME FLAK," SAID A PILOT, LT.DEAN SATTERLEE, OF 824 FORTY-SEVENTH ST., SACRAMENTO, CALIF.

ONE ANTI-AIRCRAFT BURST SHATTERED THE BOMBSIGHT, BUT THE BOMBARDIER, LT.VERNON H.BLAKELY OF 4027 E. 71ST, CLEVELAND, OHIO, WAS UNSCRATCHED.

MAR 3 1944

THE NIGHT AND DAY OPERATIONS TOGETHER COST THE ALLIED AIR FORCES ONLY 15 HEAVY BOMBERS, ONE MEDIUM BOMBER AND THREE FIGHTERS. THE AMERICAN MARAUDER MEDIUM BOMBERS FLEW MORE THAN 400 SORTIES FOR THE LOSS OF ONE PLANE. THEY STARTED SEVERAL FIRES IN THE AMIENS RAILWAY YARDS.

MAR 3 1944

THE CHARTRES AIRFIELD IS A FINAL TRAINING BASE FOR NAZI FIGHTER PILOTS AND ALSO IS USED AS A REPAIR DEPOT FOR MESSERSCHMITT 109'S AND FOCKE-WULF 190'S.

"WE HIT THE TARGET TO A DAMN JELLY," SAID LT.JOE MCCARTY, A BOMBARDIER OF 608 WEST 189TH STREET, NEW YORK CITY. "THE WHOLE PLACE WAS COVERED WITH SMOKE."

"I SAW ONLY 10 BURSTS OF FLAK ALL DAY AND THE NAZI FIGHTER PILOTS MUST HAVE BEEN OUT HAVING LUNCH," SAID LT.COL.JOHN B.KIDD, A COMMAND PILOT OF 608 NORTH AVENUE, LA GRANDE, ORE.

THE COMMUNIQUE DID NOT DISCLOSE THE AMERICANS' TARGETS IN SOUTHWEST GERMANY BUT IT MIGHT HAVE BEEN STUTTGART, FRANKFURT OR OTHER INDUSTRIAL CENTERS IN THAT TERRITORY.

MAR 3 1944

LONDON, MARCH 2-(AP)-RAF NIGHT BOMBERS DROPPED [illegible],700 LONG TONS (13,200 AMERICAN TONS) OF BOMBS ON GERMANY DURING FEBRUARY, THE AIR MINISTRY ANNOUNCED TONIGHT, AND ANOTHER 1,600 LONG TONS (1,730 AMERICAN TONS) HAVE FALLEN ON ENEMY TARGETX IN OCCUPIED COUNTRIES DURING DAYLIGHT ATTACKS OF THE SECOND TACTICAL AIR FORCE.

THE GERMANS LOST AT LEAST 54 PLANES IN THEIR STEPPED-UP NIGHT RAIDS AGAINST BRITAIN DURING THE MONTH, HAVING COME "IN APPRECIABLE FORCE" SEVEN TIMES.

"THE STRATEGIC BOMBING OF GERMANY DEVELOPED NEW COMPREHENSIVENESS DURING THE MONTH," THE REPORT STATED. "ANGLO-AMERICAN OPERATIONS WERE MORE CLOSELY INTERLOCKED THAN EVER BEFORE."

FEBRUARY ALSO BROUGHT THE HEAVIEST BRITISH AERIAL MINE-LAYING PROGRAM SINCE APRIL, 1940.

RAF PLANE LOSSES WERE STATED AT 245 WHILE 51 GERMAN PLANES WERE DESTROYED OVER EUROPE BY BRITISH-BASED RAF CRAFT.

BY WES GALLAGHER

LONDON, MARCH 2-(AP)--BRITISH DIPLOMATIC WOOING OF TURKEY WITH ARMS AND ECONOMIC CREDITS TOTALING HUNDREDS OF MILLIONS OF DOLLARS APPARENTLY HAS ENDED ABRUPTLY, WITH THE BRITISH DESCRIBED TONIGHT AS "FED UP ON SACCHARINE TURKISH PROMISES" UNACCOMPANIED BY ACTION.

THE CLOSE DIPLOMATIC AND ECONOMIC WARFARE LINKS BETWEEN BRITAIN AND THE U.S.WERE TAKEN TO MEAN THAT AMERICA IS IN AGREEMENT THAT THE TIME FOR APPEASEMENT OF THE TURKS HAS ENDED.

THE BRITISH MADE NO ATTEMPT TO HIDE THE FACT THAT SHIPMENTS OF ARMS AND GOODS TO TURKEY HAVE ENDED. ONE INFORMANT SAID "WE ARE GOING TO KEEP ARMS FOR PEOPLE TO USE THEM TO KILL GERMANS."

CORRESPONDENTS IN ANKARA REPORTED "PERSISTENT RUMORS" IN THE TURKISH CAPITAL THAT BRITAIN HAD HALTED ALL SHIPMENTS TO TURKEY AS A RESULT OF OFFICIAL ANNOYANCE AT THE COLLAPSE OF RECENT MILITARY STAFF TALKS.

THE DISCUSSION REPORTEDLY ENDED IN STALEMATE WHEN THE TURKS DEMANDED SPECIFIC GUARANTEES OF TURKEY'S PLACE IN THE WAR AND POSTWAR WORLD FROM ALL THE ALLIES. THE BRITISH MISSION WAS ONLY AUTHORIZED TO NEGOTIATE FOR USE OF TURKISH AIRFIELDS, AND COULD NOT MEET THE REPORTED DEMANDS.

MAR 3 1944

THE HALTING OF ARMS SHIPMENTS WAS TAKEN TO MEAN THAT BRITAIN HAS ABANDONED HOPE OF GETTING THE TURKS INTO THE WAR.

LONDON DESCRIBED TURKISH ACTIONS IN DEALING WITH THE ALLIES AS "VERY DEVIOUS."

EXTREMELY GENEROUS TRADE TREATIES WERE GRANTED THE TURKS, AND BOTH BRITAIN AND THE U.S. HANDED OUT LARGE TRADE CREDITS TO ANKARA. LATELY THE ANGLO-AMERICAN POLICY HAS BEEN COOLER, AFTER THE TURKS ACCEPTED

THE ALLIED FAVORS WITH ONE HAND AND NEGOTIATED TRADE DEALS WITH GERMANY WITH THE OTHER.

THE STIFFENING BRITISH AND AMERICAN ATTITUDE TOWARD TURKEY IS BELIEVED TO HAVE TH APPROVAL OF THE RUSSIANS, WHO HAVE BEEN BLUNT IN THEIR WARNINGU TO TURKEY AGAINST COLLABORATION WITH GERMANY.

LONDON, MARCH 2-(AP)-PLANS HAVE BEEN APPROVED FOR MILITARY GOVERNMENT OF THE NETHERLANDS, NORWAY AND BELGIUM FOLLOWING AN ALLIED INVASION, IT WAS LEARNED TODAY, AND WASHINGTON APPROVAL IS AWAITED FOR A PROPOSAL BY GEN. CHARLES DE GAULLE ON GOVERNING FRANCE.

THE DE GAULLE PROPOSAL WAS SAID BY AN UNOFFICIAL BUT RELIABLE INFORMANT TO HAVE BEEN APPROVED BY THE SUPREME ALLIED COMMANDER, GEN. DWIGHT D. EISENHOWER, AND TO HAVE BEEN AWAITING PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT'S OKAY FOR SOME WEEKS.

THE ALLIED GOVERNMENT WOULD BE KNOWN AS THE CIVIL AFFAIRS FOR THE WESTERN FRONT OPERATION, WITH SOME DIFFERENCES FROM THE AMG SYSTEM IN OPERATION IN ITALY.

ALLIED GOVERNMENTAL OFFICERS WOULD GO IN WITH THE INVASION AND TAKE CHARGE OF CIVIL AFFAIRS IMMEDIATELY BEHIND THE FRONT, ASSISTED BY BELGIAN, DUTCH OR NORWEGIAN OFFICERS TRAINED IN ALLIED MILITARY GOVERNMENT SCHOOLS. THE COUNTRY'S OWN MILITARY AUTHORITIES WOULD BE RESPONSIBLE TO THE SUPREME COMMAND FOR PEACE AND EFFICIENT ADMINISTRATION IN FREED AREAS.

THE FRENCH HAVE PROPOSED A SOMEWHAT SIMILAR SYSTEM.

THAT THE DE GAULLE REGIME NEVER HAS BEEN GIVEN FULL RECOGNITION AS A GOVERNMENT OF FRANCE IS BELIEVED TO HAVE BEEN HOLDING UP ROOSEVELT'S APPROVAL OF THE FRENCH PROGRAM.

LONDON, MARCH 2-(AP)-PRIME MINISTER CHURCHILL SWUNG OVER TO MEDICAL TERMINOLOGY TODAY TO TELL THE ROYAL COLLEGE OF PHYSICIANS THAT HIS "PATIENT"--BRITAIN--WAS "NO LONGER IN MORTAL DANGER."

"I'VE A PATIENT WHOM I'VE BEEN LOOKING AFTER FOR SEVERAL YEARS AND I'M GLAD TO BE ABLE TO ASSURE YOU THAT SHE IS NO LONGER IN MORTAL DANGER. ON THAT I CAN GIVE YOU ABSOLUTE ASSURANCE.

"MY PATIENT HAS REACHED THE STAGE WHERE RESTIVENESS, FRETFULNESS, THE IMPATIENCE OF CONVALESCENCE AND WEARINESS OF LONG PROLONGATION OF DISEASE--WHILE THEY DO NOT EXCITE THE SAME ANXIETY IN ONE'S BREAST--NEVERTHELESS REQUIRE THE VERY FULL MEASURE OF ONE'S PERSONAL ATTENTION."

LONDON, MARCH 2--(AP)---GERMAN RAIDS ON ENGLAND WERE DESCRIBED BY THE AUTHORITATIVE UNOFFICIAL MAGAZINE AEROPLANE TODAY AS A "SATISFACTORY INDICATION" OF THE PROGRESS OF THE ALLIED AERIAL OFFENSIVE.

"FOR SOME MONTHS PAST," IT SAID, "THE ENEMY HAS BEEN TRYING TO CONSERVE HIS AIR FORCE, PRESUMABLY SO IT WOULD BE AVAILABLE TO RESIST AN ATTEMPT AT INVASION. . .

"THERE WAS ONLY A WEAK GERMAN FORCE OF BOMBERS ON THE WESTERN FRONT. THAT BOMBER FORCE NOW HMEM HAS BEEN AUGMENTED BY WITHDRAWING SQUADRONS FROM OTHER FRONTS, BUT IT STILL IS NOT FORMIDABLE.

"IT IS NOT EASY TO ESTIMATE THE NUMBERS USED AGAINST THIS COUNTRY FOR THE ENEMY HAS COPIED FROM US DEVICES WE USE TO INTERFERE WITH HIS RADAR DETECTION BUT WHILE THE ORIGINAL ESTIMATES GIVEN BY THE MINISTRY OF HOME SECURITY MAY HAVE BEEN ON THE LOW SIDE, THE NUMBERS DID NOT APPROACHK THE GROTESQUE EXAGGERATION ANNOUNCED IN GERMAN PROPAGANDA.

"OUR AIR OFFENSIVE ON GERMANY HAS FORCED HER TO UNDERTAKE SOME OF DR. GOEBBEL'S LONG-THREATENED REPIRSALS BUT FROM THE PLOT OF THI BOMBS THE OBJECT SEEMS TO HAVE BEEN MERELY TO CREATE A NUISANCE."

London,March 2 (AP)--The last four times Maj.Gerald Johnson has been loft he has bagged an enemy plane with the guns of his P-47 Thunderbolt.

He made his fifth successive kill today when he spotted a ME-109 at about 18,000 feet and followed him down to destroy him.

The Owenton,Ky.,fighter pilot now has a record of 14 victories.

A BOMBER BASE IN ENGLAND--FIRST ADD NARDI XXX 1,000 FEET.

THE OTHER SURVIVOR OF THE CREW OF 10 WAS SGT. JAMES S.WHYTE, A WAIST GUNNER, OF 891 PARK AVE., NEW YORK CITY.

"NO ONE EVER WILL KNOW WHAT CAUSED THE EXPLOSION,", NARDI SAID. "A HUGE FLASH OF FIRE HIT ME IN THE FACE AND I DIVED FOR THE DOOR IN THE NOSE COMPARTMENT. HALFWAY OUT, MY PARACHUTE CAUGHT ONTHE CABLE AND I HUNG THERE HEAD DOWN.

"I SAW THE WINGS AND OTHER PARTS OF THE SHIP FALL OFF AS SHE DIVED PROBABLY 600 MILES AN HOUR. SOMEHOW I GOT STRAIGHT ENOUGH TO PULL MYSELF BACK IN AND CLEAR MYSELF OF THE CABLE. IT LOOKED LIKE ONLY THE NOSE OF THE SHIP WAS LEFT THEN. I HAD ABOUT 1,000 FEET OF ALTITUDE WHEN I JUMPED.

"LUCKY? THERE MUST HAVE BEEN TWO ANGELS FLOATING DOWN ON MY SHOULDERS. IT SCARES HELL OUT OF ME JUST TO THINK ABOUT IT NOW."

WHYTE SAID THERE WAS A TERRIFIC EXPLOSION AND HE WOKE UP FLOATING IN THE AIR.

NARDI PLAYED FOR OHIO STATE UNTIL HIS GRADUATION IN 1938, AND THEN FOR DETROIT, PITTSBURGH AND BROOKLYN NATIONAL LEAGUE PROFESSIONAL TEAMS.

A U.S. BOMBER BASE IN BRITAIN, MARCH 2-(AP)-THE FLYING FORTRESS "LONDON AVENGER," WHICH WAS FURNISHED BY WAR BONDS BOUGHT BY CITIZENS OF BERMONDSEY, LONDON'S MOST BOMBED BOROUGH, CAME BACK FROM SOUTHWEST GERMANY TODAY AFTER ONE OF THE DAY'S CLOSEST CALLS.

TWO OF THE PLANES MOTOR'S QUIT BEFORE REACHING THE TARGET. IT WAS WITH A GROUP LED BY LT.COL.ROBERT S.TITEL OF COLORADO SPRINGS.

COLO., AND MAJ.JOSEPH THEIS OF LOUISVILLE, O.

LT.ROBERT E.WALTER OF ELDEN ROAD BRYN ATHYN, PA., THE PILOT, KEPT GOING AND HIS BOMBARDIER, LT.GEORGE BOYER OF BEEVILLE, TEX., DROPPED THE PLANE'S BOMBS SMACK ON THE TARGET.

THEN ANTI-AIRCRAFT SHELLS TORE HOLES AS BIG AS YOUR HAND OUT OF THE WING NEAR THE FUSELAGE AND A PIECE OF FLAK TORE THROUGH THE WAIST BARELY MISSING SGT.LEON J.BUONCINO OF CLIFTON, N.J., AND SGT.RAYMOND F.CULVER OF FRANKLIN, N.C., GUNNERS.

WITH THE TWO REMAINING ENGINES SPOUTING SMOKE THE PLANE STRAGGLED ALONG ACROSS GERMANY FIGHTING OFF AT ONE TIME THE ATTACKS OF 11 GERMAN FIGHTERS.

"OVER THE CHANNEL WE DUMPED EVERYTHING--GUNS, THE BALL TURRET, THE RADIO, EVEN OUR SHOES," SAID LT.ROBERT W.EVANS OF 2519 29TH PLACE, BIRMINGHAM, ALA., NAVIGATOR.

"WE FINALLY MADE AN RAF STATION ON THIS SIDE," ADDED LT.THEODORE YOCUM, THE CO-PILOT, OF 3828 NORTH 19TH STREET, OMAHA, NEB.

"A PIECE OF FLAK BOUNCED OFF MY HELMET BUT IT WAS SPENT AND DIDN'T HURT," SAID SGT.FRANK N.PAPPONE OF 2336 61ST STREET, BROOKLYN, N.Y.

OTHER CREW MEMBERS ARE SGT.PIERRE JOSEPH, A FULL-BLOODED WENATCHEE INDIAN (EDS: LACK ADDRESS); SGT.ERNEST R.BADERSON OF NORFOLK, VA., AND SGT.BERTRAND A.HENSON OF CEDAR RAPIDS, IA.

not only does the practice alienate the good will of the troops, the communists stated, but it results in inflationary prices for the italian population as well.

the communists' demand was contained in a three-point program which called for the mobilization of an "Italian peoples' army" to fight beside the allies and the prompt purging of "fascists" from public administration offices.

LONDON, MARCH 2-(AP)-THE GERMAN-CONTROLLED VICHY RADIO DECLARED TODAY THAT AMERICAN POSITIONS ON THE ANZIO FRONT BELOW ROME HAD BEEN PIERCED IN GREAT DEPTH BETWEEN CARROCETO AND CISTERNA BY A GERMAN ATTACK BEGUN AFTER VIOLENT ARTILLERY PREPARATION YESTERDAY.

(DISPATCHES FROM THE BEACHHEAD YESTERDAY INDICATED THAT THE ALLIED LINES WERE HOLDING FIRM AFTER THROWING BACK SEVERAL LOCALIZED NAZI ATTACKS WHICH WERE BELIEVED PRELIMINARY TO A MAJOR OFFENSIVE.)

MAR 3 1944

ON THE ANZIO BEACHHEAD, MARCH 1-(DELAYED)-(AP)-AT THE END OF THE SECOND DAY OF THEIR NEW ATTACK ON THE ALLIED BEACHHEAD THE GERMANS HAD SUFFERED HEAVY CASUALTIES AND THE ALLIES WERE HOLDING FIRM IN THE AREA SOUTHWEST OF CISTERNA WHERE THE THRUSTS WERE MADE.

AMERICAN TROOPS ENGAGED IN THE FIGHT SAID THE BATTLE WAS THE STIFFEST THEY HAD YET ENCOUNTERED AND THAT THE ENEMY ARTILLERY FIRE

WAS THE HEAVIEST SO FAR LAID ON THEM. THE ENEMY EFFORT TODAY WAS LESS VIGOROUS THAN THE OPENING OF THE ATTACK YESTERDAY. AT NIGHTFALL IT WAS REPORTED THE SITUATION WAS WELL IN HAND.

THE FIRST GERMAN ATTACK CAME BEFORE DAWN YESTERDAY. ALLIED ARTILLERY LAID DOWN A THICK COUNTER-BARRAGE WHICH DISORGANIZED THE ENEMY TO A CONSIDERABLE EXTENT. AMERICAN INFANTRY, SOLIDLY ENTRENCHED, HELD TO THEIR POSITIONS AND AS DAYLIGHT CAME THEY OPENED HEAVY SMALL ARMS FIRE, TAKING A HEAVY TOLL.

THEN THE GERMANS OPENED UP IN ANOTHER AREA, ABOUT FIVE MILES SOUTHWEST OF CISTERNA, BUT ALSO WERE HELD THERE UNTIL 7 P.M. TUESDAY WHEN AN AMERICAN COUNTER-ATTACK MOVED FORWARD. FIGHTING RAGED THROUGHOUT THE NIGHT, AND BY 8 O'CLOCK THIS MORNING ALL GROUND HAD BEEN RETAKEN AND A NUMBER OF PRISONERS CAPTURED.

MAR 3 1944

FIGHTING CONTINUED THROUGHOUT THE DAY AND IN ONE ATTACK THIS AFTERNOON MANY GERMANS SURRENDERED AFTER RUNNING INTO HEAVY FIRE.

A HEAVY RAIN WHICH OCCASIONALLY CHANGED TO HAILSTONES CONTINUED OVER THE BEACHHEAD AND THE GROUND BECAME EXTREMELY SOGGY. THIS CONFINED THE ATTACKING GERMAN TANKS MAINLY TO THE ROADS.

ENGINEERS TOLD HOW THEY HAD CREPT FORWARD DURING LAST NIGHT AND BLOWN UP ROADS ALONG WHICH THE GERMANS WERE MOVING.

SOME PRISONERS SAID THE ALLIED ARTILLERY FIRE WAS INFLICTING SO MANY CASUALTIES ON THE GERMAN UNITS BEFORE THEY WENT INTO ACTION THAT THEY HAD BECOME DEMORALIZED.

I HAD OCCASION TO LEARN PERSONALLY ABOUT THE ARTILLERY FIRE THE GERMANS ARE PLACING ON THIS SIDE. ON A VISIT TO THE FORWARD AREA I WAS TWICE PINNED DOWN, ONCE IN A MUDDY DITCH AND ONCE IN A FARM YARD BY CLUSTERS OF SHELLS EXPLODING NEARBY. THE GERMANS WERE SHELLING THIS PARTICULAR AREA FROM THREE DIRECTIONS.

UNLIKE YESTERDAY WHEN THEY DISTRIBUTED THEIR ARTILLERY FIRE ALL OVER THE BEACHHEAD, THE GERMANS TODAY CONFINED IT TO AREAS CLOSER TO THE ACTUAL BATTLEFIELD.

ON THE ANZIO BEACHHEAD IN ITALY, MARCH 2-(AP)-AFTER A WEEK OF RAINSTORMS AND OVERCAST SKIES, TODAY DAWNED BRIGHT AND SPARKLING ON THE BEACHHEAD WITH ONLY LIGHT CLOUDS--AN IDEAL DAY FOR AN OVERDUE BIG-SCALE AIR WALLOP AT THE ATTACKING ENEMY.

THE BEACHHEAD TROOPS WERE NOT DISAPPOINTED. BY NOON WAVES OF HEAVY BOMBERS WERE SWEEPING OVER US TOWARDS THE PERIMETER OF THE BEACHHEAD.

WITH THE BLUISH ALBAN HILLS AS A BACKGROUND, WE COULD SEE THEM DROP TONS OF BOMBS ON THE ENEMY GUNS WHICH HAD BEEN SELLING US, AND COULD HEAR THE THUDS AS THE MISSLES LANDED.

ABOVE AND AROUND THEM THE PLANES SPUN HARDLY VISIBLE, BUT EASILY DETECTED BY THEIR VAPOR TRAILS. SCANT GERMAN FLAK WENT UP.

BY MID-AFTERNOON SEVERAL MORE FORMATIONS OF BOMBERS OF VARIOUS TYPES DRONED IN TO CONTINUE THE ATTACKS.

MAR 3 1944

GERMAN FIGHTERS ATTACKED AND WE COULD SEE DOGFIGHTS. IN ONE AERIAL COMBAT WE WATCHED A BOMBER CREW BAIL OUT AT HIGH ALTITUDE, THEIR PARACHUTES GLISTENING IN THE SUN AS THEY DESCENDED. THE PILOT ALONE REMAINED IN THE BADLY-DAMAGED PLANE AND BROUGHT IT DOWN TO A SAFE CRASH-LANDING INSIDE OUR LINES.

ONE OF THE PARACHUTES WAS OUT OVER THE MEDITERRANEAN. WE SAW A PLANE FLY OVER HIM, RETURN TO LAND TO GET A RUBBER LIFEBOAT AND DROP IT TO HIM. BUT BY THIS TIME TWO RESCUE BOATS HAD ARRIVED, AND HE WAS PULLED OUT.

THE GERMANS, APPARENTLY THINKING THE AIR FORMATIONS WOULD CHEER

THE ALLIES AND BRING RENEWED GROUND ATTACKS, SENT OVER SOME BIG ANTI-PERSONNEL SHELLS WHICH BURST IN THE AIR, SCATTERING FRAGMENTS.

IT WAS RELATIVELY CALM ON THE GROUND FOLLOWING THE PETERING-OUT OF GERMAN ATTACKS YESTERDAY AS A RESULT OF THE SEVERE CASUALTIES INFLICTED BY THE AMERICANS IN THE AREA SOUTHWEST OF CISTERNA.

WITH THE CHINESE TROOPS IN NORTHERN BURMA, FEB 10-(BY MAIL)-(AP)-LT.COL.GORDON S.SEAGRAVE, 47, AUTHOR OF THE BOOK "BURMA SURGEON" AND LEADER OF THE WORLD-FAMOUS SEAGRAVE HOSPITAL UNIT, SAYS THE LIVES OF 2,000 CHINESE MAY HAVE BEEN SAVED IN THE LAST TWO YEARS "AS A RESULT OF THE CARE THEY RECEIVED IN OUR HOSPITAL," BUT FRIENDS DECLARE THAT IS A GROSS UNDER-ESTIMATE.

"I WAS SO BUSY DURING THE BATTLE OF BURMA, IN THE SPRING OF 1942, I COULDN'T KEEP TRACK OF THE PATIENTS," EXPLAINED SEAGRAVE, A NATIVE OF GRANVILLE, OHIO. "I REMEMBER DOING 150 OPERATIONS IN ONE 24-HOUR PERIOD."

SEAGRAVE, FORMER MISSIONARY DOCTOR WITH A TOTAL OF 22 YEARS IN BURMA, NOW IS ATTACHED TO LT.GEN.JOSEPH W.STILWELL'S CHINESE TROOPS WHO ARE CLEARING THE JAPANESE FROM NORTHERN BURMA SO AMERICAN ENGINEERS CAN EXTEND THE LEDO ROAD TO THE BURMA ROAD.

SEAGRAVE'S UNIT IS ACCUSTOMED TO GETTING ALONG WITH ANYTHING OR NOTHING. TWO YEARS AGO, THE DOCTOR WAS FORCED TO USE WHAT HE CALLED "WASTE-BASKET" SURGERY. THE ONLY INSTRUMENTS HE HAD WERE THOSE HE HAD BEEN ABLE TO TOSS INTO A WASTE-BASKET BEFORE THE JAPANESE CAME. NOW HE HAS ALL THE INSTRUMENTS HE NEEDS.

SEAGRAVE WOULD LIKE TO SET UP SHOP RIGHT BEHIND THE FORWARD POSITIONS -- BUT GEN.STILWELL WON'T LET HIM. HOWEVER, SOME SMALL UNITS GO RIGHT BEHIND THE FRONT LINES. THEY FREQUENTLY OPERATE WHILE BULLETS AND SHELLS FLY DANGEROUSLY CLOSE.

NINETEEN BURMESE NURSES, INCLUDING TWO PRINCESSES -- LOUISE AND PEARL -- WORK WITH THE HOSPITAL UNIT, SOME OF THEM GOING TO ADVANCE STATIONS. THEY RANGE IN AGE FROM 21 TO 30 AND HAVE SERVED WITH DR.SEAGRAVE FOR PERIODS OF SIX TO 12 YEARS. ALL WERE TRAINED PERSONALLY BY HIM.

THE DOCTOR, WHO LAST WAS IN THE UNITED STATES SIX AND ONE-HALF YEARS AGO, DOESN'T EXPECT TO RETURN UNTIL AFTER THE WAR. THEN, HE HOPES TO DRIVE AN AUTOMOBILE FROM THE ALEUTIANS TO RIO DE JANEIRO BEFORE RETURNING TO BURMA "FOR ANOTHER SIEGE OF SURGERY."

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS,SOUTHWEST PACIFIC,FRIDAY, MARCH 3 (AP)- THEIR POSITION CONSOLIDATED AND THE FIRST ENEMY COUNTER ATTACK REPULSED, AMERICAN TROOPS TODAY FIRMLY HELD LOS NEGROS ISLAND IN THE ADMIRALTY GROUP, A STRATEGIC THORN IN JAPAN'S SOUTHERN FLANK.

RECOILING FROM THE SURPRISE AMPHIBIOUS THRUST OF TUESDAY, THE JAPANESE COUNTER ATTACKED THAT NIGHT BUT WERE "BLOODILY REPULSED," GEN.DOUGLAS MACARTHUR REPORTED YESTERDAY.

(THE TOKYO RADIO SAID THURSDAY IN A BROADCAST TO CHINA THAT AN ALLIED ATTEMPT TO LAND IN THE ADMIRALTY ISLANDS "WAS REPULSED" AND THE INVADING FORCE "ENTIRELY WIPED OUT." THE REFERENCE APPARENTLY WAS TO THE INVASION OF THE LOS NEGROS ISLAND, FOR THE BROADCAST SAID THAT LATER AN ATTEMPT WAS MADE TO LAND ON MANUS ISLAND, AND ADJACENT TO LOS NEGROS, AND THE JAPANESE DEFENDERS "AGAIN INFLICTED HEAVY LOSSES" ON THE INVADING FORCES. GENERAL MACARTHUR HAS NOT REPORTED ANY OPERATION AGAINST MANUS ISLAND.)

A HEADQUARTERS SPOKESMAN SAID THE ENEMY COUNTER ATTACK ON LOS NEGROS, AGAINST DISMOUNTED UNITS OF THE FIRST CAVALRY WHICH COMPOSED THE STRIKING FORCE, WAS "PRETTY SHARP." AMERICAN LOSSES FOR THE ENTIRE OPERATION WERE OFFICIALLY REPORTED AS "NEGLIGIBLE."

ALLIED WARPLANES, STRIKING IN SUPPORT OF THE LOS NEGROS FORCES, BOMBED AND STRAFED JAPANESE REAR POSITIONS AND BLASTED ENEMY BASES ON THE PERIMETER OF THE BISMARCK SEA. THESE INCLUDED BOMB-SHATTERED RABAUL, NEUTRALIZATION OF WHICH MADE POSSIBLE THE DRIVE INTO THE ADMIRALTIES, AND WEWAK, IMPORTANT NIPPONESE AIR BASE TO THE SOUTH-WEST ON THE COAST OF NEW GUINEA.

OLEN CLEMENTS, ASSOCIATED PRESS WAR CORRESPONDENT, REPORTED FROM THE ADMIRALTY ISLANDS THAT THE JAP

NESE DID NOT DETECT THE APPROACH OF THE AMPHIBIOUS FORCE AND THE FIRST WAVE GAINED THE SHORE OF LOS NEGROS WITHOUT A SCRATCH. THE NEXT TWO WAVES, HOWEVER, WERE CAUGHT IN HEAVY FIRE FROM ENEMY SHORE BATTERIES.

GUNS OF THE DESTROYERS COMPOSING THE AMPHIBIOUS FORCE COVERED THE ASSAULT TROOPS AND MEDIUM BOMBERS BOMBED AND STRAFED THE ENEMY IN LOW SWEEPS OVER THE BEACHES.

MAR 3 1944

CLEMENTS REPORTED THAT EVERY STATE IN THE UNION, WASHINGTON, D.C., PUERTO RICO AND HAWAII WERE REPRESENTED IN THE INVADING FORCE. THE HEAVIEST CONTINGENTS WERE FROM TEXAS. NEW YORK. OHIO AND PENNSYLVANIA.

AN ADVANCED BASE, NEW GUINEA, FEB. 29 -(DELAYED)-(AP)- GREEN CLAD AMERICAN SHOCK TROOPS, SWARMING ASHORE FROM A NEW TYPE "INVASION EXPRESS" USED BY GEN. DOUGLAS MACARTHUR FOR THE FIRST TIME IN THE SOUTHWEST PACIFIC CAPTURED AND HELD MOMOTE AIRDROME IN THE FIRST LANDING ON LOS NEGROS ISLAND IN THE ADMIRALTY GROUP TODAY.

APPEARING SUDDENLY OUT OF THE BLACK RAIN CLOUDS OFF THE ISLANDS, THE INVASION FLEET OF FAST DESTROYERS MET LITTLE OPPOSITION IN ANOTHER OF MACARTHUR'S LIGHTNING THRUSTS AT ONE OF THE ENEMY'S STRATEGIC AIR INSTALLATIONS.

TO AERIAL OBSERVERS IT APPEARED AS SIMPLE AS THIS:

GREEN, SNUBNOSED LANDING CRAFT THREADED THEIR WAY SINGLE FILE THROUGH THE REEF FILLED WATERS OF HYANE HARBOR EVEN WHILE LOW FLYING MITCHELL BOMBERS STRAFED AND BOMBED THE LANDING BEACH.

THREE TIMES WITHIN NINE MINUTES THE MITCHELLS HAMMERED AT THE BEACH AND THE STEEL HELMETED TROOPS OF THE DISMOUNTED FIRST DIVISION CAVALRY SWARMED ASHORE AND TURNED TOWARD MOMOTE AIRDROME.

MAR 3 1944

AT 9:55 A.M. THE RADIO CRACKLED AND SIGNED OFF THEZ WITH THE SIGNATURE "GANGWAY", AND WAITING WARSHIPS KNEW THAT THE FIRST TROOPS HAD SUCCESSFULLY MADE SHORE.

MINUTES LATER THE MITCHELLS HEARD THE RADIO WARN TROOPS NOT TO FIRE ON A TRUCK ON THE AIRSTRIP "BECAUSE WE GOT IT."

WITHIN AN HOUR AFTER THE LANDING, THE 5,000 FOOT AIRSTRIP IN FAIR CONDITION WAS IN AMERICAN HANDS.

THIS STORY OF THE INVASION OF THE NORTHERNMOST ISLANDS ATTACKED THUS FAR BY MACARTHUR'S TROOPS IS ONE AS SEEN BY PILOTS OF THE " BATES OUT OF HELL" BOMBER UNIT WHO BRAVED HEAVY TROPICAL STORMS TO GIVE THE TROOPS AERIAL SUPPORT.

THEY ARRIVED ON THE TARGETS AFTER THE WARSHIPS -- THERE WERE NO LUMBERING TROOP SHIPS TO SLOW UP THE CONVOY, THE LANDING FORCE MOVING ABOARD DESTROYERS.

"THE WEATHER WAS TERRIBLE", SAID LT. RICHARD REINBOLD, 25 LINVILLE ROAD, NEWARK, OHIO. "BUT WHILE IT WAS BAD FOR US IT PROBABLY WAS BEST IN THE LONG RUN BECAUSE IT SERVED AS A COMPLETE COVER FOR THE WARSHIPS."

"A 70-MILE FRONT, IT APPEARED LIKE A BLACK LINE, STRETCHED OUT AWAY FROM LOS NEGROS AND RISING AS HIGH AS 15,000 FEET AND DROPPING WITH IN 900 FEET OF THE WATER.

"AT 9:16 A.M. WE BROKE OUT OF THE FRONT AND WITHIN MINUTES COULD SEE OUR WARSHIPS LINED UP IN POSITION.

"TO THE SOUTHWEST WERE DESTROYERS LYING BROADSIDE TO THE SHORE.

TO THE SOUTH WERE OTHER DESTROYERS AND LITTLE HIGGINS BOATS ALREADY HEAD PUT OFF TOWARD SHORE. THE WARSHIPS WERE FIRING.

LT.LOUIS HIGGINS OF DECATUR,ILL., SAID THE "ARSHIPS WERE ONE BIG BALL OF FIRE FROM ONE END TO ANOTHER WHEN THEY FIRED."

REINBOLD SAID THE PLANES CAME IN ALONG THE BEACH AT "MINIMUM LEVEL HEIGHT," AND LT.JAMES M.MAHAFFEY, 2117 PARK ST., COLUMBIA,S.C., EXPLAINED THAT "MINIMUM HEIGHT MEANS THAT WHEN WE SEE A TREE WE PULL UP."

"AT THIS TIME," REINBOLD SAID, "THE HIGGINS BOATS, THE FIRST WAVE OF THEM, WERE IN ABOUT THE CENTER OF THE HARBOR AND WE WENT IN FOR A SECOND PASS, SHOOTING EVERYTHING WE HAD AND DROPPING 500-POUND BOMBS. IF THERE WERE ANY JAPS DOWN THERE THEY WERE TOO BUSY TO WORRY ABOUT THE LANDING BOATS COMING IN.

"THEN WE WENT IN FOR THE THIRD STRIKE AND HE LANDING BOATS WERE ONLY ABOUT 100 YARDS OFF THE BEACH. WE COULD SEE THEM AND THE MEN WAVED TO US AS WE WENT PAST KEEPING OUR GUNS HOT FOR THE ENTIRE LENGTH OF THE TARGET. WE ALSO COULD SEE OTHER BOATS PUTTING OUT FROM THE WARSHIPS FOR THE SECOND WAVE.

"THE HIGGINS BOATS HAD A TOUGH JOB GOING THROUGH THE NARROW PASSAGE INTO THE HARBOR AND THEY WERE GOING IN SINGLE FILE WHEN WE SAW THEM.

MAR 3 1944

"WE COVERED THE TARGET THOROUGHLY AND WHEN WE LEFT THE BEACH WAS PRETTY WELL COVERED WITH CRATERS FROM BOMBS AND SHELLS FROM THE NAVAL BOMBARDMENT."

MOMOTE AIRFIELD IS LONG BY JAPANESE STANDARDS, AND THE REVETMENT AREAS ARE WELL CONSTRUCTED. FURTHERMORE, IT IS ONLY 15,000 YARDS FROM THE SECOND JAPANESE FIELD AT LORENGAU ON MANUA ISLAND, ACROSS A NARROW STRIP OF WATER EAST OF LOS NEGROS ISLAND.

THE LORENGAU FIELD IS ONLY 3,500 FEET LONG AND NOT SO GOOD AS MOMOTE'S

MOMOTE FIELD HAD BEEN BOMBED FREQUENTLY BY ALLIED PLANES BUT IN RECENT MONTHS HASN'T BEEN USED MUCH BY THE JAPANESE. PILOTS SAID THEY COULD SEE NO PLANES EITHER ON THE STRIP OR IN THE REVETMENTS.

FROM A STRATEGICAL STANDPOINT MOMOTE WAS A LINK IN A CHAIN OF BASES BY WHICH THE JAPANESE COULD SHUTTLE PLANES FROM BASES FARTHER NORTH TO NEW GUINEA, NEW BRITAIN AND NEW IRELAND POINTS.

IN AMERICAN HANDS IT IS FAR MORE IMPORTANT, HOWEVER, BECAUSE IT CUTS OFF THE JAPANESE LINES CONNECTING WITHUEWAK, ON THE NEW GUINEA COAST, AND RABAUL, NEW BRITAIN, AND KAVIENG, NEW IRELAND, AND MOVES MACARTHUR'S BOMBERS LINE FAR NORTHWARD FROM THE LATEST NEW BASE AT CAPE GLOUCESTER, NEW BRITAIN.

MAR 3 1944

ABOARD THE BOMBER MARY LEE OVER RABAUL, NEW BRITAIN, FEB 29-(DELAYED)-(AP)-THE PILOT BANKED THE MARY LEE ONTO THE BOMB RUN AND AS WE ROARED OVER SIMPSON HARBOR THROUGH A SKY FULL OF ACK-ACK I SAW THE BEGINNING OF THE END OF THE TOWN OF RABAUL.

IT WAS A GOOD SIZED TROPICAL SETTLEMENT LYING BETWEEN JUNGLE-COVERED HILLS AND THE BAY. THEN, FIVE MINUTES LATER, I SAW THE SWIFT AND SMASHING CHANGE; DOZENS OF BUILDINGS HAD BEEN BLASTED INTO BITS, FIRES RAGED FROM ALMOST EVERY SECTION, PILLARS OF SMOKE ALREADY REACHED HALF WAY TO THE CLOUDS.

MAR 3 1944

CAPT.M.W.LONGWILL OF DES MOINES, N.MEX., PILOTED THE MARY LEE, A MITCHELL MEDIUM BOMBER, FROM WHICH I WATCHED THE RAID.

IT WAS THE SECOND AND HEAVIEST SMASH AT THE TOWN PROPER-THE HUB OF THE TOTTERING KEYSTONE OF JAPAN'S SOUTH PACIFIC DEFENSES.

WITH THE SURROUNDING AIRFIELDS LARGELY NEUTRALIZED, BOMBERS ON FEB. 28 TURNED THEIR ATTENTION TO THE TOWN WHICH WAS JAMMED WITH JAPANESE INSTALLATIONS AND TROOPS. AFTER WATCHING THE DEVASTATION WROUGHT BY TWO SQUADRONS OF MITCHELLS FROM THE 13TH ARMY AIR FORCE IN THE SOLOMONS, IT DOESN'T LOOK TO ME AS THOUGH THERE WOULD BE MUCH LEFT OF THE PLACE AFTER A COUPLE OF WEEKS OF THIS TREATMENT. THE PLACE APPEARS TO BE A MESS ALREADY.

MAR 3 1944

RABAUL WAS THE FIRST JAPANESE-OCCUPIED TOWN OF ANY SIZE OR CONSEQUENCE IN THE SOUTH LARIFIC TO FEEL THE FURY OF ALLIED BOMBERS.

BEFORE THE WAR THE TOWN HAD A POPULATION OF AROUND 30,000, BUT IT LOOKED BIGGER THAN THAT WHEN WE CAME OVER.

WE CROSSED ST.GEORGE CHANNEL AT LESS THAN 15,000 FEET. ONE SQUADRON OF MITCHELLS MADE A WIDE CIRCLE AND CAME UP MALAGUNA ROAD, RABAUL'S MAIN STREET. WE COULD SEE THEIR BOMBS EXPLODING AS WE APPROACHED.

WE CAME IN FROM SIMPSON HARBOR AND SMACKED THE PLACE AROUND THE WATERFRONT AND INDUSTRIAL INSTALLATIONS NEAR THE HARBOR.

THE MARY LEE WAS THE LAST PLANE IN THE LAST ELEMENT OF OUR SQUADRON-THE "PURPLE HEART" ELEMENT THE BOYS CALL IT, BECAUSE THE ACK-ACK USUALLY GETS PRETTY SHARP BY THE TIME THE LAST PLANES GO OVER.

SUDDENLY THE AIR AHEAD OF US WAS FULL OF BOMBS SPEWING FROM THE BELLIES OF THE TWIN-TAILED BOMBERS. JUST BEFORE A CLOUD OBSCURED THE VIEW I SAW ONE OF THE BOMBS HIT A BUILDING NEAR A DOCK AND BLOW IT APART WITH AN ORANGE FLASH.

2ND LT.A.W.BLAKE OF HAMDEN, CONN., OUR BOMBARDIER, PHONED LONGWILL THAT OUR BOMB BAY DOORS WERE OPEN AND "WE ARE ALREADY OVER THE TARGET."

"OKAY, LET 'EM GO," DRAWLED LONGWILL.

THE MARY LEE BOUNCED WITH NEW BUOYANCE, AS THOUGH HAPPY TO BE FREE OF HER LETHAL LOAD. THE BOMBS SLID DOWN INTO THE CLOUDS.

"THIS IS THE TIME FOR ALL GOOD AIRPLANES TO GET THE HELL OUT OF HERE," SAID LONGWILL, BANKING TOWARD SIMPSON HARBOR AND GIVING THE MARY LEE ALL THE SOUP SHE COULD TAKE.

WE HAD BEEN FLYING THROUGH ANGRY PUFFS OF ACK-ACK. A COUPLE OF HUNDRED FEET BELOW A VERITABLE RIVULET OF BLACK BURSTS WAS FLOWING BY. IT SEEMED MIRACULOUS TO ME, BUT PRESENTLY WE WERE OVER ST. GEORGE CHANNEL AGAIN AND OUT OF RANGE, AND NOBODY HAD BEEN HIT.

WE LOOKED BACK AT THE DESTRUCTION WE HAD CAUSED. STAFF SGT. LAWRENCE DRAKE OF ROYAL OAK, MICH., OUR ENGINEER, YELLED "IT LOOKS LIKE SOMEBODY HIT A BIG OIL DUMP."

AT FULL SPEED ANY OF THESE MARINE MEDIUM TANKS COULD HAVE GONE FROM END TO END OF THE ISLAND IN FOUR MINUTES IF UNSTOPPED. BUT

3o.24—13395

THIS IS THE SECOND DAY OF THEIR BATTLE EXPERIENCE AND THEY ALREADY HAVE LEARNED A LOT.

ONE THING IS NOT TO GO TEARING FROM END TO END OF THE ISLAND NEEDLESSLY. SO THEY STOPPED FREQUENTLY ALONG THE WAY. CAESAR KNOCKED OVER A SMALL NATIVE HOUSE JUST IN CASE THERE MIGHT BE SOME JAPANESE IN IT. SHIRLEY SQUASHED A CAREFULLY BUILT LOG PILLBOX. CAESAR MADE A HORRIBLE MESS OF WHAT HAD BEEN A JAPANESE IN A FOXHOLE. THE OTHER FOUR WERE BUSY ABOUT SIMILAR BUSINESS AMONG THE COCOANUTS.

ALL WERE FAIRLY CLOSE TOGETHER WHEN IT HAPPENED. THERE'S NO TELLING NOW WHAT THE DRIVERS OF THE TWO JAPANESE LIGHT TANKS HAD IN MIND WHEN THEY CHARGED OUT DIRECTLY IN FRONT OF THE AMERICAN BEHEMOTHS.

SGT.WALTER "DUTCH" SCHULTZ, 23-YEAR-OLD MILWAUKEEAN (3126 NORTH WEIL ST) WAS DRIVING THE COBRA AND BARELY HAD TIME TO SHIFT HEADS WHEN LT.BENJAMIN BONAWAY, 1637 THIRD STREET, NEW ORLEANS, YELLED OVER THE RADIO TO ALL THE TANKS. THEY CONVERGED.

PFC DAN W.SMITH, 230 CABLE STREET, WATERLOO,IOWA, SWUNG CAESAR AROUND; AND SHIRLEY WAS RIGHT IN FRONT OF THE LEADING JAPANESE TANK WHICH OPENED FIRE WITH ITS 37 MM GUN. SO DID THE AMERICANS, LED BY COBRA, WHICH CLAIMED ONE TANK FOR ITS OWN AND FINISHED IT OFF WITH THREE SHOTS.

MAR 3 1944

SGT.GEORGE RYAN, 114-15 117TH STREET, OZONE PARK, QUEENS COUNTY, NEW YORK, WAS LOOKING OUT. "WHEN WE HIT THE JAP TANK," HE SAID, "THE TURRET ROSE RIGHT UP OFF IT SO WE COULD SEE DAYLIGHT UNDER IT. THEN IT FELL BACK DOWN AND CLEAR OFF THE TANK."

PFC LUKE THOMAS SHERIDAN, 5252 SOUTH WELLS, CHICAGO, HELPING DRIVE THE COBRA, WAS SO BUSY HE DIDN'T SEE THE FUN WHEN HIS TANK HAD THE FIRST CHANCE IN ITS HISTORY TO ENGAGE AN ENEMY ARMORED VEHICLE. PFC FRANK BULAN, CASTLETON,N.Y., FIRED THE FATAL SHOTS.

"YEAH, I SAW A COUPLE OF THEM COME OUT OF THE JAP TURRET," BULAN SAID. "THEY LOOKED LIKE THEY'D BEEN BLOWN OUT. THERE WAS SO MUCH FIRING I COULDN'T TELL WHETHER THEY WERE ALREADY DEAD THEN OR NOT."

PFC MILTON EDWARDS, SAN ANTONIO,TEX., SAID THE BODIES WENT 20 FEET IN THE AIR FROM THE FORCE OF THE EXPLOSION OF A SHELL WITHIN THE ENEMY TANK.

OVER IN CAESAR EVERYBODY WAS BUSY. ASSISTANT DRIVER CPL.JOSEPH SICMOND, 22 WILLS ST., PITTSBURGH,PA., SAID HE HAD JUST ONE FEAR--"THAT THEY'D RUN INTO US BEFORE WE COULD GET THEM. THEY WERE ONLY ABOUT TEN FEET AWAY."

SGT.G.G.HOPE, 308 JACKSON ST., RENSSELAER,IND., SAID HE WAS POSITIVE OF TWO DIRECT HITS ON ONE ENEMY TANK.

CPL.THOMAS E.KANE, WALPOLE,MASS., HAD NOTHING TO SAY. HE JUST WIPED THE BAND OF HIS HELMET OVER AND OVER AGAIN.

SHIRLEY TOOK SEVERAL HITS. NONE OF THE OTHERS WERE HIT IN THE FIVE MINUTE FIGHT.

TODAY'S BRIEF FIGHT MARKED THE FIRST APPEARANCE OF JAPANESE ARMORED VEHICLES IN MOTION IN THE PACIFIC SINCE GUADALCANAL. MOST OF THE ISLANDS CAPTURED DURING THE LAST FEW MONTHS HAD A FEW JAPANESE TANKS ON THEM BUT UNTIL TODAY THEY INVARIABLY WERE IMMOBILE, BEING USED SIMPLY AS PILLBOXES.

RECEIVED BY THE OWI.

An obituary notice in the Feb.11 issue of the Berlin newspaper Deutsche Allgemeine Zeitung disclosed that Lt.Gen. Berthold Von Deimling, who commanded the 15th german army corps on the estern front, had died at the age of 91.

The Berlin radio announced the death on the Russian front of Theobold Habicht,43, who was leader of the 1934 putsch on vienna that was blocked when Mussolini decided to support the Dollfuss government of austria. Habicht was an early Nazi and was assigned to organization work for the party in austria. After the failure of his putsch he held minor posts. He was a captain at the time of his death the broadcast said.

Both reports were received by the OWI.

U.S. Planes Fly Over Berlin First Time; Fortresses Make Their Third Rome Raid; Russia to Get One-third of Italian Fleet

R. A. F. Is Revealed to Be Dropping Six-ton Blockbusters on Germany Now—New Developments in Air.

MAR 4 1944 BEALMEAR

London, March 3 (A. P.).—Berlin was attacked by American planes for the first time today when formations of fighters, probably the new long-range Mustangs, carried out an offensive sweep over the German capital by daylight.

Their guns barking portents of things to come, the fighters penetrated at least 575 miles from their British bases to reach the target, carrying out the attack while heavy bombers of the Eighth United States Air Force were hammering at industrial and shipping targets in Northwest Germany and American medium bombers were smashing at Nazi airfields in France.

This was "the first time formations of American Air Force aircraft have flown over the German capital," a preliminary announcement said.

There was no indication in early information that the fighter planes had sought to attack targets in Berlin, which up to now has been assaulted solely by the R. A. F.

[This disclosure may presage a sweep by American heavy bombers over the German capitol, until recently considered too distant from British bases for daylight bombing because fighter planes accompanying the American Air Force had been restricted to coverage of flights at targets less distant from England. A round trip to Berlin from the British coast is 980 miles.]

A Bigger Block-buster.

This disclosure came on the heels of other air announcements.

1. The R. A. F. has developed a 12,000-pound bomb, two tons heavier than block busters previously disclosed, and it is using it on special targets.

2. The American heavy bombers, pounding Germany for the second straight day, concentrated on undisclosed objectives in the northwest sector of the Reich while medium Marauders were slashing at German airfields in northern France.

R. A. F. formations went out for their second successive night of pounding at German targets only a few hours before the American bombers headed for the Reich today. They hit aircraft factories near Paris and at Albert in northern France using the new six-ton bombs on the latter assault.

This new giant R. A. F. weapon of destruction was invented by British scientists for attacks on special targets.

"Its destructive effect on a big factory is already proved to be enormous," the Air Ministry said. "A few of these bombs brought down the greater part of the very large Gnome-Rhone Aero engine works at Limoges on the night of February 8."

The gigantic missile was carried in the bellies of Lancaster bombers which attacked a German aircraft factory at Albert, in northern France, last night.

"Night photographs showed the 12,000-pounders hit the factory fair and square," the announcement continued. "The crews had been given strict instructions to bring the bombs back if there was the slightest doubt about identifying and hitting the target."

"To produce a bomb of this size was a remarkable feat of engineering. There was far more to it than merely enlarging an ordinary bomb. Many problems of technical development had to be solved."

All Right on Target.

Describing last night's operations, a squadron leader said he made a very careful search for the factory buildings.

"They were well camouflaged by the Germans," he said. "When I was absolutely certain, my deputy leader put the markers right in the middle works. The rest of the crews bombed and the 12,000-pounders went off one after another within a very few yards of the aiming point. The whole attack took about a quarter of an hour. Each bomb was deliberately and carefully aimed."

"Immediately after the first bomb went off there was intense fire and a cloud of dense smoke."

R. A. F. bombers have been carrying the giant bombs for at least a month but the existence of the "super-super blockbusters" has been a closely guarded military secret.

The American heavy bombers pounded Germany for the second straight day today, concentrating on undisclosed objectives in the northwest sector while medium Marauders slashed at German airfields in northern France.

The United States bombers were escorted by fighters of both the Eighth and Ninth American Air Forces as well as Allied fighters, an indication that the operation was of considerable size.

The widespread daylight smashes also included stabs at the French "rocket gun" sector by R. A. F. fighter-bombers.

R. A. F. formations, taking to the air last night for their second successive night, had hammered aircraft factories near Paris and at Albert in northern France only a few hours before.

The R. A. F.'s night operations, including Mosquito slashes at western Germany and mine-laying in enemy waters, were carried out without loss.

LIGHTNINGS MEET NO OPPOSITION AT GERMAN CAPITAL

MAR 4 1944

Fighters Fail to Find Enemy Aircraft, Return to Britain Safely.

BOMBERS HIT REICH

Industrial, Shipping Targets in Northwest Germany Raided by Yanks.

HERALD TRIBUNE

LONDON, March 3.—(AP) Fleet twin-engined, twin-fuselage P-38 Lightning fighters of the U. S. Eighth Air force carried out an offensive sweep over Berlin today, marking the first time that formations of American aircraft had flown over the German capital.

The sweep was made as American Flying Fortresses and Liberators blasted industrial and shipping targets in northwest Germany and American medium Marauders smashed Nazi airfields in France. In all these operations six American fighters and ten bombers were missing, and eight enemy fighters counted shot down.

R.A.F. In New Attack

After dark, R.A.F. heavy bombers in formations—which coastal observers described as the largest in weeks—roared eastward to strike a new night blow at the continent.

U. S. Air force headquarters announced simply that the Lightnings had "carried out an offensive sweep" over Berlin, but it was learned later that the fighters, after flying at least 575 miles to their target, raced back and forth across the city at high altitudes for several minutes without opposition.

The Lightnings were looking for trouble while the heavy bombers were hitting the northwest German targets, but they apparently failed to find it, for the returning pilots made no claims of damaging or destroying enemy aircraft.

Second Daylight Raid

The Lightning dash over Berlin marked only the second time that daylight offensive operations over Berlin have been reported. On Jan. 30, 1943, R.A.F. Mosquitos, also twin-engined, twice bombed the city by daylight to disorganize the celebration of the tenth anniversary of Hitler's rise to power.

The exact targets hit by the heavy bombers in northwest Germany were not immediately identified, but reporting on one job done there, Lt. Dan B. McKay, 21, of Mangham, La., said that "it was clear over that particular target and we got a good bomb run and bombed visually."

As the Americans were rounding out 48 hours of almost continuous assault on Nazi targets in Europe, the British Air ministry disclosed that its powerful Lancaster heavy bombers were now using a 12,000-pound bomb with enormous destructive effects, a new "super-super blockbuster" designed by British scientists for destroying special targets.

The long-range American fighters were the first American warplanes ever seen over Berlin, although some fighters previously had come within sight of the capital while escorting bombers on penetrations to Leipzig, about 100 miles to the southwest.

Few Nazis Seen

The American heavies rose in force for their daylight smash at northwest Germany, but their operations were impeded by cloud-banks rising sometimes to a height of six miles. A few packs of Nazi fighters were observed riding the top of the overcast but with little inclination to challenge the bombers' guns or those of escorting Thunderbolts, Lightnings, Mustangs and Spitfires.

The Marauders by contrast enjoyed clear weather over France and made a highly-successful series of bombings without loss to themselves or escorting Spitfires.

The French airfields hit by the Marauders are believed to have been used as bases for the recent night raids on London. All the targets are about 60 miles northwest of Paris, more than 130 miles inland and the deepest point of Marauder penetration in almost eight months of operation from Britain. The airfields are at Rosieres-en-Santerre, Montdidier, Beauvais-Tille and Laon.

These crews saw no enemy planes, although the weather was clear enough to permit pin-point bombing.

All types of Allied aircraft took part in today's operations, which included an assault on German installations along the "rocket gun coast" of France by Mitchells, Bostons and Mosquitos working with a protective cover of Typhoon escorts.

U. S. HEAVIES BOMB ROME'S RAIL LINES

MAR 4 1944

Yanks Take To Air As Ground Fighting Slows In Italy

KENNEDY

Allied Headquarters, Naples, March 3 (AP)—American heavy bombers struck a new blow at the enemy's railway communications through Rome today as the Italian campaign entered a new deadlock following the breakdown of a third German attempt to smash the Allies' Anzio beachhead.

Despite bad weather which blanketed much of the peninsula, Flying Fortresses spread wreckage through the Littorio and Tiburtina rail yards in outlying sections of the capital, while Liberators bombed Viterbo airfield, 35 miles north of the city, which has served as one of the Nazis' main military air bases in central Italy.

Rail Yards Jammed

Fortress bombadiers reported they caught Rome's main rail yards crammed with German supply trains and scored many direct hits on rolling stock, tracks and warehouses. The attack was made in perfect visibility. The flyers followed strict instructions to avoid all risk of damaging cultural and religious treasures.

The Germans threw up heavy anti-aircraft fire and some Nazi fighters challenged the raiders.

Marauder medium bombers followed the big fellows in and attacked Rome's Ostiense rail yards, also with good effect, an announcement said. Other Liberator formations raided enemy fighter bases at Fabrica and Canino north of Rome.

Rome's Fifth Bombing

This was the fifth time the Eternal City had been bombed by the Allies. The yards hit today are along the main rail route for German military traffic from northern Italy to the battle areas. They are several miles from Vatican City. Reports indicated that all targets were well covered by the fighter-escorted bombers.

After a single day of sunshine yesterday, which permitted some 1,600 Allied planes to deliver heavy blows at German troop concentrations and gun positions, more spring rain poured down today and deepened the Italian mud.

A "Costly Failure"

Until the advent of more favorable weather, the Allied command is proceeding with plans for continuing the assault against the German defense line that stretches across Italy from a point 60 miles below the beachhead.

The latest enemy attempt to liquidate the Allied holding near Rome was described officially today as a "costly failure." The crack American Third Division, which bore the brunt of the German attack, was credited with having scored "a complete defensive success."

Extremely heavy casualties again were inflicted upon the attacking German forces, and the weaknesses incurred by such efforts may eventually prove the undoing of Field Marshal Albert Kesselring's army. Probably half of a force of over 70 Nazi tanks that led this week's offensive were destroyed or knocked out of action.

The main point brought out by the latest fighting on both fronts is that the Germans, though now lacking the enthusiasm and offensive power which enabled them to sweep through Europe early in the war, still are capable of firm defensive fighting.

Evidence Cited

Events on the Cassino front, where Lieut. Gen. Mark W. Clark's Fifth Army troops still are being held up, and the determination with which the Nazis threw a containing ring around the beachhead are evidence of German defense strength.

Yesterday's aerial pounding of enemy gun positions around the beachhead had the immediate effect of reducing German artillery fire. For days the Nazis had been pouring shells into every part of the 100-square-mile area with unnerving effect, but after the Allied planes dropped some 40,000 fragmentation bombs yesterday this barrage dwindled appreciably.

Several bomber crewmen who parachuted to the beachhead after their planes were hit by Nazi anti-aircraft fire were thanked volubly by Allied ground troops for their work on the German cannon.

The Third Division, which burrowed into its foxholes and littered the ground with German dead on Tuesday, is known as "the Rock of the Marne" for having stopped a German attack on the banks of that French stream in 1918. Most of its men come from the Pacific Coast.

BRITISH U. P. EXPLAINS STORY

MAR 4 1944

M. O. I. Picked Up Its Report of Beat-Roosevelt Fund.

London, March 3 (A. P.).—The statement of Elmer Davis, director of the Office of War Information, identifying the British United Press as the news agency that sent to England a story to the effect that President Roosevelt's opponents were raising $50,000,000 to defeat him if he runs for a fourth time, elicited a reply from the British United Press today.

Frank Fisher, the managing editor, said: "The story . . . was cabled to London as a routine part of the news report for British clients and the B. U. P. has no knowledge of how or why it later appeared in a folder distributed by the Ministry of Information to newly arrived American troops."

[The British United Press is a subsidiary of the United Press, the American news agency. Mr. Davis identified the B. U. P. as the agency in question in a letter to Senator Byrd (D.-Va.), who had characterized the story as "obvious propaganda." Previously the OWI had said that it was put in the Ministry of Information paper by a local editor without the knowledge of the Ministry and that its reproduction was a mistake in judgment on the editor's part.]

Tells How It Happened.

The story, published in British newspapers on January 30, was subsequently reproduced as follows, in a four-page newspaper distributed by the Information Ministry: "Roosevelt's opponents are ready to spend $50,000,000 to beat him if—as they assume—he makes a fourth-term bid for President at the November elections."

Discussing the incident at a conference with American correspondents yesterday, Brendan Bracken, the Minister of Information, said: "When I read that story about the M. O. I. sheet of welcome was given around to soldiers who land in all the ports—what happened is that the welcome sheet is like a parish magazine which we have in England. Part of it is full of worthy sentiments, letters from the Prime Minister; and the local editor who is, generally speaking, the producer of the newspaper in the district, sticks in any cable that comes in quickly, so that the American soldier gets the feeling he has got the latest home news.

"This sheet contained a Washington telegram and it was described as publicity, carefully sent out by the M. O. I. to get the troops to vote for the President. It is a very curious thing that the local editor should pick up a cable from Washington and that that should be regarded as British interference in the American election.

"We shall get more stories before the election is over, so I hope you will try and debunk stories that are put out. It is only done to make trouble between the two countries."

12,000-Pound Bomb Now Used By RAF

London, March 3 (AP)—Bombs weighing 12,000 pounds are now crashing down on German targets with enormous destructive effects, the Air Ministry disclosed tonight.

The largest previously-announced bomb used by the RAF was a four tonner.

This new giant RAF weapon of destruction was invented by British scientists for attacks on special targets.

"Its destructive effect on a big factory is already proved to be enormous," the Air Ministry said. "A few of these bombs brought down the greater part of the very large Gnome-Rhone Aero Engine Works at Limoges on the night of February 8."

"The crews had been given strict instructions to bring the bombs back if there was the slightest doubt about identifying and hitting the target."

1,150-Mile Round Trip

LONDON, March 3 (AP). — The dash over the German capital today by American Lightning planes —involving a flight 575 miles each way—marked only the second time that daylight offensive operations over Berlin have been reported. On Jan. 30, 1943, R. A. F. Mosquitoes, also twin-engined, twice bombed the city in daylight to disorganize a celebration of the tenth anniversary of Adolf Hitler's rise to power.

Although the long-range American fighters were the first American warplanes ever seen over Berlin, some fighters previously had come within sight of the German capital while escorting bombers on penetrations to Leipzig, about 100 miles southwest.

AMERICAN ACE IS SHOT DOWN

MAR 4 1944

Major Walter C. Beckham Reported Missing In Action

AGENCY

London, March 3 (AP)—Major Walter Carl Beckham, the leading American fighter ace in the European theater of operations, who was officially listed tonight as missing in action, was the victim of a single burst from a German anti-aircraft gunner, who accomplished what scores of German fighter pilots had tried and failed to do.

The 27-year-old Thunderbolt pilot from De Funiak Springs, Fla., who had 18 victories to his credit, went down recently with the safety of the other flyers of his wing uppermost in his mind.

"Take the boys home, George," he called over the radio as flak bit into his ship. "I can't make it."

"George"—Lieut. George Perpente, of New Brunswick, N. J., hesitated. And again the radio barked with an order from Beckham, "Get the hell out of here. Take a course of 310 degrees, stay low and get going. I hope to see you all later."

Last Seen Flying High

Then Beckham nosed his plane up to get altitude, apparently in an effort to bail out. When last seen, the Southerner was up about 12,000 feet and still flying, although his plane was afire.

While bringing down 18 of the German air force's best, Beckham established another record. Never during all the battles in which he participated did a bullet from a Nazi plane ever scratch the paint of the Thunderbolt he flew.

He got his 17th and 18th planes February 8, bringing him within eight of the World War American record of 26 established by Capt. Eddie Rickenbacker.

Hit Strafing Airfield

"Just before Beckham was hit we had turned our escort job over to another group," Perpente said, "and we were coming back home, flying fairly high. Beckham spotted an airfield with several planes parked along a runway. He took one flight of four ships down to strafe the place.

"We dived to about tree-top level and roared in over the hangars at pretty close to 500 miles an hour, shooting for all we were worth. As we neared the end of the field Beckham pulled up a little and that's when it happened. Some ground gunner got in his lucky shot."

The combination of courage, great flying ability, coolness under fire, and a lot of luck, brought Major Beckham his record. Fellow fliers said, "He was the best damn pilot in this or any other theater."

The shot which brought him down was like the lucky German blast which brought down Paddy Finucane, one of Britain's best, who plunged into the Channel in July, 1942.

Attended Vanderbilt

Beckham's father, Walter C. Beckham, lives in Panama City, Fla., where the pilot graduated from high school. Beckham attended Vanderbilt University at Nashville, Tenn., before enlisting as an aviation cadet in April, 1941.

He had been awarded the Distinguished Service Cross "for extraordinary heroism in the face of danger," the Silver Star for gallantry in action, the Distinguished Flying Cross and the Air Medal with three oak leaf clusters.

200,000 British Bomb Casualties

Sheffield, England, March 3 (AP). Home Security Minister Herbert Morrison said in a speech tonight that 50,324 British civilians have been killed by bombs and 163,075 have been injured.

He said that the renewed raids on London were not so bad as the German air force's "worst performances" of 1940-41 but "there have been some few episodes comparable with the worst single incidents of the big blitzes."

"The high-explosive bombs are just as nasty as they were in 1940-41," he added.

The Home Secretary said that the strategem of dropping metal strips to confuse the enemy's detection devices was developed for the RAF and later adopted by the Germans, but "they save more of our bombers than they can of the Luftwaffe, and they have saved very many of our bombers and their precious crews."

British Silent on Nazi Claim

Non-Committal on Report Raids Destroyed Bank of England

LONDON, March 3 (AP).—Broadcast German claims that London's Greenwich Observatory and naval school and the Bank of England were destroyed in recent German air raids on the British capital brought non-committal answers today.

"Mind you, we're not telling whether they are even damaged," one authority warned, "because Jerry obviously is fishing for information. But even if everything was done to them that D. N. B (the German news agency) claims I would like to point out that none comes near to being a military objective in the strict sense."

LONDON, March 3 (AP).—A Berlin broadcast said today that German light naval forces shelled the Corsican harbor of Bastia Wednesday night "with good results." There was no confirmation from Allied sources.

Says He's Father of Quadruplets

MAR 4 1944

WM. S. WHITE

London, March 3 (A. P.).—Staff Sergt. William Thompson Jr., 26 years old, of Pittsburgh, Pa., sat pale and tense at United States Army headquarters here tonight and told the world that he is the father of Norah Carpenter's quadruplets, one of whom had died earlier today.

Flanked by Army officers, he handed out a written statement which had been typed for him, but which, he said, was wholly his own.

"I want to state publicly that I am the father of Norah Carpenter's babies," the statement said, continuing:

"Norah and I are not married but we hope to be. We always will stick together and do all we can for the children because we understand each other and are not ashamed.

"Norah and I have known each other since two days after I arrived in England. When Norah and I heard that she was to have a baby I told my commanding officer and at that time I voluntarily signed a paper stating that I was the expectant father. Furthermore I wrote my wife last June and told her about Norah and me and asked her for a divorce.

Regrets Notoriety.

"I have written to her again and have again asked her for a divorce so I can marry Nora. My wife must understand it was all a mistake and that our marriage, which occurred soon after I joined the Army, was hasty and thoughtless under the stress of wartime excitement. I think my wife will understand.

"I have applied for dependent's allowance for each of the children and on top of that they can have all my pay. I want to register the babies in my name and I will support them and their mother from this day onward.

"I don't want to deceive any one and never have tried to. I am sorry that I have caused unhappiness to my wife in the United States and notoriety to Norah and the babies.

"I hope Norah and I will be left alone now so that we can together work out our problems and destinies, and so that I may be able honestly to work out my problem with my wife. I think this is only fair to them, since this is a personal matter to those of us concerned, and we only ask that break."

Nervous and Old Looking.

Thompson looked older than his years. He clenched his hands and nervously pulled at a small light mustache, and his light reddish hair looked almost white under the room's lights.

He answered a few questions orally in a halting but grimly determined voice. He said he had heard only after arriving in London this afternoon from Heanor, where the quadruplets were born, that one of them MacDonald, had died.

Asked who had selected the four babies' names, he said: "Both of us figured them out."

"Did you have an advance idea that they would be quads?" he was asked.

"I don't think anybody can see that far ahead," he said, smiling for the first time. "The doctor didn't even know it—how would you expect me to?"

To all questions referring to his future, and what he hoped to do with the surviving three babies, he replied: "I haven't any plans yet and can't have."

It was stressed at Army Headquarters that the sergeant had come here voluntarily, and that his statement was wholly voluntary, the Army disavowing any official connection with his trip to London.

Pittsburgh Sergeant Hopes To Wed Their British Mother—Thinks Wife "Will Understand"

W S WHITE

London, March 3 (AP)—Red-haired Staff Sergeant William Thompson, Jr., 26-year-old Pittsburgher, announced publicly tonight that he was the father of the quadruplets born to English Norah Carpenter this week and declared that "we always will stick together and do all we can for the children, because we understand each other and are not ashamed."

"Norah and I are not married, but we hope to be," he said, adding that he had written his wife in Pittsburgh about Norah and had asked for a divorce.

Thinks Wife "Will Understand"

"My wife must understand it was all a mistake and that our marriage, which occurred soon after I joined the army, was hasty and thoughtless under the stress of wartime excitement," Thompson said.

"I think my wife will understand."

The young American said he wanted to register the babies in his name and "support them and their mother from this day onward." He learned only after he had come to London to make his announcement that the youngest of his four babies, MacDonald, who weighed only three pounds, had died earlier today.

"They Can Have All My Pay"

"I have applied for dependent's allowance for each of the children," he said, "and on top of that they can have all my pay."

Sergeant Thompson was pale and tense as he made his announcement at United States Army headquarters, where it was emphasized that he had appeared voluntarily and without official connection. He handed out a written statement which had been typed for him but which he said was wholly his own.

Flanked by army officers, he answered a few questions, haltingly but determinedly. He hoped that he and the mother of the babies could disappear now from the limelight into which they had been thrust so prominently with the birth of the quadruplets.

Hopes They'll Be Left Alone

"I hope Norah and I will be left alone now so that we can together work out our problems and destinies," his statement concluded, "and so that I may be able honestly to work out my problem with my wife."

The first thought of Norah Carpenter, at Heanor in Derbyshire, when she was told of the death of baby MacDonald today was that Thompson must be informed immediately.

Sitting up in bed, her shoulders in a pink jacket, she told of having met the American soldier—she calls him "Red"—on December 16, 1942—"the first day he was allowed out of camp after his arrival in England."

Tried, But Couldn't She Says

"At first he talked about his wife a good deal," she said. "We tried to break it up on account of her, but we couldn't. We tried to quit going together, but we couldn't.

"In May, I think it was, he wrote her and asked for his freedom. She said no, because of her religion."

She thought a while, and then summed up her story.

"I love Red," she said.

Sergeant Thompson came to London to consult with his army superiors after having paid a brief visit to Heanor last night. He saw Norah and stayed with her parents until early this morning.

By RUTH COWAN.

Heanor, Derbyshire, England, March 3 (A. P.).—Norah Rose Carpenter was distressed today by the death of MacDonald, the youngest of her quadruplets born on Monday, but her first thought was of their soldier father. As I talked to her in her home, she said quietly: "I must write out a telegram to tell Red that the youngest is dead. It will be a shock to him."

With a pink jacket about her shoulders as she sat up in bed, Norah—23 years old and a former member of the British Women's Auxiliary Territorial Service—put her story into three simple words—"I love Red." Red is Staff Sergt. William Thompson of Pittsburgh, Pa. The girl's mother, Mrs. Ellen Carpenter, declares that Red is the babies' father.

Thompson visited Norah last night. He had come here on leave to see her, and remained in the home of her parents until early this morning. Referring to Norah's condition, which was reported as "not too well," he later sent a wire, Mrs. Carpenter asserted, saying: "Don't worry. Everything's going to be all right."

Baby Dead of Hemorrhage.

MacDonald, the youngest of the quadruplets, weighing only three pounds, had suffered from a cold. While his condition had caused some anxiety, he had only last night been reported showing some improvement. The doctors had been feeding him small doses of brandy along with his regular diet of sterilized cow's milk and glucose. A hemorrhage was the immediate cause of death, it was stated at the nursing home where the babies are being cared for.

Says Red Has Been Fair.

Norah said she met Thompson on December 16, 1942—"the first day he was allowed out of camp after his arrival in England." She added: "I knew he was married right from the first, but it was just one of those things. . . At first, he talked about his wife a good deal. We tried to break it up on account of her. But we couldn't. We tried to quit going together. But we couldn't. In May, I think it was, he wrote her and asked for his freedom. She said no, because of her religion."

Thompson's wife is Catholic.

"I feel he has been fair with me," Noral added.

"Do you still want to marry him?" I asked.

"Yes, I do," she replied.

"Does he still want to marry you?"

"Yes."

Double Escape for Soldier.

Kingswood, Surrey, England (A. He escaped by stealing out of the house one night and swimming a river.

Britain Seeks Formula To End Low Birth Rate

MAR—4 1944

By The Associated Press.

LONDON, March 3—A royal commission set out today in quest of a solution to Great Britain's declining birth rate, described officially as "one of the most somber anxieties of the times."

In its search for the answers, the commission expected to interview a representative number of women who have been married since 1918, when the decline in the birth rate began.

More children were born in 1942 than in any year since 1918, statistics show, but a commission member said that this was just a "wartime development and is no indication that the real problem has been solved."

"Unless something can be done, the situation will be very serious in forty or fifty years," a commission directive said. "The decline in the British birth rate is largely deliberate, because young people for the past twenty-five years have either deliberately not had children or have limited their families to one or two.

"It is the task of this commission to remove the causes, which on the face of it are largely economic."

The commission members include a viscount, two women of title, one housewife, two professors and one historian.

London's Viewpoint On Stettinius' Visit

SINGLETON

London, March 3 (AP)—British-American discussions in London, in which Under Secretary of State Edward R. Stettinius will take part, are expected to embrace post-victory problems concerning not only a liberated Europe but the economic future of the United States and Britain.

Recent developments of diplomatic as well as military significance are believed to have hastened the talks, in which Stettinius, several assistants, Anthony Eden, Foreign Secretary, and other experts will participate.

Agenda Predicted

It is expected here that the talks will cover the progress of the European advisory commission, which is gathering data on how to deal with a defeated Germany, a subject which could scarcely avoid including consideration of the affairs of the Nazis' European neighbors.

Equally important topics are expected to be: International use of airplanes; world trade and shipping; United States interest in Pacific bases it has developed; joint interest in relief and rehabilitation work.

It is regarded as unlikely that the talks will take up post-war monetary problems, currency stabilization, or permanent international reconstruction projects on which sharply divergent views have already been advanced. A later conference, with Henry Morgenthau, Treasury Secretary, sitting in for Stettinius, might take up these problems.

There seemed little likelihood Russia would be invited to the talks, for, as one American put it, there are many questions involving only British-American affairs. If issues concerning the Soviet Union arose, the Russians could then be notified.

SOLDIERS' PAY STIRS COMMONS

Churchill Government Has Close Call in Vote.

AGNEW

London, March 3 (A. P.).—A rebellious House of Commons won a promise from the British War Cabinet last night for immediate consideration of increased pay and allowances for the British armed forces after an angry debate, which veteran members said was almost without parallel in their experience.

The debate reached its climax in a vote on a Government-opposed motion to raise Army pay, which was defeated by a count of only 63 to 40.

By the time the vote was taken there were barely more than 100 members left in the House.

The government majority was the smallest Prime Minister Churchill has received since he assumed office in 1940 and would have been even smaller but for a hurried call which went out for members of the Cabinet and other Ministers to take their seats for the vote.

At that, the vote cost the Churchill Government some prestige and loss of face, but even if the motion had been carried it would not necessarily have meant the government's fall. Resignation of a government upsually comes only on a lack of confidence vote from a full House or defeat on a major governmental policy.

RED UNITS SWEEP SOUTH OF PSKOV, MAY TRAP NAZIS

Russians Reach Outskirts of Northern City From Two Directions.

RAIL STATIONS SEIZED

MAR 4 1944

Moscow Troops Push Along Railroads, Capture 17 Towns.

LONDON, March 3.—(AP) A Red army column closing in on Pskov from the east drove to a point only five miles from that key communications center today with the capture of Maloye-Fonikino, Moscow announced.

This represented approximately a six-mile advance in the area and put Soviet troops in the city's outskirts in two directions.

Move Along Two Railroads

Moving along two railroads, the Russians swept up 17 towns and four railway stations, bringing their lines to a point eight miles southeast of Pskov with the capture of Pokhvalshchina. Another locality reported captured, Sysaeva, 17 miles southeast of Pskov, was only six miles from the Pskov-Ostrov railway, which the Russians seek to cut.

Three of the railway stations captured were on the Pskov-Polotsk railway and the nearest to the city was Dobrovedki, about 15 miles southeast. The fourth station was Keb on the Pskov-Staraya Russa line about 12 miles east of Pskov.

The Russians were already six miles from Pskov in the north.

The Moscow midnight bulletin recorded by the Soviet monitor said of the fighting around Pskov that "the enemy transformed all populated places situated on the approaches to Pskov into powerful centers of defense and is putting up strong artillery resistance."

800 Germans Killed

More than 800 Germans were killed on this front, the late communique said.

Further south, in the Russian attack toward Ostrov and the Pskov-Warsaw railway, Soviet troops were slogging through difficult terrain and the communique said three companies of German infantry—perhaps 600 men—were killed and "positions of great importance" captured.

Other troops further north continued to enlarge their Estonian bridgehead southwest of Narva and in two days more than 2,300 Germans were killed in the forests and marshes of the area, Moscow said.

[A Moscow radio broadcast said the Russians south of Pskov were fighting in Pushkin state forest, named in honor of the 19th century poet, and were on the approaches to Pushkinskie Gory, a district center. This was about 30 miles southeast of Ostrov.]

Berlin broadcasts reported Soviet "atacks in force" in the area, but said the Russians made no gains.

Although the Soviet communique gave no details of the northernmost fighting at Narva, unofficial Moscow reports said Narva was in flames and that the Germans were setting the torch to nearby Estonian villages. A freakish spring-like thaw melted ice and snow and made many roads in the wooded and swampy area impassable.

"The Germans put up violent resistance," a Pravda war correspondent said. "At the risk of drowning their tanks in but slightly-frozen swamps they fling them into battle singly and in groups in order to check the Soviet onslaught."

30 Towns Freed as Soviet Army Pushes Toward Ostrov on Railway to Warsaw.

Moscow, March 3 (A. P.).—Despite a freakish, spring-like thaw which is hampering military operations, the Red Army is continuing its smashing offensive to liberate the Soviet Baltic republics and has materially improved its positions, dispatches from the front said today.

Temperatures were reported almost as high as they usually are in late April or May, and melted ice and snow was said to be making many roads impassable.

Russian forces, nevertheless captured more territory between Lake Peipus and the Finnish Gulf and tightened their hold on Narva's communications, while in the suburbs of Pskov Russian tommy-gunners inched forward in fierce fighting, frontline advices said.

South of Pskov, meanwhile, other Red Army forces were reported driving down the twelve-mile-long highway from captured Soshikino toward Ostrov. The latter city, thirty-two miles south of Pskov, is a junction of the Pskov-Warsaw-Berlin railway.

German forces battling to hold Pskov were favored by the nature of the terrain, which is admirably suited for defensive operations. Two big rivers, the Velikaya and the smaller Pskov, run through the city, joining in the northern sector and offering a natural barrier to the attacking Russians.

with expansion of the Narva bridgehead in Estonia 100 miles from Reval, the naval base which in Russian hands would open the Gulf of Finland to the Russian navy.

Finnish press criticism of the Soviet terms began to subside amid indications that the government was ready to negotiate with Moscow but so far no solution has been advanced for the biggest problem—liquidating the Germans in Finland.

Moscow dispatches, meanwhile, said the Russians considered their terms generous and some expressed the opinion that the Red army should open a general offensive against the Finns because delay was giving the Germans a chance to strengthen their position.

The Finns appeared trying to wriggle out of inviting the Red army in to handle the German divisions which may fight to retain nickel and copper mines.

Stockholm's Communist newspaper Ny Dag significantly wrote that the "Soviet Union wants to bring war in the north to an end at once and it is strong enough to do it another way." It said it knew how complicated the situation was for the Finns, but added, "every day it is becoming more and more complicated."

Swedish newspapers began to show annoyance with the Finns and the Social Democratic party's Morgontidning said "the Finns have to show their good will. They have a chance to get out of the war and should take it. It won't be an eternal chance. They have to be quick."

Parliament Backs Stand

STOCKHOLM, March 4 (Saturday) (AP).—The Finnish government has won the Finnish Parliament over to its position of declining the Russian armistice demands for internment of German troops now in Finland and restoration of the 1940 boundary, the Stockholm paper "Dagens Nyheter" said today.

Just how categorical Finland's answer to Russia will be is still unclear, the paper said, because the Finnish government still is drafting its reply. It said it was understood, however, that the negotiations would be handled in such a way as not to break the contact with Russia.

Through other sources it was learned that the Parliament's vote of confidence at a secret session on the government policy in the peace crisis was 105 to 80.

For greater security the Reichs commissioner, Heinrich Lohse, dubbed the "king of the east," moved his headquarters overnight to Riga castle from a villa he had confiscated on a Baltic sea strand 20 miles from Riga.

Rations have been cut down obliging the people to turn wholesale to black marketing, which has led to arrests and some executions.

The refugees said the Baltic people hate the puppet regimes imposed on them by the Germans and hate the Germans but also fear the Russians.

The refugees, who reached safety via the "underground railway," said the feeling of insecurity is growing daily in the Baltic states mainly because of the sudden appearance of Russian parachutists and Partisans.

Often real battles were said to develop between Germans attached to supply caravans and Estonian or Latvian Partisans.

German Pilot Losses Heavy

STOCKHOLM, March 3 (AP).—Adolf Hitler's newspaper, "Voelkischer Beobachter," said today that Germany has lost more air force pilots during the war than civilians killed during air raids. It gave no figures in either category.

FINNS PREPARING COUNTER-OFFER

Stockholm, March 3 (A. P.).—An indication that Finland intends to offer counter-proposals to Russia's armistice terms came today from the Helsinki newspaper Social Demokratti, mouthpiece for the Finnish Parliament's strongest political party.

Declaring that at first glance the conditions for peace outlined by Moscow appeared harsh and even cruel, the newspaper expressed the opinion that they were meant only to form the basis for further negotiation and that Finland will have a chance to express its own views.

The article, informed Finnish sources said, was inspired by the Nazi Carpet Baggers Flee As Reds Near Baltic Area

SHANGE

STOCKHOLM, March 3.—(AP) The flight of Nazi carpet baggers from the Baltic states as a result of the Russian drive into Estonia was described today by Estonian and Latvian refugees recently arrived here.

Wealthy persons and those friendly to the Germans are seeking to flee to the Reich and are selling their furniture and possessions for cash, they said. The departure of German women and children is increasing daily. The refugees gave this picture of conditions in those countries:

Local women are replacing German civil officials who are being removed from posts where they hitherto had been thought indispensable and put into defense organizations.

Local men generally are disappearing into the woods or crossing the Baltic sea to escape being called up by the Germans.

Widespread resentment has been caused by the German scorched earth preparations, especially by the policy of mining everything conceivably useful to the Russians. Even prisons and concentration camps are being mined.

Bern, Switzerland, March 3 (AP)—The Nazi-controlled Rome radio declared tonight that 40 persons were killed and 200 wounded in an Allied air raid on the Italian capital this morning during which bombs fell on Vatican City and on the Protestant cemetery where Keats and Shelley are buried.

The radio said no serious damage was caused by the bombs which fell in Vatican City, but that several stained-glass windows in St. Peter's basilica were shattered.

The Rome broadcast said windows in the basilica of St. Paul were damaged, that some 40 dead had been removed from ruins and that there were 200 wounded.

War Weariness Grips Reich as Casualties Rise

Hidden Financial Panic and Fear of Air Raids Also Undermining Confidence

By Mel Most

Associated Press Correspondent (just released from German internment)

LISBON, March 3 (AP).—The populations of Germany's main industrial areas have passed an average of at least an hour daily in air-raid shelters for the last two years.

Even Baden Baden, off the beaten track of Allied bombers, was in a state of alert for an average of four hours a week during our thirteen months of internment there. We witnessed more than a dozen raids without seeing any raiders shot down, and only once saw a few German fighters go up to meet them. This battle saw the fighters driven off and one of them downed.

"The fortress of Europe has no roof," the Germans were told in leaflets dropped all over the country. We picked some of them up when the guard was not looking.

Nazi propagandists devote much attention to counteracting the demoralizing raids.

Since they cannot very well deny that "the fortress has no roof," they concentrate on pointing to its walls. In an effort to make sure that this does not result in panic when the Atlantic Wall is pierced, another argument is added to the effect that such a landing will make it possible to get Allied armies in a vulnerable position.

But there are other factors at work undermining German confidence even more effectively than the military situation.

In the face of eleven years of Nazi glorification of German unity, sectionalism and even outright separatism are again active.

The biggest real factors are war weariness, weariness of regimentation and over-organization, and an undercurrent of financial panic hidden by government control of prices, wages and exchange.

The main causes of war weariness are the mounting casualty toll and material privation. The latter is perhaps not as great as pictured abroad. Peoples can adjust themselves to worse conditions of life, but eventually it becomes a cumulative factor to be reckoned with.

SAN SEBASTIAN, Spain, March 3 (AP).—The first two of three trains bringing 366 North Americans out of Adolf Hitler's Europe entered Spain soon before midnight tonight. The third was expected within two hours. All are expected in Lisbon Saturday afternoon.

REDS ACCUSE SPAIN

Moscow, March 3 (A. P.).—Tass agency today quoted Geneva dispatches as reporting that Admiral Karl A. Doenitz, commander in chief of the German Navy, was returning from an extended tour of German naval bases which had taken him to a number of Spanish ports, including El Ferrol, Cadiz, Tangier and Morocco and the Canary Islands.

A second Tass report concerning Spain come from Lisbon. It said that German engineers have been building secret air bases in Spain on the coast of the Bay of Biscay. Certain Spanish airdromes, especially those at Bilbao, Oviedo and Santander are after used by the Germans, the dispatch said.

It was the fourth major air raid on Rome. However, the objectives are in outlying sections of the capital, several miles from the Vatican City. It was believed that a sizeable force struck the freight yards, through which military traffic flows to the Germans attacking the Allied beachhead and main Fifth Army fronts.

Viterbo, on the other hand, has long been one of the principal German air force bases in central Italy.

[The enemy-controlled Rome radio said that some bombs fell in the vicinity of the Vatican today.]

Smash Attack on Beachhead.

Meanwhile today the Germans' powerful drive to the center of the Allied beachhead south of Rome was today described officially as a costly failure. Allied headquarters said that the offensive has collapsed and that the defense positions remain intact with all the lost ground recovered.

The offensive was the enemy's third large-scale attempt to drive the American and British forces into the sea. Two final assaults with tanks and infantry late on Wednesday were repulsed, it was announced, and no further attacks came yesterday.

American troops of the Third Infantry Division bore the brunt of the attack and scored a complete defensive success, a headquarters spokesman said. Less than a week ago, the Third, originally composed chiefly of troops from the Pacific Coast, was offi-

"To you, to your staff and to the splendid British and American troops under your command, I send congratulations on the magnificent way in which our forces repulsed the strong enemy attack of the past few days," the message read.

Troops Commended

"Your troops, fighting with merit, tenacity and skill, have made the enemy pay dearly for his temporary offensive role. Any waning hope for victory that the German soldier may still imprudently cherish has been diminished by our latest success.

"In the heavy fighting yet to come I am confident that the Fifth Army will demonstrate further in the most effective manner the superiority of Allied arms against the enemy."

NAPLES STRIKE CALLED OFF

Instead Mass Meeting Will Be Held by Leftists Tomorrow

MAR 4 1944

NAPLES, March 3 (AP)—The forbidden ten-minute Italian strike in protest against Prime Minister Churchill's recent endorsement of Premier Badoglio's government has been called off, the Allied Control Commission announced tonight.

Leaders of the action, the Socialist and Communist parties, announced suspension of the strike "on precise instructions of the Allied Supreme Command" after a day of conferences with Allied authorities. Instead of a strike they said a mass meeting would be held in Naples Sunday when measures would be taken to circulate a petition.

The nature of the petition was not announced but presumably it would ask the abdication of King Victor Emmanuel and reorganization of the Government along "Democratic lines."

One of those who attended afternoon meetings of political leaders with the Allied Control Commission officials said all but the Communist representative, Paolo Tedeschi, agreed at that time to call off the strike. A Soviet official attached to the commmission, General Solodovnik, then was consulted. He said the strike should be canceled.

The Italian party leaders had conferred during the day with Lieut. Col. Charles Poletti, former Governor of New York and now Naples regional administrator.

Italians Refuse To Call Off Naples Strike Today

MAR 4 1944

Naples, March 3 (AP)—Italian labor leaders told Allied authorities today they intend to go ahead with a ten-minute strike tomorrow in protest against Prime Minister Churchill's recent indorsement of Premier Badoglio's Government, despite an official demand that the demonstration be canceled.

A strike would mean the arrest of the labor leaders, an American official said.

4 Get Death, Others Prison At First "Purge" Trial

Algiers, March 3 (AP)—Ten Vichy soldiers were convicted today of murdering and torturing interned members of the French Foreign Legion, and four received death sentences as the first of the French "purge trials" came to a close in a tiny chamber of Algiers' Palais de Justice.

Senegalese troops with fixed bayonets held back impatient witnesses, their friends, lawyers, journalists and the just plain curious as the special military tribunal filed in to return its verdict after four hours' deliberation.

Those Sentenced To Death

Sentenced to death were: Sergt. Maj. Jean Baptiste Finidori and Lieut. Xavier Santucci, Corsicans; Sergt. Maj. Raphael Duphin, a Frenchman, and Otto Riepd, a German.

It was alleged that Finidori, Duphin and Riepd beat prisoners with crowbars, and that Duphin tormented others by forcing them to drink soup full of salt.

Attorneys for the four filed an appeal with a military appellate tribunal, which can either affirm the judgment or order new trials. Their last recourse would be an appeal for clemency to Gen. Charles de Gaulle.

Inspector General Cleared

Col. Felicien Lupy, inspector general of Vichy prison camps in North Africa, was acquitted, but was held to face charges in connection with the operation of other Vichy internment camps.

Life terms were meted out to Lieut. Col. Raymond Viciot and Amfen Dormanov, a Russian guard; 20-year terms to Guards Antoine Mosca and Johann Tress; and 10-year sentences to Andrew Cellier and Arturo Doty.

The court, made up of two civilians and three army officers, had been hearing testimony for two weeks.

The prosecution charged that eight deaths occurred at the concentration camp at Colomb-Bechar in southern Algeria, where the defendants held jobs. Most of those interned there were Austrian, Spanish, German and Polish anti-Fascists who joined the legion in 1939 to fight against Germany.

Pucheu's Treason Hearing Today

The verdicts were a triumph for Justice Commissioner Francois de Menthon, who has demanded Republican law be observed in the trial. They also set a precedent for the trial of former Vichy Minister of the Interior Pierre Pucheu, who tomorrow in the same chamber will face charges of treason.

Many former victims of maltreatment in the camp, who were released following the Allied landings in North Africa and joined the British forces, appeared in the courtroom in British army uniforms as Chief Judge Louis Ohlmann read the decisions. The crowd was then ordered out, and the defendants brought in to hear the verdicts in private. Then they were loaded into a bus and taken back to military prison.

4 VICHY OFFICIALS TO BE EXECUTED

Ex-Nazi Attache Tells Allies Why He Quit Hitler

Vermehren Says Germany Is Enslaved From Within by Unscrupulous Clique

MAR 4 1944

CAIRO, March 3 (AP).—A bitter and disillusioned German of high position, Erich Vermehren, former assistant military attache at Istanbul, said today that his recent desertion of the Nazi cause to volunteer for duty against the Axis was a decision forced by his conscience "because Germany today is threatened by slavery from within."

The twenty-four-year-old member of an old German family, who fled from Istanbul two weeks ago with his wife, the former Countess Eliz Plettunberg, has been closeted with Allied intelligence officers at a Middle East headquarters for several days.

The British today released a signed statement by Vermehren, in which he said he recognized "the hopelessness of Germany's position," brought about by the Nazi party "which has lied to us for twenty years, abused our confidence and embezzled our property in senseless expenditures on behalf of the party and in disastrous political speculations."

"Is it high treason," he asked, "if one loves one's fatherland so much that one cannot stand by and see an unscrupulous clique ruining one's country?"

Vermehren, who was converted to Catholicism in his student days, declared that National Socialism "seduces our youth to loss of faith, to brutality and to lack of respect for moral values.

"It despises the sanctity of the family by its completely immoral and disintegrating attitude toward illegitimacy, and mocks and despises our Christian church in order to be able to preach a new morality which brutalizes every boy and endangers every girl."

Vermehren compared the Nazi philosophy to a world cancer. "The ideals of the enemy we oppose in arms are nearer to our own than those of our own government," he said.

GREEK GUERRILLAS UNITE AGAINST FOE

MAR 4 1944 CHESTER

CAIRO, March 3—(AP) With the aid of American and British liaison officers operating in the mountains of Greece, the two main Greek guerrilla organizations have signed a peace agreement to end their bitter civil war, it was announced officially here today.

The two groups, the Edes and the Elas, agreed to devote their efforts jointly to fighting the Germans, immediately and permanently ending their hostilities against each other and releasing all prisoners and hostages within 15 days.

The Allies now look for stepped-up guerrilla fighting against the Germans in Greece.

The pact was praised officially by American and British authorities in Cairo as a long step forward in the troublous situation in this important Balkan country, where there has been little organized opposition to the Germans because of the internal conflict.

The Edes are the Greek national democratic army, led by Gen. Napoleon Zervas, while the Elas are the military organization of the national liberation front, which is known as the Eam.

It is expected generally in Cairo that the Allies will once more increase the supplies to both parties. Supplies were cut off completely at one time from one of the factions on the ground that they were being used only against Greeks, rather than against Germans.

GREEKS SIGN PACT ENDING CIVIL WAR

MAR 4 1944

Cairo, March 3 (A. P.).—An agreement ending the civil war in Greece has been signed by the two warring bands of Greek Andartes, it was announced officially here today. The guerrilla factions have agreed to devote their joint energies against the Germans.

The peace pact was signed in a Greek mountain retreat where leaders of the Zervas, or Edes, and the Elas guerrilla factions have been negotiating since February 10 with the aid of British and American liaison officers, who also signed the agreement.

The pact calls for immediate and permanent cessation of hostilities and for release of all prisoners and hostages within fifteen days.

British and American authorities here hailed the pact as a long step forward in the tangled Greek situation, in which civil war impeded organized opposition to the Nazis.

Small British Boats Hit Rocks Off Turkey

Ankara, Turkey, March 3 (AP)—Two British motor torpedo boats and a small British sailing vessel piled up and sank on the rocks of Turkey's southwestern shore today.

Reports from Izmir (Smyrna) said 141 Greeks and Italians and 12 Britons had landed in Turkey from the Dodecanese Islands and had been interned.

Allies Continue Burma Advance

New Delhi, March 3 (AP)—United Nations forces continued to make progress at widely separated points in the Burma hill country warfare yesterday, with several Jap units surrounded and undergoing annihilation, the Southeast Asia Command communique said today.

[A Chinese army spokesman at Chungking said four columns of Chinese troops crossed the Tawang river and penetrated within two miles of Maingkawan, an important highway juncture, after capturing several villages. Capture of Maingkawan would threaten Myitkyina and safeguard the new Ledo road, the Chinese spokesman pointed out.]

Enemy activity slacked off in the whole Arakan area, the communique said. A large force of Japanese, trapped in a valley northeast of Ngakyedauk village, was being liquidated.

The Japanese mounted a weak counteroffensive aganist African troops operating east of Kyauktaw and the Kaladan river. Northwest of Apaukwa in the Kaladan valley, the enemy was offering some resistance.

JAPS TRY NEW BURMA ATTACK

MAR 4 1944

New Delhi, March 3 (A. P.).—The Japanese have counter-attacked in the Kaladan Valley near Kyauktaw, forty-six miles north of Akyab in Burma, while West Africans pushing southward in the valley are meeting stiff resistance near the village of Apaukwa, a Southeast Asia communique said today.

Apaukwa is thirty-nine miles north of Akyab.

Meanwhile, British forces in the Ngakyedauk Pass area continued to mop up stray Japanese units left over from the recent abortive enemy offensive to the north. A large body of Japanese troops discovered in a valley northeast of Ngakyedauk village are being liquidated, the communique said.

In the Hukawng Valley in northern Burma Chinese troops advancing on Maingkwan have surrounded a small Japanese force in the Tawang River bend

Capt. Payton Mathis Heads Vampire Outfit

Headquarters 13th United States Army Air Force, South Pacific, Saturday, March 4 (AP)—Capt. Payton Mathis, of Montgomery, Ala., who on a record non-stop flight from Britain flew the first Lightning into North Africa, has taken command of the Vampire Fighter Squadron in the South Pacific.

The Vampires are among the top scoring units in the South Pacific. They have 162 enemy planes to their credit, 22 of them since New Year's Day. They are one plane behind the leading Sunsetter squadron.

Mathis, a Vanderbilt University graduate, has flown Lightnings, Airacobras, Thunderbolts and Lancers. He flew more than 85 combat missions extending over 250 hours during six months in the Mediterranean area. He has a Silver Star, Distinguished Flying Cross and Air Medal with eight oak leaf clusters.

Formosa to Hongkong. Ship Route Shut to Foe

Allied Sea and Air Activity Halts Japanese Service

CHUNGKING, March 3 (AP).—Allied air and submarine action has forced the Japanese to suspend shipping service between Formosa and Hongkong and has disrupted service between Japan and Formosa, a Japanese war prisoner has informed Lieutenant General Joseph W. Stilwell's command.

The prisoner told authorities Formosa-Hongkong shipping was suspended after three 5,000-ton steamers were sunk, two by submarines, one by planes. The Japanese adopted a devious passage from Japan to Formosa, requiring three months travel, after six 10,000-ton ships were sent to the bottom.

Mitchells of the 14th United States Air Force sank a 750-ton cargo vessel near Moncay, French Indo-China, yesterday and started fires in an attack on railroad shops and coal plant at Campha Port, Stilwell's headquarters announced today.

LANDING PARTY IS REINFORCED IN ADMIRALTYS

Scouting Task Was So Easy MacArthur Made It An Invasion Instead.

'HOLD ON TO WHAT YOU TAKE'

General Then Rushed In More Troops—They Fan Out in Widening Beachhead.

MAR 4 1944

Allied Headquarters, Southwest Pacific, March 3 (A. P.).—Headquarters disclosed today that the initial Admiralty Islands landing was a scouting expedition in force to test Jap strength, but, after a first day inspection by Gen. Douglas MacArthur and a gallant stand later by outnumbered troops, a full-fledged invasion is in progress.

Strong reinforcements have been put ashore. From a beachhead a mile long and three quarters of a mile deep, they are fanning out from the quickly captured Momote, Airdrome to engage the few thousand Japanese still holding the bulk of Los Negros Island.

The elastic offensive shifted from reconnaissance to invasion after Allied commanders sensed the Japs were caught flat-footed and outmaneuvered into dispersed positions.

MacArthur Decides to Stay.

The island's key positions, the 5,000-foot-long airdrome and adjacent Hyane Harbor, were overrun quickly Tuesday by the reconnaissance force landed under the shells of destroyers. While enemy snipers still presented a menace, Gen. MacArthur looked over the situation and said, "Hold on to what you take."

Wednesday, before dawn, the Japs counter-attacked and were repulsed. That night and early Thursday, the Fifth Cavalry Regiment beat off infiltrating Nipponese, withstood enemy mortar fire and clung to the thinly manned perimeter about the airfield although outnumbered. Thursday the reinforcements started coming off the boats. The perimeter was established firmly. Engineers began filling holes made in the airfield runway by the pre-landing bombardment.

U. S. Invaders Expand Los Negros Beachhead

Allied Headquarters, Southwest Pacific, Saturday, March 4 (AP)—Fifth Cavalry Regiment reinforcements have expanded the invasion hold around Momote airdrome on Los Negros Island in the Admiralties, headquarters announced today.

Los Negros was invaded Tuesday. The new advances gave the Allies a firmer foothold on a strategic position in the Bismarck Sea which has by-passed Rabaul and severed Japan's supply route between Truk and New Guinea.

From a beachhead a mile long, running north and south, the cavalrymen moved ahead Friday in all directions against the few thousand Japanese holding the bulk of Los Negros, after previously throwing back counterattacks.

Japanese Bombed

Mitchells and Bostons pounded the Japanese on Los Negros and also blasted enemy positions on the larger Admiralty Island of Manus, including its big Lorengau airdrome.

Japanese planes tried to interfere with the invasion, but were engaged and eight Zeros shot down.

Bad weather prevented continuance of the assaults on Rabaul, New Britain.

Headquarters reported today that nearly 200 tons of bombs have been dropped in the latest series of air attacks on Japanese positions on Bougainville in the Solomons. Yesterday's communique had reported a 76-ton bombing of that island.

Enemy On Bougainville

The Japanese still occupy the bulk of Bougainville, largest island in the Solomons, although the Americans have a sizable air base at Empress Augusta Bay from which planes now move against Rabaul.

The Japanese, unable to pick their fighting ground on Los Negros, battled from ridges about a mile and three quarters inland. Because of their desperate resistance, the American gains were slight.

The Japanese in the Admiralties are believed to be reinforcing their Los Negros troops from the garrison on Manus. Los Negros is on the northeast side of the Admiralties. Manus, to the west of it, is separated from Los Negros by an extremely narrow strait.

105TH REGIMENT WAS AT MAKIN

MAR 4 1944

Upstate Outfit Led Way in Gilberts Attack.

A Central Pacific Base, Feb. 26 (By Mail).—The first green-clad Americans who went charging up the beach at the Japs on Makin Atoll last November were men of the 105th Infantry, famed as the upstate New York National Guard's Appleknockers. Military authorities finally let them be identified today.

Until now security has prevented the disclosure that part of the 105th was with the 165th Infantry, both of New York's 27th Division, during the battle for the Gilberts. But the Appleknockers not only were there, they fired the first shots of the fight and took the first losses.

They had the specific mission of plunging onto the island in advance and establishing flank protection that would permit the larger units of the 165th to pour through the corridor and attack the main Jap defense forces.

They were so successful that they not only established unshakable beachheads, but drove further inland than plans called for and succeeded in destroying a large bombproof shelter, capturing thirty-five Japs and killing about an equal number.

New Raid on Kuriles

PEARL HARBOR, March 3 (AP).—Japan's far-northern homeland islands of Paramushiro and Shimushu in the Kuriles, Ponape in the eastern Carolines and three enemy-held bases in the eastern Marshalls were raided by American bombers on March 1 and 2, Admiral Chester W. Nimitz announced today.

No planes were lost in any of the raids. There was no interception over any of the targets and only sporadic anti-aircraft fire was encountered over Paramushiro and Shimushu.

A small force of Navy Ventura bombers made the thrust at the Kuriles on March 2, dropping five tons of bombs. It was the first announced raid on those islands, about 1,200 miles north of Tokio, since Feb. 19.

The strike at Ponape, defense outpost for the enemy's naval and supply base of Truk, was made on March 1 by Navy search planes. They bombed and strafed enemy installations.

On the same day Army and Navy planes hit three enemy bases in the eastern Marshalls. Twenty-eight tons of bombs were dropped on the unidentified positions.

ALLIES DISRUPT JAP SHIP LINES

Headquarters of the 14th United States Air Force in China, March 3 (A. P.).—Japanese shipping has been virtually cleared from the east and south China seas by bombers of the Fourteenth United States Air Forces, many of them completely manned by American-trained Chinese crews.

Establishment of a new air front over this area has resulted in Japanese cargo ships, being bottled up in harbors or rivers or forced to travel from port to port along tedious Chinese coastal routes under cover of darkness. Many of them have been compelled to skirt Formosa to the east where they are under constant threat of submarine attack.

Princess Juliana Honored

Caracas, Venezuela, March 3 (AP). Princess Juliana of the Netherlands was presented with the grand cordon of the Order of Simon Bolivar, Venezuela's highest decoration, on a brief visit here today. The presentation was made by President Isaif Medina Angarita. She was greeted here by members of the Dutch colony at the legation.

Somoza Back in Managua

By Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

MANAGUA, Nicaragua, March 3—President Anastasios Somoza and his wife received a signal ovation today on their return from a twelve-day inspection of the northern departments of Nicaragua. The President said, "I found the people profoundly interested in a quick termination of the war, as more than 1,000 Nicaraguans are in the American Army."

PRESIDENT SAYS SHIP TRANSFER IS HALF DECIDED

MAR 4 1944

Reveals U. S., Britain and Moscow Are Dividing Surrendered Force.

FOR SERVICE DURING WAI

Executive Asserts Stettinius I Going to London Soon for Talk With Officialdom.

MAR 4

Washington, March 3 (A P.). — President Roosevel said today that discussion were about half complete for transferring roughly one third of the surrendere Italian fleet to Russia.

The President also told a pr conference that Edward R. St tinius, Acting Secretary of Stat would go to London soon to d cuss with British officials a doz or more questions awaiting sol tion.

He disclosed that the Unit States and Great Britain alread were using some of the Italia tonnage that was surrendere with the capitulation of Italy, an that efforts now are being mad to determine how many of these ships or their equivalent can b turned over to the Russian Navy

He said this was the question he had told previous press conferences that Marshal Stalin had brought up through his Washington Ambassador. He describe it as a rather old question an one related to what ships or thei equivalent would go to Russia.

He emphasized that so long a the war lasts the Allies will us everything afloat against the en emy, but that after the war tha was something else.

Third of Fleet to Each Ally.

Asked whether the ships would be manned by Italians, Mr. Roosevelt replied some may and some may not. As for Italian ships which escaped to the Balearic Islands, the President said that was a Spanish problem.

He said that since Italy surrendered to the United States, Great Britain and Russia, it was thought advisable to distribute the Italian fleet roughly on a one-third basis to each. He would not say how much tonnage was involved.

Available figures place the number of Italian warships of all types which surrendered at more than 100. Official figures are lacking, but a recapitulation made at naval headquarters in North Africa listed a total of eighty Italian ships in Allied hands last September 14.

Listed in that recapitulation were five battleships, one aircraft carrier, eight cruisers, twenty-seven destroyers, nineteen submarines, twelve torpedo boats, six corvettes, one auxiliary cruiser and a hospital ship. A number of other craft subsequently steamed into Allied-controlled harbors.

As for Mr. Stettinius's trip, the President said the Acting Secretary of State, accompanied by several assistants, would leave soon after Secretary Hull returns from a Southern vacation. He said it would not be a full dress conference and that there would not be a headline in it.

Asked whether he would take up the question of the permanent committee in London created at the Moscow conference, he said that was one of a dozen things but was not the top subject to be discussed.

Recent reports have said that the United States-British conferences would touch on political as well as economic problems.

In connection with his forthcoming mission Mr. Stettinius said at a press conference that many subjects would be taken up with the British in broad discussions. To a direct question whether the Russians would be kept informed of the conversations, he replied that the United States and Britain deal with Russia in complete frankness and that any matters taken up of interest to the Soviet Republic would be reported to it. However, he said he did not contemplate a visit to Moscow at this time.

Comment on Other Matters.

The President commented briefly on other international topics, but said there was nothing new to report on the discussions between the British and the State Department regarding a new understanding with the French Committee of National Liberation. He said these discussions have been in progress for a month and are still proceeding. They are understood to involve the question whether the Allies will grant further recognition to the committee as the temporary responsible government for the French homeland once France is reoccupied.

To a question whether Great Britain and the United States were "cracking down" on neutral Turkey in an economic way, Mr.

Roosevelt said he did not know. He suggested that the State Department be asked about it.

He said he knew nothing more about the Russian-Finnish situation than what he has seen in the newspapers and he declined to comment on a pending Senate resolution regarding the status of Palestine.

Asked about his recent talks with military leaders responsible for the Southeast Asia area, the President said that the United States is in close touch with the British regarding the whole campaign. He added that material is going to China in a very satisfactory way.

REDS TO GET PART OF ITALIAN FLEET

MAR 4 1944

Some of Surrendered Ships Will Be Given to Moscow, Says Roosevelt.

WASHINGTON, March 3—(AP) The Russians want part of the Italian navy, President Roosevelt disclosed today, and about one-third of the surrendered ships, or the equivalent, will be turned over to them.

The President, at his press-radio conference, spoke of the move as part of a general policy of running everything that floats for the benefit of the war. We will do something after the war of a more permanent nature, he said.

"Will they be manned by Italians?" a reporter asked.

Some may be, the President replied, but that will depend on the ships and the circumstances.

Merchant Ships Included

The President indicated that Italian merchant ships also are involved but the conference broke up without any express clarification of that point, or of what was meant by equivalent. His remarks seemed to leave two possible implications:

1. That the Russians might take some other types of war materials, of equivalent value, rather than ships in some cases.

2. If ships of categories desired by the Russians are not available in required numbers, Britain or the United States might supply them and receive Italian ships in exchange. For instance, the United States might take an Italian cruiser and transfer to the Soviets several American destroyers.

Mr. Roosevelt told a press conference two weeks ago that the Russian ambassador had brought him a question from Premier Stalin, and he said today that the question was what ships, or their equivalent, would go to Russia.

But he said the question was an old one and had been discussed at the Teheran conference. The thought was this, he said:

A certain number of ships came to the Allies after the Italian surrender. In that surrender, Russia was a party. Italy surrendered to Russia, Britain and the United States, and we acquired certain materials of war, including ships. Will the Russians acquire these or substitutes . . . will they use some Italian ships or their equivalent?

While there has never been an official summary of all the Italian ships which came into Allied hands, the total is understood to include more than 100 warships and more than 150,000 tons of merchant ships.

The warships include at least five battleships, an aircraft carrier, eight cruisers and 27 destroyers as well as many smaller vessels.

DEGAULLIST GROUP GETS FRENCH SHIPS SEIZED BY ALLIES

MAR 4 1944

WASHINGTON, March 3.—(AP) A "substantial" number of French merchant ships requisitioned by the United States and Britain after the fall of France will be turned over to the French Committee for National Liberation for service under the French flag.

The British-American-French agreement to this effect was announced by the War Shipping administration today.

Crews will be supplied and paid by the French committee in a step toward revitalizing the French merchant marine.

The WSA said the French group would put "all its ocean going tonnage at the disposition of the United Nations until the defeat of the last Axis power."

The passenger and cargo ships thus to be manned by French sailors include vessels which were chartered to General Dwight D. Eisenhower without crews by the French North African authorities after the Anglo-American invasion of that continent.

Six vessels laid up at Martinique—four tankers and two cargo ships—also are placed at the disposal of the United Nations, under the agreement.

French vessels requisitioned by WSA or the British Ministry of War Transport after the fall of France will be restored to the French to operate under time charter to WSA or the British ministry.

The great French liner Normandie, recently righted after burning and capsizing in New York harbor, is not included in the pact.

A War Shipping administration spokesman said the total number of vessels restored to the French flag could not be stated for military security reasons. The number is considerable, he declared.

PRESIDENT ANXIOUS OVER NATION'S OIL

Washington, March 3 (A. P.).—President Roosevelt reiterated today his concern over the country's future supply of oil.

He told a news conference, at which his opinion of the Arabian pipeline proposal was asked, that the question is where the nation is going to get its oil not only five years from now but fifty years in the future.

There was laughter when a reporter observed that the oil question seemed to be "hot one" and Mr. Roosevelt replied that he had heard of hot oil before.

He said he did not know whether a proposal to build the Arabian pipeline required legislation or not, but commented that a Senate committee looking into the situation was entitled to the facts.

U. S. Wants Finland To Act

Washington, March 3 (AP)—Apparently recognizing the possibility that the Finns might consider initial Russian proposals for peace unacceptable, and break off negotiations, Acting Secretary of State Stettinius today made this brief comment:

"This Government hopes very much that the Finnish Government will continue the conversations opened with the Soviet Government for the termination of hostilities."

MAR 4 1944

SOLDIER VOTING STUDIED BY FDR

WASHINGTON, March 3.—(AP) President Roosevelt indicated today that he has not yet made up his mind about the new service vote bill finally evolved in a long congressional wrangle.

The crux of the matter, he said, is this: Will more soldiers have a chance to vote under the new bill than under existing legislation?

The President's view was given at a press-radio conference but he did not express an opinion of the bill itself since he has not seen it.

The point he raised has divided the legislators.

Senator Green (D-R.I.) called the pending measure more restricted than the existing soldier vote law adopted in 1942. He interperted it as repealing the 1942 law's waiver of poll tax and registration requirements for men and women in the armed services.

Senator Hatch (D-N.M.) took a similar view, but other legislators disputed that interpretation.

The bill drawn by a conference committee emphasized priority for state ballots, but would make a short form Federal ballot available, under restrictions, to those serving outside the United States.

China's Air Supply Line Is Called Satisfactory

MAR 4 1944

Washington, March 3 (AP)—President Roosevelt said today that war materials are now going into China by the air route from India in a satisfactory way.

He volunteered this statement at his press-radio conference when asked about his recent talks with military men from the Southeast Asia theater.

While he did not elaborate, Leo T. Crowley, Foreign Economic Administrator, told Congress this week that more freight moved over the aerial Burma road in the last three months of 1943 than in the first nine months.

Crowley also said that more cargo was carried during December alone than in all of 1942.

Keeps In Touch

The President would not discuss his conferences with the military men, but he said he was keeping in close touch with the British about the whole campaign in Southeast Asia.

On last Wednesday, he had a luncheon talk with Maj. Gen. Albert C. Wedemeyer, deputy chief of staff to Lord Louis Mountbatten, Allied commander in chief in the area. In the previous fortnight, Mr. Roosevelt had seen Brig. Gen. Haydon L. Boatner, chief of staff of the Chinese army in India, and Maj. Gen. Raymond A. Wheeler, who is Mountbatten's chief supply officer.

There have been reports that some American military men think the British should press the Burma campaign, aimed at reopening a land route into China, more aggressively.

BOMBERS RAID JAP BASE AT PARAMUSHIRO

MAR 4 1944

Five Tons Of Explosives Dropped—Little Opposition Is Met

Washington, March 3 (AP)—American bombers, raiding Paramushiro without encountering any major opposition, dropped five tons of bombs on that Japanese base at the northern end of the Japanese homeland island chain and returned safely to their bases.

The navy announced this today in a Pacific fleet press statement, which told also of attacks by other bombers on three Japanese bases in the eastern Marshall Islands.

The text of the announcement:

"1. A small force of Ventura bombers of Fleet Air Wing 4 attacked Paramushiro and Shumushu in the Kurile Islands on the morning of March 2. Five tons of bombs were dropped. There was no interception and no damage was suffered from the sporadic anti-aircraft fire encountered. All planes returned to their bases.

Marshall Islands Hit

"2. Mitchell bombers, Dauntless dive bombers and Warhawk fighters of the Seventh Army Air Force and Ventura bombers of Fleet Air Wing 2 attacked three enemy-held bases in the eastern Marshall Islands on March 1, dropping a total of 28 tons of bombs. On the same day, navy search planes attacked Ponape with bombs and machine-gun fire. Our planes returned safely from all these operations."

Secretary of the Navy Knox said later at a news conference that the raid on Paramushiro reemphasized the ability of American forces to roam the Pacific at will.

"Our freedom of action grows more pronounced all the time," he said.

Knox added that lack of anti-aircraft fire in the Marshalls is a certain indication that the enemy garrisons remaining there are growing short of ammunition. In the Marshalls, he said, those garrisons not attacked are "being bypassed and being starved out."

STETTINIUS TO SEE EDEN

Hull's Aide To Visit London For Post-War Trade Parley

Washington, March 3 (AP)—The Under Secretary of State, Edward R. Stettinius, is going to London to talk over a dozen or so Anglo-American questions, and tonight it appeared that this is the main one: What sort of world trade can grow out of a war economy now dominated by lend-lease?

Stettinius' trip, to be undertaken this month, was disclosed by President Roosevelt at his press-radio conference when he said the State Department official, who formerly headed lend-lease, had 12 or more things to take up with the British.

Stettinius' Version

At his own press conference Stettinius described as safe speculation the thought that his talks with the British Foreign Office would embrace post-war trade problems.

Still another matter of current interest is the United States project of building a pipeline across Arabia to supply its fighting forces and its allies with oil from the Persian Gulf, where the British long have been interested.

Mr. Roosevelt was reminded that the oil question seems to be a "hot one" and replied, amid laughter, that he had heard of hot oil before. Hot oil is the term usually applied to petroleum produced in excess of regulated quotas.

Oil Supply Question

The President said the question is where the nation is going to get its oil not only five but 50 years from now. Senator Moore (R., Okla.) has especially criticized the pipe-line project as a dangerous foreign venture.

Other possible items which Stettinius may have on his mind:

The problem of Italian politics, arising from opposition in Britain and the United States to King Vittore Emanuele and Premier Badoglio.

International civil aviation and like matters having to do with post-war days.

Settlement of status of the de Gaulle committee in the Government of areas of metropolitan France as liberation comes.

The ticklish questions of getting Finland out of the war, the Russian-Polish border dispute, and the future of Poland.

The possible field thus is broad, although Mr. Roosevelt said the Stettinius trip would not be a full-dress conference or noteworthy from a news standpoint.

Stimson Links War's Length To Lend-Lease

Declares Extension of Act Will Shorten Hostilities and Reduce Casualties

WASHINGTON, March 3 (AP).—Henry L. Stimson, Secretary of War, said today that failure to extend the lend-lease act for another year "would prolong the war and increase the cost to our people in lives and dollars."

"We are now in the full passage of war where the full accumulation of our strength must be thrown against the enemy and our continuity of effort maintained," he told the House Foreign Affairs Committee. "Experience in this war, as in all wars, has shown that the greater the preponderance we have in men and material in any given action the fewer the casualties and the quicker the issue is resolved in our favor."

The lend-lease act expires June 30 unless renewed.

"When the power of our offensive is reaching its full tide," Mr. Stimson added, "it is no time to liquidate a method by which that unity and effectiveness have been secured."

He told the committee how lend-lease supplies have helped Great Britain, Russia, China and other Allies, saying that Great Britain has been the recipient of "the greatest lend-lease aid."

And, he said, "as our troops overseas increase in numbers it may be expected that our allies will furnish us with an increasing amount of reverse lend-lease within the limits of their material and financial resources."

FARM MACHINERY EXPORT CRITICIZED

MAR 4 1944

Washington, March 3 (A. P.).—"Starry-eyed crystal gazers"

was the term applied by Representative Calvin D. Johnson (R.-Ill.) today to the originators of a program under which an estimated 400,000 pieces of farm machinery will be sent abroad within the next year.

Mr. Johnson said that he had evidence that more than 500,000 pieces of farm equipment, including about 30,000 tractors, have been programmed for European distribution by the United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Administraton.

"Under the UNRRA set-up approved by the President," he declared in an interview, "the United States has one vote out of forty-four in operating UNRRA but furnishes about 75 per cent of the funds."

This means, he added, that 75 per cent of the farm machinery, most of which he said will be delivered by August of this year, will be furnished by the United States.

"Responsible for this discrimination against United States farmers, who aren't able to buy needed farm machinery, are the starry-eyed crystal gazers with their heads in the clouds and their hands in our pockets," he asserted.

World Good Neighbor Bill Offered by Bloom

Would Give President Right to Broaden Policy

WASHINGTON, March 3 (AP).—Legislation to permit extension of the United States "good neighbor" policy to nations all over the globe was introduced today by Representative Sol Bloom, Democrat, of New York, chairman of the House Foreign Affairs Committee. President Roosevelt asked Congress for legislation of this type last Wednesday.

Mr. Bloom proposed broadening the President's authority to "render closer and more effective the relationship between the American republics" so the Chief Executive may "promote—through mutual understanding with other peoples—more effective co-operation for a durable peace."

The President, under Mr. Bloom's proposal, would be permitted to develop and maintain "such cultural and co-operative programs with other countries of the world as he may consider justified in furtherance of the purposes of the United States in the present war and in the peace to follow."

The legislation also would empower the President to create "advisory committees for assistance" in developing friendly relations with foreign nations.

SENATORS TO FIGHT DRAFT OF FARMERS

Washington, March 3 (A. P.).—Aroused by claims that tightening of draft deferments for farmers will seriously curtail food production, a group of farm State Senators plan a direct appeal to President Roosevelt for modification of the new selective service regulation.

This became known today after the Senate Agriculture Committee set up a special sub committee headed by Senator Russell (D.-Ga.) to deal with the question. Farm organizations assert that about half of the 1,770,000 farm workers now deferred are subject to induction under the revised rules.

Although Selective Service Director Hershey told the agriculture committee last week that he was "open minded" on the matter, legislators took the view his hands were tied by the later directive from President Roosevelt ordering a general review of all occupational deferments.

Meanwhile, Senator Bankhead (D.-Ala.) said that if an appeal to the President fails, Congress has pending now legislation, already through the Senate, that would compel farm worker deferments

College Training At U. S. Expense Offered Those Of Pre-Induction Age

Washington, March 3 (AP)—President Roosevelt tonight urged every American boy "who will be a high-school graduate by July 1" to look seriously and immediately into the Government's new plan for free college training of those too young for the draft.

His statement follows:

"I am delighted that the War Department has expanded the army specialized training enlisted reserve for 17-year-old high-school graduates. This enlarged program will provide the armed forces with a necessary reservoir of younger men with specialized training at the college level. For those properly qualified in this age group the enlisted reserve program provides the best possible opportunity for them to serve their country.

Must Take Examination

"To be eligible for training all young men who will be high-school graduates by July 1 must take the joint army-navy qualifying examination on March 15. It will be given in thousands of high schools and colleges throughout the country.

"Everyone who passes this test and a physical examination, and is within the proper age limits set by the army and navy, will be given an opportunity to apply for the reserve and to express a preference for either the army or navy program.

"Those selected will be sent to a college or university at the expense of their Government until the time they become 18 years of age, or for longer periods depending upon their age, special qualifications and the national need of their services in the armed forces. The army will call no one for active duty until after his 18th birthday.

Aimed At "Awkward Age" Boys

"I urge every young American who will be a high-school graduate by July 1 to investigate the army and navy reserve programs immediately. It is of the greatest importance to the nation that as many as possible take the March 15 examination."

The training, a short-term specialized system in preparation for eventual army and navy duty, is aimed at youngsters in the wartime "awkward age"—through high school but not old enough for induction.

To Be Paid While Studying

Those selected after passing the March 15 test and a physical examination, will be "sent to a college or university at the expense of their Government," Mr. Roosevelt noted. They will draw pay and wear uniforms.

A joint army-navy announcement told of the plan, saying it was designed to "replace some of the loss" which many colleges, already hard hit by the war, are due to suffer this month with the curtailment of the present Army Specialized Training Program from 145,000 trainees to 35,000.

Key To Post-War Service

The training may supply some key to post-war military service which has been advocated in some quarters as compulsory. While there is no compulsion in the present plan, the age group covered is the one most generally considered for the peacetime service.

No figures as to the number to be accepted were given; however, educators have suggested that as many as 100,000 may be eligible. High-school graduates up to the age of 18 may apply. Only 2,800 of this pre-induction group is now enrolled in a current army reserve training program.

ARMY VENEREAL RATE RECORD LOW IN 1943

Gonorrhea Cares by Use of Penicillin Nearly 99%

MAR 4 1944

WASHINGTON, March 3 (AP)—The Army venereal disease rate reached a record low of twenty-seven cases per 1,000 men in 1943, according to preliminary figures, and the use of penicillin in extensive trials on gonorrhea cases resistant to the sulfa drugs effected cures in 96 per cent of them. Retreatment of failures in these gonorrhea cases raised the percentage of cures to nearly 99 per cent.

These facts are given in the bulletin of the Army's medical department.

The low 1943 rate for gonorrhea, syphilis and other venereal discases compared with thirty-eight per 1,000 men in 1942, 40.5 in 1941 and 42.5 in 1940, the bulletin said, adding:

"The 1943 figure is even more impressive when the rates in past wars are considered, for in other wars in which this country engaged the incidence of venereal disease skyrocketed with mobilization and remained high after hostilities had ceased.

"In the Civil War the rate reached 214 per 1,000, in the Spanish-American War, 133, while in World War I the rate went to 107 in 1918. Between wars the rates have regularly subsided to comparatively low levels."

The medical department credited the results to "collaboration between the Army, Navy and civilian health and law enforcement agencies."

Regarding the use of penicillin in gonorrhea cases, the medical department declared that early in January, 1944, the drug became available in sufficient quantity to completely replace "fever therapy" in the treatment of sulfonamide-resistant gonorrhea.

"The simplicity and ease of penicillin treatment have removed the necessity for transfer of these patients to general hospitals," the bulletin asserted.

SECOND FALANGIST SUIT IS ENTERED

Washington, March 3 (A. P.).—A second denaturalization proceeding, based on membership in the Spanish Felange, was filed today in San Juan, Puerto Rico.

In making the announcement, the Justice Department said that the defendant is Alfonso Rosselli Gomez, described as a former member of the Falange in Puerto Rico. The previous suit was filed in San Juan on February 21 against Isidro Combe Fernandez, also described as a former Falangist.

Ask Removal of Tugwell

WASHINGTON, March 3 (AP)—Removal of Rexford Guy Tugwell as Governor of Puerto Rico, by impeachment if necessary, was asked of Congress today by a delegation of island Coalitionist Senators. The spokesman, José Balseiro, told a House Insular Affairs subcommittee that Governor Tugwell had built up "a vast bureaucracy" and was seeking to bring under Government control "every aspect of the island's economic life."

Appeals Treason Sentence

WASHINGTON, March 3 (AP).—A sequel to the activities of eight German saboteurs who landed from submarines on the eastern coast of the United States in June, 1942, came before the Supreme Court today in an appeal by Anthony Cramer from his treason conviction in the Southern New York Federal District Court, as an aid to the eight. Cramer was sentenced to forty-five years imprisonment and fined $10,000. Of the eight, six were executed here. One received a life sentence, and another was setnenced to thirty years.

'Hopkins Letter' Case Arguments Presented

Washington, March 3 (AP)—Counsel for George N. Briggs, accused of forging the "Hopkins letter," today argued that the letter was not a legal instrument capable of effecting a fraud. The Government replied that it not only could defraud C. Nelson Sparks, who published it in a book, but did defraud him.

Chief Justice Edward C. Eicher, of the United States District Court, took under advisement the arguments on demurrers to indictments against Briggs, ousted assistant to the Secretary of the Interior, Harold L. Ickes.

Labor Army Proposed By Clare Boothe Luce

Washington, March 3 (AP)—Formation of a labor army of from 50,000 to 200,000 men to meet "potential emergency demands of war activities for manpower" was proposed today by Representative Clare Boothe Luce (R., Conn.).

Mrs. Luce introduced legislation to induct into the armed services "a sufficient number" of men deferred for physical ailments of from 18 to 37 and of non-fathers from 38 through 45.

The force would be utilized to meet manpower shortages for harvesting, mining, logging, tanning and other war activities, she proposed.

Two-Pants Suits Only A Post-W[illegible] Plan

MAR 4 1944

Washington, March 3 (AP)—That elusive extra pair of pants continued to dangle out of reach today.

Two-trouser suits, trouser pleats and vests for double-breasted suits still are merely items for post-war planning.

The clothing branch of the War Production Board said present restrictions on the manufacture of men's and boys' clothes will not be lifted or eased.

The announcement came after two clothing industry advisory committees had discussed with WPB officials the possibility of modifying restrictions.

PROMOTIONS ANNOUNCED

MAR 4 1944

Sutherland Among 5 Named Lieutenant General

Washington, March 3 (AP)—President Roosevelt today nominated four major generals of the ar for promotion to lieutenant general, including Richard K. Sutherland, chief of staff for Gen. Douglas MacArthur, Allied commander in the Southwest Pacific.

Sutherland, 51, was MacArthur's chief of staff in the Philippines and went to Australia with him. A native of Hancock, Md., he has had long service overseas, including action in World War I.

Youngest Major General

The other nominations:

RAYMOND A. WHEELER, 58, now in the China-Burma-Indian theater, and a native of Peoria, Ill.

JOHN C. H. LEE, 56, commanding the Services of Supply in the European theater of operations; born at Junction City, Kan.

COURTNEY HICKS HODGES, 57, commander of the Third Army, Fort Sam Houston, Texas, and of the Southern Defense Command, a native of Perry, Ga.

Maj. Gen. Holland M. Smith, who commanded the victorious marines in the battle of Tarawa in the Pacific, also was nominated to be a lieutenant general.

Four assistant chiefs of the air staff were included in the President's nominations for promotion from brigadier general to major general, which will make one of them, Brig. Gen. Laurence S. Kuter, 38, of Milwaukee, the youngest major general in the army. He was deputy commander of the Northwest African Tactical Air Force before his return to the United States to become assistant chief of the air staff for plans.

Assistant Air Staff Chiefs

The three other assistant air staff chiefs in the list are:

HOWARD H. CRAIG, of Philadelphia.

JAMES M. BEVANS, of San Francisco.

ROBERT W. HARPER, of Harper, Washington.

Also named to be major generals were brigadier generals:

HUGH J. KNERR, of Fairfield, Iowa, commanding the 8th Air Force Service Command in Britain.

CURTIS E. LEMAY, Columbus, Ohio, commanding a heavy bombardment division of the 8th Air Force.

EDMUND B. GREGORY, a native of Storm Lake, Iowa, who is quartermaster general of the army.

Japanese Plan to Remove Boro Budur Treasures

Said to Prepare to Take Java Pyramid Valuables to Japan

SAN FRANCISCO, March 3 (AP).—The Japanese are reported preparing to remove some of the unique treasures of the world-famed Boro Budur monumental mound from Java to Japan.

Aneta, the Netherlands news agency, reported from Melbourne, today Japanese experts are directing the uncovering of the mound, believed to have been built by a Hindu cult between the 8th and 10th centuries.

Low Pyramid on Hill

The Boro Budur (Many Buddhas) is a low pyramid of successively receding platforms with reentrant angles situated on a terraced hill overlooking Java rice lands. It is notable for a great series of seated Buddha figures placed in niches on the upper terraces and for a series of reliefs illustrating the life of Buddha and various Buddha legends. These reliefs are along the inner sides of the terraced procession paths and if placed end to end would extend nearly three miles.

The Boro Budur, according to the Encyclopaedia Brittannica, cannot be exactly dated but probably was built at the close of the eighth century.

Ace Fighter-pilot Missing Over Europe

De Funiak Springs, Fla., March 3 (A. P.).—The War Department notified Mrs. Susie W. Beckham here today that her son, Major Walter C. Beckham, United States Army fighter-plane pilot who had been credited with knocking down sixteen enemy planes, has been missing since a flight on February 22. Major Beckham, a native of De Funiak Springs, had been stationed in England more than a year and had been described as one of the crack fighter pilots in that theater of the war. He is 26 years old.

"Book Closed," Wife's Mother Says

Pittsburgh, March 3 (AP)—When advised today that Staff Sergeant William H. Thompson, Jr., had made a statement in England saying he was the father of Norah Carpenter's quadruplets, the mother of the Pittsburgh soldier's wife declared:

"The book is closed. We're not going to take any steps until this thing dies down."

Asked whether her daughter Eleanor, 26-year-old beautician whom Thompson married here in 1942, had any comment, Mrs. Mary Jenemann said: "No statement."

Mrs. Thompson remained in seclusion. She has not commented since shortly after the birth of the quadruplets when she asserted: "He has made his bed. Let him lie in it."

Sergeant Thompson's father, William H. Thompson, Sr., expressed a desire to see his daughter-in-law and her parents and "discuss this whole affair."

To Ask Her To Free Son

"I'm going to ask Eleanor to free Billy," he said—"give him a divorce so he can marry the English lady and give their children a name. That in my mind is the fair and honorable thing to do.

"Don't think that I absolve Billy of all the blame for the sorrow and anxiety he has brought to all of us. But I am not going to let him down now when he needs me."

CANADA'S FIGHT ON PROFITS CITED

Defense Minister Says Nation Is After "War Vultures"

MAR 4 1944

Boston, March 3 (AP)—Canada is "trying to liquidate that vulture, the war profiteer," Canada's Minister of Defense declared tonight in an assertion that no one in that country now can have an annual income of over $26,986.

The Canadian Minister, Col. J. L. Ralston, said that Canada was spending over one half of its income for the war, and that more than 25 per cent. of this amount was raised by taxation.

Speaking at the Canadian Club of Boston, he added that a single man earning $2,000 pays $601 in taxes and compulsory savings and on $10,000 he would pay over $5,000.

Two Results Noted

Canada's tax policy, he declared, had done two things—"helped prevent runaway prices; and it has made surer that no Canadian will make money."

Canada was the first democratic country to put a general ceiling price over wages and prices and since then the cost of living had gone up only three per cent., he continued.

This compared with a rise of 13.5 per cent. in the United States during that same period, he said.

Spends 500 Per Cent. More

"At the end of this fiscal year Canada will have spent directly for war purposes over five times what she spent during the whole of World War I and the period of demobilization," he asserted.

At a press conference on his arrival today, Colonel Ralston estimated about 25 per cent. of the RAF flyers bombing Germany were Canadians.

He declared Canada's aviation program had trained more than 80,000 flyers since the war started.

30 Per Cent. In Uniform

He disclosed that 30 per cent. of Canadians of military age were in uniform and that 32,000 of the 700,000 Canadians in the armed forces were women.

Canada's contribution to the naval side of the war effort, he said, was the supplying of 50 per cent. of the ships and men for convoy duty in the North Atlantic.

He said Canada had built more than 700 ships, including 75 corvettes and 15 destroyers, and that his country was the fourth largest producer of armament and munitions in the world.

Seaman Denied Striking Merchant Ship Master

His Petition Contained No Admission of Charge

COLUMBUS, Ohio, March 3 (AP).—The Associated Press made two errors of fact in reporting a decision of Federal Judge Mell G. Underwood, Feb. 9, ruling military courts hold jurisdiction over civilian persons working on vessels operated in Army supply lines.

Judge Underwood denied a petition for a writ of habeas corpus sought by Jacob N. Berue, merchant seaman, serving a term in the Chillicothe, Ohio, Federal reformatory.

Berue was sentenced to seven years at hard labor by an Army court martial at Casablanca, Morocco, on a charge of provoking an incident on the high seas; the sentence later was reduced to two years. It was alleged that while a member of the crew of the S. S. Anthony Wayne, He struck the master of the ship.

The Associated Press dispatch on Feb. 9 erroneously stated Berue's petition admitted he struck the ship's master. The petition contained no such admission.

The dispatch also erroneously quoted Judge Underwood as saying that the vessel "was carrying soldiers and military supplies in convoy through seas infested by submarines to actual fighting lines of the Army." The ship did not carry soldiers. Judge Underwood's opinion pointed out that the incident charged against Berue was said to have occurred aboard a vessel which was one of a group carrying military supplies. A cargo security officer aboard was the only soldier on the Wayne.

THE ATTACKS UPON THE AIRCRAFT FACTORIES IN FRANCE WERE PART OF A SUSTAINED ALLIED OFFENSIVE TO KNOCK OUT GERMAN AIRCRAFT PRODUCTION AND CLEAR THE LUFTWAFFE FROM THE SKIES IN PREPARATION FOR THE COMING ALLIED INVASION OF WESTERN EUROPE.

THE SPECIFIC TARGET IN THE PARIS AREA WAS IDENTIFIED BY THE AIR MINISTRY AS AN AIRCRAFT ASSEMBLY PLANT AT MEULAN-LES-MUREAUX, A FEW MILES NORTH OF THE FORMER FRENCH CAPITAL. ALBERT IS ABOUT 80 MILES NORTH OF PARIS. NOT FAR FROM AMIENS.

THE AIR MINISTRY SAID THE TARGETS AT BOTH POINTS WERE MAR 4 1944 "CLEARLY IDENTIFIED AND FIRST REPORTS INDICATE THAT THE BOMBING WAS EFFECTIVE."

THE ATTACK APPARENTLY W[illegible] NOT ON TH[illegible]GE SCALE OF THE RECENT SATURATION RAIDS ON GERMANY.

AMERICAN MARAUDER MEDIUM BOMBERS RAIDED THE RAIL CENTER AT AMIENS YESTERDAY AND OTHER ATTACKS WERE CARRIED OUT ON THE INVASION COAST OF FRANCE, IT WAS ANNOUNCED.

PERSONS WATCHING THE CROSS-CHANNEL ASSAULT DURING THE DAY ESTIMATED THAT BETWEEN 2,000 AND 3,000 ALLIED PLANES OF ALL TYPES FLEW AGAINST ENEMY TARGETS BY DAYLIGHT. ON THE PREVIOUS NIGHT THE RAF MADE A 600-BOMBER RAID ON STUTTGART IN SOUTHWEST GERMANY.

THE AIR MINISTRY ANNOUNCED LAST NIGHT RAF NIGHT BOMBERS HAD DROPPED 13,200 AMERICAN TONS OF BOMBS ON GERMANY DURING FEBRUARY AND ANOTHER 1,730 TONS WERE DROPPED BY DAYLIGHT. THE ANNOUNCEMENT SAID RAF PLANE LOSSES DURING THE MONTH WERE 245 AND THAT 51 GERMAN PLANES WERE DESTROYED OVER EUROPE BY BRITISH-BASED RAF CRAFT.

THE GERMAN NEWS AGENCY DNB REPORTED IN A BROADCAST DISPATCH: "BERLIN AND ITS ENVIRONS HAD NO RAID ALARM FRIDAY. AMERICAN BOMBER FORMATIONS HEADING FOR NORTH GERMAN TERRITORY DID NOT PENETRATE BEYOND THE COASTAL AREA. A NUMBER OF ENEMY FIGHTERS HAD OBVIOUSLY MISSED THEIR RENDEZVOUS WITH THE BOMBERS."

THE BROADCAST CLAIMED THAT 28 AMERICAN PLANES INCLUDING 21 FOUR-ENGINED BOMBERS WERE SHOT DOWN.

RAF PLANES USED THE NEW 6-TON BOMB IN ATTACKING AN AIRCRAFT FACTORY AT ALBERT, FRANCE, BY MOONLIGHT LAST NIGHT IN CLEAR WEATHER. "NIGHT PHOTOGRAPHS SHOW THE 12,000-POUNDERS HIT THE FACTORY 'FAIR AND SQUARE'," SAID AN AIR MINISTRY BULLETIN.

MAR 4 1944

THESE BOMBS ARE REGARDED AS A TRIUMPH OF SCIENCE, SINCE MANY HANDICAPS HAD TO BE OVERCOME IN THEIIR DESIGN, AND THE CREWS TAKING THEM OUT, THE AIR MINISTRY DISCLOSED, "ARE GIVEN STRICT INSTRUCTIONS TO BRING THE BOMBS BACK IF THERE IS THE SLIGHTEST DOUBT ABOUT IDENTIFYING OR HITTING THE TARGET."

THE FACTORY SELECTED FOR LAST NIGHT'S BLOW IS USED TO REPAIR AERO ENGINES AND ASSEMBLE THEM FOR FOCKE-WULF 190S.

A GROUP OF RAF HALIFAXES USED THE MOONLIGHT FOR AN ATTACK ON A MESSERSCHMITT ASSEMBLY PLANT AT MEULAN-LS-MAREAUX ON THE SEINE.

SWIFT MOSQUITOS ALSO WERE OUT, BLASTING OBJECTIVES IN WESTERN GERMANY. THE NAZI PLANE PLANTS WERE HIT BY A FORCE DESCRIBED OFFICIALLY ONLY AS "AIRCRAFT OF THE BOMBER COMMAND," INDICATING THE ATTACK WAS NOT N A SATURATION SCALE.

IT WAS ANNOUNCED TODAY THAT AMERICAN FLYING FORTRESSES SCORED HITS ON TEN HANGARS, ONE SHOP AND THE DISPERSAL AREA IN THURSDAY'S ATTACK ON THE ENEMY AIRFIELD AT CHARTRES, 50 MILES SOUTHWEST OF PARIS, A TRAINING BASE FOR FIGHTER PILOTS.

THE BRITISH DID NOT LOSE A PLANE IN THE ATTACKS ON TARGETS IN ALBERT AND MEULAN-LES-MAREAUX (CORRECT).

THE NEW BRITISH 12,000-POUND BOMB IS THE LATEST IMPROVEMENT ON THE 8,000-POUNDER FIRST USED IN THE ATTACK ON KARLSRUHE, GERMANY, ON SEPT. 2, 1942. BEFORE THAT THE RAF'S BIGGEST WAS THE 4,000-POUNDER DROPPED FIRST ON WILHELMSHAVEN ON JULY 8, 1942.

THE SHATTERING QUALITY OF THE NEW BOMB--BY FAR THE BIGGEST KNOWN BOMB USED IN AERIAL WARFARE--IS LIKELY TO REDUCE CONSIDERABLY THE GERMANS' CAPACITY FOR REPAIRING BOMBED INDUSTRIAL INSTALLATIONS. INSTEAD OF REPAIRING THE GERMANS WILL HAVE TO RECONSTRUCT.

NO MATTER IN WHAT DIRECTION ALLIED PLANES FLEW THEY FOUND THE GERMAN AIR FORCE MAKING ONLY FEEBLE DEFENSIVE EFFORTS. FLIERS TOOK THIS TO INDICATE THAT THE GERMAN AIR FORCE WAS EITHER BADLY CRIPPLED BY LAST WEEK'S ALL-OUT ATTACK ON THE NAZI AIRCRAFT INDUSTRY OR WAS HUGGING ITS RESERVES FOR A TIME WHEN IT THINKS THEY WILL BE MORE BADLY NEEDED.

THE GERMAN NEWS AGENCY DNB SAID THE AMERICAN PLANES REACHED THE NORTH GERMAN COASTAL AREA ABOUT NOON AND BECAUSE OF WEATHER CONDITIONS WERE FORCED TO DROP THEIR BOMBS "OVER THE SEA, OPEN GROUND, RESIDENTIAL QUARTERS AND OVER WIDESPREAD AREAS."

THE BROADCAST COMMUNIQUE RECORDED HERE BY THE SOVIET MONITOR ALSO REPORTED THE CAPTURE OF SIX VILLAGES AND TWO RAILWAY STATIONS IN THE DRIVE ON OSTROV SOUTH OF PSKOV.

MAR 4 1944

THE OSTROV DRIVE IS AIMED AT CUTTING THE LENINGRAD-WARSAW TRUNK RAILWAY, ONE OF THE TWO REMAINING POSSIBLE ESCAPE ARTERIES LEFT TO THE NORTHERN GERMAN FORCES. THE OTHER IS THE RAILWAY RUNNING WEST FROM PSKOV TO THE LATVIAN CAPITAL OF RIGA.

LONDON, MARCH 3-(AP)-SOVIET ARMIES PRESSING THEIR OFFENSIVE TO CLEAR THE GERMANS FROM NORTHERN RUSSIA, HAVE RECORDED NEW GAINS ON THE NARVA AND PSKOV SECTORS, MOSCOW ANNOUNCED TODAY AS BERLIN REPORTED A RENEWED RED ARMY DRIVE TOWARD BOBRUISK IN THE DIRECTION OF THE WHITE RUSSIAN CAPITAL OF MINSK.

THERE WAS NO MENTION IN THE SOVIET COMMUNIQUE OF ACTIVITY IN THE VITEBSK SECTOR, WHERE THE RUSSIANS PREVIOUSLY HAD REPORTED MORE THAN 30 TOWNS AND HAMLETS CAPTURED IN A DRIVE WHICH BREACHED THE CITY'S FIRST LINE DEFENSES. MOSCOW DISPATCHES, HOWEVER, SAID THE VITEBSK DRIVE CARRIED GREAT POWER AND THAT THE CLIMAX WAS EXPECTED SOON.

MAJOR RED ARMY GAINS OF THE DAY WERE REGISTERED IN THE PSKOV FIGHTING, THE MOSCOW WAR BULLETIN ANNOUNCED. THIRTY COMMUNITIES WERE CAPTURED FROM THE NAZIS IN A THRUST TOWARD OSTROV, 35 MILES SOUTH OF PSKOV, AIMED AT CUTTING THE GREAT LENINGRAD-WARSAW TRUNK RAILWAY, ONE OF THE TWO REMAINING POSSIBLE ESCAPE ARTERIES LEFT TO THE NORTHERN GERMAN FORCES. THE OTHER IS THE RAILWAY RUNNING WEST FROM PSKOV TO THE LATVIAN CAPITAL OF RIGA.

FRONT-LINE DISPATCHES YESTERDAY SAID SOVIET SPEARHEADS WERE FIGHTING IN THE OUTSKIRTS OF PSKOV, BUT TODAY'S COMMUNIQUE REPORTED ONLY THE CAPTURE OF SEVERAL MORE STRONGPOINTS ON THE APPROACHES TO THE BALTIC GATEWAY CITY.

THE CHILDREN ARE NOW REGARDED AS BRITISH SUBJECTS. IF THEIR AMERICAN PATERNITY IS ESTABLISHED WHILE THEY ARE MINORS, THROUGH THEIR PARENTS' MARRIAGE OR THROUGH RECOGNITION IN COURT, THEY MAY DECIDE AT 21 WHETHER TO BECOME BRITISH OR AMERICAN CITIZENS.

THE OTHER THREE CHILDREN WERE REPORTED DOING WELL.

MISS CARPENTER SAID THE QUADS' FATHER "WAS MARRIED ABOUT TWO YEARS AGO IN AMERICA AND THEY HAD NO CHILDREN," BUT ADDED:

LONDON, MARCH 3-(AP)-HITLER'S FURIOUS ATTEMPTS TO SMASH THE ANZIO BEACHHEAD HAS ELEVATED ITALY TO A MAJOR BATTLE FRONT, WITH THE LATEST AUTHORITATIVE ESTIMATES PLACING THE GERMAN FORCES PITTED AGAINST THE ALLIED TROOPS AT 2 DIVISIONS.

THE GERMAN HIGH COMMAND IS FOLLOWING THE SAME TACTICS USED LAST WINTER IN TUNISIA, WHEN IT POURED DIVISION AFTER DIVISION IN FROM ITALY IN THE HOPE OF SALVAGING A VICTORY.

THE NAZIS HAVE MOVED ONE DIVISION FROM AS FAR AWAY AS CALAIS TO THE BEACHHEAD AND APPARENTLY ARE WILLING TO TAKE TREMENDOUS LOSSES IN AN EFFORT TO DRIVE THE ALLIES INTO THE SEA.

30.24 — 13413

MARCH WILL BE A CRITICAL MONTH IN THE ITALIAN FIGHTING AND IT MAY END WITHOUT ANY DECISIVE GROUND BEING GAINED BY THE ALLIES, WHO ARE IN THE SAME POSITION AS THEY WERE LAST FEBRUARY AND MARCH IN SOUTHERN TUNISIA, WHERE THEY HAD TO BUILD UP THEIR FORCES FOR ONE OVERWHELMING ATTACK.

STRATEGICALLY THE BEACHHEAD WILL BE MORE DIFFICULT TO HOLD THAN MOUNTAINOUS TUNISIA, BUT GEN. SIR HENRY MAITLAND WILSON, COMMANDER-IN-CHIEF IN THE MEDITERRANEAN; GEN. SIR HAROLD ALEXANDER, ALLIED COMMANDER IN ITALY; LT.GEN. MARK W.CLARK, COMMANDER OF THE FIFTH ARMY, AND PRIME MINISTER CHURCHILL ALL HAVE EXPRESSED CONFIDENCE IT NOT ONLY WILL BE HELD BUT WILL BE PUSHED FORWARD.

IT SEEMS UNLIKELY, HOWEVER, THAT THE ALLIES WILL BE ABLE TO PUSH IT FAR UNTIL THE BATTLE OF ATTRITION HAS WORN DOWN THE GERMAN ATTACKING STRENGTH NOW ENGAGED IN A FURIOUS ASSAULT ON THE BEACHHEAD POSITION.

THIS PROBABLY WILL TAKE WEEKS OF THE BLOODIEST FIGHTING BECAUSE THE ALLIES, TOO, WILL HAVE TO REPLENISH LOSSES.

MAR 4 1944

A GENERAL RETURNING FROM A MEDITERRANEAN TOUR SAID HE THOUGHT A DEFINITE SWING OF THE BATTLE IN FAVOR OF THE ALLIES WOULD COME ONLY WHEN THE WEATHER PERMITTED THEM TO MAKE FULL USE OF THEIR AIR SUPERIORITY. USUALLY THE ITALIAN WEATHER CLEARS LATE IN MARCH OR EARLY APRIL.

BEFORE DEFINITE PROGRESS CAN BE MADE ON THE BEACHHEAD THE STALEMATE AROUND CASSINO MUST BE BROKEN, AND THIS CAN BE DONE ONLY BY SLOW MOUNTAIN FIGHTING.

IT SEEMS UNLIKELY THAT THE ALLIED COMMAND, WITH THE WESTERN FRONT IN FORMATION, WILL COMMIT MORE TROOPS THAN ABSOLUTELY NECESSARY TO THE ITALIAN FIGHTING, BUT WILL DEPEND ON AIR SUPERIORITY AND SEA MOBILITY-BOTH OF WHICH THE GERMANS LACK--TO TIP THE SCALES.

BESIDES THE MILITARY URGENCY OF SMASHING THE GERMANS IT IS BECOMING INCREASINGLY MORE IMPORTANT FROM A POLITICAL VIEW POINT TO TAKE ROME.

"IT IS TO BE BELIEVED WE WILL TRY TO MOVE ALONG THE ROAD OF NEGOTIATION IF THERE IS EVEN THE SLIGHTEST POSSIBILITY TO DO SO WITH FREEDOM AND INDEPENDENCE PRESERVED," THE NEWSPAPER SAID.

(THESE EXPRESSIONS DOVETAILED WITH OPINION IN INFORMED LONDON QUARTERS, WHICH EXPECTED FINLAND ULTIMATELY TO ACCEPT RUSSIA'S PRICE, ALTHOUGH RELUCTANTLY AND ONLY AFTER MAKING COUNTER-PROPOSALS IN AN EFFORT TO SURMOUNT THE DIFFICULTIES ARISING FROM NAZI DIVISIONS STILL IN FINLAND).

THE SOCIAL DEMOKRATTI NOTED THAT "GERMAN REACTION WILL HAVE AN INFLUENCE ON SOME POINTS," AN APPARENT REFERENCE TO THE GERMAN TROOPS REMAINING IN THE COUNTRY.

BEFORE THE NEWSPAPER ARTICLE APPEARED A FINNISH FOREIGN OFFICE SPOKESMAN HAD SAID THAT THE FINNISH CABINET WAS GIVING THE PEACE DILEMMA "MAJOR CONSIDERATION," BUT THERE WAS NO OFFICIAL INDICATION THAT ANY DECISION HAD BEEN REACHED. HE DENIED THAT A PEACE DELEGATION WAS EN ROUTE TO MOSCOW.

THE ILTA SANOMAT SAID THE PUBLISHED TERMS WERE "NOT SUITABLE AS A BASIS FOR FINAL NEGOTIATIONS" AND ADDED THAT "IF RUSSIA REALLY WANTS PEACE WITH US IT SEEMS THAT THESE TERMS COULDN'T BE FINAL."

(RADIO FRANCE AT ALGIERS QUOTED AN UNCONFIRMED BUDAPEST REPORT THAT HE FINNISH AMBASSADOR TO BERLIN HAD ARRIVED AT STOCKHOLM, AND THAT UHO KOSTI PAASIKIVI, FORMER FINNISH PREMIER WHO NEGOTIATED THE 939-40 "WINTER WAR" PEACE WITH RUSSIA, ALSO HAD RETURNED TO THE WEDISH CAPITAL.)

NAZI AUTHORITIES IN BIARRITZ MEANWHILE CONTINUED TO MAINTAIN SILENCE ON THE EXACT MAKE-UP OF THE AMERICAN GROUP, THE FIRST TRAIN LOAD OF WHICH IS EXPECTED TO ARRIVE SOON AT IRUN, SPAIN. AS YET THERE IS NO INDICATION FROM THE GERMANS WHETHER ANY AMERICAN WOUNDED ARE IN THE PARTY.

THE GERMAN GROUP WHICH CROSSED THE FRONTIER LAST NIGHT INCLUDED THE FORMER GERMAN CONSUL AT ALGIERS, CAPTURED DURING THE ALLIED LANDINGS IN FRENCH NORTH AFRICA. THE NAZIS WERE GREETED HERE BY MEMBERS OF THE GERMAN COLONY AND LOCAL FALANGE PARTY CHIEFTIANS. THEY WERE GIVEN BASKETS OF FOOD AND FRUIT WHILE YOUNG GERMAN GIRLS DISTRIBUTED FLOWERS.

AFTER DEPOSITING THE GERMANS AT HENDAYE ON THE FRENCH SIDE OF THE BORDER THE THREE SPANISH TRAINS RETURNED TO IRUN FOR DISINFECTION AND CLEANING BEFORE RETURNING TO GET THE AMERICANS, WHO WILL JOIN ABOUT 300 OTHER AMERICANS IN LISBON, INCLUDING 37 WOUNDED UNITED STATES SOLDIERS WHO CROSSED THE FRONTIER ON FEB. 24.

HE ACCUSED HEARST OF PRINTING FALSE INFORMATION REGARDING THE SOVIET UNION'S PROPOSALS TO FINLAND.

ZASLAVSKY SAID HEARST BACKED HITLER AND HOPED FOR A FASCIST REGIME IN THE UNITED STATES AND, NOW THAT HITLER IS COLLAPSING, HE IS TRYING TO DISCLAIM HIS FRIENDSHIP.

LT. GEN. MARK W. CLARK, COMMANDING GENERAL OF THE FIFTH ARMY, SAID LAST NIGHT THE ENEMY HAD SUFFERED A SERIOUS SETBACK.

THIS LATEST GERMAN FAILURE TO WIPE OUT THE BEACHHEAD, OTHER ALLIED OFFICERS SAID, MEANT THAT HEAVY LOSSES HAVE BEEN INFLICTED ON THE THREE DIVISIONS WHICH SPEARHEADED THE ASSAULT, CENTERED ON A 1,000-YARD FRONT MIDWAY BETWEEN CARROCETO AND CISTERNA.

THE MEDITERRANEAN ALLIED AIR FORCES, HURLING VIRTUALLY THEIR ENTIRE STRENGTH YESTERDAY AGAINST THE GERMANS AROUND THE BEACHHEAD, DROPPED ABOUT 40,000 FRAGMENTATION BOMBS FROM SOME 1,600 PLANES -- A RECORD FOR THIS TYPE OF ATTACK IN THIS THEATER.

AMERICAN FLYING FORTRESSES, LIBERATORS, MEDIUM, LIGHT, AND FIGHTER BOMBERS ALL PARTICIPATED, THE ATTACK BEING CONCENTRATED ON THE CARROCETO-VELLETRI-CISTERNA LINE. THE GERMAN AIR FORCE MADE NO ATTEMPT TO INTERCEPT THE FORMATIONS. TEN ENEMY PLANES WERE SIGHTED ON ONE OCCASION BUT THEY FAILED TO FIGHT.

MAR 4 1944

IN THE FINAL ATTACK LATE WEDNESDAY IN THEIR TWO-DAY OFFENSIVE THE GERMANS WERE FORCED TO CROSS OPEN COUNTRY AND ALLIED ARTILLERY TORE HUGE HOLES IN THEIR RANKS EVEN BEFORE THEY NEARED THE ALLIED LINES. SUBSEQUENTLY, AMERICAN TROOPS WIPED OUT A FEW MINOR INFILTRATIONS.

"EVERYWHERE NOW OUR LINES REMAIN INTACT AS BEFORE THE OFFENSIVE BEGAN," AND ALLIED MILITARY COMMANTATOR SAID.

THE THREE GERMAN DIVISIONS THAT SPRANG FORWARD IN THE SHORT-LIVED OFFENSIVE HAVE NOW BEEN IDENTIFIED AS THE 26TH MOTORIZED, THE 114TH JAEGER (RIFLE), AND THE 362ND INFANTRY.

THE ENEMY LOSSES INCLUDED NINE TANKS KNOCKED OUT BY ONE AMERICAN ANTI-TANK UNIT AT THE HEIGHT OF THE ATTACK AND AN ENTIRE COMPANY OF POSSIBLY 100 MEN AMBUSHED BY THE BRITISH DURING A DIVERSIONARY GERMAN ASSAULT NEAR THE MOLETTA RIVER HEADWATERS SOUTH OF CARROCETO.

A STRONG ALLIED PATROL AMBUSHED AND KILLED OR CAPTURED AN ENTIRE GERMAN COMPANY THAT ATTACKED IN THE COASTAL ZONE SOUTHWEST OF LITTORIA WEDNESDAY MORNING.

SNOW, RAIN AND HEAVY WINDS REMAINED HAMPERING FACTORS YESTERDAY IN THE MAIN FIFTH ARMY AND EIGHTH ARMY SECTORS YESTERDAY, BUT ARTILLERY DUELLING AND PATROLLING CONTINUED. CANADIANS OF THE EIGHTH ARMY TOOK A NUMBER OF PRISONERS IN THE TOLLO AREA.

THE ALLIED AIR FORCES, WITH STRENGTH TO SPARE FROM THE BEACHHEAD BOMBING, SENT SPITFIRES AND THUNDERBOLTS IN SWEEPS ALONG THE YUGOSLAV COAST IN DIRECT SUPPORT OF MARSHAL TITO'S FORCES AND THEY HAD A FIELD DAY IN KNOCKING OUT FIVE TROOP TRAINS, FOUR LOCOMOTIVES, 18 MOTOR TRANSPORT VEHICLES, FOUR STAFF CARS AND SOME HORSEDRAWN WAGONS.

THE SPITFIRES SIGHTED ONE MOTOR CONVOY OF AT LEAST 50 THREE-TON TRUCKS WHICH ONE OF THE PILOTS SAID "WE COULDN'T MISS." ABOUT A THIRD OF THE TRUCKS WERE LEFT BURNING AND OTHERS WERE DAMAGED.

ONE FORMATION OF SPITFIRES BAGGED THEIR SECOND ENEMY E-BOAT IN TWO DAYS AND SET A SMALL SCHOONER AFIRE NEAR CORFU.

RAF WELLINGTONS BOMBED RAIL INSTALLATIONS ALONG THE COAST NORTHWEST OF ROME BETWEEN MONTALTO DI CASTRO AND TALAMONE LAST NIGHT AND SHIPPING AND HARBOR FACILITIES AT SAN STEFANO, IN NORTHWEST ITALY. P-39S SET FIRE TO A RADIO STATION NEAR LEGHORN.

AMERICAN FLYING FORTRESS AND LIBERATOR CREWS WHO FLEW THROUGH FURIOUS ANTI-AIRCRAFT FIRE TO BOMB THE GERMANS AROUND THE BEACHHEAD REPORTED EXCELLENT BLANKETING OF NAZI TROOPS WITH LETHAL FRAGMENTATION BOMBS.

LT.COL.TRAVIS HOOVER, OF CORONA, CALIF., DEPUTY COMMANDER OF A LIBERATOR GROUP WHO WAS ON THE FAMOUS DOOLITTLE RAID OVER TOKYO, SAID "WE COULD SEE QUITE A BIT OF ACTIVITY ON THE GROUND AND GUN FLASHES" DURING THE BOMBING OF THE CISTERNA-VELLETRI ROAD.

MAR 4 1944

"WHEN WE ARE USED IN GROUND SUPPORT WE GET THE FEELING OF BEING VERY CLOSE TO THE BOYS IN THE FRONT LINES--A FEELING OF BEING ABLE TO REACH OUT OUR HANDS AND HELP THEM," SAID LT.JOSEPH W.BROWN, 1256 RUTLEDGE

BOULEVARD, CINCINNATI, OHIO, A LIBERATOR PILOT. "IT'S A WONDERFUL FELLING. I KNOW WE HELPED THEM YESTERDAY."

COL.JOHN F.BATJER OF SEABROOK, TEX., DEPUTY COMMANDER OF A FORTRESS GROUP ON HIS FIRST MISSION, SAID "I WAS SCARED UNTIL THE FLAK STARTED COMING UP AND THEN I WAS REALLY SCARED."

BATJER'S WIFE LIVES AT 40 SCHNEIDER AVE., HIGHLAND FALLS, N.Y.

FOR TWO FLIERS IT WAS THEIR 50TH MISSION. THEY WERE CAPT.ALVIN H. NURRE OF ERRON LANE, SAINT BERNARD, OHIO, A FORTRESS PILOT, AND STAFF SGT.CLYDE H.BRIDGES, 147 MATTE ST., MEADERVILLE, (NOT LISTED POSTAL GUIDE) MONT., A FORTRESS WAIST GUNNER.

MAR 4 1944

"THIS TURNED OUT TO BE THE TYPE I HOPED MY 50TH WOULD BE--THERE WERE NO FIGHTERS AND THE FLAK WASN'T TOO BAD," NURRE SAID.

BRIDGES, WHO FLEW DOWN "FLAK ALLEY" ON THE RECENT REGENSBURG RAID, SAID "THIS WAS COMPARATIVELY EASY."

SEVERAL LIBERATOR CREWMEN HAD NARROW ESCAPES, INCLUDING STAFF SGT. PETER R.SYVRUD, 600 8TH AVE., MANDAN, N.D., A RADIO GUNNER.

"I WAS STANDING IN THE NOSE WATCHING FOR ENEMY FIGHTERS. SUDDENLY THE PLANE SEEMED TO LIFT UNDER MY FOOT. I LOOKED DOWN, BUT AS IT WAS TOO COLD TO BEND DOWN AND EXPLORE AT THE MOMENT I KEPT UP MY WATCH. AFTER WE CAME BACK I EXAMINED THE CAUSE OF THE UPHEAVAL. IT WAS A TWO-INCH SLUG IN THE FLAK SUIT UNDER MY FEET," HE SAID.

SECOND LT.CHARLES H.CURL, 3556 SOUTHEAST SALMON ST., PORTLAND, ORE., CO-PILOT OF A MITCHELL THAT HELPED BOMB TROOP CONCENTRATIONS FOUR MILES NORTHWEST OF CISTERNA, WAS FULL OF PRAISE FOR THE SPITFIRES THAT FLEW ALONG.

"THEY HANG RIGHT WITH YOU AND TAKE ABOUT 50 PER CENT OF THE WORRY OFF YOUR HEAD," HE SAID.

3o. 24— 13419

TURRET GUNNER SGT.BEN BOATWRIGHT, 7829 ELWOOD ST., HOUSTON, TEX., SAID "THE KRAUTS REALLY WERE ASLEEP--DURING THE WHOLE MISSION I SAW ONLY ONE BURST OF FLAK AND IT WAS HALF A MILE AWAY."

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, NAPLES, MARCH 3-(AP)-ALLIED HEADQUARTERS ANNOUNCED TODAY THE LATEST GERMAN ATTACKS AGAINST THE ANZIO BEACHHEAD HAD COLLAPSED.

THE OFFENSIVE BEGUN BY THE NAZIS TUESDAY MORNING WAS HALTED AFTER HEAVY LOSSES WERE INFLICTED ON THE ATTACKERS AND THE ALLIED POSITIONS ARE INTACT, A COMMUNIQUE SAID.

MAR 4 1944

THE MEDITERRANEAN ALLIED AIR FORCES, INCLUDING FOUR-ENGINED BOMBERS, STRONGLY ATTACKED THE ENEMY IN THE BEACHHEAD AREA AND BOMBED SHIPPING OFF THE YUGOSLAV COAST.

THE ARMY COMMUNIQUE SAID:

"AFTER THE FAILURE OF ALL HIS ATTACKS WHICH BEGAN FEB. 29 THE ENEMY DID NOT RESUME HIS STRONG OFFENSIVE AGAINST THE ALLIED BEACHHEAD FORCES YESTERDAY. OUR POSITIONS REMAIN INTACT. HEAVY LOSSES WERE INFLICTED ON THE ENEMY."

ON THE LOWER FIFTH ARMY AND EIGHTH ARMY FRONTS, THE OPPOSING FORCES EXCHANGED GUNFIRE DURING THE DAY AND ENGAGED IN MINOR PATROL ACTIVITY.

THE ALLIED AIR STRENGTH OVER THE BEACHHEAD YESTERDAY WAS MADE UP OF LARGE FORCES OF HEAVY BOMBERS, MEDIUM AND FIGHTER BOMBERS AS WELL AS FIGHTERS.

"THE CARROCETO TO VELLETRI-CISTERNA AREA WAS PARTICULARLY HEAVILY ATTACKED," THE AIR COMMAND SAID.

SIX ALLIED AIRCRAFT WERE REPORTED MISSING FROM THE DAY'S OPERATIONS WHICH INCLUDED 1,200 INDIVIDUAL FLIGHTS.

MAR 4 1944

JR610AEW

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, NAPLES, MARCH 3-(AP)-LT.GEN.MARK W.CLARK SAID LAST NIGHT HIS FIFTH ARMY FORCES HAVE NOW REGAINED ALL GROUND LOST IN THE THIRD MASSIVE GERMAN EFFORT TO WIPE OUT THE ANZIO BEACHHEAD AND DECLARED THE ENEMY HAD SUFFERED A SERIOUS SETBACK.

THE GERMANS DROVE 1,500 YARDS -- NEARLY A MILE -- INTO THE CENTER OF THE AMERICAN-BRITISH DEFENSE LINE MIDWAY BETWEEN CARROCETO AND CISTERNA BEFORE NIGHTFALL TUESDAY, THE OPENING DAY OF THE ATTACK. HEADQUARTERS ANNOUNCED YESTERDAY 1,000 YARDS HAD BEEN REGAINED.

GEN.CLARK'S STATEMENT THAT THE ALLIED LINES HAD NOW BEEN RESTORED TO THEIR ORIGINAL POSITIONS GAVE NO INDICATION WHETHER THE ADVANCE WAS CONTINUING, BUT LATEST REPORTS SAID FIGHTING STILL WAS IN PROGRESS.

AFTER A DAY-LONG TOUR OF THE FRONT LINES YESTERDAY, THE FIFTH ARMY COMMANDER SPOKE ENTHUSIASTICALLY OF THE WAY IN WHICH AMERICAN AND BRITISH UNITS BROKE UP THE LATEST LARGE-SCALE GERMAN ATTACK AND THEN MOVED FORWARD TO WIN BACK THE LOST TERRITORY. HE SAID THE SITUATION S WELL IN HAND AND EXPRESSED CONVICTION THAT ALLIED CONTROL OF THE BEACHHEAD WAS FIRMLY ESTABLISHED.

ADDRESSING BRITISH TROOPS NEAR THE FRONT LINE, THE GENERAL SAID HE WAS CONFIDENT HIS FORCES COULD THROW BACK ANYTHING THE GERMANS SENT AGAINST THEM. HE SAID HE WAS GREATLY ENCOURAGED BY THE BEACHHEAD SITUATION.

GERMAN SHELLING OF THE BEACHHEAD CONTINUED YESTERDAY, AND ONE SHELL FELL IN A ROAD ONLY 30 SECONDS AFTER CLARK'S PARTY HAD PASSED.

THE STRENGTH OF THE GERMAN ATTACK, ONLY HALF AS POWERFUL AS THAT WHICH ATTEMPTED TO DRIVE DOWN THE CARROCETO-ANZIO ROAD TWO WEEKS AGO, SUGGESTED THAT CASUALTIES INFLICTED AGROUND AND BY ALLIED AIRMEN HAVE SHARPLY CUT THE NAZI OFFENSIVE POWER, ALTHOUGH HEADQUARTERS ANNOUNCED LAST WEEK THAT 10 ENEMY DIVISIONS WERE RINGING THE BEACHHEAD.

AN ALLIED BOMBER BASE IN ITALY, MARCH 3-(AP)-ROME'S RAILWAY YARDS, AMMED WITH GERMAN SUPPLY TRAINS, CAME UNDER THE BOMBSIGHT CROSSHAIRS A VETERAN BOMBARDIER FROM GEORGIA TODAY AT 11:30 A.M., AND HE PROMPY UNLEASHED THE FIFTH ATTACK BY AMERICAN HEAVY BOMBERS AGAINST MILIRY TARGETS IN THE ETERNAL CITY.

A STRONG FORCE OF FLYING FORTRESSES STRUCK BOTH AT THE TIBURTINA D LITTORIO YARDS. ALMOST PERFECT VISIBILITY HELPED THEM IN FOLLOWG STRICT INSTRUCTIONS TO AVOID ALL RISK OF DAMAGING ROME'S CULTURAL D RELIGIOUS TREASURES.

HUNDREDS OF FREIGHT CARS BRINGING SUPPLIES FROM NORTHERN ITALY TO E TWO GERMAN ARMIES IN THE SOUTH CLOGGED THE TRACKS IN THE TARGET EAS AND WERE BLASTED BY MANY TONS OF HIGH EXPLOSIVES.

THE FORTRESSES OF THE SAME GROUP WHICH LED LAST SUMMER'S DOUBLE SAULT ON ROME'S TRANSPORTATION NERVE CENTERS SPEARHEADED TODAY'S ERATION.

MAR 4 1944

THE GROUP BOMBARDIER, LT.JOHN A.WALLACE OF GRIFFIN, GA., COMPLETED 15TH MISSION SUCCESSFULLY.

THE FIRST WAVE OF BOMBER ENCOUNTERED NO ENEMY FIGHTERS AND XTREMELY WEAK ANTI-AIRCRAFT FIRE. SOME GERMAN PLANES OFFERED PPOSITION LATER.

MANY AMERICAN THUNDERBOLTS SIMULTANEOUSLY MILLED IN THE SKY WHILE HE FLYING FORTRESSES AND LIBERATORS THEY WERE ESCORTING ATTACKED NEMY AIR FIELDS AT CANINO, FABRICA AND VIERBO OUTSIDE OF ROME.

GERMAN ARMIES HAVE BEEN RELYING HEAVILY ON RAIL COMMUNICATIONS AND RAFFIC THROUGH ROME HAS BEEN GREATLY INCREASED SINCE THE INITIAL NEMY OFFENSIVE AGAINST THE ALLIED BEACHHEAD AT NEARBY ANZIO EARLY N FEBRUARY.

THE TIBURTINA YARD IS NEARER TO THE HEART OF ROME THAN THE YARDS T LITTORIO AND CALLED FOR THE GREATEST DEGREE OF PRECISION IN THE OMBING FROM B-17S FLYING IN THE SUB-STRATOSPHERE.

LITTORIO, BETWEEN AN AIRDROME AND A RIVER, WAS RELATIVELY AN EASY TARGET TO SMOTHER WITHOUT HAZARD TO ROMAN MONUMENTS.

ON THE ANZIO BEACHHEAD, MARCH 2, 11:30 P.M., (DELAYED)-(AP)-THE ORALE OF THE HARD-PRESSED BEACHHEAD TROOPS WENT UP TODAY AS THE LATEST ERMAN ATTACK APPEARED TO HAVE SPENT ITSELF AND FINE WEATHER ERMITTED HEAVY MEDIUM AND FIGHTER-BOMBERS TO ATTACK THE SURROUNDING NEMY IN FULL STRENGTH.

MAR 1944

THE DAY-LONG POUNDING OF GERMAN TROOPS AND GUN POSITIONS BY LIBERATORS, FLYING FORTRESSES, MITCHELLS, BOSTONS AND OTHER PLANES HAD AN IMMEDIATE EFFECT ON ENEMY ARTILLERY FIRE, WHICH IN RECENT DAYS HAD BEEN POURING SHELLS OVER THE WHOLE BEACHHEAD WITH UNNERVING EFFECT.

THE SHELLING DWINDLED AS THE DAY WENT ON AND BY NIGHTFALL WAS REDUCED GREATLY.

IN THE EARLY PART OF THE DAY, ALLIED AIRCRAFT ENCOUNTERED LITTLE FLAK AND FEW ENEMY FIGHTERS. LATER, A HEAVY FIRE WAS PUT UP AT THEM AND, AS WE WATCHED WITH CHEERING TROOPS, WE SAW A DOGFIGHT AND TWO PLANES STRUCK BY ACK-ACK FIRE. WE ALSO SAW COLUMNS OF SMOKE RISE FROM ENEMY LINES AND GREAT BLACK BURSTS AS BIG GUNS, WHICH HAD BEEN SHELLING US, WERE SMASHED TO PIECES WITH THEIR CREWS OBLITERATED.

THE AIR SEEMED FILLED WITH TINY WHITE PARASOLS GLISTENING IN THE SUN AS AIRMEN BAILED OUT. SHORTLY AFTERWARD, A GROUP OF FLIERS WHO DESCENDED IN THIS MANNER WERE GATHERED AT A SPOT ON THE BEACHHEAD WHERE SOLDIERS TOLD THEM WHAT A LIFT THEY HAD RECEIVED FROM THE GREAT AIR OFFENSIVE.

MAR 4 1944

THE FLIERS INTERVENED AFTER GERMAN ATTEMPTS TO CRACK THROUGH THE CISTERNA AREA HAD BEEN BLOCKED BY AMERICAN INFANTRY AND ARTILLERY.

SECOND LT.JACOB F.KURY, 338 E.MIFFLIN, LEBANON, PA., PILOT OF A LIBERATOR, SAID: "WE HAD JUST DROPPED OUR BOMBS OVER THE BIVOUAC AREA NEAR CISTERNA WHEN TWO BURSTS OCCURRED BENEATH THE PLANE. THE SECOND MUST HAVE EXPLODED JUST UNDER THE PLANE, OR HIT A BOMB FALLING FROM OUR RACKS FOR IT BLEW OUT THE BOMB BAY WITH A TERRIBLE CONCUSSION AND GASOLINE POURED ALL OVER THE FLIGHT DECK. THE PLANE WAS FILLED WITH CHOKING FUMES BUT THEY DIDN'T CATCH FIRE. I HAD THE SHIP UNDER CONTROL FOR FIVE MINUTES AND ALL HAD PLENTY OF TIME TO GET OUT."

WITH KURY WERE FOUR OF HIS CREW: THE CO-PILOT, SECOND LT.HERBERT GREENBALGH, 316 WALNUT, WELLESLEY HILLS, MASS.; THE NAVIGATOR, SECOND LT.JAMES B.CALDWELL, MOBRIDGE, S.D.; THE BOMBARDIER, SECOND LT.J.F. DEVINE, 101 DANA AVE., ALBANY, N.Y.; AND THE RADIO OPERATOR, STAFF SGT.JAMES LINDLEY, MACON, MISS.

CALDWELL DROPPED INTO THE SEA ABOUT A MILE OFFSHORE. NEARLY 100 SOLDIERS WATCHED AS A RESCUE BOAT PICKED HIM UP.

"I PULLED THE CARTRIDGES OUT OF MY MAE WEST BUT IT DIDN'T INFLATE," CALDWELL SAID. THESE LIFEBELTS ALSO HAVE TUBES FOR BLOWING THEM UP IN CASE THE CARBON DIOXIDE CARTRIDGES DON'T GO OFF AND CALDWELL SAID THE FAILURE RESULTED BECAUSE THESE TUBES WERE OPEN AND THE GAS ESCAPED.

"I WAS IN THE WATER 15 MINUTES WITH HEAVY CLOTHES ON, NOT EXACTLY SWIMMING BUT KEEPING AFLOAT BY MOVING MY HANDS," HE SAID, "I SAW MY EMERGENCY KIT FLOAT AWAY AND WENT AFTER IT. I GOT IT BUT I HAD TO LET GO AGAIN BECAUSE I NEEDED BOTH HANDS TO KEEP FROM SINKING. BRITISH BOYS IN THE RESCUE BOAT PICKED ME UP. THEY THREW ME A ROPE BUT I WAS TOO WEAK TO CLIMB SO THEY CAME DOWN AND PULLED ME UP. THEY TOOK MY CLOTHES OFF AND WRAPPED ME IN BLANKETS AND GAVE ME A DRINK OF RUM. IT WAS THE FIRST DRINK I HAVE HAD SINCE COMING TO ITALY TWO MONTHS AGO.

"I AM AN ABSTAINER--BUT THAT RUM CERTAINLY WAS GOOD. THEY TURNED ME OVER TO THE AMERICANS ON SHORE WHO GAVE ME THESE NEW CLOTHES."

LINDLEY'S PARACHUTE CAME OPEN BEFORE HE LEFT THE PLANE. HE JUMPED, HOLDING IT RUMPLED IN HIS HANDS AND THEN LET IT GO.

GREENBALGH SAID: "I WAS SO BUSY WHILE IT WAS HAPPENING THAT IT WASN'T SO BAD. IT'S ONLY NOW WHEN YOU THINK ABOUT IT THAT YOU GET SCARED."

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, ALGIERS, MARCH 3-(AP)-THEY CITED THE THIRD DIVIS-ION IN THE DISPATCHES FROM ANZIO TODAY.

THE MESSAGE SAID ALLIED TROOPS HAVE BROKEN THE BACK OF A THIRD GER-MAN OFFENSIVE AGAINST THE BEACHHEAD AND IT ADDED "IN THE HEAVY FIGHT-ING THE THIRD AMERICAN INFANTRY DIVISION PARTICULARLY DISTINGUISHED ITSELF."

MAR 4 1944

DIVISIONS, AS SUCH, ARE RARELY MENTIONED IN DISPATCHES. INDIVIDUAL OFFICERS AND MEN WILL WIN MEDALS AND GET CITIATIONS BUT A HIGH LEVEL OF EFFICIENCY, COURAGE AND SKILL AMONG THE THOUSANDS OF MEN IN A DIVISION IS SOMETHING ELSE AGAIN. IT HAPPENS ABOUT ONCE IN EVERY CAMPAIGN.

IT IS MORE THAN LIKELY TONIGHT THAT THE BOYS IN THE "THIRD DIV" ARE GRATIFIED BY THE HONOR, BUT NOT PARTICULARLY SURPRISED.

THEY ARE A VERY QUIET BUNCH OF BOYS. THEY SAY THEIRS IS THE BEST DIVISION IN THE WHOLE AMERICAN ARMY AND WITH THAT, THEY LET IT GO. TO THEM IT IS A FACT, SOMETHING EVERYBODY KNOWS. JUST AS EVERYBODY KNOWS THE SWISS MAKE GOOD WATCHES.

THEY COME MAINLY FROM THE NORTHWEST, WASHINGTON, OREGON, MONTANA, AND SOME FROM CALIFORNIA. THROUGH THE RANKS, TOO, YOU FIND A SPRINKL-ING OF TEXANS AND GEORGIANS. IN THE LAST WAR, THEIR FATHERS WON FOR THE DIVISION THE NAME "ROCK OF THE MARNE." IN THIS ONE, THE THIRD CROSSED FROM NORTH AFRICA AND SICILY, AND CAME COMPARATIVELY EARLY INTO THE MAIN BATTLE OF ITALY.

IT HAS NEVER FALLEN DOWN ON A JOB.

IT WAS THE THIRD THAT SMASHED THROUGH THE GERMAN DEFENSE AT THE VOLTURNO RIVER.

ON THE AFTERNOON BEFORE THE HOP-OFF A SOLDIER SAID TO ME WITH NEITHER INTEREST NOR CONCERN, "WELL IT LOOKS PRETTY STRONG BUT WAIT UNTIL WE HIT IT."

AROUND THE DIVISION COMMAND POST--HEADQUARTERS--THERE IS ALWAYS AN AIR OF QUIET EFFICIENCY. YOU NEVER SEE A MAN RUFFLED OR EXCITED. THE GENERAL LIKES TO HAVE HIS "CP" RIGHT UP BEHIND THE LINES CLOSER THAN THE REGIMENTAL OR BATTALION "CP" IN SOME OTHER DIVISIONS.

WHAT THE THIRD THINKS OF ITSELF WAS TERSELY EXPLAINED ME BY A SIG-NALMAN JUST BEFORE THE EXPEDITION TO ANZIO SET OFF. NOBODY KNEW JUST WHICH DIVISIONS WERE SCHEDULED FOR THE ATTACK. WE AGREED IT PROBABLY WOULD BE A DIFFICULT AND BLOODY LANDING.

"THEN WE ARE A CINCH TO GO," HE SAID. "THEY'LL NEED US THERE."

CAIRO, MARCH 3--I AM HAPPY AT LAST TO BE ABLE TO DO SOMETHING FOR GERMANY, AND TO JOIN AS A VOLUNTEER THE RANKS OF THOSE WHO HAVE DECLARED

WAR AGAINST THE BITTEREST ENEMIES OF GERMANY--THE NATIONAL SOCIALISTS (NAZIS).

WHAT MADE IT MOST DIFFICULT FOR ME TO COME TO THIS DECISION WAS THE FACT THAT MY STEP WAS ESSENTIALLY ONE DICTATED BY CONSCIENCE. IT WAS MUCH MORE THAN AN HONEST POLITICAL DECISION, MORE THAN A CHANGE FROM ONE PARTY TO ANOTHER.

BOTH THESE CONSIDERATIONS WEIGHED WITH ME, BUT BEYOND THAT MY ACTION WAS ONE THAT MADE ME A CRIMINAL IN THE EYES OF THE LAW OF MY STATE AND A DISHONORABLE SCOUNDREL IN THE HEARTS OF MANY OF MY FRIENDS.

MY POLITICAL CONVICTIONS, MY PERSONAL IDEAS, MY RECOGNITION OF THE HOPELESSNESS OF GERMANY'S SITUATION---THESE ALONE COULD NOT BEAR THE WEIGHT OF SUCH A DECISION.

MAR 4 1944

IT WAS ONLY MY CONSCIENCE WHICH COULD PUT ME IN THE RIGHT, AND WHICH COULD ACQUIT ME OF ANY ACCUSATION OF HIGH TREASON AND TREACHERY TOWARDS MY FATHERLAND. BUT IS IT HIGH TREASON IF ONE LOVES ONE'S FATHERLAND SO MUCH THAT ONE CANNOT STAND BY AND SEE AN UNSCRUPULOUS CLIQUE RUINING ONE'S COUNTRY?

THAT ONE CANNOT TOLERATE A WELTANSCHAUUNG (WORLD PHILOSOPHY) WHICH GROWS LIKE A CANCER AND DESTROYS EVERYTHING THAT IS HEALTHY IN THE BODY AND FOSTERS EVIL IMPULSES.

THAT ONE CANNOT STAND BY AND SEE THE GLORIOUS NAME OF ONE'S COUNTRY BEING DISHONORED BY THE WICKEDNESS OF ITS PRESENT RULERS.

THAT ONE CANNOT SEE ITS BEAUTY SUFFERING DESTRUCTION AS THE INEVITABLE RESULT OF THEIR POLITICAL GREED AND UNSCRUPULOUSNESS WHILE ITS BLOOD SENSELESSLY SOAKS FOREIGN SOIL.

THE MAN WHO LOVES HIS FATHERLAND MUST BE ABLE TO RECOGNIZE NATIONAL SOCIALISM FOR WHAT IT REALLY IS---THE CURSE OF GERMANY.

NATIONAL SOCIALISM SEDUCES OUR YOUTH TO LOSS OF FAITH, TO BRUTALITY AND TO LACK OF RESPECT FOR MORAL VALUES.

IT DESPIESES THE SANCTITY OF THE FAMILY BY ITS CONCEPTION OF MARRIAGE TIES AND MARRIAGE LAWS AND ITS COMPLETELY IMMORAL AND DISINTEGRATING ATTITUDE TOWARD QUESTIONS OF ILLEGITIMACY.

IT MOCKS AND DESPISES OUR CHRISTIAN CHURCH AND DEPRIVES IT OF ITS INFLUENCE ON YOUTH IN ORDER TO BE ABLE TO PREACH A NEW MORALITY WHICH BRUTALIZES EVERY BOY AND ENDANGERS EVERY GIRL.

IT HAS LIED TO US FOR TWENTY YEARS. IT HAS ABUSED OUR CONFIDENCE. IT HAS EMBEZZLED OUR PROPERTY IN SENSELESS EXPENDITURES ON BEHALF OF THE PARTY AND IN DISASTROUS POLITICAL SPECULATIONS.

IT HAS SUPPRESSED OUR SPIRIT. IT HAS MADE US DISHONEST THROUGH FEAR. IT HAS OUTRAGED OUR PERSONAL LIBERTIES THROUGH THE COMPULSORY CONTROL OF THE EXERCISE AND PLACE OF OUR PROFESSIONS, PROHIBITIONS OF CHANGES OF EMPLOYMENT, COMPULSORY MEMBERSHIP IN ORGANIZATIONS AND THE LIKE.

IN THIS WAY NATIONAL SOCIALISM HAS DEPRIVED US IN OUR OWN COUNTRY OF HONOR, OF LIBERTY AND OF PROPERTY.

WE ARE NOT THREATENED WITH SLAVERY FROM WITHOUT BUT FROM WITHIN OUR OWN COUNTRY. THE IDEALS OF THE ENEMY WE OPPOSE IN ARMS ARE NEARER TO OUR OWN THAN THOSE OF OUR OWN GOVERNMENT.

I HAVE MOST UNEXPECTEDLY FOUND DEEP SYMPATHY WITH THE DECISIONS OF MY OWN CONSCIENCE ON THE PART OF BRITISH OFFICERS. I LOOK FORWARD WITH GREAT HOPE FOR GERMANY TO CLOSE COOPERATION WITH THE ALLIES.

HEADQUARTERS OF THE 14TH U.S. AIR FORCE IN CHINA, MARCH 3-(AP)-JAPANESE SHIPPING HAS BEEN VIRTUALLY CLEARED FROM THE EAST AND SOUTH CHINA SEAS BY BOMBERS OF THE 14TH U.S. AIR FORCES, MANY OF THEM COMPLETELY MANNED BY AMERICAN-TRAINED CHINESE CREWS.

ESTABLISHMENT OF A NEW AIR FRONT OVER THIS AREA HAS RESULTED IN JAPANESE CARGO SHIPS BEING BOTTLED UP IN HARBORS OR RIVERS OR FORCED TO TRAVEL FROM PORT O PORT ALONG TEDIOUS CHINESE COASTAL ROUTES UNDER COVER OF DARKNESS. MANY OF THEM HAVE BEEN COMPELLED TO SKIRT FORMOSA TO THE EAST WHERE THEY ARE UNDER CONSTANT THREAT OF SUBMARINE ATTACK.

HEADQUARTERS REPORTED TODAY A SERIES OF AIR SMASHES, MANY OF THEM IN SUPPORT OF THE LANDING OPERATION WHICH PENETRATED DEEP INTO THE BISMARCK SEA, BYPASSED RABAUL AND SEVERED JAPAN'S SUPPLY ROUTE BETWEEN TRUK AND NEW GUINEA.

HANSA BAY, NEW GUINEA, WAS SWEPT WITH FIRES STARTED BY 170 TONS OF EXPLOSIVES. TO THE SOUTH OF THERE, AIRDROMES AT MADANG AND ALEXISHAFEN WERE BLASTED. FAR TO THE NORTHWEST, A FIVE-SHIP CONVOY WAS ATTACKED BY LIBERATORS OFF HOLLANDIA, DUTCH NEW GUINEA, AND THE LARGEST VESSEL OF 7,000 TONS WAS SUNK.

AT RABAUL, 350 MILES SOUTHEAST OF THE ADMIRALTIES, THE LATEST OF THE DAILY RAIDS TO BE REPORTED WAS A 38-TON BOMBING TUESDAY WHICH SET ABLAZE TWO BLOCKS OF BUILDINGS NEAR THE WHARF. RABAUL'S NEUTRALIZATION MADE POSSIBLE THE BOLD THRUST AT THE ADMIRALTIES, MORE THAN 200 MILES BEYOND THE ALLIES HITHERTO MOST ADVANCED GROUND POSITION IN THE SOUTHWEST PACIFIC.

BOTH DESTROYERS AND PLANES STRUCK AT NEW IRELAND. THE DESTROYERS SHELLED CAPE ST.GEORGE ON THE SOUTH COAST, BORPOP AND NAMATANI AIRDROMES ON THE EAST. PLANES SEEKING OUT BARGES IN THE EAST COASTAL AREA SANK ONE LOADED WITH 80 JAPANESE SOLDIERS, KILLING AN ESTIMATED 30 OF THEM.

EFT THE MAIN BATTLE ON BUTARITARI ISLAND AFTER THEY HAD ACCOMPLISHED
THEIR PART OF THE OPERATION.

THEY CLIMBED INTO BOATS AND SPED AROUND TO KUMA ISLAND TO MAKE ANOTHER LANDING. LUCKILY, IT WAS UNOPPOSED, AND THE FORCE HURRIEDLY
ESTABLISHED A DEFENSE LINE ACROSS KUMA NEAR A BEACH THAT CONNECTED WITH BUTARITARI AT LOW TIDE. THEY WERE TO STOP ANY ATTEMPTS BY THE JAPANESE TO CROSS THE REEF IN RETREAT TO KUMA AFTER THEY HAD BEEN DRIVEN THERE BY THE MAIN ATTACKING FORCE.

THE USEFULNESS OF THE IDEA WAS NOT LONG IN BEING PROVEN. THE FIRST IGHT THE NEW YORKERS MANNED THE LINE, A FORCE OF JAPS, USING A NATIVE
IRL AS A DECOY, TRIED TO CROSS THE REEF. THE "APPLE-KNOCKER"
ETACHMENT OPENED FIRE, KILLING 15 JAPS AND SENDING THE REMAINDER
F THE ENEMY FORCE BACK TO BUTARITARI.

ON THE SECOND DAY, SNIPERS FIRED AT THEM ALL DAY ACROSS THE REEF-- ND GOT PLENTY OF FIRE IN ANSWER. THAT NIGHT THE ENEMY TROOPS MADE
HE SECOND AND LAST ATTEMPT TO BREAK THROUGH THE LINE. THEY OPENED THEIR ATTACK WITH MORTAR AND RIFLE FIRE ON THE LEFT FLANK OF THE LINE. THEN THEY CHARGED ACROSS THE CONNECTING REEF. TEN WERE KILLED
BEFORE THE REST OF THEM TURNED BACK.

THE FIRMLY-HELD LINE OF THE 105TH TROOPS MAINTAINED THE TRAP IN WHICH THE JAP GARRISON FINALLY WAS DESTROYED. UNABLE TO CROSS THE REEF THE ENEMY TROOPS STAYED ON BUTARITARI AND WERE ANNIHILATED BY THE MAIN ASSAULT FORCES.

THEIR GALLANTRY IN ACTION AT MAKIN ALREADY HAS WON THEM SIX SILVER
STARS, WITH MORE TO COME. OTHERS HAVE RECEIVED PURPLE HEARTS FOR WOUND SUFFERED IN ACTION.

AS A RESULT OF THEIR EXPERIENCES ON MAKIN THE "APPLE-KNOCKERS" HAVE THROWN AWAY MANY OF THE BOOKS AND HAVE DESIGNED A COURSE FOR FUTURE MEETINGS WITH THE JAPANESE THAT IS ONE OF THE TOUGHEST AND MOST REALISTIC BATTLE TRAINING PROGRAMS IN THE PACIFIC.

THEY POLISH THEIR KNOWLEDGE OF ISLAND FIGHTING ON A COURSE THAT IS STUDDED WITH JAPANESE-TYPE PILLBOXES, BOMBPROOF SHELTERS, LARGE BLOCKHOUSES, TANK TRAPS, SNIPER HOLES AND MACHINE-GUN NESTS. THEY ATTACK IT FIRST WITH TROOPS FROM OTHER UNITS MANNING THE DEFENSES AND FIRING BLANK AMMUNITION, TOSSING EXPLOSIVE CHARGES AT THEM, AND MAKING
"BANZAI" CHARGES.

MAR 4 1944

THEN THEY WITHDRAW THE DEFENSE TROOPS AND LET LOOSE ON THE AREA
WITH LIVE AMMUNITION. THEY PLASTER THE AREA WITH MORTAR FIRE, GRENADES, AND CALL UP TANKS AND ARTILLERY TO POUND AT THE STRONG POINTS.

ABOARD A CARRIER TASK GROUP FLAGSHIP OFF TINIAN IN THE MARIANAS, FEB.22-(DELAYED)-A RUNNING ACCOUNT OF AIR BATTLES OVER TINIAN AND OF THE DESTRUCTION OF GROUNDED ENEMY PLANES WAS GIVEN TODAY BY PILOTS OF CARRIER-BASED PLANES RETURNING FROM THE FIRST SORTIES OVE THE MARIANAS.

"TORPEDO PLANES WERE THE FIRST TO GO IN AND THEY DID A GOOD JOB ON THE PARKING AREA," SAID AIR GROUP COMMANDER, ROLAND "BRUTE" DALE OF HARTFORD, CONN.

"THEN HELLDIVER DIVE BOMBERS AND AVENGERS LAID STRINGS OF 500 POUNDERS ON THE RUNWAY.

I MADE A STRAFING RUN ON THE FIELD AND ESTIMATED 50 TO 60 PLANES STILL WERE ON THE RUNWAY AND PARKING AREA.

"MY OIL LINE WAS HIT BY FLAK SO I RETURNED TO THE CARRIER. IN THE AFTERNOON ON MY SECOND STRIKE, MY WINGMAN, LT. (JG) THOMAS N.VOGLE, OF PERKINSTON, MISS., AND I RAN INTO SIX ZEROS.

"I HEARD BULLETS ON MY TAIL AS A ZERO SHOT AT ME. I DOVE SHARPLY AND VOGLE DOWNED HIM.

"EVERYONE BECAME SEPARATED. WHILE LOOKING FOR MY WINGMAN, I SAW A ZERO AT 1,500 FEET. HE SAW ME COMING AND PULLED UP TO COME AT ME. HE MUST HAVE BEEN CRAZY. HE HAD NO ARMOR PLATE AND FOUR GUNS AGAINST MY SIX GUNS AND ARMOR. I GAVE HIM A SQUIRT OF ALL SIX GUNS. HE FLAMED INTO THE WATER."

"FOUR FIGHTERS WERE FLYING A REGULAR TRAFFIC CIRCLE AROUND THAT FIELD, BURNING UP A QUANTITY OF NEW NIP PLANES," DALE SAID.

A FIGHTER PILOT, LT.GEORGE CORTHORN, SAN DIEGO, CALIF., COUNTED 15 MEDIUM BOMBERS IN ONE SECTION OF A COFFIN-SHAPED FIELD, SIX MORE IN ANOTHER AREA AND 25 NEAR A LARGE CONCRETE HANGAR.

IN DOGFIGHTS, LT. WILLIAM W.KELLY, OF NEW CASTLE, PA., AND HIS WINGMAN, LT (JG) NORMAN B.HANCOCK, ROPESVILLE, TEX., DOWNED A MEDIUM BOMBER.

ABOARD A CARRIER FLAGSHIP OFF THE MARIANA ISLANDS,FEB. 22 (DELAYED)-(AP)THE "FOUR BLACK CHICKENS" WERE THE FIRST AMERICAN PLANES TO HIT TINIAN ISLAND IN THE BOLD SUNRISE ATTACK TODAY AND TO OPEN THE DAY OF DEVASTATION FOR JAPAN'S MEDIUM BOMBER BASE ON THE MARIANA ISLANDS.

ONLY THREE "BLACK CHICKENS" RETURNED TO THEIR CARRIER AND ONE OF THESE WERE INJURED BUT THE LITTLE FIGHTER SQUADRON BROUGHT HOME A BAG OF FIVE ZEROS TO HELP COMPENSATE FOR THE MISSING MEMBER.

THE SQUADRON LEADER, LT.COMDR.EVAN PETER AURAND, HOUSTON, TEX., SON OF MAJ.GEN.HENRY S.AURAND, SIXTH SERVICE COMMAND, CHICAGO, LED THE FLIGHT THROUGH A RAIN SQUALL FOR A STRAFING RUN ON THE LARGE

INIAN AIRFIELD.

ENEMY BOMBERS AND FIGHTERS WERE PARKED WING TO WING, THREE DEEP AT POINTS.

AFTER THE FIRST PASS, AURAND CLIMBED AND DOVE AGAIN TO FIND SOME ZEROS JUST TAKING OFF. AFTER THE THIRD RUN, AURAND BECAME SEPARATED FROM HIS WINGMAN, ENS. JOHN R.BERTIE, EAU CLAIRE, WIS., WHO BECAME THE OUTSTANDING ACE OF THE DAY IN THE NEXT FEW MINUTES.

ENS. NORMAN LAWRENCE DAVISSON, SACRAMENTO, CALIF., LIKEWISE BECAME SEPARATED FROM HIS WINGMAN WHO WAS NOT SEEN AGAIN.

AS ALL FOUR PLANES EMERGED FROM THE CLOUDS ON THEIR OPENING RUNS, THEY WERE JUMPED BY ENEMY FIGHTERS. AURAND, WHO WON THE NAVY CROSS AS A DIVE BOMBER DURING THE LAE, NEW GUINEA, CAMPAIGN LAST YEAR, GOT ON THE TAIL OF ONE ZERO AND SAW THE ENEMY CRAFT TURN ON ITS BACK AND ARCH INTO SAIPAN CHANNEL 1,000 FEET BELOW.

MAR 4 1944

AFTER ONE BURST FROM DAVISSON'S GUNS ANOTHER ZERO FLAMED AND FELL INTO A CLOUD. THEN THE CALIFORNIAN STRAFED A SUGAR MILL AND LARGE CARGO SHIP AND RETURNED TO BASE WITH AURAND.

BERTIE HAD A MORE DIFFICULT TIME. EMERGING FROM A CLOUD TO FIND HIMSELF ASTERN OF A ZERO, HE FIRED AT THE COCKPIT AND THE ENEMY PLANE BEGAN TO SMOKE, THEN VEERED OFF INTO THE WATER.

BERTIE WAS LOOKING FOR MORE VICTIMS WHEN TWO ZEROS CAUGHT HIM AND RIDDLED HIS PLANE WITH 7.7 MM. FIRE. BERTIE, SLIGHTLY WOUNDED IN THE ARM, DUCKED INTO THE CLOUDS, CAME OUT TO FIND TWO MORE ZEROS WITHIN GUN RANGE. HE FIRED ON THE LEADER, EXPLODED THE PLANE, AND THE SECOND ZERO EITHER WAS SET AFIRE BY BERTIE'S SHOTS OR COLLIDED WITH ITS COMPANION. BOTH TUMBLED INTO THE SEA.

THAT GAVE HIM THREE VICTIMS IN SHORT ORDER AND BERTIE WAS FEELING EXULTANT, WHEN HIS PLANE WAS JARRED BY ANTI-AIRCRAFT FIRE. HE LOOKED AT HIS ANKLE AND FOUND A FLESH WOUND.

AFTER A DIFFICULT LANDING ON HIS CARRIER, BERTIE SAID "I THOUGH I'D BE IN A LIFT RAFT FLOATING SOUTH BY THIS TIME."

ABOARD A CARRIER FLAGSHIP OFF THE MARIANA ISLANDS, FEB. 22 (DELAYED)-(AP)-THE FIRST ALLIED RAID OF THE WAR ON THE FORMER AMERICAN POSSESSION OF GUAM BY A DOZEN HELLCAT FIGHTERS TODAY WAS IMPROMPTU, BUT THE LEADER, LT.COMDR.SAM L.SILBER, BALTIMORE, MD., BELIEVES BOTH THE JAPANESE AND GUAM NETIVES HEVE "AN INKLING OF THINGS TO COME."

THE HELLCAT FLIERS FIRST HEADED FOR TINIAN AND SAIPAN IN THE MARIANA GROUP BUT FOUND OBJECTIVES BLOTTED OUT BY CLOUDS AND RAIN.

"WE WENT INTO A HIGH SPEED GLIDE BELOW THE OVERCAST BUT COULD NOT SEE ANYTHING SO WE CLIMBED ABOVE THE CLOUDS AGAIN AND HEADED SLIGHTLY WEST OF SOUTH," SILBER SAID.

"WE PICKED UP ROTA ISLAND AND THEN GUAM BUT DID NOT RECOGNIZE THE LATTER IMMEDIATELY.

"WE FLEW SOUTHWARD TO THE HARBOR OF APRA AND WERE GREETED SILENTLY BY NATIVES ON THE GROUND. WE WERE ABLE TO SEE MANY PLANES ON WHAT APPEARED TO BE A NEW, EXCELLENTLY PAVED FIELD ABOUT 6,000 FEET LONG.

"GUAM SEEMED PEACEFUL AND QUIET. THERE WAS NO ANTI-AIRCRAFT FIRE AND VERY LITTLE ACTIVITY IN THE AIRFIELD OR HARBOR AREA.

"ABOUT THIS TIME ENS.CHARLES E.(BEACON EYES) WATTS, BEN WHEELER, TEXAS, SPOTTED TWO ZEROS CIRCLING THE FIELD. I WAITED UNTIL THE FIRST ONE HAD ALMOST COMPLETED HIS LANDING. THEY SEEMED TO BE IN THE PROCESS OF TAKING OFF AGAIN SO I LET THEM HAVE IT FROM ALL SIX GUNS."

THE TWO ZEROS BROUGHT SILBER'S BAG TO NINE PLANES.

"WE POLISHED OFF THE REST OF THE PLANES AND A COUPLE OF TRUCKS WHICH RACED MADLY OUT TO THE FIELD ON OUR FIRST STRAFING RUN. THERE WERE THREE JAPANESE-STYLE TRANSPORT PLANES, TWO MEDIUM BOMBERS AND THREE ZEROS BURNING ON THE GROUND WHEN WE LEFT AFTER OUR SECOND STRAFING RUN.

MAR 4 1944

"THEN 'BEACON EYES' SAW TWO MEDIUM BOMBERS FLYING LOW OVER THE WATER ABOUT FIVE MILES FROM THE FIELD. OUR FIRST HELLCAT DIVISION HEADED FOR THE FIRST ONE AND THE OTHER DIVISION FOR THE SECOND.

"ENS.WILLIAM S.STEVENSON, (18 WEST 55TH) NEW YORK, N.Y., DOWNED THE FIRST ENEMY PLANES AND LT.DONALD E.RUNYON, LA JOLLA, CALIF., SPLASHED THE SECOND."

IT WAS STEVENSON'S THIRD AND THE 11TH FOR RUNYON, A VETERAN CARRIER PILOT.

"ALTHOUGH MANY MORE TARGETS WERE AVAILABLE," SILBER SAID, "OUR AMMUNITION WAS LOW SO WE RENDEZVOUSED AND STARTED THE LONG VOYAGE HOME TO THE CARRIER.

"I'D LIKE TO COME BACK SOME DAY, SON, AND REALLY GIVE THE PLACE A ONCE OVER."

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS,SOUTHWEST PACIFIC,SATURDAY,MARCH 4 (AP)-REAPING THE BENEFITS OF A QUICK CHANGE IN TACTICS, REINFORCED AMERICAN TROOPS TODAY WERE CLEARING THE REMAINING JAPANESE FROM NEGROS ISLAND OF THE ADMIRALTY ARCHIPELAGO.

THE YANKS' ADVANCE UPON LOS NEGROS ORIGINALLY WAS A COMMANDO TYPE RAID BUT IT TURNED INTO A WINDFALL INVASION WHEN THEY FOUND THEY HAD THROWN THE JAPANESE OFF BALANCE AND OUTMANEUVERED THEM IN THIS THRUST INTO THE BISMARCK SEA AREA.

ABILITY OF AMERICAN FORCES TO ADAPT THEMSELVES QUICKLY TO CHANGED CONDITIONS, AND TO CAPITALIZE ON UNEXPECTED SUCCESS, WAS STRIKINGLY DEMONSTRATED IN THE LOS NEGROS OPERATION, GEN.DOUGLAS MACARTHUR DISCLOSED FRIDAY.

MAR 4 1944

THE DEFENDERS OF THE ISLAND WERE "SO COMPLETELY SURPRISED AND OUTMANEUVERED" BY THE LANDING TUESDAY MORNING OF DISMOUNTED UNITS OF THE FIRST CAVALRY, THE COMMUNIQUE SAID, THAT "THE RECONNAISSANCE WAS IMMEDIATELY DEVELOPED INTO A PENETRATION WHICH IS BEING EXPLOITED INTO COMPLETE OCCUPATION."

(MACARTHUR WITNESSED THE BOMBARDMENT OF LOS NEGROS FROM A WAR-SHIP OFF SHORE AND PERSONALLY INSPECTED THE SITUATION ON THE ISLAND A FEW HOURS AFTER HIS TROOPS HAD LANDED. THERE HAD BEEN SOME EXPEC-TATION THAT THE RAID MIGHT DISCLOSE AN ADVANTAGEOUS SITUATION AND THE COMMANDER-IN-CHIEF WANTED TO BE ON THE SPOT TO MAKE ANY NECESSARY DECISION ON FOLLOWING IT UP.)

THE ASSAULT TROOPS LANDED AT THE SEAWARD END OF MOMOTE AIRFIELD AND QUICKLY OVERRAN IT. ADJACENT HYANE HARBOR ALSO WAS PROMPTLY SEIZED. THEN, HEEDING, MACARTHUR'S WORDS TO "HOLD ON TO WHAT YOU TAKE," THE OUT-NUMBERED AMERICANS BEAT OFF ALL COUNTER-ATTACKS UNTIL REINFORCEMENTS ARRIVED THURSDAY MORNING.

CONSTRUCTION BATTALIONS WERE RUSHED IN TO PUSH REPAIR OF THE MOMOTE RUNWAY, POCKED BY ALLIED BOMBS.

MAR 4 1944

ALLIED PLANES MAINTAINED PRESSURE ON ENEMY AIR BASES AROUND THE PERIMETER OF THE BISMARCK SEA, AND BOMBED MANUS ISLAND, ACROSS A NARROW CHANNEL FROM LOS NEGROS. SEVERAL THOUSAND JAPANESE WERE BELIEVED TO BE ON MANUS, LARGEST ISLAND OF THE ADMIRALTY GROUP, A SOURCE OF REINFORCEMENTS FOR THE HARD-PRESSED DEFENDERS OF LOS NEGROS.

UNDATED JAPANESE T[illegible].ITORIAL (450)

BY THE ASSOCIATED P[illegible]S

ALLIED FORCES HAVE WRESTED APPROXIMATELY 45,000 SQUARE MILES AWAY FROM JAPAN'S BLOODILY-GAINED EMPIRE IN THE PACIFIC, BUT THERE'S STILL A LONG WAY TO GO BEFORE SHE'S CUT DOWN TO THE SIZE PROMISED BY UNITED NATIONS LEADERS -- HER OWN HOMELAND TERRITORY.

THE WHITTLING PROCESS BEGAN WITH THE AMERICAN INVASION OF GUADALCANAL AND ADJOINING ISLANDS IN THE LOWER SOLOMONS IN AUGUST, 1942. THE LATEST CUT WAS MADE IN THIS WEEK'S YANKEE LANDINGS IN THE ADMIRALTY ISLANDS IN THE BISMARCK SEA SOME 1,100 MILES TO THE NORTHWEST.

BETWEEN THE DATES OF THOSE TWO INVASIONS THREE MAJOR ALLIED OFFENSIVE DAGGERS HAVE BEEN THRUST EVER NEARER THE JAPANESE HOMELAND--ONE UP THROUGH THE SOUTHERN PACIFIC ISLANDS, ANOTHER THROUGH THE GILBERT AND MARSHALL ISLANDS, AND A THIRD TO THE TIP OF THE ALEUTIANS, POINTING LIKE A FINGER TOWARD TOKYO.

FROM GUADALCANAL AND ADJOINING TULAGI THE ADVANCE WAS ISLAND BY ISLAND UP THE SOLOMONS TO BOUGAINVILLE, WHILE A SIMULTANEOUS OFFENSIVE BY AMERICAN AND AUSTRALIAN FORCES FORCED THE ENEMY FROM ABOUT A THIRD OF NEW GUINEA AND LEAPED OVER TO NEW BRITAIN, WHICH NOW HAS BEEN ABOUT ONE-SIXTH FREED.

THE MIDDLE OFFENSIVE THRUST, INVOLVING AMPHIBIOUS OPERATIONS EXCLUSIVELY, FIRST KNOCKED OFF TARAWA, MAKIN AND OTHER ISLANDS IN THE GILBERT GROUP AND MORE LATELY STREAKED IN HIGH GEAR THROUGH SUCH MARSHALL ISLAND ATOLLS AS KWAJALEIN AND ENIWETOK, NEUTRALIZING OTHERS. KWAJALEIN, PART OF THE PACIFIC ISLAND GROUPS MANDATED TO JAPAN AFTER THE FIRST WORLD WAR, WAS THE FIRST STRICTLY JAPANESE TERRITORY TO FALL

THE CONQUEST OF KISKA AND ATTU CONSTITUTED THE HIGH POINTS OF THE NORTHERN ADVANCE THROUGH THE ALEUTIANS.

FROM BOTH THE MARSHALLS AND THE SOUTHWEST PACIFIC BASES THE AMERICAN FORCES NOW ARE POISED FOR A LEAP ONE OF THESE DAYS.

30.24— 13431

POSSIBLY FROM BOTH DIRECTIONS, AGAINST TRUK, JAPAN'S MAJOR PACIFIC ISLAND FORTRESS WHICH YANKEE AIR AND SEA POWER ALREADY HAS GIVEN ONE SOUND BRUBBING.

ALL THESE SUCCESSES HAVE NEUTRALIZED NUMEROUS OTHER ENEMY ISLAND HOLDINGS AND GIVEN ALLIED PLANES AND SHIPS VIRTUALLY UNDISPUTED CONTROL OF THOUSAND OF MILES OF SEA LANES, BUT THEY REPRESENT ONLY A START OF THE GIGANTIC TASK THE UNITED STATES, BRITAIN AND CHINA ASSUMED AT THE CAIRO CONFERENCE LAST DECEMBER.

MAR 4 1944

THEN PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT, PRIME MINISTER CHURCHILL AND GENERALISSIMO CHIANG KAI-SHEK PLEDGED THEIR PEOPLES TO WIPE OUT JAPANESE DOMINATIONS OVER SOME 3,000,000 SQUARE MILES OF TERRITORY AND 500,000,000 PERSONS AND LIMIT EMPEROR HIROHITO AND HIS FOLLOWERS TO THE ORIGINAL JAPANESE ISLAND TERRITORY OF 148,000 SQUARE MILES.

BEFORE THAT GOAL IS ATTAINED JAPAN MUST BE DRIVEN FROM SUCH LANDS AS THE NETHERLANDS EAST INDIES, MALAYA, BURMA (WHERE AN ALLIED FORCE NOW IS MAKING PROGRESS), THE AMERICAN PACIFIC ISLANDS OF WAKE AND GUAM, ALL THE CAROLINE AND OTHER JAPANESE-MANDATED ISLANDS, THE PHILIPPINES, THAILAND, FRENCH INDO-CHINA, OCCUPIED CHINA, MANCHURIA, KOREA AND FORMOSA.

BUENOS AIRES, MARCH 3-(AP)-RETURN OF ARGENTINA TO CONSTITUTIONAL NORMALITY, WITH OFFICIALS CHOSEN BY BALLOT AND MILITARY LEADERS TAKING A BACK SEAT, WAS SET FORTH TODAY BY ACTING PRESIDENT GEN. EDELMIRO FARRELL AS ONE OF THE PRIMARY OBJECTIVES OF HIS REGIME.

"WE ARE IN THE GOVERNMENT ONLY TEMPORARILY," SAID FARRELL, WHO TOOK OVER THE EXECUTIVE POWER FROM PRESIDENT GEN.PEDRO RAMIREZ A WEEK AGO. "NONE OF US WANT TO STAY THERE A SINGLE MINUTE MORE THAN NECESSARY."

RAMON CASTILLO, DEPOSED AS PRESIDENT IN LAST JUNE'S MILITARY REVOLUTION, DECLARED AT THE SAME TIME THAT HE HAD BEEN FOLLOWING RECENT EVENTS WITH MUCH CONCERN AND SAID "A QUICK RETURN TO NORMALITY IS IMPERATIVE."

"THE TRANQUILITY AND FUTURE OF THE NATION REQUIRE SACRIFICE AND PATRIOTISM OF THE HIGHEST ORDER," CASTILLO ASSERTED IN AN INTERVIEW.

ACTING PRESIDENT FARRELL TOLD AN ASSOCIATED PRESS INTERVIEWER AT GOVERNMENT HOUSE YESTERDAY THAT ARGENTINE FOREIGN POLICY WOULD REMAIN UNCHANGED, BUT EMPHASIZED THAT FOREIGN POLICY "MUST LOGICALLY BE A CONSEQUENCE OF DOMESTIC POLICY AND NOT A RESULT OF EXTRANEOUS FACTORS OR INADMISSIBLE CONCEPTS."

NOTHING HAS OCCURRED, FARRELL SAID, TO CHANGE ARGENTINA'S POSITION IN THE INTERNATIONAL PICTURE. UNDER THE PRESIDENCY OF GEN. RAMIREZ THE COUNTRY SEVERED DIPLOMATIC RELATIONS JAN.26 WITH GERMANY AND JAPAN, THE LAST AMERICAN NATION TO DO SO.

"WE HAVE COOPERATED AND WILL CONTINUE TO COOPERATE WITH AMERICA," FARRELL SAID, "AND NOTHING NOR ANYONE WILL PREVENT US FROM CARRYING OUT THIS ELEMENTAL DUTY OF SOLIDARITY WITH ALL THE OTHER NATIONS OF THE CONTINENT X X X."

IN LINE WITH THE PROPOSED RETURN TO A FREELY-ELECTED GOVERNMENT, A MOVE HAS BEGUN TO ABOLISH THE STRINGENT CONTROL OF THE ARGENTINE PRESS SET UP IN DECEMBER. IT WAS DISCLOSED LAST NIGHT THAT A PROPOSED STATUTE TO THAT EFFECT IS BEING STUDIED BY FARRELL.

WASHINGTON,MARCH 4-(AP)-FRENCH OFFICERS, TRAINED IN MILITARY GOVERNMENT SCHOOLS IN THE UNITED STATES, MAY LEAD FRENCH TROOPS IN THE INVASION OF EUROPE AND RULE LIBERATED AREAS WHEN ALLIED MILITARY AUTHORITIES RELINQUISH DIRECT CONTROL.

THAT SUCH A PLAN IS BEING CONSIDERED, AND THAT THE FRENCH OFFICERS HAVE BEEN RECEIVING THEIR TRAINING IN THIS COUNTRY, WAS DISCLOSED BY THE FRENCH MILITARY MISSION TODAY.

MEANWHILE IT WAS ANNOUNCED BY THE WAR SHIPPING ADMINISTRATION (WSA), THAT UNDER A BRITISH-AMERICAN-FRENCH AGREEMENT, A "SUBSTANTIAL NUMBER" OF FRENCH SHIPS REQUISITIONED AFTER THE FALL OF FRANCE WILL BE TURNED BACK TO THE COMMITTEE FOR NATIONAL LIBERATION, AT ALGIERS.

IT IS REPORTED THAT A PLAN FOR THE FRENCH TROOP PARTICIPATION IN THE INVASION, WITH THE U.S.TRAINED FRENCH OFFICERS LEADING THEM, HAS BEEN DISCUSSED BY GENERAL DE GAULLE AND ALLIED MILITARY AUTHORITIES AND THAT IT NOW IS BEING CONSIDERED BY PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT.

RETURN OF THE MERCHANT SHIPS TO THE FRENCH FLAG WAS UNDERTAKEN AS A STEP TOWARDS BUILDING UP THE FRENCH MERCHANT MARINE, ONE OF THE WORLD'S LARGEST IN PRE-WAR DAYS.

CREWS ARE TO BE RECRUITED AND PAID FOR BY THE FRENCH COMMITTEE, WHICH THUS CONTINUES TO EXPAND ITS FUNCTIONS DESPITE THE FACT THAT FULL RECOGNITION AS A GOVERNMENT FOR FRANCE HAS NOT YET BEEN ACCORDED BY BRITAIN AND THE U.S.

THE PLAN FOR GOVERNING LIBERATED AREAS IN FRANCE, AS OUTLINED BY THE FRENCH DELEGATION HERE, PROVIDES FOR APPOINTMENT BY THE ALGIERS COMMITTEE OF PREFECTS IN EACH COMMUNE LIBERATED.

THE ALLIED HIGH COMMAND WILL DECIDE WHEN AN AREA IS TO BE CONSIDERED OUT OF THE MILITARY ZONE AND IN THE LIBERATED TERRITORY.

MUNICIPAL ELECTIONS ARE TO BE HELD AS THE PREFECTS ARE APPOINTED, FOLLOWED BY DEPARTMENTAL ELECTIONS WHEN WHOLE DEPARTMENTS ARE FREED FROM THE ENEMY.

EACH DEPARTMENT IS TO SEND 14 DELEGATES TO THE ASSEMBLY AT ALGIERS. WHEN TWO-THIRDS OF FRANCE, INCLUDING PARIS, HAS BEEN LIBERATED, AN ASSEMBLY COMPOSED OF THE ELECTED DELEGATES (269), 100 ELECTED BY THE NATIONAL COUNNIL OF RESISTANCE AND 50 DESIGNATED BY THE DEPARTMENTAL ELECTORAL COLLEGES AND APPROVED BY THE RESISTANCE COUNCIL IS TO ELECT A PROVISIONAL CHIEF OF GOVERNMENT.

THEN, THE PLAN PROVIDES THAT THE ALGIERS ASSEMBLY WILL DISSOLVE ITSELF AND TURN OVER ITS POWER TO THE CHIEF OF GOVERNMENT. WHEN ALL FRANCE IS FREED AND FRENCH PRISONERS HAVE BEEN RETURNED FROM GERMANY, A CONSTITUENT ASSEMBLY IS TO BE HELD.

STATE, WAS NOT DISPOSED TO PERMIT ANY FURTHER AID TO PRISONERS OF WAR IN ITS HANDS, WAS THE REPORT OF THE ATROCITIES MADE PUBLIC."

TO THE "FEELING THAT OUR EFFORT IN THE PACIFIC HAS BEEN SUB-ORDINATED TO CONSIDERATIONS ON OTHER FRONTS," KNOX SAID:

"LET ME EXPLAIN THAT OUR ROAD IN THAT AREA HAS BEEN A LONG ONE AND A HARD ONE. BEFORE OFFENSIVES CAN BE UNDERTAKEN, BASES MUST BE SECURED AND BUILT; RESERVE SUPPLIES ACCUMULATED; OUR LINES OF COMMUNICATION PROTECTED AGAINST ATTACK.

MAR 4 1944

"IN MOST CASES WE CARVED THOSE BASES BY STUPENDOUS TOIL AND HARD-SHIP FROM THE JUNGLE. OTHERS WE WRESTED FROM THE JAP. EVERY TON OF SUPPLIES HAD TO BE TRANSPORTED THOUSANDS OF MILES, FOR AS YOU KNOW THERE IS NO INDUSTRIAL ECONOMY TO DRAW UPON THE REGIONS WHERE WE ARE FIGHTING."

KNOX SAID HE CAN ASSURE THE AMERICAN PEOPLE, "WITHOUT FURTHER ADO," THAT ADEQUATE SUPPLIES ARE REACHING THE SOUTH AND SOUTHWEST PACIFIC FRONTS IN "OUR DETERMINATION TO CRUSH JAPAN AND TAKE OUR FULL MEASURE OF REVENGE AGAINST A FOE THAT KNOWS NOT THE MEANING OF MERCY NOR COMPASSION."

U.S. Bombs Hit Berlin First Time In Day Raid Made in a Blizzard; Opposed by Only 40 Nazi Planes

Capital District Hit In First Day Raid

London, March 4 (AP) — United States Army headquarters announced today that American heavy bombers attacked targets in eastern Germany and that one formation "reported attacking a target in the Berlin district."

The announcement telling of the attack on the German capital for the first time by American bombers said:

"Formations of heavy bombers today attacked targets in eastern Germany.

"One formation reported attacking a target in the Berlin district.

"The flight was made through difficult flying conditions with clouds often as high as 30,000 feet."

Nazi Statements Differ

Earlier a German broadcast by the propaganda agency, International Information Bureau, said bombs had showered Berlin, but DNB, the official Nazi news agency, declared not a single explosive fell on Berlin itself. This confusion in Berlin broadcasts, however, apparently was the result of hair-splitting as to Berlin's boundaries.

The headquarters announcement that other formations in the armada had attacked targets in eastern Germany hinted that the daylight assault possibly was a record penetration of the Reich.

The last deep penetration was on October 9, when airplane factories in east Prussia were hit.

Temperature 58 Below

The formation which took the aerial assault to Hitler's very doorstep and the other bombers thundered through substratosphere temperatures as low as 58 degrees below zero Fahrenheit—cold so intense that it sometimes freezes guns and other equipment and inflicts severe frostbite in a few seconds of exposure.

Anti-aircraft batteries opened up on the Americans as soon as the formations swung over Germany, returning crewmen said.

"The air was full of American planes—there were hundreds of P-47s and P-51s escorting us," Fortress Copilot Lieut. Ira Munn, of Presque Isle, Maine, recounted.

Nazi Plane Bagged

"As far as you could see ahead there were vapor trails of bombers, and beyond those you could see specks that were other bombers. Ruhr Valley flak opened up, but nobody got into this. An overcast at about 16,000 feet covered Germany, but over that we could see for miles.

"Our bunch saw only two enemy fighters. One Focke-Wulf minded his own business and went cruising off when he saw our P-47s. A Messerschmitt came under us and went after one sagging B-17, but two P-47s got him. He went down out of control and smoking badly."

Hundreds of Mustangs Escort Fortresses in 1,200-Mile Round Trip

Loss Is 14 Bombers And 26 U.S. Fighters

Part of Force Splits Off to Bomb Other Targets in Eastern German Areas

By The Associated Press

LONDON, March 4.—Berlin was bombed by American Flying Fortresses today for the first time in the war as part of an extensive daylight attack on eastern Germany by the United States 8th Air Force.

Plunging 600 miles into the heart of the Reich, one formation of heavy bombers hit the German capital itself, it was disclosed tonight, with the help of an escort of Mustang fighter planes which also went all the way to Berlin to equal the deepest fighter penetration ever made into Europe.

Fourteen bombers and twenty-six fighters are missing from the operations, headquarters stated in a tentative accounting that said nine enemy planes were destroyed by the fighters. The number shot down by gunners in the Fortresses was not yet known, headquarters added.

The communique announced simply that one formation of Fortresses bombed targets "in the Berlin district," but several hours after the objective had first been described by the Army in this fashion censorship permitted the naming of Berlin itself as the target.

The unprecedented penetration was executed despite the fact it was the third operation in three days for the American air force and it was accompanied by another large-scale assault on the coast of northern France by R.A.F. medium and fighter-bombers.

Tonight the entire Vichy radio network went off the air, indicating the possibility that the R.A.F. might be continuing the round-the-clock warfare.

Fly Through Snowstorms

The Fortresses thundered through blinding snowstorms and 58-degree-below zero temperature in the substratosphere to make the first American attack on the capital. The once mighty German air force sent up only thirty to forty fighters in defense of the city.

Flyers said they saw bombs crash down on "buildings surrounded by trees." The American crews had been tense for days because of their knowledge that the "Big B" was coming up. Most of them were apprehensive of powerful resistance as they were briefed in the pre-dawn darkness. Some of them—including men making their first mission—didn't expect to get back alive.

The weather over Germany was almost unbearable. Flyers wearing two suits of thick underwear and also electrically heated outer suits nearly froze. As the clouds and snowstorms thickened over Europe a majority of the big armada cut over to hit other unidentified targets in eastern Germany in order to take advantage of more favorable weather.

Called an "Epic of the War"

The exact size of the force which smashed at Berlin remained an official secret, but when the story is told in its entirety it undoubtedly will be one of the epics of the war.

The formation which hit the capital was led by Lieutenant Colonel Harry G. Mumford, of San Jose, Calif., who marshalled his units when the big fleet split up over Germany and formed an attacking group that determined to press on to Berlin in spite of weather or resistance.

"I figured that until I receive a recall I would not abandon the effort to reach the target so long as it looked at all possible," he explained upon his return.

The flyers reached their objective and tensed for the bomb run through heavy flak as the Luftwaffe's small but dangerous fighter force swept in to give battle.

Berlin is a 1,200-mile round trip and the skies through which the bombers must fly at a height of five miles or more are nearly always cold enough to freeze equipment and despite precautions inflict severe frostbite in an exposure of only a couple of seconds.

The raid was made in spite of a cloud overcast, which in some places, was six miles high. It brought the capital area for the first time under "round-the-clock" bombing, Royal Air Force Mosquitoes having attacked Berlin last night along with targets in western Germany.

Anti-aircraft batteries opened up as soon as the American big bomber formations got into Germany, returning flyers said.

"The air was full of American planes—hundreds of P-47s (Thunderbolts) and P-51s (Mustangs) were escorting us," said Lieutenant Ira Munn, of Presque Isle, Me., a Fortress co-pilot. "As far as you could see there were vapor trails of bombers, and beyound that you could see specks that were other bombers.

"The Ruhr Valley flack opened up, but nobody got into this. The overcast at about 16,000 feet covered Germany, but over that we could see for miles and miles.

"Our bunch saw only two enemy fighters. A Focke-Wulff minded his own business and went cruising off when he saw our P-47s. A Messerschmitt came under us and went after a sagging B-17, but two P-47s got him. He went down out of control, smoking badly."

The Fortresses put an end to the Nazis' waning hopes that their capital would be immune from the Allies' accelerating campaign of "vertical warfare." Berlin has been thoroughly battered by the R. A. F.'s overwhelming night attacks, and it only remains for the American daylight bombers with their precision attacks to knock out individual factories and other small objectives which are the shattered city's still remaining assets.

The last deep penetration of the Fortresses into Germany was Oct. 9 whe nairplane factories in East Prussia were hit. The growing power of the American Air Force is reflected in the attack on the Berlin area, a spectacular and difficult blow undertaken as the operation for a third straight day of attack.

This was the Nazis' sixth dose of bombs in four days of round-the-clock attacks. Wednesday night the R. A. F. hit Stuttgart. On Thursday Amreican daylight bombers went to southwest Germany and R. A. F. night Mosquitoes invaded western Germany. Yesterday northwest Germany was a Fortress-Liberator target and a few hours after the American Lightnings' significant penetration to Berlin the capital was roused by R. A. F. Mosquitoes.

A German radio account of the bomber blow at the capital today said it was a repeat of an attack which had failed yesterday.

"This time the attack was flown from a westerly direction," the announcement said. "Only a small part of the American formation—which was strongly escorted by fighters, reached Berlin.

"They encountered a very strong defense and had to jettison their bombs or were compelled to release them without taking aim as they were hard-pressed by the German fighters. Several U. S. A. planes were brought down and crashed in the immediate vicinity of the capital."

NEW YORKERS OVER BERLIN

Two in Fortress Crews Describe Nazi Defense They Encountered

LONDON, March 4 (AP)—Two New Yorkers in the Flying Fortress crews that were over Berlin today tod of the mission.

Lieut. H. C. Evertsen of 1131 Seventy-sixth Street, Brooklyn, a navigator, among the first to return from the attack, said:

"We hit a lot of flak around the edge of Berlin but they apparently didn't open up on us with all their ground guns, I'd estimate about eighty guns were firing at us and sending up the biggest flak I've ever seen."

"German fighters came in on us three to five at a time but when they were about 600 yards off we opened fire on them and they all turned away," said Gunner Sgt. William A. Knipper of 124 West 102d Street, New York City.

FLIERS REWARDED

A BOMBER BASE IN ENGLAND, March 4.—(AP) Two rarities in England—double shots of the best Scotch whisky and second helpings of steak—were waiting for Flying Fortress crews tonight as they returned from the first American bomber raid on the Berlin district.

The double Scotch drinks were handed the fliers as they entered the interrogation room at one base, and the steak with second helpings was waiting for another group returning to this base.

"It was a special meal," said Mess Sgt. H. J. Hakes, of Des Moines, Iowa. "We used the steak tonight we had planned for Sunday's dinner.

Yanks, Tommies Trying Soldier Exchange Plan

London, March 4 (AP)—The United States and Britain have begun a unique soldier-exchange plan in preparing troops for the invasion.

So the Allies in the fighting line may better understand each other, British soldiers—both officers and enlisted men—are living and training with American units, and Americans are assigned to British forces.

The British live right in the barracks with the Americans, and are allowed all privileges, even to the extent of receiving temporary ration cards to buy cigarettes, candy and other things in American canteens.

The soldiers are placed with units comparable to their own, and thereby learn each other's methods of doing things. At night the men go together to dances, a movie or a pub. Under the plan, exchange soldiers will be rotated every few weeks.

Chinese American Flyer Missing in Europe

London, March 4 (A. P.).—Lieut. Wau Kau-kong of Honolulu, the only Chinese fighter pilot with the American Air Force in Britain, was reported missing in action today. The Chinese, who bagged his first German plane last month, flew a Mustang bearing the double name "Chinaman's Chance" and "No Tickee—No Washee."

He was described by his squadron commander as "a daring and scientific pilot who did all kinds of Chinese tricks in his Mustang."

London's Anti-Aircraft Guns Blow Doors Open

London, March 4 (AP)—London's anti-aircraft guns now fire with such blasts that they knock the locks off the doors of the control rooms, blow the doors open and shake blackout boards down.

This was disclosed tonight in an official account saying it happened so frequently that the job of keeping the doors closed and the blackout boards up had been assigned to ATS girls in addition to their regular duties.

Blinded By Bomb, Helps Develop Six-Ton Bomb

London, March 4 (AP)—Air Commodore Patrick Huskinson, who was blinded by the explosion of a German bomb during a London raid in April, 1941, was a leader in developing the RAF's new six-ton "factory buster" bomb, it was learned today.

He was retired from the post of director of armament development at the Ministry of Aircraft Production but continued to work on the new bomb despite the loss of his sight.

London, March 4 (AP)—The British Ambassador to Argentina is under instructions to refrain from making any move that would even imply recognition of the Farrell regime, it was learned reliably today.

BRITONS ARE COOL TO WAR IN PACIFIC

Found More Interested In Russian And Italian Fronts

By TOM YARBROUGH

London, March 4 (AP)—It's halfway around the world from Britain to Bougainville—and the war out there is even farther from the minds of Britons fighting at their own front door.

The biggest surprise in coming to London from the Southwest Pacific, as I have just done, is the discovery that the public here knows so little about the Pacific war and cares so little about knowing more.

The British Government, remembering its pledge to throw its military might against Japan after the defeat of Germany, is seriously concerned and proposes to do something about it. It sees the future difficulty of having to tell people who have been through five years of war on this side, "All right now, Hitler is finished. Your next job is in the Pacific."

To Get More Attention

One thing the Government proposes is to get the Pacific war more attention in the British press—something more than fleeting prominence for such dramatic episodes as Guadalcanal, Tarawa and Kwajalein.

Developments in the Pacific provide little more than flashes in the pan here when measured against the daily newspaper fare about Russia and Italy. Day in and day out Russia and Italy get twin play, usually in double-column space which morning newspapers reserve for them regardless. Pacific developments that fail to reach really sensational proportions are subordinated.

This is not due to any studied effort by British editors, but they must be guided primarily by public interest.

Jittery Alarms In Eire Reported

WM S WHITE

London, March 4 (AP)—Neutral Eire's nerves were reported today so jangled that the crossing of the border recently by a tipsy, gun-firing Allied soldier set off an invasion scare and spawned stories in rumor-rife Dublin that "the Allies have presented an ultimatum."

The office of the Irish High Commissioner said only that it had "no information" about the reported jittery alarms in Ireland. However, twice in recent days President Eamon de Valera has denounced rumor mongering and made indirect appeals for public tranquillity.

The Eire army was ordered on a five-day "stand to" alert after the soldier crossed the border from Ulster into Eire ten days ago, wildly firing shots, the Daily Express said, quoting travelers. Local defense volunteers were called out, bridges mined, machine-gun posts readied and forts manned.

The Express said calm was returning to Eire, but that rumors continue to reach here purporting to recount how the "Allies want ports and other facilities."

Swiss Major Sentenced To Death for Treason

London, March 4 (A. P.).—A Swiss broadcast said today that a major of the Swiss Interlaken motorized division had been sentenced to death and four other Swiss had received prison sentences for treason.

All sentenced were members of a spy organization established to secure military information for a foreign Power, said the broadcast without naming the country involved.

Yugoslavs Report New Battle Gains

London, March 4 (AP)—Yugoslav Partisan headquarters reported tonight in a broadcast communique that its Eleventh Corps had destroyed the railway station and a train at Rakek, and that in a two-day battle near Ljubljana 230 Germans were slain and two armored trains and a transport train destroyed.

Throughout Slovenia the Partisans hold the initiative, the communique said.

A railway has been demolished in Montenegro and "successful battles" have been fought against Germans and Chetniks in western Bosnia and Dalmatia, it added.

NAZIS FLOOD HOLLAND

London, March 4 (A. P.).—The Germans already are flooding evacuated areas of south Holland and Zeeland Islands as an anti-invasion measure, Aneta, the official Netherlands news agency, said today. Dutch farmers were forced, under threat of armed violence, to help with the evacuation and the transport of the equipment of German troops moving into the areas, Aneta said.

Finns May Ask U.S. to Mitigate Russian Terms

London Doubts U. S. Wants Arbiter Role, Will Reject Appeal 'With Sympathy'

SINGLETON

LONDON, March 4 (AP).—Finland may ask the United States to intervene for mitigation of Russian peace terms, it was learned today, but it is believed such a plea would be rejected "with sympathy."

This view was based on the conviction that the Soviet Union disclosed its terms to the American State Department, as well as the British government, before making them public—even though the United States is not at war with Finland.

Russia's action in pressing its demands, with Great Britain's unofficial but none the less firm backing, indicated that it was likely that America took the position it was not seeking the role of arbiter.

[The American government "hopes very much that the Finnish government will continue the conversations opened with the Soviet government for the termination of hostilities," Acting Secretary of State Edward R. Stettinius jr. said in Washington on Friday, when asked his reaction to reports that Finland seemed opposed to further talks with the Russians.]

"At present, I am not planning any journey anywhere," Juho K. Paasikivi, Finnish representative in the 1940 peace negotiations, said at Helsinki, commenting on a report in the Stockholm "Tidningen" that he would return soon to Stockholm with Finland's reply to Russian peace terms.

The Finnish Diet (Parliament) is reported preparing to meet next Tuesday to discuss the latest developments in connection with the Russian armistice terms. Finnish party leaders are said to be touring the country, sampling public opinion concerning the Soviet demands.

A Foreign Ministry spokesman at Helsinki said today that "nothing sensational is expected this week end." He also denied rumors that Moscow had set a time limit for Finland's answer, but indicated Moscow's request that a delegation be sent "immediately" to discuss peace terms meant that Finland would not be allowed to dally long before making up her mind.

RUSSIANS ADVANCE ON PSKOV RAILWAY

Red Troops Take Town Three Miles East of Communications Hub.

YARBROUGH

LONDON, March 4.—(AP) Moscow announced tonight that Soviet troops striking toward the Pskov-Warsaw railway south of Pskov captured Panevo, three miles east of the rail artery, while Red army troops in the north won several "heavily fortified strongpoints" in their fight to widen their Estonian bridgehead below Narva.

The Russian nightly communique, recorded by the Soviet monitor, also reported gains in the Ukraine as Soviet troops south of the captured iron-mine town of Krivoi Rog crossed the Ingulets river and captured seven localities. Among them were Zagradovka, 25 miles southwest of Krivoi Rog and the final rail stations on the 20-mile spur railway from Krivoi Rog southwest to Nikolokazelsk.

2,000 Nazis Slain

The midnight Russian bulletin said 2,000 Germans were killed and a considerable number taken prisoner after a day of battles marked by fierce German counter-attacks.

Panevo, three miles east of the Pskov-Ostrov-Dvisnk-Warsaw rail line, is 16 miles northeast of Ostrov. In this sector a highway from Pskov to Ostrov parallels the railway less than a half mile to the east.

[The London radio, quoting "agency messages," said the Russians had reached the highway linking the two German fortresses of Pskov and Ostrov.]

Other communities captured in this drive were Shubinagora, 12 miles southeast of Ostrov and Sigorno, 13 miles southeast.

Berlin Cites Early Thaws

No other details were given by the official bulletin, which for the last three days has given unusually brief accounts of the war. Berlin reports, however, indicated a general slackening by both sides on the Eastern front because of unseasonable thaws.

"Where operations were started with heavy forces they have at present slackened to actions of local importance," said a Berlin broadcast quoting the Transocean military correspondent, Walter Plato.

"The near future will reveal whether the calming down is a result of the mud period which set in early this year or whether it is merely a pause for the bringing up of new Soviet divisions, which is indicated by concentrations in various sectors of the front."

Entire Front A Morass

Other Berlin reports said the entire front was a morass as rain and thaw deteriorated roads.

The Germans, however, said Russian armies in the north had torn "several breaches" in their defenses, but claimed some had been eliminated or narrowed by counter-attacks.

To the south, Russian divisions slowly but tirelessly were beating forward on the fringes of Pskov, which stands at the center of Adolf Hitler's northern line, with Ostrov below and Narva above. From the east and the north, Red Army units were hammering into the outskirts of Pskov.

Below the city, the Soviets were within six miles of the Pskov-Warsaw railway, the last but one of the rail routes still left to the Nazi garrison in Pskov.

Hitler's northern line from Ostrov to Pskov to Narva is deeply essential to him politically as well as militarily, for a collapse now threatened at the head, foot and center of that line would put upon the already wavering Finns an almost irresistible pressure of necessity to quit his cause.

Moscow disclosed that the Moscow-Leningrad railway had been restored, with the first freight train traveling between the two cities. Passenger service to the long-besieged city soon will begin.

Moscow to Leningrad Railway Opened by Reds

Moscow, March 4 (A. P.).—The Moscow-Leningrad Railway now has been restored and the first freight train already has made the journey between the two cities, it was announced today.

Passenger service will begin soon. Red Army advances below Leningrad cleared the Germans away from the railway several weeks ago.

SOVIET HAILS GIRL AS WAR HEROINE

MAR 5 1944

Moscow, March 4 (A. P.).—Manshuk Mamedova, 20-year-old machine-gunner, who fought on in battle despite wounds and inspired her Red Army comrades to hurl back a German attack, has become the second living woman hero of the Soviet Union.

The broadfaced, black-eyed girl from Kazakhstan joined the army as a volunteer in 1942 and asked for machine-gun duty.

"But you know nothing about machine-guns," said her commander.

"That's all right, I'll learn," she said.

She learned with rapidity to operate the gun—and with considerable accuracy. The Red Army's winter offensive found Manshuk in the front ranks, where the Germans launched fierce counter-attacks, raining mortar fire on Manshuk's sector. She held her ground, said the Red Star newspaper account of her heroism, for almost an hour before a shell overturned her gun and wounded her in the head.

She regained consciousness, saw green-uniformed men moving upon her position, righted the gun and turned its fire on the Germans. The Nazis were turned back in this sector.

The only other living woman hero of the Soviet Union is Valentina Grizodubova, an aviator.

Russia Proper Creates Two New Departments

Moscow, March 4 (AP)—The Supreme Soviet of the Russian Soviet Federated Socialist Republics, the Parliament of Russia proper, adopted unanimously today a bill creating Commissariats of National Defense and Foreign Affairs for this republic.

The action followed that of the Ukrainian republic in naming two commissariats in accordance with the new Soviet Union law granting the 16 Soviet republics the right to handle their own international negotiations and create their own military formations.

The commissars will be named later.

Paasikivi Expected In Stockholm

Stockholm, March 4 (AP)—The Stockholm Tidningen, quoting private sources, said today that Juho K. Passikivi, who represented Finland in arranging the 1940 peace, would arrive in Stockholm soon with Finland's answer to Russia's peace terms.

The newspaper said the reply would be handed to Mme. Alexandra Kollontay, Soviet Ambassador to Sweden, and would ask for clarification of certain of the terms. The reply was said to express a desire to continue the negotiations.

Internment Rejection

Earlier the Stockholm Dagens Nyheter said the Finnish Parliament had rejected the Soviet demands for internment of German troops now in Finland and restoration of the 1940 boundaries.

Allehanda's Helsinki correspondent said, "It is clear the Finnish Government has received new information" regarding the armistice conditions and had found a way of resuming negotiations.

Finland's Social Democratic press was said to be emphasizing now that a way out must be found and that Finland cannot continue at war with her great neighbor.

It was learned through other sources that the Parliament's vote of confidence in the Government was 105 to 80.

Monte Carlo Ends 3-Year Spree When Germans Install Rationing

By The Associated Press.

MADRID, March 4 (AP)—The wild, war-boom spree at Monte Carlo is over after three years of fabulous, incredible high jinks.

The tiny principality and gambling center was an oasis of good living until last week. Billions of francs crossed the Casino's gambling tables every night. British whisky, Havana cigars, American cigarettes, whipped cream and all the luxuries drained from the black markets of the Continent found their way to Monte Carlo for sale at king's ransom prices.

Every black market millionaire, every grafting "Quisling," every loot-heavy high officer on the loose sooner or later turned up at the wide-open hot spot where everybody — so the word was spread throughout Hitler's Europe —could have a "pre-war good time", if he had the price.

Even for more modest incomes Monte Carlo offered the luxury of no rationing. There were plenty of new-rich suckers in the new order eager to revel in the twenty-four-hour bacchanale.

Last week the war cracked down on Monaco. The Germans, reportedly getting a fat cut from Casino profits, finally decided the glittering, golden goose had to be sacrificed in the interests of their own skins should the German High Command find this truly soft spot tolerated and protected so close to the Allied bases in Corsica.

Monacan Prince Louis and his divorced daughter Charlotte were told by their Ministers of State, who in turn got their orders from the Germans, that rationing similar to that in force in France must begin right now.

Moreover, the orders specified that 5,000 aliens living in Monaco —Germans excepted, naturally— must get out.

Last week the 5,000 were sent packing, together with thousands of casual tourists. The curfew now sounds at 8 P. M.

Here is what the Eveninger Madrid's correspondent reports of the gloomy last night of Monte Carlo:

"The last session of roulette was desolating. People played only 10 and 20 franc notes. In the baccarat game, last hope of the desperate, only 3,000 francs were risked and the game closed for lack of a banker. The barman at the Casino sold his last Henry Clay cigars for 1,000 francs. (A few weeks ago they were 10,000 francs.) Nobody wanted to buy any whisky. * * *

"Monaco is a desert. As it vanishes into the shadows there dies with it the last illusion of those who used to say in Paris: 'When they are coming, we will go to Monte Carlo.'"

"They" are the Allies. Those who always thought they would have Monte Carlo as a fine, fat, comfortable haven from retribution are those collaborationist Parisians who have most to fear from the furies to be unleashed by an Allied invasion.

Allies Beat Off 3 Nazi Beachhead Attacks

Allied Headquarters, Naples, March 4 (AP)—Three small German attacks against the beachhead below Rome were smashed yesterday and Thursday as the Nazis continued to stab weakly at the Allied lines after the failure of their latest all-out offensive, headquarters announced today.

A dusk assault against American troops along the Cisterna-Montello road Thursday was beaten back by artillery fire and three tanks were destroyed. Two strong enemy patrols probing British positions around Carroceto were dispersed and infiltration attempts in the Moletta river area also failed.

Action Is Curtailed

Unfavorable weather curtailed ground operations, a communique said, with action in the Cassino area limited to "normal patrolling and exchanges of fire."

Allied officers estimate that at least five Nazi divisions were used in the recent costly offensive against the beachhead. Three German divisions had previously been identified in the assault, but the Allied command later learned the crack Herman Goering panzer division and the 715th Infantry also were employed. The latter outfit suffered heavy casualties in both of the last two offensives.

3,500 Taken Captive

Since the British and Americans landed below Rome January 22 they have taken more than 3,500 prisoners, a spokesman said.

The Allied airforces yesterday struck slashing blows at German communications in northern Italy and in Rome, blasting railways, destroying a number of locomotives and cannonading shipping and dock areas. Eleven German planes were destroyed for a loss of 10 Allied craft.

One company of German infantry attacked Indian troops near the mountain village of Fallascoso, southwest of Toricella on the Eighth Army front but were driven off with casualties.

Patrol Ambushed

On that front, Allied patrols maintained close contact with the Germans, a Canadian patrol capturing a machine gun in the Crecchio area. Another Canadian patrol ambushed a German party in a night action near Orsogna, inflicting casualties. Polish patrols also were active.

Spitfires again blasted the Yugoslav coast, smashing two locomotives and machine-gunning trains, and Wellington night bombers followed up the blows with a smash last night at Zara, Italian port on the Dalmatian coast, with two-ton bombs. Zara is one of the major intakes for German reinforcements and supplies in the battle against Slav Partisans.

Photos showed that about 2,000 pieces of rolling stock were in the heavily hit Littorio yards, about five miles north of the center of Rome. Two minor explosions and fires, appearing to be in a munitions dump, were observed at the Tiburtina yards.

Tracks Torn Up

Tracks were torn up in the Tiburtina yards and bombs set fire to storage depots and hit near-by warehouses, damaging two industrial plants near by.

About 30 German fighters challenged the Flying Fortresses over the Rome area. The bomber gunners shot down five and escorting Thunderbolts destroyed six.

Marauders following the heavy bombers over Rome attacked the Ostiense rail yards in the southern part of the city through which German supplies to the Fifth Army fronts pass. Liberators went north of Rome to bomb airfields, but a heavy overcast prevented accurate observation of the results.

Allies Repel Nazi Beachhead Jabs

Allied Headquarters, Naples, March 4 (AP)—The Allies are holding solidly to their beachhead south of Rome and have repulsed such attacks as the Germans have been able to launch since they were soundly beaten Tuesday and Wednesday in their all-out attack by five divisions, Allied headquarters announced today.

Three small German attacks have been hurled back in the past two days, the Allied communique said. Bad weather closed in yesterday to restrict operations in all the Italian battle sectors.

Bomb Communications

The Mediterranean air force, flying 1,400 sorties, attacked Nazi communications throughout northern Italy and Rome Friday. Even though there was no enemy air activity over the beachhead, 11 German planes were destroyed and 10 Allied aircraft lost.

There was an indication from the Nazi-controlled Rome radio that the Germans may have abandoned hope of driving the Allied beachhead force into the sea as a result of the failure of their third offensive against it and now are bent on merely restricting it.

Admits Air Blows

An announcement claiming local successes but admitting no major progress against the beachhead said the German army had "pinned down" the Allies to such a small space that the beachhead forces "have lost any possibility of the initiative and have to fight very hard to avoid disaster."

The enemy announcement admitted heavy blows from Allied air forces around the beachhead.

At dusk Thursday the Germans attacked American positions along the Cisterna-Montello road. They were thrown back by artillery fire and lost three tanks. Around Carroceto the British drove back two strong Nazi patrols testing their positions. Infiltration attempts in the Moletta river area were served in the same way.

Ground forces praised American Liberators and Fortresses which held the Nazis in check Thursday. Their accurate bombing caused heavy casualties and spread confusion among enemy troop and tank concentrations.

3,500 Nazis Prisoners

An Allied headquarters spokesman disclosed more than 3,500 prisoners have been taken by the Allies since they landed in the Anzio beachhead January 22. The Allies also learned that the Hermann Goering Panzer division and the 715th Infantry were used by the Germans in their big attack on the beachhead last week in addition to three divisions previously identified.

On the main Fifth Army front continued rains deepened the mud and brought streams to new flood heights while many mountain parts of the Eighth Army line remained snowbound.

On the Eighth Army front Polish and Canadian patrols were active. Indian forces beat back one small enemy attack.

Railways And Docks Hit

Locomotives, railway lines, shipping and dock areas and other communication facilities were the targets of Allied bombers over north Italy and Rome. Spitfires struck again at trains in Yugoslavia and Wellington night bombers bombed Zara, Italian port on the Dalmatian coast, Friday night, with two-ton bombs.

Allied headquarters said "as in previous attacks," Allied airmen took care not to hit religious and cultural monuments in Rome. Bomb-raid photographs showed some 2,000 units of rolling stock were in the target area at Littorio yards five miles north of the center of Rome. At Tiburtina yards two minor explosions and fires, apparently in a munitions dump, were observed.

NEW YORKERS TELL OF RAID ON ROME

Allied Headquarters, Naples, March 4 (A. P.).—Flyers who took part in yesterday's American raid on the Littorio and Tiburtina railroad yards at Rome declared today that they caught both yards crammed with German supply trains, and that they scored many hits on warehouses as well as rolling stock.

Among those over Rome for the second time was Technical Sergt. Joseph V. LaBardera of 1492 Bushwick avenue, Brooklyn. "I'm sorry I still can't tell my wife I've actually been in Rome," he said.

Sergt. Gordon A. Tesney of 285 Nutley avenue, Nutley, N. J., encountered his first enemy fighters. "Five of them kept circling our ship," he said. "I was ready but they didn't come near it. They really poured it into the stragglers."

The group flight surgeon at one base, Capt. Sidney Wanderman of 334 West 85th street, New York, sweated out a radio message for an ambulance to meet the first Fortress landing at the base in the afternoon. The ambulance was on hand as Lieut. John A. Wallace of Griffin, Ga., demanded a ride in state to the Operations Office, as the airman's customary reward for fifty missions. Checking all other planes of the group, Dr. Wanderman exclaimed: "Wonderful! Not one of our boys even got a scratch. It's a big relief after what they went through last week in Germany."

The Nazi-controlled Rome radio said that forty persons were killed and 200 wounded and that bombs fell on Vatican City during the raid. Several stained glass windows in St. Peter's Basilica were broken, Rome declared, adding that bombs also fell on the Protestant cemetery where the English poets Shelley and Keats are buried.

97 Nazi Planes Bagged At Regensburg Feb. 25

Allied Headquarters, Naples, March 4 (AP)—Gunners on American bombers and escorting fighter pilots destroyed 97 German planes in the great air battle over Regensburg, Germany, on February 25, revised figures showed today.

The bag was described officially as an all-time record for planes based in the Mediterranean theater, the previous record having been 85 off the Tunisian coast April 17, 1943.

Allied headquarters also announced that the desert air force destroyed between 25,000 and 30,000 tons of enemy shipping during February, most of it in the Adriatic along the Yugoslav coast.

Badoglio Reads About Fleet Plan

Naples, March 4 (AP)—Marshal Pietro Badoglio today asked Allied officials in Italy for "the most complete, urgent and necessary details" of the plan announced by President Roosevelt to turn part of the Italian fleet over to Russia, which Badoglio said he learned about only through press and radio reports.

A statement of his Government, containing a note of reproach at the manner the Premier heard of the proposal, said the head of the state "reserves the right to act accordingly" upon receiving more detailed information. It was learned Allied representatives also had had no official word of the plan and were awaiting it before replying to Badoglio.

The statement reiterated the Badoglio Government's determination to cooperate "to the best of its possibilities" with the United States, Great Britain and Russia, and its wish to develop and strengthen "this cooperation in the interests of Italians and of the common cause."

BADOGLIO HAILS LATINS

Voices Satisfaction at Renewal of Ties With Colombia

NAPLES, March 4 (AP)—The Badoglio Government expressed cordial satisfaction today with an official notice that the Government of Colombia had agreed to resume "normal relations" with liberated Italy and to "re-establish the traditional friendship between the two countries."

A statement issued from Premier Badoglio's headquarters recalled that the Mexican Government had decided to abrogate all restrictive measures against Italian inhabitants of Mexico taken under the former state of war.

Shortly after the Mexican initiative, the statement said, Foreign Minister Caracciolo Parra Perez of Venezuela sent Premier Badoglio a message stating that this country was following "with particular attention and sympathy" the Italian Government's action toward assuring Italy's liberation, reorganizing the country and progressively strengthening its collaboration with the Allies.

Italian Workers Slate Mass Meeting

Naples, March 4 (AP)—The Allied Control Commission has announced that a proposed ten-minute strike of Italian workers in protest against Prime Minister Churchill's recent statement in support of Premier Marshal Badoglio's Government has been cancelled.

Leaders of the action, Socialist and Communist parties said that instead of a strike, which had been planned for today, a mass meeting would be held in Naples Sunday, March 12, when plans would be made to circulate a petition. This presumably again would call for the abdication of King Vittorio Emanuele and reorganization of the Government.

The leaders said the strike was called off "on precise instructions of the Allied supreme command." The Italians conferred yesterday with Allied authorities.

BACKS PETAIN IN PURGE TRIAL

Defendant Says Marshal Believes Nazis Will Be Beaten

Pucheu Tells Treason Tribunal He Got Bid From Giraud

Algiers, March 4 (AP)—Former Vichy Minister of the Interior Pierre Pucheu, opening his defense against charges of treason, told a special French military tribunal today that he came to North Africa at Gen. Henri Giraud's own invitation.

He called upon the French commander in chief, who had been summoned as a defense witness, to verify him. Giraud, who received word yesterday of his daughter's death in Germany, was not present.

Pucheu accused the French Committee of National Liberation of putting Vichy on trial, and then asserted that Vichy prevented German occupation of North Africa and preserved it for the Allies.

Claims 1942 Agreement

The former Minister said he reached an understanding with Giraud in France October, 1942, whereby Pucheu would come to North Africa, not for a political post, but to join a fighting unit.

Giraud is expected to appear later to substantiate or deny this.

Pucheu described his relations with Marshal Petain from mid 1941 to mid 1942 and declared: "The marshal does not believe in a German victory. The policy of collaboration is dead."

Pucheu said Petain was convinced that Germany eventually would be defeated after Russia and the United States were brought into the war.

"Perhaps it would be a decade, perhaps two decades, but Germany eventually would lose and our problem was to remain on the ground," he said.

"Slowed Down" Police

He claimed that as Interior Minister he "slowed down" the Vichy police and prevented the arrests of resistance leaders, including Henri Frenay.

Frenay, a member of the National French Committee, also will be called as a defense witness.

Pucheu said he saw Frenay in his office twice at Vichy, and then asked the court:

"Was that persecuting de Gaullists when I permitted a leader twice to enter my office and then leave unmolested?"

Algiers, March 4 (AP)—Pierre Pucheu, on trial for treason for his acts as Minister of the Interior in the Vichy Government, declared today that Marshal Petain now believes Germany eventually will be defeated and that "the policy of collaboration is dead."

Fighting for his life before a military court after indictment by the French Committee of National Liberation in its purge of collaborationists, Pucheu spoke in his own defense at the opening session, declaring that the Vichy Government had prevented the Germans from totally occupying France, smashing through Spain and occupying North Africa before the Allied landings.

Claims Talk With U. S. Envoy

Pucheu said he had negotiated with Gen. Henri Giraud and S. Pinkney Tuck, United States charge d'affaires, late in 1942 before the Allied landings in North Africa.

He asserted that late in that year he was convinced that the Allies would have to seize North Africa in order to clean the Mediterranean and establish a base for attack on Hitler's southern bastions. Pucheu said that he interviewed Tuck, seeking to learn the terms whereby the Vichy administration could be accepted as an ally.

"I wanted them (the British and American troops) to come as Allies and not as occupying forces," he declared.

Tried To Enlist Petain

Later Pucheu said he sought to have Marshal Petain join in this scheme, but the Chief of State dismissed the idea as being childish.

Declaring he was "disillusioned with the marshal," Pucheu said he went to Lyon and made contact with Giraud. He said that his "plan was to rally the armistic army (the forces left to France by the 1940 armistice) and other men of good will to assist the Allied cleanup."

He declared he made a contact with Giraud in October, 1942, and had a rendezvous with the general on November 15, 1942. Meanwhile, the Allied landings had occurred.

Arranged By Giraud

Pucheu said he then fled across the Pyrenees into Spain, where the Spaniards held him in Madrid, and next sent word to Giraud, who obtained his release and arranged for his transportation to Casablanca, where he arrived early in 1943, Pucheu testified.

Describing his relations with Marshal Petain from the middle of 1941 to mid-1942, Pucheu defended both the aged chief of state and Admiral Darlan, the former Vice Premier who was slain after having aided the Allied landing in Africa but he attacked Pierre Laval, the present chief of government in Vichy.

Laval's Ideas Different

"Laval had a different conception of our relations with Germany," Pucheu observed.

Marshal Petain "does not believe in a German victory," Pucheu said, having become convinced of the Germans' ultimate defeat after the attack on Russia and after the entrance of the United States into the war.

"Perhaps it would be a decade, perhaps two decades, but Germany eventually would lose and our problem was to remain on the ground," Pucheu said.

At Giraud's Invitation

Pucheu said that he came to North Africa to join a fighting unit at the invitation of Gen. Henri Giraud himself, and he called upon General Giraud to verify this. The general, absent today after receiving official word only yesterday of his daughter's death in Germany, is to appear in court later as a defense witness.

As Minister of the Interior, Pucheu maintained that he hampered the employment of French industry for German purposes and hampered Marshal Petain's plan to send volunteers to fight alongside the Germans on the Russian front.

Cites Production Data

He told the court that figures on industrial production and figures on the "anti-Bolshevik Legion" volunteers would bear him out.

Speaking throughout the morning almost without interruption, Pucheu accused the National Committee of putting Vichy on trial. He attacked the competency of the court as being an organ of a self-appointed regime, adding:

"When the people of France through their elected delegates determine their government, I will submit my case to its courts."

FLIER HURT AT PING-PONG

Had Escaped Without a Scratch in Fifty Bombing Missions

ALGIERS, March 4 (AP)—Second Lieut. Francis MacWilliams of Olean, N. Y., had finished fifty combat missions as navigator of a Flying Fortress without a scratch, including the heavy Regensburg attack Feb. 25.

In Algiers awaiting orders, Lieutenant MacWilliams was playing ping-pong with Lieut. Robert A. Snyder, Toppenish, Wash.

Stretching for one of Lieutenant Snyder's high ones, Lieutenant MacWilliams wrenched his back, was carried out on a stretcher, and now is in a hospital, still awaiting orders.

British Gain In Burma

New Delhi, March 4 (AP)—British troops captured Japanese positions north and northeast of Buthedaung in their drive on Akyab, 50 miles to the south, in Burma yesterday and held them against strong counter-attacks, today's Southeast Asia communique announced.

Strategic and tactical air forces combined in an attack on Fort White, in northern Burma, yesterday, while tactical fighters and dive bombers struck enemy positions in the Kaladan, Arakan and Mayu areas.

U. S. Bombers Start Fires

Very large formations of United States fighter-bombers started fires and caused heavy explosions among troop concentartions, and stores in the Swanghka area, the communique said.

West African troops moving down the Kaladin Valley east of the Mayu range in a southward drive which has already outflanked Buthedaung, were attacking the town of Apaukwa and already had crushed most of the Japanese positions there.

Apaukwa, a Kaladin river port, lies 31 miles southeast of Buthedaung across the Mawdok mountain range. It is eight miles below Kauktaw, which the West Africans captured a week ago.

Tokyo Claims Victory

Two groups of Japanese forces trapped east of Ngakydauk Pass in the Mayu range attempted to break through the Allied lines yesterday and fall back southward. One of the groups was driven back in hard fighting and the other is being followed up and harassed, with half of its original numbers killed.

(The Tokyo radio, still claiming a victory in the Buthedaung area fighting, said Japanese troops had destroyed the main force of the Seventh Indian Division. It said that 7,000 men including 3,000 British had been killed and that 600 prisoners were taken.

BRITISH GAIN ABOVE AKYAB

Push Japanese From Positions On Burma Peninsula

New Delhi, March 4 (AP)—British forces have scored further limited gains in their campaign to clear out the Japanese invaders and give the Allies a firm hold on the strategic Akyab peninsula on the western coast of Burma, Southeast Asia headquarters announced today.

Both the United States and British air forces kept up their attrition against military installations and supply lines, which the Japanese have built up throughout Burma in the past two years of military occupation.

Take Posts By Storm

In the jungle battleground 50 miles north of the town of Akyab, the British captured some Japanese positions by storm, beat off three Japanese counterattacks and were well on the way toward consolidating their new positions by Friday evening, the communique said.

West African troops advancing down the Kaladan valley, east of the Mayu range, took a majority of Japanese positions around the town of Apaukwa. Two parties of Japanese cut off east of Ngakyedauk pass were intercepted, and one was forced back into the hills after half its number had been killed.

Combined Air Attack

In a combination attack strategic and tactical air forces struck at Fort White in northern Burma. "A very large formation" of United States fighter-bombers spread destruction among extensive supply dumps and Japanese troop concentrations in the area of Sawnghka.

Not one plane was lost in extensive Allied air operations throughout the Burma area.

Chinese Forge Ahead.

Chungking, March 4 (A. P.).—The Chinese have pushed to within three miles on two sides of Maingkwan, most important Burmese village in the Hukwang Valley, a Chinese communique said today. The Chinese said one of their columns approaching from the west had reached Hpungnye, while another approaching from the north was encountering strong Japanese resistance at the Namtawng River.

Japs In Tojo's Disfavor Form Liberation League

Chungking, March 4 (AP)—Establishment of a "Free Japan movement" in the Communist-controlled territory of North China, apparently composed of a few Japanese prisoners and intellectuals at outs with the Tojo regime in Tokyo, was reported today in the New China Daily News, Chungking's Communist newspaper.

The paper said the Japanese held a meeting at Yenan, the "Communist capital" in Shensi province, North China, on January 15 and decided to form the Japanese People's Liberation League.

Likened To Group In Russia

The move was believed in Chungking to be similar to the free German committee started in Moscow by the Russians.

The league sponsors were said to intend their movement to be the foundation of a post-war government in Japan and to have outlined a policy embracing these points: Halt the war, withdraw Japanese troops from occupied areas, punish those responsible for starting the war, negotiate peace pacts, build independent and friendly relations with other nations, initiate a peaceful economic policy, stamp out every vestige of Japanese militarism, guarantee the Japanese people political freedom, independence and sovereignty; improve the livelihood of the people, and organize a progressive all-party people's government.

2 Communist Leaders

The committee which organized the league included the Communist leaders Mao Tse-tung and Chu Teh.

The manifesto declared the Japanese people were tired of war and "the time is now ripe to establish a people's front to struggle to peace and freedom."

It appealed to all progressive Japanese inside and outside Japan to join the league.

2 Red Cross Girls Visit U. S. Outposts in China

Make 900-Mile Trip Near Enemy-Held Territory

HEADQUARTERS OF "Y" FORCES IN SOUTHWEST CHINA, March 4 (AP).—Two American girls, a blonde and a redhead, have just returned from a 900-mile trip through China's rugged southwest where they brought to lonely American outposts such reminders of home as chocolate fudge, jitterbugging and community singing.

They are Katherine Pfeng, of Columbus, Ohio, and Francis Wild, of Aurora, N. Y., of the Red Cross Military Welfare Service in the China-Burma-India theater.

The trip by jeep, which took them close to enemy-held territory, began Feb. 14. They visited sixteen establishments, including field hospitals. Even an anti-aircraft post was reached after a two-mile drive up a mountain side.

Hull Serves Allies As Target

Somewhere in New Guinea, March 4 (AP)—An old Norwegian freighter is helping to whip the Axis although she has been hung up on a reef outside Port Moresby for 21 years.

Lieut. Gen. George C. Kennedy, Allied air commander in the Southwest Pacific, has sent just about every heavy, medium and fighter squadron out to make practice bomb runs and strafing attacks on the sievelike ship.

American Planes Blast Reinforced Japs as U. S. Troops Move Forward.

EUNSON

Allied Headquarters, Southwest Pacific, March 4 (A. P.).—Reinforced American invaders of Los Negros in the Admiralty Islands inched forward a mile and three quarters inland against Japanese bitterly resisting from ridge positions.

The several thousands of Japanese also are being reinforced from Manus Island on the west in the battle for a dominant position in the Bismarck Sea.

But the Nipponese are undergoing a terrific pounding from Mitchell bombers and Boston attack planes and the only appearance of their planes since the invasion opened Tuesday resulted in a costly defeat.

This was the situation depicted today in a headquarters communique.

Destroyers put dismounted cavalrymen of the Sixth Army ashore at Los Negros on the northeastern side of the Admiraltys Tuesday to test enemy strength there. The Japanese, obviously expecting any attack on the Admiraltys to come from the south, were so outmaneuvered that the landing force quickly captured Momote Airdrome.

Invasion on Full Scale.

After Gen. Douglas MacArthur personally inspected the scene and counter-attacks by numerically superior forces of Japanese were thrown back, a full-fledged invasion was decided upon and reinforcements were landed Thursday. Headquarters said today that more enemy counter-attacks were blunted that day and yesterday the invaders moved slowly ahead in all directions from the airfield.

Deprived of air support in the Admiraltys by the bombing out of Lorengau Airfield on Manus and the capture of Momote on Los Negros, the Japanese finally got a formation of fifteen planes over the invasion scene, presumably from New Guinea bases, more than 200 miles to the west. A group of Thunderbolts only half that size shot down eight of the formation definitely and are believed to have bagged four others.

The invaders hastily constructed pillboxes and dug foxholes to strengthen their positions along the one-mile, north-and-south beachhead while engineers repaired the captured airfield, slowed up in their work by rain.

MacArthur Reports Wave On Wave Hurled Against Airfield In Vain

SPENCER

Southwest Pacific Headquarters, Sunday, March 5 (AP)—Standing their ground in one of the fiercest fights of the Pacific war, American invaders of the Admiralties killed hundreds of Japanese in smashing "a final desperate attempt" of the enemy to retake Momote airdrome, headquarters announced today.

Three thousand Japanese have been killed or wounded since the invasion began less than a week ago, hundreds of them in the latest struggle as they swept down in waves from ridges.

700 Buried On Field

This turn in the tide of battle occurred Friday night and Saturday on Los Negros Island, invaded last Tuesday on the northeastern side of the Bismarck Sea Admiralty group.

Seven hundred dead Japanese were left on the battlefield where they were buried by the Americans.

The invasion to date has cost 61 American lives and 244 wounded. The bulk of this price was paid in hurling back the onslaughts of the Nipponese from ridge positions a mile and three quarters inland Friday night and Saturday morning.

Shell Manus Island Port

Seadler, the harbor for Lorengau on near-by Manus Island from which enemy reinforcements have been moving eastward to Los Negros, was bombarded by American destroyers.

Solomons-based planes, which had raided Rabaul for 15 straight days before bad weather ended that string, resumed assaults on that New Britain fortress. In the raids reported today buildings were demolished, two cargo ships set afire and a gunboat hit and damaged.

Describes Airfield Fight

Making clear the Allied hold on Momote airfield at Los Negros is secure, headquarters said:

"Shortly after dusk in a final desperate attempt to restore the situation and regain the key Momote airfield, the enemy attacked in a series of continued assaults lasting the entire night.

"Again and again, his forces hurled themselves against our lines in incessant but futile efforts to reach the field. Wave after wave was destroyed before his forces finally recoiled in complete defeat after one of the fiercest encounters of the war.

Prepare To Resume Attack

"His casualties in dead and wounded are estimated at 3,000. Seven hundred of his dead were buried by our men on the western perimeter of the field alone. We lost 61 killed and 244 wounded. Our troops are preparing to resume the advance."

WHAT HO, TOJO!

Bougainville, Solomon Islands, March 4 (A. P.).—Japanese prisoners at the American beachhead at Empress Augusta Bay wrote and translated this letter:

"Dear Medical Officers and Men:

"We would like to express our hearty appreciation toward your kind treatment both day and night and alone with the careful medical examinations and treatment you give us. We are hoping to recover our health and are willing to work for the United States.

"We are sure that you are counting the days and minutes for your safe return to the United States. We are hoping that day will be materialized soon."

Ponape And Kusaie Islands

Fleet Headquarters, Pearl Harbor, March 4 (AP)—Liberator heavy bombers of the Seventh Army Air Force continued the steady pounding of Ponape, Japanese base in the eastern Caroline Islands, with an eight-ton bombing raid March 2, Admiral Chester W. Nimitz announced today, and also struck enemy shipping and docks at Kusaie Island, southeast of Ponape.

Army Mitchell medium bombers, and navy searchplanes on the same date attacked two unnamed enemy bases in the Marshall Islands, dealing out 17 tons of explosives, Nimitz also announced.

The text of the announcement follows:

"Army Liberators of the Seventh Army Air Force on March 2 dropped approximately eight tons of bombs on runways and buildings at Ponape and attacked shipping and dock areas at Kusaie.

"Army Mitchell bombers and navy search Venturas of Fleet Air Wing 2 on the same date attacked two enemy-held positions in the eastern Marshall Islands with 17 tons of bombs, hitting airfields and starting fires.

"Although some anti-aircraft fire was encountered, all of our planes returned safely."

ALL PLANES SAFE AFTER KURILE RAID

MAR 5 1944

United States Pacific Fleet Headquarters, Pearl Harbor, March 4 (A. P.).—Six Japanese island bases, two of them in the Kuriles only 1,200 miles north of Tokio, were attacked by roving American naval planes on March 1 and 2, the Navy announced.

Admiral Chester W. Nimitz said the aerial sweeps destroyed enemy positions on Paramushiro and Shumushu in the Kuriles, Ponape in the Carolines, and on three enemy islands in the Marshalls. All American planes returned safely.

It was the second raid on Paramushiro and Shumushu within two weeks. Previous attacks were made February 19. The Japanese failed to get intercepting planes into the air over any of the targets.

U. S. Destroyers Hit Rabaul Third Time

Guadalcanal, March 4 (AP)—Admiral William F. Halsey's South Pacific destroyers shelled bomb-saturated Rabaul for the third time February 29, swinging boldly into the harbor to pump explosives into its remaining defenses.

The beleaguered New Britain enemy bastion got a respite from daily aerial bombardment yesterday as storm clouds blanketed the target area.

Halsey's announcement said that rain obscured results of the naval shelling.

Rabaul had been shelled February 18 and again on February 25.

Lone Pilot in Big Bomber Made Attack on Rabaul

By The Associated Press.

A THIRTEENTH AAF BOMBER BASE, South Pacific, March 4—A Mitchell bomber normally carries a crew of six or seven men, but Second Lieut. James Cook, 24, of Williamsburg, Iowa, took one up alone and made a one-man attack on Rabaul, Japanese base on New Britain, it was revealed today.

Lieutenant Cook said he made the flight Jan. 14 "on the spur of the moment." He brought the giant plane home through tropic storms and without instruments or lights, which had been shot out by anti-aircraft fire.

Because of heavy storms, eleven other bombers that had set out on another Rabaul mission turned back but Lieut. Cook climbed to 8,000 feet to pass moutnains and go in for his lone-wolf attack.

MBERS CAREFUL HEY DON'T MISS

An Advanced Air Base, South Pacific, March 4 (A. P.).—The boys who bomb Rabaul have a rule:

"It'll cost you a War Bond if you miss."

The only thing wrong with this bond-selling plan, however, said the Mitchell B-25 group sponsoring it, is that it doesn't seem to sell many bonds. Practically nobody ever misses.

Veteran Of Eniwetok Calls Jap Poor Soldier

Eniwetok Island, Marshall Islands, Feb. 21 ((AP)—Delayed)—The Japanese may be a fanatical fighter, but he is a poor soldier, says Lieut. Col. Winslow Cornett, whose first battalion of the 106th Army Infantry helped destroy the enemy on Eniwetok.

Cornett, of White Plains, N. Y., says the Japanese are poor shots.

"I saw them miss a lot of our men when they were right on top of them or when they were shooting at Americans from the back. I saw one Jap officer hiss one of my men at five yards."

Adm. Halsey Visits Green Islands

Green Islands, Feb. 20 (AP—Delayed) — Admiral William F. Halsey, South Pacific Allied commander, made a surprise inspection trip to this northernmost outpost of the Allies' northward push from the Solomons five days after the islands' invasion.

Halsey particularly praised the navy construction battalion units on the speed in building an airfield. He also commended defenses set up by New Zealand and American troops.

Vice-Admiral Aubrey Fitch, commander of South Pacific air forces, accompanied Halsey and congratulated Commander R. Clifton Whyte, Washington, head of the Green Island Seabee units, upon the progress of the airfield.

Work Around Clock

Whyte told Halsey his Seabee crews were working around the clock to complete the airfield, which is within 30 minutes' flight time of tottering Rabaul, New Britain.

When Whyte announced plans for night work with electric lights someone cautioned of the danger. Whyte replied:

"Of course, it's dangerous — damned dangerous—but this is war. To hell with Jap bombers. We've got a job to do."

Japanese Mobilize School Children

Moscow, March 4 (A. P.).—Tass, official Soviet news agency, said in a dispatch from Tokio today that the Jap Government had mobilized school children and turned school buildings into war plants. Buildings constructed of flimsy material have been evacuated, the dispatch said, and where possible Government departments have been moved from congested areas.

The entire population is being mobilized to cultivate school grounds, parks, and vacant lots, Tass said.

Chile Accepts Regime.

Buenos Aires, March 4 (A. P.).—An announcement by Chile accepting the Argentine Government of Gen. Edelmiro Farrell as a continuation of the Ramirez regime with no question of recognition involved was received with satisfaction today in Argentina's official circles.

The Chilean action, the first by any American Government in connection with last week's events in Argentina, was announced over the Argentine State radio as soon as the news was received.

The Chilean view was disclosed in Santiago by Marcelo Ruiz, Sub-Secretary of Chilean Foreign Relations. His statement said:

"The President of Chile and the Minister of Foreign Relations consider that the Government of Gen. Farrell is a continuation of that of Gen. Ramirez and that therefore there is no occasion for Chile to declare itself concerning the matter of recognition. This is because it is considered that there has been a delegation of power."

Bolivian Aide Backs Farrell Government

La Paz, Bolivia, March 4 (AP)—Bolivian Foreign Minister Jose Tomayo told the Associated Press tonight that Bolivia is determined to "maintain cordial, unchangeable friendship" with the Farrell Government of Argentina.

Tomayo said that on March 1 he handed the Argentine Ambassador a message from Major Gualberto Villarroel, Bolivian President, to General Farrell expressing Bolivia's determination to maintain existing relations between the two countries on an unchanged basis.

Panama City, March 4 (AP)—Film stars Bob Hope and Frances Langford are expected to arrive in Panama next week for a tour of military positions in the Panama Canal department.

Invasion Role Seen For French Officers

Washington, March 4 (AP)—French officers, trained in military Government schools in the United States, may lead French troops in the invasion of Europe and rule liberated areas when Allied military authorities relinquish direct control.

That such a plan is being considered, and that the French officers have been receiving their training in this country, was disclosed by the French military mission today.

French Ship Return Planned

Meanwhile, it was announced by the War Shipping Administration that under a British-American-French agreement a "substantial number" of French ships requisitioned after the fall of France will be turned back to the Committee for National Liberation, at Algiers.

It is reported that a plan for the French troop participation in the invasion, with the United States trained French officers leading them, has been discussed by General de Gaulle and Allied military authorities and that it now is being considered by President Roosevelt.

French spokesmen here assert that they now have enough officers prepared to take over. The French have urged that military government officers be selected by the committee at Algiers but the Americans and the British have not yet approved the plans.

The plan for governing liberated areas in France, as outlined by the French delegation here, provides for appointment by the Algiers committee of prefects in each commune liberated.

The Allied high command will decide when an area is to be considered out of the military zone and in the liberated territory.

Municipal elections are to be held as the prefects are appointed, followed by departmental elections when whole departments are freed from the enemy.

Provisional Chief To Be Chosen

Each department is to send 14 delegates to the assembly at Algiers. When two thirds of France, including Paris, has been liberated, an assembly composed of the elected delegates (269), 100 elected by the National Council of Resistance and 50 designated by the departmental electoral colleges and approved by the Resistance Council is to elect a provisional chief of government.

Then, the plan provides that the Algiers Assembly will dissolve itself and turn over its power to the chief of government. When all France is free and French prisoners have been returned from Germany, a constituent assembly is to be held.

Embargo on Oil To Spain Spares Prior Licenses

State Department Explains a Scheduled Shipment as Granted Before Ban

From the Herald Tribune Bureau

WASHINGTON, March 4.—The prompt effect expected when the State Department announced on Jan. 28 suspension of petroleum exports to Spain to force the Franco government to adhere to an avowed neutrality apparently has not materialized.

This was indicated today when the department stated that the suspension still stands and that the only exports now permitted are those for which licenses were issued before the embargo.

The department's explanation was prompted by the publication this morning of a newspaper story stating that a shipment of 250,000 gallons of high-grade Pennsylvania lubricating oil has been loaded at an east coast port for transfer to Spain within the next few days.

The article said the shipment was in direct contradiction to the policy under which oil shipments to Spain from this hemisphere and from British territory have been embargoed since Feb. 1. It added that even before the embargo, oil shipments from this hemisphere were said to be solely from the Caribbea narea, with no oil going to Spain from the United States.

Clarifying the situation today, and contradicting the statement attributed to a State Department official who was quoted as saying that the suspension never applied to "packaged oil," the department said that the original suspension applied only to Spanish tanker loadings in the Caribbean area. However, in addition, the department said, it decided to suspend the granting of export licenses for the shipment of packaged petroleum products, including lubricants, from the United States so long as the tanker loadings were suspended.

In making this decision, according to the department, it did not cancel outstanding licenses for packaged petroleum goods. The packaged goods referred to in the newspaper article, the department said, are being shipped under such licenses.

The total shipments of petroleum products to Spain from United States ports prior to the suspension amounted to less than 3 per cent of Spain's total liftings in the Western Hemisphere and the shipment of the lubricating oil referred to in the article published this morning represents only a very small portion of those limited shippings, the department said.

Oil Export Ruling Explained

MAR 5 1944

Washington, March 4 (AP)—Outstanding export licenses for packaged petroleum goods to be shipped to Spain were not cancelled at the time a British-American embargo on tanker loadings for Spain was announced on January 28, the State Department explained today.

The statement was issued following reports in the Philadelphia Record that a quarter mililon gallons of Pennsylvania lubricating oil had been loaded at an East Coast port for transport to Spain within the next few days.

Statement Recalled

The amount being shipped represents a very small portion of the petroleum products which Spain could import were it not for the suspension of loadings, the Department declared. The statement recalled that on January 28 the Department announced that "the loadings of Spanish tankers with petroleum products for Spain have been suspended, through action of the State Department, pending a reconsideration of trade and general relations between Spain and th United States in the light of trends in Spanish policy."

This announcement related only to Spanish tanker loadings in the Caribbean area, the Department explained. In addition to the suspension of tanker loadings, the Department decided to suspend the granting of export licenses for the shipment of packaged petroleum products from the United States, the Department said.

Licenses Granted Earlier

In making this decision, however, the Department did not cancel outstanding licenses for packaged petroleum goods.

The packaged goods involved in the Philadelphia report are being shipped under licenses granted before the suspension took effect, it was said.

A department spokesman indicated that the products being shipped are mainly special lubricants required for Spanish industry and that United States agents will trace all shipments to make sure they do not fall into enemy hands.

Palestine Action Delay Requested

Washington, March 4 (AP)—Gen. George C. Marshall, army chief of staff, has urged the Senate Foreign Relations Committee to postpone action, for military reasons, on a resolution which would put the Senate on record as favoring continued Jewish immigration to Palestine, Senator Nye (R., N. D.) said today.

Although Nye declined to elaborate on Marshall's objections, made recently at a closed meeting of the committee, some other members said it was obvious that fears existed that passage of the resolution might disturb relations with the Arabs in the Middle East.

Marshall's views were said to have been backed by Secretary of War Stimson and Secretary of State Hull in letters to the committee suggesting that no action be taken on the resolution at this time.

The measure, introduced by Senators Wagner (D., N. Y.) and Taft (R., Ohio) would express the sense of the Senate that Palestine be opened for free entry of Jews and that the Jewish people be permitted ultimately to reconstitute Palestine as a democratic commonwealth.

Armour Ordered Not to Enter Relations With Argentine Regime for Present.

MAR 5 1944

Washington, March 4 (A. P.).—United States Ambassador Norman Armour has been instructed to refrain from entering official relations with the Farrell regime in Argentina pending developments, Acting Secretary of State Stettinius announced today.

In a formal statement Mr. Stettinius said that this Government has reason to believe that Argentinian groups not in sympathy with the declared Argentinian policy of joining the defense of the Western Hemisphere were active in the retirement of President Gen. Pedro Ramirez and the assumption of the presidency by Vice-President Farrell.

Mr. Stettinius said that since the American foreign policy is at present governed primarily by considerations of support for the prosecution of the war the Department of State has instructed Ambassador Armour to "refrain from entering official relations with the new regime pending developments."

"This is the present status of our relations with the existing Argentine regime," Mr. Stettinius said. "In all matters relating to the security and defense of the hemisphere we must look to the substance rather than the form.

"We are in a bitter war with a ruthless enemy whose plan has included conquest of the Western Hemisphere. To deal with such grave issues on a purely technical basis would be to close our eyes to the realities of the situation."

Door Is Not Closed.

Asked if the instructions to Mr. Armour constituted a suspension of relations with the Farrell regime, Mr. Stettinius replied that this Government never had begun relations with that administration.

He said that he would not go so far, however, as to say that this constituted a policy of nonrecognition. He said that the United States situation with regard to Argentina was in an earlier stage than dealings with Bolivia, where a policy of nonrecognition has been adopted.

He implied that the way was still open for establishing relations with Argentina and said there were many steps which Argentina could take to bring this about. For one thing, he said, Argentina could intern Axis diplomats, military attaches and other agents who are still free in Argentina. He added that Argentina could clean up Axis espionage which still functions in that country.

Text of Statement

WASHINGTON, March 4 (AP).—The text of Acting Secretary of State Stettinius's statement on United States relations with Argentina follows:

"The foreign policy of the United States since the beginning of the war has been governed primarily by considerations of support to the prosecution of the war. That applies to our relations with any country. That is the single uppermost point in our policy and must remain so.

"Prior to Feb. 25 the Argentine government had been headed by General Ramirez. On Jan. 26, 1944, his government broke relations with the Axis, and indicated that it proposed to go further in cooperating in the defense of the Western Hemisphere and the preservation of hemispheric security.

"Suddenly, on Feb. 25, under well known circumstances, General Ramirez abandoned the active conduct of affairs. This government has reason to believe that groups not in sympathy with the declared Argentine policy of joining the defense of the hemisphere were active in this turn of affairs.

"The Department of State thereupon instructed Ambassador Armour to refrain from entering official relations with the new regime pending developments. This is the present status of our relations with the existing Argentine regime.

"In all matters relating to the security and defense of the hemisphere, we must look to the substance rather than to the form. We are in a bitter war with a ruthless enemy whose plan has included conquest of the Western Hemisphere. To deal with such grave issues on a purely technical basis would be to close our eyes to the realities of the situation.

"The support by important elements inimical to the United Nations' war effort of movements designed to limit action already taken could only be a matter of grave anxiety.

"The United States has at all times had close ties with Argentina and the Argentine people. It had consistently hoped and continues to hope, that Argentina will take the steps necessary to bring her fully and completely into the realm of hemispheric solidarity, so that Argentina will play a part worthy of her great traditions in the world-wide struggle on which the lives of all the American countries including Argentina, depend. The policies and the types of action, present and future, which would effectuate this full co-operation are fully known in Argentina, as in the rest of the hemisphere."

Asks Wider Non-father Draft

Mrs. Luce Would Put Older Men and 4-F's in Army to Do War Work.

MAR 5 1944

Washington, March 4 (A. P.).—Undaunted by the sidetracking of a similar bill and impatient because of too much talking and too little action, Representative Clare Boothe Luce (R.-Conn.), offered a new solution to the man-power problem today.

She introduced legislation to induct into the Army, for limited service in essential war activities, between 50,000 and 200,000 men, who would be non-fathers between the ages of 38 and 45 or 4-Fs between 18 and 38.

The men, inducted through the regular selective service setup, would be assigned to the Army, receive regular Army pay and wear Army uniforms.

They would be used for harvesting, mining, logging, tanning, and other seasonal activities, and in essential war and war-supporting jobs, whenever and wherever needed.

"It's time to stop talking and do something," Mrs. Luce said in an interview. "So far, all Congress has done on the man-power problem is to state what cannot be done."

Mrs. Luce said she did not believe Congress was in the mood to enact a national service law nor did she think the House Military Committee, of which she is the only woman member, had any intention of considering a bill she introduced some time ago to create a non-uniformed emergency work corps through the wholesale induction of draft-age non-fathers not already in uniform.

The matter of pay for the men inducted and assigned to work under her bill would be left to the Army to work out, but presumably the difference between the Army compensation paid to the soldier-worker and the prevailing wage rate for the job he does would go to the Treasury.

PRESIDENT'S AIDES FOR BALLOT VETO

See Campaign Gain in Ban on Revised Soldier Measure—

Republicans Not Averse

WASHINGTON, March 4 (AP)—President Roosevelt's political advisers probably will urge him to veto the compromise service vote bill, if Congress finally approves it in its present form, and Republicans may be just as well satisfied if he does.

The patchwork measure, combining a form of Federal and State ballot, will get a final review Monday from a Senate-House committee. It then will go before the Senate, where it is regarded with growing suspicion by both Democrats and Republicans.

President Roosevelt has indicated that his decision on whether to veto the measure will turn on whether he believes it will provide opportunity for more members of the armed forces to vote than does the existing statute, which waives State poll tax and registration requirements for service men casting State absentee ballots.

Would Invite Campaign Issue

One Democratic official, who did not want his name used, said that, if he were asked, he would advise the President to veto the measure and make the whole question a campaign issue. The President then could contend, the official added, that he had done everything possible to make it easy for the service men to vote, only to be balked by Congress.

The Senate Democrats are divided on the effect of the hybrid proposal, which provides Federal ballots only for armed service personnel oveaseas, and then only after several other requirements have been met.

Most of the Senate Democrats will agree in the cloak rooms, however, that the number of service men who cast ballots under either the existing act or the pending measure will be limited. The Administration Democrats do not like that, because they think the majority would vote for President Roosevelt for a fourth term and would support the Democrats generally.

Attitudes of Republicans

Most Congressional Republicans fought for a State ballot, but some of them are not overly pleased with the bill as it now stands.

They like the provision recommending that States enact appropriate laws to permit absentee balloting and the provision for expeditious delivery of applications for State ballots.

But they recognize some packaged political dynamite in the section which makes a supplementary Federal ballot available to an overseas service personnel only if the Governor of his home State certifies by Aug. 1 that use of Federal ballots is authorized by State laws. They think that would put some of their party's twenty-six Governors on a pretty tight political spot in States where the voting in the Presidential and other national races is likely to be close.

They point out that if there is a constitutional provision against absentee balloting, as there is in Kentucky, the Governor will be hard put to find the Federal ballot acceptable. They figure that any Republican Governor who stands on his State's law and declares the Federal ballot not acceptable will be accused by the Democrats of trying to keep the service men from voting.

PRESIDENT PRAYS FOR WORLD PEACE

Begins 12th Year In Office With Religious Service

Washington, March 4 (AP)—President Roosevelt, his family and friends, prayed for peace at religious services in the White House today, commemorating the 11th anniversary of his inauguration.

Rain, which has deluged inauguration crowds nearly every four years, pattered on the windows of the East Room as the gathering joined in a plea for heavenly guidance for "Thy servant Franklin . . ." and to "save us from all false choices."

The Year Ahead

This was the setting as the tradition-breaking third-term President embarked on his 12th year in office, a year that bids to be one of the gravest ever confronting an American leader.

It is a year in which some of the more optimistic see the fall of the Nazis, gateway to the final blow at enemy Japan. It is a year when many politicians see Mr. Roosevelt willing to strive for a yet fourth term, for his more recent messages deal more and more with post-war problems. It is a year when many Republicans believe they see a good chance to return to power.

Those Who Attended

Some of Mr. Roosevelt's closest associates in office joined with him in the Episcopal service, which has been an annual rite on this fourth day of March, since 1933.

The President sat in a front-row chair, near Mrs. Roosevelt, Mrs. John Boettiger, a daughter, and her son, John; Frederic A. Delano, an uncle, and Miss Margaret Suckley, a cousin.

Also attending were Crown Princess Martha and Crown Prince Olav of Norway; Vice-President Wallace and Mrs. Wallace, Cabinet members; Supreme Court justices, heads of the armed forces and other Government officials.

Truman Committee Sees Opportunity for Increase in Output of Civilian Goods.

WASHINGTON, March 4—(AP) A glowing picture of American war industry now over the hump was painted tonight by the Truman War Investigating committee in its third annual report which also revealed new, important steps in aviation.

Henceforth, war factories can concentrate on quality and specialized needs such as landing craft, heavier and longer range combat planes, radio and ships, the Senate's special committee headed by Chairman Truman (D-Mo) said.

Reviews Past Year

Taking 209 pages to review one of the most momentous years in American history, the outspoken committee said:

1—More civilian production now can be envisaged; farm machinery especially should be put through the lathes to bolster the home economy.

2—There is no need for a national manpower draft such as urged by President Roosevelt.

There were these disclosures, too:

The Navy has two new fighters, one the first twin-engined carrier-based plane called an F7F for which early production is scheduled, and the other a "radically improved" divebomber called a BTD.

The Army has a new light bomber superior to the A-20 which is often used also as a night fighter.

Plane Contract Cancelled

At the suggestion of the War Production board, the contract for three wooden eight-engined flying boats was cancelled with the Kaiser-Hughes Aircraft corporation, which will be allowed to finish the one now in construction. It was considered "less efficient" than proved cargo planes because the wood is "excessively heavy and unreliable." The design is fundamentally sound, it was said, however and negotiations may be taken up to build them of metal. The contract called for an outlay of $18,000,000. The boats were designed to carry 60 tons at 174 miles an hour.

The committee took credit for "great savings" in manpower, supplies and expenditures by its investigation of the North American Aviation plant near Dallas, Tex.

REPORT LISTS 3 NEW PLANES

War Program Review Cites 2 Late-Model Fighters

Washington, March 4 (AP)—Two new navy fighting planes of unparalleled design and a new army light bomber were disclosed today in a Senate committee report on the war program.

And, discussing the B-29 superfortress, the Truman committee investigating war production said that "several other types of heavy multi-engined bombers" were being built but that as yet the "factual details should not be set forth in a public report."

Use of the phrase "multi-engined" could mean planes with more power plants than the four-engined super-Fortress.

New Planes Listed

The new planes listed were:

"The F-7-F, described as a two-engined fighter being built by Grumman Aircraft and Engineering Corporation and "scheduled for early production." This is the first mention of a two-engined carrier-based fighter. Presumably it would be a single-seat plane with folding wings.

The BTD, described as " a radically improved model" of SBD Dauntless dive bomber, obviously intended for a wider range of uses than the plane it will replace.

Designations Explained

The letters BTD mean "bomber-torpedo, built by Douglas," while the SBD is a "Scout bomber" of Douglas manufacture. There is presently no combined dive bomber and torpedo plane designed as such in service on carriers.

The third new plane was not given a letter designation, the report saying merely that " a new Douglas light bomber, which is considered to be greatly superior to the A-20, is presently beginning to come into production, and in the future will be the principal light bomber produced."

The Douglas A-20 Havoc is a highly rated two-engined plane used for numerous purposes, including that of a night fighter. The "A" stands for attack.

Improvements Disclosed

The Truman report disclosed that the North American P-51 Mustang and the Republic P-47 Thunderbolt, already rated as tops among single-engine fighters, are being improved, and that a "greatly improved" version of the Bell Airacobra is coming into production.

Production of the Lockheed P-38 Lightning, described as "the finest plane of its type in the world," is being increased by a contract with Consolidated Vultee.

Thus far the versatile twin-boom, long-range fighter has been built only by its designer, Lockheed. Extension of the program to a second company is the first time that the army has done so with fighter planes, although it follows that practice with bombers.

Flying Boat Pact Canceled

The contract with the Kaiser-Hughes Aircraft Corporation for three 400,000-pound, eight-engined wooden flying boats has been canceled, the Senate's Truman Committee reported today, with the way left open for negotiation on a metal version of the plane.

Elsewhere it was learned that the aircraft company will be permitted to finish the one wooden ship which it already has started. The Truman report suggested such a step by saying that "consideration should be given to the desirability of completing a prototype in wood if it would aid the metal plane project."

Admiralty Isles Battle Raging: Tokyo

New York, March 4 (AP)—The Janasese Domei agency said today in an English-language wireless transmission to the United States that "heavy fighting" was in progress in the Admiralty Islands, especially on Los Negros, despite "inclement weather."

The dispatch, for American consumption, declared "fighting is continuing in the torrential rain and deep mire."

4 U. S. Warships Sunk, Japs Claim

MAR 5 1944

New York, March 4 (AP)—The Tokyo radio claimed tonight that Japanese planes had sunk an American aircraft carrier and seriously damaged another in addition to sinking three more large warships, of which two might have been aircraft carriers.

The broadcast, quoting a Domei naval correspondent at a Japanese base in the Central Pacific, said the attacks took place February 23 against American naval forces which raided the Mariana Islands.

Admiral Chester W. Nimitz reported on February 25 that the American force battled fierce aerial opposition from the Japanese, but no United States vessel was sunk or damaged. Two enemy ships were sunk and nine damaged, while at least 135 Nipponese planes were destroyed.

Army Goes Big For Small Books

NEW YORK — (AP) About 20 million copies of popular books reduced to pocket size, about 6 million dollars worth of text-books, and copies of 25 magazines are being supplied by the morale division of the Army Service forces.

The lighter pocket-size books cost only 7 1-2 cents each and weigh only one-sixth as much as regular editions. Many of the textbooks are re-edited and reprinted. Advertisements are deleted and some magazines are printed in miniature on thin paper.

Packets of news magazines are often flown overseas.

Christian Hymnals Soon To Ride K-Ration Tins

Chicago, March 4 (AP)—Pocket-sized hymnbooks soon will be distributed with K rations to American fighting men in combat areas.

The little folders will be of dark-colored paper to be inconspicuous from the air and will be distributed at the request of chaplains overseas, who say men's minds turn to more serious thoughts and songs on the battle line than they do outside of actual fighting areas.

Brig. Gen. J. E. Barzynski, commanding general of the Chicago Quartermaster Depot, said the first supply of folders would be received there in a few days. One million books will be shipped to packing plants, he said, where copies will be placed in each case of combat rations.

ATTU ATTACK HERO SALUTED BY 10,000

Sergt. Barnett Receives D.S.C. as 96th Division Parades

CAMP WHITE, Ore., March 4 (AP)—Sgt. Fred Barnett of Hammond, Ind., received the Distinguished Service Cross, the salute of 10,000 soldiers and stood beside his commanding general today as the Ninety-sixth Division passed in parade.

This was in tribute to Barnett's one-man attack at Attu last June. He was then a private in a battalion trapped by Japanese snipers and two machine-gun emplacements.

"I got pretty sore, lying there in the snow," he explained later. "I was thinking of some of my friends who had been killed and I got mad all over."

He filled his pockets with grenades and, firing his rifle, started for the enemy positions. Dashing through heavy fire, he killed the snipers with grenades, closed in on one machine-gun position and annihilated the entire crew.

Out of ammunition, he plunged toward the second machine-gun emplacement, got through, and bayoneted or beat to death every Japanese in the trench. He was officially credited with killing twenty. Those in his platoon insisted the total was thirty-two.

Barnett, aged 31 and a widower, now is attached to the Ninety-sixth here. The commanding general, Maj. Gen. James L. Bradley, pinned the medal on him, while his mother, Mrs. Edith E. Barnett of Independence, Kan., and his daughter, Wanda, watched.

Washington's Delaware 'Booby Trap' Found

Philadelphia, March 3 (AP)—A "bobby trap" set by George Washington's army in 1777 was uncovered today by army engineers dredging the Delaware river.

The trap, called a "stockade," was found off the New Jersey shore below Hog Island. It was a wooden crib, 30 feet long and 20 feet wide, weighted down with boulders and fitted with long iron spikes facing downstream just below the surface. The spikes were intended to pierce the hulls of wooden ships.

History shows, however, that a traitor revealed the existence of a stockade-free channel to the British and they sailed up the Delaware to capture Philadelphia.

Harvey Firestone Jr. Sees Rubber Crisis End

Schenectady, March 4 (A. P.)—Harvey S. Firestone Jr. believes "the rubber crisis has been licked." The president of the Firestone Tire & Rubber Company declared in a radio broadcast last night:

"This year there will be in operation synthetic rubber plants with an annual capacity of 850,000 tons. And an increasing amount of natural rubber will be available from from Liberia, Ceylon, South America and other rubber growing areas still open to the United Nations."

He observed, however, that "we face the immediate problem of obtaining more machinery, more factory space and more trained man power. All three will be necessary to turn all this rubber into tires and other products.

london, march 4-(ap)-the berlin radio said today that american bombers had attempted to penetrate to berlin today but that only a small proportion of th raiders reached the capital.

LONDON - INSERT xxx 30,000 FT (5th Graf)

THE FIRST FLIERS TO RETURN FROM THE ATTACK ON THE BERLIN DISTRICT SAID THEY SAW ONLY 10 GERMAN FIGHTERS OVER THAT DISTRICT OF THE GERMAN CAPITAL AND THAT THESE WERE OUTNUMBERED FOUR TO ONE BY AMERICAN MUSTANG FIGHTERS.

MAR 5 1944

LONDON-HERLCHER - ADDxxx AKRON, O.

30.24— 13447

THE GERMAN BROADCAST SAID THE RAID ON THE GERMAN CAPITAL WAS A REPETITION OF AN ATTACK WHICH FAILED YESTERDAY. U.S.HEADQUARTERS ANNOUNCED YESTERDAY, HOWEVER, ONLY THAT AMERICAN FIGHTER PLANES HAD MADE AN OFFENSIVE SWEEP OVER BERLIN AND MADE NO REFERENCE TO BOMBERS.

"THIS TIME THE ATTACK WAS FLOWN FROM A WESTERLY DIRECTION," THE BROADCAST SAID. "ONLY A SMALL PART OF THE AMERICAN FORMATION--WHICH WAS STRONGLY ESCORTED BY FIGHTERS--REACHED BERLIN," IT CONTINUED.

"AT THE TIME WHEN THE BOMBERS APPROACHED REICH TERRITORY, THE SKY WAS CLOUDED. ON THEIR RETURN THE BOMBERS ONCE MORE WERE ENGAGED IN FIERCE AIR COMBATS. PLANES WERE OBSERVED TO CRASH ALL OVER AREAS DEFENDED BY ANTI-AIRCRAFT GUNS."

MAR 5 1944

BERLIN HAS BEEN A GOAL FOR AMERICAN FLIERS EVER SINCE THEY BEGAN OPERATIONS IN THE EUROPEAN THEATER BUT THIS WAS THE FIRST TIME THEY HAD AN OPPORTUNITY TO TAKE PART IN THE DESTRUCTION OF THE CAPITAL BEGUN -- AND ALMOST FINISHED--BY THE RAF.

THE DAYLIGHT OPERATION AGAINST THE GERMAN CAPITAL HAD AWAITED DEVELOPMENT OF P-38 AND P-51 LONG-RANGE FIGHTERS NECESSARY TO PROTECT THE BOMBERS ALONG THE HEAVILY-DEFENDED COURSE TO THE TARGET, AT LEAST 575 MILES FROM BRITISH BASES.

THE BOMBERS PLOWED THROUGH BITTERLY COLD SKIES AT TEMPERATURES AS LOW AS 45 DEGREES BELOW ZERO IN THEIR DAYLIGHT BLOW AT THE REICH.

"IT WAS PLENTY COLD," REPORTED LT. L.R.MORGAN, OF WORLAND, WYO., A PILOT. "THE SUPERCHARGER AND THE BALLTURRET TAILGUN FROZE UP."

IF THE BERLIN ANNOUNCEMENT THAT THE REICH CAPITAL HAS BEEN STRUCK IN DAYLIGHT BY HEAVY BOMBERS AT LAST IS BORNE OUT, IT IS LIKELY THE AMERICAN AIRMEN WERE BRIEFED ON SPECIFIC TARGETS STILL TO BE KNOCKED OUT BY PRECISION BOMBING AFTER THE RAF HAS POURED DOWN APPROXIMAATELY 24,000 LONG TONS OF HIGH EXPLOSIVES AND INCENDARIES UPON THE CITY IN A SERIES OF 15 HEAVY ATTACKS BEGUN NOV. 18.

THE RAF'S BERLIN CAMPAIGN TO DATE HAS COST 466 AIRCRAFT INCLUDING THOSE LOST IN DIVERSIONARY ATTACKS THE NIGHTS BERLIN WAS BOMBED, AND ABOUT 3,300 TRAINED MEN.

SHOULD THE AMERICAN REPORTS BEAR OUT THE GERMAN ACCOUNTS OF FIERCE AIR BATTLES, IT WOULD BE THE FIRST TIME THIS WEEK THAT GERMAN FIGHTERS HAVE ATTEMPTED THE VIGOROUS DEFENSE OF A TARGET.

THE AMERICAN HEAVY BOMBERS HAVE CONDUCTED FOUR MAJOR OPERATIONS DURING THIS PERIOD FOR A LOSS OF 27 PLANES AGAINST COMPARATIVELY FEEBLE OPPOSITION.

MAR 5 1944

A SUCCESSFUL DAYLIGHT ATTACK ON BERLIN WOULD SHOW THAT THE CITY IS EXPOSED TO THE SAME SMASHING PUNCHES DELIVERED AT THE OTHER GERMAN WAR CENTERS OF SCHWEINFURT AND AUGSBURG, WHERE ALLIED FORCES HAVE MADE SUCCESSIVE DAY-NIGHT OPERATIONS, GIVING THE DEFENSES NO OPPORTUNITY TO RECOVER FROM THE FIRST BLOW BEFORE THE NEXT FELL.

THE AMERICAN ANNOUNCEMENT SAID THAT THE FOUR-ENGINED CRAFT THUNDERING INTO GERMANY FOR THE THIRD STRAIGHT DAY WERE POWERFULLY ESCORTED BY FIGHTERS.

THE BIG BOMBERS CROSSED THE CHANNEL IN A TREMENDOUS PROCESSION AND HEADED TOWARD GERMANY IN CLEAR, COLD WEATHER.

"THE WHOLE EIGHTH AIRFORCE WAS UP THERE TODAY," DECLARED SGT. WILLIAM DEBLASIO, OF 414 S. TRENDON AVE., PITTSBURGH, ONE OF THE FIRST CREWMEN TO RETURN.

BERLIN'S ACCOUNT SAID THE AMERICAN PLANES WERE HEAVILY ESCORTED BY FIGHTERS AND WERE MET BY STIFF DEFENSES, WITH MANY OF THEM FORCED TO JETTISON THEIR LOADS. IT CLAIMED SEVERAL OF THEM WERE SHOT DOWN IN THE VICINITY OF BERLIN.

THE AMERICANS APPROACHED REICH TERRITORY UNDER A COVER OF CLOUDS BUT WERE ENGAGED IN FIERCE AIR COMBATS GOING IN AND LEAVING THE TARGETS, BERLIN SAID.

MAR 5 1944

THE THIRD STRAIGHT DAY OF ALMOST CONTINUOUS ALLIED AERIAL THRUSTS WAS MARKED BY THE DEPARTURE OF ONE OF THE GREATEST ARMADAS OF BOMBERS EVER SEEN CROSSING THE STRAIT OF DOVER. ALMOST IMMEDIATELY THE HILVERSUM RADIO LEFT THE AIR--THE USUAL SIGN THAT RAIDERS ARE DRIVING DEEP INTO REICH TERRITORY--AS THE GREAT AMERICAN AND ALLIED FORMATIONS DOTTED THE BRIGHT BLUE SKY FOR MILES ALONG THE CHANNEL.

COAST TOWN RESIDENTS IDENTIFIED SOME OF THE BOMBERS DRONING STEADILY FOR THE CONTINENT AS AMERICAN FLYING FORTRESSES.

LONG-RANGE AMERICAN FIGHTER PLANES, MAKING THEIR FIRST OFFENSIVE SWEEP OF THE WAR YESTERDAY OVER BERLIN, HAD ALREADY SERVED CLEAR WARNING TO THE GERMAN PEOPLE THAT THEIR CAPITAL AND FAR REACHES OF THE HOMELAND ARE NOW OPEN TO HEAVY DAYLIGHT BLOWS.

AN EARLY ANNOUNCEMENT ON TODAY'S ACTIVITIES SAID THE RAF, DOMINION AND ALLIED MITCHELLS, BOSTONS, TYPHOONS AND MOSQUITOS STRUCK AT MILITARY OBJECTIVES IN NORTHERN FRANCE AGAIN WITHOUT A LOSS.

LATER REPORTS ON YESTERDAY'S DAYLIGHT OPERATIONS DISCLOSED ALSO THAT BOTH THE AMERICAN AND BRITISH TACTICAL AIRFORCES SENT HUNDREDS OF MEDIUM AND LIGHT AIRCRAFT INTO NORTHERN FRANCE WITHOUT LOSS, STRIKING AT FOUR FRENCH AIRFIELDS AMONG OTHER OBJECTIVES. THESE FORAYS, TOGETHER WITH LAST NIGHT'S RAF OPERATIONS OVER BERLIN, WESTERN GERMANY AND ENEMY WATERS, ALL WERE MADE WITHOUT LOSS.

BEFORE THE MORNING WAS WELL ALONG WAVES OF MARAUDERS WERE OBSERVED TURNING SHORTLY AFTER THE SOUND OF EXPLOSIONS RUMBLED ACROSS THE HANNEL FROM THE FRENCH COAST.

THE NIGHT RAF OPERATIONS, WHICH INCLUDED MINE-LAYING, WERE CARRIED UT WITHOUT LOSS OF A PLANE.

THE DAYLIGHT SWEEP OF AMERICAN FIGHTERS OVER BERLIN YESTERDAY WAS REGARDED AS A POSSIBLE CURTAIN RAISER FOR DAYLIGHT ASSAULTS AGAINST THE CAPITAL BY U.S.HEAVY BOMBERS.

LONDON - AGNEW - ADDXXX HEAVY BOMBERS(HERCHER)

DISPATCHES FROM ITALY, MEANWHILE, SAID THAT FLYING FORTRESSES HAD SPREAD DESTRUCTION THROUGH THE LITTORIO AND TIBURTINA RAIL YARDS IN ROME YESTERDAY IN THE FIFTH AMERICAN ASSAULT AGAINST MILITARY OBJECTIVES IN THE ETERNAL CITY. CREWMEN SAID THEY CAUGHT THE RAIL YARDS CRAMMED WITH GERMAN SUPPLY TRAINS, AND SCORED MANY HITS ON ROLLING STOCK, TRACKS AND WAREHOUSES.

THE SWEEP BY TWIN-MOTORED LIGHTNINGS OVER BERLIN--A PENETRATION OF AT LEAST 575 MILES--SERVED NOTICE ON THE NAZIS THAT ONE OF THE MAJOR CONSIDERATIONS WHICH HAS PREVENTED AMERICAN HEAVY BOMBERS FROM RAIDING THE CAPITAL LONG AGO--A LACK OF RANGE IN ESCORT FIGHTERS--HAS BEEN REMOVED.

THE ARMY SAID THE FIGHTERS FLEW TO THE OUTSKIRTS OF THE CITY AND THEN CIRCLED AROUND THE CAPITAL, GOING AT LEAST 15 MILES BEYOND FOR A PROBABLE RECORD PENETRATION OF THE REICH. THE FLIGHT WAS AT LEAST EQUAL TO THE DISTANCE OF THE PREVIOUS RECORD--TO REGENSBURG LAST WEEK. THE PLANES ENCOUNTERED SOME FLAK, BUT WERE UNIMPEDED BY NAZI FIGHTERS.

A DISPATCH FROM BERNE, SWITZERLAND, QUOTED THE NAZI-CONTROLLED ROME RADIO AS SAYING THAT 40 PERSONS WERE KILLED AND 200 WOUNDED AND THAT BOMBS FELL ON VATICAN CITY DURING AN ALLIED AIR RAID ON ROME YESTERDAY MORNING. THE BROADCAST DECLARED THAT NO SERIOUS DAMAGE WAS CAUSED IN VATICAN CITY, BUT THAT SEVERAL STAINED GLASS WINDOWS IN ST. PETER'S BASILICA WERE BROKEN. IT ADDED THAT BOMBS ALSO FELL ON THE PROTESTANT CEMETERY WHERE THE ENGLISH POETS, SHELLEY AND KEATS, ARE BURIED.

FORTRESSES OF THE SAME GROUP WHICH LED LAST SUMMER'S DOUBLE ASSAULT ON ROME'S TRANSPORTATION NERVE CENTERS SPEARHEADED YESTERDAY'S OPERATIONS. THE CREWS WERE HELPED BY ALMOST PERFECT VISIBILITY IN FOLLOWING STRICT INSTRUCTIONS TO AVOID ALL RISK OF DAMAGING ROME'S CULTURAL AND RELIGIOUS TREASURES. MARAUDER MEDIUM BOMBERS FOLLOWED, STRIKING ROME'S OSTIENSE RAIL YARDS.

A18 MAR 5 1944

OPERATIONS FROM BRITAIN YESTERDAY ALSO INCLUDED U.S. HEAVY BOMBER ATTACKS ON SHIPPING AND INDUSTRIAL TARGETS IN NORTHWEST GERMANY. SIX AMERICAN BOMBERS AND 10 FIGHTERS WERE REPORTED MISSING AND ALLIED FIGHTERS SHOT DOWN EIGHT GERMAN PLANES. THOSE DESTROYED BY THE BOMBERS WERE NOT IMMEDIATELY TABULATED.

THE NEW "SUPER-SUPER BLOCKBUSTER," THE 12,000-POUND BOMB WHICH THE BRITISH AIR MINISTRY DISCLOSED YESTERDAY IS BEING DUMPED BY LANCASTER HEAVY BOMBERS AGAINST SPECIAL TARGETS, HAS BEEN NICKNAMED "CORPORAL COOKIE" BY RAF CREWMEN. THEY HAVE BEEN TOLD THEY MUST BRING THE BOMB BACK IF THEY CANNOT IDENTIFY THE TARGET OR ARE NOT CONFIDENT OF HITTING IT.

FIVE FOCKE-WULFS AND MESSERSCHMITTS FLIPPED OUT OF THE CLOUDS AND ATTACKED HEAD-ON IN A DESPERATE EFFORT TO BREAK UP THE UNPRECEDENTED DAYLIGHT INVASION WHICH PRESAGED DEMOLITION OF THE SMALL ISLANDS OF LIFE IN THE SEA OF RUINS BELOW.

IN SCORES OF GUN-TURRETS AMERICAN BOYS SET LOOSE THE LETHAL RIVETING-CLATTER OF THEIR 50-CALIBRE MACHINEGUNS. ONE GERMAN WENT DOWN, VICTIM OF A FORTRESS GUNNER, AND ANOTHER DROPPED SECONDS LATER IN THE FIRE OF A MUSTANG.

THROUGH MOMENTARY BREAKS IN THE CLOUDS THE FLIERS SAW THEIR BOMBS GO CRASHING INTO THE BUILDINGS OF BERLIN, BLANKETED IN HEAVY SNOW.

THE WEATHER WAS SO THICK, HOWEVER, THAT AS THE BOMBERS TURNED AWAY FROM THE TARGET THEY BECAME SEPARATED FROM THEIR ESCORT AND FLEW FOR MORE THAN TWO HOURS ALONE.

BACK-SLAPPING JUBILATION PREVAILED AT THE ENGLISH BASES AS THE BIG PLANES LUMBERED BACK TO THE GROUND. MANY WERE PUNCTURED TIME AND AGAIN BY FLAK, BUT IN SPIRE OF THE HISTORIC AND DANGEROUS MISSION THAT HAD BEEN UNDERTAKEN, THE LOSSES WERE RELATIVELY LIGHT. THERE WAS NO DISCLOSURE AS TO HOW MANY OF THE 14 MISSING BOMBERS WERE LOST IN THE ATTACK ON BERLIN.

MAR 5 1944

THE GERMAN RADIO ACKNOWLEDGED THAT THE BERLIN AREA HAD BEEN ATTACKED--ONLY 24 HOURS AFTER LIGHTNING FIGHTERS OF THE U.S. AIR FORCE HAD REACHED THE CAPITAL IN THEIR FIRST PENENTRATION AT SUCH A DISTANCE--BUT THE BROADCAST ASSERTED NO BOMBS HAD FALLEN ON THE CITY ITSELF. THE WORDING HINTED AT A POSSIBLE QUIBBLING OVER THE LOCATION OF BERLIN'S BOUNDARIES.

IT WAS DISCLOSED THAT THE FIGHTERS BUCKED A 90-MILE GALE TO PENETRATE GERMANY TO A POINT 20 MILES EAST OF BERLIN.

LT.COL. CON BLAKESLEE, OF FAIRPORT HARBOR, O., AND COL. HENRY S. SPICER, OF 8282 HOLLYWOOD BOULEVARD, HOLLYWOOD, CALIF., WERE NAMED BY ARMY HEADQUARTERS AS THE FIRST TWO MEN TO LEAD FIGHTER PLANE GROUPS OVER BERLIN IN SUPPORT OF THE BOMBERS.

LT. NICHOLS W. MEGURA, OF 108 BROAD STREET, ANSONIA, CONN., CHASED

A MESSERSCHMITT 109 FROM 31,000 FEET TO AN AIRDROME OUTSIDE THE CITY AND FORCED THE PILOT TO BAIL OUT. THEN HE SHOT UP A JUNKERS-52 ON THE GROUND AND LATER SHOT UP A TRAIN.

BLAKESLEE SAID "THE GERMAN FIGHTERS MADE PASSES BUT WOULDN'T STAND AND FIGHT. MAYBE THEY WERE GREEN."

COL. JOSEPH L. LAUGHLIN, OF 56 NORTH 38TH AVENUE, OMAHA, NEB., FORGOT HIS LINED FLYING BOOTS. "I THOUGHT MY HEELS WERE GOING TO DROP OFF FROM THE COLD ON THE WAY BACK," HE SAID.

STAFF SGT. JUNIOR BUCHER OF COTTONWOOD FALLS KAS., A WAIST GUNNER OF A FLYING FORTRESS WHICH LIMPED BACK ON THREE ENGINES, DECLARED:

"YOU CAN QUOTE ME ON IT, THOSE MUSTANGS LOOK BEAUTIFUL WHEN YOU ARE OVER BERLIN WITH ONLY THREE ENGINES."

THE BOMBERS SHOWERED BOTH HIGH EXPLOSIVES AND INCENDIARIES ON THE BERLIN DISTRICT THROUGH CLOUDS FROM AN ALTITUDE OF MORE THAN FOUR MILES. RETURNING FLIERS SAID THAT THROUGH GAPS IN THE CLOUDS THEY COULD SEE EXTENSIVE SECTIONS OF THE CITY, BUT THE GAPS WERE NOT BIG ENOUGH TO GET AN IDEA OF THE DAMAGE DONE BY THE RAF'S 15 BIG SATURATION NIGHT RAIDS.

THE GERMAN AIR FORCE WAS ABLE TO GET UP ONLY FROM 30 TO 40 FIGHTERS TO DEFEND THE CAPITAL, A CHECK OF ALL UNITS WHICH PARTICIPATED IN THE ATTACK DISCLOSED.

IT WAS THE FIRST TIME IN ALMOST A WEEK THAT THE GERMAN AIR FORCE WAS UP TO DEFEND ITS CITIES, AND FIERCE AERIAL BATTLES WERE REPORTE BOTH BY THE RETURNING FLIERS AND BY THE GERMAN RADIO, WHICH CLAIMED THAT THE FORTRESSES REACHING BERLIN WERE FORCED TO DUMP THEIR BOMBS AIMLESSLY SO THAT NONE STRUCK THE CITY PROPER.

EXTREME COLD, AS LOW AS 58 DEGREES BELOW ZERO FAHRENHEIT, FROZE THE INSTRUMENTS AND EVEN THE GUNS ON SOME PLANES AND DOUBLED THE DIFFICULTIES OF THE OPERATION.

THE FIRST AMERICAN ANNOUNCEMENT SAID:

"FORMATIONS OF HEAVY BOMBERS TODAY ATTACKED TARGETS IN EASTERN GERMANY. ONE FORMATION REPORTED ATTACKING A TARGET IN THE BERLIN DISTRICT. THE FLIGHT WAS MADE THROUGH DIFFICULT FLYING CONDITIONS WITH CLOUDS OFTEN AS HIGH AS 30,000 FEET."

THE BRITISH SECOND TACTICAL AIR FORCE THIS MORNING BOMBED MILITARY OBJECTIVES IN NORTHERN FRANCE WITHOUT LOSS.

A LATER GERMAN RADIO ACCOUNT DESCRIBED THE TOTAL AMERICAN FORCE AS BEING "AGAIN VERY GREAT" BUT CLAIMED THAT "HARDLY A HANDFUL OF AMERICAN BOMBERS REACHED THE OUTSKIRTS OF BERLIN." THIS GERMAN BROADCAST, RECORDED BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS, CONTINUED:

"THE MAJORITY OF RAIDERS TURNED WESTWARD OVER THE COLOGNE AREA AFTER HAVING DROPPED THEIR BOMBS AIMLESSLY. THEY APPARENTLY HOPED TO CONCEAL THE FACT THAT ANOTHER FORMATION, ABOUT 100 BOMBERS STRONG, WAS ON ITS WAY EASTWARD.

"THE LATEST AMERICAN ATTEMPT TO RAID BERLIN IS ANOTHER FAILURE.

"FROM NOWHERE INSIDE BERLIN NOR FROM ANYWHERE IN ITS SURROUNDINGS WAS ANY BOMBING ON A LARGE SCALE BEEN REPORTED.

"SINGLE JETTISONED INCENDIARY AND HIGH EXPLOSIVE BOMBS FELL INTO OPEN RURAL COUNTRY AND INTO FIELDS."

IN A MESSAGE TO MAJ. GEN. JAMES J. DOOLITTLE, COMMANDER OF THE EIGHTH AIR FORCE, HARRIS POINTED OUT IT WAS MORE THAN A YEAR AGO THAT BERLIN WAS FIRST ATTACKED IN DAYLIGHT BY RAF MOSQUITOS, WHICH DISRUPTED A CELEBRATION OF THE 10TH ANNIVERSARY OF HITLER'S RISE TO THE CHANCELLORSHIP.

"NOW THEY KNOW THAT THEY HAVE NO SAFETY THERE BY DAY OR NIGHT. ALL GERMANY LEARNS THE SAME LESSON," HE SAID.

A U.S. FIGHTER BASE IN ENGLAND, MARCH 4-(AP)-AMERICAN MUSTANG pilots WHO SWEPT OVER BERLIN TODAY TO ESCORT THE FLYING FORTRESSES WHICH GAVE THE GERMAN CAPITAL ITS FIRST U.S. BOMBING ATTACK REPORTED THAT SOME NAZI AIRMEN REFUSED TO FIGHT THEM.

THE NEW LONG-RANGE FIGHTERS, POWERED WITH ROLLS-ROYCE LIQUID-COOLED ENGINES AND ARMED WITH FOUR 50-CALIBRE MACHINE GUNS IN THE WINGS, STREAKED OVER THE EDGE OF BERLIN AND SEVERAL MILES BEYOND IT VIRTUALLY UNOPPOSED.

THE STORY OF THE ROUND TRIP OF APPROXIMATELY 1,200 MILES WAS TOLD BY THEIR COMMANDER, LT.COL.JAMES H.HOWARD, 20 CRESTWOOD DRIVE, ST.LOUIS, MO., HERO OF MANY EXPLOITS IN BOTH THE PACIFIC AND EUROPEAN THEATERS.

"WE ZIG-ZAGGED ALL AROUND," HE SAID, "AND SAW QUITE A FEW ENEMY FIGHTERS. BUT THEY WOULDN'T HAVE ANYTHING TO DO WITH US. IN FACT, I ONLY SAW ONE COMBAT.

"THAT WAS WHEN ABOUT 20 OF OUR FIGHTERS DIVED ON ONE GERMAN."

TWO PILOTS SHARED THE CREDIT FOR THIS KILL--LT.FRANK O'CONNOR, 2355 POLK ST., SAN FRANCISCO, AND ROBERT SHOUP, 3936 DELAWARE DRIVE.

O'CONNOR WAS ONE OF THE FIRST PILOTS HOWARD MET AT THE HOME BASE AFTERWARD AND THE LEADER GREETED HIM WITH, "NICE GOING. GLAD TO SEE SOMEBODY'S ON THE BALL."

HOWARD, WHO IS ON THE BALL PRETTY WELL HIMSELF WITH 13 ENEMY PLANES TO HIS CREDIT, DESCRIBED THE MISSION AS THE "COLDEST TRIP I EVER MADEE.

"BOY, IT WAS ROUGH," HE SAID. "AND I ALMOST FROZE. I'D RATHER TAKE SIX TRIPS TO FRANKFURT ANY DAY."

THE FACT THAT HAMILTON TOOK OFF HIS FLAK SUIT AT THE START OF THE BOMB RUN AND LAID IT IN A CORNER OF THE SHIP'S NOSE PROBABLY SAVED HIS LIFE. A FEW SECONDS LATER A FLAK SHELL BURST AGAINST THE NOSE AND TWO CHUNKS OF METAL TORE THROUGH THE SHIP--INTO THE SUIT A FEW INCHES FROM HAMILTON.

A UNITED STATES FLYING FORTRESS BASE IN BRITAIN,MARCH 4-(AP)- AMERICAN AIRMEN, KEYED UP FOR WEEKS IN ANTICIPATION OF THE FIRST DAYLIGHT BOMBING OF BERLIN, WERE DISAPPOINTED TONIGHT THAT IT WAS IMPOSSIBLE TO CARRY OUT THE BERLIN OPERATION WITH THE FULL FORCE THAT TOOK OFF FROM ENGLAND.

MAR 5 1944

FOR DAYS THERE HAS BEEN A NOTICEABLE BEHIND-THE-SCENES AIR OF EXPECTANCY THAT "TARGET X" WAS COMING UP SOON. THERE HAD EVEN BEEN A PRACTICE BRIEFING TO SEE HOW THE CREWS MIGHT REACT TO A TRIP TO THE "BIG TOWN." WHEN THE HIGH COMMAND LAST NIGHT SENT THE ORDER DOWN IN ONE SIMPLE CODE WORD THE BOYS WHO FLY THE SHIPS AND MAN THE GUNS WERE READY, EAGER AND UNAFRAID ALTHOUGH THEY KNEW IT MIGHT WELL BE THEIR TOUGHEST MISSION--AND FOR SOME OF THEM MAYBE THEIR LAST.

AS THE CREWS ASSEMBLED IN THE BIG OPERATIONS ROOM HERE LONG BEFORE DAWN THIS MORNING FOR INSTRUCTIONS THERE WAS MUCH THE SAME TENSENESS THAT PREVAILS IN A DRESSING ROOM BEFORE THE BIG FOOTBALL GAME.

EVERYONE WAS KEENLY ALERT, HANGING ON EVERY WORD OF THE "COACH," THE COMMANDING OFFICER WHO WAS ASSISTED BY NUMEROUS INTELLIGENCE EXPERTS AND WEATHERMEN. THE SAME SCENES WERE TAKING PLACE AT MANY AMERICAN BOMBER BASES SCATTERED OVER ENGLAND.

THE AIR EXECUTIVE MOUNTED THE ROSTRUM AND TRACED THE DETAILS OF THE BOMBERS' COURSE. PILOTS AND NAVIGATORS WATCHED INTENSELY. MENTAL AND PENCILLED NOTES WERE MADE ON EVERYTHING SAID--WATER MARKINGS, LANDMARKS, TREES, WHERE TO EXPECT THE HEAVIEST FLAK, WHERE THE VARIOUS RELAYS OF FIGHTER ESCORTS WERE TO PICK THEM UP.

OUTSIDE IN THE COLD DARKNESS, SCORES OF TRUCKS WERE BUZZING AROUND LIKE BUSY ANTS. AFTER A BREAKFAST OF HOT CEREAL, HAM, FRESH EGGS AND COFFEE THE CREWS WERE HAULED TO THE PLANES IN TRUCKS. THERE THEY GATHERED IN LITTLE CLUSTERS FOR A LAST-MINUTE SMOKE. A CIGARETTE WITH THE GROUND CREW BEFORE THE TAKE-OFF IS RITUAL.

ONE NAVIGATOR WHO WAS DUE FOR A 48-HOUR PASS STARTING TODAY GOT UP AND WENT TO THE BRIEFING AND WHEN HE LEARNED BERLIN WAS THE TAR-GET GAINED PERMISSION TO GO ALONG.

THE GUNNER FOR WHOM THIS WAS THE LAST MISSION BEFORE BECOMING AN INSTRUCTOR SIGHED, "THEY WOULD RUN ONE IN LIKE THIS ON ME FOR THE FINALE." BUT WHEN SOMEONE ASKED IF HE WANTED TO STAY HOME HE SHOUTED, "HELL NO."

LONDON, MARCH 4-(AP)-RUSSIAN TROOPS DISLODGED THE GERMANS FROM SEVERAL HEAVILY-FORTIFIED STRONGPOINTS SOUTH OF THE ESTONIAN FORTRE CITY OF NARVA TODAY AS THEY CONTINUED THEIR DRIVE TO WIDEN THEIR BRIDGEHEAD OVER THE NAROVA RIVER, MOSCOW ANNOUNCED TONIGHT.

IN THE DRIVE ON OSTROV, A RAIL CITY SOUTH OF PSKOV, THE RUSSIANS CAPTURED SIX VILLAGES AND HAMLETS, SAID THE DAILY COMMUNIQUE, RECORDED HERE BY THE SOVIET RADIO MONITOR.

OTHER RUSSIAN UNITS FIGHTING DEEP IN THE DNIEPER BEND FORCED THE RIVER INGULETS SOUTH OF KRIVOI ROG AND CAPTURED TWO RAILWAY STATIONS, THE BULLETIN SAID.

LONDON, MARCH 4-(AP)-RUSSIAN TROOPS HAVE SMASHED THEIR WAY INTO THE OUTSKIRTS OF THE BALTIC GATEWAY CITY OF PSKOV FROM THE EAST, MOSCOW ANNOUNCED TODAY, AND UNOFFICIAL SOVIET REPORTS SAID THE GERMANS HAVE PUT THE TORCH TO THE ANCIENT ESTONIAN FORTRESS TOWN OF NARVA AS THE SOVIETS LUNGE NEARER.

RED ARMY UNITS NOW HOLD POSITIONS IN THE ENVIRONS OF PSKOV FROM TWO DIRECTIONS EVEN BEFORE YESTERDAY'S ADVANCE THEY HAD PLUNGED TO WITHIN SIX MILES OF THE CITY FROM THE NORTH.

SEVENTEEN MILES SOUTHEAST OF PSKOV SOVIET SPEARHEADS FOUGHT THEIR WAY TO WITHIN SIX MILES OF THE PSKOV-WARSAW RAILWAY, ONE OF TWO LAST ESCAPE RAIL ROUTES OPEN TO THE PSKOV GARRISON, THE MOSCOW BULLETIN SAID, AND WERE CLOSING IN ON THE RAIL TOWN OF OSTROV.

ON THE NAROVA RIVER BRIDGEHEAD SOUTH OF NARVA, GEN. LEONID A. GOVOROV'S TROOPS PRESSED WESTWARD AGAINST STUBBORN NAZI RESISTANCE AND SUCCEEDED IN ENLARGING THEIR FOOTHOLD ON THE WEST BANK, KILLING MORE THAN 2,300 GERMANS WITHIN THE PAST 48 HOURS, MOSCOW REPORTED. GOVOROV'S TROOPS HAD PREVIOUSLY REACHED AUVERE, NINE MILES WEST OF NARVA, CUTTING THE RAILWAY LEADING TO REVAL, PRACTICALLY ISOLATING THE NARVA GARRISON.

MAR 5 1944

BERLIN ADMITTED RUSSIAN GAINS IN THE NARVA AREA, DESCRIBED THE FIGHTING AS "EXCEPTIONALLY EMBITTERED" AND SAID "THE ENEMY CONTINUES TO ATTACK WITHOUT INTERRUPTION."

INDICATIVE OF THE FIGHT THE GERMANS WERE PREPARED TO PUT UP TO HOLD PSKOV, KEY TO WHAT IS LEFT OF THEIR COMMUNICATIONS AND SUPPLY SYSTEM IN NORTHERN RUSSIA, MOSCOW SAID THAT "THE ENEMY HAS TRANSFORMED ALL POPULATED PLACES SITUATED ON THE APPROACHES TO PSKOV INTO POWERFUL CENTERS OF DEFENSE AND IS PUTTING UP STRONG ARTILLERY RESISTANCE."

NEVERTHELESS, ACCORDING TO THE RUSSIAN COMMUNIQUE, THE RED ARMY TROOPS CAPTURED 17 TOWNS AND FOUR RAILWAY STATIONS IN YESTERDAY'S FIGHTING, BRINGING THEIR LINES TO A POINT EIGHT MILES SOUTHEAST OF PSKOV AT POKHVALSHCHINA. ANOTHER TOWN ENGULFED IN THE SOVIET DRIVE WAS SYSAEVA, 17 MILES SOUTHEAST OF PSKOV AND SIX MILES FROM THE PSKOV-WARSAW TRUNK LINE.

THE LUNGE INTO THE EASTERN OUTSKIRTS OF PSKOV CAME WHEN SOVIET UNITS SMASHED FORWARD FOR SIX MILES TO CAPTURE THE SUBURBAN TOWN OF MALOYE FOMKINO, FIVE MILES AWAY. THE GERMANS LEFT MORE THAN 800 DEAD ON THE FIELD OF BATTLE, THE MOSCOW BULLETIN SAID.

THREE OF THE RAILWAY STATIONS SWEPT INTO THE RUSSIAN BAG WERE ON THE PSKOV-POLOTSK RAILWAY.

LONDON, MARCH 4-(AP)-EIGHT MEMBERS OF AN 11-MAN U.S. LIBERATOR CREW HAVE BEEN RESCUED BY BRITISH PLANES AFTER BEING ADRIFT 20 HOURS IN OPEN DINGHIES WHEN THEIR BOMBER WAS SHOT DOWN BY TWO GERMAN JUNKERS 88S, IT WAS DISCLOSED TODAY. THREE OF THE CREW DIED.

THE LIBERATOR WAS ATTACKED WHILE ON PATROL OVER THE BAY OF BISCAY. ADMIRAL HAROLD R.STARK, COMMANDER OF U.S. NAVAL FORCES IN EUROPEAN WATER WAS AWARDED PURPLE HEARTS TO THE SURVIVORS, WHO SUFFERED FROSTBITE, SHOCK AND ABRASIONS.

MAR 5 1944

"OUR BOW GUN WAS KNOCKED OUT AFTER FIRING ABOUT 50 ROUNDS," SAID LT.LEON WRIGHT, 615 HUDSON ST., BURLINGTON, KAN., THE PILOT. "THEY RIDDLED US FROM ONE END TO ANOTHER, BUT NOBODY WAS HURT."

WRIGHT SAID THAT TWO RADIOMEN, HURT WHEN THE PLANE CRASHED, COULDN'T BE GOTTEN OUT BEFORE THE PLANE SANK. THEY WERE ROBERT C. KEENAN, WHOSE MOTHER LIVES AT 1514 MONTROBLES PL., SAN MARINO, CALIF., AND THOMAS E.RYAN, WHOSE MOTHER LIVES AT 136 NORTH 40TH ST., LOUISVILLE, KY.

BINNIE N.FAUBION, ORDNANCEMAN, WHOSE WIFE LIVES IN COVINGTON, OKLA., WAS "BADLY HURT WHEN THEY GOT HIM ABOARD A DINGHY AND DIED DURING THE NIGHT," WRIGHT SAID.

THE PILOT SAID THAT CARLETON F.LILLIE, JR., ORDNANCEMAN, OF 1012 WYOMING ST., EL PASO, TEX., "GOT A HOLE THROUGH HIS FLYING SUIT AND THE HEATER CORD WAS CUT CLOSE TO HIM, WITHOUT HIS GETTING A SCRATCH."

RICHARD C.MCDANIEL, MACHINIST MATE, 7811 CHASE ST., HOUSTON, TEX., WHO WAS IN THE NOSE TURRET, SAW A HOLE APPEAR IN THE TURRET GLASS "A FRACTION OF AN INCH FROM HIS LEFT ARM."

STARBOARD WAIST GUNNER ROBERT M.GREENE, MACHINIST MATE, 43 WEST MAIN ST., STAFFORD SPRINGS, CONN., WAS "TALKING THROUGH THE INTERCOM MIKE WHEN A BULLET SEVERED A CORD THREE INCHES BELOW HIS HAND."

MAR 5 1944

THE NUMBER ONE ENGINE CONKED OUT, BUT THE LIBERATOR FOUGHT ON AND MACHINIST MATE WILLIAM E.MIDDLETOWN, RHOME, TEX., TOP TURRET GUNNER, SAW HIS BURST "SMACK INTO ONE JUNKER. WE FEEL PRETTY SURE IT LATER WENT DOWN."

"WE DUCKED INTO THE CLOUDS," HE CONTINUED, "AND LIMPED ALONG ON THREE ENGINES. IT WASN'T LONG UNTIL THE NUMBER FOUR ENGINE WENT, AND WE CAME DOWN."

PILOT WRIGHT WAS STUNNED AND HAD TROUBLE UNFASTENING HIS SAFETY BELT, BUT WAS PULLED ABOVE THE WATER BY LT.LAURENCE M.PETERSON, 8227 EAST 39TH ST., SEATTLE, WASH.

THE DINGHIES WERE TIED TOGETHER AND LOCATED THE NEXT DAY BY THE BRITISH AIR-SEA CRAFT.

OTHER SURVIVORS WERE: ENSIGN ROBERT W.LACEY, NAVIGATOR, ROUTE ONE, CENTERVILLE, TEX., ROBERT A.ZABCIK, CHIEF ORDNANCEMAN, ROUTE ONE, OENAVILLE, TEX.

MAR 5 1944

THE FIRST TRAIN TO ARRIVE AT IRUN CARRIED 108 PASSENGERS, THE SECOND 153. THE THIRD HAS 105.

SOME HAD BEEN RESIDENTS OF EUROPE SO LONG THEY SPOKE LITTLE OR NO ENGLISH. BORN IN THE UNITED STATES MANY HAD RETURNED SOON AFTERWARDS TO THE COUNTRIES OF THEIR PARENTS' ORIGIN IN EUROPE.

MEMBERS OF THE REPATRIATED GROUP GENERALLY REPORTED THAT THEY HAD BEEN TRANSFERRED FROM THE INTERNMENT CAMP TO ANOTHER SINCE THEIR ORIGINAL DETENTION BUT MOST SAID THEY HAD BEEN REASONABLY WELL-TREATED BY THE GERMANS.

(THE FIRST GROUP OF 800 REPATRIATED AMERICANS ARRIVED IN LISBON FEB. 25. THIRTY SEVEN WOUNDED U.S.SOLDIERS AMONG THEM WERE TO BE TAKEN ABOARD THE EXCHANGE SHIP CRIPSHOLM TODAY, WHILE THE OTHERS, INCLUDING THOSE NOW ENROUTE TO LISBON WILL GO ABOARD TOMORROW.)

THE GERMAN GROUP WHICH CROSSED THE FRONTIER INTO FRANCE THURSDAY NIGHT INCLUDED THE FORMER GERMAN CONSUL AT ALGIERS WHO WAS CAPTURED FOLLOWING THE ALLIED LANDINGS IN NORTH AFRICA.

AMONG THE REPATRIATES OBVIOUSLY GLAD TO BE OUT OF HITLER'S EUROPE WAS HAROLD KIRKPATRICK, A PROFESSOR OF LOS ANGELES, CALIF., WHO HAD BEEN STUDYING AT PRAGUE UNTIL INTERNED AND MRS.JOHN LUCKISINGER OF NEW YORK AND HER 15-YEAR-OLD DAUGHTER ANIKA VAN MESSEL, WHOSE FATHER IS NOW IN THE UNITED STATES.

LISBON, MARCH 4-(AP)-WOUNDED AMERICAN SOLDIERS WHO ARRIVED IN LISBON FEB. 25 ON DIPLOMATIC TRAINS FROM GERMANY BOARDED THE EXCHANGE SHIP GRIPSHOLM TODAY.

WITH COL. ROBERT A. SOLBORG, U.S.MILITARY ATTACHE IN LISBON, ASSISTING, THE WOUNDED MEN WERE CARRIED ABOARD FROM PORTUGUESE RED CROSS AMBULANCES. THEY LOOKED MORE CHEERFUL AND GENERALLY WERE FEELING BETTER AFTER THE EIGHT-DAY REST IN AN EMERGENCY HOSPITAL ESTABLISHED BY THE RED CROSS.

NEWSMEN WERE NOT ALLOWED TO SPEAK WITH THEM, BUT RED CROSS AND MILITARY AUTHORITIES SAID "THE MEN HAVE BEEN VERY WELL LOOKED-AFTER, AND HAVE BEEN GIVEN ALL POSSIBLE COMFORT. THEY ARE DOING SPLENDIDLY."

ALL OFFICIALS AND CIVILIANS WERE ORDERED TO EMBARK AT 10 A.M. SUNDAY. THREE DIPLOMATIC TRAINS BRINGING 366 NORTH AMERICANS FROM GERMANY ARE DUE HERE THIS AFTERNOON, AND THE PASSENGERS WILL BOARD THE GRIPSHOLM WHICH WILL SAIL IMMEDIATELY AFTER THE EXCHANGE IS COMPLETED.

TWO FLIERS ON YESTERDAY'S RAID WERE ON THEIR SECOND ATTACK OVER ROME, AS WELL AS ON THEIR 50TH COMBAT MISSIONS. THEY WERE LT.EMIL KUBASNAK, 300 EAST 28TH ST., LORAIN, OHIO, NAVIGATOR, AND TECH. SGT. JOSEPH V.LABARDERA, OF BROOKLYN, TOP TURRET GUNNER.

"OUR BOYS SEEMED PRETTY CAREFUL NOT TO HIT ANYTHING BUT THE TARGET," SAID KUBASNAK. "IT WAS THE SAME AS THE RAID LAST AUG. 13--THE SKY WAS BLACK WITH OUR PLANES."

"ALTHOUGH I'VE BEEN OVER THE PLACE TWICE, I'M SORRY I CAN'T TELL MY WIFE I'VE ACTUALLY BEEN IN ROME," SAID LABARDERA.

THESE WERE THE COMMENTS OF LIBERATOR CREWMEN WHO ATTACKED NAZI AIR BASES ABOVE ROME:

MAR 5 1944

SGT.ROBERT GRIESELL, RFD 5, NORTH KANSAS CITY, MO., LIBERATOR WAIST GUNNER, SAID "THERE WAS NOTHING TO IT. WE REALLY PLASTERED THE TARGET."

SECOND LT.CARL T.PHILO, 1714 RENTON ST., PITTSBURGH, LIBERATOR BOMBARDIER, WAS ON HIS FIRST MISSION, AND IT WAS HIS 28TH BIRTHDAY ANNIVERSARY. "IT'S QUITE A WAY TO CELEBRATE," HE REMARKED.

SGT.GORDON A.TASNEY, 285 NUTLEY AVE., NUTLEY, N.J., LIBERATOR NOSE TURRET GUNNER, ENCOUNTERED HIS FIRST ENEMY FIGHTERS. "FIVE OF THEM KEPT CIRCLING OUR SHIP. I WAS READY BUT THEY DIDN'T COME IN. THEY REALLY POURED IT IN TO THE STRAGGLERS."

MAR 5 1944

"SEEING ENEMY PLANES FOR THE FIRST TIME MAKES YOU PLENTY NERVOUS," ADDED STAFF SGT.DENNISON F.WHITFORD, RFD 2, UNION CITY, PA., LIBERATOR TAIL GUNNER. "I WAS PLENTY GLAD WE WERE IN THE REAR."

STAFF SGT.PAUL J.PARDLOW, 918 SAMPSON ST., SAN DIEGO, CALIF., A BALL TURRETT GUNNER, SAW FIVE ENEMY SHIPS FLYING AROUND HIS PLANE. "THEY PEELED OFF AND CAME IN ONE AT A TIME. I HAD TESTED MY GUN ON THE WAY TO THE TARGET, AND SOMETHING BROKE. I HAD A MESSFORK IN MY POCKET. I BROKE OFF THE PRONG AND USED THE REST OF IT TO OPERATE THE GUN."

FLIGHT OFFICER GERALD E.STORTS, 1414 WEST PLEASANT ST., SPRINGFIELD, OHIO, THUNDERBOLT PILOT, CELEBRATED HIS 21ST BIRTHDAY BY SHOOTING DOWN AN ME-109.

"THE HEINE HALF-ROLLED IN MY DIRECTION AFTER MAKING A PASS AT A BOMBER FORMATION. I CLOSED TO WITHIN 50 YARDS, GIVING HIM A LONG BURST. I FOLLOWED ON HIS TAIL FROM 12,000 FEET DOWN TO THE DECK. HIS PLANE BURST INTO FLAMES JUST BEFORE HE CRASHED. IT WAS MY FIRST VICTORY IN 51 MISSIONS, A NICE BIRTHDAY PRESENT."

STORTS FORMERLY WAS IN THE CANADIAN AIR FORCE.

SECOND LT.RICHARD S.DAKINS, JONESBORO, TENN., SHOT DOWN ONE ME-109 AND ONE FW-190.

B55

LT.-COL. LEWIS CHICK, COWBOY BOOT-WEARING FIGHTER FROM TWIN SISTERS, BLANCO COUNTY, TEX., SHOT DOWN HIS SIXTH ENEMY PLANE.

"I CAUGHT A STRAY ME-109 AT 16,000 FEET AND CHASED HIM DOWN TO 6,000. HIS PLANE CAUGHT FIRE AS IT ENTERED A CLOUD, AND AS IT CAME O THE FAR SIDE THE PILOT WAS BAILING OUT."

AMONG OTHERS SCORING VICTORIES WAS LT. SAM BROWN 822 KEE AVE., DALHARV, TEX.

MAJ. EDWIN BLAND, WAURIKA, OKLA., LED INVADER PLANES THAT HIT AND SET FIRE TO A 40-CAR FREIGHT TRAIN NEAR MONTEROTONDO, 15 MILES ABOVE ROME ON THE MAIN FLORENCE LINE.

"SIXTEEN BOMBS HIT THE TRAIN OR LANDED VERY NEAR IT. TWO SETS OF BOMBS NEATLY BRACKETED THE TRAIN BY TEARING UP THE TRACKS AHEAD AND BEHIND IT."

MAR 5 1944

WHEN THE INVADERS TURNED AWAY, THE ENTIRE STRING OF CARS APPEARED TO BE ABLAZE.

GROUP COMMANDER LT.-COL. KARL T.BARTHELMESS, CLAYTON, N.MEX., AND DEPUTY, LT.-COL. FREDERICK C.EATON, OF SCARSDALE, N.Y., PERSONALLY L SOME OF THE FLYING FORTRESSES TO THE TIBURTINA YARDS IN ROME.

BARTHELMESS AND EATON, WHO HAVE BEEN RECOMMENDED FOR DECORATIONS FOR GALLANTRY IN ATTACKS AGAINST GERMAN AIRCRAFT FACTORIES AT STEYR AND REGENSBURG LAST WEEK, DESCRIBED THE ROME OPERATION AS "A MILK RU NOTHING TO IT."

TWO SOUTHERN PILOTS FOR WHOM ROME WAS THEIR 15TH MISSION SMILINGL REPORTED, "WE DIDN'T HAVE A MOMENT'S PERTURBATION. THERE WERE SO MANY AMERICAN PLANES AROUND THAT A TRAFFIC COP WAS REALLY NEEDED."

THESE TWO WERE CAPT.WAYNE L.DANIEL, 2908 CLARK ST., PADUCAH, KY., AND LT.CLARENCE COBB, OF BATON ROUGE, LA.

CAPT.GEORGE M.SANDER, 3907 NORTH WHITE HOUSE ST., SPOKANE, WASH., WHO STARRED ON THE WASHINGTON STATE FOOTBALL TEAMS OF A DECADE AGO,

30.24 — 13461

SAID THE GERMANS PROBABLY HAD REMOVED MUCH OF THEIR ANTI-AIRCRAFT DEFENSES FROM ROME TO THE ANZIO BEACHHEAD.

THE GROUP FLIGHT SURGEON AT ONE BASE, CAPT.SIDNEY WANDERMAN, 334 WEST 85TH ST., NEW YORK CITY, SWEATED OUT A RADIO MESSAGE FOR AN AMBULANCE TO MEET THE FIRST FORTRESS LANDING AT THE BASE IN THE AFTERNOON.

THE AMBULANCE WAS ON HAND AS THE GROUP BOMBARDIER CRAWLED OUT OF THE NOSE AND DEMANDED A RIDE IN STATE TO THE OPERATIONS OFFICE, AS THE CUSTOMARY AIRMAN'S REWARD FOR 50 MISSIONS.

QUICKLY CHECKING ALL OTHER PLANES OF THE GROUP, WANDERMAN EXCLAIMED: "WONDERFUL! NOT ONE OF OUR BOYS EVEN GOT A SCRATCH. IT'S A BIG RELIEF AFTER WHAT THEY WENT THROUGH LAST WEEK IN GERMANY.

ALLIED BOMBER BASE IN ITALY, MARCH 4-(AP)-THE SCREAMING EAGLE WAS AN INCREDIBLE AIRPLANE.

IT WAS HIT BY FLAK OVER REGENSBURG, RIDDLED BY ENEMY FIGHTERS NEAR MUNICH AND LURCHED INTO THE ALPS WITH TWO DAMAGED ENGINES.

NINE YOUNG AMERICAN AIRMEN, READY TO BAIL OUT INTO NEUTRAL INTERNMENT, DECIDED TO STAY WITH THE SCREAMING EAGLE UNTIL THE END.

THE STORY OF THEIR ESCAPE, ALTHOUGH THEY LOST THEIR BIG B-17 IN THE SEA OFF ANZIO, WAS TOLD TODAY AS THEY WENT TO A REST CAMP TO RECUPERATE FROM ONE OF THE MOST HAZARDOUS EXPERIENCES IN THE HISTORY OF THE 15TH AIR FORCE.

IN SURVIVING THEY MANAGED TO DESTROY SEVEN GERMAN PLANES.

"WE WERE BOMBING REGENSBURG ON FEB.25 IN OUR THIRD GERMAN RAID IN THREE DAYS WHEN THE TROUBLE STARTED," SAID BLOND 26-YEAR-OLD LT.W.H.B.THOMAS OF BOSTON, MASS., THE PILOT. "A BURST WRECKED THE NO.4 ENGINE AND THE PROP WINDMILLED LIKE MAD."

"WE WERE LIMPING BY MUNICH WHEN ENEMY FIGHTERS CAUGHT US. WE COUNTED 15 AT ONE TIME," ADDED CO-PILOT, LT.W.C.MILLER OF MACON, GA.

MAR 5 1944

THE SCREAMING EAGLE'S MACHINEGUNNERS WENT INTO ACTION. THEY FOUGHT AGAINST CANNON SHELLS WHICH SEEMED TO RIP INTO THE FORTRESS FROM ALL SIDES. GERMAN PLANES CHARGED IN FROM ABOVE, THE REAR, THE FLANKS, AND BELOW.

ENEMY FIRE KNOCKED OUT THE NUMBER THREE ENGINE'S SUPERCHARGER, SMASHED THE RADIO, PUT HOLES IN THE FUEL TANK FOR THE NO. ONE ENGINE, SHREDDED THE TAIL, CUT PART OF THE CONTROL CABLE, DESTROYED THE INTERPHONE COMMUNICATIONS, CRACKED THE FUSELAGE, AND PUNCHED HOLES IN THE WINGS.

TWO WAIST GUNNERS, SGT.JIMMY A.BURNS, BOX 514, SOUTHFORK, PA., AND WENDELL WILCOX, BOX 82, SEDALIA, COLO., WERE KNOCKED UNCONSCIOUS FOR 10 SECONDS BY EXPLODING SHELLS. BURNS, FORMER PROFESSIONAL MIDDLEWEIGHT BOXER, HAD ACCOUNTED FOR TWO GERMAN FIGHTERS, AND WILCOX FOR ONE.

ANOTHER SHELL HIT THE BALL TURRET POSITION OF SGT.CORNELIUS H.

JACOB, 111 DAISEY ST., PITTSBURGH, PA. HE EXAMINED HIMSELF WITH AMAZEMENT. ONLY THE LITTLE FINGER OF ONE HAND HAD BEEN CUT. HE KEPT SHOOTING AND GOT ONE PLANE.

MAR 5 1944

THREE OTHER ENEMY AIRCRAFT WERE SHOT DOWN BY BOMBARDIER LT. JOSEPH A.SOLAN, 447 WEST 26TH ST., CHICAGO, ENGINEER SGT.PAUL I.MCCARTHY, SOMERVILLE, MASS., AND TAIL GUNNER SGT.BENJAMIN A.SHAWK, MARKLEVILLE. IND.

BUT WHEN THE REMAINDER OF ITS FORTRESS FORMATION LAST SAW THE SCREAMING EAGLE IT SEEMED TO BE IN A DEATH DIVE WITH AT LEAST ONE ENGINE SMOKING OR AFIRE, AND THE ENEMY CONTINUING HIS RELENTLESS ATTACK.

"ONE MOMENT WE THOUGHT WE WERE GONERS. THE NEXT THING WE KNEW THE GERMAN FIGHTERS HAD DISAPPEARED," SAID PILOT THOMAS. "I'D RUNG THE ALARM BELL MEANING STAND BY TO JUMP. OUR NAVIGATOR MISTOOK IT FOR THE FINAL SIGNAL, AND HIT THE SILK. THE GERMANS MUST HAVE BELIEVED WE SURELY WERE CRASHING. INSTEAD, WE TOOK A CHANCE ON CLIMBING INTO THE SWISS MOUNTAINS ON TWO ENGINES, PREFERRING INTERNMENT TO A PRISON CAMP.

"UNEXPECTEDLY WE RAN INTO MORE GERMAN FLAK IN A LITTLE VALLEY WE NEVER IDENTIFIED. WE GOT AWAY FROM THAT AND ENGINEER MCCARTHY CHANGED THE GAS SUPPLY FROM THE NUMBER FOUR TO NUMBER ONE ENGINE JUST IN TIME TO SAVE IT. WE COULDN'T CLIMB OVER SOME OF THE MOUNTAINS BUT SOMEHOW WE GOT AROUND THEM. WE EXPECTED SWISS PLANES WOULD APPROACH AND ESCORT US TO A LANDING FIELD. BUT WE DIDN'T SEE ANY.

"OUR MAPS WEREN'T COMPLETE AND OUR NAVIGATION WITHOUT OUR NAVIGATOR WAS HAZY SO WE COULDN'T ESTABLISH WHETHER WE WERE OVER SWITZERLAND AT ALL. WE KNEW, THOUGH, WHEN WE REACHED THE NORTHERN ITALIAN PLAIN. AT 5,000 FEET WE LOOKED DOWN AND SAW AN ENEMY FIGHTER FIELD DIRECTLY BELOW. IMAGINE THE SCREAMING EAGLE BUZZING AN ENEMY FIELD IN ITS CONDITION. THE FIGHTERS BEGAN TAKING OFF. WE HUNTED A CLOUD COVER OVER THE SEA AND LOST THEM."

30.24 — 13463

THOMAS EXPLAINED THAT ONE REASON THE BOMBER WAS ABLE TO CROSS THE ALPS WAS BECAUSE "WE JETTISONED EVERYTHING--GUNS, AMMUNITION AND BOMB SIGHT--WE COULD LIFT AND THROW OUT."

OVER ELBA HE TOOK A BEARING AND THE CREW AGREED TO TRY TO REACH THE ANZIO BEACHHEAD. RADIO SGT.PRESTON B.ALFORD, 305 HARLEE ST., MARION, S.C., REPORTED ONE RUBBER LIFE RAFT WAS HOPELESSLY DAMAGED AND THE OTHER IN DOUBTFUL CONDITION.

AT 1 P.M., THE SCREAMING EAGLE HAD LEFT REGENSBURG. AT 6 P.M., IN THE RAIN AND GROWING DARKNESS, IT NEARED THE JUTTING LAND SOUTH OF ROME WHERE ARTILLERY FLASHES REDDENED THE HORIZON. ALL THE GAS TANKS WERE ALMOST EMPTY.

"PREPARE TO DITCH," HE ORDERED.

THE SCREAMING EAGLE BLINKED AN SOS WITH ITS LANDING LIGHTS, THEN HIT THE WATER AND SANK IN THREE MINUTES. IN BULKY LEATHER FLYING SUITS, THE NINE CREWMEN STRUGGLED IN THE SEA, SOME OF THEIR MAE WEST FAILING TO INFLATE BECAUSE OF SHRAPNEL PUNCTURES. MEANWHILE GERMAN NIGHT BOMBERS WERE RAIDING THE ALLIED SUPPLY FLEET. AFTER HALF AN HOUR A PATROL BOAT CAME TO THE RESCUE.

THREE DAYS LATER THE FORTRESS CREW LANDED AT NAPLES, AND CALLED THEIR BOMBER BASE, WHERE THEY WERE TOLD THEIR FAMILIES WERE ABOUT

TO BE NOTIFIED THEY WERE MISSING IN ACTION. THEIR PERSONAL EFFECTS HAD BEEN PACKED FOR SHIPMENT TO THE UNITED STATES.

"I THOUGHT I HAD A TOUGH TIME BECAUSE FOR THE LAST TWO HOURS OF OUR FLIGHT MY PARACHUTE HAD COME UNPACKED, AND I HAD TO HOLD IT IN MY LAP, WONDERING HOW IT WOULD EVER GET UNTANGLED AND OPEN IF I HAD TO JUMP," SAID SOLAN. "WHEN I SAW THAT BEACHHEAD, HOWEVER, I FELT I WAS LUCKY NOT TO BE IN THE INFANTRY. AFTER I'D BEEN THREE DAYS WITH THE NAVY, AND PLENTY SEASICK, I WAS SURE TOO THAT I'D RATHER FIGHT IN THE AIR THAN ON THE SEA."

U.S. PACIFIC FLEET HEADQUARTERS, PEARL HARBOR, MARCH 4-(AP)-THE JAPANESE ARE NOW SPREAD SO THIN ACROSS THE CENTRAL PACIFIC THAT OUR CARRIER FORCES CAN BRING SUPERIOR STRENGTH AGAINST ANY ONE POINT THEY CHOOSE, THE SKIPPER OF A CARRIER PARTICIPATING IN THE FEB. 22 ATTACK ON SAIPAN, TINIAN AND GUAM SAID TODAY.

HE WAS CAPTAIN RALPH A.OFSTIE OF EVERETT, WASH., ONE OF NINE RETURNED NAVAL OFFICERS WHO AGREED IN INTERVIEWS THAT THE JAPANESE DEFENSES, BOTH FIGHTER PLANE AND ANTI-AIRCRAFT, WERE SURPRISINGLY WEAK.

NOT ONE ANTI-AIRCRAFT SHELL WAS FIRED AT THE AMERICAN FIGHTERS IN THEIR SWEEP OVER GUAM, SAID ANOTHER OFFICER, LIEUT. JAMES D.BILLO, 24, A FIGHTER PILOT FROM PORTLAND, ORE.

BILLO'S SQUADRON, PART OF AIR GROUP NO. 17 WHICH TOOK PART IN ALMOST ALL OF THE EARLY STRIKES AT RABAUL, NEW BRITAIN, AND KAVIENG, NEW IRELAND, IN THE SOUTH PACIFIC, DISCOVERED THAT GUAM NOW HAS A LARGE AIR RUNWAY BUILT ON WHAT ONCE WAS THE UNITED STATES MARINES' ATHLETIC FIELD.

BILLO'S GROUP WAS THE FIRST OVER GUAM SINCE THAT STRATEGIC ISLAND BECAME THE FIRST AMERICAN-HELD ISLAND CAPTURED BY THE JAPANESE AFTER THEIR PEARL HARBOR ATTACK IN DECEMBER OF 1941. THE SQUADRON PILOTS AGREED THAT THE TINIAN ISLAND FIELD WAS FAR SUPERIOR TO THE ONE ON SAIPAN IN THE MARIANAS, BUT SAID NEITHER WAS WELL DEFENDED ALTHOUGH TINIA IS A MAJOR STOP ON THE JAP

REAR ADM.MARC A.MITSCHER'S CARRIER FORCE WAS DETECTED THE AFTERNOON BEFORE THE ATTACK AND SHIP ANTI-AIRCRAFT GUNS DOWNED 14 PLANES. FIGHTERS GOT FIVE MORE OF THE JAPANESE CRAFT SENT OUT AGAINST THE TASK FORCE

LIEUT.COMMANDER PHIL H.TORREY, 30, OF WASHINGTON, D.C. COMMANDER OF AIR GROUP NINE, SAID HE WAS SURPRISED AND UNABLE TO UNDERSTAND WHY IT WAS POSSIBLE TO CATCH SO MANY JAPANESE PLANES AGROUND AFTER THEY HAD LEARNED THE TASK FORCE WAS APPROACHING.

EIGHTY-SEVEN OUT OF THE TOTAL OF 135 PLANES WERE DESTROYED ON THE GROUND, HE SAID.

BY COMPARISON WITH RABAUL'S DEFENSES LAST NOVEMBER, SAIPAN AND TINIAN WERE SURPRISINGLY WEAK, TORREY DECLARED.

"SAIPAN IS NOT A FIRST-RATE JAPANESE FIELD BY ANY MEANS," HE SAID. "HOWEVER, TINIAN IS MUCH LARGER AND CERTAINLY FAR MORE IMPORTANT."

HE DECLARED THE ANTI-AIRCRAFT FIRE THERE WAS HEAVY, BUT THAT HIS MEN KNOCKED DOWN EVERY JAPANESE PLANE THEY SAW OVER THE TARGET. THE JAPANESE PILOTS WERE NOT VERY GOOD, TORREY ADDED.

DALE SAID THE TINIAN AIRFIELD WAS HUGE FROM THE JAPANESE POINT OF

UNDATED JAPANESE CLAIMS

MAR 5 1944

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

THE TOKYO RADIO CLAIMED LAST NIGHT (SAT) THAT JAPANESE PLANES HAD SUNK AN AMERICAN AIRCRAFT CARRIER AND SERIOUSLY DAMAGED ANOTHER IN ADDITION TO SINKING THREE MORE LARGE WARSHIPS OF WHICH TWO MIGHT HAVE BEEN AIRCRAFT CARRIERS.

THE BROADCAST, QUOTING A DOMEI NAVAL CORRESPONDENT AT A JAPANESE BASE IN THE CENTRAL PACIFIC, SAID THE ATTACKS TOOK PLACE FEB. 23 AGAINST AMERICAN NAVAL FORCES WHICH RAIDED THE MARIANA ISLANDS.

ADM. CHESTER W. NIMITZ REPORTED ON FEB. 25 THAT THE AMERICAN FORCE BATTLED FIERCE AERIAL OPPOSITION FROM THE JAPANESE BUT NO UNITED STATES VESSEL WAS SUNK OR DAMAGED. TWO ENEMY SHIPS WERE SUNK AND NINE DAMAGED. WHILE AT LEAST 135 NIPPONESE PLANES WERE DESTROYED.

MONTEVIDEO, MARCH 4-(AP)-AFTER ARGENTINE CENSORSHIP HAD HELD UP FOR SEVERAL HOURS THE DISCLOSURE IN THAT COUNTRY OF THE STAND TAKEN BY THE UNITED STATES TOWARD THE REGIME OF ACTING PRESIDENT GEN. EDELMIRO FARRELL, AUTHORITIES TONIGHT AUTHORIZED PUBLICATION OF THE FOLLOWING ANNOUNCEMENT:

"UNITED STATES ACTING SECRETARY OF STATE STETTINIUS SAID TODAY AMBASSADOR NORMAN ARMOUR HAS BEEN INSTRUCTED NOT TO ENTER OFFICI RELATIONS WIT THE FARRELL REGIME PENDING FURTHER INSTRUCTIONS."

MONTEVIDEO, MARCH 4-(AP)-REPORTS FROM THE URUGUAYAN FOREIGN OFFICE INDICATED TODAY URUGUAY WOULD SOON ANNOUNCE ITS DECISION REGARDING THE NEW ARGENTINE REGIME, AND IT WAS REGARDED LIKELY URUGU WOULD FOLLOW CHILE'S EXAMPLE AND RECOGNIZE GEN. EDELMIRO FARRELL AS THE LEGAL SUCCESSOR OF GEN. PEDRO RAMIREZ.

DIPLOMATS BELIEVED THAT SUCH ACTION BY URUGUAY, ALONG WITH THE CHILEAN STEP, WOULD MEAN A BREAKING OF THE PAN-AMERICAN FRONT AGAINST THE RECOGNITION OF FARRELL, AND THAT OTHER COUNTRIES--INCLUDING THE UNITED STATES--COULD BE EXPECTED TO FOLLOW THEIR LEAD.

THIS WOULD BE DONE, THESE CIRCLES BELIEVE, BECAUSE OF A DESIRE NOT TO HAVE THE AMERICAS APPEAR DIVIDED.

BUENOS AIRES, MARCH 4-(AP)-SEVENTY TOADS WERE HEADING TOWARD THE UNITED STATES AS AIR PASSENGERS TONIGHT. THEY ARE RATED AS AMPHIBIANS ESSENTIAL TO THE WAR EFFORT.

THE TOADS, NATIVES OF NORTHERN ARGENTINA, ARE OF THE BUFO PARACNEMI AND BUFO ARENARUM SPECIES. THE REASON THEY GOT THE PLANE RIDE IS BECAUSE THEY ARE INORDINATELY FOND OF THE INSECTS AND WORMS WHICH INFEST SUGAR CANE. THEY ARE CONSIGNED TO A UNITED STATES SUGAR COMPAN AT CLEWISTON, FLA.

WASHINGTON,MARCH 4-(AP)-ARGENTINA STILL SERVES AS A BASE FOR AXIS ESPIONAGE AND SUPPORT, ACTING SECRETARY OF STATE STETTINIUS CHARGED TODAY, AND AMERICAN RECOGNITION OF THE REGIME OF GENERAL EDELMIRO FARRELL IS BEING WITHHELD UNTIL THIS SITUATION IS CLEANED UP.

AMBASSADOR NORMAN ARMOUR IN BUENOS AIRES IS UNDER INSTRUCTIONS TO "REFRAIN FROM ENTERING OFFICIAL RELATIONS" WITH FARRELL'S REGIME, WHICH OUSTED ARGENTINA'S PRESIDENT PEDRO RAMIREZ ON FEBRUARY 25.

STETTINIUS MADE THESE DISCLOSURES AT A SPECIAL PRESS CONFERENCE.

3024 — 13471

HE SAID HE WOULD NOT GO SO FAR AS TO SAY THAT THIS CONSTITUTED NON-RECOGNITION OF THE FARRELL GOVERNMENT BECAUSE RELATIONS NEVER HAD BEEN STARTED. THUS, HE APPEARED TO LEAVE THE WAY OPEN FOR AMERICAN ACTION IN EITHER DIRECTION.

AND THAT ACTION, HE INDICATED, WILL DEPEND UPON WHAT ARGENTINA DOES NOW.

STETTINIUS PUT THE ISSUE SQUARELY UP TO GENERAL FARRELL BY SAYING THERE ARE MANY THINGS ARGENTINA CAN DO TO IMPROVE HER RELATIONS WITH THIS COUNTRY, FOR INSTANCE:

1--INTERN AXIS DIPLOMATS, MILITARY ATTACHES AND OTHER AGENTS WHO HAVE BEEN AT LIBERTY IN ARGENTINA, THOUGH RELATIONS WITH GERMANY HAVE BEEN BROKEN.

MAR 5 1944

2--CLEAN UP AXIS ESPIONAGE RINGS IN ARGENTINA. STETTINIUS RECALLED THAT FORMER PRESIDENT RAMIREZ HIMSELF DESCRIBED BUENOS AIRES AS A HOTBED OF INTERNATIONAL ESPIONAGE.

3--STOP SMUGGLING OF CRITICAL WAR MATERIALS WHICH STILL GO TO THE ENEMY FROM ARGENTINA.

4--CONTROL COMMUNICATIONS WHICH STILL EXIST BETWEEN AXIS AGENTS IN ARGENTINA AND THEIR HOMELANDS.

5--CONTROL MORE EFFECTIVELY BUSINESS INSTITUTIONS IN ARGENTINA WHICH STILL HAVE AN AXIS TINGE.

THESE ARE JUST A FEW OF THE THINGS ARGENTINA COULD DO, STETTINIUS REPEATED.

HE SAID THE FARRELL REGIME POSSIBLY COULD BECOME ACCEPTABLE TO THE UNITED STATES BY COOPERATING IN HEMISPHERIC SOLIDARITY AND TAKING THE STEPS TO PROVE IT.

STETTINIUS RAISED A DOUBT OVER THE COUP WHICH REPLACED RAMIREZ WITH FARRELL. HE SAID THAT AFTER ARGENTINA HAD BROKEN RELATIONS WITH THE AXIS, RAMIREZ SUDDENLY ABANDONED ACTIVE CONDUCT OF AFFAIRS "UNDER

WELL-KNOWN CIRCUMSTANCES," AND THE AMERICAN GOVERNMENT "HAS REASON TO BELIEVE THAT GROUPS NOT IN SYMPATHY WITH THE DECLARED ARGENTINE POLICY OF JOINING IN DEFENSE OF THE HEMISPHERE WERE ACTIVE IN THIS TURN OF AFFAIRS."

"WE ARE IN A BITTER WAR WITH A RUTHLESS ENEMY WHOSE PLAN HAS INCLUDED CONQUEST OF THE WESTERN HEMISPHERE," STETTINIUS SAID.

"TO DEAL WITH SUCH GRAVE ISSUES ON A PURELY TECHNICAL BASIS WOULD BE TO CLOSE OUR EYES TO THE REALITIES OF THE SITUATION."

CONTINUING THE ENUMERATION OF POSSIBLE STEPS TOWARD RELATIONS WITH THIS COUNTRY, STETTINIUS SAID:

MAR 5 1944

ARGENTINA COULD STOP THE SMUGGLING OF CRITICAL WAR MATERIALS TO THE AXIS.

ARGENTINA COULD SET UP BETTER CONTROL OVER COMMUNICATION WHICH STILL EXIST BETWEEN AXIS AGENTS IN ARGENTINA AND THEIR HOMELAND.

FINALLY HE DECLARED, ARGENTINA COULD BETTER CONTROL BUSINESS FIRMS WHICH STILL WERE TINGED WITH AXIS SYMPATHY.

THESE WERE JUST A FEW OF THE THINGS ARGENTINA COULD DO IF SHE WANTED TO SHOW HER GOOD FAITH, STETTINIUS DECLARED.

HE SAID THE SITUATION WAS STILL FLUID, AND THAT HE WOULD RATHER NOT COMMENT ON THE EXCHANGES OF INFORMATION WHICH ARE GOING ON AMONG AMERICAN REPUBLICS OR UPON CHILI'S ACCEPTANCE OF THE FARRELL REGIME AS A CONTINUATION OF THE RAMIREZ ADMINISTRATION AND THEREFORE RAISING NO QUESTION OF RECOGNITION.

STETTINIUS SAID THAT THE UNITED STATES HAS AT ALL TIMES HAD CLOSE TIES WITH THE ARGENTINE PEOPLE, AND HAS CONSISTENTLY HOPED AND CONTINUES TO HOPE THAT ARGENTINA WILL TAKE THE STEPS NECESSARY TO BRING HER FULLY AND COMPLETELY INTO THE REALM OF HEMISPHERIC SOLIDARITY.

THE POLICIES AND TYPES OF ACTION, PRESENT AND FUTURE, WHICH OULD AFFECTUATE FULL COOPERATION BETWEEN ARGENTINA AND THE HEMISPHERE RE FULLY KNOWN IN ARGENTINA, STETTINIUS SAID.

WASHINGTON,MARCH 4-(AP)-A SERIES OF HIGH COMMAND CONFERENCES ON THE PACIFIC WAR HAS LED TO THE CONVICTION IN MILITARY QUARTERS HERE THAT THE TWIN PACIFIC DRIVES OF ADMIRAL CHESTER W.NIMITZ AND GENERAL DOUGLAS MACARTHUR CAN NOW BE KEPT ROLLING AT A FAST CLIP AND WELL AHEAD OF SCHEDULE.

THIS MEANS THAT IN THE DRIVE TOWARD THE PHILIPPINES AMERICAN AND ALLIED FORCES WILL BE ABLE TO TAKE ADVANTAGE OF THE BREAKS RESULTING FROM JAPAN'S DEFENSIVE WEAKNESSES SUCH AS PERMITTED CONQUEST OF KEY POSITIONS IN THE MARSHALL ISLANDS WITH STUNNING SPEED.

IT GIVES ASSURANCE ALSO THAT THE ENEMY WILL GET NO BREATHING SPELL IN WHICH TO RECOVER HIS BALANCE AND PREPARE FOR THE NEXT ALLIED BLOWS. BEFORE THE CONFERENCES, IT WAS FEARED THAT A LAG BETWEEN THE AHEAD-OF-SCHEDULE ATTACKING FORCES AND THE ON-SCHEDULE MOVEMENT OF SUPPLIES MIGHT CAUSE A TEMPORARY EASING OF PRESSURE ON THE JAPANESE DEFENSE RING.

THE ONLY THEATER IN WHICH THE WAR AGAINST JAPAN IS FALLING SHORT OF HOPES IS THAT OF ADMIRAL LORD LOUIS MOUNTBATTEN, COMMANDER OF THE LONG-PLANNED OFFENSIVE INTO BURMA. THE BURMA CAMPAIGN IS STILL GOING MUCH MORE SLOWLY THAN AMERICAN LEADERS WOULD LIKE AND THE EARLY ONSET OF THE MONSOON SEASON IS CERTAIN TO HAMPER IT MORE.

MAR 5 1944

MOUNTBATTEN'S PREDICAMENT IS ATTRIBUTED BY COMPETENT AUTHORITIES TO SEVERAL REASONS. HELD BY A WELL-ENTRENCHED AND REINFORCED FOE, BURMA PRESENTS SOME OF THE WORLD'S WORST INVASION TERRAIN FAVORING THE DEFENDERS. SUPPLY PROBLEMS ARE ENORMOUS. MOREOVER THE DYNAMIC MOUNTBATTEN HAS HAD TO COMBAT GREAT DIFFICULTIES, INCLUDING LACK OF AGGRESSIVENESS IN INDIAN OFFICIALDOM, IN TRYING TO OBTAIN SUPPORT FOR HIS PROJECTED OPERATIONS.

HE IS ALSO HANDICAPPED BY WHAT SOME AUTHORITIES REGARD AS AN UNFORTUNATE DIVISION OF AUTHORITY IN THE AREA. FIELD MARSHALL LORD WAVELL, VICEROY OF INDIA, MAY EXERCISE A CHECK ON MOUNTBATTEN TO THE EXTENT THAT HE CONTROLS BRITISH EMPIRE FORCES IN INDIA.

GENERALISSIMO CHIANG KAI-SHEK BECAUSE OF HIS LEADERSHIP OF CHINA MUST EXERCISE INDEPENDENT AUTHORITY ON THE CHINESE SIDE. LT.GEN. JOSEPH STILWELL OF THE AMERICAN ARMY IS IN THE TIGHT-ROPE POSITION OF SERVING TWO COMMANDERS, FIRST AS CHIEF OF STAFF TO CHIANG AND SECOND AS A MEMBER OF MOUNTBATTEN'S STAFF.

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT AND RANKING GEN[illegible]VE RECEIVED FIRST HAND INFORMATION ON ALL POSSIBILITIES OF SPEEDING UP BURMA OPERATIONS FROM MAJOR GENERAL ALBERT C.WEDEMEYER, DEPUTY CHIEF OF STAFF TO MOUNTBATTEN, MAJ.GEN.RAYMOND A.WHEELER, MOUNTBATTEN'S CHIEF SUPPLY OFFICER AND BRIG.GEN.HAYDON L.BOATNER, CHIEF OF STAFF OF THE CHINESE ARMY IN INDIA.

MAR 5 1944

THE PARAMOUNT MILITARY FACT BEFORE THE CONFERENCES PRESUMABLY HAS BEEN THE SPEED WITH WHICH ADMIRAL NIMITZ, PACIFIC AREA COMMANDER, AND GENERAL MACARTHUR, SOUTHWEST PACIFIC CHIEF, HAVE BEEN ABLE TO PUSH FORWARD THEIR OFFENSIVES.

MILITARY LEADERS WERE OPENLY AMAZED AT THE SWIFT CRUMBLING OF ENEMY DEFENSES IN THE MARSHALLS LAST MONTH--A DEVELOPMENT WHICH HAS PUT THE PACIFIC TIMETABLE WELL AHEAD. THE CONSEQUENT TASK FORCE SMASHES AT TRUK AND SAIPAN ISLANDS PARALYZED ENEMY COMMUNICATIONS TO THE SOUTHWEST PACIFIC AND POSSIBLY ENABLED MACARTHUR TO BEGIN HIS ADMIRALTY ISLANDS INVASION AHEAD OF TIME.

EACH ADVANCE ACROSS HUNDREDS OF MILES OF OCEAN, HOWEVER, MEANS TRANSPORTING HUNDREDS OF THOUSANDS OF TONS OF SUPPLIES AND THOUSANDS OF MEN; IT MEANS BUILDING FORWARD BASES; IT INCREASES FLEET DEMANDS FOR FUEL AND SUPPLY SHIPS AND LANDING BOATS. ALL THESE THINGS ARE PLANNED ON SCHEDULES WHICH GO BACK TO FACTORY PRODUCTION PROGRAMS IN THIS COUNTRY. THE DANGER HAD BEEN THAT THESE SCHEDULES COULD NOT BE KEPT UP TO THE SWIFT NEW TIMETABLES OF THE FRONTLINE FORCES.

MAR 5 1944

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT SO CHARACTERIZED THE NEW PROGRAM LAST NIGHT IN A STATEMENT URGING AS MANY OF THE YOUTHS AS POSSIBLE TO TAKE THE JOINT ARMY-NAVY EXAMINATIONS WHICH WILL BE HELD MARCH 15 IN NUMEROUS HIGH SCHOOLS AND COLLEGES.

"THIS ENLARGED PROGRAM," THE PRESIDENT SAID, "WILL PROVIDE THE ARMED FORCES WITH A NECESSARY RESERVOIR OF YOUNGER MEN WITH SPECIALIZED TRAINING AT THE COLLEGE LEVEL."

ANY BOY OF THE PROPER AGE WHO WILL BE A HIGH SCHOOL GRADUATE BY JULY 1 IS ELIGIBLE. THOSE WHO PASS AND ARE ACCEPTED AFTER PHYSICAL EXAMINATION WILL HAVE OPPORTUNITY TO APPLY FOR THE RESERVE AND EXPRESS A PREFERENCE FOR ARMY OR NAVY TRAINING. THOSE SELECTED WILL BE SENT TO COLLEGES, IN UNIFORM AND DRAWING PAY, AT LEAST UNTIL THEY ARE 18.

SCIENTIFIC, PRE-MEDICAL, MATHEMATICS AND PHYSICS COURSES WILL MAKE UP THE BULK OF THE TRAINING AS NOW PROJECTED. A LIMITED NUMBER OF THE STUDENTS WILL SPECIALIZE IN LANGUAGES. EDUCATORS HAVE SUGGESTED THAT AS MANY AS 100,000 MAY BE ELIGIBLE.

Reds Go 31 Miles in New Ukraine Drive, Threaten Lwow-Odessa Railroad Link; U.S. Bombers Hit Nazis 4th Straight Day

MARSHAL ZHUKOV, STALINGRAD HERO, LEADS NEW ATTACK

12 German Divisions Routed In Western Ukraine Offensive, Moscow Reports.

500 TOWNS LIBERATED

Red Troops Fighting on Approaches to Key Railroad Center.

By J. KING

LONDON, Monday, March 6—(AP) Moscow announced last night that the Red army had opened a mighty new offensive in the western Ukraine and in two days fighting routed 12 German divisions—perhaps 160,000 men—killed at least 6,000 Nazis and swept up more than 500 localities in a drive into southern Poland that threatened the vital Odessa-Lwow railway.

The drive was by the First Ukrainian front armies, led by Marshal Gregory K. Zhukov, substituting for Gen. Nikolai K. Vatutin, who was announced ill.

31-Mile Advance

Premier Marshal Josef Stalin, in a special order of the day, and two Soviet communiques—all recorded by the Soviet monitor from broadcasts—pictured a powerful Soviet smash which shattered the German defense, broke through on a 112-mile front and moved forward up to 31 miles.

Stalin said the Soviet vanguard was now fighting at the approaches to the rail station of Volochisk on the Odessa-Lwow railway, 60 miles north of the Rumanian frontier. Capture of this station would sever the only important rail line supplying the Germans in the Dnieper bend and cut off their most jealously guarded artery of retreat.

Over 14 large towns were declared swept up as the Russians advanced southwestward from the Shepetovka area—the southern side of their westernmost salient into old Poland. A front of about 30 miles across the frontier was established, 14 miles inside the line at its westernmost point.

The Russian bulletins said the attack began Saturday morning with powerful artillery preparation and "massed fire of Soviet artillerymen and mortar gunners swept away enemy fortifications and silenced his firing positions. Our troops broke through strong German defenses x x x under the blows of Soviet troops the enemy left one position after another."

Describing the battle for the town of Belogorodka, 24 miles southwest of Shepetovka, the late bulletin said:

"Particularly stiff fighting raged in the area of Belegorodka. The Germans tried to hold this populated place in their hands at all costs and made several heavy counter-attacks Soviet tankmen, with the assistance of our infantry, antitank riflemen and artillery, routed the enemy and put him to flight."

Ninety-eight German tanks were reported destroyed.

"A large number of prisoners were taken," the communique said. "Th enemy suffered enormous losses in manpower and equipment in all sectors of the front. An enormous amount of war material was captured and shattered enemy divisions abandoned their artillery ammunition dumps and other war material in their retreat.

A Moscow victory salute of 20 salvos from 22 guns were ordered in celebration.

Zhukov, second in command to Stalin, has won official recognition for his work as coordinator of Soviet fronts in the victory of Stalingrad, the victory of Moscow, the breaking of the Leningrad siege. He was made a marshal about a year ago.

14 Miles Inside Border

The farthest westward penetration in the offensive listed in the Stalin order was the capture of Vishgorodok, 14 miles inside the old Polish border and only 20 miles northeast of Tarnopol, important Polish city and rail center. The farthest southern advance was to Volochisk where Stalin said the Red army is "fighting at the approaches to the railway station."

The push started at the southern flank of the Soviets' westernmost salient, extending west to Lutsk. Smashing southwest from the Shepetovka area on Saturday the Russians in two days were reported to have captured Izyaslavl, twelve miles southwest of Shepetovka; Shumsk, thirty-three miles northwest of Izyaslavl on the old Polish frontier; Yampol, thirteen miles southeast of Shumsk; Katerberg, fourteen miles southwest of Shumsk and seven miles inside the frontier; Teofipol, twenty-five miles southeast of Shumsk; Belozorka, twenty-five miles south of Shumsk on the border; Bazalia, thirty-four miles southeast of Shumsk, and Kupel, eighteen miles northwest of Volochisk and seven miles from the Odessa-Warsaw trunk line.

Gains Scored in Estonia

Also captured was the town of Ostropol, thirty-five miles southeast of Shepetovka.

The Moscow communique also announced that far in the north, where the Russians have pushed a bridgehead across the Narova River in Estonia south of Narva, the Russians improved their positions.

The speed and sweep of the Ukraine advance were reminiscent of the spectacular northern drive which freed Leningrad. For the last several days German broadcasts have mentioned Soviet concentrations in the Shepetovka area and it was presumed they were ready for the drive.

But Stalin said four German tank divisions and [illegible] infantry divisions—perhaps 60,000 men—were routed and [illegible] two-day advance over a 120-mile front indicated the Germans were falling back faster than an ordered retreat would allow.

"The Germans had put up their fiercest resistance of the winter east of this area when a Russian push south from Berdichev threatened to cut the Odessa-Lwow railway. The Russians failed to progress in their attack toward Zhmerinka and even admitted losing some ground before the determined German counter-attacks.

The Russians then began clearing out the Dnieper bend and in the Cherkasy area encircled ten Nazi divisions which they said were almost entirely annihilated or captured. They then recaptured the manganese center of Nikopol and the iron mine center of Krivoi Rog, pushing the German salient into Russia back on a great arc paralleling the curve of the Dnieper bend.

All the German forces in this bend area, including those defending Odessa and Nikolaev, were placed in peril by the new Russian drive far to the northwest. While cutting off their major rail link to Poland would not trap them, they would be forced back on poor roads, one-track, inadequate railroads over the Rumanian frontier, or the sea for supplies and for escape.

A Berlin broadcast said that the Russians have "started the expected large-scale offensive supported by tank and infantry formations in the area of Shepetovka and south of Lutsk." The thrust is directed against the entire Tarnopol-Lwow area, it added.

"Compared with these operations, all other operations on the southern wing of the eastern front, though being rather violent, have the character of engaging offensives only," the announcer said.

Another Berlin broadcast said the Russians were attacking with at least twelve to fourteen rifle divisions and three tank corps—more than 200,000 men.

The Russians made no mention of the fighting at Pskov, where their lines were last reported as close as five miles north and east of this northern communications city. The Nazi-controlled Paris radio, however, said the Germans during the last twenty-four hours had "withdrawn their advanced posts around Pskov to the main defense line."

LIBERATORS BOMB COGNAC AVIATION BASE

RAF Mosquitos Hit Berlin For Third Time In 24 Hours

By HILL

London, March 5 (AP)—Liberators of the Eighth Air Force bombed a German fighter and bomber base at Cognac, in southwestern France with good results today, and also attacked Bergerac and other enemy localities in the same area, United States headquarters announced tonight.

Fourteen enemy aircraft were shot down by the fighter escort made up of Thunderbolts, Mustangs and Lightnings of the Eighth Air Force and Mustangs of the Ninth Air Force, it was stated.

The number destroyed by bombers was not immediately tabulated.

Four Of Liberators Missing

Four Liberators and five fighters failed to return.

The assault on France, fourth major operation in four days by United States heavy bombers—followed on the heels of another attack on Berlin last night by RAF Mosquitos which hit the German capital soon after announcement Saturday of the first American raid ever made on it—a daylight foray by Flying Fortresses.

The Liberators' punch into southwestern France was accompanied by an all-day offensive against the Pas-de-Calais coast of northern France.

Shuttle Back And Forth

Marauders shuttled back and forth during most of the daylight hours. RAF Typhoon fighter bombers hit the same area in the morning and in the afternoon the Typhoons returned along with RAF and Canadian Spitfires.

These lighter planes roared across the Channel in waves totaling more than 200 planes in what was described officially as a "series of intermittent attacks."

Virtually no enemy fighters were seen during any of these operations, although unusually heavy flak was reported and one Marauder was shot down.

Crews said they saw bomb craters pitting the target area and columns of smoke rising.

"I saw our bomb pattern completely blanket the aiming point and all bombs fell on the target," declared one bombardier, Capt. William Leirevaag, Chicago, Ill.

The Liberators and their escort bucked both a strong headwind and rockets to carry their attack to the Nazis' "second line of defense," the airfields of southwestern France.

The two targets named were in the vicinity of Bordeaux—Cognac 70 miles to the north and Bergerac 55 miles to the east. Cognac last was raided by Fortresses Sept. 16, 1943.

Meet Stiff Opposition

Crews on the bombers reported good results and some found stiff fighter opposition.

2 Nazi Transports Sunk

LONDON, Monday, March 6 (AP)—Moscow announced today that Russian torpedo and attack planes sank two transports and a 700-ton minesweeper of a German convoy in the Barents Sea yesterday. A third transport was reported damaged.

The announcement was made in the broadcast midnight supplement to the Russian communiqué, recorded here by the Soviet monitor. The transports sunk were of 8,000 and 6,000 tons displacement, the war bulletin said. The damaged transport was listed at 7,000 tons.

Germans Know Invasion Is On, Says British Aide

By The Associated Press.

LONDON, March 5—Miss Ellen Wilkinson, Parliamentary Secretary for the Home Security Ministry, told a Labor meeting today that the air bombardment of Germany had already begun the Western invasion, and "if the people in this country do not realize it, the Germans do."

"No marching troops have ever been able to do the amount of devastation that is being done in Germany by the RAF and the USAAF," she said.

Referring to recent German attacks on London, Miss Wilkinson said enough incendiary bombs were dropped in February to have caused fires as big or even worse than those of 1940 and 1941, but of the bomb victims "not one has showed signs of jitters."

German Interpretation

London, March 5 (AP)—Berlin propagandists appeared to take a morsel of satisfaction today from President Roosevelt's announcement that the Soviet Union is to get approximately one third of the surrendered Italian fleet, interpreting it as an intrusion of Russia into the Mediterranean to the discomfort of Britain.

One DNB report, relaying what purported to be dispatches from Lisbon, said "there is a rumor, as yet unconfirmed, of Moscow having arrived at an understanding with Tito (the Yugoslav guerrilla leader) to make use of Cattaro as a constant base for Soviet naval forces."

2 GERMAN SKIERS KILLED

Cranz Brothers Had Held Most of Country's Championships

LONDON, March 5 (AP)—Germany's two best skiers, the Cranz brothers, have been killed while fighting for the Fatherland, according to German radio reports heard today. No details were given as to the date or front on which they died.

Announcement of the death of the brothers who represented Germany in the 1936 Olympics and held most of the country's ski championships, was made during a news report of the ski championships at St. Anton.

Another conspicuous absentee at the meet was a sister, Christel Cranz, Germany's outstanding woman skier. Radio reports said she no longer was competing but gave no reason for her retirement.

Rudolf Cranz, German ski champion, was killed in the first attack on the Russian front, according to a German announcement on July 3, 1941.

'Barber Pole' Planes Tried

Nazis Use 4-Color Craft to Harry U. S. Formation

AT AN AMERICAN AIR BASE IN ENGLAND, March 5 (AP).—The Germans pulled something new against an American bomber attack today, sending Messerschmitt planes painted like barber poles through a formation of Liberators without firing a shot.

"They reminded me of a circus, and I had to laugh right out loud," said Gunner Sergeant John Kolutn, of Utica, N. Y. "They had black propellers with white spinners (hubs). The base of the planes was aluminum with red trimming. On the underside were ten black crosses—Luftwaffe insignia. They came so close we could see the whites of the pilots' eyes."

Messerschmitts usually are painted in dun-color camouflage like the Allied fighters.

N.J. Gunner Scores Over Berlin

LONDON, March 5 (AP).—Sergeant Harold Stearns, of Passaic, N. J., top turret gunner on the Flying Fortress Rubber Check, was the first American gunner to claim an enemy plane in the Berlin area. Lieutenant Robert V. Doyle, of Englewood, N. J., was a member of a Fortress crew which participated in the same raid, made yesterday.

Eisenhower Appeals to American Troops For Self-Discipline, Cooperation With British

LONDON, March 5 (AP)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, saying that "only a self-disciplined army can win battles," told American forces in Britain tonight that it was vital that they work with the British "both in the fighting service and in civil life on the basis of mutual respect, consideration and cooperation."

"This means we must earn and keep their respect as a great military machine dedicated to the single task of doing our duty in winning this war," he said.

His order was laid down in a unique letter addressed "to every American serving under my command."

The duty of every company commander, he said, is to know all his men, their qualifications, their problems, their habits and their personalities. "He must protect them and insure to each a chance to serve intelligently and usefully in the cause for which our country is engaged in this war," he said.

Every high commander, General Eisenhower continued, must see that justice prevails and that "every enlisted man and enlisted Wac or civilian employe understands the right of legitimate appeal from what may be considered capricious or arbitrary punishment.

"On my assurance that our success in battle and our chances to return home safely and speedily are directly affected by our success in establishing here a reputation as a first-class, disciplined fighting organization, I ask each of you, particularly the officers, to be especially careful concerning:

"Improper use of motor transportation.

"Drinking in public places.

"Excessive drinking at any time. In this connection, public drunkenness by officers will invariably call for the sternest disciplinary action permissible.

"Loud, profane or indecent language, especially in public.

"Slovenliness in appearance.

"Any discourtesy to civilians.

"I stress again the constant need for road courtesy on the part of all drivers of United States Army cars."

He asked the help of all to see that "a very small minority did not damage the good name of the American Army in the United Kingdom" and closed the letter:

"With deep appreciation to each of you for duty well performed in the past and with the best of luck."

Wavell Praises Mountbatten

LONDON, March 5 (AP).—Field Marshal Viscount Wavell, former British commander in the Middle East and in Burma, has written to Admiral Lord Louis Mountbatten, Allied Southeast Asia commander, offering his warmest congratulations on Mountbatten's "striking success in Arakan."

"I know from experience," said Wavel, at present Viceroy of India, "the difficulties of fighting in Arakan, and can appreciate what the troops achieved."

40,000 Radios Sent to Britain

LONDON, March 5 (AP)—About 40,000 American radio sets have been received in Britain, many being sent over under lend-lease, but distribution to stores has been held up pending price regulations by the Board of Trade, it was learned today.

Three Surviving Quads Have 'Marvelous Day'

London, March 5 (AP)—The three surviving Heanor quadruplets had a "marvelous day" today, said the matron of a nursing home where the infants are being cared for.

"Michael seems the most alert," she added. "Maurren and Madeline are more sleepy, but all have learned to cry lustily when they are hungry."

MacDonald, the youngest of the quads born last Monday to the 23-year-old Nora Carpenter, died Thursday night.

Moscow Hears Finland Rejects Armistice Terms

Stockholm Report Is Carried on Russian Radio

LONDON, March 5 (AP).—The Moscow radio repeated without comment tonight a Stockholm dispatch reporting that Finland has rejected Soviet armistice terms and seeks the consent of Germany before withdrawing from the war.

"The Finnish government, wanting to tear the threads spun by Dr. Juho K. Paasikivi (former Minister to Russia), intends to bargain in order to protect its policy of wait and see," the dispatch was quoted in the broadcast.

"It is also reported that the Finnish government hopes to obtain, if only passively, the consent of Berlin to its withdrawal from the war. In this connection a point (in the Soviet peace proposal) relating to the internment of Colonel General Eduard Dietl's forces [the German troops in Finland] is considered, along with other points, unacceptable."

RUSSIAN FACTORIES RESUME OUTPUT

MOSCOW, March 5 — (AP) The Soviet Union's many factories turning out airplanes, tanks and guns, have begun producing spare parts for tractors and other farm machinery as Russia hurries toward her biggest spring planting since the war began.

One factory making the famous Illyushin No. 2 attack plane is understood to be filling a direct order for a large number of spare parts for tractors and combines, while the Stalin ordnance works issued a call for all-union competition for pre-schedule fulfillment of a spare parts program and aid to farmers in mending machines.

Early reports indicate the tractor repairing program is progressing satisfactorily, topping 1943 and 1942 figures by a large percentage.

The Moscow news economic correspondent said it now has become possible "to devote a certain portion of the industrial effort to meeting the needs of farmers."

The Soviet coal industry is making great strides toward recovery. February's output topped that in February, 1943, by 31 per cent.

The Donets basin is recovering rapidly after its liberation. A coke and chemical plant recently went into operation in Stalino, the tube-rolling mill and local iron and steel mill were restored in Makeyevka, the open-hearth furnace was repaired in Voroshilovsk, the first section of the iron foundry has begun operating in Lutugino, and the nail mill is functioning in Kramatorsk.

Two blast furnaces now are operating at the Yenakievo steel works, another soon will go into production at Makeyevka. Work has started on restoring the big blast furnace at Maripul, and those at Stalino.

POLISH OFFICIALS BLAMED

A Pravda Writer Asserts They Seek United Nations Disunity

MOSCOW, March 5 (AP)—Jacob Viktorov, a writer for the Russian Communist organ Pravda, declared today that the Polish Government-in-Exile was seeking to destroy United Nations' unity since it took exception to Prime Minister Churchill's declaration that the Soviet Union's terms to Poland were fair and just.

The writer leveled another attack on the Polish radio station SWIT and on the newspaper Daily Poland. The Russians are making plainer with every attack that they now regard the Polish Government in London in the same light they do the Nazis.

TRAIN SERVICE CUT

BERN, Switzerland, March 5—(AP) The French Communications commission has ordered the sixth reduction of passenger train service this year—which virtually ends civilian rail travel—to facilitate Nazi defense preparations.

Italian Partisans Trapped

BERN, March 5 (AP).—The "three musketeers," a trio of Italian partisans who for weeks had been killing Italian and German soldiers in northern Italy, were cornered at last by Italian troops on Saturday but killed a number of their attackers before they themselves were killed, it was reported today.

Gripsholm Sails With 711 Aboard

Lisbon, Monday, March 6 (AP)—The Swedish repatriation liner Gripsholm sailed from Lisbon at midnight with 711 passengers, North and South Americans homeward bound from Germany, occupied countries and neutral Portugal.

They were exchanged for German nationals from the Western Hemisphere. Among the passengers were 36 American war wounded and 283 diplomats. The remainder were civilians. Fifteen were from Lisbon, including the former Peruvian Charge D'Affaires. Oscar Bedevides, his American-born wife and child.

Due Back March 29

The Gripsholm is due to return to Lisbon from the United States March 29 with more German wounded to be exchanged for American wounded from Germany.

The identity of every passenger was checked ceremoniously before the ship's captain.

A representative of the Portuguese Foreign Office, Dr. Joao de Mendonca, received from a representative of the United States Legation a document stating that the exchange was considered completed satisfactorily. Both then officially handed over the passengers to the care of an International Red Cross representative for the trip to the United States.

Trains bearing more than 350 repatriates began arriving this morning. To most of them it was liberation in every sense, but others were described by their fellows as unhappy and bewildered. Some of these had been in Europe many years, with all their family ties and interests on this side of the Atlantic.

Groups of diplomats who had been in Lisbon since Feb. 25 boarded the Gripsholm first this morning.

The first train for repatriates today carried 114 persons, including thirty-five American and Polish-American nuns of the Daughters of the Holy Ghost order who had been interned since 1942.

Today's arrivals included only four persons not from internment camps, among them Kathleen Cannell, fashion writer for THE NEW YORK TIMES, who was twice arrested by the Germans but later received her freedom in Paris under a guarantee of the French fashion designers' organization.

Some repatriates reported wholesale arrests of socially prominent French men and women in February. About 600 had been transported to Germany, they said.

Turks Learn of Supply Ban

ISTANBUL, Turkey, March 4 (Delayed) (AP) — Instabul newspapers gave banner headlines to an announcement today that the United States and Britain have halted the flow of lend-lease and mutual aid of war supplies to Turkey. No authoritative editorial comment had appeared.

Ankara Warns on Pressure

The Ankara radio deplored yesterday what it called the bitter comment of the British press on the turn in Turkish-British relations and expressed concern whether it was designed to bring pressure on Turkey.

"Such action would bring exactly the opposite effect," the radio said. "It would add to the seriousness of the situation which at first was only a small misunderstanding. Small psychological mistakes may have disastrous consequences."

The broadcast, recorded by The Associated Press, said that, during the days when the war situation was critical in North Africa, Britain took over for her own use tanks sent from America for Turkey without causing any hard feelings in Turkey.

"This mode of action among the Allies appealed to us then," the radio said, "and we would not hesitate to render them even greater service now, provided our friends do not misunderstand us."

CHINESE PUSH ON MAINGKWAN

Stilwell's Forces Meet Stiff Opposition In North Burma

New Delhi, March 5 (AP)—North Burma Chinese forces were reported today to be meeting heavy Japanese artillery and mortar fire they drove into the approaches of Maingkwan, main enemy base in the Hukawng valley.

A Southeast Asia communique indicated that General Stilwell's Chinese troops are meeting some of the heaviest opposition of their Burma advance, with the Japanese fighting stubbornly to hold the base which lies some 80 miles northwest of Myitkyina, terminus of the Mandalay railway.

500 Sorties Flown

Allied airmen flew more than 500 sorties Friday and yesterday to bomb and strafe Japanese airfields, troop concentrations, supply lines and communications in large-scale aerial operations covering most of the Burma fronts, the announcement said.

Heavy and medium bombers of the Eastern command and heavy American bombers dumped destructive loads on airfields at Zayatkwin, Mingaladon, Lashio and Loiwing, and fighters, dive-bombers and fighter-bombers lashed out at Japanese camps, supplies and transportation routes.

Maingkwan Menaced

On the north Burma front the main Chinese force was reported driving down from Lashu-Ga, seven miles above Maingkwan, but Chinese communiques have reported advance columns much closer.

Other Chinese columns consolidating the Allied position behind the force driving on Maingkwan captured Wa-Gahtawng, two miles above Lashu-Ga, and cleared straggling Japanese forces from the Taring-Ga and Iamungzup-Ga areas along the Tanai river. Considerable Japanese equipment was reported taken and a number of dead were found.

Japanese Ambushed

On the main Arakan front to the southwest, British and Indian troops ambushed a Japanese supply caravan near the Maungdaw-Buthedaung road, killing or capturing all but a small number of the enemy column who escaped with their wounded.

The Allied announcement said that only a handful of the Japanese had survived of the forces routed from their grip on the Ngakyedauk Pass over the Mayu range. Remnants of this force were wiped out east of the range yesterday, and a small Japanese column attempting to escape with pack animals was shot up to the southeast.

Only artillery and patrol activity were reported on the Chin hills and Atwin Yomas fronts, and the announcement said there was little change in the Kaledan valley, where West African forces are driving southward in a flanking thrust at the port of Akyab.

Burma Chinese Gain in Fierce Jungle Fighting

Stilwell's Columns Breach Lines at Maingkwan and Advance on Wa Gahtawng

CHUNGKING, March 5 (AP).—Lieutenant General Joseph W. Stilwell's Chinese troops, driving across tough northern Burma to the relief of their blockaded homeland, have forced their way into the outskirts of Maingkwan, chief village of the Hukwang Valley, a Chinese communique announced today.

More than eighty Japanese were killed and much arms and ammunition seized in a hard jungle fight, the communique added.

Ten miles to the northeast another Chinese column reached the northern part of Wa Gahtawng, where another severe fight was raging. Wa Gahtawng was reached after the Chinese had captured Makaw on the east bank of the Tawang River, a northern tributary of the Tanai.

Capture of Maingkwan would open the way for a push toward Myitkyina, an important key to the new Ledo Highway which American engineers are building across Burma to take the place of the Burma Road.

Fliers Bomb Wuhu

CHUNGKING, March 5 (AP)—Domei News, Chinese news service, said today that Chinese planes raided Wuhu, Yangtze River port above Nanking, on Feb. 25, sinking two Japanese warships, demolishing the railway station and destroying two locomotives.

The type of warships was not specified, but they probably were small river gunboats.

Americans Bomb Indo-China

CHUNGKING, China, March 5 (AP)—American Mitchells and fighter-bombers made attacks on two Japanese ports in Indo-China, Hongay and Campha Port, a communiqué from Lieut. Gen. Joseph W. Stilwell's headquarters announced today.

Docks, railroad yards, shops and a coral processing plant were bombed at Campha Port, and a warehouse and railroad yards were strafed and a 1,100-ton ship probably sunk at Hongay, the communiqué said.

The Mitchells also bombed a chrome mine at Than-Hoa in Indo-China.

Japs Plan New Yellow River

Kunming, March 5 (AP)—The Japanese in North China are commandeering workmen to start digging a new course for the Yellow river, the local army newspaper Sao Tang Pao has reported.

The paper said the move was part of Japanese preparations for a last-ditch fight in North China. The Japanese were said to be planning to cut a channel, making the Yellow river flow into the Wei and thence northeastward to the sea.

Japs Put Prices On Heads Of U. S. Officers In China

FARNSWORTH.

A Fourteenth United States Air Force Base in China, March 1—(AP—Delayed)—Chinese military authorities have warned American air force personnel that the Japanese have organized a band of salaried gunmen at strategic points to kill American officers, especially flyers.

No such attacks have taken place as yet, but the warning heightens the atmosphere of suspense and mystery at such advanced bases as this one.

The notice stated that the Chinese have discovered that at least 200 would-be assassins have been assigned to certain regions where they are maintaining themselves on a daily wage of 400 Chinese dollars ($20 at the official United States rate) while awaiting opportunities for murder.

Bonuses Provided

Besides the per diem rate, according to the warning, the secret operatives have been promised a bonus of 300,000 Chinese dollars for the assassination of a captain, 600,000 for a major and 700,000 for a colonel or officer of higher rank. (The bonuses would amount to $15,000 to $35,000 in American exchange.)

Naturally, there is a great deal of gun-toting among the Americans.

Names Kept Secret

But the chances are against fulfillment of any such plot, thanks to general security measures taken by both Americans and the Chinese.

The Americans have reason to believe that Japanese intelligence is keeping fairly complete files on key personnel in the 14th Air Force.

This belief is in part responsible for the present rule against identification for publication of Americans engaged in actual combat.

There is circumstantial evidence that Japanese undercover work goes beyond the mere keeping of "vengeance files" and the maintenance of an assassination corps.

More than one officer is certain that the Japanese maintain an efficient weather observation service for the guidance of their air attacks in China.

In a recent raid on this field Japanese bombers at night dropped out of an overcast to 1,200 feet, lined themselves out perfectly over the runway and dropped a fine pattern of bombs, although sure knowledge of the terrain was necessary to avoid crashing into a mountain side. The damage was quickly repaired, however.

Suspicous Fires Seen

Sometimes, during an air raid, flares are sighted and suspicious fires burn on the mountain tops. But the Japanese need more than signal fires to come down through an overcast at the proper place. The fires could serve as a guide only after penetration of the overcast.

Some weeks ago at another base fighter pilots, on checking their planes the first thing in the morning occasionally discovered the batteries had been run down or the radios tuned in on frequencies other than their own station. A tightened guard at night brought a halt to this.

On another occasion a transmitter for one field made one of its periodic changes of frequency. These changes, highly secret, are intended to reduce the chances of the Japanese tuning in on American operations.

Pilots tuning in their receivers the morning after the change, however, heard a voice speaking English with a Japanese accent saying:

"Good morning, Americans—you see we have your new frequency."

Alsop Is Commissioned As Aide to Chennault

Ex-Correspondent Served With Flying Tigers

HEADQUARTERS UNITED STATES 14TH AIR FORCE IN CHINA, March 5 (AP).—Joseph W. Alsop jr., of Avon, Conn., a former Washington correspondent, who served with Major General Claire L. Chennault in the days of the American Volunteer Group, has been commissioned a first lieutenant in the Air Forces and reappointed Chennault's aide.

Alsop, thirty-three years old, who is related to both President and Mrs. Roosevelt, was caught in Hongkong when Japan entered the war. He reached American by exchange ship in August, 1942, then returned to China, working in lend-lease and supply.

[Lieutenant Alsop is a former member of the New York Herald Tribune Washington staff and newspaper columnist. He resigned a commission as lieutenant in the Naval Reserve in September, 1941, to become an administrative adviser to General Chennault, then a colonel in command of the Flying Tigers.]

"I'd been trying to get into the Army ever since repatriation and finally made it," Lieutenant Alsop said. "I couldn't pass my physical after the Hong Kong internment, but I'm okay now."

25 RED CROSS GIRLS SERVE IN CHINA AREA

NEW DELHI, March 5—(AP) Twenty-five Red Cross girls have been flown safely across the hump and now are operating clubs for American Soldiers in China, Army headquarters has announced.

Lt.-Gen. Joseph W. Stilwell originally was opposed to allowing Red Cross or other women into advanced bases such as China, where the only exit is by air, but the first few permitted there proved so popular with the troops that he finally agreed to a top limit of 25.

Pilots Bid High For Fly-Up Girl

Headquarters of the 14th United States Air Force in China, March 4 (AP—Delayed)—After winning in a hat-drawing the privilege of piloting Paulette Goddard, screen actress, on her tour of 14th United States Air Force bases in China, the pilot and co-pilot turned down offers as high as $100 to trade places with eager comrades.

First Lieutenants Duane C. McDonald, Eaton, Col., and Francis M. Stefanak, Farrell, Pa., won the draw for pilot and co-pilot respectively, whereafter the spirited cash-in-hand bidding among other pilots of the 14th transport section commenced.

CAROLINE ISLANDS BOMBERS' TARGETS

Ponape And Kusaie Attacked For Third Straight Day

WAITE

Pacific Fleet Headquarters, Pearl Harbor, March 5 (AP)—Heavy bombers of the Seventh Army Air Force and Fleet Air Wing Two, in new sweeps over the central Pacific, concentrated 23 tons of high explosives on Ponape and also pounded Kusaie Island, the navy disclosed today.

The attacks on March 3 marked the third straight day that Japanese bases in that area took a hammering.

Also Strike In Marshalls

Admiral Chester W. Nimitz, in a press release, said that navy search planes and army heavy and medium bombers also dropped more than 20 tons of bombs on four unidentified enemy-held atolls in the eastern Marshall Islands.

Several United States planes were damaged by ack-ack fire, but all returned safely," Nimitz said.

Ponape, only 440 miles east of Truk, Japan's highly important base in the Carolines, suffered hits on its harbor and ground installations.

The Japanese have garrisoned and equipped Ponape as an outer defense point for the Carolines.

Warehouses Fired

Kusaie, which lies 350 miles southeast of Ponape in the direction of the American-held Gilbert Islands, was hit by planes that set afire some of its extensive warehouses.

There was no mention of Japanese air interception, and presumably there was none.

Impotent Rabaul Takes Pounding

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN THE SOUTHWEST PACIFIC, Monday, March 6 (AP)—Allied bombers from the Solomon Islands bases dropped 164 tons of explosives on waterfront installations at Rabaul, the enemy base in northeastern New Britain.

As in previous raids here in the past three weeks, there was no interception of the bombers.

A later sweep of fighters over the Rabaul area, however, drew weak interception of eight enemy planes, one of which was shot down and another probably destroyed.

Clouds hampered observation of results of the bomber raid, but the later attack by fighters destroyed or damaged fourteen barges and harbor craft.

Japanese bases at Hollandia, Wewak, Hansa Bay and Madang on the northeastern New Guinea coast were blasted by Allied bombers and fighters. Hollandia airdromes received thirty-four tons of bombs and a Wewak airstrip took eighty-eight tons which caused large fires and explosions.

Fighters hitting the Hansa Bay area shot down three bombers and a fighter. In the Madang area three barges were destroyed and two more damaged.

American troops advancing along the New Guinea coast from Saidor toward Madang have reached Herwarth Point, about twenty miles west of Saidor. Supporting dive-bombers in this area hit Mindiri with thirty tons of explosives.

While the reinforced Americans on Los Negros Island are expanding their holdings, another stiff fight may be awaiting them.

A headquarters spokesman said there were indications the Japanese were moving more troops east from the garrison at Lorengau, on the northeast tip of Manus island, largest island in the Admiralties. Manus island is across a narrow strip of shallow water west of Los Negros. Its seizure is the prime objective of the Americans.

Yanks Win Los Negros Isle, Mopping Up Jap Remnants

Reinforcements Landed in Admiralties to Aid American Invaders.

EUNSON

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, southwest Pacific, Monday, March 6—(AP) American troops are mopping up the remnants of Japanese forces who broke their strength in bloody, futile attempts to retake Momote airdrome on Los Negros island in the Admiralty group.

Gen. Douglas MacArthur's communique today said that additional supplies and reinforcements "are constantly being landed" at Los Negros to buttress the strength of first cavalry units which undertook invasion of the island Feb. 29.

Jap Attack Smashed

The Japanese made their greatest bid to retake the airdrome and push the Americans into the sea in successive waves of counterattacks Friday night and early Saturday, leaving more than 700 dead at the western perimeter of the field.

Allied bombers from Solomon islands bases dropped 164 tons of explosives on waterfront installations at Rabaul, the enemy base

Allied bombers and American destroyers again hammered Lorengau, which has an airdrome smaller than Momote, and a large, deep anchorage known as Seadler harbor.

Bomb New Guinea Bases

Japanese bases at Hollandia, Wewak, Hansa Bay, and Madang on the northeastern New Guinea coast were blasted by Allied bombers and fighters. Hollandia airdromes received 34 tons of bombs and a Wewak airstrip took 88 tons which caused large fires and explosions and destroyed at least 16 planes on the ground.

Flier Takes B-25 Bomber Alone For Personal Attack on Rabaul

AN ADVANCED SOUTH PACIFIC AIR BASE, March 5 — (AP) An almost incredible one-man air raid by a young Army flier against the Japanese base at Rabaul on New Britain was disclosed here amid conflicting expressions of official pride over the young man's daring and disapproval of his judgment.

The flier was Second Lieut. James E. Cook, 24, University of Iowa graduate and son Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Cook of Williamsburg, Iowa.

He took a B-25 bomber, without authorization, on a night attack against the big base at Rabaul six weeks ago, when it was much better defended than now. His take-off was made during a Japanese plane attack on his own air strip, and he flew to Rabaul through a tropical storm that caused five other bombers to turn back.

Arriving over Rabaul alone, he finally located a break in the clouds over Keravat airdrome. He tried a theory of his own, making a glide bombing run on the airdrome, released all his bombs, and headed homeward over the water.

His plane took a Japanese anti-aircraft shell hit which riddled the vacant co-pilot's seat. The hit knocked out all his flying instruments. Then he had to hedgehop over New Ireland and the Bougainville coastline to find his way home through the heavy weather.

Intelligence officers at first refused to believe his report. Then they saw the shell hole in his plane.

His group commander, Col. Harry Wilson, temporarily grounded Lieut. Cook and sent him to the flight surgeon, Capt. Carl Wagner, of Cincinnati, for examination.

Afterward Lieut. Cook smilingly said:

"The doc psychoanalyzed me and said I wasn't crazy."

Major General Hubert R. Harmon, commander of the 13th Army Air force in the Solomons, said that "in one brief mission, this young officer has set for us both a very bad example and a most brilliant one."

The general added:

"He violated the fundamentals of air discipline—needlessly risked his own life and a valuable airplane—nevertheless I cannot but attach significance to his fighting spirit."

February Set Bomb Record

HEADQUARTERS OF THIRTEENTH ARMY AIR FORCE, South Pacific, March 5 (AP)—The largest tonnage of bombs in its history was released on Japanese positions by the Thirteenth Army Air Force during February, Maj. Gen. Hubert R. Harmon said today.

The commanding general of the force said almost 3,000 tons were dropped, mostly on the Rabaul area of New Britain, by Liberators, Mitchells and P-38's.

Fighter Pilot Language Too Strange for Writer

By The Associated Press.

BOUGAINVILLE, Solomon Islands, March 5—Fighter pilots have a language all their own. A war correspondent asked one how things went on his last combat flight and the pilot said:

"Fine. I was just about abeam this Jap Zeke and going for a ninety-degree deflection shot. He was going 200 knots and I was indicating 250 so I had to figure my compensation. He made a tight inside turn, so I flipped over, tailed and creamed him. Later I was just coming out of Chandelle when I saw a Tony that was trying to sucker me——."

The correspondent went to his typewriter and wrote:

"Lieutenant So-and-so, Navy Corsair pilot, today shot down his third enemy plane."

STRIKING MINERS INDUCTED

SYDNEY, Australia, Monday, March 6—(AP) Five hundred young coal miners were called up for military service today when they refused to return to work. As the men prepared to leave for their training camps there was no sign of settlement of the month-old strike which has closed ten big New South Wales mines with a loss of 150,000 tons of coal.

Russian Minister in Uruguay

MONTEVIDEO, Uruguay, March 5 (AP)—Sergei Orloff, the first Russian Minister to Uruguay after a five-year interruption in Russian-Uruguayan diplomatic relations, arrived by plane today. Uruguay and Russia re-established diplomatic relations last year. The new Minister was welcomed by representatives of Uruguay, the United States and Great Britain.

Argentina Jarred by Refusal Of U.S. to Recognize New Chief

MONTEVIDEO, Uruguay, March 5.—(AP) Jarred by Washington's "Wait and see" policy, the Argentine government of Gen. Edelmiro Farrell centered its attention today upon its neighbors, Uruguay and Paraguay, where there was a possibility of action independent of the United States.

Both Uruguay and Paraguay were reported ready to recognize the Buenos Aires government, a step which might lead to a split in Pan-American solidarity and the creation of a southern bloc headed by Argentina.

Chile and Bolivia already have recognized the regime of Farrell, which supplanted that of Gen. Ramirez on Feb. 24 and threw into doubt Argentina's newly adopted anti-Axis policy.

Reports from Buenos Aires said President Farrell's main worry was the possibility that other American countries would follow the lead of the United States, and apparently London also, in not establishing relations until they are satisfied Argentina intends to live up to her pledges to cooperate in Pan-American policies and hemisphere defense.

The announcement yesterday by the United States Acting Secretary of State, Edward R. Stettinius, Jr., that Washington was withholding official relationship might affect the decisions of Uruguay and Paraguay, but it seemed likely tonight that they would follow the example of Bolivia and Chile instead.

Reports from the Uruguayan Foreign office today said Mr. Stettinius had failed to give any concrete information to confirm the widespread belief that Ramirez had been forced to delegate his power to Farrell.

Farrell declared in an interview with the Associated Press last week that he proposed to call popular elections some time in the future and that his taking over of the presidential power would not change Argentina's foreign policy. He reiterated that idea in another interview yesterday with Reuters, the British news agency.

'SPARE ROME,' CARDINAL ASKS

Archbishop Of Quebec Speaks For Prelates Of Canada

Montreal, March 5 (AP)—Jean Marie Rodrigue Cardinal Villeneuve, Archbishop of Quebec, appealed last night to "authorities responsible for the conduct of the war" to spare Rome.

In a statement on behalf of the Catholic archbishops and bishops of Canada, he said:

"The time seems to have arrived when we should address a supreme appeal to the authorities responsible for the conduct of the war. We urge them to spare Rome, the glory of civilization, the center of art, culture and Christianity, which has been respected and worshipped for 20 centuries so much that it has been proclaimed the Eternal City.

"Ill No Victory Could Redeem"

"We invite not only our Catholic sons, but also those who would not be indifferent to Rome's future, to join with their prayers and their endeavors with us so that the belligerent nations will not, in devastating the city, inflict such an ill on humanity and to themselves which in the eyes of posterity no victory could redeem.

"We have confidence in the wisdom and the military valor of the chiefs who will recognize the magnitude of the task, as noble as it is difficult, of saving not only the human lives which lies in their hands, but also the Eternal City, precious crown of humanity."

RED CROSS GOES WITH OUR TROOPS TO BATTLE ZONES

WASHINGTON, March 5.—(AP) When our invasion forces move forward, the American Red Cross is ready to move with them.

During the last year Red Cross services both to armed forces and civilians have been carried to virtually every part of the world.

Services to the armed forces include hospital and convalescent service; home service for both able-bodied and hospitalized men and their families; blood plasma for Army and Navy: emergency supplies, such as surgical dressings, and assistance to prisoners of war.

In addition, for men overseas, social welfare and recreational activities are provided.

Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower says the Red Cross is the "single organized agency that brings to the men the things that have no place in official equipment tables, but do so much for their well being and morale."

Face Great Task

Red Cross officials say the magnitude of its job now is greater than ever. Still greater demands are expected in 1944 as the United Nations carry the war further into continental Europe and across the Pacific.

Already plans have been completed in the European theater of operations. The Red Cross announced recently in London it was "ready and willing to follow the Army onto the continent."

Men field directors, assigned to all units of American troops for months, will accompany them as far as the Army allows.

Red Cross girls picked for "ruggedness and health, ability, skill in languages, and the type of service they have given in the British training ground" will staff clubmobiles and establish "donut dugouts" in the rear of the lines.

The Red Cross is planning to maintain a number of operational groups in the combat area. Each unit will have two clubmobiles, a supply van, a utility vehicle similar to a jeep and various types of trailers. It will carry a month's supplies.

Each of the 85 clubmobiles which the Red Cross now has in use overseas can be quickly cleared and used as an ambulance to carry 10 stretcher cases or 20 ambulatory cases.

When World War II struck this country, the Red Cross always in readiness for disaster, increased the number of its workers and the extent of its activities. At Hawaii and Manila it acted instantly in evacuating and caring for refugees and injured civilians.

Red Cross service clubs have been set up in leave areas such as Cairo, Naples, Salerno and London.

Besides the clubmobiles there also are Aero clubs in isolated, often camouflaged fields. Red Cross girls are ever on hand to send missions off and welcome them back with refreshments and words of cheer.

Aid for Prisoners

More than 10,000,000 food parcels, toilet and comfort articles, clothing and medical supplies have been sent to United Nations. Prisoners held by the enemy and to American civilian internees in enemy territory.

On the home front Red Cross activities are equally extensive. One of the greatest of these has been the collection of blood plasma and serum albumin which the surgeons general of the Army and Navy term among the foremost life-savers of this war.

During 1944, the Red Cross says it must collect 5,000,000 additional pints if this lifeline is to be maintained.

Home services are carried on by the 3,756 Red Cross chapters throughout the United States for the dependents of servicemen. Loans and cash grants are made when family allotments are delayed. Red Cross workers aid in cases of sickness or death, and communicate with servicemen overseas.

Recruits Nurses

Another important function of the Red Cross has been recruitment of 37,000 nurses for the Army and 7,000 for the Navy. The Army nurse corps has asked for an additional 2,000 nurses. The Navy is calling for 500 more each month.

More than 150,000 trained Nurses' Aides and additional numbers of Red Cross Gray Ladies are serving in hospitals; others are conducting a recreational therapy program.

There are more than 4,000,000 women volunteer Red Cross workers on the home front. Their activities include a Motor Corps and a Camp Council which sets up day rooms for military personnel in this country. They knit garments for soldiers and sailors, make millions of garments for war victims.

One billion surgical dressings were made by Red Cross volunteers and sent to war theaters during the past year. Volunteers now are producing 3,000,000 a day.

Other domestic activities include disaster relief, teaching of first aid and water safety, and the organization, through the nation's schools, of vast forces for the Junior Red Cross.

"Even if the last gun is fired tomorrow, the need for Red Cross wartime services will still continue," Leon Fraser, national chairman of the 1944 Red Cross war fund, said as the organization set out to obtain contributions during March totaling $200,000,000.

May Says Threat Blocked Army's Use Of Racial Book

Washington, March 5 (AP)—Chairman May (D., Ky.) said today a threat by the House Military Committee to "expose the motive behind this book" had blocked army distribution of a pamphlet which he said described Northern Negroes as the intellectual equals of Southern white men.

The committee action, May said, came after it was learned that 55,000 copies of the book, "the races of mankind," had been purchased by the War Department for distribution in connection with army orientation courses, following refusal of the United Service organizations to allow the pamphlets to be circulated in USO centers.

Material Called Inadequate

The War Department said, however, it had been decided not to use the pamphlet before the committee started its investigation because some of its material was regarded as inadequate.

A spokesman explained that the book was not intended for soldiers in the orientation courses but for use of officer-instructors as background material to help counteract the Nazi theory of a super race. The army's copies are in a warehouse pending further action on their disposition.

Tolerance Called Motive

May said sponsors of the book claimed it was prepared to promote tolerance by teaching the fundamental unity of races and contending that economic differences are largely responsible for racial differences.

It was published by the Public Affairs Committee, Inc., of New York city, and written by Prof. Ruth F. Benedict and Dr. Gene Weltfish, of the Department of Anthropology, Columbia University.

May's ire was fanned by a claim he said the book made that a survey showed that the average Negro in New York, Massachusetts and Connecticut ranked on an intellectual level with the average white man in Kentucky, Arkansas and Mississippi.

After the USO had banned the book, May asserted, the CIO War Relief Committee promoted its distribution and the army obtained 55,000 copies. Army spokesmen, he said, told the committee distribution had been held up because some of the material was subject to misinterpretation.

Army Not To Distribute It

"It won't be distributed by the army," he said flatly. "If it is, we will have plenty to say and it will be said right on the floor of the House. It has no place in the army program."

While no further committee action is contemplated, May added, "we intend to keep an eye open to see that this book does not go out to our soldiers through War Department channels. If it does, somebody is going to have to do plenty of explaining."

Pamphlet Published Here

"The Races of Mankind" was written by Dr. Ruth F. Benedict and Dr. Gene Weltfish, of the Columbia University Department of Anthropology, and was prepared under the direction of a committee of the American Association of Scientific Workers. It is published by the Public Affairs Committee, Inc., a non-profit educational organization with headquarters at 30 Rockefeller Plaza, which distributes it at 10 cents.

FDR in Gay Mood, Hears Jibes On Fourth Term at Press Party

WASHINGTON, March 5.—(AP) The most complete turnout of the nation's war leaders since Pearl Harbor ate unrationed duck and traded off-the-record political wisecracks with the capital's press last night at the annual dinner of the White House Correspondents association.

President Roosevelt, attending the only party outside the White House which he allows himself in wartime, sang loud when entertainers called for audience participation and laughed louder at some of the fourth term jokes which flew thick all evening.

With proceeds going to the President's favorite philanthropy, the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, the affair drew volunteer entertainment of a headline value on a par with the names at the head table. Stars of music, stage, radio and screen took part.

The National Broadcasting company arranged the show.

"I don't think just that sort of show ever was put on before," commented Paul Wooton of the New Orleans Times Picayune, retiring president of the association, who was succeeded by Merriman Smith of the United Press.

Many Stars Perform

Wooton agreed with other officials of the association that headliners couldn't be picked out. The list included Fritz Kreisler, violinist; Bob Hope of radio, movies and armed service camps all over the world; Gracie Fields, British comedienne; Pedro Bargas, Mexican tenor whom Latin Americans rate with Caruso; Fred Waring and his singers; Elsie Janis of musical comedy fame; Ed Gardiner, the barkeeper "Archie" of radio's "Duffy's Tavern"; Nan Merriman and Robert Merrill, NBC singing star; and Dr. Frank Black, NBC musical director with a 40-piece orchestra.

The Army and Navy contributed a share to the proceedings, the Army flying Hope in from Mobile through soupy weather only 20 minutes before he went on the stage, and the Navy providing a band.

The head table list read like a directory of top officialdom, with the President, Vice-President Wallace, five cabinet members, a quorum of the Supreme court, ranking officers of the Army and Navy led by Admirals Ernest J. King and William D. Leahy, head men of the chief war agencies, Speaker of the House Sam Rayburn of Texas, and a scattering of White House advisers including Judge Samuel Rosenman.

Barkley Absent

Official business that wouldn't wait accounted for most of the big-name absentees, who sent regrets. That short list included Generals George C. Marshall and H. H. Arnold, and Senator Barkley of Kentucky, Senate majority leader.

The proceedings ran all the way from Hope's insistence that the "D.C" in a Washington address means "damn confusing" and that the highest ambition left to American youth is the vice-presidency; to a solemn toast to the armed forces with which Mr. Roosevelt closed the evening after a brief, off-the-record, extemporaneous speech.

FIVE CONTENDERS LEADING FIELD FOR REPUBLICANS

WASHINGTON, March 5 —(AP) With the preconvention campaign entering its intermediate phase, practical politicians are beginning to discount sharply the chances that any darkhorse will win the Republican presidential nomination.

It appeared today that a majority of the 1,059 delegates will go uninstructed to the party's Chicago convention four months hence, but unless the pattern of events changes radically many Republican strategists believe the nomination will be taken by one of the candidates who shows material strength on the first ballot.

That is what happened in 1940 when Wendell L. Willkie, who is trying for the nomination again, won out on the sixth ballot after trailing Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York and Senator Robert Taft of Ohio.

Taft, who has eliminated himself from the race this year in favor of Gov. John W. Bricker of Ohio, said "I can't see any likelihood of a deadlock developing between the leading candidates which would open the way for a darkhorse."

"There hasn't been a real darkhorse nomination in 50 years," he told a reporter.

Vandenburg for MacArthur

Taft's ideas do not coincide with those of Senator Vandenberg (R.-Mich.), who is pushing the possible candidacy of Gen. Douglas MacArthur. But Vandenberg concedes that only a deadlock between candidates with far more pledged delegates than MacArthur can put his candidate into the picture.

With the selection of delegates just beginning — New Mexico has picked eight and Florida will act tomorrow to name a group to cast 15 votes—it is too early to forecast which candidate will be in a leading position on the first ballot. Governor Dewey, who is not an announced candidate but whose friends say he will accept a nomination, is expected to go into the convention with the major share of New York's 93 votes. He apparently will have much strength elsewhere.

Willkie Presses Drive

Willkie, campaigning actively for delegates, believes he will have strong support from New England and some far Western states and even his enemies concede him Oregon's 15 votes.

Bricker, expected to develop strength among some southern delegations, will have Ohio's 50 votes, or a major share of them. Former Gov. Harold Stassen of Minnesota, now in the Navy, will be supported by Minnesota's 25 votes. MacArthur's name has been entered in the Illinois preferential primary with the possibility that he will have the backing of some of that state's 59 votes.

These five appear to be the leaders today, with a sprinkling of "favorite son" candidates, who probably will have the support only of their states. In some cases, however, that represents a sizable vote.

These candidates, none of whom now is widely considered as a possibility for the presidential nomination, include Gov. Edward Martin of Pennsylvania (70 votes), Gov. Earl Warren of California (50 votes), Gov. Dwight Griswold of Nebraska (15 votes), and Gov. Leverett Saltonstall of Massachusetts (35 votes). There also may be others but if the pattern of 1940 holds this year, the choice may well lie between the five top contenders.

'AMERICA FIRST' GROUP TO HOLD CONVENTION

WASHINGTON, March 5—(AP) Gerald L. K. Smith, national director of the America First party, said today his organization would hold a national rally at St. Louis, March 25 but that it would not enter a candidate in the presidential campaign unless Wendell L. Willkie and President Roosevelt are the major party nominees.

Smith told a press conference that he did not believe that the attitude of the America Firsters prior to the war is an issue now, although he said members of his organization hope the political campaign will center around the issues of "nationalism versus internationalism."

ITALIAN-SHIP GIFT TO REDS ASSAILED

Editor Calls It Allied Defeat On Psychological Front

New York, March 5 (AP)—Vanni Montana, associate editor of Justizia, Italian organ of the International Ladies Garment Workers Union (AFL), said today he had cabled Count Carlo Sforza, anti-Fascist leader now in Italy, urging him to protest the giving of one third of the Italian fleet to Russia.

"This is the most decisive defeat that the United Nations have received on the psychological front," Montana told the third conference of the American Labor Press Association here.

He said the announcement by President Roosevelt that part of the fleet would be given to Russia "has created a demoralization" among 5,000,000 Italian-Americans and Italians, who "have a feeling they have been betrayed."

Japanese In Java Ban Sarongs For Teachers

New York, March 5 (AP)—Japanese authorities in Java have ordered schoolteachers to stop wearing sarongs and don pants, shorts or skirts as "another step to make the Indonesians fit in with the far-reaching changes in their daily life," the OWI reports.

The Japanese-controlled Batavia radio said "the intensive practice of physical education in the schools nowadays is responsible for taking this measure."

Appeal Against Bombing

New York, March 5 (AP)—Twenty-eight clergymen and writers have signed an appeal to Christians to "examine themselves concerning their participation in this carnival of death"—the war, John Nevin Sayre, cosecretary of the American Fellowship of Reconciliation, announced today.

The plea is contained in a foreword to the organization's publication of "Massacre by Bombing," an article by Vera Brittain, British author, on what she calls the "obliteration bombing" of enemy-occupied countries of Europe, and purporting to detail effects of Allied bombings on ten German cities.

"Apparently," said Sayre, "the same sort of bombing is in store for Rome and other occupied cities unless public opinion can stop it."

Last War And This One

The foreword said that in the first World War "some shreds of the rules of war were observed," but that today warring nations "pay little heed to the former decencies and chivalry."

"We have not acquainted ourselves with the verities and realities of what is being done in our name in Europe, and surely Christian obligation calls upon us to pray incessantly to God that He in His own way may bid the winds and waves of war be still," the foreword added.

Proposal Of "Open Towns"

Sayre, in a postscript to the article, supported proposals for "open towns" or other non-military sanctuary areas, and expressed fear that the United Nations might be approaching use of poison gas.

Signers to the foreword as announced by Sayre were:

Dr. George A. Buttrick, Dr. Allan Knight Chalmers, Dr. J. Henry Carpenter, Dr. Phillips P. Elliott, Dr. Harry Emerson Fosdick, Dr. John Haynes Holmes, the Rev. John Paul Jones, Dr. John H. Lathrop, Dr. Elmore M. McKee, Dr. Paul Scherer, Dr. Ralph Sockman, all of New York.

Dr. Henry H. Crane, Detroit; Dr. Albert E. Day, Pasadena, Cal.; Dr. Georgia Harkness, Garrett Biblical Institute; Dr. Allan A. Hunter, Los Angeles.

Other Signers Of Plea

Miss Josephine Johnson, author; Dr. E. Stanley Jones, former Methodist missionary to India Dr. Rufus Jones, Haverford College; Dr. Kenneth Scott Latourette, Yale Divinity School; the Rt. Rev. W. Appleton Lawrence, Episcopal Bishop of Western Massachusetts; the Rt. Rev. Walter Mitchell, Bishop of Arizona; Dr. Kirby Page, La Habra, Cal.; the Rev. Clarence E. Pickett, Philadelphia; the Rev. Edwin McNeill Poteat, Colgate-Rochester Divinity School.

FEW DIE IN HOSPITAL SHIPS

Admiral McIntire Says Mortality Rate Is Less Than .5 Per Cent

BALTIMORE, March 5 (AP)—The mortality rate on hospital ships has been less than one-half of one per cent, Vice Adm. Ross I. McIntire, Surgeon General of the Navy, said today on an official inspection of the Refuge, the Navy's newest and largest hospital ship. He described the ship in a broadcast from the office of her commander.

The one-time luxury liner, cargo vessel and troop transport is manned chiefly by doctors, dentists, nurses and enlisted men not long removed from civilian life. She has fixed berths for 630 patients and carries a mobile field hospital comprising seventy-two cots.

Approximately 1,000 guests and Navy personnel were received at an "open house" aboard the Refuge, which was placed in commission Feb. 24.

160,000 Soldiers Join Legion

ROCHESTER, March 5 (AP).—More than 160,000 soldiers of the present war now are members of the American Legion, William N. Lewis, of Floral Park, State Commander, told a conference of Legion officers here today. In New York State the Legion membership as of Feb. 1 was 85,000, an increase of more than 18,000 over a year ago, Mr. Lewis said. About 100 representatives from sixteen counties of the 7th and 8th Judicial Districts attended the conference.

LAST NIGHT'S RAF OPERATIONS, IN ADDITION TO THE NEW BLOW AT THE GERMAN CAPITAL, ALSO INCLUDED ATTACKS ON WESTERN GERMANY AND MINE LAYIN[illegible] ENEMY WATERS.

[illegible]ITOR[illegible]

THE RAF'S FLEET MOSQUITOS ALSO HAD HIT THE GERMAN CAPITAL FRIDAY NIGHT.

THE OFFICIAL ANNOUNCEMENT OF TODAY'S RAIDS BY THE LIBERATORS SAID THE TARGETS WERE "IN FRANCE," INSTEAD OF MAKING THE USUAL REFERENCE TO "NORTHERN FRANCE." THIS MAY HAVE INDICATED A PENETRATION BEYOND THE MUCH-POUNDED "ROCKET COAST" AREA.

THE BIG BOMBERS BUCKED A BARRAGE OF ROCKET SHELLS AND A 60-MILE HEAD WIND TO LOOSE THEIR BOMBS.

THE LIGHTER ALLIED EXPEDITIONARY AIRFORCE FORMATIONS MAY HAVE STRUC AT THE MUCH-BOMBED TARGETS OF NORTHERN FRANCE, FOR THE ANNOUNCEMENT MENTIONED "SEVERAL MILITARY OBJECTIVES" INSTEAD OF THE USUAL SIMPLE "MILITARY OBJECTIVES," AN INDICATION THAT THE SCOPE OF THE ATTACKS MAY HAVE BEEN WIDENED.

THE STORY OF YESTERDAY'S BIG AMERICAN OPERATION INTO GERMANY AND THE FIRST U.S. ATTACK ON BERLIN REMAINED LARGELY OBSCURED BY OFFICIAL SECRECY.

A U.S. HEADQUARTERS ANNOUNCEMENT SAID ONLY THAT "ONE FORMATION" OF FLYING FORTRESSES HAD REACHED BERLIN--DROPPING BOMBS WITHOUT GREAT OPPOSITION THROUGH HEAVY CLOUDS ON THE OUTSKIRTS OF THE CAPITAL ACCORDING TO THE FLIERS' ACCOUNTS--WHILE THE BULK OF THE FORCE, BATTLING SUB-ZERO WEATHER, WENT ON TO OTHER TARGETS IN "EASTERN GERMANY." TODAY'S GERMAN COMMUNIQUE SAID, HOWEVER, THAT THE RHINELAND AREAS OF COLOGNE AND BONN WERE HIT BY THE AMERICANS YESTERDAY, AND THERE WAS NO IMMEDIATE CLARIFICATION OF THE CONFLICTING REPORTS.

THE AMERICAN BOMBERS SHOT DOWN SIX GERMAN PLANES WHILE THEIR FIGHTER ESCORTS WERE ACCOUNTING FOR NINE OTHERS AGAINST A LOSS OF 14 BOMBERS AND 23 (CORRECT) FIGHTERS, THREE FIGHTERS LESS THAN ANNOUNCED IN THE FIRST TENTATIVE REPORT.

THIS WAS A RECORD AMERICAN FIGHTER LOSS. THE PREVIOUS HIGH OF 16, ON NOV.29 AGAINST BREMEN, PROBABLY WAS LOST FROM A MUCH SMALLER ESCORT FORCE.

THE BERLIN ATTACKERS SAID THEY MET A WEAK DEFENSE OF NO MORE THAN 40 GERMAN FIGHTERS WHICH THE ESCORT FIGHTERS ROUTED AFTER A FEW ATTACKS. MANY FIGHTERS DECLARED THAT NOT ONE BOMBER WAS SHOT DOWN OVER THE CAPITAL, AND THE FLIERS WHO STRUCK AT OTHER TARGETS REPORTED NO EXTRAORDINARY AERIAL COMBAT, LEAVING UNCLEAR THE REASON FOR THE HIGH FIGHTER LOSS.

YESTERDAY'S 50-BELOW-ZERO WEATHER IN THE SUBSTRATOSPHERE AND THE LONG, 1,200-MILE ROUND TRIP PENETRATION PROBABLY WERE BIG FACTORS, HOWEVER.

THE ATTACK S[illegible]MOUNTED THE LAST HURDLE TO THE OBLITERATION OF THE NAZI CAPITAL, AND WITH IT WAS THE IMPLICATION THAT VIRTUALLY ALL TARGETS IN THE FATHERLAND ARE NOW SUBJECT TO THE THOROUGHGOING DESTRUCTION OF DAYLIGHT PRECISION BOMBING.

IT ALSO MARKED ANOTHER SIGNIFICANT WEEK IN THE RAPID DEVELOPMENT OF "VERTICAL WARFARE," EVEN THOUGH THE WEEK'S TOTAL OF FIVE HEAVY ATTACKS BY THE AMERICAN EIGHTH AIRFORCE AND ONE BY THE RAF WAS FAR BELOW THE PREVIOUS RECORD SURGE OF A DOZEN HEAVY ASSAULTS BY THE EIGHTH, 15TH AND RAF IN 10 DAYS.

GERMANY'S WEAK DEFENSE WAS ANOTHER OUTSTANDING FEATURE OF THE WEEK.

BOTH THE AMERICANS AND THE RAF REGISTERED THE LOWEST PROPORTIONAL LOSSES OF THE WAR, LOSING 45 HEAVY BOMBERS OUT OF FORMATIONS PROBABLY TOTALING MORE THAN 3,000 PLANES.

IT WAS THE OPINION HERE THAT ALTHOUGH THE PERIOD CANNOT BE TAKEN AS CONCLUSIVE EVIDENCE OF THE DISINTEGRATION OF GERMANY'S AIRFORCE --WHICH MANAGED TO MAKE TWO CONSIDERABLE RAIDS ON LONDON--IT DOES REFLECT THE TREND.

THE MESSERSCHMITT TWIN-ENGINE FIGHTER PLANT AT GOTHA WAS KNOCKED OUT OF CURRENT PRODUCTION BY LIBERATORS IN THEIR ATTACK OF FEB.24, THE UNITED STATES STRATEGIC AIR FORCES ANNOUNCED ON THE BASIS OF A STUDY OF RECONNAISSANCE PHOTOGRAPHS.

TWENTY-THREE OF THE PRINCIPAL PLANT BUILDINGS WERE DESTROYED, 34 DAMAGED AND ONLY A FEW LEFT UNSCATHED. ONE HUNDRED PLANES WERE STANDING IN ADJACENT FIELDS AND A NUMBER WERE DAMAGED.

THE GERMAN RADIO MADE ITS FIRST ADMISSION TONIGHT OF DAMAGE TO THE OUTSKIRTS OF BERLIN BY THE AMERICAN RAID YESTERDAY.

"IN SOME DISTRICTS OF THE PROVINCE OF BRANDENBURG SOME 40 KILOMETERS (A LITTLE LESS THAN 25 MILES) FROM THE CENTER OF THE CAPITAL SMALL DAMAGE WAS CAUSED BY INCENDIARIES," THE BROADCAST SAID.

US-LIBERATOR BASE IN ENG - ADD XXX FIGHTERS

"ALTOGETHER THERE WERE SEVEN OF THESE," KOLUTH CONTINUED. "FIVE HUNG OFF TO ONE SIDE LIKE BAIT TO ATTRACT OUR ATTENTION WHILE THE OTHER TWO DIVED THROUGH US HEAD ON.

"MAYBE THEY WERE TRAINING SHIPS AND THE NAZIS SENT THEM UP TO GET SOME REAL EXPERIENCE. ONE THING SURE, THE GERMANS MUST BE VERY SHORT OF FIGHTERS OR AT LEAST THEY WOULD SEND UP SOMETHING THAT COULD SHOOT."

"IN NO INSTANCE," THE GERMAN BROADCAST CONTINUED, "HAS BERLIN BEEN FLOWN OVER BY NORTH AMERICAN BOMBERS. THE UNITED STATES ARMY AIR FORCE COMMUNIQUE CLAIMED ONLY THAT FORTRESSES ATTACKED 'THE BERLIN DISTRICT.'

"DOOLITTLE BECAME FAMOUS FOR HIS BOMBING OF TOKYO AND ROME AND WHEN HE WAS APPOINTED CHIEF OF THE UNITED STATES BOMBERS IN GREAT BRITAIN THE GERMAN AIR DEFENSES TOOK PARTICULAR MEASURES AGAINST DAYLIGHT ATTACKS ON THE REICH CAPITAL.

"WE HAVE DEFINITE PROOF THAT NORTH AMERICAN BOMBER FORMATIONS HAD ORDERS TO ATTACK BERLIN, BUT WERE UNABLE TO EXECUTE THEM," THE NAZI BROADCAST SAID. "AMERICAN PROPAGANDA, ALREADY IMPRESSED BY DOOLITTLE, TOOK THE INTENTION FOR THE FACT AND ANNOUNCED THE BOMBING OF BERLIN.

"IN FACT THE BULK OF THE FIRST FORMATION DID NOT GET BEYOND THE NORTH GERMAN COASTAL REGION AND THE OTHERS DID NOT GET BEYOND THE RHINELAND."

BY ERNEST AGNEW

LONDON, MARCH 5--(AP)--THE GERMAN GENERAL STAFF NOW IS SO CONVINCED THAT GERMANY HAS LOST THE WAR THAT IT ALREADY IS PLANNING ANOTHER WAR WITHIN 25 YEARS IN WHICH THE UNITED STATES WILL BE THE PRINCIPAL OPPONENT, ACCORDING TO THE FRENCH UNDERGROUND NEWSPAPER "COMBAT" AS QUOTED IN THE LONDON SUNDAY CHRONICLE.

A PRELIMINARY MEMORANDUM FOR THE NEXT WAR HAS BEEN DRAFTED FOR THE GENERAL STAFF BY GEN. OTTO VON STUELPNAGEL, MILITARY GOVERNOR OF FRANCE AND BEFORE 1939 CHIEF OF THE GERMAN INTELLIGENCE SERVICE, THE PAPER REPORTED.

"COMBAT," WHICH IS PRINTED AT ALGIERS, PRESENTED THESE SUPPOSED EXCERPTS FROM STUELPNAGEL'S 60-PAGE REPORT, THE CHRONICLE SAID:

"GERMANY, IN THE YEARS BEFORE THE NEXT WAR, WILL WEAR OUT HER ENEMIES BY HER TACTICS IN NEGOTIATION AND INITIATE A PROPAGANDA CAMPAIGN APPEALING TO THE HUMANITARIAN SENTIMENTS AND SYMPATHY OF THE WORLD.

"GERMANY CONFUSED THE PRINCIPAL ADVERSARY WITH THE SUBSIDIARY ADVERSARY--BECAUSE SHE WANTED TO CONQUER FRANCE INSTEAD OF THROWING HERSELF FROM THE BEGINNING OF JUNE, 1940, AGAINST ENGLAND WITH ALL HER AVAILABLE FORCES.

"IN THE NEXT WORLD WAR, WHICH SHOULD TAKE PLACE WITHIN 25 YEARS, X X X THE PRINCIPAL ADVERSARY WILL BE THE UNITED STATES AND THE ENTIRE EFFORT MUST BE CONCENTRATED AGAINST THIS COUNTRY FROM THE BEGINNING.

"WE SHALL BE WRONG IF WE TRY TO CONQUER RUSSIA WHILE LEAVING INTACT AMERICAN INDUSTRIAL PRODUCTION."

FOR THE SUCCESS OF THE PLAN, STUELPNAGEL WAS QUOTED, IT IS ESSENTIAL FOR THE GERMANS TO HOLD THE WEST ATLANTIC COAST OF EUROPE FROM NORTH CAPE TO GIBRALTAR, WITH AIR BASES IN WESTERN AND SOUTHERN FRANCE AND NAVAL BASES ON FRANCE'S ATLANTIC AND NORTH SEA COASTS.

HE ADDED:

"THE FIRST GOAL TO BE PURSUED SHOULD BE FROM NOW TO ESTABLISH A CAMOUFLAGED DICTATORSHIP IN FRANCE. APPEARING TO BE ON FRIENDLY TERMS WITH THE ANGLO-AMERICAN POWERS, SHE WILL BE IN REALITY OUR ALLY.

LONDON, MARCH 5-(AP)-PREMIER JOSEPH STALIN TODAY ANNOUNCED THE OPENING OF A NEW OFFENSIVE BY GEN. NIKOLAI VATUTIN'S FIRST UKRAINIAN ARMY.

MORE THAN 500 PLACES HAVE BEEN CAPTURED IN THE NEW OFFENSIVE ALONG A FRONT EXTENDING FOR 120 MILES, SAID STALIN'S SPECIAL ORDER OF THE DAY AS BROADCAST FROM MOSCOW. HE SAID FOUR GERMAN TANK DIVISIONS AND EIGHT INFANTRY DIVISIONS HAVE BEEN ROUTED.

THE NEW OFFENSIVE IS IN THE LOWER UKRAINE ON THE SOUTHERN FLANK OF THE RUSSIAN SALIENT INTO POLAND AND IS DRIVING TOWARD THE OLD RUMANIAN FRONTIER.

THE RUSSIAN PREMIER ORDERED THE NEW VICTORIES TO BE CELEBRATED IN MOSCOW TONIGHT WITH 20 SALVOS FROM 224 GUNS.

IN TWO DAYS OF OFFENSIVE FIGHTING THE RUSSIAN FORCES WERE REPORTED TO HAVE BROKEN THROUGH TO A DISTANCE OF 12 TO 30 MILES, CAPTURING A NUMBER OF TOWNS INCLUDING THE RAILWAY STATION OF ISYASLAVL, 12 MILES SOUTHWEST OF SHEPETOVKA AND ABOUT THE SAME DISTANCE FROM THE OLD POLISH FRONTIER.

STALIN'S ANNOUNCEMENT SAID THE RUSSIAN ARMIES WERE FIGHTING AT THE APPROACHES OF VOLOCHISK, ABOUT 70 MILES FROM THE OLD RUMANIAN FRONTIER AND ASTRIDE THE ODESSA-LWOW RAIL LINE.

ANOTHER DNB BROADCAST SAW PROOF OF THE "DEVOTED EXACTNESS WITH WHICH ANGLO-AMERICANS TRY TO SATISFY THE KREMLIN," AND DECLARED:

"BY TAKING OVER PART OF THE ITALIAN FLEET MOSCOW WOULD ENHANCE SOVIET INFLUENCE IN THE MEDITERRANEAN."

IT QUOTED THE BERLIN NEWSPAPER LOKALANZEIGER AS RECALLING THAT "BRITAIN ALWAYS OPPOSED ITALY IN THE MEDITERRANEAN AND EVEN STARTED A 'WAR OF SANCTIONS' AGAINST HER BECAUSE BRITAIN CONSIDERED THIS SEA HER NOT-TO-BE-RESTRICTED DOMAIN. CHURCHILL'S WAR HAS NOW PRODUCED A SITUATION WHIC HAS LEFT BRITAIN NO CHOICE BUT TO HAND OVER TO THE SOVIETS CONTROL OVER THE MEDITERRANEAN."

THE GERMAN-CONTROLLED ROME RADIO, QUOTING WHAT WERE DESCRIBED AS SWEDISH AND OTHER NEUTRAL REPORTS, SAID THE RUSSIANS WOULD GET TWO BATTLESHIPS AND EIGHT CRUISERS AS WELL AS A NUMBER OF DESTROYERS AND SUBMARINES AS HER SHARE OF THE ITALIAN FLEET.

London, march 5--(ap)-- russian forces in the shepetovka sector have broken into the german front, the german high command communique said today.

in this sector, which is on the left flank of gen.nikolai vatutin's long salient driven into poland "the soviets attacked after strong artillery preparation with superior infantry and tank units," said the communique broadcast by berlin radio and recorded by the associated press.

"while the soviets in some sectors were repelled after 59 tanks were shot up, they succeeded in breaking into our front in other places. bitter fighting is in progress."

The communique admitted further that the red army was continuing its attacks in the pskov and narva sectors on the northern end of the front but declared german forces "smashed all attacks and sealed off local ~~[illegible]~~ break-throughs."

LONDON, MARCH 5-(AP)-THE TEXT OF A LETTER BY GEN.DWIGHT D.EISENHOWER ADDRESSED "TO EVERY AMERICAN SERVING UNDER MY COMMAND:" (ABOUT 900)

MAR 5 1944

"IT IS UNFORTUNATE AND UNAVOIDABLE THAT A NUMBER OF LARGE UNITED STATES HEADQUARTERS AND CERTAIN UNITED STATES MILITARY ORGANIZATIONS SHOULD BE LOCATED IN LONDON AND OTHER MAJOR CITIES IN THIS COUNTRY. THIS NECESSITY MAKES IT DIFFICULT FOR COMMANDS TO INSURE IN THEIR UNITS THAT EFFICIENCY THAT IS ESSENTIAL TO CREATION OF AN EFFECTIVE FIGHTING FORCE.

CLOSE UNDERSTANDING AND MUTUAL TRUST BETWEEN OFFICERS AND ENLISTED MEN THAT DEVELOP READILY UNDER FIELD CONDITIONS ARE NOT EASY TO ESTABLISH WHEN LIVING CONDITIONS, DISTRACTIONS AND DIVERSIONARY INTERESTS OF CITY EXISTENCE INTERVENE. MOREOVER, THE CONTINUOUS PRESENCE IN LARGE CITIES OF INDIVIDUALS ON PASS OR LEAVE MAKES CLOSE SUPERVISION OF LOCAL UNITS EVEN MORE DIFFICULT.

THIS SITUATION PLACES AN ADDED BURDEN UPON ALL OFFICERS. ONLY LEADERSHIP ON A HIGH ORDER CAN SOLVE THE MANY PROBLEMS INVOLVED. PROBLEMS INCREASED IN COMPLEXITY BY REASON OF THE FACT WE ARE STATIONED IN AN ALLIED RATHER THAN OUR OWN COUNTRY. IT IS VITAL THAT WE WORK WITH THE PEOPLE OF GREAT BRITAIN BOTH IN THE FIGHTING SERVICES AND IN CIVIL LIFE ON THE BASIS OF MUTUAL RESPECT, CONSIDERATION AND COOPERATION. THIS MEANS WE MUST EARN AND KEEP THEIR RESPECT AS A GREAT MILITARY MACHINE DEDICATED TO THE SINGLE TASK OF DOING OUR DUTY IN WINNING OF THIS WAR.

30.24 — 13489

CONSEQUENTLY EVERY OFFICER MUST LIVE AS WELL AS TEACH THE THINGS WE ALL KNOW TO BE NECESSARY.

MAR 5 1942

EVERY COMPANY COMMANDER MUST KNOW ALL HIS MEN, THEIR QUALIFICATIONS, THEIR PROBLEMS, THEIR HABITS AND THEIR PERSONALITIES. HE MUST TRAIN THEM INDIVIDUALLY AND COLLECTIVELY FOR PRESENT AND FUTURE TASKS. HE MUST PROTECT THEM AND INSURE TO EACH A CHANCE TO SERVE INTELLIGENTLY AND USEFULLY IN THE CAUSE FOR WHICH OUR COUNTRY IS ENGAGED IN THIS WAR.

EVERY HIGH COMMANDER MUST CONTINUOUSLY SUPERVISE THE OPERATIONS, INCLUDING ADMINISTRATION, OF LOWER UNITS. HE MUST SEE THAT JUSTICE PREVAILS AND THAT EVERY ENLISTED MAN, ENLISTED WAC OR CIVILIAN EMPLOYE UNDERSTANDS THE RIGHT OF LEGITIMATE APPEAL FROM WHAT MAY BE CONSIDERED CAPRICIOUS OR ARBITRARY PUNISHMENT.

OFFICERS OF ALL GRADES MUST STRIVE TO BE EXAMPLES TO OTHERS. THEY MUST ENCOURAGE THEIR SUBORDINATES TO UNDERSTAND EACH IS A REPRESENTATIVE OF OUR COUNTRY IN BRITAIN AND THEY MUST THEMSELVES SERVE AS EXAMPLES OF HOW SUCH REPRESENTATIVES SHOULD ACT.

I CLEARLY RECOGNIZE THE NEED FOR PROPER RECREATION AND ENTERTAINMENT. SUBJECT TO THE OVERRIDING NECESSITY OF FIRST DISCHARGING EVERY DUTY IMPOSED UPON THE UNIT AND INDIVIDUAL, COMMANDERS SHOULD URGE THEIR SUBORDINATES TO AVAIL THEMSELVES OF THE ADMIRABLE FACILITIES PROVIDED BY THE AMERICAN RED CROSS. THEY SHOULD ORGANIZE UNIT ENTERTAINMENT AND EXERCISE AND SHOULD SEEK TO MAKE IT POSSIBLE TO ATTEND PLAYS, MOVIES AND LECTURES AND TO ACCEPT PRIVATELY EXTENDED HOSPITALITY. OFFICERS AND MEN SHOULD HAVE AN EQUAL OPPORTUNITY FOR RECREATION.

BUT AN OFFICER WITH HIS GREAT RESPONSIBILITIES IN LEADERSHIP MUST BE PARTICULARLY CAREFUL NOT TO EXCEED PROPER AND REASONABLE LIMITS IN THIS REGARD. TO DO SO WILL DESTROY MILITARY EFFICIENCY.

ONLY A SELF - DISCIPLINED ARMY CAN WIN BATTLES. SPECIFIC OFFENSES ARE, OF COURSE, PUNISHABLE BY RESPONSIBLE COMMANDERS UNDER ESTABLISHED LEGAL PROCEDURE, BUT LEADERSHIP CAN PRODUCE THE ALL-IMPORTANT DISCIPLINE IN AN ARMY WITH A MINIMUM RESORT TO PUNISHMENT.

ON MY ASSURANCE THAT OUR SUCCESS IN BATTLE AND OUR CHANCES TO RETURN HOME SAFELY AND SPEEDILY ARE DIRECTLY AFFECTED BY OUR SUCCESS IN ESTABLISHING HERE A REPUTATION AS A FIRST CLASS, DISCIPLINED FIGHTING ORGANIZATION, I ASK EACH OF YOU, PARTICULARLY THE OFFICERS, TO BE ESPECIALLY CAREFUL CONCERNING:

IMPROPER USE OF MOTOR TRANSPORTATION.

DRINKING IN PUBLIC PLACES.

EXCESSIVE DRINKING AT ANY TIME. IN THIS CONNECTION PUBLIC DRUNKENNESS BY OFFICERS WILL INVARIABLY CALL FOR THE STERNEST DISCIPLINARY ACTION PERMISSIBLE.

LOUD, PROFANE OR INDECENT LANGUAGE, ESPECIALLY IN PUBLIC.

SLOVENLINESS IN APPEARANCE.

ANY DISCOURTESY TO CIVILIANS.

I STRESS AGAIN THE CONSTANT NEED FOR ROAD COURTESY ON THE PART OF ALL DRIVERS OF UNITED STATES ARMY CARS. THE SENIOR OFFICER IN A PASSENGER CAR, OR THE APPROPRIATE COMMANDER IN CARGO VEHICLES, IS ALWAYS RESPONSIBLE IN THIS MATTER.

AS A FINAL WORD: I REALIZE THAT THE GREAT MASS OF THE UNITED STATES CONTINGENT HERE -- OFFICERS, ENLISTED MEN, WACS AND CIVILIANS -- IS FULLY ALIVE TO ALL THESE CONSIDERATIONS AND MOST OF THESE INDIVIDUALS CONDUCT THEMSELVES ACCORDINGLY. I ASK THE HELP OF ALL THESE IN SEEING THAT THE VERY SMALL MINORITY DOES NOT DAMAGE THE GOOD NAME OF THE AMERICAN ARMY IN THE UNITED KINGDOM.

WITH MY DEEP APPRECIATION TO EACH OF YOU FOR DUTY WELL PERFORMED IN THE PAST, AND WITH THE BEST OF LUCK.

NIKOLAI VATUTIN'S LONG SALIENT WHICH EXTENDS INTO POLAND. HERE THE SOVIETS ATTACKED WITH SUPERIOR INFANTRY AND TANK UNITS AND ALTHOUGH THEY WERE REPELLED IN SOME SECTORS WITH THE LOSS OF 59 TANKS "THEY SUCCEEDED IN BREAKING INTO OUR FRONT IN OTHER PLACES. BITTER FIGHTING IS IN PROGRESS," SAID THE GERMAN COMMUNIQUE.

(THE COMMUNIQUE SAID RED ARMY ATTACKS WERE CONTINUING IN THE PSKOV AND NARVA SECTORS IN THE NORTH BUT ASSERTED GERMAN TROOPS "SMASHED ALL ATTACKS AND SEALED OFF LOCAL BREAK-THROUGHS.")

IN THE PSKOV AREA, WHERE THERE ARE EIGHT RIVERS AND CREEKS IN A 25-MILE RADIUS OF THE CITY, THE RED ARMY CRUMBLED ONE NAZI DEFENSE POINT AFTER ANOTHER AS IT MOVED IN CLOSER TO THE RAIL AND HIGHWAY KEY TO THE BALTIC STATES. ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, NAPLES, MARCH 4-(AP)-AMERICAN BEACHHEAD TROOPS THREW BACK A BATTALION OF GERMAN INFANTRY IN A BRIEF BUT FURIOUS BATTLE ON THE ROAD BELOW CISTERNA, ALLIED HEADQUARTERS ANNOUNCED TODAY.

ONE OF TWO TANKS SUPPORTING THE GERMAN ATTACK AIMED TOWARD PONTE ROTTO WAS KNOCKED OUT IN A COUNTER-ATTACK WITH WHICH THE AMERICANS RECOVERED THE GROUND LOST TO THE GERMANS.

THE GERMANS LAUNCHED THE ATTACK FRIDAY AND THE AMERICANS COUNTER-ATTACKED THAT NIGHT. FIGHTING AGAINST STUBBORN ENEMY RESISTANCE THE AMERICANS HAD REGAINED THEIR POSITIONS BY YESTERDAY MORNING, IT WAS ANNOUNCED. FRONT REPORTS SAID THE FIGHTING WAS PARTICULARLY HARD AROUND A BRIDGE ABOUT TWO MILES SOUTHWEST OF CISTERNA.

A BRITISH CRUISER OFFSHORE SHELLED ENEMY GUN POSITIONS AND TROOP CONCENTRATIONS.

THE CRUISER, THE MAURITIUS, FIRED AT THE ENEMY TARGETS ON NINE DIFFERENT OCCASIONS FRIDAY NIGHT AND HEADQUARTERS SAID "RESULTS WERE MOST EFFECTIVE."

SUCCESSFUL CLASHES WITH THE GERMANS WERE REPORTED AT OTHER POINTS AROUND THE BEACHHEAD. BRITISH TROOPS ENCIRCLED AND CLEANED UP A POCKET OF GERMANS WHO HAD INFILTRATED THEIR POSITIONS ON THE LEFT FLANK SOUTHWEST OF CARROCETO FRIDAY NIGHT. FIFTEEN GERMANS WERE KILLED AND 23 TAKEN PRISONER, INCLUDING TWO COMPANY COMMANDERS.

ALLIED RAIDING PARTIES ALSO INFLICTED OTHER CASUALTIES ON THE GERMANS IN THE AREA SOUTH AND SOUTHWEST OF CARROCETO. AT VARIOUS OTHER BEACHHEAD POINTS PATROLS PENETRATED FORWARD GERMAN POSITIONS AND TOOK A TOTAL OF 20 PRISONERS.

FIGHTING ON THE LOWER FIFTH ARMY AND EIGHTH ARMY FRONTS WAS HELD DOWN BY HEAVY SHOWERS AND LOW CLOUDS WHICH ALSO SHARPLY CURTAILED AIR ACTIVITY IN THE MEDITERRANEAN AREA. A FRENCH FIGHTER PLANE PILOT SHOT DOWN A JUNKERS-88 NORTH OF ALGIERS. TWO ALLIED PLANES ARE MISSING FROM OPERATIONS OVER ITALY.

ON THE FIFTH ARMY'S MAIN FRONT FRENCH FORCES IN THE MONTE CROCE AREA BEAT BACK A GERMAN THRUST AND NEW ZEALANDERS REPULSED ANOTHER NEAR CASSINO. CANADIAN, INDIAN, AND POLISH PATROLS MAINTAINED CONTACT WITH THE GERMANS ON THE EIGHTH ARMY FRONT.

GERMAN AIR ATTACKS AND HEAVY SHELLING OF THE FIFTH ARMY'S SHIPPING AT ANZIO WAS ANNOUNCED BUT UNLOADING OF SUPPLIES CONTINUED.

RAF KITTYHAWKS BOMBED SHIPPING AND RAIL INSTALLATIONS AT PORTO CIVITANOVA ON THE ITALIAN EAST COAST 25 MILES BELOW ANCONA. ANOTHER KITTYHAWK FORMATION SHOT UP A RAILROAD STATION AND TRAIN FURTHER DOWN THE COAST.

SPITFIRES AND WARHAWKS PATROLLED THE BEACHHEAD THROUGHOUT YESTERDAY WITHOUT INCIDENT ALTHOUGH APPROXIMATELY 10 GERMAN PLANES WERE SIGHTED THERE.

SPITFIRES ATTACKED MOTOR TRANSPORT AHEAD OF THE EIGHTH ARMY FRONT. WELLINGTONS, MITCHELLS AND AIRACOBRAS OF THE COASTAL AIR FORCE BOMBED AND SHOT UP SHIPPING AND RAIL TARGETS ALONG THE ITALIAN WEST COAST.

ANKARA, TURKEY, MARCH 5-(AP)-THE UNCERTAINTY IN TURKEY OVER THE INTERNATIONAL SITUATION WAS REFLECTED TODAY IN THE ISTANBUL PRESS WHICH GAVE THE IMPRESSION THAT THE DOOR WAS OPEN FOR A NEW UNDERSTANDING WITH BRITAIN.

THE NEWSPAPER TANIN REPORTED THAT WHILE MILITARY SUPPLIES HAD BEEN HALTED TO TURKEY FROM ALLIED SOURCES, SHIPMENTS OF RUBBER AND TIN WOULD NOT BE BLOCKED.

THE NEWSPAPER ALSO REPORTED THAT AVIATORS AND OTHER TECHNICIANS SENT HERE BY THE BRITISH AND AMERICAN ARMIES WERE PREPARING TO LEAVE. SUCH REPORTS ALSO WERE PREVALENT IN ANKARA. ISTANBUL NEWSPAPERS GAVE BANNER HEADLINES YESTERDAY TO AN ANNOUNCEMENT THAT THE UNITED STATES AND BRITAIN HAVE HALTED THE FLOW OF LEASE-LEND AND MUTUAL AID WAR SUPPLIES TO TURKEY.

(THE LONDON DAILY MAIL QUOTED THE MOROCCO RADIO AS SAYING IT UNDERSTOOD A TURKISH MILITARY MISSION WILL LEAVE ANKARA SOON FOR LONDON).

I BELIEVE IT IS IMPROPER TO SAY THAT TURKEY HAS BEEN WRITTEN OFF FOR THE WAR, BUT IT IS NOW APPARENT THAT SHE HAS BEEN WRITTEN OFF FOR ANY IMMEDIATE CAMPAIGN WHICH THE ALLIES MAY HAVE PLANNED FOR EASTERN EUROPE.

AN AXIS SOURCE IN ISTANBUL, WHICH MUST THEREFORE BE COUNTED AS LIKELY TO BE UNRELIABLE, SAID THAT NAZI AMBASSADOR FRANZ VON PAPEN CALLED ON FOREIGN MINISTER NUMAN MENEMENCIOGLU YESTERDAY TO ASSURE HIM THAT IF OIL SHIPMENTS FROM THE ALLIES WERE CUT OFF GERMANY AND RUMANIA WOULD DO ALL IN THEIR POWER TO MAKE UP THE DEFICIENCY.

TANIN SAID: "IF THE ALLIES WERE TO DO SOMETHING IN THE BALKANS, THEY WOULD FIND US AT THEIR SIDES. IT IS NOT TRUE THAT THE ALLIES CAN DO NOTHING IN THE BALKANS BECAUSE WE WILL NOT MOVE. THE TRUTH IS THAT WE WILL NOT MOVE BECAUSE THE ALLIES DO NOT WISH TO LAND IN THE BALKANS."

COOPERATION WAS PROMISED TOO IF THE ALLIES SIMPLY "LAND IN EUROPE OR AT LEAST PASS TO THE ATTACK."

DESCRIBING BRITISH PRESS COMMENT ON THE TURN IN TURKISH-BRITISH RELATIONS AS A "WAR OF NERVES AGAINST US," TAN, ANOTHER NEWSPAPER, ADDED "BUT OUR BRITISH FRIENDS FALL INTO A GREAT ERROR HERE BECAUSE TURKEY WILL NEVER BOW TO PRESSURE."

THE NEWSPAPER VATAN SAID BRITISH PRESTIGE IN TURKEY ALREADY HAD SUFFERED BECAUSE OF THAT NATION'S "ERRONEOUS POLICY IN REGARD TO YUGOSLAVIA, GREECE AND POLAND." IT CONTINUED, "BUT DESPITE THIS OUR POLICY TOWARDS BRITAIN HAS NOT CHANGED. THE POLICY OF THE DEMOCRACIES IS OUR POLICY."

THE ANTI-ALLIED NEWSPAPER CUMHURIYET COMMENTED THAT:

T"THE TURKISH PEOPLE WHO ARE MAKING AN OBJECTIVE ANALYSIS OF THE EVENT HAVE THE IMPRESSION THAT THE PUBLICATION OF THE BRITISH PRESS WAS MADE NOT BY THOSE WHO ARE OCCUPIED WITH THE DISPOSITION OF THE TREATY OF ALLIANCE, BUT BY THOSE WHO SEE THE RIGHT IN BRUTAL FORCE."

THEY WERE FIRST LIEUTENANTS "PHIL" BAYER, 24, OF FLUSHING, N.Y., COLUMBIA UNIVERSITY HALFBACK IN '41, AND "VIN" DAIGLER, A MEMBER OF THE NOTRE DAME GRIDIRON SQUAD THE SAME YEAR.

MAR 5 1944

DAIGLER, 24, OF KENMORE, N.Y., A PLATOON LEADER, WAS INJURED SERIOUSLY BY A BURSTING GRENADE WHILE LEADING HIS UNIT AGAINST AN ENEMY POSITION ON A RIDGE. HE SAW THE GRENADE HURTLING HIS WAY AND HIS WARNING CRY GAVE FOUR MEN, CLOSE BEHIND HIM, OPPORTUNITY TO HIT THE DECK. DAIGLER ALONE WAS WOUNDED.

THE FOLLOWING DAY, BAYER, COMPANY EXECUTIVE OFFICER, TOOK OVER THE PLATOON. WHILE ATTEMPTING TO ESTABLISH CONTACT WITH ANOTHER MARINE OUTFIT THROUGH ENEMY TERRITORY, HE SUFFERED A SHOULDER WOUND. UNASSISTED, HE WALKED A MILE TO AN AID STATION, PROMISING HIS MEN H'D BE BACK BEFORE THE BATTLE WAS FINISHED.

BAYER JOINED THE MARINE CORPS FOLLOWING GRADUATION FROM COLUMBIA IN 1942. HE HAD SIGNED A CONTRACT TO PLAY FOR THE PHILADELPHIA EAGLES JUST BEFORE ENTERING THE SERVICE.

HIS PARENTS ARE MR. AND MRS. J. PHILIP BAYER OF (3509-156TH STREET) FLUSHING.

SOMEWHERE IN NEW GUINEA,MARCH 5-(AP)-UNDER THE FAINT LIGHT OF A QUARTER MOON CRACK JAPANESE MARINES, SEEKING TO RETAKE STRATEGIC MOMOTE AIRDROME ON LOS NEGROS ISLAND IN THE ADMIRALTIES, TESTED THE DISMOUNTED MEMBERS OF THE FIRST CAVALRY DIVISION AND FOUND THEM AS TOUGH AS ANY OF AMERICA'S BEST FIGHTERS.

THEIR COUNTERATTACKS WERE HURLED BACK AND THEIR INFILTRATION TACTICS FAILED TO WORK AS THE CAVALRYMEN FROM NEW YORK, TEXAS, OKLAHOMA AND OTHER STATES FIGHTING THEIR FIRST MAJOR ENGAGEMENT AFTER THEIR SURPRISE INVASION HELD TO WHAT THEY HAD WON.

THE HEAVY FIGHTING ON THE NIGHT OF MARCH 2 WAS DESCRIBED BY CORP. BILL ALCINE, 907 CLARK STREET, LOS ANGELES, ARMY CORRESPONDENT.

(THIS WAS NOT THE ACTION IN WHICH 700 JAPANESE WERE EXTERMINATED IN ATTEMPTING TO TAKE MOMOTE THE NIGHTS OF MARCH 3 AND 4. HOWEVER, SINCE THE START OF THE ADMIRALTY INVASION IT IS ESTIMATED AT LEAST 3,000 JAPANESE HAVE BEEN KILLED OR WOUNDED BY AMERICAN GUNS.)

"AN ORDER WENT OUT THAT ANYTHING THAT MOVED DURING THE NIGHT WAS THE ENEMY," SAID ALCINE. "THE CAVALRYMEN DUG THEIR FOX HOLES AND STAYED THERE--WAITING FOR THE JAPS. BY THE FAINT LIGHT OF THE MOON THE AMERICANS WATCHED THE JAPANESE CREEP TOWARDS THEM FROM THE EDGE OF THE AIRSTRIP AND OTHERS WHO TOOK RUBBER BOATS TO LAND BEHIND THEM."

ALL NIGHT LONG TRACERS LACED THE SKY, ALCINE RELATED. GUN FIRE WAS INCESSANT AS SOME JAPANESE CRAWLED TO THE VERY EDGE OF YANK FOXHOLES BEFORE THEY WERE KILLED.

ONE MACHINE GUN CREW FIRED 4,000 ROUNDS ACROSS THE FIELD INTO THE RANKS OF DETERMINED, CRAWLING JAPANESE. PVT. MELVIN FARLEY OF EAST ST.LOUIS, ILL., FOUND FOUR DEAD JAPANESE OUTSIDE HIS FOX-HOLE WHEN MORNING CAME. HE CLAIMED TWO OF THEM WERE BAGGED BY HIS TOMMYGUN.

THERE WERE AMERICAN CASUALTIES, TOO.

"ONE MAJOR, ALCINE SAID, "TOLD ME HE WAS GOING TO SLEEP IN HIS HAMMOCK THAT NIGHT AND SUGGESTED THAT I DO THE SAME THING. DURING THE NIGHT, HOWEVER, TROOPS NEARBY HEARD A COMMOTION AND THE MAJOR CALLED OUT: 'DON'T SHOOT, BOYS; IT'S MAJOR ------'. NOTHING MORE WAS HEARD.

"THE NEXT MORNING THEY FOUND THE MAJOR DEAD, HIS HEAD NEARLY SEVERED FROM HIS BODY AND WITH SEVERAL BAYONET WOUNDS. THE CAVALRY-MEN HELD THEIR GROUND AND WHEN MORNING CAME THEY WERE EAGERLY AWAITING NIGHT AGAIN HOPING THE ENEMY WOULD TRY IT AGAIN.

(THE JAPANESE DID, ON THE TWO SUCCEEDING NIGHTS.)

"THOSE CAVALRYMEN WERE GOOD ALL RIGHT. THE FACT THEY INFLICTED CASUALTIES SEVEN TO ONE SHOWED THAT. AN AMERICAN CAPTAIN WHO HAS BEEN ON AT LEAST FIVE LANDINGS SAID THE MEN HE SAW IN ACTION WERE EQUAL TO THE FINEST MARINE TROOPS.

"AND THAT'S SAYING SOMETHING."

WASHINGTON, MARCH 5-(AP)-PHILIP MURRAY, PRESIDENT OF THE CONGRESS OF INDUSTRIAL ORGANIZATIONS, ASSERTED TODAY THE NEW SOLDIER VOTE BILL IS "UNWORKABLE" AND URGED CONGRESSMEN TO REJECT IT.

"NO CLOAK OF 'STATES' RIGHTS' CAN OBSCURE THE FACT THAT THIS LATEST FORM OF THE BILL WOULD DENY SOME 11,000,000 AMERICANS ONE OF THE GREAT RIGHTS FOR WHICH THEY ARE FIGHTING -- THE RIGHT TO VOTE," MURRAY SAID IN A LETTER TO MEMBERS OF CONGRESS.

"ITS OBVIOUS EFFECT," MURRAY WROTE, "WILL BE TO HARASS AND BEDEVIL THE SERVICEMAN TO THE POINT WHERE HE WILL GIVE UP IN DESPAIR OF ACHIEVING HIS DEMOCRATIC RIGHT TO VOTE."

MURRAY DECLARED THAT THE ISSUE IS A SIMPLE ONE--TO GIVE A VOTE TO AS MANY SERVICEMEN AND WOMEN AS POSSIBLE. THIS, HE SAID, CAN BE DONE ONLY THROUGH A SIMPLE, UNIFORM FEDERAL BALLOT.

"THOSE OPPOSED TO EFFECTIVE SOLDIER VOTING HAVE DELIBERATELY SOUGHT TO OBSCURE THIS SIMPLE ISSUE," HE ADDED. "THEY HAVE ACTED IN THE HOPE OF WEARING DOWN BOTH THE INTEREST OF THE NATION AND THE RESOLUTION OF THOSE IN CONGRESS WHO ARE INTENT ON SEEING THAT EVERY SERVICEMAN GETS A CHANCE TO VOTE."

WASHINGTON,MARCH 5-(AP)-SENATORS STILL PICKING HARDTACK FROM THEIR BRIDGEWORK AGREED TODAY THAT THE ARMY'S K-RATION IS GOOD SOLID EATING.

AT THE SUGGESTION OF SENATOR BRIDGES (R-NH), SEVERAL SENATORS SPENT A DAY ON THE DIET OF FRONT LINE FIGHTERS. THE VERDICT--WITH SOME RESERVATIONS:

IT'S FINE FOOD FOR ITS PURPOSE, WHICH IS TO PROVIDE SOLDIERS A MEAL WHEN THEY CAN'T GET ANYTHING ELSE.

THE SENATORS--WHO'VE KNOWN SOME PRETTY HORRIBLE SUBSTITUTES FOR FOOD IN THEIR TRAVELS AMONG THE BANQUET TABLES--FOUND IN THE K-RATION SUCH THINGS AS DISCUITS, SOLUBLE COFFEE, LEMON JUICE POWDER, CANNED HAM AND EGGS AND CONCENTRATED CHOCOLATE.

THE REACTIONS RANGED FROM ENTHUSIASM TO THE QUIET OBSERVATION THAT SHERMAN KNEW HIS WARS.

SENATOR JOHNSON (D-COLO) SUMMED UP THE TYPICAL AFTER-DINNER REACTION:

"IT'S NOT TOO FILLING, BUT IT'S LOADED WITH FOOD VALUE. I'VE SEEN PLENTY OF TIMES WHEN I'D HAVE BEEN GLAD FOR A MEAL LIKE THAT."

BRIDGES SENT THE K-RATIONS AROUND TO HIS COLLEAGUES, THEN MADE A SPEECH ABOUT ARMY DIETS. ONE ENTHUSIAST WHO GOBBLED UP THE RATIONS AHEAD OF TIME WROTE BRIDGES ANONYMOUSLY:

"THANK YOU FOR THE RATIONS. I WILL LISTEN WITH INTEREST TO YOUR SPEECH. I TRUST IT WILL BE BETTER THAN THE FOOD."

AMERICAN PLANES WAGE GREAT FIGHT TO REACH TARGET

HERCHER

Fierce Nazi Defense Fails to Halt Swarms of Raiders.

ESCORT SETS RECORD

Pursuit Ships Destroy 83 Enemy Craft in Violent Daylight Conflict.

LONDON, March 6—(AP) More than 650 American heavy bombers battled their way through avenues of enemy fighters and flak today to pour probably more than 2,000 tons of bombs on battered Berlin and tonight R. A. F. night raiders carried more destruction into the heart of the Reich.

British bombers roared across the channel in a steady procession which coastal observers estimated lasted 20 minutes.

The historic daylight attack by "divisions" of Flying Fortresses and Liberators cost the Americans a record 68 bombers, but at the same time cost the German air force at least 123 sorely-needed planes and turned sections of the Nazi capital into what one American flier described as "Dante's inferno."

600-Mile Flight

The American armada traveled the most dangerous aerial highway in Europe to penetrate 600 miles to Berlin and good weather allowed the Nazis to send up great swarms of defending fighters from all sides.

The violent fighting that resulted not only took the largest toll of American planes ever lost in a single operation by the U. S. strategic air forces, but also saw the hundreds of Allied escorting fighters get their biggest bag of enemy planes ever shot down in a single day, 83.

The Berlin radio, while declaring that damage done to the capital was negligible, acknowledged that the battle in the air was of great intensity.

The extent of tonight's continuance of the round-the-clock operations by the R.A.F. was not immediately known. Some continental radio stations left the air, telephone service from Berlin to Stockholm was interrupted, and the Frankfurt radio early in the night disclosed "enemy aircraft are circling over our town."

After an hour's silence the Frankfurt station went back on the air to say that "The sporadic return of nuisance raiders from the Rhine-Main area is to be expected."

Four Bombers Land

Three of the American heavy bombers made forced landings in neutral Sweden and a fourth came down on the island of Gotland, off the southeastern Swedish coast, a Stockholm dispatch disclosed.

U. S. airforces headquarters announced that U. S. reconnaissance photographs—first aerial war photos even taken of Berlin by an American—showed fires and heavy smoke in the areas attacked, "high priority war factories."

The announcement said the toll of Nazi fighters would mount with complete tabulation of the score by bombers' guns, which "shot down dozens in the greatest air battle."

The photographs were taken by Maj. Walton L. Weitner, 24, of Yonkers, N. Y., a reconnaissance pilot who flew alone and unprotected in a swift but unarmed plane over the much-bombed capital. Maj. Weitner encountered some flak and eluded three Nazi interceptors.

There was every indication that this blow at Berlin was one of the most terrible and effective yet leveled at the German capital.

The announcement said "Divisions of heavy bombers in great strength, escorted by a very large formation of fighters, attacked factories, airfields and other military installations in the metropolitan district of Berlin with good results."

Nazi Fighters Ready

Unlike Saturday's thrust at Berlin by one formation of Flying Fortresses, the latest operation found the Nazi air force lying in wait for an all-out effort to repel the attack and the battle that resulted was perhaps the greatest aerial fight in history.

A record for enemy planes shot down by fighters was established, as well as a new mark in U. S. losses. Previously the highest toll paid in an American operation over Europe had been 60 bombers—first in an attack on Schweinfurt last Oct. 14 and again in a smash at Brunswick and other western German targets, Jan. 11. The record number of enemy planes shot down by fighters was 61 on Feb. 20.

Travelers reaching Sweden said the American attack was delivered between 1 and 3 p. m. and concentrated on the northern and eastern sections of Berlin. One bomb, they said, dropped on Tempelhof airdrome.

The U. S. announcement said that the escort consisted of hundreds of fighters of both the Eighth and Ninth U. S. Air Forces and of the Allied aerial expeditionary force.

Some of the bombing was done through overcast, but the communique stated that "bombs were seen to drop on the assigned targets."

1,000 U. S. Bombers Raid Berlin in Day Battle; 68 Lost, the Most Yet; 123 Nazi Planes Downed; Luftwaffe Lying in Wait, Fighting All the Way

850 Bombers in Action

The communique's specification of "divisions" of heavy bombers on the mission indicated that more than 850 Fortresses and Liberators as well as hundreds of fighters made the trip to what eager American airmen call the "Big B."

Probably more than 2,000 American tons of bombs were dropped on the capital's vital industrial and military targets.

Some American fliers looking down on that city today said it still is far from flattened—even though the R.A.F. has drubbed it with 26,880 tons of bombs in 15 great assaults since Nov. 18.

The Germans sent up hundreds of fighters in a vain attempt to halt the formations of Fortresses and Liberators surrounded by battle-hungry knots of American fighters. Ground gunners threw up an exploding road of flak all the way from the coast and around Berlin maintained a barrage two miles long and 1,000 feet thick.

But the bombers came through, all guns blazing, and dropped their bombs with almost automatic precision, spreading fires in areas testifying in smoke and flames to the failure of the best defense the Germans could offer.

When all the losses are counted, the 1,200-mile round-trip to Berlin may have been a costly operation, but the Eighth airforce achieved two great accomplishments—it did a job of strategic bombing and hit the Nazis where it hurts most—their capital.

By luring the Luftwaffe up in strength, the attack also permitted gunners to get on with the important job of knocking out the enemy's airforce. The German radio commented that the American fighter force was "of a strength rarely seen before."

Fairly clear weather allowed visual bombing in most cases but made defensive operations easier.

It was the seventh operation of the Eighth Air force's heavy bombers in eight days.

During the day Allied medium and fighter-bombers including U. S. Marauders struck at northern France for the fifth successive day, possibly at emplacements where Prime Minister Churchill has said the Germans are setting up rocket and robot-plane catapults.

R.A.F. Mosquitos attacked western Germany last night without loss.

The Oslo radio said American planes had dropped leaflets over Berlin containing a list of German divisions described as "uselessly sacrificed" on the Russian front.

FIGHTER OPPOSITION SEVERE OVER REICH

HILL

Returning Daylight Raiders Say Nazi Capital Is Far From Flattened and Luftwaffe Far From Beaten.

London, March 6 (A. P.).—American heavy bombers in very strong forces today plowed through a great wall of anti-aircraft fire and bombed Berlin for the second time in three days.

Returning flyers told of severe fighter opposition—and the German radio declared that one of the war's greatest air battles was fought over 350 miles from the Dutch coast all the way to Berlin.

One group of fighter pilots said that Berlin as a whole, despite repeated bombing by the Royal Air Force, which has made it the most-bombed city in the world, looked "a long way from being flattened." And Sergt. Charles W. Perry of West New York, N. J., a waist gunner, describing fighter opposition, said: "When people say there's no more Luftwaffe you can tell them they're nuts."

At least eight or ten squadrons of the enemy came after our group," related Staff Sergt. Eldon Newman of Senath, Mo. "Our escort was swell, but they made a hell of a battle. Those Mustangs took on the whole Luftwaffe."

The flyers said that several fires were left burning in Berlin. There was no indication yet how many American bombers took part in the attack, but as many as 1,000 have been sent out by the Eighth Air Force on recent operations.

Sequel to Ice-breaker.

While noting that the bomber squadrons were strongly escorted, the first official announcement said only that targets in the Berlin district were hit. The attack came as a surprise sequel to Saturday's ice-breaker raid, by one formation of bombers, and was the seventh operation of the heavy bombers in eight days.

The first pilots to return told of rather weak resistance by the German fighters.

Mustang fighter pilots—who escorted the bombers all the way to Berlin and back—declared that they had seen only about fifty German fighters, and that the Germans had refused to fight.

Nazis Refused to Fight.

"So we went after them," said Lieut.-Col. George R. Bickell of Nutley, N. J., who led the group. "I think we shot down at least eight without their doing much of anything to us."

He reported bad weather over most of the 1,200-mile round trip.

"We made our rendezvous with the bombers on schedule," said Col. Bickell, a diminutive, jaunty flyer. "The flak was fairly heavy but we managed to dodge it. I got one ME-109 on the outskirts of Berlin on the way in. A Dorner 217 started at one of our Fortresses and I dived on him at about 23,000 feet. I blacked out going between 550 and 600 miles an hour. When I came out of the blackout I saw an ME-109 and shot him down. The pilot baled out."

Col. Bickell is a former clerk at the New York Stock Exchange.

The German radio declared one of the war's greatest air battles had raged over 350 miles, from the Netherlands coast to Berlin.

The official announcement said only that "targets in the Berlin district" were hit, without identifying them further or giving other details.

This surprise follow-up to Saturday's "icebreaker" raid, by one formation of bombers, was a striking demonstration of the Eighth Air Force's might, for it was the seventh operation of the heavy bombers in eight days.

1,100-Mile Round Trip

Heavy fighter escorts accompanied today's formations on the round trip of more than 1,100 miles from British bases.

Thus Berlin, already seared by massive RAF night assaults, was brought under destructive hammer blows falling by day and night.

Presumably the American daylight attacks are aimed at precision destruction of selected targets escaping the RAF's saturation raids.

Northern France Hit

The heavy bombers raced to Berlin as Allied medium and fighter-bombers attacked northern France—where Prime Minister Churchill said the Germans were preparing rocket and robot-plane installations—for the fifth successive day. Last night RAF Mosquitos attacked western Germany, without loss.

In London, Dingle M. Foot, Parliamentary Secretary of the Ministry of Economic Warfare, told a luncheon that when resistance in the air is overwhelmed "the destruction of German war industry will follow on a far greater scale than achieved in the last few weeks."

"Essential Preliminary"

He said the intensified bombing will be more than "a policy of attrition designed to wear down German war potential over a long period—it represents the essential preliminary to invasion of Europe."

Last Wednesday was the only time in the last eight days that American heavy bombers have not gone out. Successively, they bombed the Pas de Calais area, Brunswick, southwest and northwest Germany and yesterday hit Nazi air bases in southern France. The bombers and fighters yesterday knocked down 27 enemy planes.

German Radio Account

A German broadcast said the air-raid alarm sounded in Berlin just before 1 P. M.

The Americans took a direct course to Berlin, the Germans said, and "during their incursion were continually pressed by the strongest forces of German fighter and destroyer aircraft, and were forced to ever fresh evasive maneuvers by the fire of hundreds of anti-aircraft batteries."

"The attack had been expected by German anti-aircraft defenses after the first two American daylight thrusts had failed. The United States bombers flew in tight formations, protected on both sides by fighters and long-range fighters flying at higher altitude," the Berlin radio continued.

Great Fighter Protection

"The impression that the greatest possible fighter protection by United States Army and RAF Fighters was given in order to accomplish the thrust to Berlin this time was prevailing when the formations flew over the western frontier."

Cognac Base Bombed

Yesterday's American operations were executed by strongly escorted forces of Liberators which struck into southwestern France to bomb the German air base at Cognac and other targets in the vicinity of Bergerac.

Official secrecy continued to screen the full story of the Saturday daylight blow against Berlin, the first by American heavy bombers. Mosquitos again hit Berlin Saturday night, their second attack in as many nights on the enemy capital.

Queens Flyer Tells of Savage Battle to Berlin

JAMESON

Capt. F. G. Lauro, of Hollis, Fought Off Hundreds of Nazis, His Plane Crippled

A UNITED STATES BOMBER BASE IN ENGLAND, March 6 (AP).—They wouldn't let the Flying Fortress Nelson King land at the home field tonight after she struggled in from a battle in which fifteen companion Forts were shot down, dispatching her instead to a repair depot.

Ground crews could see many patches of sky through her wings, tail and fuselage as the ship circled over the base.

The pilot, Captain Francis G. Lauro, of 88-35 195th Street, Hollis, N. Y., was radioed to "take it away" to the near-by repair depot.

Here is the story of the heart-breaking struggle between Lauro's unescorted group of about fifty Fortresses and a swarm of sixty German fighters, as told by Lauro himself:

"We got into formation all right going out, but our wing later fell about ten minutes behind schedule. We were out there pretty much by ourselves and could just see dots for the other planes.

"About an hour before we reached Berlin our escort of Thunderbolts left us. We were left out there all alone.

"About this time we were jumped by at least sixty enemy fighters, mostly Messerschmitt 109s.

Come in Five Abreast

"They came down from very high and on our right at tremendous speed, making long, steep dives at us. They came in later five abreast and about twelve deep.

"All of them concentrated on our one group.

"We put up a terrific screen of fire. In wave after wave they poured down upon us, five ships at a time, picking on just one or two bombers.

"One wave would roar through or around our formation and dive steeply, then turn and queue up for another pass while the next wave was hitting us.

"One shot from a German fighter tore off part of my tail, but I kept on going.

"This first blazing attack cost us four Fortresses.

"The Nazis started picking on the stragglers and cripples. They would attack in groups of five or more, going for one ship at a time until each was finished off. They simply knocked us down one after another.

"The rest of our formation got quite away ahead of me when about ten ME-109s decided to take on our ship.

"They just lined up tail-to-tail and started circling us like Indians used to make war on a lone covered wagon. Occasionally one or two of them would peel off for a head-on attack. These were the worst of all.

"We kept struggling to get back in formation for that was our only salvation. Even though the ship was badly shot up we were able to keep going, thanks to violent maneuvering and some adept gunnery.

"When we really thought we were licked was when a 20-millimeter shell burst inside the cockpit. It blew out all controls of one engine, rent the hydraulic system, made the brakes useless, broke the oxygen system and shattered the instrument panel."

Captain A. R. Swarthout, of San Francisco, the co-pilot, took up the story at this point:

"They hit one of the gas tanks and oil and gas sprayed all over the ball turret making it useless. Another shot put the top turret gun out of commission. That left us without two of our most important gun turrets.

"Because of our crippled condition we had to drop our bombs before reaching Berlin. We hated to do that, but getting back into the formation and going with the crowd was simply a case of self-preservation for us.

"With half our tail gone, the fighters over Berlin soon picked us out as an easy target. We were under constant attack again for more than half an hour on the way out.

"By this time we had a fighter escort of P-51s and P-38s to protect us. There were some hot dogfights between the fighters, but the Nazis were unable to get into us in strength again. I saw at least five Germans shot down by gunners."

With all this battle, only two members of Lauro's crew were slightly scratched.

Gunner Kicks Fouled Bomb Out Over Berlin

KASISCHKE

Liberator Crewman Hits Railroad Yard Without Benefit of Bombsight

AN AMERICAN LIBERATOR BASE IN ENGLAND, March 6 (AP).—Sergeant Alfred B. Maino, of Worcester, Mass., played "footie" with a huge bomb fouled in a plane high over Berlin today and kicked it out over a vital German railroad yard.

"I never intended to become an enlisted bombardier," said the Liberator gunner, who did his bombing without benefit of bombsight.

"It was part of my job today. Some of our bombs didn't release, so I went back in the bomb bay to kick them out and had the pleasure of seeing them hit the rail yards and bust up some nice equipment."

Berlin targets were "really laid wide open," said Sergeant James R. Young, of Newark, N. J., a gunner on the bomber Little Shepherd. He said the Nazi capital looked like "Dante's 'Inferno.'"

For the crew of the Liberator Late Date, it was an early date with Berlin, because they saw the Nazi capital before they saw London, having only recently arrived in England.

"It was a surprise target for us," said the pilot, Lieutenant Gilbert W. Abell, of Princeton, Ind. "We never expected to get the big one right off."

Sky a 'Shooting Gallery'

A UNITED STATES FIGHTER BASE IN BRITAIN, March 6 (AP).—The sky over Berlin was a big shooting gallery today for some of the pilots of this Mustang base.

Two of the men, Lieutenant Robert Meserve, twenty-three years old, of Sandpoint, Idaho, and Lieutenant Glenn H. Pipes, twenty, of Roanoke, Va., chased a pair of Messerschmitt 109s almost into the streets of the capital. They dived their planes 19,000 feet at a speed above 600 miles an hour and sprayed tracer bullets widely in a vain try for the fleeing Nazi planes.

MOROSSO

30 24 -13505

A peace-time house painter, Lieutenant Lowell K. Brueland, twenty-six, of Callender, Iowa, had better luck. Brueland became an ace by bagging an ME-109 and a Junkers 88, and sharing a JU-88 kill with Lieutenant Billy D. Harris, of Oklahoma.

"It happened just as our bombers went on their bomb runs," Brueland recalled, "we were above the bombers, but couldn't cut the enemy off.

"The first two JU-88s fired their rockets. One bomber blew up and disintegrated. Another bomber had its wings blown off and also went down. Then we tore into them. I got behind one and let him have it. I started after another and set him afire. Eight other JU-88s beat it.

"Then I saw a lone ME-109 making a pass at our leading bomber. I got underneath him and let him have it. I saw the pilot bail out."

Brueland said the Nazi pilots are "damned good; they dive like hell and shoot back at you."

Captain Don M. Beerbower, twenty-two, of Hill City, Minn., the group's leading ace, who has downed seven planes, told of meeting twelve German pilots who didn't want to fight. A similar experience over Berlin was related by Captain Richard E. Turner, twenty-three, of Oklahoma City.

"Jerry has a habit of sitting about 35,000 feet up in the air with about thirty planes," Turner recounted. "This time we climbed a whole squadron up there to meet him. They were so surprised and scared they started spinning and snapping, and many of their pilots lost control of their planes."

PARTISANS BATTLE FOE IN MOUNTAINS

LONDON, March 6.—(AP) Heavy fighting between Partisans of Marshal Josip Broz (Tito) and the Germans near the Kozara and Mineijubia mountains was reported tonight in a communique issued by the Yugoslav Telegraph agency.

The communique, from the headquarters of Tito, said the efforts of the Germans to capture Yugoslav positions had been repulsed and that the Partisans now were launching counter-attacks.

"In one battle," the communique said, "the Germans lost 85 dead and removed six truckloads of dead from the battlefield."

Scattered fighting was reported in other sectors.

JAP APPEASEMENT CLIQUE IS ACTIVE, WRITER DECLARES

LONDON, March 6—(AP) An editorial page article in the influential Daily Mail declared today that a clique of financiers and appeasement-minded members of the House of Commons were working for a compromise peace with Japan.

The British press has lately evinced an increasing interest in the war in the Pacific. Repeatedly statements by Prime Minister Churchill and Foreign Minister Anthony Eden pledging Britain to remain in the war after the fall of Germany have been given prominent position.

No reporters regularly covering the House of Commons have noted any undercover move to compromise with Tokyo, however.

The Daily Mail article was written by Simon Harcourt-Smith, who writes occasional pieces under contract, but is not a member of the regular staff. The paper said his views did not necessarily reflect the views of the paper.

Harcourt-Smith said Japan would welcome the defeat of her Nazi ally, because then "she will have only to deal with a pack of western democrats, their great, honest, blue eyes wide open to receive the sand which the Japanese sandman may care to throw in."

Japan, the writer declared, believes the bulk of the American people are thoroughly bored with the Pacific war, "and would welcome any apparently reasonable settlement."

"I cannot say whether this enemy diagnosis of American opinion is wildly false," Harcourt-Smith averred, "but I know that in this country a formidable apathy—indeed, a bouncing ghost of appeasement—plays the Japanese game."

He listed as "unconscious traitors" those sentimentalists brought up in Japan, the "nervous diehards" who regard Japan as the eastern bulwark against Communism, and the merchants who want quick coverage for their war losses.

"These mischievous gentry will be very useful for Japan when she hoists the flag of truce," he said.

"Our appeasers will fall on their high-collared necks proclaiming to the world that here is a real, peace-loving Japan."

Destroyer Lost by British.

London, March 6 (A. P.).—Loss of the destroyer Inglefield was announced tonight. The Admiralty gave no details.

12,000 British Coal Miners Strike

London, March 6 (AP)—Twelve thousand Monmouthshire coal miners struck today over a wage dispute, adding another grave threat to fuel production already said to have been affected seriously by an unofficial "slowdown strike" by thousands of other pit men.

The Monmouthshire walkout stemmed from the same grievances voiced by the miners whose slowdown tactics brought drastic action from the Ministry of Fuel.

In a test order, the Ministry directed the transfer of 450 miners from the Easington Colliery Company's pits in Durham to jobs elsewhere and ordered that they be replaced by other workers. The ministry added that unless output, which dropped from 15,000 tons weekly to 5,000, is restored quickly the entire operation would be closed down and the 2,500 miners employed there would be transferred.

Pay Rate Protested

The slowdown began several months ago as a protest against a decision boosting the minimum weekly wage from $16.75 to $20 but providing no increase in piece rates.

The Daily Express said that "thousands of miners in Northern coal fields now are going slow because they are dissatisfied with the award" and declared that the industry was facing a crisis.

Piece Work Cited

The miners assert they get $20 weekly under the new wage whether they work hard or not, and that a highly skilled cutter or loader can only boost his minimum pay by 50 or 75 cents a week with extra-hard work because of low piecework rates.

Mine union leaders have condemned the slowdown strike, declaring the new wage award is "of inestimable value because it has granted the highest minimum ever paid to the coal industry" and appealing to the miners' patriotism on the eve of the opening of a new front in Western Europe.

NAZI GUNS SHELL DOVER

LONDON, March 6 — (AP) German long-range guns at Cap Griz Nez and Calais opened fire early tonight across the moonlit Dover strait. Brilliant gun flashes lit up the sky. Warnings lasted for more than an hour in some coast towns. Several shells fell in the Dover area.

Nazis Report British Sank Swedish Ship

London, March 6 (AP)—The German International Information Bureau, a propaganda agency, declared in a broadcast recorded today by the Associated Press that three British torpedo planes sank the 1,878-ton Swedish vessel Diana from a German convoy yesterday north of the island of Borkum, on the coast of Germany northwest of Emden.

The report, not confirmed by any other source, said two planes were shot down.

Nazi Trawler Blown Up

London, March 6 (AP)—Light British coastal craft blew up a Nazi trawler with torpedoes in an encounter with a German patrol off the coast of Holland last night and retired with neither casualties nor damage, the Admiralty announced tonight.

Swedish Air Line Resumes.

London, March 6 (A. P.).—Safe conduct air transportation between Scotland and Sweden was resumed this week end by the Swedish Air Lines after a layoff since last October, when the Germans shot down a Swedish airliner. The planes, guaranteed safe conduct by Britain and Germany, fly with all lights on.

Gets British Post in U. S.

LONDON, March 6 (AP)—C. F. K. Hague has been appointed Great Britain's member on the public utilities committee of the combined production and resources board and will leave soon for Washington to take up his duties.

English Areas Hit By Winter Drought

London, March 6 (AP)—Southern and eastern England are experiencing their most severe winter drought in more than 25 years and the water shortage has become so acute in some leading dairy counties that the nation's milk ration may have to be cut further, the Daily Mirror said today.

Farmers in some areas are having to cart water for miles because streams which normally run full at this season have dried up and springs have become foul and stagnant.

Spring hay and grass crops were threatened.

May-October Babies 'Most Intelligent'

London, March 6 (AP)—The Lancet, British medical journal, said that babies born from May to October generally are the most intelligent because they have the most intelligent parents.

It previously was thought that the time of conception was an influencing factor, with autumn and winter-conceived children being smarter, it said.

The Lancet advanced no theory as to why it decided smarter folks have most of their children between May and October.

Baby No Handicap To Mail Delivery

Durham, England, March 6 (AP)—British women do not consider having a baby a reason for slacking their war efforts.

The wife of a Durham postmaster, now that her baby has arrived, takes the mail and her baby in a carriage and makes the deliveries right on time.

It takes her nearly five hours to cover 11 miles.

Mother of Quads Back in Hospital

Heanor, Derbyshire, England, March 6 (A. P.).—The condition of Norah Carpenter, 23-year-old mother of quadruplets, one of whom died shortly after birth, was termed as favorable as could be expected today by officials at the Derbyshire Royal Hospital where she has been under care since Saturday night.

She is suffering "a sudden reaction after child bearing" of the type that normally follows multiple birth, hospital authorities said.

King's English Needs Translation

London, March 6 (AP)—Master Sergeant Jackson Lindsay, of Milwaukee, is making a survey for a book to be called "English as She is Spoke in Britain."

For example, a "homely" girl may mean an attractive homemaking girl . . . a letter box is a "pillar" box . . . you "post" a letter, not mail it. And the initials "H. M. C." on some hotel doors mean "housemaids' cupboard."

Pravda Refutes Finn Comment On Terms

Moscow, March 6 (AP)—The Soviets backed up their offer of peace terms to Finland today by reprinting foreign press comment approving their proposals and gave rebuttals to Finnish arguments against acceptance of the terms.

While Finland's reply has not yet been received, the way apparently still is open for peace if Helsinki wishes to send a representative to Moscow.

Swiss, Swedish Comment

An editorial in Pravda quoted the Swiss Arbeiter Zeitung and Stockholm Tidningen as saying the peace conditions were "moderate and just, and unconditional capitulation was not demanded."

The editorial called Finnish press reports "hostile," and said "they sharply repulse the Soviet offer against plain common sense, calling the conditions not only difficult but even cruel."

Pravda said the Finns were given the choice of letting the Red army into the country or themselves interning German troops in Finland.

"Contradicts The Facts"

A Finnish argument that the Soviets were trying to lure a Finnish delegation to Moscow was termed "in sharp contradiction with the facts."

Another alleged Finnish argument that internment of German troops would be disloyal to Germany was judged by Pravda as worthy of laughter.

The editorial concluded that the position of the Finnish press "cannot but cause doubt about the sincerity of the intentions of Finnish official circles for peace. If the Finns think the generosity of the Soviet Government is a sign of weakness, they are to be bitterly disillusioned."

Finn Answer Reported Given

London, Tuesday, March 7 (AP)—A Reuters dispatch from Stockholm today said quarters had confirmed that the Finns had communicated their answer to the Russian armistice terms to Moscow and that the Finns expected a reply later today or tomorrow.

Evacuation Of Finnish Children Postponed

New York, March 6 (AP)—The evacuation to Sweden of another group of Finnish children has been postponed for "reasons that cannot be overcome," the Finnish radio said today.

The broadcast, reported by United States Government monitors, added: "An announcement will be made over the radio in a few days about the journey."

The Swedish radio said Friday that some 15,000 Finnish children were in Sweden, 6,000 having arrived "in recent weeks."

Paasikivi To Go To Moscow, Report

Stockholm, March 6 (AP)—The Stockholm Morgontidningen indicated today that Juho Paasikivi, former Finnish Prime Minister who negotiated the 1940 peace, would go directly to Moscow to discuss Russian armistice demands.

It said the departure date of Passikivi "forward" was unknown.

The newspaper Dagens Nyheter suggested editorially that Paasikivi might win the Finnish Government's authority to negotiate the peace because he is personally in good favor with the Soviets and might be able to get better terms.

The paper raised the question why the Finns began the negotiations, and said "they should have known from the beginning the Russians would demand internment of the Germans in Finland," a demand Finland has been reported reluctant to accept.

Blood Use In Wound Treatment Developed

Moscow, March 6 (AP)—A new method of treating wounds by adding blood to them has been discovered by a 73-year-old professor, Olga Lepeshinskaya, through a study of the role of live substance in the process of healing, Tass news agency has announced.

Hospital tests of the new method proved its value, Tass said, without giving details of the process.

Professor Lepeshinskaya, head of the histology department of Moscow State University, and the author of 88 scientific works, has been experimenting in the sphere of newly forming cells from live substance, within the organism and without, for 22 years.

Reds Cut Odessa-Lwow Rail Line, Close Trap on Foe in Dnieper Bend

LONDON, Tuesday, March 7 (AP) Red Army troops of the First Ukrainian front — battering their way through the northwestern hinge of the Germans' Dnieper bend salient—have captured Volochisk and cut the Odessa-Lwow railway line along an 18-mile stretch, Moscow announced early today.

Severance of the important double-tracked railway by Marshal Gregory K. Zhukov's troops yesterday cost the Nazis their first important rail outlet in southern Russia.

It came in the third day of the new Russian push and the broadcast midnight Soviet communique supplement declared that "Soviet troops, by outflanking maneuvers, are cutting off the Germans' retreat."

The war bulletin, recorded here by the Soviet monitor further declared that the Germans "are suffering heavy losses in manpower and material" and said that one Red army formation alone killed 4,000 German officers and men in a day.

Asserting that Marshal Zhukov's forces consisted of 35 infantry divisions and eight tank corps plus a "vast number" of other motorized formations, the German radio concluded that the size of the Soviet effort "goes to show that in this sector the Russians definitely hope to fight the decisive battle."

Russian troops were declared to have made an 11-mile gain to the west in old southern Poland and have now pushed their way to positions some 60 miles north of the Rumanian frontier.

Along with the capture of Volochisk on the Russian side of the old Polish Russian border, the war bulletin also announced that Soviet troops had crossed the Odessa-Lwow line 18 miles to the east with the capture of Narkevichi. The communique said the Russians also took the intermediate station of Voitovtsy, which is eight miles east of Volochisk.

Proskurov and Tarnopol, respectively east and west of Volochisk and junction points on the Odessa-Lwow line, seemed to be immediate objectives of the Soviet drive.

Far to the north on the Baltic front, small groups of Russian troops broke into enemy fortifications in the vocinity of the Estonian fortress city of Narva and killed 300 Germans in hand to hand fighting, the communique said.

It was on the First Ukrainian front, however, that the major fighting was reported, as the Russians were declared to have captured more than 200 villages and hamlets yesterday to bring to more than 700 the number of populated places which the Germans have been forced to relinquish in the three days of the drive.

In a recapitulation of the first two days of fighting, the war bulletin said that Russians killed more than 15,000 Germans officers and men and took more than 3,000 prisoners.

These Nazi casualties are from a German force of a dozen divisions —perhaps from 145,000 to 160,000 men—which has been retreating before the Russian drive.

In preparation for three weeks, the Russian drive southwest of Shepetovka is being made from the southern side of the Red Army's westernmost salient into pre-war Poland. The offensive also is in process of outflanking the Bug river and endangering the Germans who might thus be forced back upon the Dniester.

Long-Time Objective

The Germans "jugular vein" in the southern Ukraine—the Lwow-Odessa railroad—has stood for three months as the ultimate objective of the Soviet design to break through the upper crust of the German armies in southern Russia, which are believed to total almost 750,000 men.

From the point of the breakthrough the Germans are strung out more than 300 miles to the southeast all the way to the Krivoi Rog sector. The Russians have been pushing simultaneously at both ends and the middle of that long line.

The war bulletin listed the district center of Vishnevets, 26 miles northeast of Tarnopol, among the towns which fell to the Soviet troops. This represents a westward push of 10 miles into old Poland.

Russian troops appeared to be driving swiftly toward Tarnopol and Proskurov, which are both junction points on the Odessa-Lwow line and therefore more important to the German defense system than Volochisk.

GERMANS' LAST MAIN-LINE ROAD TO ODESSA CUT

Volochisk Captured by Reds, Leaving Only Single-track Lines to Enemy.

12 NAZI DIVISIONS CRUSHED

Russians Report 15,000 Enemy Troops Slain and 3000 Taken Prisoner in Two Days.

London, March 6 (A. P.).—The Russians tonight announced capture of Volochisk, cutting the Odessa-Lwow railroad, the Germans' last important line to south Russia.

Volochisk is about sixty miles north of the Rumanian frontier.

In a communique broadcast by the Moscow radio and picked up by the Soviet monitor here, the Russians declared that the powerful offensive of the First Ukrainian Army swept up more than 200 populated places, including six district centers, and that more than 15,000 Germans were killed on the First Ukrainian front on Saturday and Sunday. Three thousand more have been taken prisoner, the communique added.

The important Odessa-Lwow railway was cut between Tarnopol and Pruskurov, leaving the Nazis only poor roads and one-track railways serving their forces in southern Russia.

12 Nazi Divisions Crushed.

Moscow announced yesterday that the drive had routed twelve Nazi divisions and liberated more than 500 communities in two days.

Zhukov In Command

Twenty salvos from 224 guns thundered in Moscow in celebration of the new victories, announced by Premier Stalin in a special order of the day and by two Soviet communiques. Stalin disclosed Marshal Gregory K. Zhukov was commanding the First Ukrainian army in the drive, replacing Gen. Nikolai K. Vatutin, who was reported ill.

The announcement said at least 6,000 Nazis already have been slain in the push, which cracked German defenses on a 112-mile front and surged forward up to 31 miles. Joining with previously won positions in Old Poland, the new line gave the Russians a salient from Dembrovitsi in the north, southwest to Luck (Lutsk) and then southeast to Belozerka — a line about 165 miles long.

200,000 Reds In Drive

The German communique yesterday admitted breakthroughs and a Berlin broadcast said the Russians were attacking with at least 12 to 14 rifle divisions and three tank corps — more than 200,000 men.

The Soviet bulletin also announced that far to the north, where the Red Army has established a bridgehead across the Narova river in Estonia south of Narva, the Russians improved their positions. The communique made no mention of the fighting at Pskov, gateway to the Baltics, where the Russians last were reported five miles north and east of the rail hub.

Moscow also reported that Russian torpedo and attack planes had sunk two transports, aggregating 14,000 tons, and a 700-ton minesweeper in attacks on a German convoy in the Barents Sea and had damaged a 7,000-ton transport. The sea route is one which the Nazis could use either in withdrawing or reinforcing their divisions in northern Finland.

'Invasion Any Day Now'

Stockholm, March 6 (AP) — German newspapers give the impression that "the invasion may be expected any day now," a Swedish correspodent in Berlin said today, describing a fresh wave of anticipatory stories in the press.

A Hamburg newspaper said "one must expect invasion from many sides, and possibly some actions will only be feints designed to fool the German defenses."

Another paper said the German people "know there are no walls which cannot be stormed and no single weapon that can decide the war. They know, too, that there cannot be any decision before the 'big proof,'" meaning an invasion.

USSR Soccer Tournament Planned

Moscow, March 6 (AP)—Not all of Russia's attention is focused on the battle with the Germans.

Tass, official Russian news agency, has released the state physical culture and sports committee's plans for the soccer season which gets under way in five or six weeks.

The plans include the competition for the U. S. S. R. cup, annually involving some 200 teams, and the various sectional championships. Virtually all the players are soldiers and many wear service medals.

Bulgaria Denies Peace Plans

STOCKHOLM, March 6 (AP).—A Sofia dispatch to the Swedish press today quoted official quarters as denying foreign reports that Bulgaria was seeking a way out of the war.

Gripsholm Leaves Lisbon, Will Reach U.S. March 14

WASHINGTON, March 6.—(AP) The liner Gripsholm, bringing several hundred Americans home from Germany and occupied Europe, is expected to dock at Jersey City on March 14 or 15, the State department announced today.

The Gripsholm left Lisbon at midnight last night but had to anchor for about eight hours in the river Tagus because of fog, the department said.

Names and addresses of the passengers will be released as soon as the list is received and home-town addresses are compiled.

Provision has been made for removing the Army personnel on arrival at New York directly to Halloran General Hospital, Staten Island. Next of kin of the men being returned have been notified.

Among the Army men being repatriated are, with name and address of next of kin:

Leonard D. Baxter, second lieutenant, Air Corps; Mrs. Gertrude M. Baxter, mother, Walton, N. Y

Robert F. Benson, private, infantry; Mrs. Catherine Benson mother, 164 Prospect Park West Brooklyn.

Emanuel A. Capelli, private, infantry; Mrs. Evelyn A. Capelli wife, 101 Clinton Avenue, New York.

Joseph H. F. Ferry, second lieutenant, Air Corps; Mrs. Joseph A Ferry, mother, 145 Ninety-fifth Street. Brooklyn.

Joseph I. Hunter, private first class, infantry; Mrs. Mary V Hunter, wife, 41 Prospect Place Brooklyn.

John M. Pearson, second lieutenant, Air Corps; Mrs. Marjorie L. Pearson, wife, Hamburg, N. Y

Robert F. Post, major, Air Corps; Mrs. Catherine P. Post, wife Jamestown, N. Y.

The Gripsholm is expected to dock at Jersey City March 14 or 15, the State Department announced.

Names and addresses of all the passengers will be made public as soon as the list is received and home-town addresses compiled.

35 Army Men, Held in Reich, On Gripsholm

Will Be Taken From Ship to Halloran Hospital; 711 Repatriates Abroad

WASHINGTON, March 6 (AP).—The War Department announced tonight that thirty-five American Army officers and men who have been prisoners of war in Germany are among passengers aboard the exchange ship Gripsholm, which sailed from Lisbon, today.

By MEL MOST

660 Americans Aboard

ABOARD THE EXCHANGE SHIP GRIPSHOLM IN LISBON HARBOR, March 6.—(AP) Stripped of most of their belongings by the Germans, 660 haggard but smiling American civilian internees from camps in Germany and France have joined the official repatriation party aboard this ship heading homeward with 711 North and South Americans.

Their tales of hardship and inconsiderate treatment made us, who were interned after the Nazis occupied Vichy France, almost ashamed of the considerate way the Germans treated us in order to get reciprocal treatment for their own diplomats in America.

The civilians said they were given 24 hours to prepare for departure and were not allowed to take most of their effects. A group of American nuns taken from French convents and interned arrived virtually without luggage.

All the civilians were warned that if so much as a single line of writing or a photograph was found on them they would be sent back to camps immediately.

Treated Roughly

At the French Spanish border, where they finally left German control, they had the last taste of rough treatment to which they had become accustomed in the Reich. When the train was about to leave they were shouted at and pushed around by the German major in charge and his underlings. All of them reported the crassest inefficiency in handling them and getting them out of camp.

On the other hand, there were one or two cases of persons technically of American parentage who had lived all their lives in Europe and wanted to stay, convinced the war would end soon. They were shoved aboard repatriation trains regardless.

It was a strange experience to see that rare phenomenon—the American refugee.

They came from all parts of German-occupied Europe, from Greece to Norway, and when their stories are collected they will make an impressive account of life on the continent.

This ship is full of happy and excited people. Many are meeting old American friends not heard from since the beginning of the war.

Some persons on the list forwarded by the Germans have not arrived. Among these is one of the Van Feldt brothers who was interned at Laufen. His younger brother, who was in Holland, arrived and did not have the reunion to which he had looked forward so anxiously. They have a father in New York.

Among the repatriates aboard are several newspapermen who had sought but been denied permission to remain in Europe to undertake new assignments. American officials in Lisbon who ruled on these applications declined to explain their decision. Among them are Taylor Henry of the Associated Press, Philip H. Whitcomb of the Baltimore Sun papers and Arno Doschfleurot of the Christian Science Monitor.

Most of us in the official party remained in Portugal long enough to develop the famous local ailment known as "Lisbon tummy" which afflicts those who arrived from other parts of Europe and try to keep up with the unrationed menus.

'18 Vets Protest Exchange

Lisbon, March 6 (AP)—The Swedish exchange liner Gripsholm headed westward across the Atlantic today with 711 North and South Americans bound for home after a long period of internment in Germany and enemy-occupied countries.

Most of those aboard the ship were deliriously happy as she started her voyage at midnight last night, but for some—who have lived in Europe for many years and have family ties on this side of the Atlantic—it was a sad occasion.

World War Veterans

Among these were several dozen American World War veterans who remained in France after that conflict, married, reared families and were interned by the Germans when the present war broke out.

As the train bringing these men from internment camps in France arrived at the dockside yesterday, some leaned from the windows of the cars and shouted:

"We don't want to go. The Germans are driving us from France."

For them embarkation meant being torn from their families and sent thousands of miles overseas.

Haggard And Weary

"We have been interned for 26 months," exclaimed one middle-aged repatriate, who said he had served on the Mexican border and then in the AEF. "All that time we have not seen our families." His voice broke as he held out a snapshot of his wife and children.

Not one of these old AEF repatriates, haggard and weary after a six-day journey in a crowded train, had a good word to say for the internment camp. One was reported left behind because he was accidentally shot in the leg by a German guard.

But those protesting departure argued that even an internment camp was somewhere within a day's journey of their wives and children, leaving hope they could join them quickly as soon as the war ended.

Spain Denies Germans Have Air Bases There

Madrid, March 6 (AP)—The Foreign Ministry issued a communique tonight denying that the Germans were using Spanish territory for air bases.

A Tass report from Lisbon last Friday declared German engineers had been building secret air bases for Nazi use on the Spanish coast of the Bay of Biscay.

HEAVY NAZI LOSSES REPORTED AT ANZIO

KENNEDY

Beachhead Battle Upsets German Plan for Meeting Western Invasion.

ON THE ANZIO BEACHHEAD IN ITALY, March 6—(AP) Bodies of German soldiers "piled up like cordwood" on the Anzio beachhead—24,000 have been killed, wounded or captured in the fighting here—represent a serious dislocation of Nazi plans for opposing an Allied invasion from Great Britain, it was disclosed authoritatively today.

Crack divisions, including the Hermann Goering, which had been earmarked for immediate transfer to the French "invasion coast" now are pinned down by the fighting around the beachhead and have suffered bloody losses in three abortive attempts to drive British and American troops into the sea.

Artillery Takes Toll

Of the 24,000 casualties suffered by Field Marshal Albert Kesselring's forces in this area, 3,500 have been captured and a high percentage of the remainder killed, it was disclosed. Allied artillery has taken an especially heavy toll.

An American officer who escaped from the Nazis said "I saw German bodies piled up like cordwood while a common grave was dug for them."

The Germans, it was learned, had expected to hold the rugged Italian front hinged on Cassino with second grade troops while their best, most experienced units helped fight off the threatened invasion from Britain. The Goering division already was entrained for France when the Allied landing below Rome forced the Nazis to alter their plans hurriedly.

Other star divisions tied up by the landing included the 26th panzer, the 15th and 29th panzer grenadiers and the 90th light infantry. In all, 19 Nazi divisions now are fighting on the two Italian fronts, and the 10 besieging the beachhead are requiring big replacements to make up their losses, an Allied spokesman said.

That the Germans have been badly hurt in their three major assaults on the beachhead is attested by the falling-off of their artillery fire in recent days, especially their shelling of Anzio harbor. Allied officers are convinced the enemy has lost much of his punch.

Kesselring apparently is hopeful of making his defense of Cassino an epic of German military history.

The defense of the area now is mainly in the hands of crack parachute troops, who are strengthening their fortifications steadily while bad weather holds up the Allies.

The enemy made only one brief offensive gesture against the beachhead yesterday, when about a platoon of Germans started a thrust against American lines near Cisterna. American artillery and mortar fire broke up this small push before it was well started. Allied artillery knocked out a German tank northwest of Littoria.

Weather Still Bad

Continued rain on the beachhead and rain and snow across the original Fifth and Eighth army fronts held operations to a minimum yesterday, it was announced at Allied headquarters. Around Cassino the ground was so boggy that even foot patrols had difficulty getting about. Allied fighter-bombers braved rain and a heavy overcast to attack shipping off the Yugoslav coast and gun positions on the Fifth Army front.

It was announced that about one third of the beachhead's civil population of 20,000 has been evacuated to southern Italy. Considerable persuasion was required to move even that many, despite the fact that the entire beachhead is under enemy artillery fire.

which ten are around the beachhead and requiring big replacements to make up for losses in killed, captured and wounded.

Fewer German divisions are now in the Balkans. A considerable part of this force is being engaged by Marshal Tito's Partisan army while general unrest in the region makes heavy garrisoning of other countries necessary. Some divisions are held in northern Italy to keep order. Another sizable force is tied up in southern France to meet the threat of an invasion of the Riviera. Throughout France many troops are required to keep resistance fighters from gaining control.

Of these, 3,500 have been captured by Allied beachhead troops and a high percentage of the remainder were killed, Allied artillery having taken an especially heavy toll.

An American officer who got back to Allied lines after being in German hands said, "I saw German bodies piled up like cordwood while a common grave was dug for them."

Foe's Anzio Loss Put at 24,000

KENNEDY

Allied Beachhead South of Rome Revealed to Have Weakened Channel Defenses.

Anzio Beachhead, Italy, March 6 (A. P.).—The Germans have suffered 24,000 casualties in three abortive efforts to wipe out this Allied beachhead south of Rome, and the hard fighting of the past month has disrupted the enemy's plans for meeting the expected spring invasion across the English Channel, an authoritative spokesman said today.

Of the 24,000 German casualties, 3,500 have been captured and a high percentage of the remainder have been killed, the Allied artillery having taken an especially heavy toll.

An American officer who got back to the Allied lines after having been for a time in the hands of the Germans said: "I saw German bodies piled up like cordwood while a common grave was dug for them."

Vital Strategic Gain.

But more important than this, from a strategic point of view, is the fact that crack divisions, earmarked to meet Gen. Eisenhower's invasion are tied up in Italy.

The Germans had decided that because of the advantageous terrain, they couldr hold the Italian front with second-class troops like the 114th Division, it was learned. They had planned to move their first-class units, among them the Hermann Goering Division, the Twenty-sixth Panzer Division, the Fifteenth and Twenty-ninth Panzer grenadiers and the Ninetieth Light Infantry, to the channel coast, and the Goering Division, in fact, was already aboard trains when the unexpected landing at Anzio compelled the Germans not only to retain all such divisions in Italy but bring in more from northern Italy, Yougoslavia, France and Germany.

The Italian campaign is engaging nineteen German divisions, of

New Jab Repulsed

Allied Headquarters, Naples, March 6 (AP)—Allied beachhead forces have repulsed another small German attack, it was announced today in a communique which also said that bad weather sharply reduced operations on all fronts in Italy.

Despite continuous rain and low clouds, fighter-bombers attacked shipping off the Yugoslav coast and gun positions on the Fifth Army front without loss.

Except for the one enemy attempt to plunge into the beachhead lines, ground operations were confined chiefly to routine patrolling on all fronts. Eighth Army troops threw back a minor German attempt to probe their lines.

Position Restored

The new German thrust against the beachhead lines came near Cisterna in the same general area where American troops quickly restored their positions Friday night after a battalion of Nazi infantry had advanced slightly.

American artillery and mortar fire scattered a small German force attempting the new drive even before it reached advanced defense positions. A German tank concentration also was dispersed by shellfire, one tank being destroyed.

Thrust Smashed

A small-scale thrust against the main Fifth Army lines in the vicinity of Castel san Vincenzo, west of Isernia, was halted without difficulty. The enemy left his equipment when he fled.

Canadians of the Eighth Army wiped out a German machine-gun position and smashed an enemy truck convoy, while Indian troops repelled an assault near Orsogna.

On the main Fifth Army front, French forces threw back two small probing attempts south of Monte Croce.

BOMB CARRYING TANK EXAMINED BY ALLIES

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN ITALY, March 6—(AP) Allied officers are unraveling the mystery of Hitler's new "secret weapon"—the mini-tank operated by remote control and designed to roll into enemy lines and then blow up.

It is not directed by radio as at first supposed, but by an electrical control cable 600 yards long which links it to its base.

It is five feet long, two feet high, two feet wide and weighs 750 pounds. It carries a 130-pound explosive charge. The flea-tank is propelled by a two-cylinder gasoline engine.

It has endless treads like a tank, and is steered like a tank, by braking on one tread. The brakes are applied through the electrical cable control.

The new weapon overturns easily and so far has been wholly ineffective in this theate

Third Of Beachhead Civilians Evacuated

Naples, March 6 (AP)—Almost one third of the Anzio beachhead's civil population of 20,000 has been evacuated to southern Italy. They will live with relatives or in shelters furnished by military authorities.

Although the whole beachhead is under enemy artillery fire, most of the civilians have been reluctant to leave and considerable persuasion has been necessary to evacuate even one third of the residents.

Yugoslavs Get Tanker

MALTA, March 6 (AP).—The American tanker Ohio was taken over today by the Yugoslav Navy as headquarters ship after a thorough overhauling.

The Ohio's battered hulk arrived in Malta in August, 1942, with her cargo of oil intact after being heavily attacked while crossing the Mediterranean in a convoy.

[The Ohio was built in 1940 at Chester, Pa., for the Texas Oil Company. The 9,624-ton vessel is 488 feet long and carried a crew of forty-three.]

DEATHS IN ROME RAID ARE REPORTED AT 400

BERN, Switzerland, March 6.—(AP) The death toll in the Allied bombing attack on Rome Friday exceeded 400, a Rome dispatch in the Gazette de Lausanne declared today. The raid was called the most violent attack on the capital since last summer.

The dispatch said that one air raid shelter suffered a direct bomb-hit, which killed at least 200 occupants. Several other air raid havens were severely damaged.

All aqueducts in the city were reported smashed. Civilians were said to be standing in long lines to get water at the city's public fountains.

The dispatch reported many quarters of the city without electricity. The gas supply was also declared all but knocked out.

509 ITALIANS DIE IN RAILWAY TUNNEL

Naples, March 6 (A. P.).—A total of 509 Italian civilians were asphyxiated early Saturday morning when the freight train on which they had hitched rides stalled in a tunnel in southern Italy.

Brig.-Gen. Carl R. Gray of St. Paul, Minn., director-general of the Allied Military Railway Service, described the tragedy as one of the most regrettable as well as one of the most unusual accidents in the history of railroading.

Allied railway officials said that several hundred civilians apparently had climbed aboard the forty-five-car train in the darkness while it was halted at one of the stations not far from the entrance to the tunnel.

Only about fifty of those caught aboard the train when it stalled on a 4 per cent grade in the tunnel escaped with their lives. The remainder apparently met a quick death as carbon monoxide gas generated by the engine spread swiftly through the tunnel.

All members of the crew except the fireman were among the dead. Officials said no Allied personnel was aboard the train.

BOMBS TUNNEL, CATCHES TRAIN

Allied Headquarters in Italy, March 6 (A. P.).—Bombs cast from a Mitchell bomber of the Twelfth United States Air Force caught an enemy train just as it reached the exit of a tunnel at Montenero, Italy, it was disclosed today.

"Debris crashed down on the train and it stopped abruptly," said Lieut. Donald Stein of Kansas City. "Jerry must think we had a super-espionage system to time a target so exactly."

The target, however, was the tunnel, rather than the train. It was put out of use.

Two Pairs of Brothers Gunners in One Plane

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, NAPLES, March 6 (AP).—Two sets of brothers are gunners aboard a Liberator bomber operating in the Mediterranean theater.

Waist gunners aboard the plane are Wade and Waite Goad, twins, from Harlingen, Tex. The ball turret gunner is Hiram Calkins, and his brother Fred operates the tail guns. The Calkins boys are from Canadensis, Pa.

Off duty the two sets of brothers occupy the same tent.

Major and Nine Men Paved Way to Victory

By RELMAN MORIN.

Allied Headquarters, Algiers, March 6 (A. P.).—On the morning of the sixth day the major counted his men.

A quick glance was enough. Nine men were left besides himself, ten men out of the original party of eighty that had set out to reduce a German strong point, a thick-walled house outside Ortona.

Shells were still falling around them, and occasionally mortars shook the ground. The little group already had repelled one German counter-attack at dawn. Another might come at any moment.

The major said to the nine men, "There is only one safe place around here and that's the place we were told to take. Let's take it."

He had been saying that since the morning they left their own lines.

They had fought their way to within 500 yards of the house through mountain country dotted with machine-gun nests and snipers. Then the Germans had come in the darkness and for the next five days and nights they had been cut off.

They saved their ammunition for the German counterattacks and when they moved forward they used bayonets, in spite of shells, mortars and even dive-bombing.

On the sixth day the major and his nine men took the house.

Today the Canadian Army Gazette announced that Major Paul Triquet of Cabano, Que., had been awarded the Victoria Cross, the first man in the Italian campaign and the second Canadian in this war to receive it. The Gazette said Major Triquet and his nine men had made possible the successful assault on Ortona.

Italy Strikes Spread

At the Italian Frontier, March 6 (AP)—Reports reaching the Swiss frontier today estimated that 3,000,000 to 6,000,000 workers were on strike in northern Italy, threatening to disrupt the whole industrial and economic organization in German-controlled Italy.

The Nazi-controlled Rome radio had denied there were strikes, but Fascist newspapers disclosed they were spreading.

Deportation Threat

In Milan and Turin, decrees were published warning workers to return to their jobs by March 8 or face the "severest" penalties, including deportation to Poland.

In Milan, where an extraordinary tribunal was convoked today to help meet the situation, the Fascists were compelled to form crews to operate streetcars and busses.

DEVIL'S ISLAND PEN RESTORED

French Reestablish It For Political Prisoners

Algiers, March 6 (AP)—While a special military tribunal continued with its treason trial of Pierre Pucheu, former Vichy Minister of Interior, the French National Committee of Liberation today reestablished Devil's Island as a place for confinement of political prisoners.

The committee published a decree designating Devil's Island for detaining of "deportees" or persons convicted of political crimes such as treason. Ile Royale and St. Joseph Island in the same group, off the French Guiana coast, were assigned for ordinary prisoners.

The French Government in 1939, shortly before the war broke out abandoned the policy of sending prisoners to the Guiana penal colonies.

Dreyfuss Case Recalled

Devil's Island is particularly known in French history as the site of Capt. Alfred Dreyfuss' exile.

Captain Dreyfuss was convicted of treason at the turn of the century by a military tribunal and spent several years on the lonely isle. A later investigation proved Dreyfuss had been wrongly accused and "L'Affaire Dreyfuss" evoked a split in French political opinion which nearly wrecked the Third Republic.

The prison population of Devil's Island since 1939 has dwindled to less than 150 inmates and of these only 13 are political prisoners.

Death Penalty Demanded

Three former members of the National Council of Resistance, a French underground organization, demanded the death penalty for Pucheu, saying that the council had condemned Pucheu to death in absentia at a session in Paris in August, 1943, on the basis of reports from the underground.

In a day marked by emotional outbursts, the three witnesses, Albert Bosman, vice-president of the consultive assembly; Charles Laurent, chairman of the Resistance Council's purge committee, and Andre Mercier, Communist deputy, said the council had condemned Pucheu to death last August. They urged that the military tribunal of the French Committee of National Liberation reaffirm the sentence.

Completing Testimony

The prosecution all but completed its testimony today. Only one witness remains to be heard tomorrow.

The three underground members testified that the council had condemned Pucheu on sufficient documentary evidence "in accordance with the will of the French people."

However, Laurent could not repeat the testimony or recall the evidence, and could not remember whether Pucheu was condemned by the council in 1942 or 1943.

Decision Made Last August

Mercier said the decision was made by the council without discussion last August. Both he and Laurent admitted they had not brought any of the documents out of France. Bosman said he left France before the meeting was held.

Gen. Henri Giraud will open the defense testimony tomorrow. Pucheu declares that he came to North Africa at the invitation of Giraud.

Several Communist witnesses testified Pucheu had established special police and special courts directed against their party leaders, but only one witness, Hernand Grenier, could recount actual events within the occupied zone.

3 Communists Condemned

Grenier said a special court at Clermont - Ferrand condemned three Communist leaders to death.

His voice breaking with emotion as he proclaimed himself to be speaking on behalf of "hundreds of thousands of our comrades killed in the struggle against the Nazis," Bosman said the documents necessary to convict Pucheu might be lacking in North Africa, but that "Frenchmen in France who are still fighting possess these documents which are incontestible, and in their name I demand that this tribunal confirm the sentiment of the Council of National Resistance."

Marc Bucart, Socialist member of the consulative assembly, declared, "No good Frenchman would take the job of Interior Minister under Petain."

Pucheu Called 'Finger Man'

Algiers, March 6 (AP)—The French National Liberation Committee began presenting testimony today against Pierre Pucheu, former Vichy Interior Minister, charged with treason.

Fernand Grenier, Communist member of the old Chamber of Deputies and now a delegate in the Consultative Assembly, who was the prosecution's first witness, charged Pucheu with "putting the finger" on French hostages for execution, but he failed on cross-examination to give the military tribunal definite facts substantiating his accusation.

Charges Doomed Men Picked

Grenier asserted Pucheu had given the Germans a list of 50 prisoners to be executed following the slaying of the German commander of Nantes and declared the French industrialist picked out union and Communist leaders for death "in order to deal a hard blow to the French working class."

The defense demanded proof of this statement and one of the generals on the bench asked for details. Grenier faltered.

"The Gestapo couldn't have known who to take. Only the French police under Pucheu could have known," Grenier replied.

Pucheu replied he had struggled to save hostages both at Nantes and Bordeaux, and pointed out the French police in the occupied zone had been under German orders for a year before he entered Petain's Cabinet.

Communists' Roles Discussed

The testimony evoked considerable discussion on the role of French Communists before June, 1941, as Grenier charged Pucheu with arresting six party leaders who subsequently were executed, and assailed Pucheu for establishing a special branch of the police to chase Communists.

Grenier said Pucheu established special courts for sabotage cases, including one at Clermont Ferrand in the unoccupied zone, which condemned three union leaders to death. He also charged that French police handed the Patrpits over to the Gestapo and otherwise collaborated with the Germans unnecessarily.

LEAVE FOR BRITAIN

CAIRO, March 6 (AP) Two ministers of the exile government of King Peter of Yugoslavia have left Cairo for London and it was said that their trip might be the forerunner of a move of greater importance. Their names were not immediately disclosed.

(In London an authoritative source said there was nothing to indicate any immediate changes in the Yugoslav government.)

Turkey Demands Supplies Before She Will Join War

CAIRO, March 6—(AP) Reliable Cairo sources said today the Turkish government had flatly refused to enter the war or grant bases to the Allies except on complete delivery of a large volume of war materials which would require months to ship and prepare for use.

At the same time it was said that considerable political difficulties had been thrown in the path of the British military mission which recently returned empty-handed from Turkey.

Differ on Nazi Strength

The Turkish general staff, it was stated on good authority here, declined to accept British estimates of the worst the Germans could throw against Turkey if she entered the war. In the specific case of possible air warfare, the Turks were said to have estimated German strength at 10 times above that given by British intelligence officers.

(In Washington, it was reported Thursday that American Lend-Lease and British mutual aid shipments to Turkey were understood to have been suspended in a move apparently linked with preparations for the invasion of Europe.)

The situation is not considered hopeless, however. If, as repeated rumors have said, Bulgaria is considering peace, that would put a new face on the situation. The Turks are known to be concerned with possible retaliation by the Germans and Bulgarians through Bulgaria.

An unimpeachable source said the Turks had demanded war supplies on the basis of the Adana conversations of February, 1943, when Turkey was in considerable danger of major German retaliation if she joined the Allies, rather than on the basis of the discussions of the more recent Cairo conference when the Nazis were in much worse condition to hit back.

Political Factors

Despite differences in these estimates, members of the British military mission found they could have discussed the situation reasonably with members of the Turkish general staff if political factors had not entered the situation.

Among other things the Turks demanded 500 U. S. Sherman tanks, of which they have a small number, in addition to a considerable quantity of British tanks.

When an offer was made to send supplies on a monthly basis in exchange for quick action by the Turks, the Turks were said to have declined on the ground that a complete list of supplies must be delivered and troops trained to use them before the country would enter the war or allow bases to be used.

Turks Hold New British Accord Possible

Ankara, Turkey, March 6 (AP)—Two Istanbul newspapers left the impression today that a new Turkish understanding with Britain is still possible despite an announcement that shipment of lease-lend and war supplies from England and the United States has been stopped.

"The policy of the democracies is our policy," said Vatan.

"If the Allies were to do something in the Balkans, they would find us at their sides," said Tanin. "It is not true that the Allies can do nothing in the Balkans because we will not move. The truth is that we will not move because the Allies do not wish to land in the Balkans."

Flyers Reported Leaving

Suspension of British-Turkish military talks was disclosed February 10.

Tanin reported that aviators and technicians sent to Turkey by the Allies were preparing to leave and said that, while the flow of military supplies from Allied sources had been halted, shipments of rubber and tin would continue.

(In London, the Daily Mail quoted the Morocco radio as saying it understood a Turkish military mission would leave Ankara soon for London.)

"Brutal Force" Hit

Tanin declared that "Turkey will never bow to pressure" and the anti-Allied newspaper Cumhuriyet used the expression "brutal force."

(Likewise, the Ankara radio deplored what it called bitter comment of the British press on the turn in Turkish-British relations and declared that any attempt to bring pressure on Turkey "would bring exactly the opposite effect."

("It would add to the seriousness of the situation which at first was only a small misunderstanding," the broadcast said. "Small psychological mistakes may have disastrous consequences.")

FIRST YANK TROOPS HIT JAPS IN BURMA

Gen. Stilwell Directs Initial American Drive on Asia Mainland.

NEW DELHI, March 6—(AP) American infantry units in action for the first time on the Asiatic continent have opened an attack in northern Burma under the direction of Lt. Gen. Joseph W. Stilwell who swore he would get even with the Japanese for the "hell of a beating" they gave him two years ago.

Veterans of the jungles of Guadalcanal and the southwest Pacific, scoring their first success in the drive to open a short cut to China's Burma road, have marched 200 miles through the thick bush and struck the enemy a surprise blow from the rear, a communique from Gen. Stilwell's headquarterss announced.

Cut Line of Retreat

Using an American adaptation of the roadblock—a tactic used by the Japanese in Burma two years ago and a trick which Gen. Stilwell never forgot—the Americans planted themselves squarely across the Japanese line of retreat from Malinkwan, chief village of the Hukawing valley.

About 2,000 of the enemy were believed cut off by the American column which marched 117 miles from their railhead in northeast India, then struck eastward, then southward and eastward again and came out on the Walawbum trail.

Gen. Stilwell's Chinese troops, who have been pushing the Japanese back steadily for nearly two months in the Hukawng valley, pressed in from the north, taking Maingkwan, while the Americans took Walawbum, 10 miles southeast of Maingkwan.

Chinese Move Ahead

Another strong force of Chinese moved to within 10 miles of closing the encirclement by capturing Nritu Ga to the northeast of Maingkwan, completing mopping up operations at Wa Gahtawng, surrounding an enemy force at Lashu Ga and advancing southward.

The Americans were about 70 miles northwest of Mytikyina, the northern end of the railroad from Mandalay, and 110 miles west of the Salween river which in general forms the present fighting front of southwest China.

The defense demanded proof of this statement and one of the generals on the bench asked for details. Grenier faltered.

"The Gestapo couldn't have known who to take. Only the French police under Pucheu could have known," Grenier replied.

Pucheu replied he had struggled to save hostages both at Nantes and Bordeaux, and pointed out the French police in the occupied zone had been under German orders for a year before he entered Petain's Cabinet.

Communists' Roles Discussed

The testimony evoked considerable discussion on the role of French Communists before June, 1941, as Grenier charged Pucheu with arresting six party leaders who subsequently were executed, and assailed Pucheu for establishing a special branch of the police to chase Communists.

Grenier said Pucheu established special courts for sabotage cases, including one at Clermont Ferrand in the unoccupied zone, which condemned three union leaders to death. He also charged that French police handed the Patriots over to the Gestapo and otherwise collaborated with the Germans unnecessarily.

Turkey Demands Supplies Before She Will Join War

CAIRO, March 6—(AP)—Reliable Cairo sources said today the Turkish government had flatly refused to enter the war or grant bases to the Allies except on complete delivery of a large volume of war materials which would require months to ship and prepare for use.

At the same time it was said that considerable political difficulties had been thrown in the path of the British military mission which recently returned empty-handed from Turkey.

Differ on Nazi Strength

The Turkish general staff, it was stated on good authority here, declined to accept British estimates of the worst the Germans could throw against Turkey if she entered the war. In the specific case of possible air warfare, the Turks were said to have estimated German strength at 10 times above that given by British intelligence officers.

(In Washington, it was reported Thursday that American Lend-Lease and British mutual aid shipments to Turkey were understood to have been suspended in a move apparently linked with preparations for the invasion of Europe.)

The situation is not considered hopeless, however. If, as repeated rumors have said, Bulgaria is considering peace, that would put a new face on the situation. The Turks are known to be concerned with possible retaliation by the Germans and Bulgarians through Bulgaria.

An unimpeachable source said the Turks had demanded war supplies on the basis of the Adana conversations of February, 1943, when Turkey was in considerable danger of major German retaliation if she joined the Allies, rather than on the basis of the discussions of the more recent Cairo conference when the Nazis were in much worse condition to hit back.

Political Factors

Despite differences in these estimates, members of the British military mission found they could have discussed the situation reasonably with members of the Turkish general staff if political factors had not entered the situation.

Among other things the Turks demanded 500 U. S. Sherman tanks, of which they have a small number, in addition to a considerable quantity of British tanks.

When an offer was made to send supplies on a monthly basis in exchange for quick action by the Turks, the Turks were said to have declined on the ground that a complete list of supplies must be delivered and troops trained to use them before the country would enter the war or allow bases to be used.

Turks Hold New British Accord Possible

Ankara, Turkey, March 6 (AP)—Two Istanbul newspapers left the impression today that a new Turkish understanding with Britain is still possible despite an announcement that shipment of lease-lend and war supplies from England and the United States has been stopped.

"The policy of the democracies is our policy," said Vatan.

"If the Allies were to do something in the Balkans, they would find us at their sides," said Tanin. "It is not true that the Allies can do nothing in the Balkans because we will not move. The truth is that we will not move because the Allies do not wish to land in the Balkans."

Flyers Reported Leaving

Suspension of British-Turkish military talks was disclosed February 10.

Tanin reported that aviators and technicians sent to Turkey by the Allies were preparing to leave and said that, while the flow of military supplies from Allied sources had been halted, shipments of rubber and tin would continue.

(In London, the Daily Mail quoted the Morocco radio as saying it understood a Turkish military mission would leave Ankara soon for London.)

"Brutal Force" Hit

Tanin declared that "Turkey will never bow to pressure" and the anti-Allied newspaper Cumhuriyet used the expression "brutal force."

(Likewise, the Ankara radio deplored what it called bitter comment of the British press on the turn in Turkish-British relations and declared that any attempt to bring pressure on Turkey "would bring exactly the opposite effect."

("It would add to the seriousness of the situation which at first was only a small misunderstanding," the broadcast said. "Small psychological mistakes may have disastrous consequences.")

FIRST YANK TROOPS HIT JAPS IN BURMA

Gen. Stilwell Directs Initial American Drive on Asia Mainland.

NEW DELHI, March 6—(AP) American infantry units in action for the first time on the Asiatic continent have opened an attack in northern Burma under the direction of Lt. Gen. Joseph W. Stilwell who swore he would get even with the Japanese for the "hell of a beating" they gave him two years ago.

Veterans of the jungles of Guadalcanal and the southwest Pacific, scoring their first success in the drive to open a short cut to China's Burma road, have marched 200 miles through the thick bush and struck the enemy a surprise blow from the rear, a communique from Gen. Stilwell's headquarterss announced.

Cut Line of Retreat

Using an American adaptation of the roadblock—a tactic used by the Japanese in Burma two years ago and a trick which Gen. Stilwell never forgot—the Americans planted themselves squarely across the Japanese line of retreat from Malinkwan, chief village of the Hukawing valley.

About 2,000 of the enemy were believed cut off by the American column which marched 117 miles from their railhead in northeast India, then struck eastward, then southward and eastward again and came out on the Walawbum trail.

Gen. Stilwell's Chinese troops, who have been pushing the Japanese back steadily for nearly two months in the Hukawng valley, pressed in from the north, taking Maingkwan, while the Americans took Walawbum, 10 miles southeast of Maingkwan.

Chinese Move Ahead

Another strong force of Chinese moved to within 10 miles of closing the encirclement by capturing Nritu Ga to the northeast of Mainkwan, completing mopping up operations at Wa Gahtawng, surrounding an enemy force at Lashu Ga and advancing southward.

The Americans were about 70 miles northwest of Mytikyina, the northern end of the railroad from Mandalay, and 110 miles west of the Salween river which in general forms the present fighting front of southwest China.

Yanks Join in Burma Drive; Block Retreat of 2000 Japs

Jungle-wise Troops From Puerto Rico, Panama and Guadalcanal Cut Ten Miles Behind Foe in Pincer Move With Chinese.

New Delhi, March 6 (A. P.).—Jungle-hardened American soldiers—some of them veterans of Guadalcanal and the Southwest Pacific—have gone into action in Burma, the first American ground forces fighting as a unit on the Asiatic continent.

These Americans are led by Brig. Gen. Frank Merrill, a 39-year-old former buck private who has specialized in a study of Japanese military strategy during service in Tokyo, Manila and other posts in Asia. A veteran of Gen. Stilwell's famous retreat from Burma in 1942, Gen. Merrill hails from North Woodstock, N. H., and is considered one of the most brilliant soldiers in this theater despite his youth.

His veterans, drawn from Puerto Rico and Panama as well as the southwest Pacific and jungle-hardened by months of training in central India and northern Burma, have cut themselves off from roads and bases, and depend upon the jungle and air transport for most of their supplies. They are equipped with the latest type jungle weapons.

Thir method of operation is based largely upon the experience of the colorful British brigadier, O. C. Wingate, now a major general, who led an unorthodox raid deep into Burma last year.

In the last stage of their operation, the Americans hacked their way through jungle wholly without trails. Their first clash was about a week ago but mention of the campaign was not permitted until today. In a subsequent series of fights the Americans suffered only 11 casualties while inflicting 25 times as many on the Japanese, it was stated here.

Meanwhile, American engineers were said to be right at the heels of Chinese troops in the Hukawng valley with construction work on the new Ledo road.

Dig In "Like Moles"

As elsewhere, General Stilwell said at a press conference today, the Japanese have dug in like moles and the "Chinese go into the holes and blast them out."

At the southern end of the Burma front, Admiral Lord Louis Montbatten's communique today said comparative quiet prevailed except for shelling of Allied positions north of Buthedaung in Arakan, 50 miles north of Akyab.

An Allied patrol on the Coastal Plain caught an enemy detachment south of Maungdaw and inflicted casualties.

American and British planes hit locomotives, warehouses, runways river craft, camp areas and bridges.

The Americans made a great looping attack far to the left of Chinese forces operating in the Hukawng Valley, and have struck the Jap lines nearly ten miles behind their present front lines.

The Americans inflicted heavy casualties on the Japs in capturing Walawbum, eight miles southwest of Maingkwan, chief village in the valley, by an encircling movement. The first report from the jungle said the Americans had suffered only eleven casualties until now, but had inflicted twenty-five times that many on the Japanese in the few brushes they have had.

Deepest Penetration So Far.

With capture of Walawbum and Maingkwan, which fell to the Chinese, a Chinese-American pincers has been established around an estimated 2,000 Japanese.

Chinese forces northeast of Maingkwan captured Nritu Ga, mopped up Japanese at Wa Gahtawng, surrounded an enemy force at Lashu Ga and advanced on southward, Gen. Stilwell's communique said. This force was within ten miles of joining the American column to the south.

The combined American-Chinese drive now has penetrated deeper into Burma than any other current operation.

These Americans are the only body of United States infantry operating in Asia. Some of them were gathered from Puerto Rico and Panama as well as the Southwest Pacific, and have been jungle-hardened to the highest degree.

Live Off Jungle.

Like the Chinese troops, they are not bothering to maintain lines of supply by land. They are cut loose from all bases, and are depending upon air supply to bring them needed ammunition, food, and clothing. They are equipped with the latest type of jungle weapons and are trained to live off the jungle as much as possible.

They began training in India under Brig.-Gen. Frank Merrill, adopting methods proved not only in the Southwest Pacific, but by the colorful Brigadier O. C. Wingate who last year made a long-range penetration into Burma. They completed their preliminary training in central India, and then polished it off in the jungles of northern Burma.

They had their first brush with the Japanese more than a week ago, but not until today's penetration far behind the Jap lines was their presence made public.

Route of Operation.

Their first march from a railhead in northeast India carried them 117 miles into the jungle. Their next operation carried them eastward, southward, then eastward so they came up at the Walawbum trail and road crossing southeast of Maingkwan. In the last stage of the operation they hacked their way through a section of jungle wholly without trails.

The looping attack to the Japanese rear was an American adaptation of the Jap roadblock with which the enemy harassed the British and Chinese in Burma two years ago. Gen. Merrill's column marched about 200 miles through the jungle in order to plant themselves squarely across the Jap line of retreat from Maingkwan.

The column caried forward by a big step Lieut.-Gen. Joseph W. Stilwell's plan to drive the Japanese from North Burma to permit construction of the short cut to the Burma Road. Engineering crews are building this highway right on the tail of Chinese forces who have been pushing the enemy backward steadily for upwards of two months.

Blast Japs Out of Holes.

As in other places where they fight the Japanese are dug into the hills like moles. Asked how the Allied troops managed to get them out, Gen. Stilwell told a press conference, "the Chinese go into the holes and blast them out."

Merrill Knows Japs.

On the North Burma Front (Delayed) (A. P.).—The first all-American penetration into Burma is headed by 39-year-old Brig.-Gen. Frank Merrill of North Woodstock, N. H., a one-time buck private who as an officer came to know the Jap warrior caste through a long, warily intimate association with Tojo's generals in their homeland.

Important among his many qualifications for his significant job is the fact he walked out of Burma two years ago with Lieut.-Gen. Joseph W. Stilwell who maintained then that "We got a hell of a beating" in the country and "We ought to find out what caused it, go back and retake it."

Gen. Merrill is experienced in engineering, cavalry, infantry and special weapons. He is one of those rare men who as a private won an appointment to West Point Academy and achieved a general's rank. He graduated from West Point in 1929.

In 1937 he was attached to the Jap Army on maneuvers when he cultivated many friendships among the officers. He now perhaps is the foremost American Army authority on Jap military thought. He especially sought out the younger Jap officers, who are those now commanding. He remained in Japan until October, 1941.

He then went to Manila to become intelligence officer to Gen. Douglas MacArthur. He was on a flying mission to Rangoon at the time of Pearl Harbor. In Burma he was an observer with the British forces and was transferred to Gen. Stillwell's command when the latter arrived in Burma with Chinese troops.

General Merrill Was Admitted To West Point On Sixth Try

North Woodstock, N. H., March 6 (AP)—Frank Merrill just didn't get discouraged when a doctor told him, in early youth that he had a minor eye ailment that would disqualify him from West Point, nor did he let it get him down when the doctors at "the Point" told him five times he was physically unfit.

On his sixth try, he won his way into West Point and today he is leading the first All-American penetration into Burma, as Brig. Gen. Frank Merrill, 39, youngest general line officer in the American army.

The story of Merrill's fight to get into the army came today from his wife, the former Lucy Wright, of Cincinnati, at her home here in Franconia Notch.

Joined Engineers

She told of how he ran away and joined the army engineers after he was told he could not go into West Point from civil life.

The Merrill family was in Tokyo until 1941 when all but the general were evacuated home. Mrs. Merrill, fond of the surroundings at Franconia because of summer vacations spent there in the past, brought her family of two sons, Frank, Jr., 12, and Thomas, 6, to North Woodstock for the duration.

Merrill was born in Hopkinton, Mass. He grew up in Amesbury Mass., and from his early boyhood cherished the ambition to become a West Pointer.

"A doctor told him he had astigmatism, however, and could not make it," Mrs. Merrill related today.

Went To Panama

"So, he ran away and joined the army. He went to Panama and finally worked his way up to a sergeantcy. Five times he tried to get into the Point and each time he was rejected. Finally, on his sixth try, he made it."

Where did they meet? She chuckled as she recalled a visit she made to a girl friend in Vermont. They went to Fort Ethan Allen. There she was introduced to the young cavalry officer, fresh out of West Point. That was in 1929. A year later they were married.

His hobbies? "Being an old cavalry man, he likes to ride horses when not on duty. He likes to hunt and fish, but give him a horse any time."

Heard Three Weeks Ago

Mrs. Merrill last heard from her husband three weeks ago, she said, and at that time he wrote her not to expect any more mail from him "for some time" but "you keep writing to me."

"I had an idea they were going somewhere but, of course, I didn't know where. I'm delighted to know he got field duty again. That was what he always wanted."

Declines To Elaborate

Asked of her impression of Japan, gained during her three years of life there, while her husband was assistant military attache, she thought a moment and replied: "I have very definite opinions of the Japanese." She declined to elaborate.

What was her reaction on learning her husband was leading the Americans into Burma?

"I'm glad because I know he is delighted to be in the field. And I'll keep those letters going to him."

Clash In Burma Causes Losses

New Delhi, March 6 (AP)—An Allied patrol operating on Burma's coastal plain south of Maungdaw engaged and inflicted casualties upon a party of Japanese, a Southeast Asia communique said today.

Elsewhere on the main Arakan front quiet has prevailed for the past 24 hours except for enemy shelling of the Allied positions north of Buthedaung, the bulletin said.

United States heavy bombers carried their explosives to a number of Japanese airfields in southern Burma last night, starting fires, while fighters, fighter-bombers and medium bombers attacked a wide variety of targets in the past three days.

Supply Facilities Hit

Medium bombers hit Shamo town last night. Fighter and medium bombers, in northern Burma sweeps, damaged locomotives, freight cars, river craft and camp areas, destroyed a bridge at Kumnyen, heavily damaged a runway at the Shwebo airfield and demolished several warehouses.

Dive bombers and fighters attacked enemy positions on all Burma fronts in support of the Allied troops in the past two days.

China Raid Bags 30 Jap Planes On Hainan

Chungking, March 6 (AP)—American Mitchells of the 14th Air Force, escorted by fighters, destroyed from 30 to 50 enemy aircraft in the air and on the ground in a raid on Kiungshan airdrome in the northern part of Hainan Island on Saturday, a communique from Lieut. Gen. Joseph W. Stilwell's headquarters said today.

The Mitchells also struck the airdrome at Chengmai in northern Thailand today and destroyed eight twin-engined and one single-engined aircraft on the ground.

Fighter pilots of the Chinese-American wing claimed 13 Japanese planes definitely shot down in the raid on Hainan Island, while American pilots were credited with four, besides a number damaged.

Tokyo Reports Hoihow Raided

The Tokyo radio announced today that 20 Allied bombers and fighters had attacked the port of Hoihow on Hainan Island, off the south China coast, Saturday. The broadcast, recorded in New York by United States Government monitors, said Japanese naval planes had intercepted the raiders and asserted that only minor damage was done to ground installations.)

Other Mitchells on a Lightning-escorted sweep up the Yangtze river sank a river freighter and a tanker and shot down four more Japanese fighters.

Japanese airmen bombed an advanced American airdrome near Suichuan, the communique said. One Allied plane was lost in all the operations.

Hero Of World War I Now At Burma Front

At the Burma Front, March 6 (AP)—Missions don't come too dangerous for Master Sergeant Joseph Doyer, 46, of Clementon, N. J., who had to win an argument with Brig. Gen. Frank Merrill before he could join the raiding column now in the heart of north Burma.

Doyer served with the Canadian army in the first World War, winning a half dozen British medals and a Belgian decoration.

While training for the Burma jungle campaign, he was visited by Admiral Lord Louis Mountbatten, commander in chief in Southeast Asia, who asked especially to see Doyer because of his outstanding record in the last war.

As training for the Burma plunge was completed, General Merrill called Doyer in and said, "Sergeant Doyer will be assigned to the rear echelon. He's too old to go to the front."

Doyer replied, "General, I can outwalk and outshoot you."

That's how Joe Doyer got into the front line against the Japanese.

AP WRITER HONORED

CHUNGKING, March 6—(AP) The honorary rank of comrade in arms of one of China's most famous divisions, the 78th, has been conferred on J. Reilly O'Sullivan, Associated Press war correspondent, on the eve of his departure after 18 months of service in the China theater, it was announced today.

The rank and a uniform to go with it were bestowed on O'Sullivan by Gen. Ho Ying-Chin, war minister, in a recent ceremony. General Ho said this was the first time such an honor had been conferred upon a foreigner. O'Sullivan is now entitled to all courtesies due an officer if he visits the 78th division.

O'Sullivan, who comes from Kansas City, Mo., went abroad five years ago. For much of this time in China he has been with the United States 14th Air Force. He recently completed a tour of Chinese military areas.

YANKS PUSH AHEAD UNDER JAP FIRE ON LOS NEGROS ISLE

Enemy Artillery Barrage Fails to Halt Advance from Airport.

NEW LANDING REVEALED

Army Troops Jump Beyond Japanese Lines on New Guinea.

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, Southwest Pacific Tuesday, March 7 — (AP) Reinforced American troops on Los Negros island in the Admiralties advanced north of Momote airdrome Sunday against Japanese artillery fire, to cross the narrow isthmus which connects the main part of the island with a plantation-covered peninsula.

Other aggressive action announced in Gen. Douglas MacArthur's communique today was the amphibious landing by 32nd division units behind Japanese positions on the northeast New Guinea coast 30 miles west of Saidor.

The First Cavalry division and reinforcements which have been constantly landing on Los Negros island since the invasion Feb. 29, scored the first advance from Momote airfield since beating off heavy Japanese attacks around the field Friday night and Saturday.

Move Along Trail

The dismounted cavalrymen forced their way north along a trail skirted on the east by Hyane harbor and on the west by a lagoon, to gain a foothold on the seven-mile long peninsula which forms the northern neck of Los Negros island.

Reports from the fighting front said American destroyers and Allied attack planes supported the troopers' advance with a blasting of enemy guns which still command the area northwest of the original American beachhead.

The amphibious landing west of Saidor was made against enemy shell fire. It put a nutcracker pressure on the Japanese caught between the newly landed troops and advance units of the main American force which have have moved about 20 miles west of Saidor.

The landing Sunday, supported by aircraft and Navy P-T boats, was made by a comparatively small force and was, in effect, a quick detour around difficult terrain which had been slowing the advance up the coast.

Seizing Yalau plantation, the Americans put themselves in the rear of Japanese positions at Mindiri.

Madang Is Goal

The whole operation is aimed at Madang, the enemy base up the coast about 300 miles from the scene of the new American landing.

Australian troops participating in this campaign are nearing Bogadjim, below Madang, from the interior.

The Madang area was hit by Allied bombers which dropped 65 tons of explosives on the airdromes at Alexishafen. Coastal targets were strafed and gun positions silenced, and naval units destroyed two barges.

Solomons-based bombers and fighters continued their blows on Rabaul, the enemy base in New Britain, striking with 181 tons of explosives in a midday attack Saturday. Direct hits were scored on gun positions and large fires started in the waterfront area. There was no enemy aerial interference with the raid.

Torpedo bombers and fighters hammered enemy shipping in Ataliklikun bay, to the west of Rabaul, sinking two small cargo ships and starting fires aboard two other harbor craft. There was no enemy interception here.

Japanese on Choiseul island, southeast of Bougainville in the northern Solomons, were blasted with 105 tons of explosives in daylight raids Saturday.

Pilots of the planes from Admiral William F. Halsey's south Pacific command said they believed the pasting wiped out most of the Japanese remaining on Choiseul.

Showdown Battle Seen For Los Negros

[By the Associated Press]

A last-ditch battle for Los Negros Island in the Admiralty group is shaping up in the Southwest Pacific, with victory in store for the side that can rush in superior reinforcements. Meanwhile, in the Central Pacific a start on the aerial campaign to reduce Japan's outer defense bases in the Caroline Islands, using newly won airdromes for land-based planes, is indicated by stepped-up American air activity.

Furious Japanese attacks upon the reinforced American lines around quickly captured Momote airdrome on Los Negros have been repulsed, but a spokesman for Gen. Douglas MacArthur said today there are signs of a heavy movement of enemy troops from Manus Island, largest in the Admiralties, to Los Negros, presaging larger-scale battles.

Americans Reinforcing

A steady stream of American soldiers and supplies is reinforcing First Cavalry Division troops which raided Los Negros as a "reconnaissance in force" last Tuesday but whose operation suddenly was converted into a bid for a complete occupation after an on-the-spot decision by MacArthur.

At least 3,000 Japanese have been killed or wounded since the landing, MacArthur said yesterday, including 700 killed in a wild attack Friday night. American losses are 61 dead and 244 wounded, he said.

Other Bases Hit

In addition to relentless bombing and strafing attacks in support of the Los Negros troops, Allied airmen hit Lorengau, main Japanese base on Manus Island; smacked Rabaul, New Britain, with 164 tons of bombs Saturday, and blasted the enemy's New Guinea bases at Wewak, Hollandia and Hansa Bay.

In the Central Pacific, land-based planes, apparently springing from newly won Kwajalein or Eniwetok atolls in the Marshall Islands, have quickened the pace of attacks against Japan's island bases in the Eastern Carolines.

U. S. Planes Active

Ponape and Kusaie were plastered with 23 tons of explosives Friday in the third consecutive daily raid. Other American planes hit four undesignated Marshall Island atolls with more than 20 tons of bombs.

In Burma, United States heavy bombers raided Japanese air bases in the south, medium bombers and fighters raked numerous targets in the north and dive bombers supported patrol activity on the Arakan front.

FIGHTER PILOT DOUBLE TALK

Bougainville, Solomon Islands, March 6 (A. P.).—Fighter pilots have a language all their own. A war correspondent asked one how things went on his last combat flight and the pilot said:

"Fine. I was just about abeam this Jap Zeke and going for a ninety-degree deflection shot. He was going 200 knots and I was indicating 250 so I had to figure my compensation. He made a tight inside turn, so I flipped over, tailed and creamed him. Later I was just coming out of Chandelle, when I saw a Tony that was trying to sucker me—."

The correspondent went to his typewriter and wrote:

"Lieutenant So-and-so, Navy Corsair pilot, today shot down his third enemy plane."

LOCAL MEN DECORATED

Southwest Pacific Headquarters, Feb. 24 (delayed) (A. P.).—The Air Medal was conferred today on First Lieut. Ralph G. Wallace of 414 West 120th street New York. Second Lieut. Wilsor F. Ekdahl of Englishtown, N. J. and Sergt. James A. McEwan of 116 Bentley street, Staten Island all of the Fifth United States Air Force, for meritorious achievement in sustained operational flights during which hostile contact was probable and expected.

Gen. Willoughby Gets D. S. M.

SOUTHWEST PACIFIC ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, Feb. 29 (Delayed) (AP).—The Distinguished Service Medal has been awarded to Brigadier General Charles A. Willoughby, assistant chief of staff on General Douglas MacArthur's staff, "for exceptionally meritorious service." Assigned to organize and co-ordinate intelligence activities in the southwest Pacific area, the citation said, Willoughby performed this duty "speedily and with brilliant resourcefulness."

MARSHALL BASES HIT BY BOMBERS IN THREE NEW RAIDS

U. S. PACIFIC FLEET HEADQUARTERS, Pearl Harbor, March 6.—(AP) Army and Navy bombers dropped 35 tons of bombs on three unidentified enemy positions in the Marshall Islands on March 4, Admiral Chester W. Nimitz announced today.

The raids were a continuation of the campaign to crush all enemy bases in the islands.

Hellcat fighter planes joined in the attack Saturday, strafing ground installations.

The bombing force consisted of Army mediums and dive bombers and Navy search bombers.

All planes returned safely, the press release said, despite anti-aircraft fire.

The almost daily pounding of atolls still in enemy hands presumably is designed to neutralize those bases so no opposition can be mounted there to American offensives in the central Pacific.

U. S. BOMBS JAPS ON MARSHALLS

Washington, March 6 (A. P.).—American war planes dropped thirty-five tons of bombs on Japanese positions in the Marshall Islands Saturday, the Navy reported today.

Army and Navy planes carried out the operations. All planes returned safely. A Pacific Fleet announcment did not specify the targets of the raids.

The text of the announcement follows:

"Aircraft of the Seventh Army Air Force and Fleet Air Wing Two attacked three enemy-held positions in the Marshall Islands on March 4 (west longitude date).

"Army Mitchell bombers and Dauntless dive bombers, Navy Hellcat fighters and Ventura search bombers dropped approximately thirty-five tons of bombs and strafed ground installations. Fires were started and explosions were observed. Anti-aircraft fire was encountered, but all of our planes returned safely."

Allied Headquarters, Southwest Pacific, March 6 (A. P.).—More American troops and supplies are being poured onto Los Negros Island in the Admiralties, against indications that the Japs may make another strong attempt to recapture Momote airdrome.

Like Taking Money Away From Baby

Suva, Fiji Islands, March 6 (AP)—A 2-year-old Tongan boy swallowed a shiny 2-shilling piece and caused an uproar with international repercussions.

As the child, with the coin stuck in his throat, almost choked to death, the British consul appealed to the Allied commander of the area, who sent a special plane, manned by a Royal New Zealand Air Force crew. The plane flew the boy to Suva, where a Scottish doctor called in an American army doctor who removed the coin.

The small boy will recover, but he won't get his coin back. The American doctor kept it as a souvenir.

FARRELL CABINET REVIEWS POLICY

Stettinius' Stand 'Surprise' To Argentine Officials

Buenos Aires, March 6 (AP)—The Argentine Government today banned reception of the Associated Press news report which is sent by wireless from New York and canceled permission for the use of a leased wire between Buenos Aires and Montevideo, charging they were used in violation of the laws of the country.

At the same time the post-office forbade use of any means of communication to the Associated Press' Argentine branch, La Prensa Asociada.

Buenos Aires, March 6 (AP)—Gen. Diego Luis Mason, Foreign Minister of Argentina, said tonight that the statement by Edward R. Stettinius, Jr., Acting Secretary of State, instructing United States Ambassador Norman Armour to refrain from entering into official relations with the present regime in Argentina had caused surprise in Argentine official circles.

The office of the Presidential Secretary announced that the Argentine Cabinet met at noon today to review international policy, especially regarding the Western Hemisphere. The meeting was attended by all the Cabinet members except Gen. Domingo Pistarini, Minister of Public Works, who is ill.

Statement "Caused Surprise"

Foreign Minister Mason said that the Argentine Ambassador to Washington, Jose Gonzalo Escobar, had sent the text of the statement made last Saturday by Stettinius announcing the United States Government's instruction to Ambassador Armour.

He said the statement "caused surprise in Argentine official circles" because the policy of the Government of acting President Edelmiro Farrell was "to maintain the break in relations with the Axis and continue the international policy along the lines of the government of Gen. Pedro Ramirez."

Farrell, Vice-President, took over as acting President recently when Ramirez delegated his powers to him, purportedly because of ill health.

To Further Friendship

Mason said the Argentine Government intends "to strengthen the friendly links between Argentina and the United States." He added that "the present Government is organized according to the dispositions taken previously exercising powers of interior sovernignty, will maintain the same international policy, and will show in a way, leaving no doubt of its sincerity, the firmness of its intentions."

Mason stressed the fact that Argentina will adopt "all measures necessary to the security and defense of the hemisphere." Mason's statement came 48 hours after Stettinius made his announcement in Washington, and after the Cabinet meeting which reviewed the American situation.

URUGUAY SNUBS ARGENTINE REGIME

MONTEVIDEO, March 6—(AP) Uruguay temporarily withheld today her decision on whether she will recognize the Argentine government of Gen. Edelmiro Farrell, a Foreign office informant said—an action which practically meant a suspension of diplomatic relations with Argentina.

Following the decision of Chile and Bolivia last week that Farrell was the legitimate successor to Gen. Pedro Ramirez, who Feb. 24 delegated his presidential powers to Farrell in a palace coup, Uruguayan officialdom was readied to recognize the Farrell regime and Paraguay was expected to follow suit.

But the announcement of United States acting Secretary of State Stettinius that the United States was withholding official recognition of the Farrell government was a jolt to the Uruguayan government which spent the weekend considering the situation.

Thus Uruguay's position toward Argentina tonight was similar in substance to that of the United States but in a different form because, it was believed, Uruguay cannot afford to make plain that her relations with Argentina are interrupted for the time being.

Uruguay Slow To Recognize

Montevideo, Uruguay, March 6 (AP)—Foreign Office sources said today the Uruguayan Government had postponed for several days a decision whether to recognize the Argentine Government of Gen. Edelmiro Farrell.

Both Uruguay and Paraguay had been reported considering the possibility of joining Chile and Bolivia in recognizing Farrell's regime—a step that might split Pan-American solidarity.

Information last night from the Uruguayan Foreign Office said the United States Acting Secretary of State, Edward R. Stettinius, Jr., in announcing Saturday that Washington was withholding official relationship, had failed to give concrete data confirming a belief that Gen. Pedro Ramirez had been forced to give up the presidency to Farrell.

Delegated Powers, Report

A Buenos Aires announcement when the Farrell regime supplanted that of Ramirez February 24 declared Ramirez delegated his powers voluntarily because he needed a rest.

Both Chile and Bolivia accepted this statement last week and said they considered the new Argentine Government simply a continuation of the former one with no question of recognition involved.

Crowds assembled in Buenos Aires streets on two occasions last night, once in front of the Chilean Embassy, in a demonstration of their support of Chile's action.

The Chilean Ambassador, Rios Gallardo, had a brief talk with Farrell yesterday, but an official announcement later said it was merely a courtesy call.

(In Santiago, the Alianza Democratica, a political, organization made up of leading Leftists parties which supported election of Juan Antonio Rios to the Chilean Presidency in 1942, called a special meeting for tonight to discuss the Chilean recognition.)

Chilean Radicals to Meet.

Santiago, Chile, March 6 (A. P.).—The Alianza Democratica, a political organization made up of leading Leftist parties that supported the election of Juan Antonio Rios to the Presidency in 1942, called a special meeting for tonight to discuss Chilean recognition of the Farrell regime in Argentina.

Alfredo Resende, head of the Radical party, said: "Personally I think our Foreign Office erred in recognizing a government totalitarian in form and content, thus clashing with our clearly democratic traditions."

These views were published in the communist newspaper Siglo.

Quick Fall of Japan Doubted

Dr. Wang Says Enemy Is Building Strong Defenses Close to Home

OTTAWA, March 6 (AP).—Most people in China believe that the defeat of Germany will not be followed by a quick collapse of Japan," Dr. Wang Shih-chieh, chief counselor to Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek and member of the Presidium of the People's Political Council of China, said last night.

Dr. Wang, en route home from a goodwill mission to Britain, said Japan is building strong defenses in Thailand (Siam), in occupied parts of China, in other occupied territory and around her homeland.

28,000 AIRPLANES BUILT FOR ALLIES IN U. S. FACTORIES

WASHINGTON, March 6—(AP) Almost 28,000 American-built planes with a value of $2,300,000,000 have been sent to join the air forces of other Allied nations since passage of the Lend-Lease act, the Foreign Economic administration announced tonight.

Reporting totals up to Jan. 1, the agency revealed that three-fourths of the exported air fleet, or 21,000 planes, went under Lend-Lease at a cost of $1,700,000,000. The rest were paid for in cash by the Allied countries, principally Britain.

"Since March, 1941 (when Lend-Lease began), the United States has created the greatest army and navy air forces in the world," said FEA Administrator Leo T. Crowley's first statement on the extent of air aid given other governments fighting the Axis.

Kept 122,000 Planes

"We have produced a total of 150,000 planes. We have retained for our own use 122,000 of them.

"That we have at the same time been able to send such great numbers of planes and engines to our Allies to supplement their own great production is information that will not be of any aid or comfort to our enemies, the Nazis and the Japanese."

In addition to the warplanes, more than $1,600,000,000 worth of aircraft engines and spare parts have been sent under cash and Lend-Lease, bringing the total value of American air equipment to other United Nations to $3,900,000,000.

"Great quantities of incendiary and demolition aerial bombs are included in the $2,500,000,000 worth of ordnance and ammunition shipped to our Allies under Lend-Lease," Mr. Crowley said, adding also that "many hundred million gallons of aviation gasoline" were among the $670,000,000 total of Lend-Lease petroleum products.

The Australian and New Zealand air forces, the R.A.F. in India, Dutch fliers from the East Indies, and the growing Chinese air force took most of the some 4,000 planes sent to the Pacific and Far East. Russia received 7,800 as announced last week, and most of the rest, presumably, went to Britain.

The British commonwealth, which began its American purchases long before Lend-Lease went into effect, has bought and paid for 9,200 planes made in the United States since the start of the war in September, 1939.

$3,500 BONUS TO VETERANS IS PROPOSED

Washington, March 6 (AP)—Five veterans' organizations joined today in proposing that the Government pay members of the armed forces bonuses up to $3,500 each for home service and $4,500 for overseas service.

Nine members of the House promptly introduced legislation to achieve this, submitting identical copies of a bill entitled "Veterans' Adjusted Service Pay Act of 1944."

The bill would credit service men and women with $3 a day for home service and $4 daily for overseas service up to the $3,500 and $4,500 maximums. An extra credit would be allowed to those wounded.

Tax-Free Government Bonds

All compensation above $300 would be in the form of non-negotiable, tax-free Government bonds. Bondholders could withdraw not more than one fifth of the face value of their bonds during the first five years after their issuance. The bonds would bear simple interest at three per cent. for the first five years and compound interest at three per cent. for the second five years.

Sponsoring the bill are the Veterans of Foreign Wars, the Army and Navy Union, Disabled Americans Veterans, the Military Order of the Purple Heart, and the Regular Veterans' Association.

Solons Submitting Bills

Representative Lesinski (D., Mich.), one of those introducing the measure, said these are all the major veterans' organizations except the American Legion. Others who joined him in submitting the bill were Representatives Sullivan (D., Nevada), Hagen (F. L., Minn.), Izac (D., Cal.), Carlson (R., Kan.), Case (R., S. D.), Rogers (R., Mass.), Bates (D., Ky.) and Dingell (D., Mich.).

"The purpose of the bill is to adjust, in a measure, the difference between the pay of those serving in the armed forces and civilians employed in war industry," said a joint statement by the veterans' groups.

Reasons For Action

They are proposing action now, rather than after the war, the organizations said, because "over a million persons have already been discharged, others are being discharged at the rate of 30,000 per month, and it is possible that as many as three million will be discharged long before hostilities cease.

"The over-all cost to the Government would be less than the cost of four months of actual war expenditures during 1944," Lesinski declared.

ARMY CASUALTIES

Washington, March 6 (A. P.).—The War Department made public today a list of 179 United States Army casualties in the Asiatic, Central Pacific, European, Mediterranean and Southwest Pacific theaters of war. Included in the list are these with their next of kin:

Army Decorates Gen. Swift

WASHINGTON, March 6 (AP).—The award of the Legion of Merit to Major General Innis P. Swift, commanding the 1st Cavalry Division, part of which is now fighting in the Admiralty Islands in the southwest Pacific, was announced today by the War Department.

War Won't Be Short, Rep. Plumley Warns

Washington, March 6 (AP)—Representative Plumley (R., Vt.) told the House today there was no reason to expect the "shooting war" would end earlier than two years after unconditional surrender of Germany.

Deploring "loose talk about postwar planning at a time when we really haven't commenced to fight," Plumley said "this is not to be a short war."

"Everything that is said or done to give the American people an idea to the contrary is harmful, tends to postpone victory, loses us money, and sacrifices the lives of more American boys on the altar of ignorance, loose talk and complacency."

INDUSTRY ASSAILS ARABIAN PIPELINE

WASHINGTON, March 6—(AP) The Petroleum's industry's War Council denounced Interior Secretary Ickes' plan for an oil pipeline across Arabia today as an imperialistic trouble-maker bearing all the signs of a "Fascist approach x x x to the post-war world."

The council, in a statement it called a "white paper," called the project a venture to put the government in ownership of a 1,000-mile long pipeline abroad.

From the industry viewpoint, it said, the idea could be summed up as:

"The Fascist approach—the corporative state, with its lust for imperialism—the shackling of free American enterprise, not to better serve, but to displace private enterprise, at not only the risk, but the certainty, of international political involvement."

Secretary Ickes last week disputed the theory that the pipeline would put the government in the oil business, saying "this is merely a facility for the carrying of oil." He proposed the $135,000,000 project as useful in the war, in his capacity as chief of the government's Petroleum Reserves corporation.

ICKES DEFENDS ARABIAN LINE

Says Financial Soundness Can't Be Challenged

Houston, Texas, March 6 (AP)—Harold L. Ickes, Petroleum Administrator, in an article in the current issue of Oil Weekly, asserted the Arabian petroleum pipeline "cannot be challenged from the point of view of financial soundness" and stated that the project would assure the United States of substantial oil reserves against a future emergency.

In the magazine, published here, Ickes declared:

"I have no wish to put the Government into the oil business.

Termed "Fascist Approach"

"Wherever private industry can retain and expand its holdings and business. I have no thought of suggesting that the Government offer its aid."

Ickes is president of the Petroleum Reserves Corporation which undertook the Middle East project.

[In Washington an oil industry "white paper" today applied the term "Fascist approach" to Ickes' plans for the pipeline and said the project "is a signpost of the new highway of international power politics not yet revealed to and approved by the Senate of the United States."]

"We must assure ourselves of an oil supply, not only by developing our domestic resources, which we hope may prove fruitful, by assuring ourselves some rights in sources beyond the sea, which we know to be fruitful," Ickes said.

SALE TO JAPAN IN '38 OUTLINED

Dow Company Officials Tell Of Supplying Magnesium

Washington, March 6 (AP)—Two officials of the Dow Chemical Company testified today the company sold 1,525,000 pounds of magnesium to Japan in 1938, but asserted they did not know what use was made of the metal.

The testimony was given to the Senate Truman Committee by Willard H. Dow, president, and Lee B. Grant, sales manager.

Both said they did not remember details of the transaction and Grant related that it is the company's practice to destroy correspondence and other papers, except bare sales records, after the lapse of three years.

Didn't Ask Customers' Intent

Dow told the committee that the company "didn't make a practice" of asking purchasers what they intended to do with materials they bought. Grant said he remembered only that the Mitsui Company "came to us and asked to buy."

He recalled that his company was not alone in selling to Japan, pointing out that quantities of scrap iron and gasoline were shipped there before the war.

Asked by Hugh Fulton, committee counsel, why the price of magnesium to the Japanese was 4 cents a pound below the price on sales to England, Dow explained that it was a "negotiated price" and that the Japanese had bought three times as much in 1938 as the English.

"One Of Favored Nations"

Dow added that the State Department had not asked for any information about the sale because "at that time Japan was one of the favored nations, you know."

Earlier, Dow had accused the Justice Department of trying to "smear" the company with an "infamous" charge that it was a member of an international cartel and that its prices and production were controlled by I. G. Farbenindustrie, a German organization.

His company, Dow told the committee, "deserves credit for maintaining an American industry and was not entitled to the smear it got."

POSTWAR AVIATION CONFERENCE MAY BE CALLED SOON

WASHINGTON, March 6—(AP) A general United Nations conference on post-war aviation may be the outcome of a series of conversations disclosed tonight to have been going on quietly since December.

These conversations, said a high government official, have included the United States, Russia, Britain and Canada. Also, China has been approached with what was described as a good prospect of agreement.

The talks are in the most preliminary stages, it was said, and look toward further exploratory conferences among the countries named, with additional representation from interested countries in Europe, such as France and the Netherlands, and countries in Latin America.

Wayne W. Parrish, editor and publisher of "American Aviation," said in a copyrighted story today that the United States has invited Great Britain, Canada and Russia to "a preliminary conference on post-war international air transportation for the third week of March, in Washington, but the slowness with which Great Britain has acted x x x may mean a postponement."

Parrish wrote that Britain and Canada both have suggested establishment of an international air transport authority "to license and regulate international air transportation." He added, "it is known that the U. S. does not favor such an elaborate form of international body."

"The question of the use of war-built bases is not expected to be a major problem," he added, "since there seems to be unanimity of opinion that such bases should be open for use by all recognized air services."

The government official who spoke of "further exploratory conferences" said they would look toward formulation of a work sheet for a general United Nations conference on the whole involved problem of post-war aviation, possibly before the end of 1944.

FACE COURT-MARTIAL

Washington, March 6 (A. P.).—The Army announced today that three officers of the Army Air Forces would be tried on April 3 by a general court-martial at Cincinnati on charges of neglect of duty in connection with faulty inspection procedures at the Wright aeronautical plant at Lockland, Ohio.

The officers are Lieut.-Col. Frank C. Greulich of Detroit, Major Walter A. Ryan of Detroit, and Major William Bruckmann of Cincinnati.

Major-Gen. Collins, command general, Fifth Service Command, has appointed Brig.-Gen. Lehman W. Miller as president of the court-martial. The law member will be Col. Philip J. McCook of the Judge Advocate-General's department, a former member of the New York State Supreme Court.

The prosecutor will be Major Henry C. Clausen, designated as trial judge advocate.

New Plane Excels Warhawk

Curtiss Reports P-40N Has Better Firing Power, Longer Range

BUFFALO, March 6 (AP)—Production of an improved version of the P-40 Warhawk, to be known as the P-40N, has been announced by Burdette S. Wright, vice-president of the Curtiss-Wright Corporation, airplane division.

Describing the new model, he said the P-40N "is a far superior plane" which has "increased firing power, longer range and an improved Allison engine." The plane "has three .50 caliber machine guns in each wing panel, and carries a wide variety of bomb loads." It has a speed of more than 350 miles an hour, a ceiling of 30,000 feet and a range of approximately 1,000 miles, Mr. Wright added.

Cox Urges Adequate Planning In Post-War Highway Program

WASHINGTON, March 6—(AP) Needs of both city and county areas in post-war highway improvements were ascribed to the House Public Roads committee today as representatives from the states began testifying on a bill (HR 2426) to provide $3,000,000 in Federal road aid.

W. W. Mitchell, chief engineer, and A. E. Johnson, assistant, of the Arkansas Highway commission, told the committee that 68 percent of their state's population is rural, and Federal aid should be the same to feeder roads as to main highways.

William J. Cox, Connecticut highway commissioner, urged the committee to "devote hours if not days" to studying a report of the Interregional Highway committee which he described as the "only comprehensive, nationwide, factual analysis of our highway problems" pointing out "the urgency of needs in the environs of the larger cities."

If priorities on improvements are to be determined by "either the magnitude of benefits resulting or the urgency of the need, it is to these sections that first attention should be accorded," Mr. Cox said referring to metropolitan areas.

Robin Swift, Alabama highway director, and the Arkansas representatives testified that their states are financially "able and ready" to participate in a post-war program on a basis of putting up 25 percent to supplement 75 percent of Federal funds.

Mr. Mitchell urged that Federal funds not be allocated on a predetermined basis for "particular types of construction such as superhighways through urban areas," but that the program be "made flexible or elastic enough to meet the needs of the individual states."

Testimony on a companion bill (S 971) also was heard by the Senate Roads committee with Samuel C. Hadden, chairman of the Indiana Highway commission and president of The American Association of State Highway Officials, declaring the post-war program would give direct employment to 750,000 men.

Mr. Hadden, who previously had appeared before the House committee, said a survey showed that actually $11,000,000,000 could well be spent in highway improvements after the war.

LORD HALIFAX TO VISIT STATE

HARTFORD, March 6 — (AP) Viscount Halifax, British ambassador to the United States, has accepted Governor Baldwin's invitation to visit Connecticut March 15, it was announced today.

The governor said that in view of the war and in deference to the specific request of Lord Halifax the pomp and ceremony which would ordinarily attend a visit of such a dignitary to Hartford will be omitted and the visit kept on a strictly informal level.

Although no formal reception or speech has been arranged, Governor Baldwin said that an informal luncheon will be held so that Hartford business and civic leaders together with state officials and other prominent Connecticut citizens may have the opportunity to meet the ambassador.

Details of the diplomat's itinerary in Connecticut have not yet been worked out, but the governor said that it will almost certainly include a visit to a large Hartford war plant. State Adjutant General Reginald B. DeLacour has been designated by Governor Baldwin to plan the itinerary and other features of the ambassador's visit.

Lord Halifax will arrive in Hartford sometime during the morning of March 15, the governor said, and will be accompanied by Lady Halifax and perhaps Francis Evans, British consul-general in New York city, and Mrs. Evans; Archibald Gordon, labor attache of the British embassy in Washington; and Colonel Angus McDonnel, Lord Halifax's secretary.

All plans for the diplomat's visit, the governor said, will be tentative and will hinge on the ambassador's wishes as expressed after his arrival here.

BRICKER ASKS SOUTH'S VOTE

Ohioan Urges Elimination Of The New Deal

Jacksonville, Fla., March 6 (AP)—A call for a strong two-party system in all States and for the Democratic Solid South to join "in elimination of the New Deal" was made here today by Gov. John W. Bricker, of Ohio, candidate for Republican Presidential nomination.

Confident predictions of Republican victories in the November election were made by the Ohioan in addresses to the Florida State Republican Executive Committee and the Jacksonville Junior Chamber of Commerce.

"Against New Deal"

"I am firmly convinced that the sentiment of the great majority of the people of the South, like that of the majority in the rest of the country, is against the New Deal," Bricker told Republican leaders at their meeting.

"They are ready to express that sentiment at the polls and there is just one way open for them to do it—that is to vote the Republican ticket in 1944."

Bricker said "liberalism means expanding human rights" and termed the New Deal "the most reactionary philosophy this country has seen for many years.

For Cooperation Both Ways

He called for United States cooperation with other nations after the war, but said "it must flow both ways. They must cooperate with us."

"And we in America are determined there never shall be a superstate imposed on the autonomy of the United States."

In his address to the Junior Chamber of Commerce, Bricker asserted that the recapture of the spirit of private enterprise and removal of Government from competition with private industry are two "certain things which must be accomplished before the final victory is won."

He said returning service men and women wanted to find jobs in private industry—"they don't want Government jobs."

FIRST LADY IS OFF ON CARIBBEAN TOUR

Miami, Fla., March 6 (A. P.).—Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, wife of the President, has left Miami for a tour of the Caribbean area.

She visited Army and Navy establishments at Palm Beach and Miami yesterday and spent last night at Miami Beach at the home of her son, Lieut. Franklin D. Roosevelt Jr.

Col. Dyess' Wife Receives Award

March Field, Cal., March 6 (AP)—Lieut. Col. William E. Dyess, Albany, Texas, flyer who survived the Bataan "Death March" in the Philippines and escaped to fight the Japs in the South Pacific, was decorated posthumously today for the heroic manner in which he met death after his return to the United States.

His widow, Mrs. Marajen S. Dyess, of Beverly Hills, Cal., received from Maj. Gen. William E. Lynd, commanding the Fourth Air Force, the Soldier's Medal for Colonel Dyess, killed in an airplane accident at Burbank, Cal., last December 22.

The citation commended Dyess for "crash landing his plane in a small vacant lot in order to avoid hitting civilians traveling on a broad road where a comparatively safe landing could have been made."

N

ST THE STEADILY WEAKENING GERMAN LINE EXTENSIONS. MARSHAL ZHUKOV, WHO IS DIRECTING THE DRIVE, IS SECOND IN COMMAND ONLY TO PREMIER MARSHAL JOSEPH STALIN.

FIGURES GIVEN BY THE COMMUNIQUE ON THE GERMAN CASUALTIES AND WAR MATERIAL CAPTURED AND DESTROYED INDICATED THAT MARSHAL FRITZ ERICH VO MANNSTEIN'S TROOPS HAD TRIED TO STAND AND MATCH BLOWS WITH THE RED ARMY.

THE GERMAN RADIO REPORTED THAT MARSHAL ZHUKOV WAS USING 35 INFANTR DIVISIONS, AT LEAST EIGHT TANKS CORPS AND A "VAST NUMBER" OF OTHER MOTORIZED FORMATIONS. THE BROADCAST ADDED:

"THIS UNUSUALLY STRONG CONCENTRATION OF OFFENSIVE WEAPONS OF ALL TYPES GOES TO SHOW THAT IN THIS SECTOR THE RUSSIANS DEFINITELY HOPE TO FIGHT THE DECISIVE BATTLE."

THE SAME BERLIN REPORT SAID THAT THE EIGHT RUSSIAN TANK CORPS CONSISTED MAINLY OF WELL RESTED FORMATIONS AND ADDED, "THIS IS STILL FURTHER PROOF OF THE FACT THAT WITH THIS NEW MASS OFFENSIVE THE MOSCOW GOVERNMENT HOPES TO DEAL A DEATH BLOW TO THE GERMAN ARMIES IN THE EAST."

THE GERMAN RADIO TONIGHT ADMITTED DEEP SOVIET PENETRATIONS WEST OF SHEPETOVKA AND NORTH OF PROSKUROV, AND SAID THERE WAS "VERY HEADY" FIGHTING.

BERLIN BROADCASTS SAID THE RUSSIANS HAD MADE SEVERAL BREACHES IN THEIR PUSH TOWARD TARNOPOL, RAIL JUNCTION WEST OF VOLOCHISK, AND SIMULTANEOUSLY WERE ATTACKING SOUTHWEST OF ZVENIGORODKA, ABOUT 200 MILES SOUTHEAST OF THE NEW BREAKTHROUGH IN OLD POLAND.

VOLOCHISK WAS AT LEAST WITHIN RANGE OF RUSSIAN GUNS, AND THAT VITAL RAIL LINE WHICH FEEDS THE WHOLE GERMAN MILITARY ESTABLISHMENT IN SOUTHERN RUSSIA WAS CONSIDERED AS GOOD AS CUT.

THE FRESH OFFENSIVE IN THIS SECTOR SHIFTED SOVIET PUBLIC ATTENTION FROM THE SLOW BATTLE FOR THE BALTIC, WHERE THE RED ARMY HAD BEEN RETARDED BY BOGGING THAW AND STIFFENING GERMAN RESISTANCEM

THE GERMAN NEWS AGENCY DNB, DESCRIBING THE UKRAINIAN BATTLE, SAID "THE COUNTER MEASURES BY WHICH THE ENEMY IS TO BE REPULSED" WOULD NOT TAKE SHAPE UNTIL "A FEW DAYS," AND ADDED THAT "THE FIGHTING WHICH HAS BEEN RAGING FOR THE LAST 48 HOURS IS OF VERY HEAVY CHARACTER, AS ALL ARMS HAVE BEEN FULLY THROWN IN BY BOTH SIDES."

OFFICIAL SECRECY MEANWHILE CONTINUED TO SCREEN THE FULL STORY OF THE SATURDAY DAYLIGHT BLOW AGAINST BERLIN, THE FIRST BY AMERICAN HEAVY BOMBERS. RAF MOSQUITOS AGAIN HIT BERLIN SATURDAY NIGHT, THEIR SECOND ATTACK IN AS MANY NIGHTS ON THE ENEMY CAPITAL.

AN ALL-DAY OFFENSIVE AGAINST THE PAS-DE-CALAIS COAST OF NORTHERN FRANCE BY MEDIUM, LIGHT AND FIGHTER-BOMBERS ACCOMPANIED THE SUNDAY LIBERATOR STAB. ENEMY FIGHTER OPPOSITION WAS REPORTED WEAK, ALTHOUGH THERE WAS SOME THICK ANTI-AIRCRAFT FIRE.

SEVEN MESSERSCHMITTS PAINTED IN BRIGHT COLORS DARTED THROUGH AND AROUND ONE FORMATION OF LIBERATORS, WITHOUT FIRING A SHOT, CAUSING

GUNNER SGT.JOHN KOLUTN, OF 1617 DUDLEY AVENUE, UTICA, N.Y., TO EXCLAIM ON HIS RETURN:

"THEY REMINDED ME OF A CIRCUS X X X MAYBE THEY WERE TRAINING SHIPS AND THE NAZIS SENT THEM UP TO GET SOME REAL EXPERIENCE. ONE THING SURE, THE GERMANS MUST BE VERY SHORT OF FIGHTERS OR AT LEAST THEY WOULD SEND UP SOMETHING THAT COULD SHOOT."

SATURDAY'S AMERICAN BOMBER BLOW AT BERLIN WAS PRECEDED FRIDAY BY THE FIRST AMERICAN FIGHTER PENETRATION TO THE GERMAN CAPITAL -- A SWEEP THAT ACCOMPANIED A U.S. HEAVY BOMBER OPERATION OVER NORTH-WESTERN GERMANY. ON THURSDAY AMERICAN HEAVY BOMBERS HIT SOUTHWESTERN GERMANY AND FRANCE.

THE AMERICAN RAID ON BERLIN AND ACCOMPANYING ATTACKS ON OTHER UNSPECIFIED TARGETS IN EASTERN GERMANY, DURING WHICH 15 GERMAN PLANES WERE DESTROYED, BROUGHT A U.S.FIGHTER LOSS OF 23, THE LARGEST TO DATE FOR ANY OPERATION OVER EUROPE. THE PREVIOUS HIGH WAS 16, LOST NOV. 29 OVER BREMEN. FOURTEEN HEAVY BOMBERS WERE MISSING.

THERE WAS NO OFFICIAL EXPLANATION OF THE HIGH FIGHTER LOSS, ALTHOUGH THE 50-BELOW-ZERO WEATHER IN THE SUBSTRATOSPHERE AND THE 1,200-MILE ROUND TRIP PROBABLY WERE BIG FACTORS.

A U.S.HEADQUARTERS ANNOUNCEMENT SAID ONE FORMATION OF FLYING FORTRESSES REACHED BERLIN AND THE FLIERS DECLARED THEIR BOMBS WERE DROPPED ON THE OUTSKIRTS, BUT THE GERMAN RADIO ASSERTED LAST NIGHT THAT "IN NO INSTANCE HAS BERLIN BEEN FLOWN OVER BY NORTH AMERICAN BOMBERS."

IN ITS ONLY ADMISSION OF DAMAGE, THE BERLIN RADIO SAID INCENDIARIES CAUSED A SLIGHT LOSS IN THE PROVINCE OF BRANDENBURG, A LITTLE LESS THAN 25 MILES "FROM THE CENTER OF THE CAPITAL" TO THE WEST.

TWO FLIERS BECAME ACES OVER BERLIN--LT. GLENN EAGLESTON, OF 3133 POPLAR ST., ALHAMBRA, CALIF., WHO SHOT DOWN AN ME-109 AND DAMAGED ANOTHER, AND LT. LT. JAMES BAGLISH, OF 604 NORTH GEORGE ST., ROME, N.Y., SHOT DOWN AN ME-109 AND SHARED ANOTHER WITH LT. BARTHOLOMEW TENORE OF WILLIS, MICH. LT. JAMES W.EDWARDS, OF 1199 EAST EL CAMINO, SACRAMENTO, CALIF., ALSO SHARED CREDIT FOR AN ME-109.

THE PILOTS EXPRESSED UNANIMOUS SURPRISE AT THE RELUCTANCE OF THE GERMANS TO FIGHT. SOME SAID THEY CLEARLY SAW SECTIONS OF BERLIN, AND SAID THE BOMBERS APPEARED TO BE FLYING IN EXCELLENT FORMATION.

LT. COL. BICKELL, A FORMER NEW YORK STOCK EXCHANGE CLERK, LED A PIONEER MUSTANG GROUP COMMANDED BY LT. COL. JAMES H.HOWARD OF ST. LOUIS, MO.

"THERE WAS A STRIP OF FLAK TWO MILES WIDE AND A THOUSAND FEET THICK AROUND THE WHOLE CITY," ONE PILOT SAID.

FROM A HEIGHT OF MORE THAN FOUR MILES SOME GROUPS WERE ABLE TO SPOT LANDMARKS LIKE THE OLYMPIC STADIUM. THEY SAID BERLIN AS A WHOLE LOOKED AS THOUGH IT WAS "A LONG WAY FROM BEING FLATTENED."

OTHER FLIERS ON THE RAID INCLUDED LT. COL. LEWIS G.THORUP, 115 EDITH AVE., SALT LAKE CITY, LT. THOMAS F.GRANAHAN, 523 CAMBRIDGE ST., BOSTON AND SGT. LESTER ISBELL, 95 LOCUST ST., BATAVIA ILL.

FORTRESS CAMERAMAN SGT. CHESTER GRAHAM OF MILTON, ORE., SAID:

"THE BOMBS WENT OVER THE TARGET AND YOU COULD SEE FLAME AND SMOKE FOR AT LEAST 10 MILES."

SGT. MARYON BENFIELD OF PANA, ILL., ADDED:

"I COULD SEE LOTS OF FIRE AND SMOKE WHERE BOMBS FROM THE GROUPS AHEAD OF US HAD EXPLODED. THERE SEEMED TO BE MANY SMALL FIRES IN THE TARGET AREA, INSTEAD OF JUST ONE BIG ONE."

"BOTH SIDES HAD THEIR FIRST TEAMS OVER BERLIN BUT OURS OUTWEIGHED THEIRS," SAID LT. F.R.JACKSON, OF 1121 N.UNION ST., SHAWNEE, OKLA., PILOT OF THE "DAME SATAN SECOND."

"WHEN PEOPLE SAY THERE'S NO MORE LUFTWAFFE YOU CAN TELL THEM THEY'RE NUTS," REPORTED SGT. CHARLES W.PERRY, OF 534 51ST ST., WEST NEW YORK, N.J., A WAIST GUNNER.

A STOCKHOLM DISPATCH SAID TWO AMERICAN BOMBERS MADE FORCED LANDINGS AT HALMOE, SWEDEN.

"THE FIGHTER OPPOSITION WAS THE WORST I'VE EVER SEEN," SAID LT. H.L.THEOPILUS, PILOTXN OF 2216 SULLIVANE AVE., COLUMBUS, O. "THERE WERE AT LEAST 200 ENEMY FIGHTERS UP THERE AND WE RAN INTO FLAK ALL THE WAY FROM THE COAST."

LT.G.F.COOPE, CO-PILOT, OF CARLSBAD, N.M., ADDED THE FIGHTERS SEEMED MORE DETERMINED THAN EVER AND MANY PLANES WENT DOWN--"BOTH THEIRS AND OURS."

ANOTHER GROUP INCLUDED STAFF SGT. WILLIAM DONMOYER OF LEHMAN ST., LEBANON, PA., WAISTGUNNER, AND STAFF SGT. CHARLES L.JOCHMANN OF 167 HIGHLAND AVE., PASSAIC, N.J., TAILGUNNER.

CAPT.L.C.LEWIS, 3829 NORTH 12TH AVE., PENSACOLA, FLA., COMMENTED THAT "THE CITY OF BERLIN IS A LONG WAY FROM GONE. WE COULD SEE BUILDINGS, STREETS AND RIVERS PLAINLY."

THE HIGH SCORE FOR THE DAY WAS MADE BY A GROUP OF EIGHTH AIR FORCE MUSTANGS WHICH DESTROYED 20 NAZI FIGHTERS AGAINST NO LOSSES.

CAPT.DAVE PARRON OF BERKELEY ST., CLAREMONT, CALIF., BAGGED TWO FW-190S AND ONE ME-210 OVER BERLIN TO ADD TO A PAIR OF FOCKE WULFS HE DESTROYED OVER SOUTHWESTERN FRANCE SUNDAY.

CAPT.G.V.DAVIS OF PARMA, IDAHO, LT.DONALD BOCHKAY, 6406 BAKMAN ST., NORTH HOLLYWOOD, CALIF., EACH BAGGED TWO NAZI FIGHTERS.

DURING, ETC., PICKING UP AS BEFORE.

TODAY'S STRIKE AT BERLIN WAS THE FIRST BY U.S. LIBERATORS AND LIBERATOR CREWS REPORTED THAT THEY HAD A LIVELY TRIP.

"THERE WAS AN AWFUL LOT OF FLAK OVER BERLIN AND IT WAS HEAVY STUFF," SAID LT.ANDREW HRICKO, A BOMBARDIER, OF LAKE MILTON, OHIO. (EDS: NOT IN POSTAL GUIDE).

POINTING TO A TWO-INCH HOLE IN THE NOSE OF HIS LIBERATOR, HE ADDED, "I DUCKED JUST BEFORE THE FLAK HIT THE NOSE AND IT SPLATTERED GLASS AGAINST OUR HELMETS."

LT.ROBERT C.BUNN, A NAVIGATOR OF 1309 NORTH WASATCH [illegible],,

COLORADO SPRINGS, COLO., SAID "I SAW ABOUT FIVE GERMANS SHOT DOWN. THE P-38S GOT ON THEIR TAILS AND DID THE TRICK."

LT.M.D.WOOL, 5321 BERKS ST., PHILADELPHIA, PA., SAID THE ROCKET FLAK "CAME UP LIKE A GEYSER THROUGH THE CLOUDS AND BLEW UP IN FLASHES BIG AS A HAYSTACK."

AN UNIDENTIFIED TYPE OF ANTI-AIRCRAFT FIRE WHICH LEFT LONG STREAMERS OF REDDISH SMOKE WAS REPORTED BY LT.JOSEPH ROZNOS, 8755 LANKERSHIM BLVD., ROSCOE, CALIF.

"I WAS SHOOTING PICTURES WHEN 40 BOMBS FROM OUR SHIPS SEEMED TO GO OFF ALL AT ONCE," RELATED STAFF SGT. EARL B.ESTEP OF NITRO, W.VA., "I COULD SEE THREE DIFFERENT BOMB PATTERNS AND WHEN WE TURNED AWAY FROM THE TARGET, SMOKE PRETTY WELL COVERED THE CITY."

"WE WERE FOLLOWING THE LEADING SECTION OF A B-24 GROUP WHEN THE FORCE AHEAD TURNED RIGHT OVER THE HEART OF BERLIN. OUR INTERPHONE WAS KNOCKED OUT AND WE WERE SO BUSY DODGING FLAK WE WENT STRAIGHT ON," LT.MARTIN G.BAXTER, 2043 GREENFIELD AVE., WEST LOS ANGELES, CALIF., REPORTED. "TWELVE OTHER SHIPS FOLLOWED US. WE CIRCLED OVER THE CITY, MADE A 360-DEGREE TURN AND FOUND OURSELVES RIGHT OVER BERLIN FOR T[illegible] SECOND TIME IN ONE DAY. BROTHER, THAT'S ROUGH."

A NEW NIGHT RAID ON THE GERMAN CAPITAL WAS INDICATED TONIGHT BY A BREAK IN TELEPHONE COMMUNICATION BETWEEN STOCKHOLM AND BERLIN. THE FRANKFURT RADIO WARNED AT 10:13 P.M. THAT "ENEMY AIRCRAFT ARE CIRCLING OVER OUR TOWN."

TRAVELERS ARRIVING IN SWEDEN SAID THE AMERICAN DAYLIGHT RAID WAS DIRECTED AT BERLIN'S NORTHERN AND EASTERN SECTIONS AND FIRES WERE LEFT BURNING. THE ALARM LASTED FROM 1 TO 3 P.M.

THE REGULAR BERLIN PLANE TO STOCKHOLM WAS DELAYED AND PASSENGERS WERE OBLIGED TO ENTER SHELTERS AT THE TEMPELHOF AIRDROME, WHERE ONE BOMB WAS DROPPED. A WITNESS SAID "A GREAT MANY" RAIDERS WERE VISIBLE.

IT WAS ANNOUNCED THAT A RECORD FORCE OF NEARLY 300 MARAUDERS TOOK PART IN THE MORNING ATTACK UPON FRENCH TARGETS.

THE RAIDERS STRUCK RAILROAD YARDS NEAR THE BELGIAN BORDER, THE AIR FIELDS 35 MILES NORTH OF PARIS AND "MILITARY OBJECTIVES" IN THE PAS DE CALAIS REGION.

ESCORTED BY ROYAL AIR FORCE TYPHOONS AND SPITFIRES, THE FORCE COMPLETED THE OPERATIONS WITHOUT LOSS.

BRITISH BEAUFIGHTERS TORPEDOED TWO MEDIUM-SIZED MERCHANT VESSELS OFF THE NORWEGIAN COAST LAST NIGHT, IT WAS ANNOUNCED. A THIRD WAS PROBABLY HIT.

LONDON--FIRST ADD FINNISH X X X OR TOMORROW.

AN ASSOCIATED PRESS DISPATCH FROM STOCKHOLM SAID THE NEWSPAPER DAGENS NYHETER REPORTED THAT THE FINNISH PEACE MACHINERY "STILL IS FUNCTIONING" AND THAT THE FINNISH PARLIAMENT WOULD MEET TODAY.

DR.JUHO K.PAASIKIVI, REPEATEDLY MENTIONED IN FOREIGN REPORTS AS ABOUT TO LEAVE HELSINKI FOR EITHER MOSCOW OR STOCKHOLM, SAID MONDAY NIGHT THAT "I'M STILL HERE (IN HELSINKI) AND KNOW NOTHING OF ANY JOURNEY," THE DISPATCH ADDED.

LONDON MARCH 6-(AP)-UNDER THE HEADING "JAPAN IS SCHEMING TO FOOL US AGAIN," THE DAILY MAIL PRINTED AN EDITORIAL PAGE ARTICLE TODAY BY SIMON HARCOURT-SMITH WHICH WARNED AGAINST APPEASEMENT WITH TOKYO AND SAID A CERTAIN GROUP IN THE FINANCIAL CITY OF LONDON AND IN COMMONS "HAS LATELY BEGUN WORK FOR A COMPROMISE PEACE WITH JAPAN."

THE DAILY MAIL SAID HARCOURT-SMITH'S PERSONAL INTERPRETIVE ARTICLES DID NOT REFLECT THE EDITORIAL OPINION OF THE NEWSPAPER.

THE BASIS OF THE ARTICLE WAS A JAPANESE BROADCAST FROM CONQUERED

30.24 —13517

30.24 —— 13517

BATAVIA WHICH THE WRITER QUOTED AS SAYING:

"IF JAPAN'S CONSTRUCTIVE WAR OBJECT CANNOT BE FULFILLED IN OUR TIM IT WILL BE CARRIED FORWARD TO THE NEXT GENERATION AND IF IT IS STILL NOT DONE, IT WILL BE TURNED OVER TO THE SUCCEEDING GENERATIONS UNTIL FINAL VICTORY AND PEACE ARE ACHIEVED."

THE ARTICLE TRACED AT LENGTH THE JAPANESE COURSE SINCE ENTERING THE WAR AND COMMENTED THAT THE BATAVIA BROADCAST "EPITOMIZES THE NEW JAPANESE POLICY OF 1944--A POLICY NO LESS FRAUGHT WITH DANGER FOR US THAN THE OVERT MANEUVERS WHICH LED TO THE CAPTURE OF SINGAPORE."

MAR 6 1944

THE WRITER SAID THAT IN THE EARLY DAYS OF THE WAR JAPAN AND GERMANY WERE "CLOSE CRONIES" BUT "A BREACH BETWEEN THE TWO CRIMINAL CONFEDERATES HAS WIDENED UNTIL NOW NOTHING LINKS THEM SAVE AN OCCASIONAL HURRIED DASH INTO LORIENT OR HAMBURG OF A JAPANESE BLOCKADE RUNNER WITH A CARGO OF RUBBER."

HE SAID JAPAN VIEWED THE PROSPECTIVE GERMAN DEFEAT AS NOT SERIOUSLY PERTURBING FOR "LET US MAKE NO MISTAKE: JAPAN IS SET UPON GAINING A POSITION IN THE WORLD WHICH LEAVES NO ROOM FOR RIVALS. A VICTORIOUS GERMAN-JAPANESE PEACE WOULD ONLY HAVE MEANT AN UNEASY LULL BEFORE THE TWO GREAT CONQUERORS JOINED IN THE FINAL SET--TO DECIDE WHICH SHOULD BE MASTER OF US ALL."

"JAPAN KNOWS THAT IN PLACE OF A TRUCULENT AND MISTRUSTFUL WEHRMACHT, SHE WILL ONLY HAVE TO DEAL WITH A PACK OF WESTERN DEMOCRATS, THEIR GREAT HONEST BLUE EYES WIDE OPEN TO RECEIVE THE SAND WHICH THE JAPANESE SANDMAN MAY CARE TO THROW IN," THE ARTICLE SAID.

THE JAPANESE BELIEVE THE "BULK OF AMERICANS ARE THOROUGHLY BORED WITH THE PACIFIC WAR" AND "WOULD WELCOME ANY APPARENTLY REASONABLE SETTLEMENT," THE WRITER CONTINUED.

"I CANNOT SAY WHETHER THIS ENEMY DIAGNOSIS OF AMERICAN OPINION IS WILDLY FALSE, BUT I KNOW THAT IN THIS COUNTRY A FORMIDABLE APATHY, INDEED A BOUNCING GHOST OF APPEASEMENT, PLAYS THE JAPANESE GAME. OUR APPEASERS WILL FALL ON THEIR HIGH-COLLARED NECKS PROCLAIMING TO THE WORLD THAT HERE IS A REAL PEACE-LOVING JAPAN."

HARCOURT-SMITH WRITES OCCASIONAL FEATURE ARTICLES FOR THE DAILY MAIL AS A CONTRACT WRITER BUT IS NOT A MEMBER OF THE STAFF.

THE BRITISH PRESS HAS BEEN CARRYING AN INCREASING AMOUNT OF PACIFIC WAR NEWS AND HAS GIVEN PROMINENCE REPEATEDLY TO STATEMENTS OF PRIME MINISTER CHURCHILL, FOREIGN SECRETARY ANTHONY EDEN, THE WAR MINISTER, SIR JAMES GRIGG, AND OTHER GOVERNMENT LEADERS PLEDGING BRITAIN TO STAY IN THE FIGHT AFTER GERMANY FALLS UNTIL JAPAN IS DESTROYED.

MAR 6 1944

THERE HAVE BEEN NO ACCOUNTS BY ANY HOUSE OF COMMONS REPORTERS OR OTHER POLITICAL WRITERS OF ANY UNDERCOVER MOVE TO COMPROMISE WITH JAPAN.

WITHOUT CITING ANY BASIS FOR ITS ALLEGATION, THE ARTICLE ASKED:

"BUT IF THE WORKING MAN IS INDIFFERENT TO THE JAPANESE WAR WHAT OF THE 'PRIVILEGED' GROUP OF OPINION WHICH IN THE CITY AND HOUSE OF COMMONS HAS LATELY BEGUN TO WORK FOR A COMPROMISE PEACE WITH JAPAN?

"AMONG THESE UNCONSCIOUS TRAITORS THERE ARE SENTIMENTALISTS BROUGHT UP IN JAPAN AND PERSUADED THAT OUR PRESENT WAR IS BUT AN UNFORTUNATE MISUNDERSTANDING, NERVOUS DIE-HARDS WHO STILL REGARD JAPAN AS A BULWARK AGAINST COMMUNISM IN ASIA, AND FAR EASTERN MERCHANTS WHO WANT TO QUICKLY COVER THEIR LOSSES.

"THESE MISCHIEVOUS GENTRY XXX WILL COME IN VERY USEFUL FOR JAPAN WHEN SHE HOISTS THE FLAG OF TRUCE. AND THAT FLAG WILL NOT BE WHITE AS WE KNOW IT IN EUROPE, BUT BLACK--THE BLACK FROCKCOAT OF JAPANESE REPENTANCE."

LONDON, MARCH 6-(AP)-THE GERMANS ALREADY ARE PLANNING FOR ANOTHER WAR IN 25 YEARS, WITH THE UNITED STATES AS THE ARCH ADVERSARY ON WHOM TO CONCENTRATE FROM THE BEGINNING, SAYS THE FRENCH UNDERGROUND NEWSPAPER "COMBAT."

MAR 6 1944

THE PAPER, PRINTED IN ALGIERS, WAS QUOTED IN THE LONDON SUNDAY CHRONICLE AS SAYING THAT A PRELIMINARY MEMORANDUM FOR THE NEXT WAR HAS BEEN DRAFTED FOR THE GERMAN GENERAL STAFF BY GEN. OTTO VON STUELPNAGEL, IN WHICH HE DECLARED "WE SHALL BE WRONG IF WE TRY TO CONQUER RUSSIA WHILE LEAVING INTACT AMERICAN INDUSTRIAL PRODUCTION."

STUELPNAGEL, MILITARY GOVERNOR OF FRANCE, BEFORE 1939 WAS CHIEF OF THE GERMAN INTELLIGENCE SERVICE.

LONDON, MARCH 6-(AP)-THE U.S. NINTH (TACTICAL) AIR FORCE, WHOSE FIGHTERS HAVE BEEN ASSISTING IN THE STRATEGIC BOMBING OF GERMANY, RECEIVED CONGRATULATIONS TODAY FROM MAJ.GEN.JAMES H.DOOLITTLE, COMMANDER OF THE EIGHTH AIR FORCE.

IN A TELEGRAM TO MAJ.GEN.LEWIS H.BRERETON, COMMANDER OF THE NINTH, DOOLITTLE PRAISED THE "MAGNIFICENT SUPPORT" GIVEN THE BIG BOMBERS IN THE LAST FIVE DAYS.

MAR 6 1944

"THE HEAVY BOMBER ATTACKS WERE GREATLY INCREASED IN EFFECTIVENESS AND LOSSES WERE GREATLYKEDUCED BY THE MAGNIFICENT SUPPORT YOUR FIGHTERS RENDERED," DOOLITTLE SAID.

IN RELAYING THE MESSAGE TO HIS MUSTANG AND THUNDERBOLT PILOTS, BRERETON HIMSELF ADDED, "THE COMMANDING GENERAL OF THE NINTH AIR FORCE JOINS IN EXPRESSING HIS APPRECIATION OF THE SKILL, DEVOTION AND HARD WORK OF THE PERSONNEL."

LONDON, MARCH 6-(AP)-BRITAIN'S COAL PRODUCTION, ALREADY SERIOUSLY AFFECTED BY AN UNOFFICIAL SLOWDOWN OF THOUSANDS OF PIT MEN, WAS GRAVELY THREATENED TONIGHT BY A STRIKE OF 12,000 MONMOUTHSHIRE MINERS OVER A WAGE DISPUTE.

THE MONMOUTHSHIRE STRIKE AND THE SLOWDOWN OF OTHER BRITISH MINERS WAS SAID TO BE IN PROTEST AGAINST A RECENT BOOSTING OF THE WEEKLY MINIMUM WAGE FROM $16.75 TO $20 BUT PROVIDING NO INCREASE IN PIECE RATES.

THE MINISTRY OF FUEL, IN AN ATTEMPT TO BREAK THE SLOWDOWN, DIRECTED THAT 450 MINERS BE TRANSFERRED FROM THE EASTERN COLLIERY COMPANY PITS IN DURHAM TO JOBS ELSEWHERE AND ORDERED THAT THEY BE REPLACED BY OTHER WORKERS. IN ADDITION THE MINISTRY SAID THAT UNLESS THE OUTPUT OF THE MINES, WHICH DROPPED FROM 15,000 TONS WEEKLY TO 5,000, WERE RESTORED IMMEDIATELY THE ENTIRE OPERATION WOULD BE CLOSED AND THE 2,500 MINERS EMPLOYED THERE WOULD BE TRANSFERRED TO OTHER PITS.

THE MINERS SAY THAT THEY GET $20 WEEKLY UNDER THE NEW WAGE SCALE WHETHER THEY WORK HARD OR NOT AND THAT A HIGHLY SKILLED CUTTER OR LOADER COULD BOOST HIS MINIMUM PAY BY ONLY 50 OR 75 CENTS A WEEK WITH HARD WORK BECAUSE OF THE LOW PIECE WORK RATES.

LONDON, MARCH 6-(AP)-THERE WILL BE LESS LIGHT AND HEAT IN BUCKINGHAM PALACE ON THE QUEEN'S ORDER.

THE LARGE STATE ROOMS HAVE BEEN CLOSED TO "SAVE FUEL" AND NOTICES HAVE BEEN POSTED IN ALL THE OTHER ROOMS OF THE PALACE. A FUEL OFFICER HAS BEEN APPOINTED TO SEE THAT THE NEW ORDERS ARE OBEYED.

LONDON,MARCH 6-(AP)-GEN.DWIGHT D.EISENHOWER, IN A LETTER ADDRESSED "TO EVERY AMERICAN SERVING UNDER MY COMMAND," HAS ASKED THE HELP OF ALL TO SEE TO IT "THAT A VERY SMALL MINORITY DOES NOT DAMAGE THE GOOD NAME OF THE AMERICAN ARMY IN THE UNITED KINGDOM."

DECLARING THAT "ONLY A SELF-DISCIPLINED ARMY CAN WIN BATTLES," THE ALLIED SUPREME COMMANDER IN THIS THEATER ASKED EVERYONE, OFFICERS PARTICULARLY, TO BE ESPECIALLY CAREFUL CONCERNING:

"IMPROPER USE OF MOTOR TRANSPORTATION.

"DRINKING IN PUBLIC PLACES.

"EXCESSIVE DRINKING AT ANY TIME. IN THIS CONNECTION PUBLIC DRUNKENNESS BY OFFICERS WILL INVARIABLY CALL FOR THE STERNEST DISCIPLINARY ACTION PERMISSIBLE.

"LOUD, PROFANE OR INDECENT LANGUAGE, ESPECIALLY IN PUBLIC.

"ANY DISCOURTESY TO CIVILIANS."

EISENHOWER SAID IT WAS VITAL THAT AMERICAN FORCES WORK WITH THE BRITISH "BOTH IN THE FIGHTING SERVICES AND IN CIVIL LIFE ON THE BASIS OF MUTUAL RESPECT, CONSIDERATION AND COOPERATION."

HE DECLARED THAT THE DUTY OF EVERY COMPANY COMMANDER WAS TO KNOW ALL HIS MEN, THEIR QUALIFICATIONS, THEIR PROBLEMS, THEIR HABITS AND THEIR PERSONALITIES, AND "HE MUST PROTECT THEM AND INSURE TO EACH A CHANCE TO SERVE INTELLIGENTLY AND USEFULLY IN THE CAUSE FOR WHICH OUR COUNTRY IS ENGAGED IN THIS WAR."

EVERY HIGH COMMANDER, EISENHOWER SAID, MUST SEE TO IT THAT EVERY ENLISTED MAN AND ENLISTED WAC OR CIVILIAN EMPLOYE "UNDERSTANDS THE RIGHT OF LEGITIMATE APPEAL FROM WHAT MAY BE CONSIDERED CAPRICIOUS OR ARBITRARY PUNISHMENT."

AT A U.S. BOMBER BASE IN ENGLAND, MARCH 6-(AP)-FLYING FORTRESS CREWMEN IN A GROUP COMMANDED BY COL.CLAUDE E.PUTNAM, JACKSBORO, TEX., GENERALLY DESCRIBED TODAY'S SECOND AMERICAN RAID ON BERLIN AS THE TOUGHEST MISSION OF THEM ALL.

PUTNAM'S GROUP LED HUNDREDS OF HEAVY BOMBERS AGAINST THE REICH CAPITAL AND PROBABLY BORE THE BRUNT OF A DETERMINED ATTACK BY SWARMS OF ALL TYPES OF GERMAN FIGHTERS--SOME RESEMBLING AMERICAN PLANES.

"WE HAD A GOOD LONG RUN AND WE PUT OUR BOMBS ON THE TARGET," SAID LT.THOMAS W.HARPER, 926 CROSS ST., WOODLAND, CALIF., A BOMBARDIER.

"OSCHERSLEBEN WAS A MILK-RUN COMPARED TO THIS ONE," SAID TECH. SGT., THEODORE J.BACHE, 1209 RAVINE PARKWAY, TOLEDO, OHIO, A RADIO OPERATOR, IN COMPARING TODAY'S RAID WITH THE JAN. 11 ATTACK WHICH COST 60 BOMBERS.

IN THE WORDS OF TECH.SGT., E.R.ARNETT, A WAIST-GUNNER FROM JACKSON

CENTER, MICH., "THIS WAS WORSE THAN OSCHERSLEBEN AND SCHWEINFURT PUT TOGETHER." THE SCHWEINFURT RAID ALSO COST 60 BOMBERS.

"THOSE FOCKE WULFS WERE THROWING 20 MILLIMETER SHELLS AT US SO FAST THEY LOOKED LIKE FLAK," COMMENTED STAFF SGT. MARION PORTER, A WAIST-GUNNER FROM FAIRLAND, IND., ADDING "THERE WERE FORTRESSES AND FOCKE WULFS BLOWING UP ALL OVER THE PLACE."

"THE FIGHTER COVER WAS WONDERFUL," SAID LT.COL.T.R.MILTON OF FIVE PINEHURST CIRCLE, NORTHWEST, WASHINGTON, D.C., COMMAND PILOT LEADING A COMBAT WING. "ENEMY FIGHTERS DIDN'T ATTACK US UNTIL WE WERE ALMOST OVER THE TARGET."

MAR 6. 1944

"ONE GROUP APPEARED ABOVE US AND WHEN OUR ESCORT WENT UP TO GET THEM ANOTHER BUNCH OF ENEMY FIGHTERS CAME AT US--JUST AS IF THEY PLANNED IT THAT WAY," HE ADDED.

LT.FRANK ALFORD, A CO-PILOT FROM INGLESIDE, TEXAS, SAID SOME OF THE GERMAN FIGHTERS "WERE PAINTED TO LOOK LIKE P-51S, WITH A WHITE STRIPE AROUND THE BELLY AND A STRIPE ON THE TAIL."

"ONLY 10 MINUTES FROM THE TARGET THE GERMAN FIGHTERS LINED UP IN FRONT OF US AND REALLY CAME IN," SAID LT.JOHN LA FONTIN (CAP F) OF 232 WEST MICHIGAN AVE., YPSILANTI, MICH., A PILOT. "THERE WERE HORDES OF THEM AND THEY CAME AT US IN WAVES--ME-410S FIRST AND THEN FW-190S AND ME-109S."

"THERE WERE GERMANS ALL OVER THE SKY," SAID LT. R.W.THOMPSON)F 4417 SCHOOL ST., CHICAGO, ILL., CO-PILOT OF A FLYING FORTRESS HICH GOT BACK WITH ONLY ONE HOLE DESPITE THE FACT THE CREW SAW OMBERS SHOT DOWN ON ALL SIDES.

"WE GOT BACK BY THE GRACE OF GOD AND A FAST OUTFIELD," LT. HOMPSON COMMENTED.

LT.S.B.SWENUMSON, 3748 MARSHALWAY, SACRAMENTO, CALIF., A CO-ILOT, SAID THE "GERMANS WERE UP TO STOP US AND THEY PROVED THEY STILL AVE PLENTY OF GOOD PLANES LEFT. WE INTENDED TO TAKE A GOOD LOOK AT ERLIN, BUT WERE SO BUSY WITH THE FIGHTERS WE DIDN'T HAVE TIME."

"WE HIT SOMETHING IN BERLIN--I KNOW THAT," SAID LT.C.E.WILLIAMS, 51 WEST HIGHLAND ST., PONCA CITY, OKLA., A BOMBARDIER.

LT.L.I.TANNENBAUM, 166 ROCKAWAY PARK, BROOKLYN, N.Y., TOLD OF THREE OCKE WULFS WHIZZING THROUGH THE LEAD FORMATION OF BOMBERS.

"I THOUGHT THEY WERE ATTACKING US, SAID TANNENBAUM, TAIL-GUNNER IN HE LEAD SHIP, A POSITION ALWAYS ASSIGNED TO AN OFFICER, "BUT IT URNED OUT THEY WERE TRYING TO GET AWAY FROM SIX OF OUR FIGHTERS. SAW TWO OF THE FOCKE WULFS COLLIDE. BOTH EXPLODED. I GUESS HEY GOT THEIR SIGNALS MIXED."

A U.S. BOMBER BASE IN ENGLAND, MARCH 6-(AP)-STAFF SGT.LAWRENCE MOREL, A FORTRESS TAILGUNNER, COMPLETED HIS TOUR OF COMBAT DUTY IN THIS THEATER WITH TODAY'S RAID ON BERLIN AND AFTERWARD SAID THE TRIP REMINDED HIM OF HOME.

"TELL THE FOLKS BACK HOME BERLIN ISN'T SO TOUGH--WE MADE A DRY RUN, SAID LT. C.B.MAKINSTER OF GLOBE, ARIZ., PILOTING THE B24 "ARIZONA RAMBLER." "WHEN WE WENT OVER THE TARGET I SAW FOUR BIG FIRES ALL IN A LINE."

"WHEN WE CAME IN THE FIRST TIME, CLOUDS WERE IN THE WAY," SO WE MADE A 360-DEGREE TURN OVER BERLIN AND CAME BACK," REPORTED LT. WILLIAM FITZSIMMONS, (1026 S. MAYFIELD AVE.) OF CHICAGO.

"MY GRANDMOTHER CAME FROM THERE," FITZSIMMONS SAID, ADDING, "I HOPE WE DIDN'T HIT HER HOUSE. FLAMES WERE COMING UP OVER 1,000 FEET."

FITZSIMMONS, A VETERAN OF THE FAMED RAID ON THE PLOESTI OIL REFINERIES AND OTHER MISSIONS IN THE MEDITERRANEAN THEATER, SAID THE FLAK OVER BERLIN EQUALLED THE HEAVY ACK-ACK AT PLOESTI AND OVER SICILY WHEN THE NAZIS WERE WITHDRAWING FROM THAT ISLAND.

"TODAY WAS MY FIRST WEDDING ANNIVERSARY," SAID STAFF SGT.KENNETH L.GURNEY, UNADILLA, N.Y., RADIO OPERATOR ON "ARIZONA RAMBLER," ADDING "BERLIN WAS A HELL OF A PLACE TO SPEND IT." MAR 6 1944

"THE PEOPLE OF BERLIN MUST HAVE GOT A THRILL TODAY," COMMENTED STAFF SGT.THOMAS BYRD OF LONDON, KY., "PLANES WERE GOING EVERY DIRECTION. I SAW NINE ME-109S CIRCLING AROUND US, BUT THEY KEPT AWAY WHEN I FIRED AT THEM. FOR THE SECOND DAY IN A ROW, ONE ME-109 CAME THROUGH OUR FORMATIONS WITHOUT FIRING A SHOT."

(AIRMEN RETURNING FROM THE PREVIOUS DAYLIGHT RAID ON BERLIN SAID ENEMY PLANES "PAINTED LIKE BARBER POLES" DOVE THROUGH THE BOMBER FORMATIONS WITHOUT FIRING.)

AT A FORTRESS BASE IN ENGLAND, MARCH 6-(AP)-AFTER BEING REPORTED MISSING IN ACTION, THE IRREPRESSIBLE CREW OF THE FLYING FORTRESS "LITTLE WILLIE" FINALLY SHOWED UP AT THEIR HOME STATION LAUGHING AND JOKING ABOUT THEIR MADCAP TRIP HOME FROM BERLIN TODAY. MAR 6 1944

SKIMMING CHIMNEYS DOWN THE MAIN STREETS OF GERMAN TOWNS AND NEVER MORE THAN 100 FEET OFF THE GROUND, THEY ROARED BETWEEN TWO CHURCH STEEPLES AND WENT DOWN THE MAIN STREET OF ONE TOWN SO LOW THE BOMBARDIER YELLED TO THE PILOT TO "LOOK OUT FOR THE CURBINGS."

THEY WHISTLED AND WAVED TO A GERMAN GIRL CYCLING DOWN THE STREET IN ONE VILLAGE AND FINALLY SHOT UP ALL THEIR AMMUNITION AT GERMAN DEFENSES ON THE DUTCH COAST.

ADVENTUROUS "LITTLE WILLIE" IS PILOTED BY LT.BERNARD M.DOPKO OF OLD FORGE, PA. THEY WERE OVER THE HEART OF BERLIN WHEN A PROPELLER WENT OUT ON ONE ENGINE AND A SUPERCHARGER ON ANOTHER WAS KNOCKED OUT BY FLAK HITS.

THE WOUNDED SHIP FELL OUT OF FORMATION AND WAS IMMEDIATELY ATTACKED BY TWO GERMAN FIGHTERS. TAIL GUNNER SERGEANT ROBERT M.HAYDON, JR., OF 5 CAMBRIDGE ROAD, MADISON, WIS., SENT OUT SUCH A HOT STREAM OF BULLETS THE NAZIS BROKE OFF THE ATTACK ALMOST AS SOON AS IT STARTED. THE THE FUN BEGAN.

TO KEEP FROM BEING ATTACKED AGAIN, DOPKO POINTED "LITTLE WILLIE'S NOSE AT THE GROUND AND SCREAMED DOWN TO 50 FEET BEFORE HE LEVELED OFF AND STARTED PLAYING TAG WITH RIDGEPOLES.

"AT ONE PLACE," SAID LT.WILLIAM G.KELLY, 245 S. 10TH ST., BURLINGTON, IOWA, THE BOMBARDIER, "I HAD TO YELL, 'WATCH OUT, DOP, YOU-RE GOING TO RUN INTO A CURBSTONE.'"

"COMING OVER ANOTHER CITY WE WERE FLYING ALONG A ROAD AND CAME UPON A MAN RIDING A CART," RELATED LT.GLENN R.CEDERSTROM, 3721 39TH AVE., SOUTH, MINNEAPOLIS, MINN., THE NAVIGATOR. "WHEN HE SAW US HE JUMPED AND DIVED INTO A DITCH. IF HE HADN'T WE WOULD HAVE KNOCKED HIM OFF, WE WERE THAT LOW."

APPROACHING A GERMAN MACHINE-GUN EMPLACEMENT THE CREW SPIED A SOLDIER RUNNING TO HIS POSITION. THEN, APPARENTLY THINKING BETTER, HE DUCKED QUICKLY INTO THE COVER OF A NEARBY DITCH.

EVERY MEMBER OF THE CREW JOINED IN SHOOTING UP GERMAN DEFENSES.

THOUGHTFULLY LT.DOPKO ROCKED HIS BIG PLANE FROM SIDE TO SIDE TO GIVE THE GUNNERS A BETTER VIEW FOR STRAFING.

"LITTLE WILLIE" HOBBLED ACROSS THE LAST STRETCH OVER THE NORTH SEA AT A HEIGHT OF 10 FEET DIPKO SAID.

MOSCOW, MARCH 6-(AP)-THE RUSSIAN PEACE OFFER TO FINLAND WAS RENEWED TODAY BY PRAVDA, OFFICIAL COMMUNIST PARTY NEWSPAPER, WHICH INDICATED EDITORIALLY THAT THE SOVIET UNION STILL WAS WILLING TO TALK TERMS EVEN THOUGH FINNISH PRESS COMMENT INSPIRED MISGIVINGS OVER THE FINNISH GOVERNMENT'S ATTITUDE.

MAR 6 - 1944

THE EDITORIAL WARNED THAT "IF THE FINNISH RULING CIRCLES HAVE MISTAKEN THE GENEROSITY OF THE SOVIET GOVERNMENT FOR WEAKNESS, THEY WILL BE BITTERLY DISILLUSIONED."

"UPON FINLAND ITSELF DEPENDS WHETHER IT FINDS AN EXIT FROM THE BLIND ALLEY, OR SHARES IN THE FATE OF HITLERITE GERMANY WHICH INEVITABLY IS GOING TO ITS DOOM," PRAVDA ADDED.

THE NEWSPAPER SAID THAT FINNISH PRESS REPORTS ON RUSSIA'S TERMS TO FINLAND WERE "HOSTILE," AND OFFERED REBUTTALS TO FINNISH ARGUMENTS AGAINST THE PEACE TERMAMS.

(IN STOCKHOLM THE MORGONTIDNINGEN INDICATED THAT JUHO PAASIKIVI WOULD GO DIRECTLY TO MOSCOW TO DISCUSS ARMISTICE TERMS. PAASIKIVI, FORMER FINNISH PRIME MINISTER, NEGOTIATED THE 1940 RUSSIAN-FINNISH PEACE.)

MOSCOW, MARCH 6-(AP)-THE FIRST UKRAINIAN ARMY, ROLLING SOUTHWEST IN A NEW OFFENSIVE UNDER MARSHAL GREGORY K.ZHUKOV, APPEARED TODAY TO HAVE CUT THE ODESSA-LWOW RAILROAD, LAST IMPORTANT GERMAN LINE OF COMMUNICATION OUT OF SOUTHERN RUSSIA.

IN THE THIRD DAY OF THEIR POWER DRIVE, THE RUSSIANS WERE FIGHTING THEIR WAY INTO VOLOCHISK, RAILWAY JUNCTION JUST EAST OF TARNOPOL, SOVIET DISPATCHES SAID. WITH THAT RAILWAY LINE NEUTRALIZED, THE GERMANS WOULD BE FORCED TO DIVERT THEIR SOUTHERN RAIL TRAFFIC THROUGH RUMANIA.

ZHUKOV, ASSISTANT COMMANDER-IN-CHIEF, WHO TOOK HIS FIRST COMMAND AT THE FRONT SINCE THE BATTLE OF MOSCOW WHEN GEN.NIKOLAI VATUTIN BECAME ILL, MADE A BRILLIANT START IN THIS OFFENSIVE AIMED AT ISOLATING THE HUGE ENEMY FORCE STILL STANDING IN SOUTHERN RUSSIA AS FAR EAST AS THE LOWER DNIEPER RIVER.

STOCKHOLM, MARCH 6-(AP)-TELEPHONE COMMUNICATION BETWEEN STOCKHOLM AND BERLIN WAS INTERRUPTED TONIGHT, INDICATING A NEW AIR RAID ON THE GERMAN CAPITAL.

NAPLES, MARCH 6-(AP)-A PURPORTED ITALIAN SUMMARY REGARDING RELATIONS OF THE GOVERNMENT OF LIBERATED ITALY WITH LATIN AMERICA, ISSUED SATURDAY THROUGH THE UNITED NATIONS NEWS SERVICE, APPARENTLY

30-24 - 13522

WAS STARTED SOMETHING.

THE VENEZUELAN EMBASSY AT WASHINGTON DENIED TONIGHT THAT DR. CARRACCIOLO PARRA-PEREZ, VENEZUELA'S FOREIGN MINISTER, HAD SENT A MESSAGE OF COMMENDATION TO PREMIER MARSHAL PIETRO BADOGLIO'S GOVERNMENT, AS WAS STATED IN THE DOCUMENT.

MAR 7 1944

A STATEMENT THAT THE COLOMBIAN GOVERNMENT HAD AGREED TO RESUME "NORMAL RELATIONS" WITH LIBERATED ITALY AND "REESTABLISH TRADITIONAL FRIENDSHIP BETWEEN THE TWO COUNTRIES" WAS DENIED IN BOGOTA BY THE COLOMBIAN CHANCELLERY.

THE SATURDAY SUMMARY ISSUED BY THE UNITED NATIONS NEWS SERVICE, WHICH IS A BRANCH OF THE ALLIED PSYCHOLOGICAL WARFARE BRANCH IN ITALY, WAS BASED ON AN ANNOUNCEMENT FROM THE PRESS OFFICE OF PREMIER MARSHAL PIETRO BADOGLIO'S MINISTER OF THE INTERIOR.

NEITHER BADOGLIO NOR HIS SPOKESMAN WERE AVAILABLE FOR COMMENT TONIGHT.

THE SUMMARY HAD SAID THAT THE VENEZUELAN FOREIGN MINISTER'S NOTE OF COMMENDATION WAS FOR THE ITALIAN GOVERNMENT'S WORK "IN THE LIBERATION AND REORGANIZATION OF THE COUNTRY AND FOR ITS PROGRESSIVE STRENGTHENING OF ITS COLLABORATION WITH THE UNITED NATIONS."

THE ORIGINAL STATEMENT ISSUED FROM THE SEAT OF BADOGLIO'S GOVERNMENT CONCLUDED, THE SUMMARY SAID, "WITH A REMINDER OF THE INDISSOLUBLE BONDS OF RACE, RELIGION AND BLOOD WHICH LINK ITALY WITH LATIN AMERICA, AND SAID THAT THE NEW ITALY ALREADY IS RETAKING THAT PLACE IN THE WORLD WHICH, IN THE WORDS OF THE FOREIGN MINISTER OF VENEZUELA, SHE DESERVES BY RIGHT OF HER HISTORY AND TRADITIONS."

ALGIERS, MARCH 6-(AP)-VICHY AUTHORITIES PLAN TO JUMP UPON THE ALLIED BANDWAGON AND INVOKE THE PROTECTION OF AMERICAN AND CANADIAN TROOPS WHEN THE INVASION BEGINS, INTERIOR COMMISSIONER EMMANUEL D'ASTIER DE LA VIGERIE DECLARED TODAY.

SPEAKING ON THE EVE OF HIS RETURN TO LONDON TO CONTINUE THE DIRECTION OF FRENCH UNDERGROUND MOVEMENTS, HE SAID RECENT REPORTS FROM INSIDE FRANCE SHOWED MARSHAL PETAIN AND HIS ENTOURAGE HAD A 3-POINT PLAN TO KEEP THEMSELVES IN POWER.

AS SOON AS THE ALLIES LAND, ACCORDING TO THE COMMISSIONER, PETAIN WOULD CONVOKE A NATIONAL ASSEMBLY, RELEASE ALL POLITICAL PRISONERS AND APPOINT A REPUBLICAN-MINDED CABINET, INCLUDING GEORGES BONNET AS FOREIGN MINISTER.

"THUS [illegible]TY HOPE TO PRESERVE THE POWER WHICH THEY HAVE PLACED AT THE DISPO[illegible]ERMANS," HE SAID.

LONG BEFORE HE BECAME A GENERAL, MERRILL HAD THOROUGHLY STUDIED THE JAPANESE MILITARY SYSTEM WHILE SERVING AS A LANGUAGE STUDENT OFFICER AND LATER AS ASSISTANT MILITARY ATTACHE IN TOKYO.

HE LEARNED TO READ, WRITE AND SPEAK JAPANESE AND PICKED UP A WORKING KNOWLEDGE OF CHINESE AND DIALECTS WHICH ARE HANDY IN THE TRIBAL JUNGLE AND UPLANDS.

HE ENLISTED IN THE ENGINEERS AS A YOUNGSTER AND WAS PLUCKED FROM THE RANKS IN PANAMA TO ATTEND WEST POINT FROM WHICH HE WAS GRADUATED IN 1929. THEREAFTER THE ARMY SENT HIM THROUGH A SPECIAL COURSE IN ENGINEERING AT MASSACHUSETTS TECH AND THEN TO CAVALRY SCHOOL AT FORT RILEY.

SOME OF THE JAPANESE, THEIR TONGUES LOOSENED BY LIQUOR, TOLD HIM IT WAS UNFORTUNATE THEY WOULD HAVE TO FIGHT AMERICA "BECAUSE THE AMERICAN GOVERNMENT DOESN'T UNDERSTAND THE JAPANESE POSITION. WE LIKE AMERICANS, BECAUSE WE FEEL MORE LIKE YOU THAN ANYONE ELSE."

MAR 7 1944

THE CHINESE SAID THEY DISCOVERED THAT AT LEAST 200 GUNMEN HAD BEEN ASSIGNED TO CERTAIN REGIONS, WHERE THEY ARE BEING PAID A DAILY WAGE OF 400 CHINESE DOLLARS ($20) WHILE WAITING OPPORTUNITIES FOR MURDER. NO ATTACKS HAVE TAKEN PLACE YET.

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, SOUTHWEST PACIFIC, MARCH 6-(AP)-MORE AMERICAN TROOPS AND SUPPLIES ARE BEING POURED ONTO LOS NEGROS ISLAND IN THE ADMIRALTIES, AGAINST INDICATIONS THAT THE JAPANESE MAY MAKE ANOTHER STRONG ATTEMPT TO RECAPTURE MOMOTE AIRDROME.

GEN.DOUGLAS MACARTHUR SAID TODAY MOPPING UP OF THE ISLAND WAS IN PROGRESS AND ADDITIONAL SUPPLIES AND REINFORCEMENTS FOR THE FIRST CAVALRY DIVISION WERE CONSTANTLY BEING LANDED. IT WAS REPORTED THAT THE ENEMY ALSO WAS RENEWING HIS STRENGTH AFTER HIS COSTLY DEFEAT SAT

THERE WAS EVIDENCE OF EASTWARD MOVEMENT OF JAPANESE TROOPS FROM T GARRISON AT LORENGAU ON MANUS ISLAND, ADJACENT TO LOS NEGROS ISLAND ON THE WEST, A HEADQUARTERS SPOKESMAN SAID. THIS LED TO THE BELIEF THAT ANOTHER BATTLE WAS IN THE MAKING.

SPORADIC FIGHTING FLARED WHEN THE AMERICANS CAME UP AGAINST ENEMY GROUPS WHICH SURVIVED THE FIERCE BATTLE FRIDAY NIGHT AND SATURDAY, WHEN THE JAPANESE HIT THE CAVALRYMEN'S DEFENSES AROUND THE AIRDROME AGAIN AND AGAIN WITHOUT DENTING THE LINE.

ABOARD A U.S. CARRIER FLAGSHIP OFF TRUK, FEB 16-(DELAYED)-(AP)-"A CRUISER IS LYING HELPLESS IN A TROUGH OF WAVES, HER BOW POINTED NORTHWEST TOWARD TOKYO."

THAT WAS THE WORD RELAYED TO AN APPROACHING UNITED STATES BATTLESHIP TASK FORCE BY AIR GROUP COMMANDER ROLAND (BRUTE) DALE OF HARTFORD, CONN., A SPOTTER WHO HOVERED IN HIS HELLCAT FIGHTER JUST OUT OF RANGE OF THE JAPANESE SHIP'S ANTIAIRCRAFT GUNS.

WITH HIS WINGMEN--LT.ARMAND G.HANSON OF NORTH HOLLYWOOD,CALIF., AND ENS.WALTER A.SCOTT OF FORT WORTH,TEX.,--HE TRAILED AN OIL SLICK OF A CRIPPLED JAPANESE WARSHIP TO A POINT 30 MILES NORTHWEST OF TRUK.

MAR 7 - 1944

"WE SIGHTED A GROUP OF THREE ENEMY WARSHIPS AHEAD OF US," DALE SAID. "ONE WAS LYING DEAD IN THE WATER AND BURNING, WHILE TWO OTHER ENEMY SHIPS STEAMED SLOWLY AROUND HER.

"THE BURNING SHIP WAS BETWEEN 30 AND 40 MILES FROM OUR BATTLESHIPS, AND THERE WAS NOTHING TO BE DONE UNTIL THEY CAME INTO RANGE.

"WE SCOUTED TO THE NORTH AND WEST LOOKING FOR OTHER POSSIBLE CRIPPLES. WE DISCOVERED A SMALL SEA-GOING TUG STEAMING SOUTH FOR TRUK. WE MADE TWO STRAFING RUNS AND LEFT HER BURNING AND DEAD IN THE WATER. THEN WE RETURNED TO THE OTHER THREE ENEMY SHIPS. WE WERE JUST IN TIME TO SEE U.S.CARRIER-BASED AVENGERS AND DIVE BOMBERS ATTACKED THEM.

"AT LEAST ONE GOOD BOMB HIT WAS MADE ON THE STERN OF ONE OF

THE PREVIOUSLY UNDAMAGED ESCORT SHIPS. SHE STOPPED AS IF SHE HAD RUN AGROUND. SMOKE APPEARED JUST FORWARD OF THE MAINMAST.

"BY THIS TIME THE BATTLESHIP TASK FORCE WAS DRAWING INTO RANGE. THE FIRST DESTROYER SCREEN OPENED FIRE, THEN THE CRUISERS. THEN THE BATTLESHIPS--MODERN DREADNAUGHTS--OPENED UP WITH THEIR SIXTEEN-INCH GUNS. THE FIRST SHELL SPLASHES WERE CLOSE."

MAR 7 1941

DALE SAID THAT SHORTLY AFTERWARD HE SAW A SHELL HIT ON ONE OF THE ENEMY SHIPS AT THE WATERLINE JUST BELOW THE BRIDGE.

"THEN," DALE ADDED, "I SAW TWO LARGE SHELL HOLES IN HER STARBOARD SIDE. SHE WAS DEFINITELY A LIGHT CRUISER. THEN I SAW SIXSMALL HOLES IN HER.

"IN A VERY FEW MOMENTS SHE ROLLED OVER ON HER BACK AND SUNK, STERN FIRST. THE BOW WENT UNDER VERY GENTLY. THERE WAS NO VIOLENT TURBULENCE IN THE WATER, OR STEAM FROM HER BOILERS. VERY LITTLE OIL SPREAD OUT OVER THE WATER.

"WE CIRCLED THE SPOT AT 800 FEET, LOOKING FOR SURVIVORS, BUT NONE COULD BE SEEN."

THE RESOLUTION SAID THAT AFTER AN INSPECTION OF THE RECEIVING STATION, WHICH WAS AUTHORIZED IN SEPTEMBER, 1936, IT WAS PROVED THAT NEWS RECEIVED THERE WAS DELIVERED TO THE ASSOCIATED PRESS AND LA PRENSA ASOCIADA, WHICH DISTRIBUTED IT IN ARGENTINA AND ABROAD.

THE RESOLUTION SAID THIS WAS AGAINST THE LAW AND AGAINST THE INTERESTS OF THE STATE, INASMUCH AS THE DUTIES ESTABLISHED BY PREVIOUS RESOLUTIONS WERE UNPAID.

BUENOS AIRES, ARGENTINA, MARCH 6-(AP)-THE ARGENTINE POSTMASTER GENERAL IN AN ORDER OF MARCH 4 HAS SHUT DOWN FOR AN INDEFINITE PERIOD THE UNITED PRESS TELETYPE CIRCUIT BETWEEN BUENOS AIRES AND MONTEVIDEO AND ORDERED ITS AFFILIATE, LA PRENSA UNIDA, TO SUSPEND ALL ~~RADIO~~ telephone and telegraph COMMUNICATION FACILITIES FOR THE TRANSMISSION OF NEWS THROUGHOUT ARGENTINA.

THE ORDER SAID THE ACTION WAS TAKEN BECAUSE THE UNITED PRESS PERMITTED AN EMPLOYE OF PRENSA UNIDA TO OPERATE THE CIRCUIT TO MONTEVIDEO IN VIOLATION OF REGULATIONS.

THE MONTEVIDEO CIRCUIT WAS USED TO TRANSMIT NEWS TO UNITED PRESS CLIENTS IN URUGUAY.

THE PRACTICAL EFFECT OF THE MEASURE WAS TO SUSPEND THE LEASED WIRE TO MONTEVIDEO WHERE THE UNITED PRESS NOW SERVES ITS CLIENTS BY CABLE INSTEAD OF BY WIRE FROM BUENOS AIRES.

CABILDO, A NATIONALIST NEWSPAPER, ASSERTED THAT THE GOVERNMENT'S MEASURES AGAINST LA PRENSA UNIDA "MUST GO EVEN FURTHER" AND BE APPLIED TO THE PARENT ORGANIZATION. THE NEWSPAPER ACCUSED THE UNITED PRESS OF "ANTI-ARGENTINE ACTIVITIES" BUT DID NOT SPECIFY THE NATURE OF THESE ACTIVITIES.

NEW YORK, MARCH 6-(AP)-IN A LETTER PRINTED BY THE NEW YORK HERALD-TRIBUNE, SIX PROMINENT ITALIAN-AMERICANS HAVE CRITICIZED THE ALLIED POLICY IN SUPPORT OF THE BADOGLIO REGIME AND THE HOUSE OF SAVOY IN ITALY.

MAR 7 1944

THE LETTER, SIGNED BY ARTURO TOSCANINI, ORCHESTRA CONDUCTOR, AND FIVE OTHERS DESCRIBED BY THE PAPER AS "ANTI-FASCISTS," DECLARED THAT "THE POWER OF THE MONARCH OF ITALY SHOULD BE SURRENDERED AT ONCE TO A PROVISIONAL GOVERNMENT."

THE LETTER STATED THAT "IN VIEW OF THE STATEMENTS MADE BY PRIME MINISTER CHURCHILL IN HIS SPEECH TO THE HOUSE OF COMMONS ON FEB. 22, WE FEEL IT OUR DUTY TO DENOUNCE TO THE AMERICAN PEOPLE ANY ATTEMPT TO FORCE THE ITALIAN PEOPLE TO MAINTAIN THE RULE OF THE HOUSE OF SAVOY."

THE WRITERS OF THE LETTER ADVOCATED THIS THREE-POINT PROGRAM TO RALLY THE ITALIAN NATION BEHIND THE WAR EFFORT: OVERTHROW OF THE MONARCHY IN FAVOR OF A PROVISIONAL GOVERNMENT; RECRUITMENT OF AN ARMY OF ITALIAN VOLUNTEERS "TO FIGHT UNDER THE FLAG OF FREE ITALY;" AND ORGANIZATION OF AN ITALIAN CONSTITUENT ASSEMBLY AT THE END OF THE WAR WHICH WOULD BE FREE TO DECIDE THE NEW POLITICAL REGIME, A REGIME WHICH "SHOULD BE ALLOWED TO SIT AT THE PEACE TABLE AS AN ALLY AND NOT AS AN EX-ENEMY."

IN ADDITION TO TOSCANINI, THE WRITERS OF THE LETTER WERE G.A. BORGESE, AUTHOR, LECTURER AND UNIVERSITY PROFESSOR; LIONELLO VENTURI, ITALIAN ART CRITIC AND PROFESSOR; GEORGE LA PIANA AND GAETANO SALVEMINI, PROFESSORS OF HISTORY, AND RANDOLFO PACCIARDI, LAWYER-JOURNALIST.

NEW YORK, MARCH 6-(AP)-THE UNITED PRESS ISSUED TODAY THE FOLLOWING STATEMENT:

"ON FEBRUARY 14 THE NEWSPAPERS NEW YORK WORLD-TELEGRAM, NEW YORK JOURNAL-AMERICAN, DAILY MIRROR, DAILY NEWS AND NEW YORK HERALD TRIBUNE PUBLISHED A DISPATCH OF A LONDON CORRESPONDENT OF THE UNITED PRESS IN WHICH IT WAS SAID THAT ALLEGEDLY AT A RECEPTION ON THE BIRTHDAY OF PRIME MINISTER CHURCHILL IN TEHERAN MARSHAL TIMOSHENKO MADE A CARELESS SPEECH AND PREMIER MARSHAL STALIN IN ORDER TO SILENCE HIM STRUCK HIM.

"SIMULTANEOUSLY OR NEXT DAY THE ABOVE MENTIONED NEWSPAPERS AND THE NEW YORK TIMES PUBLISHED ANOTHER DISPATCH OF THE UNITED PRESS FROM WASHINGTON WHEREIN PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT'S STATEMENT WAS QUOTED DENYING THIS FICTITIOUS REPORT OF THE LONDON CORRESPONDENT AND POINTING OUT THAT MARSHAL TIMOSHENKO WAS NOT EVEN PRESENT AT CHURCHILL'S RECEPTION AT TEHERAN.

MAR 7 1944

"IN CONNECTION WITH THIS THE UNITED PRESS FINDS IT NECESSARY TO STATE THE FOLLOWING:

"ACTUALLY, THERE WAS NO INCIDENT AT CHURCHILL'S RECEPTION AT TEHERAN SUCH AS WAS MENTIONED IN THE REPORT OF THE LONDON CORRESPONDENT OF FEB. 14 AND THUS ALL THIS REPORT IS A FICTION. THE UNITED PRESS HAS EXPRESSED ITS REGRETS THAT IT CIRCULATED THIS FICTITIOUS DISPATCH.

"THE UNITED PRESS SENT A TELEGRAM OF APOLOGY TO THE SOVIET GOVERNMENT IN WHICH IT IS ALSO STATED THAT IT TOOK APPROPRIATE MEASURES IN ORDER THAT SIMILAR REPORTS SHOULD NOT BE REPEATED IN THE FUTURE. THE PRESENT DENIAL IS BEING GIVEN BY THE UNITED PRESS IN VIEW OF THE UNSATISFACTORY NATURE OF THE STATEMENT PUBLISHED FEB. 27 ON THIS QUESTION."

NEW YORK, MARCH 6-(AP)-THE EMPRESS OF JAPAN OBSERVED HER 41ST BIRTHDAY TODAY "IN THE BEST OF HEALTH," THE TOKYO RADIO SAID IN A BROADCAST RECORDED BY U.S. GOVERNMENT MONITORS.

"THE 100,000,000 SUBJECTS OF THE NATION ARE FILLED WITH DEEP TREPIDATION ON HER AUSPICIOUS BIRTHDAY," THE BROADCAST SAID, ADDING THAT NO FESTIVITIES HAD BEEN PLANNED " IN CONSIDERATION OF THE TIMES."

NEW YORK, MARCH 6-(AP)-THE WIVES OF THREE OF THE NATION'S LEADERS PAID TRIBUTE TO SOVIET WOMANHOOD TONIGHT IN MESSAGES SENT TO A "WOME FOR VICTORY" MEETING SPONSORED BY THE COMMITTEE OF WOMEN OF THE NATIONAL COUNCIL OF AMERICAN-SOVIET FRIENDSHIP.

MESSAGES WERE RECEIVED FROM MRS.GEORGE C.MARSHALL, MRS.DWIGHT D. EISENHOWER, AND MRS.HENRY A.WALLACE.

RUSSIAN WOMEN "HAVE WRITTEN AN EPIC PAGE IN THE HISTORY OF THIS WAR AND THE STORY OF THEIR HEROISM WILL LIVE FOREVER," MRS. EISENHOWER SAID.

MRS.WALLACE EXPRESSED APPRECIATION FOR "THE ENORMOUS CONTRIBUTION RUSSIAN WOMEN HAVE MADE TO THE DEFEAT OF WORLD-WIDE FASCISM."

THE SACRIFICES AND DEVOTION TO THEIR COUNTRY OF THE RUSSIAN WOMEN, MRS.MARSHALL SAID, "ARE AN INSPIRATION TO THE WOMEN OF OUR ALLIED WORLD."

MRS.ANDREI GROMYKO, WIFE OF THE SOVIET AMBASSADOR TO THE UNITED STATES, SPOKE AT THE MEETING, AND SAID:

"WE WOMEN SHOULD NOT FORGET THAT OUR PART IN THIS STRUGGLE AGAINST A COMMON ENEMY IS SPEEDING FINAL VICTORY OVER THE FOE."

NEW YORK, MARCH 6-(AP)-BISHOP WEN YUAH CHEN OF THE CHUNGKING AREA OF THE METHODIST CHURCH, SAID TONIGHT THAT THE PEOPLE OF FREE CHINA HAVE PROGRESSED FROM NATIONALISM TO INTERNATIONALISM.

CHEN, WHO ARRIVED IN THE UNITED STATES RECENTLY FROM CHINA TO ATTEND CHURCH CONFERENCES AND LECTURE ON CONDITIONS IN CHINA, SPOKE AT A MEETING HELD IN HIS HONOR BY 14 NATIONAL AND LOCAL INTERDENOMINATIONAL ORGANIZATIONS.

"WESTERN DENOMINATIONAL DIFFERENCES HAVE MEANING IN CHINA ONLY AS THEY MEDIATE SOME VALUABLE EMPHASIS IN HISTORIAL CHRISTIANITY," CHEN SAID.

"THE TREND IS TOWARD INTERDENOMINATIONALISM. THE EMPHASIS IS NOW INTERNATIONALISM AND NOT NATIONALISM, INTERDEPENDENCE AND NOT INDEPENDENCE, INTERDENOMINATIONALISM AND NOT DENOMINATIONALISM," HE ADDED.

"IN TIME OF WAR," CHEN SAID, "THEY FEEL ALL THE MORE THE NEED FOR SPIRITUAL UNITY. THEY ARE CONSCIOUS OF THE FACT THAT THEY ARE FIGHTING TOGETHER WITH THE UNITED NATIONS FOR A BETTER WORLD."

NEW YORK,MARCH 6-(...)-AN APPEAL PROTESTING "OBLITERATION" BOMBINGS OF GERMAN CITIES HAS BEEN ISSUED BY 28 CLERGYMEN AND OTHER LEADERS WHO CALL UPON CHRISTIANS "TO EXAMINE THEMSELVES CONCERNING THEIR PARTICIPATION IN THIS CARNIVAL OF DEATH."

THE APPEAL, ANNOUNCED BY JOHN NEVIN SAYRE, CO-SECRETARY OF THE AMERICAN FELLOWSHIP OF RECONCILIATION, IS CONTAINED IN A FOREWORD TO "MASSACRE BY BOMBING," AN ARTICLE ON BOMBING METHODS USED AGAINST GERMANY WRITTEN BY VERA BRITTAIN, BRITISH AUTHOR.

THE FOREWORD DECLARED THAT IN WORLD WAR 1 "SOME SHREDS OF THE RULES OF WAR WERE OBSERVED" BUT TODAY WARRING COUNTRIES "PAY LITTLE HEED TO THE FORMER DECENCIES AND CHIVALRY."

NEW YORK,MARCH 6-(AP)-ALTHOUGH ADVOCATING RESTRICTED IMMIGRATION, ATTORNEY GENERAL FRANCIS BIDDLE SAYS HE DOES NOT BELIEVE IT WOULD BE WISE FOR AMERICA "TO CUT OFF ALL IMMIGRATION AS SOON AS THE WAR IS OVER."

ADDRESSING THE ANNUAL MEETING OF THE HEBREW SHELTERING AND IMMIGRANT AID SOCIETY YESTERDAY, HE SAID:

"IN THE YEARS TO COME, PARTICULARLY IN THESE IMMEDIATE YEARS AFTER THE ENEMY IS BEATEN XXX I SUGGEST THAT WE MUST NOT SHUT OUR DOORS TO THE NEEDS OF OUR FELLOW MEN."

BIDDLE SAID IT WAS TOO SOON TO FORMULATE A POST-WAR IMMIGRATION POLICY.

MAR 7 1944

BUT HE SUGGESTED THAT THE PROCESS AFTER THE WAR BE ONE OF GRADUAL ABSORPTION "SO AS NOT SACRIFICE THAT NATIONAL UNITY WHICH, PARTLY AS A RESULT OF OUR MORE RECENT IMMIGRATION LAWS, LARGELY BECAUSE OF THE STRONG PULL OF THE FREE AMERICAN ENVIRONMENT, THE MELTING POT IN WHICH NEWCOMERS ARE FORGED AND TESTED, WE HAVE NOW BEGUN TO ACHIEVE."

SOUTHBRIDGE,MASS.,MARCH 6-(AP)-TINY PIECES OF CRYSTAL POLICING THE AIR WAVES BY MAKING INTERCEPTION OF MESSAGES IMPOSSIBLE BY THE ENEMY ARE PLAYING AN IMPORTANT PART IN DIRECTING BATTLE MANEUVERS OF AMERICAN SHIPS, TANKS, PLANES AND SUBMARINES.

MILLIONS OF THESE THIN, WAFER-LIKE QUARTZ CRYSTALS, SCIENTIFICALLY CUT ACCORDING TO A PRINCIPLE DISCOVERED BY DR.E.D.TILLYER, AMERICAN OPTICAL COMPANY RESEARCH DIRECTOR, WERE PRODUCED IN 1943 BY RADIO MANUFACTURERS AND EMPLOYED IN TRANSMITTERS.

THE CRYSTALS, DESCRIBED BY THE SCIENTIST AS THE "HEART OF A RADIO TRANSMISSION SYSTEM," CONTROL THE FREQUENCY OR WAVE LENGTH OF MESSAGES SENT OUT OVER THE AIRWAYS. THE ENEMY IS PREVENTED FROM INTERCEPTING THE MESSAGES BY A METHOD OF OPERATING THE CRYSTALS CONSIDERED A SECRET BY THE NAVY.

CONCERN OVER INEFFICIENT CRYSTALS PRODUCED BY A PREVIOUS CUTTING METHOD LED TO THE DISCOVERY OF DR.TILLYER'S NEW TECHNIQUE. BY CUTTING THE CRYSTALS WITH ONE FACE PARALLEL TO AN ELECTRICAL AXIS OF THE MOTHER CRYSTAL, A TECHNIQUE EXACTLY OPPOSITE TO THE PREVIOUS METHOD, TILLYER WAS ABLE TO PRODUCE CRYSTALS WHICH CONTROL TRANSMISSION WITH GREATER EFFICIENCY AND CONSTANCY.

REDS HAMMER BACK ATTACKS UPON SALIENT

YARBOROUGH

Take 200 Communities And Drive Within 11 Miles Of Tarnopol

London, Wednesday, March 3 (AP). The Soviet offensive toward Rumania and into southern Poland overran 200 more localities and reached a hamlet 11 miles north of Tarnopol yesterday while at other points along the salient German counterattacks with heavy forces were pounded back with a loss of 60 tanks, Moscow announced today.

The old Polish border station of Podvolochisk and the hamlet of Irovitsa, 32 miles across the frontier and 11 miles north of Tarnapol, were taken in advances on the fourth day of Marshal Gregory K. Zhukov's advance.

Count 1,200 Nazi Dead

More than 1,200 Nazi dead were counted and "large numbers of smashed enemy equipment was left on the battlefield," said the late Moscow bulletin. "War material was captured and many prisoners taken."

On the eastern side of the new salient the Russians captured the district center of Staraya Sinyava, 50 miles southeast of Shepetovka and an equal distance northeast of Vinnitsa.

This advance was moving along the Shepetovka-Staro-Konstantinov railroad and was nearing the German base of Staro-Konstantinov on three sides. Zhabche, six miles to the north and Svinnaya, five miles southeast, were taken.

Forces Nearing Junction

The easternmost point in this advance was Sharzhintsy, 54 miles southeast of Shepetovka and 33 miles southwest of Berdichev, thus nearing, if not achieving, a junction with First Ukrainian Front forces which have long held Berdichev and points to the west as well as the area east of Vinnitsa.

The Russians also reported that in Monday's capture of Volochisk, two German headquarters were routed and several railway stations and 400 trucks were captured.

The late bulletin said the Germans were bringing heavy air reinforcements to the north, where the Red army was battling to enlarge its Narova river bridgehead in Estonia. Fifty-five German planes were declared brought down during the day while 500 Germans were killed in the land fighting.

Strong Points Captured

The Russians said they captured several strong points and beat back ten counterattacks in one sector.

"Our troops were firmly entrenched in newly occupied positions which are of considerable importance," the communique said.

In the south the Germans were also counterattacking with large forces of tanks and infantry, but were beaten back "with heavy losses in manpower and equipment."

15 To 30 Miles A Day

Marshal Gregory K. Zhukov's forces were advancing 15 to 30 miles a day in some areas and threatened to hurl the Germans back into Rumania.

A German counterattack had been expected to protect the Rumanian frontier and to prevent entrapment of the Nazi forces fighting in the Dnieper bend.

The Germans have always appeared more worried about Russian drives to the south than those to the west.

Seek Tributary Lines

After putting themselves firmly astride the railroad, the Russians sought to extend their hold eastward toward Proskurov and westward toward Tarnopol, and thus seize the heads of two of six tributary railways which ramble through rough country into Rumania from the ... trunkline.

These single-track tributary roads winding generally southwestward, lead to bases in Rumania believed to be greatly inferior to those the Germans have in Poland.

Heavy rains having turned much of this region into mud, the rail routes became especially important.

Pursued In Separate Groups

The Germans were being pursued in separate groups having no contact with each other, Moscow dispatches said.

The Germans' 50 or more divisions have been shunted roughly into a triangular area of the southwestern Ukraine, with their backs against the Dniester river and the Carpathian Mountains.

That corner could become as perilous for the Germans as the Korsun trap in the Dnieper bend in which the German Eighth Army perished several weeks ago, but so far in the face of repeated Russian strokes the Germans have shown no intention of pulling out altogether.

Berlin Tells Of Attack

The Germans reported this afternoon that "fierce battles continue with undiminished violence" in the vicinities of Shepetovka and Svenigorodka and said that German divisions had launched a counter-attack.

The battles of the southern front hold more peril for the Germans than those in the north because a defeat in the south would clear a path for the Russians into the Balkans and leave the Axis satellites in that part of Europe with a dilemma like that Finland already has encountered. This is the problem of whether to surrender to the Russians when large numbers of German troops still are in occupation.

The German-controlled Scandinavian telegraph bureau said in a dispatch from Berlin that the sudden Russian advances had caused apprehension in German official quarters, who were said to have described the battle as a final Russian attempt to annihilate the German army.

The Germans, according to this dispatch, estimate the Russian strength in the Lwow-Odessa sector at 35 divisions, including 8 armored divisions and "great numbers of motorized artillery," declaring the Soviet forces 20 times greater than the German.

Soviet dispatches from the front to Moscow reported the weather was so bad it was "almost impossible," but the army offensive rolled on nonetheless.

Advance Despite Worst of Weather—Rains Turn Front Into Mire.

NAZI UNITS ARE SEPARATED

Reds Hold 18 Miles of Vital Lateral Rail Line From Warsaw to Odessa.

Moscow, March 7 (A. P.).—The Red Army brought the war close to Rumania today, all but isolating Gen. Fritz von Mannstein's Southern Ukraine Army from Germany and Poland, surging on despite weather so bad Soviet dispatches described it as almost impossible.

At some places where the Russians have taken strongholds on the Odessa-Warsaw railway, Soviet units are eighty-seven miles from the Rumanian border beyond the Moldavian Republic.

[This refers to the border established in 1940 when Rumania ceded Bessarabia and northern Bucovina to Russia.]

Front dispatches said the snow had been washed away by heavy rains and that wide fields of the Ukraine are ponds and areas of mud.

"To wage an offensive would seem absolutely impossible," Red Star declared, reported the spring thaw, "but what is happening proves the contrary."

Nazi Units Separated.

These dispatches pointed out how the lack of roads and the mud have brought about "parallel chasings" of the German Army, and indicated the Germans have been separated from one another and are falling back without contact through areas where only a few miles lay between various units.

Six winding railways connect the Odessa-Warsaw and the Lwow-Bucharest trunk lines, joining two junctions of Tarnopol, Proskurov, Zhmerinka, Slobodzeya, Tiraspol and Odessa on the Odessa-Warsaw line. The Russians are already ten miles from Tarnopol and but seventy-five miles east of Lwow itself.

If Marshal Gregory K. Zhukov can continue the pace of his offensive—fifteen to thirty miles daily—he may soon be throwing the German Army back down these winding single track lines into Rumania, for routes to Germany and Poland are imperiled.

Russian Spearheads Within 60 Miles of Rumanian Border

Odessa-Warsaw Railway Breached; Reds Pour Through Gap to West

By the Associated Press.

LONDON, Mar. 7.—Marshal Gregory K. Zhukov's 1st Ukrainian Army is swarming across the Odessa-Lwow-Warsaw railway in a sharp thrust toward the Rumanian frontier after severing the last westward rail connections for the German forces battling in Southern Russia, Moscow dispatches said today.

The vital Odessa-Lwow-Warsaw trunk line has been breached for a distance of 18 miles between Volochisk and Narkevichi, a Russian communique declared, and it was through this gap that Red Army columns were reported racing toward Rumania, threatening the entrapment of great masses of German troops already partially isolated to the south.

Soviet spearheads are within 60 miles of the Rumanian border, the communique disclosed.

Drive Taking High Nazi Toll.

Flanges of the Russian drive were reaching out for the rail junction of Tarnopol, 30 miles west of Volochisk and 11 miles southwest of Zararzh, another of the 200 towns and hamlets taken from the Germans yesterday. The important rail and industrial city of Lwow lies 70 miles west of Tarnopol and is the hub of six other rail lines, including the trunk line to Cernauti, Rumania.

The new Russian offensive, which was launched Saturday, is taking an enormous toll of German manpower and material, the Moscow bulletin said, reporting that one Red Army formation alone killed 4,000 Nazi officers and men in a single day's fighting.

In the first two days Zhukov's forces killed more than 15,000 of the enemy and took more than 3,000 prisoners, Moscow said. Much enemy material was captured or destroyed. In addition 500 towns were liberated, a total of 700 for three days.

Hoping for Decisive Battle.

The Berlin radio, discussing the magnitude of the Russian effort, asserted that Zhukov had sent 35 infantry divisions and eight tank corps into the drive, and concluded that the Russians "definitely hope to fight the decisive battle" in this sector.

Developments on the 1st Ukrainian Front completely overshadowed the fighting in the far north, where small groups of Russian troops smashed into enemy fortifications guarding the Estonian stronghold of Narva, now almost completely surrounded by Gen. Leonid A. Govorov's Leningrad Army. Here more than 300 Germans were killed in hand-to-hand fighting, the Moscow bulletin said.

The communique failed to mention developments on other sectors of the long front.

RED DRIVE ALARMS GERMAN OFFICIALS

Stockholm, March 7 (A. P.).—German-censored reports from Berlin today pictured official quarters there as apprehensive of the giant Russian offensive south of Lwow, in old Poland, describing the battle as the final Russian attempt to annihilate the German Army.

The Scandinavian Telegraph Bureau, German controlled, said the Germans estimated Red Army strength in the Lwow-Odessa sector at thirty-five divisions, including eight armored divisions and "great numbers of motorized artillery." The Germans acknowledged their troops were retreating to new positions along the entire Lwow-Odessa railroad front, and declared the Soviet forces were twenty times greater than the Germans.

At the same time the German dispatches said new Russian attacks had started in the direction of the Orsha-Minsk highway, far to the north.

Commenting editorially on the eastern front, Adolf Hitler's newspaper Voelkischer Beobachter said massive Soviet attacks were growing heavier from day to day and hour to hour.

"From great areas behind the front, from Ural factories and from American arsenals, the Russians have made a great comeback and we will need all the ingenuity of the High Command and our soldiers to stop it," the paper said. "How long the Russians can continue this mass concentration is impossible to say, but one day it must culminate."

FORTRESSES HIT SHIPS AT NAVAL BASE

Italian Yards And Airfields Pounded—North France Also Raided

Allied Headquarters, Naples, March 7 (AP)—American heavy and medium bombers based in Italy struck powerful blows at the Germans both in Italy and southern France today.

Flying Fortresses escorted by Lightnings cracked at the Toulon naval base in southern France, from which the Germans have been operating submarines and surface raiders in the Mediterranean.

Hit Airfields, Railways

Liberators escorted by Thunderbolts attacked Nazi-held airfields and railway installations near Rome.

Mitchells and Marauders bombed the Littorio and Ostiense railway yards in Rome on the main route of German supplies to the battle areas in southern Italy. It was the sixth raid on the Eternal City.

["Formations of four-engined aircraft in successive waves dropped bombs on inhabited districts of the city of Rome," the Rome radio said. "The total number of casualties has not yet been ascertained but appears to be very high."]

Report Hits On Ships

Returning crews reported good results and said Nazi opposition generally was weak. Heavy anti-aircraft fire was encountered over Toulon.

Flyers from the Toulon raid said a number of ships in the harbor were hit and one medium size vessel was seen to explode.

Lightnings escorting the Fortresses drove off about 15 German fighters which attempted to intercept the bombers.

Hits were reported on submarine pens, storage areas, piers and waterfront installations. Toulon was last bombed February 4.

Destroy Tracks And Cars

The bombers blasting the yards on the outskirts of Rome, destroyed railway tracks and rolling stock.

Lieut. Earl S. Johnson, of Denver, said the Littorio yards "looked pretty well burned out by previous attacks, but there were still some cars on the tracks. We went right across the yard with three patterns of bombs."

Liberators with their escort of Thunderbolts blasted German fighter-plane bases at Orvieto, Fabrica di Roma and Viterbo. The crews reported many hits on the main airfield at Viterbo 40 miles north of Rome, and a near-by auxiliary field.

Germans Driven Off

A dozen German fighters attempted to engage the bombers over Orvieto, but were driven off by the Thunderbolts.

Another group of Liberators with an escort of Lightnings bombed freight yards at Certaldo, 20 miles southwest of Florence, with good results. They also attacked rail installations at Pontassieve, 10 miles east of Florence, and at Prato, 10 miles northwest of the same city. Crews in the last wave of bombers striking at Pontassieve reported a number of heavy explosions in industrial plants in the target area.

ETERNAL CITY IS REPORTED HEAVILY HIT

Enemy Radio Asserts That Bombs Were Dropped in Residential Areas.

MUCH DAMAGE IS REPORTED

Attacking Planes Said to Have Flown Over Italian Target Section at Low Level.

London, March 7 (A. P.).—The Rome radio said that waves of four-engine bombers attacked Rome today.

"Formations of four-engined aircraft in successive waves dropped bombs on inhabited districts of the city of Rome," the broadcast said.

"The enemy aircraft flew over targets at a comparatively low level and dropped loads of explosives on the Ostiense and Trastevere districts.

"The total number of casualties has not yet been ascertained but appears to be very high."

Attack Rail Yards.

The great railway yards in and near Rome have been attacked numerous times since American heavy bomber formations were first sent against them last July 19 and the Allies declared immediately afterward they would be bombed whenever deemed necessary for furtherance of the Italian campaign.

[Railway lines can be reconstructed quickly after bombings, hence the Allied command doubtless is keeping after the important yards through which the Germans funnel troops and supplies to the fighting fronts in the south.]

The Ostiense and Trastevere (across the Tiber) areas are near some of these yards, Axis-controlled radios almost invariably have followed up these bombings with wild assertions that residential districts were bombed with resultant high casualties.

Frequently the Allied air command has used divebombers to insure accuracy in the bombing of rail targets in and near Rome.

Pope Pius XII on February 22 urged the belligerents to agree to spare Rome.

BERN, Switzerland, Mar. 7 (AP).—The death toll in the Allied bombing attack on Rome Friday exceeded 400, a Rome dispatch in the Gazette de Lausanne declared yesterday. The raid was called the most violent attack on the capital since last summer.

Allies Report Sharp Clashes Inside Cassino

Two Small German Attacks on Anzio Front Repulsed

By the Associated Press.

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, NAPLES, Mar. 7.—Sharp clashes have flared between Allied patrols and the Germans inside battered Cassino, headquarters announced today, and American troops have thrown back two small Nazi attacks near Cisterna on the Anzio beachhead.

The Germans opened up with heavy mortar and machine-gun fire at Cassino, then sent patrols out, but no gains were made. Rain and mud bogged down both armies. The Rapido River rose 3 feet.

Allied artillery again took a heavy toll of the Nazis attacking the beachhead and played a major role in blunting the thrusts. Another minor Nazi thrust southwest of Carroceto on the other side of the beachhead also failed.

The Germans also launched two small attacks against Indian troops of the 8th Army near Orsogna, but they were beaten back. Canadian artillery again smashed an enemy motor supply convoy near Ortona on the Adriatic coast.

Fierce Local Fighting.

Allied troops, who hold about one-third of Cassino, made several probing jabs into the German-held part of the town, which resulted in fierce local fighting. The Germans responded with intense fire, also slinging grenades.

The Germans have increased the number of snipers along the beachhead perimeter. They lie in concealed positions, ready to pick off Allied soldiers.

Southeast of Carroceto an enemy patrol of 20 men sought to penetrate the American lines but was driven off. Three prisoners were taken. Southwest of Carroceto British troops raided a house occupied by the enemy, killing 10 Germans and capturing 1.

Continued rain has deepened the mud on the beachhead and flooded many low areas.

Other Skirmishes.

In the lower Garigliano River region of the main 5th Army front British patrols had local skirmishes with the enemy and took four prisoners.

Fighter - bombers attacked gun positions north of the beachhead and roads and railways near Rome, but the weather continued to hamper aerial operations. Fighters flew battleline patrols.

Fighter - bombers also lashed at shipping off the Dalmatian coast and at German communications in Yugoslavia, the bulletin said.

Allied planes flew about 500 sorties, with three of the craft failing to return. There was no enemy air activity reported over the battle area.

Clark Decorates 2 Men Who Took Him To Anzio

Naples, March 7 (AP)—Lieut. Gen. Mark W. Clark pinned silver stars today upon two naval officers who delivered him safely at Anzio January 28 although they themselves were wounded seriously by a shell which struck the chart room of their motor torpedo boat.

The decorations went to Lieut. (j. g.) George E. Patterson, of Macon, Ga., and Ensign Paul Benson, of St. Louis, Mo.

Patterson received his decoration in a wheelchair, but Benson was able to walk up to the general for his medal. Both were cited for gallantry in action. Benson, despite his wounds, piloted the boat for an hour after the shell struck until relieved by an officer from another boat. Clark escaped injury.

Nazis In Kitchen; Joke At Cassino

Allied Headquarters, Naples, March 7 (AP)—Allied soldiers at Cassino wrote the following parody of a communique:

"Today we occupied a living room and two bedrooms and sent a patrol into the kitchen. The latter was forced to withdraw after a fierce encounter with the enemy."

Marines Make Fresh Landing On Northern New Britain

Allied Headquarters, Southwest Pacific, Wednesday, March 8 (AP)—American troops now control Los Negros Island in the Admiralties, and United States marines have landed near Talasea on Willaumez peninsula nearly midway on the north coast of New Britain, Gen. Douglas MacArthur announced today.

The Los Negros Island successes put the Americans in possession of the beach on the west coast of Seadler harbor, which juts eastward into horseshoe-shaped Los Negros, and clinches possession of Momote airdrome which, MacArthur said, was now ready to receive Allied planes.

First Cavalry Division invaders captured Japanese 4.7-inch naval guns in concrete emplacements south of Momote and in expanding their holdings found 479 more dead Japanese.

Advance From Arawe

Counting the 700 enemy dead found around the perimeter of Momote field after the Nipponese made their final effort to recapture the airstrip last Friday night and Saturday, the Americans have had the job of burying 1,200 Japanese bodies in recent days.

While the marines moved 110 miles eastward from Cape Gloucester to invade the Willaumez peninsula against only light opposition, army troops on the south coast of New Britain also have moved eastward as far as Amhorning, 24 miles from Arawe.

The marines went ashore in daylight against enemy rifle fire. They hit the beach five miles northwest of Talasea and quickly overcame the opposition. Latest reports said the marines were pushing on to Talasea, on the east coast of the peninsula.

Airstrip Near Base

An airstrip, unused by the Japanese for some time, is located at Talasea close to the beach. In Allied hands, the field could be handy to help keep the Bismarck Sea clean of enemy shipping.

Rabaul again came under Allied bombsights, with the township and Tobera airdrome receiving 98 tons of explosives. Fires flared along the water front and five enemy planes were destroyed on the ground. Two small ships in the harbor were hit and beached, and six barges destroyed or damaged. The raid cost one Allied plane.

Other points on New Britain which felt the weight of Allied bombs were the enemy airdrome at Cape Hoskins, where 32 tons were dropped, and Riebeck and Stettin Bay, all on the north coast and in the vicinity of Willaumez peninsula. These blows assisted the marines in their landing at Talasea Monday.

Air Forces Help

Allied navy and air forces lent a hand in the operations on Los Negros Island. Destroyers came in close to Hauwei Island, just west of Los Negros, to blast and destroy Japanese coast defense guns.

Aircraft ranged west over Manus Island, which adjoins Los Negros, and blasted Japanese positions around Lorengau, the principal base on the northeastern coast of Manus.

American troops of the 32d Division which landed at Yalau behind the Japanese on the northeast coast of New Guinea, have expanded their positions to Bibi on the east and Ganglau to the west. This landing put the Americans 30 miles west of Saidor on their way to Madang. Allied air patrols shot down two Japanese planes in the Madang area.

Three Bombers Downed

Allied planes attacked Hansa Bay and Wewak, Japanese bases northwest of Madang, shooting down three enemy bombers and two fighters. The attackers lost one aircraft.

Japanese clustered around the perimeter of the American beachhead at Empress Augusta Bay on the west coast of Bougainville Island, in the Solomons, were hit with 111 tons of Allied bombs. The movement and grouping of enemy troops around the perimeter has been noted for several days, and Allied aircraft and artillery have been heavily pounding the concentrations.

In other Bougainville activities, naval craft and air patrols hammered enemy shore targets at Moila point and bivouac areas and barges around Buka to the north.

Dutch-manned Mitchell medium bombers staged a daylight raid Monday on Toeal in the Kai Islands, 500 miles north of Darwin, Australia.

Allies Hold Airdrome Face Heavy Fighting In Los Negros Jungle

By the Associated Press.

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS SOUTHWEST PACIFIC, Mar. 7.—American troops pushed ahead Sunday toward Japanese positions and inevitable new jungle battles to drive the enemy from strategic Los Negros Island of the Admiralty group in the Bismarck Sea—a military campaign startlingly remindful of the 1942 Guadalcanal invasion.

Allied forces had a tight grip on Momote airdrome, which they seized after their daring landing February 29, and have defended against fierce attacks which cost the Japanese 3,000 killed and wounded in less than a week.

Their new move puts the Americans across a lagoon north of Momote airfield and gave them a foothold on a 7-mile-long peninsula forming the northern neck of Los Negros Island.

Japs Use Artillery.

This advance, made in the face of Japanese artillery fire, was one of several offensive actions reported in Gen. Douglas MacArthur's communique.

By-passing a lot of rough jungle along the Northeast New Guinea coast, units of the 32d Division made an amphibious landing behind Japanese positions and established themselves 30 miles west of Saidor. This puts them in the rear of Japanese blocking the road to Madang. The Madang area was heavily bombed.

Hundreds of miles eastward, on Bougainville Island in the Solomons, Allied planes bombed and strafed Japanese concentrations against the American perimeter at Empress Augusta Bay, and artillery pounded the Japanese positions. There was mounting evidence that the thousands of Japanese stranded on Bougainville were massing for some desperate and probably suicidal thrust at the Empress Augusta Bay positions.

Southeast if Bougainville the hopelessly abandoned Japanese on Choiseul Island were blasted with 105 tons of bombs and were strafed in a leisurely daylight raid in which even slow-moving Catalina patrol planes took part. These Japanese, gathered on northern Choiseul beaches waiting for evacuation barges that never arrived, were believed largely wiped out.

Heavy Attack on Rabaul.

Rabaul, on New Britain, was struck with 181 tons of bombs in a midday attack. As is now usual, there was no enemy aerial interference.

Gen. MacArthur indicated clearly in the communique the importance of resumption of the offensive by dismounted American cavalrymen on Los Negros Island. These troops, reinforced since their landing, have been subjected to heavy Japanese artillery fire, but have had strong support from American destroyers that stood offshore and shelled Japanese gun positions.

Possession of Momote Airdrome—which was seized intact, like Henderson Field on Guadalcanal in the 1942 landing there by marines—gives Allied forces a plane base from which they can sweep large areas of the Bismarck Sea and further isolate Rabaul and other southerly enemy bases.

U. S. Forces Hold Control Of Los Negros

By the Associated Press

The island of Los Negros in the Admiraltys now is under American control, and the air strip at Momote is ready for use, a communique from Gen. Douglas MacArthur's headquarters in New Guinea announced last night.

The Allied ground forces continued their northward advance in the Admiraltys, securing a beach on the west coast at Seadler Harbor, and west of the Momote airdrome occupied Porlaka, the communique added.

Large naval guns in concrete emplacements were captured south of the air field.

On the Wallaumez Peninsula, Marine elements of the United States ground forces have moved up the coast from Cape Gloucester and have landed near Talaesa, 110 miles away, against light opposition.

This operation was supported with an aerial attack on Riebeck and Stettin Bay, the communique stated.

Fiji Battalion Is Helping Defeat Bougainville Foe

Their Courage Is Becoming a Legend; Kill 125, Lose One

BOUGAINVILLE, Solomon Islands, March 7 (AP).—The score now stands at 125 Japanese killed to one Fijian dead and two wounded. HAMPSON

Thus did Lieutenant General Millard F. Harmon, commander of Army forces in the South Pacific, disclose today the presence of Fijians in the fight to drive the Japanese off Bougainville Island.

The stealth and courage of the tall, burry-haired black men already is becoming something of a legend in Bougainville's dense jungles.

On one occasion a Fiji lieutenant, famed for his rugby prowess, crept within twenty-five feet of a Japanese machine-gun position and watched the enemy camp for forty minutes. When he turned to leave, he discovered his entire platoon had followed and were watching. They withdrew, laid attack plans and returned to wipe out twenty-five Japanese who were doing their laundry.

Recently the Fijians carved a small airport out of the jungle for their Cub spotter planes, which kept the Fiji outposts on the east coast of Bougainville informed of enemy movements.

The Fiji battalion is commanded by Major Geofrey T. Upton, Cambridge University graduate and former "London Daily Telegraph" journalist.

Foe's Rabaul Air Losses 84:

AN ADVANCED SOUTH PACIFIC AIR BASE, March 7 (AP).—South Pacific air forces have destroyed 842 Japanese planes since the air battle to reduce Rabaul, New Britain, begun last Dec. 17, Vice-Admiral Aubrey W. Fitch, commander of Allied Air Forces in the South Pacific, said today. American losses during the same period were 174.

Marshalls Again Bombed, All Planes Return to Base

PACIFIC FLEET HEADQUARTERS, Pearl Harbor, Mar. 7 (AP).—Admiral Chester W. Nimitz announced that Army and Navy bombers laid 35 tons of bombs in three Japanese positions in the Marshall Islands March 4. The planes met antiaircraft fire, but returned home.

Not naming the targets, Admiral Nimitz said fires and explosions followed the bombing and strafing of ground installations by planes of the 7th Army Air Force and Fleet Air Wing No. 2.

The raids were the latest announced of the series which have hampered Japanese activity in the Central Pacific in recent weeks.

Japanese Mid-Pacific Bases Bombed Again

Washington, March 7 (AP)—American bombers, attacking seven Japanese positions in the Central Pacific, damaged ground installations, airfields and harbor areas on Ponape and Kusaie in the Carolines on March 5.

The navy announced the raids today in a Pacific fleet announcement which told also of the loss of two fighter planes in attacks on enemy positions in the eastern Marshall Islands.

The text of the report follows:

"Seven enemy-held positions in the Central Pacific were attacked by aircraft of the Seventh Army Air Force and Fleet Air Wing 2 on March 5.

Installations Damaged

"Army Liberator bombers dropped approximately 30 tons of bombs on Ponape and Kusaie, damaging ground installations, aviation facilities and harbor areas. Heavy explosions were seen near the airfield at Ponape. Navy search Liberators also bombed Nauru.

"Army Mitchell bombers, Dauntless dive bombers. Warhawk fighters, navy Hellcats and search Venturas bombed and strafed four enemy-held atolls in the eastern Marshalls with approximately 35 tons of bombs.

ABOARD A CARRIER IN THE CENTRAL PACIFIC (AP).—Time to relieve the watch. A lieutenant climbed the ladder. He saw the officer of the deck leaning over the splinter rail. Thinking to take his friend by surprise, the lieutenant grabbed him by the seat of the trousers and yelled. "You're relieved!" The figure straightened and became taller and taller. It was the six-foot-two skipper. Horrible alone describes the silence. But those who saw the captain enter his cabin swear that the grin split his face wide open.

U. S. NAVY INTENDS TO TAKE OVER TRUK

MAR 8 1944

Washington, March 7 (A. P.).—Disclosure that the United States Navy intends to take over the Japanese naval bastion of Truk came today as the House Appropriations Committee released printed copies of its hearings on a deficiency bill. Testifying in support of a Navy request for funds, Rear Admiral Edward L. Cochrane, chief of the Bureau of Ships, told the committee:

"When we go into Truk, where we are going in, we will have work to do. What will be necessary is quite difficult to say."

The Admiral was discussing the need for ship repair facilities.

"When will these repair facilities be needed?" Chairman Cannon asked.

"Most of them by the first of January, 1945," the Admiral replied.

Nimitz Says U. S. Submarines May Decide War in Pacific

Washington, March 7 (A. P.).—Admiral Chester W. Nimitz, Commander in Chief of the Pacific Fleet, reported today on his return to Washington for a series of conferences that (1) American forces have occupied the Majuro atoll in the Marshall Islands and that (2) our submarines may deliver the killing blow in the Pacific.

United States troops encountered no opposition when they invaded Majuro, once a German supply base, the Admiral told a news conference. They found no Japanese on the atoll, he said, adding that the little island will provide American forces with a good anchorage and advance position in the mid-Pacific Marshalls.

Admiral Nimitz declined to discuss the uses to which the new base might be put. Majuro was a German naval base and repair station before world war I. Whether Japan, to which the Marshalls were mandated, developed any kind of establishment on Majuro is not known.

As for the work of our submarines, the Pacific commander said they "are taking such a heavy toll of Japanese shipping that lack of shipping may soon be the controlling factor in what Japan is able to do."

"Our submarines are increasing in number and not decreasing in efficiency, even though the number of targets is slowly decreasing," he added.

Jap Subs Still Important.

The Pacific commander warned at the same time against discounting the importance of Japanese submarines, saying that although the enemy's undersea craft are not seen frequently now, they will become more of a menace as our lines lengthen. We are not finished with the Japanese subs by any means," he said.

Admiral Nimitz, in Washington for conferences, repeated naval assertions that the Pacific fleet would welcome a major engagement with the Japanese Navy.

"It would be to our advantage," he said, "to have an early encounter with the Japanese fleet, because we are prepared to meet them. It would be disastrous for their overseas communications if we could fight an early engagement and they lost a good part of their fleet. My idea is that they are preserving their fleet as long as possible."

Asked about the failure of the enemy fleet to appear in any force, Admiral Nimitz replied: "They've got a pretty big area to take care of. I can't answer, however, why they haven't been around our way. If they have any information at all they must know that we have a very powerful fleet in the Pacific."

He described Japanese naval officers and men as "highly efficient and well trained," adding, "Not in any sense have they lost their will to fight."

"They're pretty good," he said, "but our people are better than they are and equally willing to fight."

Commenting generally on the Pacific situation, he said: "Our position in the Pacific is very favorable and it improves with the passage of time, thanks to submarines. When there is a lull in other operations the submarines keep on going and the submarine campaign is becoming more intensified as the number of submarines increases."

Capture of additional bases in the drive toward Japan, he said, permits the submarines to deal even heavier blows against enemy shipping by cutting down the time which must be spent going from bases to their war patrols and returning after accomplishing their missions.

DROP IN CONVOY LOSSES IS NOTED

But Alexander Warns That U-Boats Will Strike Again

London, March 7 (AP)—Allied convoy losses were less than one in 1,000 ships during the second half of 1943, A. V. Alexander, First Lord of the Admiralty, told Commons today; but he warned that Nazi submarines would strike hard again, and that the British navy faces "further and greater responsibilities" in carrying the war to Europe and Japan.

The First Lord told a heartening story of the defeat of the U-boat and of Britain's rising maritime might, declaring that the British fleet is now stronger "in relation to enemy naval strength" than it has been since the fall of France.

Offers Statistics

Illustrating the progress of the war against the U-boat, Alexander gave these figures on Allied losses:

1941—One ship lost out of every 181 that sailed.

1942—One out of every 233.

1943—One out of every 344.

That this victory over the U-boat may not yet be regarded as final was made clear by the First Lord's warning that the Germans still have at least as many submarines as they had at the start of 1943, and that "there is not the slightest evidence that the enemy has in any way abandoned his intention to cripple our sea communications if he possibly can."

British Cruiser Lost

Alexander's appraisal of the naval situation, made in connection with the new navy estimates, came a few hours after the nation had been informed of the loss of the cruiser Penelope, a 5,220-ton vessel, which survived so many holes shot into her hull that she was known as "H. M. S. Pepperpot."

The Penelope, her 2,000 shell-fragment holes plugged with wood, was finally sent to the bottom off the Nettuno beachhead in Italy, where, since the landings, the British also have lost the new cruiser Spartan, the destroyers Janus and Inglefield and five major assault vessels.

He said the average loss of ships for the last eight months was below the level of 1918, the final year of the first World War, when the U-boat at last had been whipped.

But "the Germans still are making every endeavor to improve the performance and the equipment of their U-boats. They have provided them with greatly increased anti-aircraft fire power, have brought a new acustic torpedo into service and we must expect further developments still.

Pledges Full Effort

"It can therefore be regarded as certain that they will try and try again to stage a comeback."

Alexander pledged the fullest British naval effort against Japan as well as in the coming invasion of Europe, but he sought to prepare the public for a full measure of bad news by noting that 25 British and European Allied warships had been sunk in the Mediterranean since the invasion of Sicily, and 13 Royal war vessels have been lost proctecting convoys to Russia.

LOSSES IN CONVOYS CUT TO MINIMUM

London, March 7 (A. P.).—Allied convoy losses were less than one ship in 1,000 in the second half of 1943, First Lord of the Admiralty A. V. Alexander told Commons today. He warned, however, that Admiral Karl Doenitz's U-boats will try and try again to stage a comeback.

Mr. Alexander disclosed officially that the Mediterranean route to the east is in full use and said its reopening is worth about a million gross tons, and the liberation of North Africa and Italy together have brought in half as much again in actual ships. He declared the British Fleet now is stronger in relation to enemy naval strength than it had been since the fall of France.

He disclosed that thirteen British warships had been sunk on Russian convoy duty and, while merchant ship losses there were heavy, 88 per cent of the cargoes got through.

Only two of eleven blockade runners, which went from Japan toward Germany in the past twelve months, reached port and both were damaged, he reported.

The Navy, while devoting its immediate effort to the coming assaults on Europe "is looking beyond them to the time when we shall descend with our full might on the Japanese," he said.

The Pepperpot Is Finally Sunk By Foe It Defied

British Cruiser Penelope, Hit 2,000 Times at Malta, Lost in Beachhead Fight

LONDON, March 7 (AP).—The Admiralty announced today the loss of the famed cruiser Penelope, which became known as "H. M. S. Pepperpot" after she was scarred by two thousand shell fragment holes in the Battle of Malta.

The Penelope was lost with the cruiser Spartan and the destroyers Janus and Inglefield in the establishment and maintenance of the Nettuno beachhead in Italy, Commons was informed by A. V. Alexander, First Lord of the Admiralty. Loss of the other vessels had been announced previously. Five major assault vessels also were beachhead casualties, Alexander said.

The Penelope survived fourteen days of bombing in Malta's harbor during the height of the Axis campaign against the Mediterranean island bastion. On the way to Gibraltar she underwent three more days of attack, during which fourteen torpedoes and 3,000 tons of bombs were aimed at her by German and Italian planes.

From Gibraltar she went to the United States for refitting and on the way home was attacked six times by a total of twenty enemy aircraft. She last was reported in action on Feb. 2, when she bombarded Nazi positions at Formia, on the Gulf of Gaeta, Italy.

Carried 450 Men

"Janes's Fighting Ships," authoritative naval catalogue, lists the Penelope as a 5,270-ton vessel, completed in November, 1936, with a normal complement of 450 men.

On her visit to the United States in 1942 her commanding officer then, Captain Angus Nichol, described the tremendous battering the cruiser had absorbed and said that when the holes that gave her the name of "Pepperpot" were plugged with planks the cruiser was dubbed the "H. M. S. Porcupine." Another name for her was "H. M. S. Rockgarden," because of the amount of debris thrown on her decks from shore by bombs.

No AMG For Committee

London, March 7 (AP)—The French Committee of National Liberation may soon seek a clear-cut pre-invasion guarantee of its role as liaison agent between the French people and the liberating forces of the United Nations.

It is regarded as likely here that subject and the committee's place and powers may occupy an important place on the omnibus agenda in the forthcoming conferences between Edward R. Stettinius, Jr., Under Secretary of State, and Anthony Eden, Foreign Minister.

In recent weeks the Anglo-American governments have obviously been placing increasing reliance on the committee.

Want No AMG

The French have made it clear that they want no Allied Military Government in control of France once the Allies are "in" and the Nazis have been pushed back.

They argue that "we are an adult nation capable of self-government" and assert that an Allied government-in-occupation would be a fatal mistake.

Spokesmen for the committee flatly say it wants no role other than that of liaison between the military and the people of France. Once an area is liberated, the committee insists, the people of that area will choose their own government officials in a free election.

Would Create Bitterness

Privately, they argue, that to treat France as an Allied-occupied country would create bitterness among her peoples and push her closer to Russia.

"The situation is different than in Italy," said one committee source, "thousands of Frenchmen have never ceased fighting Germany. Thousands will participate in the invasion. Thousands behind the Nazi lines are doing all in their power to hamper the Germans."

Marauders Pound Nazi Aerial Base In France

London, March 7 (AP)—United States Marauders bombed a German airfield near Conches by daylight without loss after a heavy RAF night blow on railroads near Paris and Monday's record American raid on Berlin which accounted for 176 Nazi planes and was reported to have left a great many fires still burning furiously today.

After nightfall RAF bombers headed for the Continent again, London newspapers said. Nazi-controlled Paris and Bordeaux radios left the air.

Allied Planes Join Attack

During the day small forces of British, Dominion and Allied Bostons, Mitchells and Mosquitos joined the attack on military objectives in northern France.

Conches lies 75 miles south of Dieppe. Two enemy aircraft were destroyed.

The German-controlled Oslo radio said the Monday assault on Berlin was described in a NDB dispatch as a "catastrophe for the Americans" and "bloody Monday" to Maj. Gen. James H. Doolittle, commander of the Eighth Air Force.

Travelers Tell Of Fires

Travelers arriving in Stockholm by plane from Berlin said flames set by American bombers during the two-hour alert were still burning when they left the German capital.

The Marauders hopped the Channel's "rocket-gun coast" in the wake of night fleets that smashed rail targets at Trappes, 15 miles southwest of Paris, serving the main line route to fortifications at Brittany. German defenses were light and taken by surprise—not a single bomber was lost.

Overshadowed By Berlin Raid

But the success of the first mass attack by United States bombers against Berlin—proving that the Eighth Air Force could hit Germany's best-defended target by daylight — overshadowed today's operations.

The mission took a record toll of 68 four-engined bombers, plus 11 fighters, but American sharpshooter airmen bagged 176 German planes—93 falling to gunners aboard the Liberators and Flying Fortresses, and 83 to fighter escort pilots. The only higher previous single day's bag was the 307 Germans downed last August 15 on the Schweinfurt and Regensburg attacks.

Crash In Heart Of City

Reports reaching Stockholm said three American bombers and two Nazi fighter planes crashed in the heart of Berlin during the battle.

One United States bomber was said to have fallen in the Behrenstrasse, which parallels the Unter den Linden. Many important Government buildings, including the Deutsche Bank, are located along the Behrenstrasse in the center of Berlin.

Admits "Several Hundred"

By tonight the German radio had admitted that "several hundred" of the four-engined craft had reached Berlin through the walls of flak and clouds of defending fighters, and the Germans claimed as many as 140 raiders downed, including 118 big bombers.

British newspapers were enthusiastic about the success of the raid. Neutral countries were impressed.

The German radio said the Americans dropped leaflets telling of the disaster to the 10 German divisions wrecked in the Korsun trap in Russia.

Surprised At Trappes

Describing the heavy blow at Trappes, the Air Ministry said the Germans were so taken by surprise last night that the big Halifaxes were able to bomb for nearly half an hour with "little or no interference."

"Entire crews of one bomber group saw less than a dozen fighters and only one or two combats were reported from the whole force," the Ministry said. "None of the crews found anything more formidable than a few guns in the target area, and at one stage only a solitary gun was firing."

Mosquito bombers hit northwest Germany, also without loss.

Eyewitnesses arriving in Stockholm said a great many fires still burned furiously. Travelers said the city was under attack for 90 minutes, four waves of American bombers arriving at intervals of 10 to 15 minutes.

Battle Over Reich Capital

Bombs were reportedly dropped rather generally over the northern and eastern section, although some damage was reported in the center of the city.

2,000 Tons of Bombs Rained on Burning Capital

KASISCHKE

By the Associated Press.

LONDON, Mar. 7.—The great American air fleets which attacked Berlin yesterday knocked 176 Nazi planes from the sky, but lost 68 four-engined bombers in one of the greatest plane battles of the war, United States Army headquarters disclosed today.

RAF night bombers kept the attack rolling, with a heavy blow last night on railway targets at Trappes, France, 15 miles southwest of Paris, and Mosquito bombers darted against targets in Northwest Germany, all without loss.

More than 850 American bombers dropped more than 2,000 tons of bombs on burning Berlin, and in the swirling aerial battles all the way from the Dutch coast to the capital gunners of Flying Fortresses and Liberators bagged 93 enemy planes while fighter escorts shot down 83.

Record Bomber Loss.

It was the second highest single day's score in victories for the United States Air Forces. The record still is the 307 German planes downed during the Schweinfurt and Regensburg raids last August 17.

But the bombers suffered a record loss. Sixty-eight of the big craft and 11 fighter planes plunged down. About 700 highly trained airmen were lost.

The great daylight attack on the heart of Germany was flaming warning that virtually no section of the Reich is safe from round-the-clock bombing and it caught the imagination of Britons. British newspapers cheered it as a major victory, marking a tremendous new phase in the air war.

The Air Ministry said first reports on last night's raid at Trappes indicated the bombing was "accurate and well concentrated." The planes may have carried the six new 6-ton block-busters.

Great Devastation in Berlin.

The blow on Berlin was delivered with the full weight of the United States 8th Air Force.

Photographs brought back by Maj. Walton L. Weitner of Yonkers, N. Y., a reconnaissance pilot who flew alone in an unarmed plane over Berlin, showed numerous fires and great devastation were left among high priority war plants and other targets plastered by the Fortresses and Liberators, American aerial experts said.

Sending up a barrage of rockets, 20-millimeter shells and flak—including a rocket-type which crewmen said "burst in geysers as big as haystacks"—the Nazi defenders made a virtual hell in the skies and created a scene over Berlin which one Liberator gunner described as "Dante's Inferno."

But even the German radio—while claiming that 140 American planes, including 118 bombers, were downed—admitted that a major portion of the bombers broke through.

Airdrome Is Bombed.

Travelers reaching Sweden said the American attack was delivered between 1 and 3 p.m. and was concentrated on the northern and eastern sections of Berlin. One bomb, they said, dropped on Tempelhof Airdrome.

A Stockholm dispatch disclosed that three of the American heavy bombers made forced landings in Sweden and a fourth came down on the island of Gotland, off the southeastern Swedish coast.

The United States communique said: "Divisions of heavy bombers, escorted by a very large formation of fighters, attacked factories, air fields and other military installations in the metropolitan district of Berlin today with good results."

An American air division numbers from 420 to 730 planes.

Unlike Saturday's assault on the capital by one formation of Fortresses, yesterday's great raid found the Nazi Air Force lying in wait for an all-out effort to repel the attack.

"Only 10 minutes from the target the Germans lined up in front of us and really came in," one pilot said. "There were hordes of them and they came at us in waves—ME-410s first and then FW-190s and ME-109s."

"They just lined up tail to tail and started circling us like Indians used to make war on a lone covered wagon," said another flyer in describing an attack by 10 Nazi fighters against his Fortress which had dropped behind his formation.

"When people say there is no more Luftwaffe, you can tell them they're nuts," said a waist gunner.

Doolittle Lauds Fighters.

Maj. Gen. James H. Doolittle, commander of the 8th Air Force, yesterday praised the "magnificent support" given bombers in the last five days by fighters of the United States 9th Tactical Air Force.

Gen. Doolittle said the effectiveness of the heavy bombers' attacks was greatly increased and losses were greatly reduced because of the fighters.

Maj. Gen. Lewis H. Brereton, commander of the 9th Air Force, relayed the message to his Mustang and Thunderbolt pilots, adding that he also joined in the praise.

London, March 7 (A. P.).—The great American daylight raid on Berlin yesterday must be considered a catastrophe, the German-controlled Oslo radio admitted today.

This description was attributed by the radio to competent German circles.

The broadcast said that Berliners are calling the day on which the Americans proved they could hit Germany's best defended target "bloody Monday."

Gunner With Half His Face Shot Away Continues to Fight—Another Jettisons Exploding Shells With His Bare Hands.

JAMESON

An American Bomber Station in England, March 7 (A. P.).—They will pass out a lot of Purple Hearts to the heroes who came back injured from yesterday's first big daylight battle of Berlin.

This little ribbon honors a man wounded in action—but it will not repair one side of his face, replace shot-off fingers, ease the pain in frostbitten fingers, replace an eye, remove a chunk of lead from a lacerated arm or leg. Of such were some of the individual stories of heroism heard around American bomber stations today as the men relived their trip to the Nazi capital.

The list of injured was high—but so was the number of seemingly doomed bombers that got home because bleeding, aching men refused to give up as long as they could breathe.

Half His Face Gone.

A 20-year-old gunner with half his face torn away by German cannon fire continued to man two guns and helped to stamp out a fire inside his plane before he became unconscious.

"Wounded as he was, he took care of those guns and was the main factor in getting us back," declared Lieut. Mark Cope of Two Rivers, Wis., pilot of a Fortress. "If he hadn't, I don't think we would have been able to save ourselves or the ship."

Another gunner, Sergt. Steve H. Kovacik of Blairsville, Pa., slightly wounded in one leg, stayed by his guns to shoot down two enemy fighters and drive off several more. A few minutes later fire broke out in a pile of ammunition on the floor and with his bare hands Sergt. Kovacik tore shell links apart to stop the fireworks. Later he crawled into the bomb bay to help the bombardier kick out three bombs that had been jammed on the rack by a heavy burst of flak.

His Pal Blown to Bits.

Sergt. James R. Kollmeyer of La Grange, Ill., Fortress waist gunner, had probably the narrowest escape of any one on the mission. He saw one of his pals beside him blown to pieces.

Somewhere over Germany an anti-aircraft shell came through the bottom of the ship and exploded right beside him, blowing a huge hole in the top of the plane. The force of the blast sent Sergt. Kollmeyer reeling six feet back into the plane but he got up without a scratch. The other waist gunner, however, horribly cut up by flak was so dazed he parachuted out of the ship before anybody could stop him. Pieces of his torn flesh and bloody clothing still stuck to the inside of the ship when it returned.

Hundreds of men who came out of the big battle unhurt contributed their part to the story of heroism as well.

Although five members of his crew bailed out from less than 1,000 feet in the gray dawn just after the take-off when the "jump" alarm rang accidentally, Lieut. Alwin B. Kocher of Ardmore, Pa., pilot of the "Stud Duck," brought his Fortress back to the field and within fifteen minutes took off again with a new crew. He caught up with his formation before it crossed the British coast—a striking example of the determination of heavy bomber crews to do their jobs.

"We fought single-engined fighters for five hours," said Ora L. Jenkins jr., twenty-two, of Joiner, Ark., pilot of the Fortress Shiftless Skunk which came back on three engines and shot full of holes—but with the claim of having downed eight fighters by itself.

"What more could you ask for on an assignment to Berlin?" Jenkins asked.

Pilot Saves Gen. Doolittle

BEARDSLEY

A United States Bomber Base in England, March 7 (AP)—Quick action by Lieut. Frederick J. Sommer, Flying Fortress pilot from Davidsonville, Md., saved Maj. Gen. James H. Doolittle and other high-ranking officers from possible injury as the American bombers were returning from yesterday's raid on Berlin.

Doolittle and Brig. Gen. Robert B. Williams, of Albany, Texas, commander of a Fortress division, were in a control tower watching the big bombers come in. Also present were the highest officers of the bomber group based at this station.

One Engine Gone

With one engine gone, his plane full of holes and four wounded men aboard, Sommer brought his four-engined giant, Dragon Lady, gliding in on the final approach.

Sommer was anxious to get down because his wounded mates needed attention. Officers directing the landing were equally desirous of bringing in the Fortress for the same reason.

Consequently Sommer came in a shade too close to a plane that landed just ahead and ran into its prop-wash as his wheels neared the ground.

Loses Control Momentarily

For a moment he lost control and the big ship almost crashed. Then the engines took hold and the Fortress careened off the runway—straight for the control tower.

But Sommer gave her the gun and fought the plane into the air, barely clearing the control tower where the commander of the entire Eighth Air Force stood.

Witnesses said Doolittle took virtually no notice of his narrow escape, but congratulated the returning crews—which was the object of his visit.

POLING DEFENDS ALLIED BOMBINGS

MAR 8 1944

Philadelphia, March 7 (A. P.).—The Rev. Dr. Daniel A. Poling, pastor of Baptist Temple and a major in the Army Chaplain Corps, rebuked today the twenty-eight clergymen and writers who protested against "obliteration bombing" of German cities.

Replying in a statement to one made by the clergymen that they must "appeal to all Christians to examine themselves concerning their participation in the war," the Philadelphia clergyman, who recently returned from a tour of world battlefronts, said:

"Every word spoken now and every act speeds victory, strengthens America and the Allies to win quickly, or gives comfort to the enemy. Surely a proper regard for all the sacred issues involved and for Americans who have sons in action suggests silence."

2 Air Force Officers Now Brigadier Generals

London, March 7 (AP)—Maj. Gen. James H. Doolittle, commander of the Eighth Air Force, yesterday pinned insignia on two new brigadier generals, Bartlett. Beaman, chief of staff of a Flying Fortress division, and Donald R. Goodrich, commander of the Eighth Air Force Service Command.

Goodrich, a native of Marshall, Mich., has a wife and two children at Montgomery, Ala. Beaman is from Boston, Mass. His wife lives in Washington.

Brendan Bracken Lauds War Correspondents

London, March 7 (AP)—Brendan Bracken, Minister of Information, today praised the authenticity of frontline news dispatches and the courage of the men who write them and said they keep the public "far more in touch with the troops than the War Office."

"A dispatch from a war correspondent from the battlefront is a hundred times more valuable than all the handouts of the Ministry of Information or the War Office about campaigns," he told the Press Club. "The stuff from the field of battle bears the mark of truth."

The British Government and public owe the correspondents a very great debt, he said.

Tito Partisans Battle Nazi Planes And Tanks

London, March 7 (AP)—Yugoslav Partisans under Tito are involved in heavy fighting in the Glina sector against German troops supported by planes and tanks, a broadcast communique from the Free Yugoslav radio said today.

Violent fighting also is in progress in western Bosnia, Kordun and Hercegovina, the announcement added, and large losses have been inflicted on the enemy forces driving toward Kotar from Prijedor. However, it was acknowledged that the German 373d Division was exerting heavy pressure in this campaign.

Evacuation Of Town Urged

London, March 7 (AP)—The puppet government of Slovakia has appealed to residents of Bratislava to evacuate the town, Berlin broadcasts said. Bratislava (Pressburg) is 40 miles east of Vienna.

40,000 NOW IDLE IN BRITISH MINES

As Coal Strike Grows Loss Is Put At 35,000 Tons Daily

HOWARD COWAN

London, March 7 (AP)—Forty thousand coal miners and 60 pits were idle as a walkout in Monmouthshire and South Wales fields expanded tonight.

Gwilm Lloyd George, Minister of Fuel, was expected to treat the situation as an emergency at a meeting tomorrow with the National Negotiating Committee, originally scheduled to meet only for preliminary discussion on wage differences.

The stoppage is costing Britain about 35,000 tons of coal daily. Among the pits newly affected was the Abergorski mines, which had flown the Union Jack at the masthead for 40 consecutive weeks in recognition of exceeding quotas.

Leaders Appeal For Return

The South Wales miners' executive committee, which announced 45 pits were closed by the strikes, appealed to the miners to return to work at once to facilitate negotiation of the wage differences which precipitated the walkouts.

The strikes were estimated to be depriving Britain of 22,000 tons of coal daily.

Miners Being Transferred

In the Durham coal fields, where slowdown strikes occurred, the Government yesterday began transferring miners elsewhere and replacing them by other workers.

A recent wage decision boosting minimum weekly wages from $16.75 to $20 but not providing for an increase in piece rates is the miners' grievance. They protest they will get the same pay, no matter how hard they work.

The strikers total one half of the miners in the whole of the South Wales and Monmouthshire fields.

Sergt. Thompson At Rites For His Dead Son

Heanor, Derbyshire England, March 7 (AP)—American Staff Sergeant William Thompson today attended a private funeral service for MacDonald, one of the quadruplets born to him and Norah Carpenter, and then visited the babies' mother in Derbyshire Royal Infirmary.

To the 23-year-old girl, who was hospitalized Saturday suffering the after effects of multiple birth, he took magazines and a basket of fruit, and spent two hours with her. "Norah is as well as can be expected under the circumstances," he said.

Only Thompson and the babies' grandparents attended the funeral for MacDonald, who died March 3. The baby was buried in a small village cemetery.

The three surviving babies were reported doing well and gaining weight.

Polish Envoy Returning to U.S.

LONDON, March 7 (AP).—Jan Ciechanowski, Ambassador to the United States from the Polish government-in-exile, will return to Washington soon with new instructions, the Polish Telegraph Agency said today. He was called to London two weeks ago for consultations reported to involve the Russian-Polish border dispute.

British Feminine Crooners Attacked

London, March 7 (AP)—Earl Winterton, a Conservative, rose in the House of Commons today to criticize feminine crooners who, he said, imitate American types on the Government controlled British Broadcasting Company programs for the troops.

"They resemble no known American accent," he declared, "and remind one of the caterwauling of an inebriated cockatoo."

It's the Title That Counts

BRIERLEY HILL, England, March 7 (AP).—The Brierley Hill City Council advertised for a rat-catcher at a salary of $20 a week, but got no response. The Council decided to try again, but advertised this time for "a rodent operative"—and got one at $18 a week.

FINLAND AWAITS RUSSIAN ANSWER

Diet Meets After Dispatch Of Reply To Peace Terms

Stockholm, March 7 (AP)—Finland's answer to Russian peace terms has been sent to Moscow and a reply is expected momentarily, the Helsinki correspondent of the Stockholm newspaper Aftonbladet reported today.

Particulars of the Finnish reply were not made known immediately. The Finnish Diet met at 2 P. M. for an hour's session, but there was no indication whether it had received new word from Moscow.

[Informed persons in London speculated that Finland's message to the Kremlin was more likely to have asked clarification of certain phases of Russia's six-point peace program than to have contained outright acceptance or rejection of the Soviet terms.]

Passed By Censor

It was significant that the dispatch from Aftonbladet's correspondent was passed by the Finnish censorship. This was the first direct word from Finland supporting reports that the Finns had acknowledged Russia's peace proposal.

"One therefore is waiting with increased interest the second phase of the Finnish-Russian question," the dispatch concluded. "That is the Finnish Government reply to Moscow and the expected answer."

Russian Raid Reported

Tuesday's Finnish military communique reported that 25 Russian dive bombers attacked the port of Kotka in southern Finland yesterday afternoon, causing some damage and casualites.

At the same time the Helsinki correspondent of the Stockholm newspaper Dagens Nyheter wrote that "peace machinery is in movement among higher officials."

[A British broadcast heard in New York quoted a neutral correspondent in Berlin as declaring that "Hitler has personally intervened" in the Russian-Finnish situation," adding, "the Germans say that further decisions can only be taken in absolute agreement with Berlin."]

now are characterized by increased tension," the correspondent wrote. "One therefore is waiting with increased interest the second phase of the Finnish-Russian question. That is the Finnish government reply to Moscow and the expected answer."

The Finnish Parliament is scheduled to meet today, but the Aftonbladet report said it was thought the government would make no new declaration to Parliament.

However, a special parliamentary committee for foreign affairs was expected to hear a report from Sir Henrik Ramsay, Foreign Minister, on political developments.

Finns Awaiting Further Word From Russia on Peace Terms

Report Cleared by Censorship Supports Belief Reply Was Sent to Moscow

STURDEVANT

By the Associated Press.

STOCKHOLM, Mar. 7.—The Finnish government is momentarily awaiting word from the Soviet Russian government on Finland's "reply to Moscow" on proposed armistice terms, the Aftonbladet's Helsinki correspondent reported today.

This report, which was cleared by Finnish censorship, was the first word direct from Finland tending to lend credence to reports that Finland had made some sort of acknowledgment of the Russian terms.

But particulars of the reply were not made known.

"Usually well-informed persons stress that political developments

LONDON, Mar. 7 (AP).—Unconfirmed, but apparently reliable, reports from Stockholm today said that the Finnish government was expecting Moscow's answer on the Finns' armistice terms "reply" by tomorrow at the latest.

At the same time the Helsinki correspondent of the Stockholm newspaper Dagens Nyheter declared that "peace machinery is in movement among higher officials" in the Finnish capital and added:

"One feels the present phase can end at any movement and that we soon can obtain a clear possibility of peace."

Earlier advices from Moscow said editorial comment in Pravda, official organ of the Communist party, indicated Russia still was willing to talk terms with the Finns, although Finnish press comment on the Soviet proposals had inspired some misgivings in Moscow concerning the attitude of the Helsinki government.

Stockholm reports said Dr. Juho K. Paaskivi, Finnish statesman who helped negotiate the 1940 Russian-Finnish peace treaty, was ready to go at once to Moscow to discuss terms, but it was ascertained that he still was in Helsinki last night.

Soviet Military Mission 'In Contact' With Tito

'Izvestia' Reports Group Is Headed by Gen. Korneiev

MOSCOW, March 7 (AP).—A dispatch from the Cairo correspondent of "Izvestia" said today that a Soviet military mission under the leadership of Lieutenant General Korneiev is "in contact" with Marshal Josip Broz (Tito), leader of the Army of Liberation in Yugoslavia.

Civilians Leave Estonia

STOCKHOLM, March 7 (AP).—Dispatches from Helsinki said today that the evacuation of the German civil administration in Tallinn (Reval) and other Estonian cities is proceeding steadily. The dispatches added: "Germans who arrive (in Estonia) with only attache cases are departing with truckloads of goods."

Soviet Paper Says U. S. Lets Hitlerites Operate

Moscow, March 7 (AP)—War And The Working Class, Soviet trade union magazine, said today it was surprising that the United States allowed certain persons and groups to operate in America who call themselves representatives of the Baltic republics, and disseminate anti-Soviet propaganda, especially in the form of embassy bulletins.

"Their diplomatic activity continues over three years" as the Baltic agents of Hitler, the magazine declared, "although the Fascist governments whose interests they represent have ceased to exist, and Lithuania, Latvia and Estonia have become Soviet republics, and are inseparable parts of the Soviet Union."

Dr. H. Kaulen, Competed In U. S. Balloon Race

Represented Germany in 1928 Competition in U. S.

MADRID, March 7 (AP).—The death, in Wuppertal, Germany, of Dr. Hugo Kaulen, "who twice represented Germany in the James Gordon Bennett free-balloon races in the United States," was reported in dispatches arriving here today. The dispatches said merely that he died as a result of an accident, and gave no details. Wuppertal, an industrial town, has been an Allied bomb target.

Spain Denies Tass Report Of Secret Nazi Airdromes

By the Associated Press.

MADRID, Mar. 7.—Reports circulated by Tass, official Russian news agency, that the Germans are using Spanish territory for air bases, were officially denied today by the Spanish Foreign Ministry.

(A Tass report from Lisbon last Friday said German engineers have been erecting secret air bases for use by the Nazi air force on the Spanish coast of the Bay of Biscay.)

A communique issued by the Spanish Foreign Ministry today said "such secret airdromes do not exist on Spanish territory" and no "others on Spanish territory have been used by belligerent aviators."

Calls On Spanish Minister

Madrid, March 7 (AP)—United States Ambassador Carlton J. H. Hayes called on Spanish Foreign Minister Francisco Gomez Jordana on invitation today, perhaps to receive the Spanish reply on Allied negotiations with Spain. Spanish sources said the latest developments in Allied-Spanish affairs seemed "very favorable."

End Of Lombardy Strike Sought

At the Swiss-Italian Frontier, March 7 (AP)—German military and Fascist provincial chiefs tonight were making a last-ditch effort to end the workers' strike in Lombardy before the Nazi-fixed deadline tomorrow.

General Zimmerman, Nazi military commander, and Pietro Parini, Fascist provincial chief, met with a Milan workers' committee in a conference aimed at ending the walkout. The Wehrmacht threatens to intervene with the severest measures against the population of Lombardy if the strike continues past the deadline.

A Chiasso dispatch to the Balser Nachrichten quoted clandestine reports that the Milan workers had demanded an immediate end to the deportation of Italian workmen to Germany to man Nazi industry. Other points in the workers' ultimatum included cessation of obligatory military service, improved food supplies, freedom for strikers already arrested and the return of workmen deported to Poland.

GIRAUD SPEAKS FOR PUCHEU

DYMARS 1944

General Says Former Vichy Minister Opposed Nazis

Algiers, March 7 (AP) — Two French army officers, a lieutenant and the commander in chief, today gave evidence in defense of Pierre Pucheu, former Vichy Interior Minister now on trial for treason.

Gen. Henri Honore Giraud, French army commander, confirmed two important defense contentions, that Pucheu had attempted to dissuade Marshal Petain, Vichy chief of state, from continued collaboration with the Nazis, and that Pucheu came to North Africa at Giraud's invitation.

General Giraud said he had seen Pucheu's report to Petain urging aid to the Allies and non-collaboration with the Nazis.

The young lieutenant, who was in Vichy in 1942 when Pucheu was Interior Minister, testified that Pucheu was generally considered pro-Ally. The officer said he had been told by a Vichy official that Pucheu was not collaborating properly with the Germans.

Postponement Urged

General Giraud declared he had urged that the treason trial of Pucheu be postponed until after the reconquest of France proper, "because proofs are lacking here in North Africa."

Pucheu is being tried before a special military tribunal. Yesterday three leaders of underground groups in France testified Pucheu had been condemned by an underground court for collaborationist activities, and demanded that the tribunal affirm the death sentence.

None of the three prosecution witnesses could recall the specific evidence on which Pucheu was condemned by the underground, and the documents relating to his case are still in France.

Gen. Marie Bethouard, commander in Morocco, testified on behalf of the former Vichy Minister before the five-man military court.

Testimony Ends Today

The defense will end its testimony tomorrow morning and the court will recess in the afternoon, possibly to consider further action. General Weiss, air corps officer, former poet and a member of the prosecution staff, could ask the court to withdraw the indictment and postpone a decision.

General Bethouard said Pucheu early in 1942 persuaded him to help the Allies if and when they landed in North Africa. Bethouard later led an abortive pro-Allied revolt in Casablanca when the Allies landed.

Prosecution witnesses earlier had established that Pucheu had been Interior Minister and ex-officio head of the French police from mid-1941 to mid-1942, during which period hostages were shot, and others were arrested and executed for acts of sabotage.

Attorneys said witnesses have failed to establish a connection between Pucheu and these executions.

for Allies at Vichy.

Algiers, March 7 (A. P.).—Gen. Henri Giraud, star witness for the defense at the treason trial of Pierre Pucheu, former Minister of the Interior at Vichy, today confirmed on the witness stand two points in Pucheu's testimony and declared that the trial should be postponed because "proofs are lacking here in North Africa."

The Commander-in-Chief of the French Army confirmed M. Pucheu's statement that he endeavored, prior to the Allied landings in North Africa, to persuade Marshal Petain to drop his policy of collaboration with Hitler, and that he came to North Africa at Gen. Giraud's invitation.

Gen. Giraud stood stiffly erect, facing the judge, throughout his testimony. In speaking of German pressure on French officials and the activities of the German Gestapo, his voice rose in emotion. "I have been struck myself," he said, referring to his daughter, whose death in captivity he had learned of only last week.

Saw Report at Lyons.

Gen. Giraud said that M. Pucheu established contact with him in Lyons in September, 1942, and showed him his report to Petain recommending aid to the Allies, a move which Gen. Giraud said he supported. Early in 1943 M. Pucheu wrote him from Madrid, asking permission to enter North Africa to serve with the army, and "I thought I could not forbid Frenchmen to serve in the army."

He said that when Pucheu came to North Africa he told him that he should "use a false name and abstain from political action." Then he declared, he was surprised to learn that M. Pucheu came under his own name and was causing agitation. Consequently he had placed him under house arrest to maintain order and calm.

When the National Committee discussed the case early last summer, Gen. Giraud said, "I thought the (treason) charge should not be brought, because proofs of such a serious charge were lacking in North Africa . . . I considered that such grave cases should be held until our return into France."

The trial is being held before a special military tribunal. Three members of the National Council of Resistance, a French underground organization, are demanding that M. Pucheu, who in civil life is a prominent industrialist, be put to death.

[At the opening of the trial yesterday Fernand Grenier, Communist member of the old Chamber of Deputies, accused M. Pucheu of "putting the finger" on French hostages for execution, but failed on cross-examination to give definite facts to substantiate his accusation.]

Devil's Island Again.

It was announced here meanwhile that Devil's Island, famed as the site of Capt. Alfred Dreyfus's exile, has been re-established by the French Committee of National Liberation as a place for the confinement of "deportees," or persons convicted of political crimes such as treason. Ile Royale and St. Joseph's Island, in the same group off the French Guiana coast, are assigned for ordinary prisoners. The policy of sending prisoners to the Guiana penal colonies had been abandoned by the Third Republic in 1939.

Since 1939 the prison population of Devil's Island has dwindled to less than 150, of whom only thirteen are political prisoners.

YUGOSLAV REGIME SEEN NEAR CRISIS

CHESTER

Cairo, March 7 (A. P.).—A major shake-up in Yugoslav governmental affairs, including the possibility that King Peter's present Government in Exile may find it necessary to resign or drastically reorganize, is forecast by recent developments in the Balkans and Middle East.

Barring some hitch in the present trend, outright British recognition of Marshal Josip Broz (Tito), leader of the Partisans, is generally considered here as a likely prospect. This could be brought about through a reconciliation between Tito and King Peter, and there is reason to believe a major effort to this end is under way.

The presence of Capt. Randolph Churchill at Tito's headquarters is highly significant. Reliable sources here also agree that the departure for London of two members of King Peter's Government, which is headed by Premier Bozhidar Puric, presages far-reaching developments.

In addition, it is known that an anti-Fascist middle of the road group, recently active in Cairo, has been able to plead directly to King Peter for action to heal the breach between Tito and Gen. Draja Mihailovic, Peter's Minister of War, inside Yugoslavia.

Egyptian Premier in Protest

CAIRO, March 7 (AP).—Seven Arab-speaking nations have now protested to Washington against the pending Senate resolution favoring extended immigration of Jews to Palestine, and the situation in Palestine proper is being closely watched to prevent active trouble.

CHESTER

The latest move in the pyramiding protests came today when Nahas Pasha, Premier of Egypt, sent a letter to General Jan Christiaan Smuts as "a friend to a friend" objecting to the South African Prime Minister's letter to the United States favoring the same aims as the Senate resolution.

American Minister Alexander C. Kirk visited Nahas Pasha earlier to deliver a verbal reply to the Egyptian protest to Washington.

Egypt took the lead in the wide protest by the Arabic nations. Similar action by Irak, Syria, Lebanon, Trans-Jordan, Saud Arabia and Yemen followed.

Algieria Moslems Get Vote

Pledge Kept, Letting Them Be Citizens, Keep Extra Wives

ALGIERS, March 7 (AP).—The French Committee of National Liberation adopted reforms today extending French citizenship to various categories of Moslem men in Algieria, fulfilling a pledge made last December by General Charles De Gaulle in a speech at Constantine. It affects 50,000 Moslems.

As a result, qualified Moslems are entitled to vote, hold office and enjoy all the privileges of French citizenship without renouncing the Koranic law. Heretofore Moslems could become citizens only by renouncing their religious customs which sanction polygamy.

Turkey Seeks Preservation Of Her Alliance With Britain

W. RING

Ankara, March 6 (AP—Delayed) — Numan Menemencioglu, Turkish Foreign Minister, told Turkish editors today that Turkey plans to do everything in her power to preserve her alliance with Great Britain, which now is marred by a Turkish-British quarrel.

[London disclosed last week that British arms and goods shipments to Turkey had been halted because the British Government was dissatisfied with Turkish help in the war against the Axis.]

No Change In Feeling

From participants in this press conference this view of Turkish policy was obtained:

Turkey is anxious to patch up her quarrel, although there is no change in the Turkish Government's feeling that deliveries of supplies have been far below what was promised and below what is regarded as necessary for Turkey to become an active war partner of the Allies.

Turkish policy still envisages eventual participation in the war, and, for the sake of the alliance with Britain, Turkey is regarded as ready to revise the estimates of the war material it considers necessary. The Turks hope the British will make the first conciliatory move, but if it is not forthcoming they probably will make it themselves.

Eliminated For Present

The present crisis has served the purpose, either intentionally or accidentally, of eliminating Turkey from participation in any immediate campaign in eastern Europe. A resumption of the status quo would only mean that talks would be resumed again, leaving Turkey's eventual role in the war as nebulous as ever.

The Turks say that under the 1939 treaty of alliance the British promised military aid of the value of 25,000,000 pounds sterling (about $100,000,000) to be delivered within six months, but that only 19,000,000 pounds sterling (about $76,000,000) has been delivered to date.

Of commitments made later by Prime Minister Churchill at Adana, only four per cent. have been delivered, the Turks say.

Menemencioglu indicated today that Turkey's position now is that she definitely will get into the war if and when the requested material is delivered.

U. S. Troops Fan Out From Walawbum, Trap 2,000 Japs

New Delhi, March 7 (AP)—American jungle troops fanned out from captured Walabum ten miles behind the Japanese lines in north Burma today to trap 2,000 of the enemy caught between American forces and Chinese troops steadily advancing from the north.

Lieut. Gen. Joseph Stilwell's communique said a road block had been established two miles west of Walawbum, and that all enemy vehicles attempting to escape southward to join the main body of Japs near Mogaung and Myitkyina were being destroyed.

Resistance Met

Although Walawbum was officially announced as in American hands, there was evidence that suicide squads of Japanese within the town were putting up last-ditch resistance. The communique said "enemy troops trapped in the strong defenses of Walawbum are the object of concentrated offensive action."

American-trained Chinese troops were pressing southward on a broad front in the Maingkwan area, compressing the Japanese against the Yank road block.

General Stilwell's headquarters also reported the Chinese spreading out, with drives in progress toward Nritu Ga and Saintawng Ga, 15 miles east of Maingkwan.

101 Of Foe Killed

In other engagements 101 Japanese were killed, 74 by Chinese forces who crossed the Idi river in the Maingkwan area, and 27 by Allied patrols, who ambushed an enemy column in the Fort Hertz sector, south of Sumprabum. In western Burma two Japanese raids were beaten off with many casualties by British troops west of the Mayu range.

Allied troops also made a successful raid south of Maungdaw. The communique said enemy opposition increased in the Kaladan valley "and our West African troops have made adjustments in their positions.

Enemy positions and communications were among the targets of raids by Allied fighters and dive bombers Sunday and Monday in Arakan, Kaladan, the Chin Hills, Chindwin and northwest Burma. Airfields in the Rangood area were strafed.

U. S. AND CHINESE MOP UP IN BURMA

MAR 8 1944

New Delhi, March 7 (A. P.).—American and Chinese troops, exploiting the capture of two strongholds in northern Burma, are mopping up Japanese units, and a Japanese attempt to cross the Nambyu River has been thrown back with heavy losses, Southeast Asia headquarters declared today.

Although the communique did not specify, it was presumed that American troops won the new river victory. It was near the Nambyu that the Americans "blocked the road from Maingkwan and destroyed many Japanese personnel and vehicles," the communique said. These units, the first American troops to fight on the Asiatic Continent, took Walawbum, ten miles southeast of Maingkwan, and Chinese forces seized Maingkwan, the chief village of the Hukang valley and Japanese artillery strong point.

The Chinese troops crossed the Idi River in the Maingkwan area and killed seventy-four Japanese. South of Sumprabum, twenty-seven Japanese were killed and twenty wounded in a patrol ambush.

On the western sector in Burma, meanwhile, British troops beat off two Japanese raids on their main front west of the May Range, inflicting severe casualties. They then carried out a successful raid south of Maungdaw.

Strikes In New South Wales

Sydney, Australia, Wednesday, March 8 (AP)—With New South Wales coal production down nearly 25 per cent. since January 1, due mainly to strikes, many major heavy industries may be affected by this week end.

Iron and steel foundries and war plants already have reduced output. Four thousand skilled workers may be laid off this week.

The total loss of coal in New South Wales is estimated at 475,000 tons out of annual production of approximately 13,000,000 tons.

AP Gets News To Argentina Despite Wire Restrictions

Buenos Aires, March 7 (AP)—Associated Press news continued to reach papers in Argentina and Uruguay today despite communications restrictions imposed last night by the Argentine Government.

Wireless facilities by which Associated Press news normally is received in Buenos Aires were ordered closed on charges of a technical violation of radio and telegraphic regulations in a measure similar to one taken Saturday against Prensa Unida, affiliate of the United Press.

Use of all communications in Argentine was prohibited to La Prensa Asociada. Latin-American subsidiary of the Associated Press, and to the Asociacion Noticiosa, Argentine agency with which La Presna Asociada has a news exchange agreement.

Service Maintained

However, the ban did not restrict use of cable and telephone facilities by the Associated Press itself and by these means the AP continued to maintain service in Argentina, where hitherto most of the news report has been transcribed at the wireless reception center of La Nacion, one of South America's foremost newspapers, and relayed to La Prensa Asociada for dissemination to other papers.

Today La Prensa Asociada editors were sent by plane to Montevideo to continue service to Uruguayan papers with the AP news report, which now is being received there instead of in Buenos Aires.

In addition, the Associated Press in Buenos Aires was being served directly by cable from New York and by telephone from Montevideo.

The suspension of wireless reception was ordered on a charge that it evaded payment of duties provided in radio and telegraphic regulations.

Arrangement Made In '37

In New York F. J. Starzel, vice-president of La Prensa Asociada, said the arrangement under which the newspaper La Nacion received the Associated Press report for La Prensa Asociada had been made in 1937 and had been fully known at all times since then by the Argentine Government.

"The tax referred to in the Government's order is a purely nominal amount and would have been paid immediately had the Government ever demanded it," Starzel said. "It was not paid by La Prensa Asociada simply because La Nacion is the authorized receiver and we always had reason to believe the arrangement was entirely regular.

"The Associated Press and its affiliate, La Prensa Asociada, have operated in Buenos Aires for more than 25 years. During all that time the Argentine Government has never previously challenged the association's news distribution methods."

A. P. FACILITIES ARE BLOCKED BY ARGENTINA

Order Bars Reception There of News Dispatches Sent by Radio.

CUTS MONTEVIDEO WIRE LINK

Forbids All Contact With Own Subsidiary and With Local News Association.

Buenos Aires, March 7 (A. P.).—The reception of Associated Press news dispatches sent by wireless from New York was banned yesterday by the Argentine Government, which also cancelled permission for the use of a leased wire between Buenos Aires and Montevideo, alleging that both these facilities had been used in violation of the laws of Argentina.

This action by the Director of Posts and Telegraphs followed similar but milder measures taken on Saturday against La Prensa Unida, affiliate of the United Press.

The Post Office also forbade the use of any means of communication to La Prensa Asociada, Latin American subsidiary of the Associated Press, and to the Asociacion Noticiosa Argentina, with which the A. P. has a news exchange agreement.

Tax Was Not Paid.

The government ruled that inspection of the receiving station proved that news received there was delivered to the Associated Press and La Prensa Asociada, which distributed it in Argentina and abroad, and that this was against the law and against the interests of the state, inasmuch as the duties had not been paid.

The Government took no action against the facilities of Reuters, the British news agency.

[Most of the A. P. reports to South America is sent by wireless and at New York today F. J. Starzel, vice-president of La Prensa Asociada, declared that ever since 1937 its reception in Buenos Aires has been handled at the wireless center of La Nacion, one of South America's foremost newspapers; that the tax referred to is "a purely nominal amount and would have been paid immediately had the Government ever demanded it," and that "it was not paid by La Prensa Asociada simply because La Nacion is the authorized receiver."]

Nazi News Groups Work Unhindered

Montevideo, March 7 (AP)—The newspaper La Razon, commenting on Argentine measures against United States news organizations, said today it was surprising to see Nazi news agencies in Buenos Aires apparently working unhindered.

"The Argentine Government contradicts itself," was La Razon's title.

"At the same time it is formulating promises of American solidarity the Argentine military government takes action contradicting such statements," the Montevideo publication said.

Sanctions Applied

"Some days ago, alleging purported administrative irregularities which were truly nothing more than tacit Government consent which harmed nobody, Argentine authorities applied a most severe sanction, accompanied by gratuitous insults and terrible threats to the news agency United Press.

"Now they have done the same thing with the Associated Press, which, like the former, is an American organization of well-known material and moral solidity and of world-wide activities and prestige.

"Meanwhile, Nazi news agencies continue operating freely in Argentina much the same as before the rupture of relations with the Axis despite a decree which right after the rupture put a ban on them."

Hand of Germany Is Seen.

Montevideo, March 7 (A. P.).—The Argentine Nationalist newspapers El Federal and Cabildo for some time have been demanding Government measures against the Associated Press and the United Press, asserting that they sent abroad "sensationalist stories" on the recent series of Argentine crises.

El Federal is the successor to the pro-Axis newspaper El Pampero, which was closed by the Argentine Government on January 27 for criticizing the rupture of relations with Germany and Japan.

There was no indication here of what can be done to obtain reconsideration of the measures taken against A. P. and U. P. With diplomatic relations between the United States and Argentina suspended as a result of Washington's refusal to recognize the regime of Gen. Edelmiro Farrell, the normal channels through which the American organizations might appeal from the ruling were closed.

The Associated Press, is able to receive a cable report from New York and to use cable and telephone facilities to send the stories abroad. When the authorities announced the ban last night, the Associated Press bureau in Buenos Aires was covered by cable from New York, while the Montevideo office, its teletype connection cut off, switched over to reception of the New York wireless and cable dispatches.

Argentina Expresses Intent to Strengthen Her Links With U. S.

By the Associated Press.

MONTEVIDEO, Mar. 7.—Gen. Diego Luis Mason, Argentine Foreign Minister, asserted last night that the government of acting President Edelmiro Farrell intends to "strengthen the friendly links between Argentina and the United States" and that it will adopt "all measures necessary to the security of the hemisphere."

Gen. Mason's pronouncement on Argentine foreign policy was made in a statement in which he expressed surprise at the action of the United States in directing Ambassador Norman Armour to refrain from entering into official relations with the present regime in Argentina.

The statement was issued after a cabinet meeting at which Argentine foreign relations, especially within the Western Hemisphere, were reviewed. The meeting was attended by all cabinet members except Minister of Public Works Gen. Domingo Pistarini, who is ill.

Gen. Mason said Washington's decision was surprising because, he declared, it is the intention of the Farrell regime to "maintain the break in relations with the Axis and continue international policy along the lines of the government of Gen. Pedro Ramirez."

Gen. Farrell, Vice President under Gen. Ramirez, took over as acting President recently when the latter delegated his powers to him, purportedly on the grounds of ill health.

The United States has withheld official recognition of the Farrell regime pending clarification of the manner in which Gen. Ramirez delegated his authority. Chile and Bolivia last week recognized Gen. Farrell as the legitimate successor to Gen. Ramirez, and Paraguay and Uruguay were reported yesterday to be considering a similar move, but neither has taken action thus far.

COLOMBIA'S HEAD SHAKES UP CABINET

MAR 8 1944

Bogota, Colombia, March 7 (A. P.).—Acting President Dario Echandia reorganized the Colombian cabinet today, naming new ministers of war and economy and shuffling the remaining ministerial assignments in a move to clear the decks for the designation of an ultimate successor to President Alfonso Lopez.

Lopez already has announced his intention of retiring soon and it is expected that his resignation will be submitted formally at a forthcoming extraordinary session of Congress.

Shuffling of the Cabinet came after Echandia had accepted the resignations of its members, tendered last night with the explanation that the Ministers wished to give Echandia freedom to reorganize the Government in accordance with public interest.

The new Cabinet includes all former members except Finance Minister Carlos Lleras Restrepo and Labor Minister Jorge Eliecer Gaitan, both of whom have been mentioned as probable presidential candidates. Both are now free to press their candidacy.

Newcomers to the Cabinet are Gen. Domingo Espinel, Army Chief of Staff, who was named Minister of War, and Carlos Sanz de Santa Maria, Mayor of Bogota, who was appointed Minister of Economy.

Further Newsprint Price Adjustments Are Likely

Ottawa, March 7 (AP)—Further "adjustments may have to be made" in newsprint prices, a prices board official said today. He said newsprint manufacturers were affected seriously by rising costs of pulpwood production as well as by increasing unit overhead costs in mills with curtailed newsprint production.

He recalled that a $4 a ton increase had been granted in March, 1943, and a similar increase became effective September 1, 1943.

"Both these increases were authorized over full consultation with the United States Office of Price Administration which authorized similar price increases in the United States. Neither of them was considered by the board to be sufficient to offset the whole increase in costs and further adjustments may have to be made," he said.

Tokio Radio Admits Shipping Difficulties

Forced to Use Barges On South Pacific Lanes

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Mar. 7.—The Tokio radio acknowledged today that American task forces have virtually closed the South Pacific sea lanes to large-scale Japanese ship movements and said the task of supplying outlying bases in that area has now devolved on a fleet of wooden ships, slinking from island to island by night.

"Dengue fever and Boeing planes," declared a Domei broadcast recorded by United States Government monitors, are the worst enemies of this wooden fleet.

"Huge enemy task forces," Domei said, "ply in between our supply bases and the front lines. The enemy has made passage of larger transports infinitely difficult, so the heavy responsibility of safe transportation of food and supplies has fallen upon the crews of these wooden ships. The ocean, upon which rains a torrent of bombs and shells, is the stage upon which these vessels perform."

The broadcast added that the wooden craft "conceal themselves by day in the shadows of the islands and carry out their duties by night."

Bangkok Raid Reported

New York, March 7 (AP)—The Tokyo Domei Agency said today in an overseas wireless dispatch that "formations of enemy aircraft" had carried out two raids on Bangkok, capital of occupied Thailand, during the night, causing "slight damage."

The raiders, whose nationality was not given, were declared immediately repulsed by Japanese fighter planes and anti-aircraft fire.

U.S. AND BRITAIN TO HOLD PARLEY ON OIL ISSUES

Hull to Be Chairman of American Delegation at Washington Meeting.

ICKES TO BE VICE-CHAIRMAN

Conference Is Open to Other Nations—Arabian Pipeline Seen as Major Topic.

Washington, March 7 (A. P.).—The State Department today made its long awaited announcement that oil conferences have been planned with the British Government and announced the names of officials to represent American interests.

Secretary of State Hull, by appointment of President Roosevelt, will be chairman of the American delegation, which will include Secretary of the Interior Ickes as vice-chairman, Under-Secretary of War Patterson, Under-Secretary of the Navy Forrestal, Charles Rayner, State Department petroleum adviser, and Charles E. Wilson, vice-chairman of the War Production Board.

The announcement of the forthcoming conferences, in which American plans to build a pipeline across Saudi Arabia will be a prime subject, was made jointly in Washington and London. The Washington announcement came from Acting Secretary of State Edward B. Stettinius Jr.

Parley to Be in Washington.

"The governments of the United States and the United Kingdom," the brief statement said, "are undertaking preliminary and exploratory discussions on petroleum questions. These discussions will be, in the first instance, on an expert technical level and will take place in Washington."

At the same time Mr. Stettinius threw the doors to the conference wide open to other nations. This Government, he said, is always ready to take up petroleum questions of mutual interest with any other friendly country.

Presumably this left the way open to Russia or any other interested nation to participate in discussions about American oil in the Arabian area or for the Netherlands to raise questions about oil development in the southwest Pacific or for oil producing nations in this hemisphere to discuss their interests.

Mr. Stettinius said that he hoped the conferees might make an early beginning on their work. Their first action presumably will be to select advisers and technical experts who will lay out a program and initiate the discussions on the technical level.

Stettinius's London Plans.

Mr. Stettinius, on his forthcoming visit to London, will take with him Dr. Isaiah Bowman, the geographer and post-war planner, and four other State Department experts. He named the members of his party at his press conference today, but declined to go into the subjects to be discussed with the British, generally understood to cover a broad field of political and economic problems.

Dr. Bowman is president of Johns Hopkins University, Baltimore.

The others who will accompany Mr. Stettinius are: Freeman Matthews, deputy director of the State Department's Division of

30.24 — 13539

30.24 — 13539

European Affairs and Mr. Stettinius's expert adviser on European diplomacy; Wallace Murray, director of Near Eastern and African affairs; John Lee Pratt, consultant on commercial affairs and former associate of Mr. Stettinius in the Lend-Lease Administration, and Robert J. Lynch, an aid to Mr. Stettinius, who will be executive secretary of the mission.

The date for departure has not been announced.

BRITISH PRESSURE ASSAILED IN HOUSE

Washington, March 7 (A. P.).—Representative Compton (R.-Conn.), who wants Congress to go on record as favoring keeping Palestine open to Jewish immigrants, notwithstanding provisions of a British White Paper which would close that area to such migration at the end of this month, told the House today:

"We can be a good neighbor and a stanch ally without submitting to dictation from 10 Downing Street."

Mr. Compton claimed the floor to assert that the United States House and Senate had been subjected to "pressure" by the War Department and "Arab legislators in the countries under British control" to take no action on pending keep-Palestine-open resolutions which he has joined others in sponsoring.

He asserted that "a few wealthy Arabs under British domination in Palestine, Syria, Irak, Lebanon and Egypt have indicated their displeasure" with the resolutions, and said the War Department "indicates a desire to appease this Arab minority, even though such appeasement presents a challenge to our national honor."

"I think it fair," he said, "to ask who inspires this pressure for appeasement from our war leaders. Presumptuous dictation from foreign legislators should be resisted and resisted unanimously. . . . If we have no foreign policy of our own I am against continuing to borrow from some other country.

Ireland Seeks To Buy Two Merchant Ships

Washington, March 7 (AP)—Robert Brennan, Irish Minister, called today on Edward R. Stettinius, Acting Secretary of State, with a view to gaining American approval of Irish purchase of two United States registered merchant ships.

Ireland has a 20 per cent. wheat shortage, he said, and the ships are needed as an addition to the Irish fleet of about 12 ships plying to Canada, the United States and Portugal.

The two ships are older than those in general wartime service. The actual purchaser would be an Irish shipping company which is subsidized by the Eire Government.

U. S. Fleet Now Totals Over 900 Ships: Knox

Washington, March 7 (AP)—Frank Knox, Secretary of the Navy, said today that the American fleet—largest in world history—now consists of more than 900 warships.

"This doesn't include any small stuff," the navy chief added at a news conference.

Knox also disclosed that the carrier group of the Essex type will include more than the 11 ships originally scheduled for that class. He gave no details.

Turning to the subject of German U-boats, Knox quoted an announcement in London that less than one ship for each 1,000 sailing Atlantic waters was lost to submarine activity in the last half of 1943. He warned, however, that "the war isn't over. The Germans have a tremendous number of submarines in reserve and at any time may decide on a fresh foray."

Pacific Attacks Point To Use of Carriers In European Invasion

MAR 8 1944

By the Associated Press.

The pasting which carrier-based aircraft has been giving Japanese island bases, particularly the trouncing of Truk, suggests the possibility that flattops may pour their striking power into the expected invasion of Europe.

Army and Navy officials are reluctant to discuss the idea, but there is sufficient evidence in the records to indicate the potentialities of strong carrier forces for assault on shore bases.

Despite misgivings of some aviation authorities, who felt that aircraft carriers had a major weakness in vulnerability to land-based planes, the flattops have roamed the ocean and struck heavily at Japanese land bases.

Have Proved Striking Power.

In several important assaults, notably at Truk, which cost the enemy 23 ships sunk, 6 probably sunk and 11 damaged in addition to 201 airplanes and tremendous damage to installations, carrier planes put on the entire show.

The flattop job has been much more than a hit-and-run business. The planes with the folding wings have softened land fortifications in preparation for ground forces, wrecked supply lines and shot up ships, personnel and installations while supporting land invasions.

Navy men see little likelihood of carriers participating in the softening-up process against the continent, but some feel they might have a place in covering landings and protecting supply lines during the first stages of assault.

This could be true, particularly if landings were made at points difficult to cover with land planes based in the British Isles.

Invasion Problems Different.

Military men see a very different problem in the continent from what the Navy has met thus far in its smashes at Japanese islands.

The Pacific islands have been small in area, for the most part, with limited facilities for storing and servicing aircraft, in addition to the difficulties of lengthy supply lines.

The European coast line has larger installations, a short supply line and numerous points from which defending planes could be sent up.

The bulk of the United States carrier strength is in the Pacific and can be expected to remain there. The Atlantic has a substantial number of escort carriers, however, and these are capable of handling the same planes used on the larger flattops.

Carrier squadrons could be composed of a single type of plane for specific tasks in an assignment against the European coast instead of being made up of two or more types as is customary.

The Honor Roll

ARMY CASUALTIES

Washington, March 7 (A. P.).—The War Department made public today a list of 267 United States Army casualties in the Asiatic, Central Pacific, European, Mediterranean, South Pacific and Southwest Pacific theaters of war. Included in the list are these with their next of kin:

NAVY BILL PASSED

Washington, March 7 (A. P.).—Congressional action was completed today on an emergency measure authorizing the Navy to undertake a $130,000,000 program for expanding ship repair facilities, when the House passed the legislation without a dissenting vote and sent it to the White House.

The actual appropriation for the program is to follow. The first deficiency supply bill of 1944, reported out today by the Appropriations Committee, carries the funds, but the committee in making major slashes in the bill reduced the proposed special Navy fund from $130,000,000 to $120,000,000.

The Navy said the present peak rate of shipbuilding, especially merchant vessels, has put repair requirements beyond existing or authorized facilities.

NEW BONUS BILL GETS BAD START

MAR 8 1944

$4,500 Service-Payment Plan Sent To Finance Group

Washington, March 7 (AP)—The veterans' bonus bill, backed by five service groups and providing benefits as high as $4,500 for overseas fighting men, got off to a bad start in the Senate today.

Over the protests of its authors, Senators Johnson (D., Col.) and Reynolds (D., N. C.), the Senate version of the bill was referred to the Finance Committee for study, rather than to the Military Affairs Committee, which Reynolds heads.

In the Finance Committee, it will automatically go to a subcommittee headed by Senator Clark (D., Mo.), one of the founders of the American Legion and a backer of the Legion's rival G I benefit bill.

Willing To Vote "30 Billion"

Reynolds told the Senate he was perfectly willing to vote "thirty billion dollars" now for the benefit of servicemen. Johnson said he didn't know whether the bill would cost $10,000,000,000 or $30,000,000,000.

It provides maximum bonuses of $3,500 for men and women who served in the continental United States and a top of $4,500 for those who were sent abroad. The benefits would be calculated on a basis of $3 a day for home service and $4 daily for overseas service, with an extra credit of $500 for wounded.

The so-called "G. I." bill proposes $500 mustering-out pay for 18 months' overseas service, along with educational training, reemployment aid, unemployment insurance and loans for the purchase of farms and homes.

Johnson said a million men already have been discharged from the services, and called for action now.

PROBE OF FCC WAS GAGGED, HOUSE TOLD

Rep. Miller Says Administration Feared Consequences

MAR 8 — 1944

Washington, March 7 (AP)—Representative Miller (R., Mo.), saying that a former Presidential aide "may have shared" in a $50,000 fee in connection with sale of a radio station, accused the Administration today of shutting off an investigation of the Federal Communications Commission for fear of the political consequences.

"If they permit this investigation to reveal even a small fraction of the corruption which must exist after 12 years," he told the House, "they will already have lost the election next November."

Miller took the floor after James L. Fly, chairman of the FCC, denied at committee meeting hearings a variety of charges against conduct of the agency.

Jap Broadcasts Hit

One such accusation was that the FCC permitted Japanese language broadcasts by Hawaiian radio stations before Pearl Harbor although the armed services were opposed. Fly said the armed services approved continuation of the broadcasts.

Miller directed his remarks chiefly to the decision by a majority of the House committee investigating the FCC to suspend an inquiry into the sale of station WMCA, New York, by Donald Flamm to Edward J. Noble, former aide to Harry Hopkins. The majority decided on the suspension until New York litigation in connection with the sale is completed.

Flamm already has testified he sold the station because he was told the transaction was "greased from the White House down" and feared the FCC would not renew his license if he retained the station.

Fly Denies Charges

"As the mystery of this New Deal drama unfolds," Miller said, "you will find moving mostly behind the scenes the significant name of Thomas J. Corcoran, once an aide to Mr. Roosevelt. It will be shown later on that Mr. Noble employed the former chief counsel of the FCC (William J. Dempsey) at the suggestion of Mr. Corcoran and that Mr. Corcoran was in the picture to the point where he may have shared in a fee estimated to run as high as $50,000."

Fly said that Pearl Harbor authorities, distrusting the Japanese many months before they attacked, kept a close check on Japanese-language broadcasts by Hawaiian stations but found no subversive tinge.

The question of whether Japanese-language programs might endanger the area came up "early in 1941," Fly declared. He filed a flat denial of all the charges, including one that he blocked the armed forces' request to take over from the FCC control of foreign broadcast intelligence.

Says FCC Was Commended

He said the army, navy and Federal Bureau of Investigation had, in fact, commended the cooperation they got from the FCC and had intrusted his agency with sole responsibility for running down any enemy radio transmitters in Hawaii. None was found.

At this, Representative Miller interrupted to declare:

"If Admiral Hooper and J. Edgar Hoover were permitted to testify, a lot would be shown about who was responsible for Pearl Harbor."

[Admiral Stanford C. Hooper formerly was chief of naval intelligence and Hoover is head of the FBI.]

Fly also denied that he "defeated" a move by the armed forces to eliminate Japanese-language broadcasts in Hawaii in the pre-war months. The army, navy and FBI, on the other hand, urged one radio station to cancel its decision to drop such programs, Fly asserted.

Untrue, He Says

Fly blamed the charges against his agency on Eugene Garey, resigned counsel of the committee, and said all were untrue. Representatives Miller and Wigglesworth (R., Mass.), the minority members, said in a statement that the Administration sought to "whitewash" the inquiry by waiting until the counsel and investigators had quit before calling Fly.

Representative Lea (D., Cal.), chairman, denied the allegation and shut off the exchange by asking critics to "wait until we are through" before they decide that anything but an "honest and thorough investigation" has been conducted.

Speaking of "affirmative" actions of the FCC, Fly insisted he has been working for "freedom of speech and freedom of the press" rather than, as charged, against it. Asserting that one of the problems has been world communications, he said the British have discriminated against American news services by giving Reuters (British) agency special rates.

Cugat Says Venezuela Has Offered Him Medal

New York, March 7 (AP)—Xavier Cugat, the orchestra leader, said tonight the Venezuelan Government had offered to award him the Simon Bolivar medal "for promoting good will in the USA."

Cugat said earlier he had erroneously referred to the award as coming from Bolivia.

"The medal is named in honor of Venezuela's first President, Simon Bolivar," he explained.

Cugat, a naturalized American citizen, pointed out that approval of the United States Senate is required before he may accept the honor from the foreign Government.

Destroyer Escort Given Name Of Midway Hero

Newark, N. J., March 7 (AP)—The destroyer escort Ulvert M. Moore, named after a West Virginia navy ensign who died in the battle of Midway, was launched here today at the yards of the Federal Shipbuilding and Dry Dock Company.

The DE was christened by Mrs. Lloyd E. Moore, of Bluefield, W. Va., the hero's mother.

Ensign Moore, enlisting in the navy as a seaman in October, 1940, was commissioned within a year. He had been awarded the Navy Cross.

The William Seiverling, named for an Elizabethtown (Pa.) marine who was killed at Guadalcanal, was launched a few minutes before the Moore.

16 LOST WITH SHIP

Richmond, Cal., March 7 (A. P.).—The War Shipping Administration related today how the captain and radio operator of the Liberty ship Melville E. Stone went down with their ship when it was sunk by torpedoes in the Caribbean Sea with a loss of sixteen lives.

The ship's master was Capt. Lawrence J. Gallagher of Sacramento, Cal., and the radio operator was Peter A. Carrier of Columbia, Mo. The ship, named for the former general manager of the Associated Press, was sunk by two torpedoes. Date of the sinking was not disclosed.

The captain was lost, the WSA said, after directing abandon-ship efforts. A line thrown to him from the only undamaged lifeboat fell short.

Seaman Carrier remained at his radio post to the last. Survivors were rescued by a subchaser summoned by planes which responded to the radio call for help.

The Melville E. Stone was launched last July 24 at the Permanente Metals Corporation yard, one of the Henry J. Kaiser interests here.

Silver-Star Ribbon Won By Harmon

MAR 8 1944

Hollywood, March 7 (AP)—Lieut. Tom Harmon, of the army air force, was here on leave today, wearing the ribbon of the Silver Star, awarded him for gallantry in action against Japanese planes.

His citation was for his bravery "while fighting six enemy planes alone, saving his formation, shooting down two enemy planes and bailing out behind enemy lines."

Harmon, former University of Michigan football star, could not say how he found his way back to American lines 32 days after he was lost on a dive-bombing attack on Kiukiang, a Yangtse river port, on October 30.

In Low-Level Attack

Harmon's Lightning was shot out of a formation of four which had been escorting a low-level bombing group deep in enemy territory. Fire from a Jap Zero started a gasoline fire in Harmon's cockpit, knocked his feet off the controls and blew his pants legs off above the knees. He parachuted into a lake after trying vainly to extinguish the flames with his hands, and played dead to avoid Japanese strafers.

Harmon parachuted once before—into the Dutch Guinea jungle last April 14. He was guided to a settlement by natives.

Exiled Norwegian Gives Peace-Table Formula

Portland, Ore., March 7 (AP)—Carl J. Hambro, exiled president of the Norwegian Parliament, who called himself a "diplomat and politician," urged today that diplomats and politicians be barred from the peace table.

"When diplomats and politicians have met on peace or any other subject, they mostly arrived at disagreement and tension," he told an institute on post-war planning for permanent peace.

Hambro advocated that peace be drawn up on social and economic rather than military terms. This, he added, can best be done by practical persons who understand everyday problems.

LONDON, WEDNESDAY, MARCH 8-(AP)-RAF HEAVY BOMBERS ATTACKED TARGETS IN EUROPE LAST NIGHT FOR THE SECOND SUCCESSIVE NIGHT, THE BRITISH ANNOUNCED TODAY.

MAR 8 1944

A BRIEF ANNOUNCEMENT SAID MERELY THAT THE TARGETS WERE IN ENEMY-OCCUPIED TERRITORY, BUT GAVE NO HINT OF THEIR IDENTITY OR THE WEIGHT OF THE ASSAULT. THE FACT THAT THE PARIS RADIO WENT OFF THE AIR DURING THE NIGHT SUGGESTED, HOWEVER, THAT OBJECTIVES IN THAT VICINITY HAD BEEN HIT FOR THE SECOND STRAIGHT NIGHT.

THE OVERNIGHT RAF FORAY FOLLOWED A SHARP DAYLIGHT ASSAULT BY U.S. MARAUDERS ON A GERMAN AIRFIELD NEAR CONCHES WHICH CAME AS BERLIN STILL LAY SMOKING FROM THE HEAVY AMERICAN RAID MONDAY DURING WHICH U.S. FLIERS ACCOUNTED FOR 186 NAZI PLANES.

FIELD MARSHAL HERMANN GOERING GAVE IT UP AS TOO EXPENSIVE, AND BRITAIN WAS SAVED.

BUT, AS THE YORKSHIRE POST EXPRESSED IT, "THE AMERICANS THOUGH COMPELLED TO RELY & FOR ESCORT PROTECTION ON LONG-RANGE FIGHTERS WHICH CAN NEVER BE QUITE SO EFFICIENT IN AIR COMBAT AS THE SHORT-RANGE MACHINE, ARE OUT TO REVERSE THAT VERDICT."

WITH BANNER HEADLINES-- "BERLIN BURNS AT LUNCHTIME" AND "15 MILE STREAM OF 'FORTS' OVER BERLIN"-- THE BRITISH PRESS CHEERED THE DARING DAY RAID AS A MAJOR VICTORY, AND ONE MARKING A TREMENDOUS NEW PHASE IN THE AIR WAR.

THE ALWAYS-CONSERVATIVE LONDON TIMES WENT SO FAR AS TO SAY "THE AIR OFFENSIVE IS A WHOLE STAGE NEARER THE CLIMAX FORESEEN LATELY BY THE PRIME MINISTER WHEN ALLIED AIRCRAFT WILL QUARTER THE GERMAN SKY VIRTUALLY UNMOLESTED SAVE BY GROUND DEFENSES."

REGIS, IN A PLANE NAMED "RIGOR MORTIS," WAS FLYING IN A PATROL WITH LT.COL.JAMES H.HOWARD OF ST.LOUIS OVER THE EASTERN SUBURBS OF BERLIN WHEN THE SHIP STARTED VIBRATING SO VIOLENTLY HE COULD SCARCELY KEEP CONTROL OF THE STICK.

REGIS RADIOED HIS FLYING PARTNER, LT.GLEN EAGLESTON, 3133 POPLAR BOULEVARD, ALHAMBRA, CALIF., IN THE "FEEBLE EAGLE," SAYING:

"EAGLE, THE STICK'S BOUNCING BACK AND FORTH AND I CAN HARDLY KEEP HOLD OF IT. I BETTER BAIL OUT."

EAGLESTON ANSWERED, "JUNIOR, I'LL GET YOU HOME IF I HAVE TO GET A ROPE AND TOW YOU."

IT WAS 68 DEGREES BELOW ZERO. THE OVERCAST WAS SO DENSE THE MUSTANGS COULD HARDLY SEE EACH OTHER. THE PILOTS BROKE FROM THEIR GROUP AND POINTED TOWARD FRANCE.

"I BETTER ABANDON SHIP," REPEATED REGIS. EAGLESTON KEPT ON TALKING, SAYING "DON'T WORRY, KID, WE'LL MAKE IT OKAY."

ALL THE WAY REGIS WAS STRAINING TO KEEP THE SHIP FROM VIBRATING OUT OF CONTROL. ONE HUNDRED MILES FROM THE FRENCH COAST THE MUSTANG'S CANOPY BEGAN TO RATTLE AND REGIS AGAIN RADIOED THAT HE COULDN'T MAKE IT.

"WE'RE JUST ABOUT OUT OF THE DANGER ZONE," EAGLESTON SAID. "ANOTHER 100 MILES, BABY, AND WE'LL BE O.K."

SIXTY MILES FROM THE COAST THE PILOTS LOST EACH OTHER IN THE CLOUDS--BUT REGIS MADE IT. HE LANDED ON A FIELD ON THE SOUTH COAST, AND DISCOVERED THE LEFT MAGNETO HAD GONE BAD, CAUSING THE VIBRATION.

A BOMBER BASE IN ENGLAND, MARCH 7-(AP)-HITLER HURLED EVERY AVAILABLE GERMAN FIGHTER INTO YESTERDAY'S UNSUCCESSFUL ATTEMPT TO HALT THE AMERICAN BOMBING OF BERLIN, IN THE OPINION OF ONE OF THE LEADERS OF A FORTRESS COMBAT WING.

"THIS PROVED ONE THING THAT WILL BE OBVIOUS TO THE GERMANS," 27-YEAR-OLD LT.COL.ROBERT S.KITTEL, 1006 CHEYENNE RD., COLORADO SPRINGS, COLO., SAID TODAY. "THAT IS, THAT WE CAN GO ANYWHERE WE WANT TO AND

MAKE IT WORTH OUR WHILE.

"THE GERMANS PROBABLY WOULD BE VERY WILLING TO GIVE US BACK THE BOMBERS THEY SHOOT DOWN IN EXCHANGE FOR THE FACTORIES THEY LOSE," SAID THE YOUNG AIRMAN, NOW ACTING AS COMMANDING OFFICER OF A GROUP AT THIS FORTRESS STATION, WHO HAD A "RINGSIDE SEAT" AT YESTERDAY'S TREMENDOUS AIR BATTLES.

BECAUSE OF ITS PROTECTED POSITION IN A FORMATION, KITTEL'S PLANE HAD ONLY ONE ATTACK FROM ENEMY FIGHTERS, BUT HE WAS ABLE TO SEE AMERICAN FIGHTERS--WHOSE EFFORTS HE DESCRIBED AS "ABSOLUTELY WONDERFUL"--SLASH AT THE GERMANS FROM THE BORDER TO BERLIN. HE SAID HE SAW MESSERSCHMITT 109S, 210S AND 410S AND FOCKE-WULFE 190S AND JUNKERS 88S.

MAR 8 1944

OF THE BOMBING, HE SAID: "YOU CAN'T VERY WELL MISS BERLIN."

HIS DESCRIPTION OF THE ACTION:

"IT WAS THE KIND OF A MISSION YOU LIKE TO SAY YOU'VE BEEN ON, BUT WHICH MAKES YOU THANKFUL WHEN ITS OVER. SOME OF OUR BOYS DIDN'T GET TO GO ON THE FIRST BOMBING OF BERLIN, AND THEY WERE CHAFING A BIT AFTER WE GOT INTO THE AIR, HOWEVER, IT BECAME JUST ANOTHER MISSION.

"THE ASSEMBLY OF OUR GROUP WAS PERFECT. THE BOMBERS FLEW IN AS BRIEFED--WITH EVERYBODY IN POSITION. I HAD TWO NAVIGATORS AND THEIR WORK WAS MAGNIFICENT. THE ONLY FLAK OUR WINGS GOT ON THE WHOLE TRIP WAS AT THE TARGET.

"IT WAS REALLY SOMETHING TO SEE THE WHOLE DIVISION FLY STRAIGHT TO THE TARGET TOGETHER. A TEMPORARY CLOUD COVER FORCED OUR GROUP TO USE OVERCAST BOMBING TECHNIQUE, BUT MOST OF THE DIVISION WAS ABLE TO BOMB VISUALLY.

"THE GERMANS USED TO QUEUE UP IN SINGLE FILE TO ATTACK, BUT NOW THEY HAVE BEEN FORCED TO GATHER A SIZABLE GROUP AND ATTACK TOGETHER," HE ADDED. "THEY COME THROUGH IN 12-SHIP SQUADRONS OF SIX PAIRS, AND THEY'LL FLY THREE SQUADRONS TOGETHER IF THEY CAN. THE REASON FOR THIS IS TWO-FOLD--FOR BETTER PROTECTION, AND TO LOOK LIKE OUR ESCORTS."

A BOMBER STATION IN ENGLAND, MARCH 7-(AP)-IN A ROUGH GAME OF HIDE AND SEEK WITH GERMAN FIGHTERS, LT.ROBERT C.SCHIMMEL, FORTRESS PILOT, HEDGE-HOPPED HIS BOMBER "JEANNE D'ARC" ALL THE WAY HOME FROM A GERMAN TARGET WITH ONE ENGINE GONE.

THE REST OF HIS CREW HAD BAILED OUT, AND "ALL THE WAY I KEPT THINKING TO MYSELF THAT I WOULDN'T MAKE IT," SAID THE 23-YEAR-OLD AIRMAN FROM INKSTER, MICH. HE ADMITTED HE WAS SCARED AS HE SKIMMED THE ROOFTOPS AND SENT PEOPLE RUNNING WILDLY DOWN THE STREETS OF GERMAN VILLAGES.

WITHOUT A NAVIGATOR, AND NOT KNOWING THE COUNTRY TOO WELL, HE SAID HIS BIGGEST FEAR WAS THAT HE MIGHT CRASH INTO MOUNTAINS OR STEEPLES AS HE FLOUNDERED AROUND IN LOW CLOUDS WHICH OFFERED HIS ONLY PROTECTION.

A SWARM OF MESSERSCHMITT 109S GANGED UP ON SCHIMMEL JUST AFTER HIS BOMBER LOOSED ITS BOMBS OVER THE TARGET. DIVING IN FROM ALL ANGLES, THEY FIRED MANY SALVOS INTO THE FORTRESS, HITTING FIRST THE NUMBER FOUR ENGINE. IT BURST INTO FIRE, FINALLY BURNED COMPLETELY OUT OF THE WING AND FELL OFF UBMEWNERS IN GERMANY.

FIRE SPREAD QUICKLY INTO THE WING, WHICH BEGAN TO SWELL FROM THE HEAT. IT SEEMED CERTAIN THE GAS TANKS WOULD IGNITE. HQUBH NO OTHER CHOICE, SCHIMMEL GAVE THE BAIL OUT SIGNAL. HE SAID IT WAS HIS ONLY HOPE OF SAVING THE LIVES OF HIS CREW. ONE BY ONE THEY DROPPED OUT, AND THEIR CHUTES OPENED.

JUST AS SCHIMMEL WAS ABOUT TO JOIN THEM, 13 MORE GERMAN FIGHTERS SPOTTED THE CRIPPLED SHIP AND TORE IN FOR THE KILL. SCHIMMEL POINTED THE NOSE OF HIS BURNING BOMBER INTO A CLOUD AND SHOOK OFF THE ENEMY.

FROM THEN ON, IT WAS A CASE OF DODGING FROM CLOUD TO CLOUD WITH THE GERMANS LOOKING FOR HIM. EVERYTIME SCHIMMEL WOULD STICK HIS NOSE OUT OF A CLOUD, THERE WOULD BE SOME MORE FIGHTERS THERE WAITING FOR HIM. HE'D DUCK BACK OUT OF SIGHT, THEN TRY IT AGAIN. THIS WENT ON FOR TWO HOURS.

FINALLY, HE LOST THEM COMPLETELY, JUST BEFORE REACHING THE CHANNEL.

MAR 5 1944

ALONE, AND UNABLE TO CONTACT ANYONE, BECAUSE HIS RADIO WAS ALSO SHOT OUT, SCHIMMEL HAD NO OTHER CHOICE BUT TO CRASH-LAND HIS SHIP, WHICH HE DID WITHOUT SUFFERING A SCRATCH.

WHILE THIS WAS WRITTEN AS A JOKE, IT COMES CLOSE TO BEING THE BITTER TRUTH ABOUT THE FIGHTING IN CASSINO.

ALLIED ARTILLERY TOOK HEAVY TOLL OF TWO SMALL GERMAN ATTACKS NEAR CISTERNA ON THE BEACHHEAD. ANOTHER MINOR NAZI THRUST SOUTHWEST OF CARROCETO ON THE OTHER SIDE OF THE BEACHHEAD ALSO FAILED. BRITISH TROOPS RAIDED A HOUSE OCCUPIED BY THE ENEMY IN THAT SECTOR, KILLING 10 GERMANS AND CAPTURING ONE.

FRONT DISPATCHES SAID THAT THE GERMANS, THROWN BACK IN THREE BIG ASSAULTS AGAINST THE BEACHHEAD, APPEARED TEMPORARILY CONTENT TO INCREASE THEIR FORCE OF SNIPERS AROUND ITS PERIMETER AND TO MAINTAIN A DEADLY FIRE AGAINST ANY ALLIED SOLDIERS WHO EXPOSED THEMSELVES.

(THE BRITISH ADMIRALTY ANNOUNCED THAT THE NOTED CRUISER PENELOPE WAS LOST WITH ANOTHER CRUISER AND TWO DESTROYERS IN ESTABLISHING AND MAINTAINING THE BEACHHEAD. LOSS OF THE OTHER THREE WARSHIPS HAD BEEN ANNOUNCED PREVIOUSLY.)

ALGIERS - (DUNAN) XX PRISONER

VIL'S ISLAND WAS DESIGNATED IN A DECREE PUBLISHED BY THE COMMITTEE AS A PLACE FOR DETENTION OF "DEPORTEES," OR PERSONS CONVICTED OF POLITICAL CRIMES SUCH AS TREASON. ILE ROYALE AND ST.JOSEPH'S ISLAND, IN THE SAME GROUP OFF THE FRENCH GUIANA COAST, WERE ASSIGNED FOR ORDINARY PRISONERS. THE POLICY OF SENDING PRISONERS TO THE GUIANA PENAL COLONIES HAD BEEN ABANDONED BY THE FRENCH GOVERNMENT IN 1939.

A MILITARY TRIBUNAL CONVICTED CAPT. DREYFUS OF TREASON AT THE TURN OF THE CENTURY AND HE SPENT SEVERAL YEARS ON DEVIL'S ISLAND. A LATER INVESTIGATION, AFTER THE CASE HAD BECOME A "CAUSE CELEBRE," DETERMINED THAT DREYFUS HAD BEEN WRONGLY ACCUSED AND HE WAS REHABILITATED. HE REENTERED THE ARMY DURING THE WORLD WAR, WAS PROMOTED TO LIEUTENANT-COLONEL IN 1918 AND SHORTLY AFTERWARD THE LEGION OF HONOR. HE DIED IN PARIS IN 1935.

SINCE 1939 THE PRISON POPULATION OF DEVIL'S ISLAND HAS DWINDLED TO LESS THAN 150, OF WHOM ONLY 13 ARE POLITICAL PRISONERS. THE PRISONERS LIVE IN HUTS AND ARE FREE TO OCCUPY THEMSELVES AS THEY PLEASE. PRISONERS ON THE OTHER ISLANDS ARE REQUIRED TO WORK.

THE PROSECUTION ALL BUT COMPLETED ITS TESTIMONY IN THE PUCHEU CASE YESTERDAY AND ONLY ONE WITNESS REMAINED TO BE HEARD TODAY. GEN. HENRI GIRAUD, AT WHOSE INVITATION PUCHEU HAS DECLARED HE CAME TO NORTH AFRICA, WILL OPEN THE DEFENSE TESTIMONY.

THE THREE UNDERGROUND MEMBERS TESTIFIED YESTERDAY THAT THE NATIONAL COUNCIL OF RESISTANCE HAD CONDEMNED PUCHEU TO DEATH ON SUFFICIENT DOCUMENTARY EVIDENCE IN ACCORDANCE "WITH THE WILL OF THE FRENCH PEOPLE" AND THEY URGED THE TRIBUNAL TO REAFFIRM THE SENTENCE.

ONE OF THESE WITNESSES, CHARLES LAURENT, CHAIRMAN OF THE COUNCIL'S PURGE COMMISSION, SAID HE COULD NOT RECALL THE EVIDENCE OR REPEAT THE TESTIMONY OR REMEMBER WHETHER PUCHEU WAS CONDEMNED BY THE COUNCIL IN 1942 OR 1943. ANDRE MERCIER, COMMUNIST DEPUTY, SAID THE DECISION WAS MADE BY THE COUNCIL WITHOUT DISCUSSION LAST AUGUST.

MAR 8 1944

ALBERT BOSMAN, VICE-PRESIDENT OF THE CONSULTATIVE ASSEMBLY, SAID HE LEFT FRANCE BEFORE THE MEETING WAS HELD. HE ASSERTED THAT THE DOCUMENTS NECESSARY TO CONVICT PUCHEU MIGHT BE LACKING IN NORTH AFRICA, BUT CALLED UPON THE TRIBUNAL TO CONFIRM THE DEATH SENTENCE IN THE NAME OF THE FRENCHMEN IN FRANCE "WHO ARE STILL FIGHTING TO POSSESS THESE DOCUMENTS WHICH ARE INCONTESTIBLE."

MAR 8 1944

IT IS THE POSITION OF EGYPT AND THE PAN-ARAB FEDERATION, BOTH NOW LED BY NAHAS PASHA, THAT THE ARAB COUNTRIES ARE STRONGLY OPPOSED TO PALESTINE BECOMING A JEWISH COUNTRY IN THE MIDDLE OF AN ASSOCIATION OF ARAB STATES.

UNDER THE TERMS OF A BRITISH WHITE PAPER, 75,000 JEWISH IMMIGRANTS WERE TO HAVE BEEN ADMITTED BY MARCH 31, 1944, BUT LAST NOV. 25 THE BRITISH GOVERNMENT TOOK THE POSITION THAT JEWISH IMMIGATATION INTO PALESTINE SHOULD CONTINUE AFTER THIS DATE BECAUSE ONLY ABOUT 50,000 JEWS HAD ENTERED THE COUNTRY, DUE TO WAR CONDITIONS.

AT PRESENT PALESTINE IS POPULATED BY APPROXIMATELY 1,000,000 ARABS AND 500,000 JEWS. THIS TWO-TO-ONE RATIO HAS CHANGED FROM THE OLD RATIO OF TEN-TO-ONE FAVORING THE ARABS IN RECENT YEARS.

ROUGHLY 75 PER CENT OF THE JEWISH POPULATION IN PALESTINE IS CONCENTRATED IN THREE CITIES, TEL AVIV, HAIFA AND JERUSALEM.

(DR.ISRAEL GOLDSTEIN, PRESIDENT OF THE ZIONIST ORGANIZATION OF AMERICA, DECLARED IN LONDON TUESDAY THAT PALESTINE "CAN BE MADE FIT TO ACCOMODATE ANOTHER 2,000,000 JEWS WITHOUT DISPLACING A SINGLE ARAB."

(IN A PREPARED STATEMENT DR. GOLDSTEIN ASSERTED, "THE ARABS HAVE EVERYTHING TO GAIN FROM SUCH DEVELOPMENT OF THE COUNTRY, WHILE THEIR RELIGIOUS, CIVIL AND CULTURAL LIFE WILL BE AS UNRESTRICTED AS THOSE PRESENTLY ENJOYED BY JEWISH CITIZENS OF THE UNITED STATES OR UNITED KINGDOM."

(MEANWHILE A DISPATCH FROM JERUSALEUM SAID THAT OFFICIAL JEWISH BODIES WERE SEEKING MEANS TO COMBAT TERROR METHODS APPLIED BY WHAT WAS DESCRIBED AS A SMALL GROUP OF FANATICS IN A STRUGGLE AGAINST THE BRITISH WHITE PAPER POLICY. A NUMBER OF ARRESTS HAVE BEEN MADE AS THE RESULT OF BOMBINGS.)

FIGHTING UNDER BRIG.GEN.FRANK MERRILL, THE AMERICANS CAPTURED WALAWBUM, WHICH CONTROLS AN IMPORTANT ROAD OUT OF THE HUKAWNG VALLEY. THE PRESENCE OF AMERICAN INFANTRY IN BURMA, FIGHTING THE JAPANESE IN ASIA FOR THE FIRST TIME, WAS A SECRET UNTIL YESTERDAY.

"OH, IF I ONLY HAD MORE UNITS LIKE MERRILL'S," LT.GEN.JOSEPH STILWELL COMMENTED.

THE CHINESE AND AMERICANS ARE ONLY 15 MILES FROM JAMBU BUM, A BOTTLE-NECK PASS WHERE THE HUKAWNG VALLEY ENDS AND THE MOGAUNG VALLEY BEGINS. THEY ARE LIKELY TO ENCOUNTER THE STIFFEST OPPOSITION THERE BECAUSE THE PASS IS IDEAL FOR JAPANESE DEFENSE.

THE HEAVILY ARMED AMERICANS ARE TRAINED TO MARCH IN DIFFICULT COUNTRY, 20 MILES A DAY WITH 50 TO 80 POUND PACKS. THEY ARE SO ORGANIZED THAT UNITS CAN FIGHT INDEPENDENTLY IF NECESSARY. THE CHINESE AND AMERICANS ARE BEING SUPPLIED MAINLY BY AMERICAN TRANSPORT PLANES WHICH DROP TONS OF FOOD AND MATERIEL DAILY AT A PRE-ARRANGED CLEARING.

MAJOR LOUIS WILLIAMS OF LARAMIE, WYO., EXECUTIVE OFFICER, SAID:

"THE AIR CORPS IS DOING A FINE JOB. WITHOUT IT WE WOULD BE HELPLESS.

BESPECTACLED GEN.MERRILL LOOKS MORE LIKE A BANKER THAN THE LEADER OF A ROUGH COMBAT OUTFIT. HE SPEAKS JAPANESE, WHICH HE LEARNED WHILE HE WAS MILITARY ATTACHE AT TOKYO FOR MANY YEARS. "FOR EXCEPTIONALLY MERITORIOUS CONDUCT IN THE PERFORMANCE OF OUTSTANDING SERVICE AS ASSISTANT CHIEF OF STAFF OF A MARINE DIVISION OPERATING IN THE SOLOMON ISLANDS AREA DURING THE PERIOD FROM NOVEMBER 15, TO DECEMBER 10, 1942, AND FROM DECEMBER 10, 1942, TO OCTOBER12, 1943, WHEN THE DIVISION WAS UNDERGOING REFITTING, REARMING AND REQUIPPING, COLONEL FELLERS PERFORMED HIS DUTIES AS ADMINISTRATOR AND COORDINATOR FOR THE RELEASE OF COMBAT EQUIPMENT TO THE ARMY AND THE SUBSEQUENT REFITTING. HIS AGGRESSIVENESS, LOYALTY AND HIS COMPLETE UNDERSTANDING OF THE MANY ESSENTIALS INVOLVED, MATERIALLY ASSISTED THE DIVISION TO ATTAIN ITS HIGH STATE OF COMBAT EFFICIENCY. HIS DEVOTION TO DUTY WAS IN KEEPING WITH THE HIGHEST TRADITIONS OF THE UNITED STATES NAVAL SERVICE."

COLONEL FELLERS ENLISTED IN THE MARINE CORPS, WHILE STILL A STUDENT AT GEORGIA TECH, WHEN THE UNITED STATES ENTERED THE LAST WAR IN 1917. HE WAS ASSIGNED TO SEA DUTY AND SERVED IN THAT CAPACITY IN EUROPEAN WATERS DURING THE CONFLICT. HE WAS COMMISSIONED SECOND LIEUTENANT DECEMBER 16, 1918.

MAJURO LAGOON IN THE MARSHALL ISLANDS, FEB. 12-(DELAYED)-THE JAPANESE LET AMERICAN FORCES WALK IN AND TAKE THIS VALUABLE SHIPPING ANCHORAGE WITHOUT A FIGHT.

IN CAPTURING MAJURO ATOLL DURING THE MARSHALL OPERATIONS, A DETACHMENT OF MARINES FOUND ONLY FOUR JAPANESE.

A NAVAL CHIEF PETTY OFFICER WAS CAPTURED THE FIRST DAY. THREE CIVILIANS HID OUT. JUST AS THE MARINES STARTED OUT THE SECOND MORNING TO HUNT THEM, THE CIVILIANS APPEARED AT THE DOCK WITH PACKED SUITCASES, READY TO GO WHEREVER THE AMERICANS WANTED.

WHEN THE MARSHALLS WERE HELD BY THE GERMANS BEFORE THE FIRST WORLD WAR, MAJURO WAS THE GEMANS' MAJOR BASE.

THE JAPANESE LEFT INTACT THE NEARLY FINISHED CONCRETE HEADQUARTERS BUILDING, EQUIPPED WITH ELECTRIC LIGHTS, CEMENT BATH TUBS AND TOILETS. THE WINDOWS, NOT YET INSTALLED, WERE STACKED AGAINST THE BUILDING WALLS. EVIDENTLY WHEN THE NIPPONESE LEFT, THEY TOOK ALL THE NATIVE MEN AND WOMEN BETWEEN THE AGES OF 20 AND 40 TO WORK ON OTHER MARSHALLS BASES.

THE JAPANESE TOOK SUPPLIES AND EQUIPMENT FROM THE REMAINING OLDSTERS AND THE CHILDREN. KEROSENE LAMPS, USED FOR NIGHT FISHING, WERE AMONG THE THINGS CONFISCATED.

THE CHIEF REPORTED HIS PEOPLE KNEW THE AMERICANS WOULD COME TO THE ISLAND. HE SAID THE NATIVES AT FIRST HAD SEEN ALL JAPANESE PLANES. THEN THEY BEGAN SEEING AMERICAN PLANES AND FEWER JAPANESE. FINALLY, NO JAPANESE PLANES FLEW OVER. WHAT THE NATIVES SAW IN THE SKY CONVINCED THEM THE JAPANESE WOULD BE DRIVEN OUT.

MAJURO SHOULD PROVE VALUABLE TO THE AMERICANS AS A STAGING AND CONCENTRATION POINT FOR ATTACKS ON OTHER ENEMY-HELD MARSHALL BASES. MAJURO, LOCATED BETWEEN JALUIT AND MILI, HAS AN EXCELLENT ANCHORAGE SUITABLE FOR ALL CLASSES OF WARSHIPS. IT WAS USED BY GERMAN CRUISERS IN 1914. THE LAGOON AREA IS ABOUT 90 SQUARE MILES. ADDITIONALLY, MAJURO ISLET HAS A LONG NARROW STRIP OCCUPYING MOST OF THE SOUTHERN SIDE OF THE ATOLL WHICH MAY PROVE SUITABLE FOR BUILDING AN AIRFIELD.

THE ATOLL IS ABOUT 21 MILES LONG AND SIX MILES WIDE. MAJURO AT ONE TIME WAS THE MOST POPULOUS MARSHALL ATOLL, INHABITED BY 1,600 PERSONS, NEARLY ALL OF THEM NATIVES.

THE RADIO RECEIVING STATION CLOSED BY POSTAL AUTHORITIES BELONG TO LA NACION, WHICH IN 1937 AUTHORIZED ITS USE TO RECEIVE AP NEWSCASTS FROM NEW YORK. THERE WAS NO QUESTION RAISED THEN OF ANY PAYMENT OF DUTIES. THE STATION WAS NOT OPERATED BY THE AP, WHICH USED THE REPORT RECEIVED BY LA NACION TO MAKE TRANSLATIONS FOR DISTRIBUTION TO OTHER ARGENTINE AND URUGUAYAN NEWSPAPERS.

A DECREE ISSUED DURING THE REGIME OF PRESIDENT RAMON CASTILLO FORBADE FOREIGN NEWS AGENCIES TO DISTRIBUTE ARGENTINE NEWS TO ARGENTINE NEWSPAPERS AND RADIOS. SHORTLY AFTERWARD THE ASOCIACION NOTICIOSA ARGENTINA WAS CREATED AS AN ARGENTINE NEWS AGENCY AND MADE AN EXCHANGE AGREEMENT WITH THE AP, WHILE PRENSA UNIDA WAS ESTABLISHED AS UP'S ARGENTINE BRANCH.

THE ARGENTINE AGENCIES GATHERED LOCAL NEWS WHICH WAS DISTRIBUTED TO ARGENTINE NEWSPAPERS BUT ALSO TO AP AND UP FOR TRANSMISSION ABROAD.

THE POSTAL AUTHORITIES NOW CHARGE THE UP AND AP WITH USING TELETYPE FACILITIES TO TRANSMIT STORIES ORIGINATING WITH ASOCIACION NOTICIOSA ARGENTINA AND PRENSA UNIDA TO THEIR MONTEVIDEO OFFICES. ALL SUCH STORIES, HOWEVER, ARE ALWAYS SLUGGED "AP" OR "UP" AND MONTEVIDEO NEWSPAPERS USE THEM AS ASSOCIATED PRESS OR UNITED PRESS MATERIAL.

THESE ARGENTINE NEWS AGENCIES NOW ARE PRACTICALLY ELIMINATED FROM ANY ACTIVITY, THROUGH THE BAN ON THEIR USING ALL MEANS OF COMMUNICATIONS IN ARGENTINA.

THE POSTOFFICE DECISIONS CAME AFTER FARRELL'S WAR MINISTER COL. JUAN PERON HAD STATED TWO WEEKS AGO THAT FREEDOM OF THE PRESS WOULD BE RESPECTED IN ARGENTINA. BUT A STATUTE AFFECTING NEWSPAPERMEN, WHICH PERON HAS BEEN PREPARING FOR MONTHS, IS NOW VERY NEAR DEFINITE APPROVAL. IT WILL INCLUDE AMONG OTHER THINGS AN OFFICIAL RECORD OF ALL NEWSPAPERMEN IN ARGENTINA--A CONDITION WHICH LA PRENSA AND LA NACION DECLARED WOULD BE A WORSE GAG THAN A RESTRICTIVE PRESS DECREE ISSUED ON NEW YEAR'S EVE. PERON SAID THE NEW YEAR'S DECREE WOULD BE ABROGATED.

THE RAF HAS DROPPED 26,880 TONS OF BOMBS ON BERLIN IN THE 15 GREAT ASSAULTS IT HAS CARRIED OUT AT NIGHT SINCE THE "BATTLE OF BERLIN" BEGAN LAST NOV.18. SEVERAL THOUSAND ADDITIONAL TONS WERE DROPPED BEFORE THAT TIME, AND COMPARATIVELY MINOR TONNAGE HAS BEEN DUMPED ON THE GERMAN CAPITAL BY BRITISH MOSQUITO BOMBERS, MAKING FREQUENT NIGHT FORAYS.

THE AAF, WHILE ANNOUNCING NO FIGURES, NOW HAS PROBABLY DROPPED

AT LEAST 2,000 TONS OF EXPLOSIVES AND INCENDIARIES ON BERLIN. THE FIRST ATTACK LAST SATURDAY WAS MADE BY A SINGLE FORMATION, WHILE MONDAY'S MAJOR ASSAULT WAS MADE BY PROBABLY 800 TO 900 FORTRESSES AND LIBERATORS.

Huge U. S. Air Fleet Blasts Berlin Again; 1,400 Tons Loosed, 350,000 Fire Bombs; 1,100 Fighters in Escort Down 83 of Foe

Number of German Planes Downed by Bombers Still Being Tallied.

RAID RESULTS 'GOOD'

Huge Ball Bearing Factory Smashed—10,000 Bombs Are Dropped.

LONDON, March 8.—(AP) U. S. Flying Fortresses and Liberators with a tremendous fighter escort, which made up an armada estimated at between 1,600 and 2,000 planes, struck at Berlin today for the third time in five days with what a conservatively-worded American communique called "good results."

Out of the huge fleet 38 bombers and 16 fighters were lost, but the escorting planes alone knocked down 83 enemy aircraft; gunners aboard the bombers destroyed others yet untabulated.

The communique named the Erkner ball-bearing factory in an eastern Berlin suburb as one of the primary targets for "a concentrated attack by divisions of B-17 Flying Fortresses and B-24 Liberators of the Eighth Air Force" and said that other industrial and military targets in the capital area also were bombed.

Ten thousand high explosive bombs and 350,000 incendiaries were cascaded down upon the ruined capital, the communique disclosed, and this devastating load was estimated at approximately 2,000 tons.

In plunging 600 miles into the heart of the Reich again, the American air fleet proved its ability to bound back within two days from the savage battle it fought along the same route Monday, when a record of 68 U. S. bombers were lost and a record of 179 enemy aircraft were shot down.

Losses Cut in Half

The fact that today's losses were reduced almost half—38 bombers out of a force of probably 800 to 1,100—indicated the strain that the repeated Allied attacks have placed on Germany's air defenses.

The two great American punches at Berlin this week have destroyed at least 259 planes badly needed by the Germans, not counting the toll taken by the bombers themselves in today's raid. Headquarters said this total was not yet tabulated. The bag credited to fighters today was exactly the same as on Monday.

An R.A.F. commentator indicated tonight that the attacks by both the U. A. A.A.F. and R.A.F. were part of a master plan designed to crush the enemy's power to fight.

"The actions of the R.A.F. and American Air Forces are most closely interlocked," he stated. "The targets are selected according to a plan worked out in conjunction with the Ministry of Economic Warfare. Coordination of the two forces could not be closer."

The Erkner factory, it was said, ranked right behind Schweinfurt and Stuttgart in the production of ball bearings.

Desperate Defense

The Germans again attempted a desperate defense of their capital and groups of Nazi fighters ganged up on individual bombers, but the communique asserted, "our very strong fighter escort defeated them again."

The Berlin radio said the Americans tried up until the last minute to give the impression that they were not aiming at Berlin, changing their course several times.

The broadcast said bombs were dropped on one rural community north of the capital, destroying half the houses, killing 100 persons and wounding 200.

Another Berlin broadcast claimed that 84 U. S. planes, including 60 heavy bombers, had been downed.

But the American announcement showed losses on the thundering return visit to Berlin were less than the Eighth Air Force used to lose on much shorter stabs against such targets as Frankfurt, Bremen and Kiel.

The pattern for today's attack was much the same as was followed Monday. The bombers reached Berlin at about the same time, found the air there black with flak again, and had the same bitter fight with enemy interceptors going in and coming out.

Weather Clear Over Berlin

Flying through light clouds most of the way, the American armada found clear weather over their targets as some planes streaked to the heart of the capital and others attacked the city's southwestern edge.

As on Monday, the Nazis threw up the best of their air force. Returning crews reported the enemy again seemed to concentrate on one bomber group at a time, allowing others to reach the targets almost unscathed.

Berlin was surrounded with a flashing ring of flak inside of which were numerous flaming explosions. Fields of fire with mushrooming pillars of smoke visible 100 miles away attested to the accuracy of the big battlefleet.

Today's fighter escort appeared to have been larger than that which went out Monday. Then a record 68 bombers were shot down from a force estimated at 850.

A total of at least 176 German planes were shot down Monday.

600-Mile Battle

Today the bitter aerial battles were waged all along the 600-mile path of the bomber stream and it was soon evident that the operation would be a costly one for the Eighth Air force, but probably more expensive for the thinning German air force.

One Thunderbolt fighter group alone claimed 27 kills upon its return today and it seemed certain that the total number of Germans shot down by both fighters and bombers would be large.

American reports said the bombing was accurate today and they brought back photographs to prove it.

The glowing tone of the first headquarters announcement today, with a specific report on the number of bombs dropped, gave every hope that the operation was a sound success for the strategic air force.

The report on the number of bombs dropped gave no indication of the tonnage. The high explosives come in sizes ranging from 250 pounds upward, while the incendiary bombs widely used by the a forces of both sides in this war weigh no more than a few pounds apiece, and 350,000 of these could total as little as 500 tons.

Swift American medium Marauders stabbed at unspecified targets in Holland early today and a few hours after the R.A.F. heavy night fleet had struck a second successive blow against Nazi railway centers, bombing the yards at Lemans, 110 miles southwest of Paris, without losing a plane. In addition R.A.F. Mosquitos bombed Germany for the sixth successive night.

Today's American precision assault on Berlin, the eighth big attack in ten days for the American heavy bombers, was aimed at industrial targets still standing after the R.A.F.'s 15 nights of area bombing in which a total of 24,000 long tons have been dropped.

The fact that the R.A.F. has not coordinated its night bombing with the American daylight attacks on Berlin, as it is able to do if it wished, leads to the belief that the destruction of the capital from a strategic standpoint may be nearly complete except for the elimination of certain individual targets which are best spotted in the day-time. The American attacks did not begin until after thorough British reconnaissance of the Berlin ruins.

4th Trip In Week Made To Nazi

Capital

1122

MAR 9 1944

London, March 8 (AP)—Strong forces of United States Fortresses and Liberators — possibly 1,100 bombers—set huge fires in Berlin today on the American Air Force's fourth visit to the German capital within six days.

More than 10,000 explosive bombs blasted the city. More than 350,000 incendiary bombs set the fires.

From these officially announced figures, the British Press Association estimated that possibly 1,100 heavy bombers made the trip, escorted by as many fighters.

Fighters Report

First reports from the fighters showed they had shot down at least 30 German planes.

One group of about 50 bombers attacked targets at the southwestern edge of Berlin while others braved a great flak barrage over the heart of Hitler's capital.

Light clouds which covered the bombers most of the way to Berlin opened up over the city to disclose the targets.

On the return, pilots said, Berlin's fires were visible for a distance of 100 miles.

The Berlin radio told of heavy fighting on the approaches to the capital and claimed more than 80 American planes were downed. German claims following Monday's raid were almost double the officially announced figure of 69—68 bombers and 11 fighters.

Eighth In 10 Days

It was the American heavy bombers' eighth big assault in ten days, and came after only one day's interval since the last heavy attack on the German capital.

The German radio said that the bombers came over in "seven main formations" under heavy escort, and that "pitched air battles developed over border territories."

A United States Air Force announcement said:

"Strong forces of Flying Fortresses and Liberators of the Eighth Air Force, escorted by large formations of AAF and RAF fighters, attacked industrial targets in the Berlin district today.

"More than 350,000 incendiary bombs and more than 10,000 high explosive bombs were dropped. It was the fourth operation by American aircraft over the Berlin district within eight days."

One Formation Raid

The American daylight aerial campaign against Berlin started last Friday when Lightning fighters penetrated to the capital. This was followed up Saturday by the Americans' first bomber attack, by one formation.

Monday's big attack was made by a force estimated unofficially as upward of 850 bombers.

The German radio, as on Monday, reported heavy air battles in progress over northwestern Germany and west of Hannover.

This aerial combat started about 1 P. M., said the radio, about half an hour after the American armada crossed the German frontier.

Radio Blacks Out

At midmorning German radio stations had blacked out to avoid giving the invaders directional beams.

Monday's Berlin raid brought a record American loss of 68 bombers and 11 fighters, but the air force announced 176 German planes were shot down.

Shortly after 5 P. M. the German radio acknowledged "American bombers again attempted with strong forces to reach Berlin."

"The execution of this attack was very nearly perfectly similar to the one adopted the day before yesterday," the Berlin radio continued. "A new big defensive success for German air defense is expected."

The first group of escorting Thunderbolt fighters to return reported shooting down 27 Nazi planes.

The attack kept the Allies' round-the-clock bombing campaign going uninterruptedly after the RAF's second successive night attack on Nazi railroad centers in France.

During the day swift United States Marauder medium bombers joined in the attack on the continent, flying into Holland. They struck unspecified targets in an area where many German air fields have been bombed in the past.

A few hours earlier RAF bombers returned from a heavy attack against railroad yards at LeMans, 110 miles southwest of Paris. The RAF suffered no losses despite an anti-aircraft barrage and a force of night fighters which the Germans summoned.

Coupled with the blow at LeMans, RAF Mosquito bombers raided western Germany for the sixth successive night. These speedy wooden bombers now carry a ton of explosives, putting them in the medium bomber class.

LeMans, site of a Renault engine plant and a section of the Gnome-Rhone airplane engine works, is in the dead center of the eastern half of France, and is the most convenient funnel for routing big rail shipments between the northern French coast and the western and southwestern stretches.

Doom Hits A Nazi War Plan

JAMESON

London, March 8 (AP)—German fighters screaming down out of the sun knocked some holes in United States bomber formations today, but failed to keep the tremendous fleet from destroying one of Hitler's last great ball-bearing factories.

The plant was the giant Erkner works on the outskirts of the Nazi capital.

"I think every fighter in the German air force must have been after us today," said Capt. Richard E. Bynua, 26, Arabi, La., pilot of a leading Fortress, "but we got through and left the place in a whale of a mess."

From 50 To 200 Nazi Fighters

Estimates of the number of Nazi fighters in the air over the bearing works ranged from 50 to 200.

The fighters maneuvered wildly to stretch out between the brilliant sun and the bombers, engines wide open and guns blazing. Returning pilots said the air battles began hours before they reached Berlin and continued out to the Zuider Zee on the way back.

"FW-109s were coming in so fast we simply couldn't see them all," said Sergt. John F. Belsey, 22, of New York city. "They were weaving through one formation and I saw four Fortresses go down. They were shooting everything they had at us."

Unscathed But Sweating

Sergt. John C. Sweeney, 24, of Windsor, Ontario, was all but dancing a jig "because one single-engined fighter roared by and a 20-millimeter shell from his cannon went through the ship behind my leg, another went across a few inches in front of my leg and a third clipped a piece off my chair and the floor under my feet was all splintered. I wasn't scratched, but boy, was I sweating!"

Some crewmen reported that at 20,000-feet altitude, smoke from the blasted city was boiling up level with them, and said columns of smoke were visible 50 to 100 miles away.

FORTRESS STARTS FOR BERLIN BUT FLIES OVER PARIS

BEALMEAR

A U. S. BOMBER BASE IN ENGLAND, March 8.—(AP) The first American air raid on Berlin has become history and been surpassed by new blasts at the German capital, but some of the crews still are talking about one Fortress which started out last Saturday to bomb Berlin and wound up over Paris.

This big bomber, piloted by Lt. Mario L. Cornell of Cleveland, became separated from the formation somewhere along the way.

"The weather was impossible and we ran into intense flak," said Co-Pilot Lt. Raymond F. Carre of San Francisco, in recounting the experience.

"We dropped our bombs on this flak area and our bomb doors wouldn't close."

Lt. James M. Mellberg also of California interposed. "Our tail gunner passed out because of lack of oxygen and I had to take an emergency bottle back to him."

Risked Life for Comrade

"Yes," added Carr, "Jim walked over that open bomb-bay on a narrow catwalk with no parachute and his arms full of oxygen bottles."

"It was 52 below zero," explained Mellberg, "and when I got back there I found the waist gunner with frozen feet and the tailgunner in bad shape, suffering from both cold and lack of oxygen.

"We dropped from 26,000 feet to 3,000 feet in order to revive these men, but it still was overcast. In looking for a hole in the clouds we got turned around.

"Finally we found a break and discovered that we were passing over a coastline. We thought it was England, but we couldn't find any airfields and couldn't make radio contact. We were afraid we had overshot and reached Ireland.

"Then we picked up a radio beam and followed it back to where we had come from—over water and then land."

Carr took up the story, saying, "pretty soon a vast city stretched below us. We thought it was London.

"Then Mellberg yelled, 'hey, there's the Eiffel Tower' and sure enough it was Paris.

"We had followed the German radio beam down from the Zuider Zee which was the water we had been over.

"We made a quick turn, went down to 100 feet and scooted out of there going like mad for home. Seeing the Eiffel Tower was all we needed to give us our bearing and we knew we could get home from there."

FLAK BATTERED FORTRESS LIMPS HOME WITH CREW

(BEALMEAR)

AT A U. S. BOMBER BASE IN ENGLAND, March 8 — (AP) A flak-battered Flying Fortress limped back to this base today with the body of its 27-year-old right waist-gunner dangling from the jammed bomb-bay doors.

The gunner, a sergeant making his first trip over Berlin, died on the return trip from lack of oxygen after becoming wedged in the doors which he was trying to shut by hand.

Despite a low oxygen supply and the loss of two engines hit by flak, the determined crew went on to Berlin, bombed their objective and returned with the heroic story of their futile effort to save the life of their waist-gunner.

"We hardly were more than over the enemy coast when flak started and all of it was aimed at us," said Capt. Douglas H. Buskey, of Fitchburg, Mass., the pilot. "Two engines were crippled and one burst of flak hit the top turret."

"From then on it was a question of whether or not we should turn back. We decided to go on."

After the bombs had been dumped on the Berlin target the bomb-bay would not close.

Sgt. George Thomas of Pittsburgh, Pa., tried to close them with a handcrank which the right waist-gunner brought him. It was during this process that the gunners' foot caught in the bomb-bay and he lost his emergency oxygen bottle.

"While I was trying to help him out my oxygen bottle fell through the partly open doors too," said Sgt. Louis J. Kyler of Shawville, Pa., the radio operator. "I had to go back to my position."

Pvt. Willis Volkeming, the left waist-gunner on his 12th mission and the only veteran in the crew, also attempted unsuccessfully to extricate his mate who by this time had fainted and dropped part of the way through the bomb-bay doors.

"When I came back again he had slipped farther through the doors," said Kyler. "Every time we tried to move him he would go down a little more."

Kyler removed his own oxygen bottle and fastened it to the trapped man. He then lashed him to the bomb-bay and hurried back to his position to get much-needed oxygen for himself.

"Everything possible was done to save his life," Kyler said.

Yanks On Berlin Raid Meet Only 6 Fighters

A Mustang Fighter Base in England, March 8 (AP)—Mustang fighter pilots who covered the second wave of bombers hitting Berlin today reported they saw only a half dozen German fighters, and shot down three of these.

J. KING

The first report of pilots at this base said the defense was not nearly so intense as that in the battle of Berlin two days ago. Visibility was celar over the German capital. The pilots said the hardest part of their job was the six-hour, 1,200-mile round trip.

Lieut. Col. George R. Bickell, 27, of Nutley, N. J., who led the stout Mustangs on both Berlin raids, said:

"We were with the bombers for 40 minutes and saw very little stuff and no more than half a dozen enemy aircraft. It was nowhere near as rought as the other time. For us today, there wasn't anything to it."

U. S. Flyers Facing Death, Lay Wagers

BARKER

United States Bomber Station, England, March 8 (AP)—Ten Liberator crewmen had to bail out into the icy North Sea—five of them to their death—when their last engine quit two minutes from the English coast as they were returning from Monday's Berlin raid.

"Two minutes more and we would have made it," said Pilot Lieutenant Elmer B. Crockett, of Hampton, Va. "If that last engine had only held out a little longer!"

"Although my boys knew they might never be picked up in time, before they jumped they were betting on who would hit the water first," he said. "If that isn't American spirit, I don't know what is. I'm not a churchman or a praying man, but I sure prayed that day."

Shot up by flak and German fighters, the bomber had only two engines left as it headed across the sea. Crockett could not ditch the plane, because the bomb-bay doors were stuck open.

"One wing was shaking and ready to fall off, but those Germans made me so damn mad I said I'd fly her until there wasn't a wing left," he said.

The crew stuck with her until the last engine stopped. Then Crockett glided her as long as possible, so they could parachute. He said that shortly after he jumped she crashed into the water and broke to pieces.

FLYER CHOSE DEATH TO SAVE VILLAGERS

BEALMEAR

A United States Fighter Base, England, March 8 (A. P.).—Lieut. Charles F. Gumm Jr., a fighter ace who was the first Mustang pilot to shoot down an enemy plane over Europe, died a hero's death eight days ago to save civilians from his crashing plane, it was disclosed today. Lieut. Gumm's home was in Spokane, Wash.

Canon W. L. Wright of St. James Vicarage in Nayland, who came to this base to tell the pilot's buddies that the townspeople were deeply touched by his sacrifice, said many persons saw the plane falling toward the village, when the engine failed. Lieut. Gumm could have bailed out, but the plane would have crashed into houses.

Instead, the flyer tried to reach an open field, but was so low a wing caught a tree, flipping the plane over and throwing Lieut. Gumm to his death.

Canon Wright obtained a picture of the pilot, which he hung in a prominent place. He said the villagers wished to write Lieut. Gumm's family and had started a fund for a memorial.

Lieut. Gumm was the leading ace at this station, with seven and one-half planes to his credit. His wife Toni and their 10-months-old daughter live in Spokane.

U. S. FLYER BAGS TWENTIETH NAZI

London, March 8 (A. P.).—Capt. Walker Mahurin, Thunderbolt flying ace from Fort Wayne, Ind., shot down three German planes today on the Berlin raid, bringing his total score to twenty—a record for this theater and only six under the world war I record of Capt. Eddie Rickenbacker.

Capt. Mahurin previously had been tied at seventeen victories with Lieut. Robert E. Johnson, Lawton, Okla.

600,000 Figured In Berlin Foray

London, March 8 (AP)—Perhaps 600,000 men were involved on both sides of today's great American bombing of Berlin—placing the operation definitely in the "battle" class.

Figuring the attacking force conservatively at 800 heavy bombers and the same number of fighters would put American personnel aloft at a minimum of 8,800. Ground crews and administrative staffs responsible for getting this fleet into the sky numbered at least 50,000.

Air experts in London estimated that the attack drew into action in Germany at least 500,000 defensive personnel — including airmen, ground crews, anti-aircraft batteries—and many thousands of air raid wardens and rescue squads in Berlin and along the 600-mile route of the attackers.

British Laud Yanks For Berlin Raids

London, Thursday, March 9 (AP). The Daily Express said in an editorial today that "the British people this day pay the highest tribute to the men of America who bomb Berlin by day.

"The heroic engagement of yesterday that followed the raid earlier in the week shows a spirit of determination that insures the future of the world and inspires confidence in all free people.

"Here are fighting men ranged on our side. Here are men of skill, men of daring, men of audacity, men of courage, men of fortitude and men of endurance."

James Stewart Wins Air Medal

A UNITED STATES BOMBER BASE IN ENGLAND, March 8 (AP).—Major James Stewart, former Hollywood film star who now commands a Liberator squadron, has received the Air Medal for five combat missions. Major Stewart now has eight missions to his credit.

Nazis' Bombs Have Hit 4,000 English Churches

British Clergyman in Boston Lauds Reconstruction Efforts

BOSTON, March 8 (AP).—Four thousand churches in England have been destroyed or damaged by German bombs, but the churches "are facing their tasks of reconstruction in a gallant and high-hearted manner," the Rev. William Cecil Northcott, B. A. M. A., of London, home secretary of the London Missionary Society, said today.

The clergyman, who also is literary superintendent of the society, which sent David Livingstone to Africa, is here on a nine-day visit.

He listed the destruction of churches, by denominations, as follows: Church of England, 163 destroyed, 1,280 damaged; Baptist and Congregationalist, more than 800 lost or damaged; Methodists, 1,316 lost or damaged; Church of Scotland, nine destroyed, 170 damaged; Roman Catholic, 234 lost or damaged.

The Congregationalist Church, he added, was completing a drive for $2,000,000 for reconstruction purposes.

The Rev. Mr. Northcott, in a statement, paid high tribute to the American soldier stationed in England, saying: "Your American boys have won the hearts of the British people by their kindness and generosity to British children."

SPITFIRE PLANES GET NEW ENGINES

LONDON, March 8—(AP) R.A.F. Spitfire planes now are equipped with new super-power, liquid cooled engines derived from the one with which Sir Malcolm Campbell set his automobile and speedboat records, it was disclosed today.

The new engine, called the "Griffon"—mythological winged lion—was designed and made by the Rolls Royce manufacturers who produced the "Merlin," which is credited as an important factor in winning the Battle of Britain in 1940.

"If aircraft engined with the Merlin won the Battle of Britain, it is possible that planes engined with the Griffon will win the battle of Germany," said A. F. Sidegreaves, Rolls Royce managing director.

The most spectacular fighter in the battle of Germany thus far has been the P-51B American Mustang, with a Merlin engine and a much longer range than the Spitfire.

The Griffon has 12 cylinders, 23 per cent bigger than the Merlin, with a bore of six inches and a stroke of 6.6. Its horsepower is secret.

The cylinder arrangement and size are the same as in the engine which won Britain the Schneider trophy and which Campbell used in both the "Bluebird" car and boat in 1939.

REDS REJECT POLISH OFFER

Hope For Settlement Fades With Firm Soviet Stand

London, March 8 (AP)—Chances for a rapprochement between the Polish Government-in-exile and the Russian Government faded tonight as Moscow's flat rejection of the Poles' offer to establish a temporary Polish-Russian boundary was conveyed to the Poles by the British, through whom it was transmitted.

Both Governments appeared to have taken a firm stand. The Russians insisted upon acceptance of the Curzon Line, which Prime Minister Churchill recently implied would meet with British approval. The Poles refuse to make any permanent boundary settlement until after the war.

Some Poles are hopeful that their cause might be helped when Under Secretary of State Edward Stettinius arrives here and presents American views of the dispute to Britain.

Unless some temporary agreement is reached now, they fear a rival Polish Government under Soviet sponsorship will be set up.

British Notify Exiled Government of Moscow's Action on Compromise Proposal.

London, March 8 (A. P.).—Russian rejection of a Polish compromise offer for a temporary settlement of the countries' boundary dispute was conveyed tonight by the British to the Polish Government in Exile.

The Poles indicated Moscow's stand—reported to include insistence upon an immediate permanent settlement of the boundaries on the basis of the Curzon Line and an attendant reshuffling of the Polish Government—would be considered by their Cabinet later this week.

The British press had reported the Russian rejection this morning, but several hours later Premier Stanislaw Mikolajczyk said that his government had not yet been informed of it. There was strong resentment among Polish leaders.

"It was understood here that in rejecting the counter-proposals, the Kremlin reiterated that no understanding can be reached unless certain allegedly "anti-Soviet" elements are eliminated from the exiled government, and the Curzon line is accepted as Poland's eastern boundary.

Reply To Letter

This correspondent asked Mikolajczyk in a letter:

"In view of the Russian refusal of the Polish compromise offer, do you see any further hope for re-establishment of relations between the Polish and Soviet governments?"

The Polish Premier replied:

"I regret not to be able to answer your question, as the Polish Government has no knowledge of Soviet refusal to the latest suggestions of the British Government."

Details On Administration

The compromise offer in the Polish reply was said to have called for Polish administration of territories west of the Curzon line, with modifications to include Vilna and Lwow on the Polish side. Permanent boundaries would be fixed by negotiations with the elected government in Poland after the war. This plan was said to have been approved by the Polish Cabine after heated session in which Mikolajczyk threatened to resign.

The Poles now are openly dissatisfied with British handling of their negotiations with Moscow after Churchill's support of Soviet demands, as voiced in his speech of February 22, and are looking forward to the visit of United States Under Secretary of State Edward Stettinius.

Slice-Of-Germany Plan

Some Poles say Washington is opposed to the Churchill-Stalin idea of giving Poland slices of Germany.

Mikolajczyk is said to have taken the firm stand that no Polish Government in exile can cede territory to the Russians without an election in Poland.

Thus the Russo-Polish dispute appeared headed for a deadlock which even mass Polish Cabinet resignations might not be able to break in the face of the persistent Moscow demand for settlement of the boundary question now.

BRITISH WAR OUTPUT CITED

Lyttelton Lists 83,000 Armored Vehicles And 90,000 Planes

London, March 8 (AP)—War-production figures since Britain entered the war were disclosed today by Oliver Lyttelton, who reported that British factories had turned out 83,000 tanks and armored vehicles, more than 1,000,000 unarmored war vehicles and 90,000 planes through the end of 1943.

Production Minister Lyttelton told Commons that emphasis on heavy bombers had enabled Britain to deliver "more than 75 per cent. of the structure-weight" of a aircraft accepted by the RAF and the Fleet Air Arm in 1943. The United States supplied 18 per cent. of the deliveries, and 6 per cent. came from the British Commonwealth.

80 Per Cent. Combat Types

Lyttelton said more than 80 per cent. of current aircraft output is concentrated in combat-type ships, the balance being transports, trainers and target aircraf

"When it is remembered how large a proportion of our output has been heavy bombers, each of which is equivalent to four fighters and 40 primary trainers in terms of man-hours, it can be realized that the operational value of our production is far greater than the figures alone reveal," Lyttelton reported.

More Than Replace Losses

British naval construction has been "more than sufficient to replace the losses we have sustained, particularly in earlier years," the production boss reported. He said British marine construction had been concentrated in naval work, while the United States carried the load in construction of merchant shipping required by the United Nations.

"Our own vast production has been helped and supplemented by supplies and war materials of all kinds from the United States and the empire," Lyttelton said. "While we may legitimately take pride in our own achievements, we shall never cease to be grateful for that."

Other production totals reported, to January 1, 1944, included: 115,000 guns of larger than 20 millimeters; 150,000,000 rounds of artillery ammunition; nearly 5,500,000 machine guns, rifles and small arms; 7,000,000,000 rounds of small-arms ammunition.

Britain Produces 90,000 Airplanes

London, March 8 (AP)—British Production Minister Oliver Lyttelton, disclosing hitherto secret figures on British war production, told Commons today that Britain had produced more than 90,000 planes from the beginning of the war to the end of 1943.

By far the greater part consisted of combat types, he said, and just over four-fifths of current aircraft production was made up of bombers, fighters and naval reconnaissance planes, the balance being transports, trainers and target aircraft.

British naval construction, he said, has more than replaced losses.

"Our own vast production has been helped and supplimented by supplies of war materials of all kinds from the United States, and while we may legitimately take pride in the achievement of the British Commonwealth, we shall never cease to be grateful for the contribution of our American friends," Lyttelton declared.

Move Made To Settle Yugoslav Division

London, March 8 (AP)—The Yugoslav family quarrel between the Cabinet of King Peter and the Partisan forces of Tito appeared tonight to be nearing a solution with the arrival in London of two of Peter's ministers, Ivo Cicin and M. Grisogongo.

They came at the "urgent invitation" of the British Government, and others—possibly including the young King himself—are expected shortly for further conferences.

There are indications that unless the Cairo regime agrees to back the Partisan forces of Tito and rids itself of its anti-Tito elements, it may forfeit Allied recognition. A solution is considered likely either if Peter ditches his Cabinet and joins Tito, or if he reshuffles his Cabinet to include Partisan members and eliminates Premier Bozhidar Puric and Gen. Draja Mihailovic.

Parley May Relieve Allied-Slav Disunity

London, March 8 (AP)—A showdown in the relations between the Allies and the Yugoslav Government-in-exile appeared imminent today with the arrival from Cairo of two members of King Peter's Cabinet to discuss the possibility of the latter's cooperation with Marshal Josip Broz (Tito), leader of the Yugoslav Army of Liberation.

It was disclosed that Finance Minister Ivo Cicin and Communications Minister M. Grisogongo came to London at the "urgent invitation" of the British Government, and there were indications that unless the Cairo regime agrees to back Tito and rid itself of its anti-Tito elements it may forfeit Allied recognition.

British annoyance over the refusal of King Peter and Premier Bozhidar Puric to cooperate with Tito, and their continued support of Gen. Draja Mihailovic is mounting, informed quarters said.

FRENCH COMMENTATOR SAYS INVASION NEAR

LONDON, March 8 — (AP) Jean Paquis, commentator on the German-controlled Paris radio, said tonight:

"This is the last week of three years of patient waiting. Next Wednesday, unless Churchill changes his plans, the Anglo-Americans will have landed in the West. The great Anglo-American offensive will have begun."

Split-Up Of Reich Urged

London, March 8 (AP)—The Ear of Mansfield proposed today in the House of Lords that Germany b divided into five to eight states as one means of achieving permanent peace in Europe, and advocated compulsory transfer of all Germans back into Germany.

"It is highly undesirable that ever again should large bodies of Germans be permitted to exist as an entity within the boundaries of any state," he said.

Viscount Cranborne said that the Government could not give a detailed declaration of its policy now, but that the lessons of the working of the treaties following Versailles were being carefully studied and would be taken into account by those responsible for the final settlement after this war.

"We must not make the same mistakes again," he added.

Britain Shifts 4 Generals

Sends Swayne to India, Juggles Home Island Commands

LONDON, March 8 (AP).—The British Army juggled its home island commands and named a new chief of staff for India in a shift involving four generals today.

Lieutenant General John George des Rcaux Swayne was appointed chief of staff for India. General Swayne, fifty-three years old, has headed the southeast England command since 1942. He served in the first world war and was taken prisoner.

Lieutenant General Edmond Charles Acton Schreiber, fifty-three, who has held the western command since 1942, succeeds General Swayne in the southeastern command. The former chief of staff for India, Lieutenant General Sir Edwin Logie Morris, was called home to take over the northern command.

LONDON, March 8 (AP)—John Henry d'Albiac, air vice marshal, today was appointed deputy commander of the Mediterranean Allied Technical Air Force.

The 50-year-old veteran of flying exploits in the First World War has been one of the busiest air officers of the second. Marshal d'Albiac commanded the handful of ancient "crates" that covered the ill-starred British expedition in Greece, and also served extensive tours of duty in the Middle East.

Marshall D'Albiac has been commander of the British-based Second Tactical Air Force of the Royal Air Force for the past year.

Welsh Miners' And Operators' Pay Agreement Is Accepted

HOWARD COWAN

London, March 8 (AP)—Major Gwilym Lloyd George, Minister of Fuel, removed one of the chief obstacles to settlement of a strike of 80,000 Welsh coal miners tonight by accepting an agreement between the miners and the operators permitting extra pay for those working in excessive dust and water.

At the same time, Lloyd George agreed that "certain other matters concerning allowances peculiar to South Wales would be considered" after the men have gone back to work.

More than three fourths of the rich coal fields which supply one sixth of England's fuel have shut down as a result of the strike, which was spreading rapidly. Only about 20,000 miners still were at work.

65,000 Tons A Day Lost

The miners' answer was not expected before tomorrow but officials expressed the hope that a back-to-work movement would be started which would restore by the end of the week coal production of 65,000 tons a day lost through the strike.

The Government previously had insisted that extra pay for the miner's in difficult working conditions be included in the new minimum wage of $20 a week. The miners contended this would nullify most of the increase since the current weekly wage amounted to about $19.75—$17.75 minimum plus about $2 extra pay.

The executive council of the miners' union recommended that the workers return to their pits pending discussions. Some locals, however, already had voted to stay out until Saturday, when the report on the London talks will be presented by union delegates.

Began As Slowdown

The strike began as a slowdown several weeks ago and then mushroomed to serious proportions this week as dissatisfaction spread. There was little prospect that the Government would use the National Service Act—permitting the drafting of men into the armed service—for there is a scarcity of miners and some men have been released from the army to work in the mines.

In Glasgow an undisclosed number of dock workers quit in an interunion dispute not connected with the coal strike.

Strikes Cut British Coal Flow To Trickle

London, March 8 (AP)—The flow of coal from Welsh mines on which British war industries are largely dependent dwindled to a trickle today as a wage strike spread steadily throughout the area, and there were indications that production might be halted entirely by nightfall.

Best estimates said that 60,000 or 70,000 out of 100,000 miners in the Welsh fields already had walked out.

Solution Sought

With the situation hourly growing worse, the nation looked hopefully to a meeting of owners and miners in London this afternoon under the chairmanship of Fuel Minister Gwilym Lloyd George to produce some solution for the wage problem, which the miners say needs a general overhauling.

The entire Rhondda valley, a highly productive area, was tied up by the strike and almost 7,000 men were idle in the Aberdale valley, where every pit was closed.

More miners were walking out hourly, and the loss in daily production was estimated at 60,000 tons.

The executive council of the Miners Union had recommended that the workers return pending discussion of the issues, but some locals already had voted to remain out until Saturday, when a report on the London talks will be presented to union delegates.

The strikes began as a slowdown several weeks ago, then mushroomed to serious proportions this week as dissatisfaction spread over a decision boosting the weekly wage from $16.75 to $20, but not providing an increase in piece rates.

Sixth Of Output Affected

The Welsh fields, which embrace part of Monmouthshire, produce more than one-sixth of the nation's coal. So far other areas have not been affected.

Included in the pits which closed yesterday was the Abergorki mine, which has flown the Union Jack at the pithead for 40 consecutive weeks in recognition of its quota-exceeding record during that period.

Meanwhile, more strike trouble broke out when many Glasgow dock workers quit over an interunion dispute. The number idle was not disclosed.

British Test Atlantic Wall

London, March 8 (AP)—A sally by light British naval forces close to the coast of Holland has disclosed that anti-invasion defenses along the German Atlantic wall now include short-range rocket guns and automatic cannon for point-blank fire against assault craft.

The foray was revealed by the Admiralty last night in a communique which said that the naval units had drawn sharp fire from the new defense weapons when they penetrated within a short distance of Ijmuiden harbor.

Supply Ship Blown Up

The British craft attacked 14 enemy armed trawlers, set three afire, blew up a supply ship and slipped away without damage despite fire from the shore, the communique said.

The new weapons presumably supplement heavy batteries of 6, 9 and 12 inch coastal guns.

PENICILLIN AS CURE FOR SOCIAL DISEASE

LONDON, March 8.—(AP) Experiments in the United States indicate that penicillin may cure syphilis rapidly, Dr. A. H. Harkness, vice president of the Medical Society for Study of Venereal Disease, told the Royal Institute of Public Health and Hygiene today.

Dr. Harkness said it was too early to be sure that the apparent swift cures were permanent, but that from all he had been able to learn, there was a good chance they might be.

He said he knew of no similar work yet being done in the United Kingdom.

Dr. Harkness reported on the quick and effective treatment of gonorrhea with the sulfonamides and penicillin, and added:

"It would appear that this substance will have a definite place in the treatment of syphilis ,and it may cure rapidly without the aid of our present drugs. Unfortunately, penicillin does not pass freely from the blood into the cerebrospinal fluid, and in this respect it differs from the sulfonamides."

M. P. Assails Work Rules For Pregnant Women

Says ManyBritish Doctors Must Lie to Save Patients

LONDON, March 8 (AP).—Dr. Edith Summerskill, Laborite, told the Commons today that she and other doctors have been forced to falsify certificates to enable exhausted women in advanced pregnancy to gain release from war work in order to save their health, lives and children.

She said a Ministry of Health circular stated pregnancy did not necessarily give rise to incapacity for work, and benefits could be paid only if there was incapacity. She declared the circular as a "devilish document" which is the "death warrant for thousands of infants in this country."

"These women have to go on until they cannot stand or work any longer," she said. "They must have some pathological condition associated with their pregnancy before I can give them a certificate. These women are worn out. I have seen them. I have treated them. They are exhausted. They have their still-born children.

"It has forced me to lie on certificates. I am sick to death of receiving that document. Instead of advanced pregnancy, I say varicose veins, edema of the legs and all those things in order that these poor women can have a chance of rest. Other doctors are in the same position."

Furious Battle Rages as Russians Storm Main Nazi Base in Ukraine

YARBOROUGH

MAR 9 1944

LONDON, Thursday, March 9.—(AP) Moscow announced early today that a furious battle was raging in the town of Staro-Konstantinov, a "vital enemy base" in the southwestern Ukraine, after the Red army yesterday battled its way into the suburbs and, 30 miles to the southeast, captured the district center of Cherni-Ostrov on the Odessa-Lwow railway.

More than 3,000 Germans were killed, two regiments of German infantry routed and 100 communities were captured by Marshal Gregory K. Zhukov's first Ukrainian front forces, said the midnight Moscow bulletin, recorded by the Soviet monitor from a broadcast.

"Retreating under blows of the Soviet troops the Germans are abandoning tanks, guns and trucks stuck in the mud," it said. "Particularly fierce engagements are going on in the area of the town of Staro-Konstantinov, which is a vital enemy base."

German counter-attacks with hastily gathered infantry and tank forces were defeated by the Red army troops which captured Cherni-Ostrov, the Russians said.

In another sector the Germans counter-attacked with about 100 tanks, but were declared thrown back with 42 tanks destroyed.

Far to the north in Estonia the Germans lunged out near Narva, but were hurled back with 900 dead and 34 German planes were destroyed, the communique announced.

A Berlin broadcast said the fighting in the north was "exceptionally bloody" and admitted that advancing Russians, "continuously reinforced by reserves," gained "room southwards." In three days, the broadcast said, 357 Soviet tanks have been destroyed. The Germans also contended that since the Odessa-Lwow railway has been crossed in only two places by small Russian units, control of the line was still in German hands.

Staro-Konstantinov, mid-way on the rail line that connects Shepetovka with the Odessa-Lwow line, has been held strongly by the Germans as a main prop for its entire line in this area, a formidable bastion around which the Russian advance—which began Saturday—flowed both to the southeast and to the southwest. The Germans still hold the rail line south of Staro-Konstantinov as an escape route.

The Soviet capture of Cherni-Ostrov menaced the southern escape corridor from Staro-Konstantinov, for it was but eight miles west of the junction of the Shepetovka railway with the Odessa-Lwow line.

Cherni-Ostrov is 28 miles east of Volochisk and its possession gave the Russians a hold on the Odessa-Lwow railway running 30 miles westward to the old Polish border station of Podvolochisk. Fall of Cherni-Ostrov represented an eastward advance of about 14 miles from Voitovtse.

The Russians announced the capture of Krasnoselka, three miles east of Staro-Konstantinov and Maly Chernyatin, 10 miles northwest. They were five miles southeast and six miles north of the town at two localities captured Tuesday, Svinnaya and Zhabche.

Captured in the last 24 hours was Volosovtsy, 16 miles southeast of Staro-Konstantinov. Between Volosovtsy and Cherni-Ostrov the German escape corridor to the south was narrowed to 28 miles.

Russians advancing eastward in the salient c[illegible] Morozovka, 41 miles south[illegible] Staro-Konstantinov and 26 miles southwest of Berdichev.

The Russian communique made no further mention of German counter-attacks against this Soviet salient, which were reported by Moscow to have begun yesterday. Nevertheless the number of communities captured in this thickly-populated area—100—in the last 24 hours indicated a slowing in the speed of the Soviet advance which had been sweeping up several hundred localities a day.

Other Red army troops in the Soviet salient were slugging toward the junction city of Tarnopol against bitter and growing resistance of German forces and against the miring handicap of thick Ukrainian mud.

Rumanians Fleeing

Although the desperate German defense and sticky terrain slowed the Soviet advance, the Russians were within 60 miles of Rumania, and thousands of Rumanians were reported fleeing from their eastern cities.

The Rumanians were crowding railway stations despite government orders banning travel, said a Budapest dispatch to Basel.

With a long stretch of the important Odessa-Warsaw railroad already in their hands, Marshal Gregory K. Zhukov's men were battling toward Tarnopol after seizing a village only nine miles northeast of the city.

Tarnopol, chief city of Tarnopol province, with a pre-war population of 36,000, dates from 1540 and was a fortress city during the days of the Polish kings. Its chief trade was horses, for which the province is famous, and agricultural products. Its industries in peacetime are corn milling, and preparation of wax and honey.

To the east, other Russian units were within 20 miles of Proskurov on the same trunk railway.

It appeared likely that Zhukov would try to move against Proskurov mainly from the west and undercut the strong core of German resistance on the north along the railway down from Shepetovka.

ADVANCE ALONG MUD FIELDS

Marshal Zhukov's Forces Push Ahead 30 Miles a Day in Some Sectors of Front.

London, March 8 (A. P.).—Overpowering heavy German counter-attacks, Red Army troops driving toward Rumania are threatening to outflank the important junction city of Tarnopol on the Odessa-Warsaw railway, Moscow dispatches said today.

Pressing forward over a countryside turned into a mire by early spring thaws, Russian spearheads yesterday captured the town of Igrovitsa, nine miles northwest of Tarnopol and only four miles from the Warsaw railway, a Russian communique announced. Other forces operating east of Tarnopol actually severed the line in two places twenty miles apart—at Kockanovka, five miles south of Volchisk, and Zelentsy, fifteen miles west of Proskurov.

Yesterday's advance by the forces under Marshal Gregory K. Zhukov liberated 200 more localities in the densely populated western Ukrainian country, Moscow announced. The Germans hurled strong infantry and tank forces against the Red Army, especially in the Staro-Konstantinov sector south of Shepetovka, but were hurled back, leaving more than 1,000 dead on the battle field, the Russians said. Numerous pieces of war equipment, including sixty tanks, were destroyed or captured and many prisoners taken, the Soviet bulletin added.

Staraya Sinyava Taken.

The district center of Staraya Sinyava, fifty miles southwest of Shepetovka and thirty miles northeast of Proskurov, was among the more important towns listed as taken.

Capture of Staraya Sinyava not only cut the Staro-Konstantinov Railway but brought Soviet vanguards to within twenty-five miles of the Odessa-Warsaw line west of Zhmerinka. Svinnaya, another town captured yesterday, is only four miles from Staro-Konstantinov.

Other Red Army units, Moscow said, stormed the village of Sharzhintsy, southeast of Shepetovka and thirty-three miles southeast of Berdichev, and apparently were seeking a junction with first Ukrainian Army forces holding that city.

Marshal Zhukov's advance, now in its fourth day, was averaging more than twenty miles a day, in some areas as much as thirty miles, according to Moscow.

The capture yesterday of Podvolochisk, eight miles west of Volochisk, extended the Russian-held sector of the Odessa-Warsaw railway to twenty-six miles, with its western end about twenty-five miles east of Tarnopol. In this sector, Russian troops are approximately sixty miles from the Rumanian frontier.

On the Baltic front, Moscow reported the arrival of heavy German air reinforcements in the Narva sector, where Gen. Leonid A. Govorov was attempting to enlarge the Red Army bridgeheads west of the Narova River. Fifty-five German planes were reported shot down yesterday.

Heavy Mud Fails To Halt Reds

Moscow, March 8 (AP)—Marshal Gregory K. Zhukov's First Ukrainian Army fought today against some of the worst ground conditions of the Russian-German conflict and what a Red Star front-line reporter called the "growing resistance of the enemy."

But still the Red army rolled on, seizing a firm hold on the Odessa-Warsaw railway and moving to within 70 miles of the important industrial and rail city of Lwow.

Lakes Overflow

"The landscape is becoming exceedingly more complicated," reported Capt. Andrei Belaiev, the Red Star correspondent. He said there were many small lakes, which have overflowed large areas of the country side, as well as numerous streams and small forests.

In this battle of mud, Belaiev reported, the Russians resorted to the use of long lines of sledges hitched behind tanks. Tommy-gunners were piled into the sledges and tanks, which cut through the muddy Ukrainian fields to reach the roads behind the enemy lines.

Outflanking Threatened

Moscow dispatches to London report that Zhukov's forces are threatening to outflank the important junction city of Tarnopol on the Odessa-Warsaw railway. Russian spearheads yesterday captured the town of Igrovitsa, nine miles northwest of Tarnopol and only four miles from the Warsaw railway. Other forces operating east of Tarnopol severed the line in two places 20 miles apart—at Kochanovka, five miles south of Volochisk, and Zelentsy, 15 miles west of Proskurov.

Bulgaria Bolsters Forces

Bern, March 8 (AP)—Bulgaria has called up more troops following a visit by German Balkan commanders to Sofia and discovery of a large store of armaments cached by Partisans, the Basler Nachrichten reported today in a Budapest dispatch.

Strongly armed Partisan bands are established near Sofia, and Bulgarian troops have started a general offensive against them. After one clash in which 150 Partisans were killed, Bulgarian regulars found enough guns and supplies to equip four regiments, and also found a radio station, the dispatch said.

27,000 Partisans Supplied

Sofia officials were said to estimate that 27,000 Partisans now are being supplied by airplanes from southern Italy, maintaining direct contact with British general headquarters at Cairo.

Field Marshal General Baron Maximilian von Weichs, Nazi Balkan commander, spent three days conferring with Prince Kyril, a regent and brother of the late King Boris, the dispatch said, adding:

New Occupation Denied

"Sofia denies he (Weichs) has asked for further Bulgarian occupation of Greek territory to release German troops, but more people were called following the visit."

A General Forster, Weichs' chief of staff, remained in Sofia to continue the conversations, and Prince Kyril was summoned to Hitler's headquarters, the dispatch said.

Cabinet Chief Slain

Berlin radio said that Col. Milosh Massalovic, chief of Cabinet to Premier General Milan Nedic of the puppet Serb Government, was shot to death today in Belgrade. "The crime is being investigated," added the broadcast, recorded by United States Government monitors.

Rumanians Flee As Reds Near, Bern Hears

Bern, Switzerland, March 8 (AP)—The latest advances by the Russian army have led to a new flight from Bucovina province of Rumanians who forced their way on trains despite Government orders against travel, it was reported today.

The Budapest correspondent of the Basler Nachrichten said the storming of railway stations by the populace occurred in Cernowitz, Radauz, Suzeva and other cities.

(Northern Bucovina province was ceded to Russia in the 1940 boundary adjustment. Subsequently Germany declared Bucovina and Bessarabia a part of Rumania. Russian troops are now within 90 miles of the Prut river.)

Finn Reply To Russia Said To Leave Parley Path Open

Stockholm, Thursday, March 9 (AP)—Finland has formally replied to Russia's peace terms, it is reliably reported, with a cautious note which Swedish newspapers said contained reservations but was designed to make possible opening negotiations.

Dagens Nyheter said the message to the Soviet was "a positive answer supported by Finnish military leaders."

Delivery Held Back

The Finnish Government's note was dispatched to Moscow yesterday, a creditable source said, after it was prepared for delivery last Friday and then held up, presumably to incorporate changes. The note was believed carefully phrased to avoid any break in contact between Helsinki and Moscow.

Both Swedes and Finns here expressed the opinion that Finland would seek to negotiate the German internment problem, which Finland has said is impractical so long as the Norwegian back door is open, and questions involved in the Soviet demand for restoration of the 1940 peace treaty, which would entail yielding Viipuri and the demobilization of the Finnish army.

Editor May Play Role

The Stockholm Aftonbladet said earlier that Richard Lindstrom, Swedish editor of the Morgon Tidningen, had talked with Russian legation officials on the armistice terms and was expected to go to Helsinki. There had been speculation that he might be playing the role of an intermediary.

The Finnish press lately has followed a more modified tone after the first, fierce attacks on the terms, which some papers characterized as "camouflaged unconditional surrender."

A Helsinki dispatch said the Parliamentary Committee on Foreign Affairs heard Henrik Ramsay, Foreign Minister, outline the situation in a short session today.

Swedish Editor Seen As Finn Intermediary

Stockholm, March 8 (AP)—The newspaper Aftonbladet reported today that Rickard Lindstrom, Swedish editor of Morgen Tidningen, had conferred with Russian legation officials on Finnish armistice terms and was expected to leave shortly for Helsinki.

Lindstrom's newspaper is the organ of the Social Democratic party which has close ties with the Social Democratic party of Finland. He was not available for comment. A Russian legation spokesman would neither confirm nor deny the report, referring questioners to Lindstrom.

Intermediary Role Seen

The editor recently was in Helsinki, the Finnish capital, where his visit prompted speculation that he might be acting as an intermediary between Finland and Russia.

Aftonbladet took the view that events were swiftly reaching a climax in Finnish-Russian negotiations and that some positive development was possible today.

The newspaper's Helsinki correspondent was able to report through censorship, which has been noticeably tighter in the last 48 hours, that Finnish peace exponents were silent while the idea that the Russian terms were impossible commanded considerable editorial comment.

MOSCOW RECEIVES FINNISH ANSWER

Stockholm, March 8 (A. P.).—The Finnish Government's answer to Russian peace terms was sent to Moscow yesterday, it was learned reliably tonight.

Originally, reliable sources said, Finland had a note prepared to deliver to the Soviet last Friday, but it was delayed, apparently so that certain changes could be made in it.

GERMANS REFORM BEACHHEAD LINES

New Drive Against Allies At Anzio Thought Possible

Allied Headquarters, Naples, March 8 (AP)—German forces opposing the Allied beachhead below Rome were reported today to be regrouping their forces, possibly in preparation for a fourth major drive against a selected point in the Allied defenses.

A headquarters spokesman said the Germans "appear to be on the watch for any opening in our forward positions." It was two weeks ago today that the Nazis launched their third costly assault on the beachhead and saw their total casualties in that area mount to 24,000.

Lowland mud and mountain snows held ground fighting to a minimum throughout Italy yesterday, while Allied heavy and medium bombers blasted the Toulon naval base in southern France and railroad yards and airdromes at Florence and Rome.

Munitions Factory Hit

Photographs showed hits on a munitions factory at Toulon and several warships anchored there were thought to have been damaged. The Allies flew 1,300 sorties in all and lost five planes while destroying an equal number of enemy craft.

While no change in ground positions was registered either around the beachhead or in the Cassino sector, opposing troops engaged in many fierce machine-gun and mortar duels. It was disclosed that New Zealand artillery had gone into action south of Cassino.

An Allied headquarters communique, stressing the stalemate in ground fighting, said "heavy snow in the mountains and deep mud in the valleys have made all movements difficult."

Rome Raid Reported

London, March 8 (AP)—The German-controlled Rome radio said tonight that Allied planes bombed Rome this morning. This radio station made a similar announcement concerning yesterday's bombing in the Rome area, but subsequently Allied announcements said the targets were rail yards in the vicinity.

Nazis Reported Set For New Anzio Push

Allied Headquarters, Naples March 8 (AP)—Gunfire, mortar and grenade duels raged for the second straight night in shell-torn Cassino on the main Fifth Army front, headquarters announced today, and observers have spotted movements behind the German lines below Rome, possibly indicating a regrouping for a fourth all-out push against the Allied beachhead.

New Zealand siege guns hammered at a German-held rail station about a mile south of Cassino, while American troops west of Cisterna on the beachhead engaged in a fierce machine gun and mortar duel with the Nazis, but there was no change in positions. The Germans made a concerted but futile effort to infiltrate British positions near Carroceto, on the Rome side of the beachhead.

Hampered By Weather

Discussing the German movements, headquarters said the Nazis "appear to be on the watch for any opening in our forward positions."

Foul weather, however, continued to hamper the ground fighting, and the communique declared that "heavy snow in the mountains and deep mud in the valleys have made all movements difficult."

Allied planes flew about 1,300 sorties yesterday, with heavy bombers blasting the Toulon naval base in southern France, and medium bombers striking at rail yards in Rome. Five Nazi planes were destroyed for a loss of five Allied craft.

Drydocks Hit

Photographs of the Toulon raid showed hits in the munitions factory area and several hits on the drydocks. War vessels anchored along a jetty were believed to have been damaged.

Twenty-five enemy fighters tried to intercept the Fortresses and their escorting Lightnings ten minutes from the target. Four Nazi planes were downed in the battle, and none of the American ships was lost.

Rail Facilities Hit

The operations included heavy bomber raids on rail facilities in the Florence region and on airfields north of Rome. The Rome radio said heavy damage and casualties had been caused in Rome and asserted that a church and an orphanage had been hit.

Aground on the Eighth Army front a Canadian patrol wrecked a house occupied by the enemy in the Tollo area by sneaking up to it and placing a demolition charge next to it.

Two strong enemy patrols attacked Indian army positions north of Orsogna Monday night, but were dispersed before they reached the Allied lines.

Docks Bombed

In other air operations medium bombers struck at the docks at Santo Stefano, important German supply point on the Italian Riviera, and night bombers returned to dump more bombs on the port last night.

Light bombers attacked gun positions, railways and road transport in the battle area.

The Germans made about 25 sorties over the battle area, headquarters said.

Night flyers also hit at Tarquinia.

HEROIC RANGERS MADE DESPERATE FIGHT TO DEATH

MASSOCK

NAPLES, March 8.—(AP) A grim secret kept locked in the hearts of Allied troops in Italy for over a month now has been placed in the record of heroic but hopeless "last stands."

This new chapter concerned two lost battalions of Rangers who set out on what for them was a routine assignment to "raise hell" in Cisterna di Littoria at 1 a. m. on Jan. 30 and by noon of that day had been swallowed into oblivion.

Even now all that is known of their fate is the fragmentary picture framed by the few who returned and a German announcement at the time that some 950 had been taken prisoner. The Nazis said about 100 were killed and many more wounded.

The two battalions of Rangers were the spearhead of an attack on Cisterna at a time when the Allied troops on the beachhead still were pushing forward with little opposition. They were to infiltrate behind the German lines in the dark of night and cause a ruction in Cisterna at dawn when forces of infantry on each side would move into the town and join them.

Germans in Counter Move

The infantry never arrived, however. The Germans, too, had been on the move during the night. Reinforcements had been brought up in front of Cisterna. The Rangers were trapped.

Two of the little handful who escaped, Corp. Ben W. Mosier of Ashtabula, O., and Sgt. Thomas B. Fergen of Parkston, S. D., later told of the fierce, futile battle that followed.

"When it got light," said Mosier, "we saw one big building ahead and trees all around it. Behind us there was a tank and when we saw it we cheered. We thought it was supporting us. Then it opened up against us and we knew what it was."

Soon after, artillery also began firing on the Rangers and German infantry closed in, but "the tanks hurt us the most," said Fergen. "They caught us in a field and seven moved in x x x firing with everything they had."

At 8 o'clock both battalions reported by radio that they were surrounded. The commander of one had been killed, the commander of the other wounded.

It was a fight to the end against overwhelming odds. The Rangers became scattered and one by one guns and ammunition gave out. At noon the radio of one battalion, the first, went dead. A few minutes later the sergeant major of the other battalion, the third, called that he was destroying his radio because the command post no longer could defend itself.

After that there was silence.

Rangers Fought Nazis to Bitter End

MASSOCK MAR 9 1944

Allied Headquarters, Naples, March 8 (A. P.).—Into the legends of lost battalions were written today the heroic but hopeless fight of two battalions of United States Fifth Army Rangers who spearheaded an attack out of the Anzio beachhead on Cisterna di Littoria early on the morning of January 30.

Trapped when they reached the village on the Appian Way at the base of the Colli Laziali hills, none but a handful ever have come back from the attack. The Germans announced at the time that about 100 were killed and the remainder, some 950, were taken prisoner.

The Rangers gave up only after they had fired their last round of ammunition and thrown their last grenade against vastly superior German forces they encountered after they had infiltrated four miles through enemy lines in a stirring night and day action.

"There will be a sequel to it," vowed a few stragglers who came back to tell their story.

Corporal Ben W. Mosier of Ashtabula, Ohio, one of the few who returned, told a Stars and Stripes correspondent that during their night infiltration through German lines they were close enough to German batteries at times to hear the crews giving orders in German.

"When it got light," Corporal Mosier said, "we saw one big building ahead and trees all around it. Behind us there was one tank and when we saw it we cheered. We thought is was supporting us. We couldn't see it very well—and then it opened on up on us and we knew what it was.

"It kept moving across a field toward us, firing 20-millimeter shells pointblank. We scattered and hit the dirt."

"The tanks hurt us worst," agreed Sergt. Thomas B. Fergen, of Parkston, S. D., another survivor.

"They caught us in a field. They came down from Highway 7, moved into the field and raced across it, firing with everything they had."

Sergt. Fergen and two other Rangers blew up one Tiger tank as it came down the road. One climbed on top and dropped an incendiary grenade into the turret. Then a bazooka gunner hit the tank head on. Sergt. Fergen also put a grenade inside it and shot the only crew member who climbed out of it.

At the spearhead of a planned general attack on Cisterna, five miles distant, the Rangers slipped away at 2 A. M. with orders to "get through the enemy lines as quietly as possible; get into town; intrench yourselves and start raising all the hell possible."

Pass Nazis in Dark.

Although it still is not clear whether the Germans laid a clever trap or benefited from a fluke, during the night the first battalion of Rangers passed a heavy contingent of German reinforcements heading toward the Allied lines. The opposing forces by-passed each other except for a few German guards the Rangers killed quietly, in Ranger fashion.

It is apparent that only the advance party got into the outskirts of Cisterna. With a little more time the Rangers could have intrenched themselves solidly. But the second, reinforcing battalion ran into the Nazis whom the first group had passed. The fighting became general as the Germans moved in from all sides for the kill.

Shot Up by Own Gunners.

The Rangers carried out part of their mission—"to raise all the hell possible." They took what cover they could find and fought with all their might.

One platoon reached a building where two German tanks were parked. They machine-gunned the sleeping crews appropriated the tanks to spearhead their dash into Cisterna. But back in Allied lines sharp-eyed gunners, seeing only that two German tanks were roaming around in the area where the Rangers were supposed to be, promptly knocked them out.

Casualties mounted. Ammunition ran out. When only a handful of his men remained, the captain of one platoon, wounded, but still directing the fight, ordered his men to escape as well as they could. Only one man got back. He joined up with the first infantry outfit he met and asked to fight with it.

The last message from the beleaguered Rangers came in about noon, saying they were outnumbered and were being overpowered.

Lunch Hauled By Phone

With the Fifth Army Beachhead Forces in Italy, March 7 (AP—Delayed)—Lieut. L. F. Edwards, of Reigate, Surry, is a fast man when it comes to thinking about food.

This morning before dawn he crawled to the crest of a hill, dragging a telephone with him, and when daylight came he relayed information back to his artillery unit that resulted in seven direct hits on a big house which the Germans held.

Edwards tried to get back to his original position, but was pinned down by a German sniper a[illegible] forced to lie there until noon, with no chance of getting back in time for lunch.

Edwards solved the difficulty by picking up the telephone and ordering lunch. The lunch, with an additional 50 feet of wire, was attached to the telephone line and Edwards hauled in his own lunch hand over hand.

Later in the afternoon it began to rain, and when Edwards saw the sniper remove the telescopic sights from his rifle and begin to wipe them off he made a break for it and won.

WORKERS STRIKE IN NORTH ITALY

BRUTTO

Nazis and Fascists Threaten Stern Reprisals as Strike Continues.

AT THE ITALIAN - SWISS BORDER, March 8. — (AP) The deadline fixed by the Fascists for the return of striking North Italian workers to their jobs passed today, but neither the Fascists nor the Nazis in the occupied area announced that threatened reprisals had started.

(The Rome radio yesterday poopoohed the strike as an "obvious failure" and said only 208,000 workers went out for a brief period. No reference to the walkout was made by radio Rome today.

(The Cairo radio, quoting reports reaching the Swiss frontier, said the general strike in Lombardy continued unabated despite the German army threats to inflict severe reprisals on the populace.)

New Fascist regulations covering negotiations between factory owners and workers indicated that the strike situation in northern Italy still is far from a solution, and that Fascist leaders had determined that stern repressive measures were necessary.

The new labor-management regulations imposed by the Fascist labor commissariat forbids factory owners to deal with workers' committees or their representatives.

ARMS FOR ARABIA

Cairo, March 8 (A. P.).—A 3000-pound plane-load of rifles, ammunition, and helmets has been delivered directly to King Ibn Saud at an isolated Saudi Arabian oasis as a token of larger deliveries of lend-lease war materials, United States Army headquarters announced today.

Major-Gen. Ralph Royce, and Brig.-Gen. Benjamin Giles, who is relieving Gen. Royce as commander of United States forces in the Middle East, made the delivery Monday. The arms delivery was preceded by a shipment to Ibn Saud of $1,250,000 in Saudi Arabian coins minted in the United States under lend-lease.

Discussions are under way on a contemplated United States-sponsored oil pipeline from Saudi Arabia to the Mediterranean.

NAZIS SHUN BLOCKADE

Cairo, March 8 (A. P.).—The Allied blockade of the Ægean Sea, in which the R. A. F. alone sank or damaged some sixty German ships last month, has produced a desperate food situation in the Ægean Islands and brought refusal from some German troops to make the perilous voyage from Crete to the mainland, reports reaching Cairo said today.

These recalcitrant Nazi soldiers were put to forced labor, this information said.

R. A. F. Middle East headquarters announced today that in February operations eighteen enemy vessels were sunk, thirteen probably sunk and nearly thirty damaged.

TURKS PREPARED TO HEAL BREACH

KING

Ankara, March 8 (Delayed) (A. P.).—Turkey was represented today as anxious to go part of the way to patch up her differences with Britain, although the Turkish Government still feels that deliveries of supplies have been far below what was promised.

This view of Turkish policy was obtained from participants in a conference of Turkish editors with Foreign Minister Numan Menemencioglu, who was quoted as saying Turkey planned to do everything in her power to preserve her alliance with Britain.

The Turks hope that the British will make the first conciliatory move, but if it is not forthcoming, they probably will make it themselves, it was said. Turkish policy was described as still contemplating eventual participation in the war and as being ready to revise the estimates of the war material it considers necessary.

Military aid of the value of 25,000,000 pounds sterling (about $100,000,000) to be delivered within six months was promised by the British under the 1939 alliance treaty, but only 19,000,000 pounds sterling (about $76,000,000) has arrived to date, the Turks say.

NORTH BURMA JAPS ISOLATED

GROVER

Walawbum Communications Cut By American Force

New Delhi, March 8 (AP)—Centers of Japanese resistance in the town of Walawbum still were holding out against the American jungle forces tonight, but Lieut. Gen. Joseph W. Stilwell reported a wide flanking movement had completely cut off the trapped enemy.

The town of Walawbum was announced as captured Monday when the presence of Brig. Gen. Frank Merrill's American forces in the north Burma jungle first was disclosed. General Stilwell mentioned the still-resisting knots of Japanese in his communique yesterday.

Completion of the troop noose around the trapped Japanese today severed all lines of communication with Japanese forces west and north of Walawbum. The Americans previously had established a road block three miles west of Walawbum to prevent the escape of these Nipponese forces being pushed back by Chinese troops south of Maingkwan.

Heavy Casualties Noted

"Japanese forces suffered extremely heavy casualties," General Stilwell said, referring to the action that resulted in cutting all communication to the Japs in the Walawbum strongholds. "American casualties were virtually negligible."

American-trained Chinese troops, fighting side by side with United States infantrymen since a juncture was effected two days ago, have occupied Hpungnye, three miles southwest of Maingkwan, and Shingban, three miles south of that main Japanese base whose seizure was reported yesterday.

Other Chinese troops on the Americans' left flank have reached the village of Hkakawp Ga after cleaning the enemy from around Lashu Ga, nine miles northeast of Maingkwan.

Ammunition Left

A field dispatch described how Japanese trapped in the Walawbum area left large quantities of ammunition and supplies intact in their efforts to escape the American-Chinese vise.

General Sir George J. Giffard, commander of the British 11th Army group, said after a tour of the Arakan front that the defeat there was the worst suffered by the Japanese since they entered Burma. He said 2,408 Japanese dead already had been picked up and estimated that at least that many others had been wounded.

American and Chinese troops now have established a front of some 70 miles, running west 40 miles from Walawbum to the Taro area and some 30 miles northeast from Walawbum along the line of the Tanai river, an upper tributary of the Chindwin.

100-Mile Penetration

Altogether they have penetrated upward of 100 miles into Burma from their starting point, but they still are more than 200 miles from the point where the new Burma road can link up directly with the old road to Chungking.

A communique from the southeast Asia headquarters of Admiral Lord Louis Mountbatten said remnants of Japanese forces falling back from Shingban were prevented from crossing to the east side of the Nambyu river by a road block established by American troops.

American and RAF heavy bombers attacked Moulmein in Burma and Bangkok, capital of Thailand, on the night of March 6-7, while fighters, fighter-bombers and medium bombers smashed targets at widespread points in Burma. An arsenal and an aircraft factory at Bangkok were bombed. Not an Allied plane was lost in all operations.

Allies Tightening Pincer On Foe In Burma

MAR 9 1944

New Delhi, March 8 (AP)—American-trained Chinese troops and United States infantry who linked up yesterday in the Walawbum area of upper Burma are now fighting side by side, Lieut. Gen. Joseph W. Stilwell's headquarters announced today.

A communique said that Chinese forces have occupied Hpungnye, three miles southwest of Maingkwan and captured Shingban, three miles to the south. Capture of Maingkwan, main Japanese base in the Hukawng valley, was reported yesterday.

Allies Closing Pincer

Jaws of the trap in which the Japanese were forced by the encircling tactics of the Americans are beginning to close rapidly, the communique reported. Walawbum itself has been completely isolated by the United States troops, who have severed the enemy's main lines of communication with other Japanese forces to the west and north.

"In this action the Japanese suffered extremely heavy casualties," the communique said. "American casualties were virtually negligible."

Chinese troops on the Allies' left flank have cleaned the enemy from the area around Lashu Ga, nine miles northeast of Maingkwan, the bulletin said, and have reached the village of Hkakawp Ga.

Jap Losses Heavy

In the Arakan district the Japs have suffered their biggest defeat since they entered Burma, General Sir George J. Giffard, commander of the British 11th Army Group, said after a tour of the Assam border sector.

Giffard said one Japanese regiment and one battalion of each of two other regiments had been badly knocked about, and 2,408 dead had been picked up. It can be presumed, he said, that at least one enemy soldier was wounded for each man killed.

Hungry Americans Devour Japs' Food

Northern Burma, March 6 (AP—Delayed)—Organized resistance by several hundred Japanese caught between Chinese forces south of Maingkwan and American troops in the Walawbum area was rapidly crumbling today and large numbers of the enemy were trying frantically to escape before the vise closes.

Less than 24 hours after the occupation of Maingkwan, largest village in the Hukawng valley, the Chinese 22d Division advanced four miles farther south toward the American positions and captured the village of Shingban, where the Japanese had dug in deeply.

Casualties Heavy

The Chinese took a large quantity of ammunition which the Japanese had left intact in their hurry to withdraw. Enemy bodies have not yet been counted, but officers said their casualties must have been heavy.

Meanwhile, American troops had two Japanese companies pocketed near Walawbum and were closing in for the kill.

"I never saw any crazier people than the Japs we met," said Pfc. Richard Chaffins, of Pineville, Ky., an American infantryman. "When they realized we had 'em where we wanted 'em they threw their equipment away and dashed down the trail."

Food Taken From Japs

Chaffins said the Americans went so fast around the left flank to the rear of the Japanese that they didn't have time to dig any holes or wait for their rations to be dropped from planes.

"We were getting hungry when we spotted a Jap carrying a sack of beans," Chaffins added. "Those beans sure tasted good."

Chaffins said American P-40s greatly aided the operation.

"Once they bombed a Jap radio shack and pieces of the equipment rained on us," he remarked.

Sergt. Leo Click, of St. Louis, said that the Japanese his outfit encountered fired "15 feet from one of our fellows but only grazed his arm."

Chinese Prices Soar

Wholesale Index Is Reported 230 Times Above Pre-War Level

CHUNGKING, March 8 (AP).—Chang Ping-chun, Counselor of the Executive Yuan (Council), said today that the wholesale price index in China has risen 230 times above the pre-war level and that the price of rice and coal has increased 60 per cent since the end of 1943.

He told a press conference that matches are 600 times the pre-war cost, cooking oil 170 and coarse cotton homespun 340 times.

Nipponese Try to Land Troops on Los Negros—Enemy Losses Heavy.

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, Southwest Pacific, Thursday, March 9.—(AP) United States troops smashed a Japanese attempt to run a few barges of troops ashore on the northwest coast of Los Negros island in the Admiralty group Tuesday night, Allied headquarters announced today.

On another battle front on the Bismarck Sea, American Marines who landed virtually unopposed Monday morning near Talasea, on the north coast of New Britain island, were reported holding their beachhead on Willaumez peninsula against strong enemy counter-attacks.

The Japanese barge thrust at Los Negros island came after enemy planes made a small, ineffectual attack at night on American positions around Momote airdrome, which now is being used by Allied planes.

No Barge Reached Shore

The barges were met by devastating fire from positions newly established by the first cavalry division on the peninsula north of the airfield. Not a single barge reached shore.

The futile attempt to hit the Americans on the eastern side of Los Negros probably was made from Manus island, to the west, since the Japanese so far have made no effort to run the gantlet of American air and sea blockade to get reinforcements into the Admiralties from the outside.

Earlier Tuesday evening American warships again battered the islands north of Los Negros and Manus, from which enemy batteries earlier in the Admiralties campaign had shelled American positions around Momote.

The airfield was first used by artillery spotter planes, but now is in full use by combat planes.

The Americans extended their perimeter Tuesday when they ferried across an inlet to occupy Papitalia Mission plantation 2,500 yards northwest of the airfield.

Gen. Douglas MacArthur's communique said that several hundred additional enemy dead had been found, adding the number to more than 1,200 Japanese bodies which had previously been buried by the Americans.

Attack A Surprise

The Marine thrust on the west coast of Willaumez peninsula, 110 miles east of previous leatherneck triumphs at Cape Gloucester, took the Japanese by surprise. The marines suffered almost negligible casualties as they came ashore Monday morning from their barges, under aerial protection but without gunfire from surface ships.

But by Monday night the Marines were fighting hard to hold the beachhead against strong attacks by enemy forces which were rushed across the peninsula from Talasea.

Troops of the 32nd division were reported to be expanding their positions on the northeastern coast of New Guinea, giving the Allies complete control of the coastline to a point 35 miles west of Saidor, and only 23 airline miles from the Japanese at Madang.

The Americans here landed March 5 at Yalau, behind the lines of scattered, desultory fire from the enemy in operations which netted the invaders large quantities of abandoned Japanese equipment, taken at Mindiri.

This operation strengthens the Allies hold on the New Guinea coast, from which Gen. Douglas MacArthur's forces are successfully pivoting to loosen the Japanese grip on islands enclosing the Bismarck Sea.

General MacArthur's communique said that the Allies are now using the airfield on Green Island, which a combined American and New Zealand force seized Feb. 2. The island is part of a group in the northern Solomons, and within easy plane range of Rabaul, New Britain, and Kavieng, New Ireland, enemy bases already heavily blasted.

Aircraft from the Solomons bases hit Rabaul again Monday at midday, dropping 55 tons of bombs on Lakunai and Tobera airdromes.

Escorted Liberator heavy bombers, also from Adm. William F. Halsey's Solomons airfields, struck at Kavieng with 62 tons of explosives, principally aimed at the airdromes. They met heavy antiaircraft fire, but the communique made no mention of damage or loss to the attackers.

Light naval units, probably PT boats, sank two enemy coastal vessels and strafed shore installations in the Hansa bay area on the New Guinea coast, starting fires in fuel and ammunition dumps.

On Bougainville island in the Solomons, Allied divebombers again hammered Japanese positions around the perimeter of the American beachhead and airfields locations near Cape Torokina, on Empress Augusta bay.

Yanks Batter Japanese Reinforcement Attempt

MACARTHUR'S MEN GAIN ON 3 FRONTS

Allied Headquarters, Southwest Pacific, March 8 (A. P.).—Lieut.-Gen. Walter Krueger's Sixth American Army is whipping the Japs on three fronts around the borders of the Bismarck Sea.

The Allied headquarters communique today said the Americans have won control of Los Negros Island in the Admiralty group, at the northern approach to the sea, and had buried 479 more Japanese dead.

Marines attached to the Sixth Army made a quick thrust 110 miles east of Cape Gloucester, New Britain Island, and landed Monday with mere rifle fire opposition on Willaumez Peninsula, on the north coast of the island. Soldiers on the south coast advanced twenty-four miles eastward from Arawe to Amgoring.

On New Guinea, Thirty-second Division troops who landed behind the Japanese lines at Yalau, thirty miles west of Saidor, have expanded their positions.

The Sixth Army successes were aided by Allied air and naval action. Solomons-based bombers and fighters continued their hammering of Rabaul.

On Los Negros Island, Navy Seabees have restored Momote Airdrome, and now small planes used as spotters for artillery fire are landing there. Bombers loosed 110 tons of bombs on Jap concentrations around the American beachhead on Empress Augusta Bay, Bougainville Island in the Solomons.

First '44 Liberator Over Rabaul Lost

Guadalcanal, Solomon Islands, March 8 (AP)—Loss of the first United States Liberator heavy bomber over Rabaul, New Britain, this year was reported by Admiral William F. Halsey's headquarters today. Three crew members were rescued.

Other South Pacific planes hit Rabaul with 98 tons of bombs in a day-long succession of air attacks through intense anti-aircraft fire.

New Flak Suit Lauded By Edgewater Flyer

ADVANCED SOUTH PACIFIC AIR BASE, March 5 (Delayed) (AP).—Second Lieutenant A. K. Maginnis, of Edgewater, N. J., navigator of a B-25 bomber, says he knows of only one instance in which a man was saved by the Army Air Forces' new flak suit—"but one was enough to convince me they're worth wearing."

A sleeveless shoulders-to-hips jacket containing sheets of armor plate fabricated into soft, spony material, the suit is worn only over targets where the ack-ack is heavy, and the forty-pound garment is removed as soon as the men get out of range.

Kurile Islands Base Is Hit; Army-Navy Planes Raid 4 Targets in Marshalls

PACIFIC FLEET HEADQUARTERS, PEARL HARBOR, March 8 (AP). — Navy search Venturas bombed Paramushiro, a northern bit of Japan's homeland, again Sunday night, braving heavy anti-aircraft fire, Pacific fleet headquarters announced today. All of the attackers returned to their bases as they have after every previous raid on Paramushiro at the northern tip of the Kurile Islands.

Army and Navy bombers and fighters struck four unnamed Marshall bases Monday, plastering Japanese-held airfields with thirty-one tons of explosives. "Several" planes were damaged by anti-aircraft fire, but all returned.

Paramushiro Bombed Again By Navy Plane

Washington, March 8 (AP)—Navy bombers, flying through heavy anti-aircraft fire, attacked the Japanese base at Paramushiro and returned safely to their bases.

The navy reported this today in a Pacific fleet announcement which told also of other bombers hitting four enemy-held positions in the eastern Marshall Islands.

The text of the report follows:

"1. Navy search Venturas of Fleet Air Wing Four on the evening of March 5-6 bombed Paramushiro. Heavy anti-aircraft fire was encountered in some areas. All of our planes returned.

"2. Army Liberators and Mitchell bombers, Dauntless dive bombers and Warhawk fighters of the Seventh Army Air Force, and navy search Venturas and Hellcat fighters of Fleet Air Wing Two on March 6 dropped 31 tons of bombs on four enemy-held positions in the eastern Marshall Islands. Airfields were hit and fires were started. Several of our planes were damaged by anti-aircraft fire, but all returned to their bases."

Atoll Seizure Gives Yanks Valuable Wedge

Fleet Headquarters, Pearl Harbor, March 8 (AP)—The bloodless occupation of an important anchorage and possible air base in the by-passed eastern Marshalls has just been disclosed by the Central Pacific Command.

The atoll is Majuro, considered so important by the Germans when they owned the islands before World War I that they made it their major base.

Occupation Unopposed

Headquarters now discloses that Majuro was taken early in February, without opposition from its four Japanese occupants, giving the Americans an entering wedge into the eastern Marshalls.

The 21-by-6-mile island has a lagoon which can accommodate all classes of warships and a strip of land suitable for building an airfield. Captured intact was a concrete headquarters building, equipped with electric lights.

From the newly won bases in mid-Pacific American planes are ranging west to batter Caroline Island outposts guarding the way to Truk and east to pound into impotence the by-passed enemy garrisons in the Marshalls.

Braved Flames To Get Bombs

With the 7th AAF in the Marshalls (AP)—A fire was started accidentally in tinder-dry brush—not more than 25 yards from a squadron area—and dud shells, which lie thick on Kwajalein atoll, were exploding, sending fragments over the bivouac with an ugly whine. Men hit the dirt.

Capt. Earl L. Smith, Jr., New Market, Md., called for volunteers to haul two unexploded 600-pound bombs out of the fire; their detonation would level the whole area.

Technical Sergeant Paul F. Barrera, Corpus Christi, Texas, and Technical Sergeant Florentia Garcia, Websterville, Vt., responded. They dragged the heavy bombs to the beach and returned again and again to take away mortar shells, bangalore torpedoes, 75-millimeter shells and grenades.

Captain Smith and both sergeants are being recommended for decorations.

U. S. Bases Believed Slated For Discussion In London

MAR 9 1944

Allied Headquarters, Southwest Pacific, Thursday, March 9 (AP)—Fighter pilots of the Fifth Air Force have shot down their 1,500th Japanese plane, Lieut. Gen. George C. Kenney's headquarters announced today.

"Fifth Air Force fighters have lost only 134 lives in their two years of combat," headquarters said.

London, March 8 (AP)—A guarantee of United States post-war domination of the Pacific in the form of island bases—stepping-stones to security against future Japanese aggression—was reported today to be one of the topics likely to be discussed in the forthcoming British-American talks here.

It is expected that this subject will be explored on a preliminary basis when Edward R. Stettinius, United States Under Secretary of State, arrives, probably late this month, for a review of the problems of the two countries, and will be discussed in detail in aviation conferences at which Joseph C. Grew, former American Ambassador to Japan, is likely to outline the United States' basic needs.

The timeliness of the discussion is emphasized by the approach of a Congressional debate on renewal of the Lend-Lease Act, a subject which, on the basis of past experience, is sure to provoke a legislative demand for the acquisition of bases in advance of any peace conference.

Background Of Experience

Stettinius will bring to the conference his background of experience as a lend-lease administrator and will have available research on island bases which was ordered undertaken nearly a year ago by the House Naval subcommittee.

With the importance of the coming conferences underscored by the expectation that they will last at least three weeks, well-informed Britons declared there would be no limitation on the scope of the discussions, saying, "the sky's the limit."

Thus the coming get-together—a sign of the increasing effort of both countries to clear away doubts regarding each other's objectives—will be interwoven with the economic and political problems of Allied and Axis countries and neutrals.

Border Discussion Seen

It is highly probable that many of the talks will concern post-war borders of European countries in the light of the steady progress of the European Advisory Commission's efforts to reach agreement on German borders and kindred matters after victory is won.

This speculation was strengthened by the announcement that Stettinius would be accompanied by Dr. Isaiah Bowman, president of Johns Hopkins University, who is a Roosevelt adviser, one of Washington's elder statesmen and one of the country's top geographers.

Other possible questions on the agenda:

1. The government of Italy after the capture of Rome.
2. A decision on the resumption of the effort to win Turkey over to the Allied cause.
3. The status of the French Committee for National Liberation after the war.
4. An attempt to unite the Yugoslav factions under King Peter and Marshal Josip Broz.
5. Treatment of satellite countries when and if they part from the Axis.

Jeeps Down on the Farm

MELBOURNE, Australia, March 8 (AP).—Australian automobile agents report increasing orders from farmers and ranchers for American jeeps. Arrangements are being made for shipment to Australia of a modified form of the jeep. Farmers in hilly, muddy areas are particularly interested.

Eye Kept On Argentina, Eden Tells Commons

London, March 8 (AP)—Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden told the House of Commons today that the British Government would continue to maintain a guarded, watchful attitude toward Argentina until the political situation there is clarified.

Asked whether the Government intended to maintain relations with the present Argentine regime headed by Acting President Edelmiro Farrell, Eden said:

Developments Awaited

"On February 25 it was announced in Buenos Aires that, fatigued by the intense tasks of Government, President Ramirez had delegated his functions to Vice-President General Farrell. In view of the obscurity surrounding the circumstances in which this announcement came, his Majesty's Ambassador has since that time confined his communications with the Argentine Government to routine matters only, and similar proceedings are being observed as regards communications between his Majesty's Government and the Argentine Ambassador in London.

"This attitude will be maintained pending developments in Buenos Aires."

Eden indicated the British Government was watching closely to see what action would be taken by Argentina in fulfilment of Foreign Minister Diego Mason's recent assertion that the foreign policy of the Ramirez regime—which severed relations with the Axis—would be continued.

Move To Bolster U. S. Tie Hailed By Paper

Buenos Aires, March 8 (AP)—The newspaper La Nacion, commenting on a statement by Foreign Minister General Diego Luis Mason that Argentina intends to "strengthen the friendly links between Argentina and the United States," said today "the Argentine people will hail these phrases."

The newspaper declared that the United States' defense of the hemisphere was imperative for its own security, but added that "all countries who benefit ought to contribute to the best of their ability."

"Argentina can participate without misgivings," it continued. "She never has had differences or conflicts with the Northern Republic."

BRITAIN ALSO WARY OF ARGENTINE RULE

Washington, March 8 (A. P.).—Acting Secretary of State Stettinius said today that the United States is gratified to see that Britain takes the same view as this Government regarding Argentina.

Foreign Minister Anthony Eden told the House of Commons this morning that the British Ambassador in Buenos Aires, Sir David Victor Kelly, had received instructions to refrain from official relations with the military regime of Gen. Edelmiro Farrell, similar to the United States instructions to Ambassador Norman Armour.

Buenos Aires, March 8 (A. P.).—Restraints applied two days ago against Associated Press communication facilities were continued today by Argentine authorities.

Measures taken against the United Press and its domestic affiliate, Prensa Unida, were modified to permit UP to resume normal distribution of news to Argentine newspapers and radio stations, but both UP and AP were still deprived of leased wires to Montevideo.

Paraguay To Continue Relations With Argentina

Buenos Aires, March 8 (AP)—Paraguay has decided to join Chile and Bolivia in continuing diplomatic relations with Argentina, the Government announced today.

The announcement followed an hour's conference between Paraguayan Ambassador Francisco Pecci and Diego Mason, acting Argentine Foreign Minister.

The United States announced several days ago it had instructed its Ambassador here to take no action toward recognizing the regime of acting President Edelmiro Farrell, who replaced President Pedro Ramirez in a palace coup.

Argentina Lifts News Restriction

MAR 9 1944

Buenos Aires, March 8 (AP)—The Argentine Government announced tonight that a ban against wireless reception of Associated Press news reports had been lifted, effective at midnight.

At that hour La Nacion, a leading South American newspaper whose radio station has transcribed AP broadcasts for distribution by La Presna Asociada, Latin-American affiliate of the Associated Press, was authorized to resume this service.

The restriction against reception of the Associated Press' wireless news report and suspension of all communications facilities for La Prensa Asociada were ordered Monday night for a technical violation of radio and telegraph regulations.

Mex... Re... Air Arm or Action

X 30.24 — 13569

Mexico City, March 8 (AP)—President Manuel Avila Camacho told the Mexican air force today that it might carry the red-white-and-green flag of Mexico into actual fighting before the war is over.

Speaking at a luncheon given pilots who participated in a big air show here this week, the President said:

"To the air force falls the responsibility for carrying our national colors to the war fronts. I am ready now to fix the date for going."

The President recalled that he had already said publicly "the cause of democracy and the Allied nations demands that Mexican units participate in the fight."

He added that the air force, many of its officers already trained in the United States and others trained by graduates of United States Army air schools, would be the first to go.

WIFE OF PRESIDEN... REACHES PUERTO R.CO

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico, March 8—(AP) Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, touring an area from which, in her own words, the war is receding, today praised American servicemen "who are keeping watch where nothing happens day by day."

The President's wife arrived here after a visit to the United States base at Jamaica and Guantanamo, Cuba.

Mrs. Roosevelt met representatives of the press in a new sunparlor atop freshly painted old Fort Aleza, traditional residence of the governors of Puerto Rico.

"Soldiers who are under the guns primarily are concerned with remaining alive," the President's wife said. "Here in this quiet sector I have found the men more homesick and unable to understand why they don't have more opportunity to go on furlough."

FLIER KILLED

EDMONTON, Alta., March 8—(AP) United States air force officials here today announced a pilot killed Monday night when his single-seater airplane crashed in a vacant field here was Lieut. Keith H. Higgs of Belmont, Mass. He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Jean Higgs, 54 Chester road, Belmont.

10 World Parleys Being Arranged

Washington, March 7 (AP)—Diplomatic machinery to lay foundations for the post-war world has begun rolling, with at least ten international conferences now on the State Department calendar or in preparation.

The Anglo-American oil talks probably will be the first of the series, which excludes political conversations such as Acting Secretary of State Edward R. Stettinius' planned visit to London.

Parley On Oil

Stettinius announced yesterday that Great Britain and the United States would discuss petroleum questions in Washington soon. The projected American pipeline from the Persian gulf to the Mediterranean is expected to loom large in the talks, since the plan was announced by Interior Secretary Ickes before the State Department had time to inform the British.

Next on the schedule will probably be the United Nations monetary conference, under Treasury Department sponsorship, for which Pinehurst, N. C., has been mentioned as a likely site.

Labor Meeting

Definite plans for the international labor office meeting in Philadelphia on April 20 were announced today. The ILO was set up as an adjunct to the League of Nations and moved its headquarters to Montreal when the war broke out.

The United Nations food and agriculture interim commission has about completed its report on a food board, and when the draft has been approved by the member countries, the first meeting of the council will be held. The United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Administration is due to hold its second meeting this summer, possibly in either Montreal or Mexico City.

The long-forecast aviation conference now appears to be getting into shape, and a high source said recently that it probably would be attended by Britain, Russia, China and Canada in addition to the United States.

Shipping Conference

Informal talks between this country and Great Britain on post-war shipping have been held for some time, and Stettinius indicated recently that a conference on this subject is in the making.

Still in the early stages of preparation is a communcations conference, which may primarily concern just this country and Great Britain. Control of world cable and radio systems would come under discussion. Groundwork along these lines has already been laid by the Federal Communications Commission, Chairman James Fly told a Congressional committee yesterday.

Parachutes 'Brakes' On Crippled Bomber

WASHINGTON, March 8—(AP) Three billowing parachutes served as substitutes for brakes on the shell-riddled army bomber which was the first American plane to land on the fighter strip on Tarawa in the Gilbert islands.

The War department reported today that the brakes had been destroyed in a battle with Japanese planes, and First Lieut. Charles F. Pratte, of Warren, R. I., ordered his crew to fasten three parachutes to the plane to cut the speed sufficiently to make the emergency landing safe.

Pratte piloted the B-24 Liberator "Belle of Texas" on a bombing mission over Maloelap in the Marshalls.

He estimated that the plane's landing speed of approximately 140 miles an hour was reduced 30 to 40 miles an hour by the parachutes, which were opened as the plane touched the runway.

CROWLEY TELLS OF ALLIED AID

Says Reverse Lend-Lease Is Increasing.

Washington, March 8 (A. P.).—The volume of reverse lend lease aid furnished to the United States by its Allies is increasing steadily, Leo T. Crowley, Foreign Economic Administrator, told the House Foreign Affairs Committee today.

"The air offensive against Germany and the invasion coasts of Europe would have been impossible on the present scale without both lend-lease and reverse lend-lease," he stated in presenting these figures:

By the first of this year the United States was receiving reverse lend-lease aid from the United Kingdom, Australia, New Zealand and India at a rate of $2,000,000,000 a year, compared with a little over $1,000,000,000 a year for the twelve months ended June 30, 1943.

The British Commonwealth thus leads in reverse lend-lease supplies and services, but similar aid is also being received by the United States, as the need arises, from the French National Committee, Belgium, The Netherlands, Russia and China.

Testifying in behalf of pending legislation to extend lend-lease operations authority for the next fiscal year, Mr. Crowley said that approximately one-third of all supplies and equipment curently required by United States forces in the United Kingdom is supplied by the British as reverse lend-lease without cost to us.

In addition to planes, guns and other items of military equipment, the United States has received over a billion and a quarter pounds of food from the United Kingdom, Australia, New Zealand and India, plus the use of numerous facilities and services on which Mr. Crowley said no dollars and cents value could be placed.

NAVY CASUALTIES

Washington, March 8 (A. P.).—The Navy Department announced today a list of ninety-seven casualties in the Navy, Marine Corps and Coast Guard. This brings the total number of casualties in the Naval forces of the United States to 40,722, of whom 17,099 are dead; 9,837 wounded, 9,372 missing and 4,414 prisoners of war. Included in the list are these, with their next of kin:

CONNECTICUT.

WHITE, ALLEN W., pfc., U. S. Marine Corps; aunt, Mrs. Josephine Leblanc, 1249 State street, Bridgeport.

Roosevelt Asked to Raise Pay of War Objectors

Civil Liberties Group Urges Scale of $50 a Month

WASHINGTON, March 8 (AP).—A Civil Liberties Union Committee today asked President Roosevelt for a pay increase for conscientious objectors in work camps, and proposed that controls over such objectors be placed largely in the hands of civilians.

The group calling at the White House said objectors in work camps now are paid $2.50 to $15 a month, plus maintenance, and that 2,500 of them have dependents for whom no provision is made. They proposed that the objectors be scaled up to a maximum of $50 monthly, equivalent to the base pay for an Army private.

The committee also suggested:

That jurisdiction over conscientious objectors be placed in the Interior or Agriculture Department and be removed entirely from Selective Service.

That an appeals board operating in the Selective Service system, which it said now is military, be replaced by civilians.

That jurisdiction over pay rolls be transferred from Selective Service to the Justice Department.

That the Secretary of War appoint a committee, preferably civilian, to examine any cases of objectors who get in the Army by erros, with the view of reclassification.

Members of the committee were Ernest Angell, of New York, chairman of the National Committee on Conscientious Objectors; the Rev. William A. Lawrence, Episcopal Bishop of western Massachusetts; and Professor Rufus M. Jones, of Haverford, Pa., an official of the Society of Friends.

12,000 Maltese of N. Y. Give Scroll to Roosevelt

Express Appreciation for Gift of President to Defenders

WASHINGTON, March 8 (AP).—Twelve thousand New York residents of Maltese ancestry presented to President Roosevelt today a scroll expressing their appreciation for another scroll which Mr. Roosevelt bestowed on Malta's defenders last December.

The illuminated parchment, inclosed in a walnut case lined with red velvet, noted that the Liberty Bell was cast by an American colonel and a man of Malta.

"Our gratitude goes out to you," the scroll said, "as a great, humane leader of free men, voicing the finest traditions of humanity and holding out the hope that the future will be blessed with the liberty, justice and brotherhood which God intended from the beginning of time."

The document was signed by Harry O. Zarb, president of the Maltese community of metropolitan New York, and by officers of a number of Maltese organizations.

Alien Bill Filed In House

Washington, March 8 (AP)—A bill to require aliens to become United States citizens or be subject to deportation, and another measure to halt all immigration into this country until five years after the war, were introduced today by Representative Randolph (D., W. Va.).

MAJORITY VOTE ASKED TO APPROVE TREATIES

WASHINGTON, March 8.—(AP) Urging a constitutional amendment to permit ratification of treaties by a majority of both the Senate and the House, Representative Priest (D-Tenn.) told a House Judiciary sub-committee today that 17 senators now could block a treaty.

Priest declared the framers of the Constitution made a mistake in requiring that treaties, before becoming effective, must be approved by a two-thirds vote of the Senate.

JAPS IN SHIPYARD CITED AT HEARING

WASHINGTON, March 8 —(AP) Japanese workmen employed at the Pearl Harbor navy yards may have supplied the enemy fleet with the vital information which made the Dec. 7, 1941 attack so successful, a House committee was told today.

The possibility that the Japanese obtained their information on the disposition of the ships in the harbor and the weather from that source was suggested at hearings of the Lea Committee investigating the Federal Communications commission.

FCC chairman James L. Fly said it was "quite improbable" that enemy short wave transmitters supplied the information; that most likely it went from the Japanese consulate to Tokyo "over the regular channels" of cable and wire which were not censored.

Representative Magnuson (D-Wash) remarked that there were "hundreds" of Japanese employed at the yard and any one of them might have been able and willing to keep the consulate informed.

This discussion came about when Representative Miller (R-Mo), a sharp critic of Fly, asked him to say bluntly whether he or the FCC felt responsible in any way for part of the blame of the attack. Fly protested that his agency was in the clear, that it worked with the military authorities through 1941 and spread a radio detection network over the whole area, without finding any clandestine operations.

MORANO IN BROADCAST TO RESIDENTS OF ITALY

WASHINGTON, March 8.—(AP) Albert P. Morano, secretary to Representative Clare Boothe Luce (R-Conn.), has been broadcasting to liberated and occupied nations in Europe through facilities of the Office of War Information.

Morano is addressing the countrymen of his Italian ancestors in their native tongue on the anniversary Friday of the death of the Italian champion of liberty, Guiseppe Mazzini. Mazzini died March 10, 1872.

Morano, in a transcription for delivery Friday, said "today Mazzini's dream is on the threshold of realization."

"Today Italy is on the eve of emancipation from foreign tyranny and from the domestic oppression of minority rule. The Allies have declared that when the Germans are driven from Italy the Italian people will have the opportunity to choose the form of government under which they wish to live. They have already been delivered from the yoke of Fascism."

Morano implored the Italians to follow the spirit of Mazzini and act "for the liberation of your loved ones; act for the free Italy of tomorrow."

House Moves To Chart Post-War Pacific Plans

Washington, March 8 (AP)—Concerned over future United States military and commercial rights in the Pacific, the House today moved toward establishment of a 21-man committee to chart an American post-war program in that area.

Based on a resolution introduced by Representative Wadsworth (R., N. Y.) to create a committee on "post-war military policy," the committee would have as one of its primary concerns the disposal of Pacific island bases. House leaders today were considering selections for membership in the group.

MERCHANT MARINE IS AT RECORD PEAK

WASHINGTON March 8.—(AP) Rear Admiral Emory S. Land declared today that the United States Merchant Marine is bigger than that of all the other United Nations combined, and should be preserved after the war even if some of the ships have to be laid up.

The War Shipping administrator, appearing before the House Foreign Affairs committee in behalf of an extension of the Lend-Lease act for another year, said the U. S. cargo fleet is bearing the bulk of the shipping responsibility in the war.

He said that of the total outbound "dry" cargo from this nation last year, 42 per cent was Lend-Lease material. Less than two per cent was "lost," he said, compared with five per cent in 1942, and the volume was bigger.

Land joined Leo Crowley, Foreign Economics administrator, in advocating extension of the Lend-Lease act. Any change, the admiral said might imperil the supply of Allied forces in the "coming hour of decision."

Crowley reported a steadily increasing volume of reverse Lend-Lease, mostly from the British commonwealth but some from the French National committee, Belgium, the Netherlands, Russia and China.

At the beginning of this year, he said, the United States was receiving reverse Lend-Lease from the United Kingdom, Australia, New Zealand and India at the rate of $2,000,000,000 a year, nearly double that for the year ended June 30, 1943.

Last year, Crowley said, Russia, and nations of the British commonwealth each used at least one-half of its national production for the war. The United States just now is reaching that point, he said, and its contribution "is no greater in proportion to our resources than the contributions of our Allies are in relation to their resources."

Names: How Yanks Pronounce Them

Washington, March 8 (AP)—When the boys come home with funny names for foreign places, don't snicker.

They'll be right.

The armed services are teaching them the phonetic sound of place names the way inhabitants pronounce them.

In their new globalingo the boys call the Tiber river Tavere and pronounce it "Tah'-var-rah." They call the Dardanelles "Cha-nak'-ka-le Bo'-a-ze" after the Turkish name Canakkale Bogazi.

They came home last time calling Ypres just plain "Y-pers" and singing about a "Mada-ma-zell" from "Arm-an-teers'." This time they'll call Armentieres the fancy French "Ar-man'-tyar" . . . but it won't mean what it used to.

Good Reason

These are samples of 3,000,000 United States standard military pronunciations for inhabited places, mountains, valleys, hills, rivers, plains, jungles and deserts wherever American fighting men set foot around the world. There are 25,000,000 more coming up.

The point is:

Field officers designate military objectives and give orders orally by radio-telephone. An important mission might end in disaster if one objective were mistaken for another because troops misunderstood pronunciation or were confused by conflicting names.

Hence, military maps carry native names and phonetic English pronunciation of the local language as the best guarantee against mistakes.

In addition, the United States Board of Geographic Names is translating into the Roman alphabet of the western world, as nearly as possible, characters of the Chinese, Japanese, Malayan, Arabic and other Oriental languages.

55,000 Maps

The board has prepared 55,000 separate maps and many Atlases for the armed forces. It receives hundreds of requests weekly from them and from war agencies, newspapers and radio networks for standard place-name spelling and pronunciation.

30.24 — 13571

News broadcasters have been special customers ever since Hitler's surprise bulge bent the little Maginot Line and a commentator, thinking bulge a Belgian name, rattled out a dispatch from the "Battle of the Bull-gay."

The board, originated in 1890 by President Harrison as official authority on Government usage of geographical names, made 40,000 decisions last year, compared with a normal dozen or so. The army and navy contributed funds for the work.

Its young director, Dr. Meredith F. Burrill, a serious, slender man with sharp features and a mission, thinks global war has given him the nucleus of post-war global geographical language.

Common Use Sought

He is working with contemporaries abroad to influence common use of the native place-names in communications, commerce, travel and, especially, in anticipated vast air-cargo expansion.

For instance:

All countries would use the Austrian name Wien instead of the Italian version, Vienna.

Moscow would become Moskva in schoolbooks and common usage all over the world; Naples would be Napoli; Belgrade, Beograd; Bucharest, Bucuresti; Warsaw, Warszawa, and The Hague, Gravenhage.

Citta del Lago Salato would become Salt Lake City in Italy, for instance, and Nowy Jork would be New York, and Waszynton, plain Washington in Poland.

CURRAN'S POLITICS CHARGE IS REBUKED

WASHINGTON, March 8.—(AP) President Joseph Curran of the C.I.O.'s National Maritime Union drew angry protests from Republican senators today when he told the Truman committee he saw "political significance" in some newspaper accounts of the cracking of Liberty ships.

Asserting that Senator Wallgren (D-Wash), an administration supporter, "made more fuss" about the investigation than any one else, senators Brewster (R-Maine) and Ferguson (R-Mich) demanded that the witness submit for the record later the stories to which he referred.

The flareup came after Curran corroborated testimony of three Southern Liberty ship builders that cracks, many minor in nature, which occurred in 163 of 1917 such vessels, involved only "a very small percentage" of the construction.

"All the battlefields of the world are witnesses to the efficiency of the Liberty ship," Curran declared.

But he said he would consider it "dangerous" to use the Libertys as hospital ships and that only an "emergency" would justify use as a troop carrier.

He said that "the percentage of loss through cracking is so small as to suggest political significance in some newspaper accounts of the investigation."

Under questioning by Brewster about his trip to Africa aboard a Merchant ship a year ago, the witness denied that he sought to avoid induction, asserting, "If I wanted to get away from something, I wouldn't have come back where I started from."

WILSON MAY HEAD PLANNING BOARD

MAR 9 1944

WASHINGTON, March 8.—(AP) War Production Board Chairman Donald M. Nelson may shortly appoint Charles E. Wilson, WPB executive vice chairman, to head a new committee on post-war planning and adjustment which will lay down the policy lines for the reconversion of industry.

Nelson's action, informed WPB sources said tonight, is expected this week. The committee will include representatives of the armed forces and other agencies concerned, as well as WPB's two vice chairmen who represent labor, Joseph Keenan of the AFL and Clinton Golden of the CIO.

The committee would be of parallel importance in WPB with the production executive committee, also headed by Wilson, which governs the major munitions programs.

Associates of Nelson said he himself would resolve any questions on which the new committee disagreed, but that it would be responsible for making the major policy decisions on reconversion while leaving the smaller details to the judgment of WPB's present industry divisions.

G.O.P. JUBILANT OVER COLORADO CONGRESS VICTORY

WASHINGTON, March 8.—(AP) Republicans rejoiced today over another special congressional election victory—this time in Colorado where a business man defeated a war hero-political neophyte. Democrats, while unhappy, refused to concede that it indicated a national trend.

Republicans have won eight of the 10 such elections held since the general elections of 1942 and five more are coming up. They now have 210 House seats against 216 for the Democrats, with 218 a clear majority. But they have no hopes of organizing that branch this year through future special elections.

The G.O.P. leaders are counting on winning the 19th Illinois district seat vacated by the death of a Republican, Representative Wheat, and believe they have a good chance of capturing one of the four Democratic vacancies, the Second Oklahoma district where Representative Nichols resigned. Special elections also must be held in Alabama, New York, and Illinois.

Halleck Hails Victory

Representative Halleck of Indiana, chairman of the National Republican Congressional committee, saw in the victory of Dean M. Gillespie, Denver Republican business man, over the Democratic nominee, Major Carl E. Wuertele, wounded and decorated World War II flier, evidence that the people are "through with the New Deal."

Halleck said that of late the people "have struck at the New Deal and its sponsors whenever and wherever they have had the opportunity" and added the issue in Colorado was clearly drawn—he called it "constitutional government vs. bureaucratic dictatorship."

Republican National Chairman Harrison E. Spangler recalled he had predicted a Republican presidential victory in November. He said he would repeat that forecast on the basis of the Colorado vote and recent returns from New York's 21st district where a Democrat won by a reduced margin in a Tammany district.

Democrats Disappointed

A Democratic spokesman, Victor Hunt Harding, executive secretary of the Democratic House Campaign committee, made no attempt to hide his disappointment, but said in all special elections so many local factors are involved that it is "difficult to detect a general trend."

Harding said the heavy vote in Denver was encouraging and showed the "people are thinking rather than letting elections go by default as they did in New York's 21st."

Victor Says Prime Concern Is to Win War

DENVER, March 8.—(AP) Widely divergent views were held tonight by Republican and Democratic leaders here as to the significance of Tuesday's special election which sent Dean M. Gillespie, Republican businessman, to Congress to fill the seat vacated by the death of Representative Lawrence Lewis, Democrat. Lewis had held the seat since 1933.

Republicans generally viewed the final unofficial count, which gave Gillespie a 2,978 lead over Major Carl E. Wuertele, Democrat, as a protest against administration domestic policies and called it an indication of a definite Republican trend throughout the country. Gillespie drew 41,418 votes, Wuertele 38,440.

The Republican victor in a statement today said his first concern would be to help win the war quickly. When that is done, he said, the nation will face a grave post-war reemployment problem.

"Only by unshackling business and giving it a chance to act can this problem be solved," Gillespie said. "It can't be done by any gigantic WPA or make-work program. This election showed people really are thinking about such things."

In a statement Benjamin Sweet, campaign manager for Wuertele, a hero of this war, said a large proportion of the Republican vote undoubtedly was "a protest against restrictions and inconveniences."

He insisted, however, that the Democrats had only limited campaign funds and that some apathy was shown by "certain groups on whom we counted." Although he did not identify these groups, it was known some Democratic leaders felt organized labor had not turned out as expected.

DEMOCRATS SEEK UNITY IN SENATE

WASHINGTON, March 8 — (AP) Coinciding with administration efforts to patch up differences with Congress, Senator O'Mahoney of Wyoming, new chairman of the Democratic Senatorial Campaign committee, today invited Democratic senators to meet with officers of the party's National committee Friday at a "get acquainted" luncheon.

The purpose, as described in the invitations, is to honor Mrs. Dorothy McElroy Vredenburgh of Alabama, the new secretary of the National committee. A special Senate dining room has been reserved.

Most of the Democratic senators, including Wheeler of Montana, an opponent of the fourth term, already have accepted. Committee officers who will attend include Chairman Robert E. Hannegan; Ambrose O'Connell, executive vice chairman; Oscar Ewing and Mrs. Charles Tillett, vice chairman; Edwin Pauley, treasurer; Paul Porter, new director of publicity, and Charles Michelson, associate publicity director.

Vice President Henry Wallace, Majority Leader Alben Barkley of the Senate and Senator Hill of Alabama, the party whip in the Senate, will sit at the head table.

Interest in the luncheon was heightened by recent reports that Hannegan has offered many anti-administration Democrats, including some who were marked as intended victims of the ill-fated purge of 1938, financial and other aid in their re-election races this year, with a view of presenting a united front against the Republicans.

Senator Tydings of Maryland, against whom the President personally campaigned in 1938, is one who is expected to receive National committee assistance with the President's approval. Aid reportedly has been offered also to Senators Clark of Missouri, McCarran of Nevada, Clark of Idaho and Gillette of Iowa.

SAY NAZIS TRIED TO TAKE OVER PAPER

MAR 9 1944

NEW YORK, March 8 — (AP) Victor Ridder, publisher of the New York Staats-Zeitung, German language newspaper, testified in Federal court, Brooklyn, today that the Nazis tried — but failed — to take over his paper and ban "pro-Jewish articles."

Ridder testified at the trial of eight men charged with securing citenzship papers fraudulently and illegally.

He testified that one Heinz Spanknoebel visited him and showed him a letter saying Spanknoebel had been authorized by the Nazi government to come to the United States and direct policies of all German-newspapers here.

Ridder said Spanknoebel then gave him another letter saying "we are taking over the direction of your newspaper and from now on you will not be permitted to write your pro-Jewish articles any longer."

Ridder said that during the discussion, his brother, Bernard Ridder, entered and ordered Spanknoebel and a companion to "get the hell out of here and stay out!"

They did, Ridder testified.

OFFICER AT YALE TO RECEIVE MEDAL

NEW HAVEN, March 8.—(AP) For outstanding leadership qualities and gallantry in action while a member of the Royal Air Force, a U. S. Army air forces officer now stationed at the AAF training command school at Yale university, will receive the British Distinguished Flying Cross March 10, Col. Raymond J. Reeves, commanding officer of the school announced today.

Lieut. Robert S. Raymond, 31, of Kansas City, Mo., will be awarded the medal at afternoon ceremonies at the British embassy in Washington, D. C. Lord Halifax, the British ambassador to the U. S., will make the presentation on behalf of King George VI.

Sweden Plans Airline to U. S.

DENVER, March 8 (AP)—Sweden plans to establish an airline to the United States as soon as American-built planes are available, Rolf von Heidenstam, chairman of a Swedish trade mission touring the United States, said today. Private capital in his country already had subscribed $3,000,000 to start such a service, he reported.

20 Alaska Children Find A New World in the U. S.

Parents Who Adopted 18 Bring Family South for Health

SEATTLE, March 8 (AP).—The Arketa children—all twenty of them—are discovering a wonderful new world abounding with horses and cows, trains and buses.

The youngsters, all but two adopted, were brought here from Juneau, Alaska, by their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Arketa.

"Our moving is a sort of health program," Mr. Arketa said. "We will be able to give them green vegetables and fruits and more milk. They are really enjoying apples and oranges, too."

The children, from two to eighteen years old, are all at least part Alaska Indian. Mr. Arketa, part Iroquois, and his wife at times looked after forty to fifty youngsters in Alaska as part of missionary work which Mr. Arketa described as "Christian but not denominational."

Many East Indians Driven To Jungles

San Francisco, March 8 (AP)—Terror and hunger brought by the Japanese to the Netherlands East Indies have driven the whole populations of some islands into the jungles, Aneta, Netherlands news agency, reported today from Melbourne.

The Japanese customarily bayonet, shoot or beat Indonesians to death for the slightest resistance to attempts to force men into labor camps or semi-military organizations, Aneta said the Netherlands Government information service reported on the second anniversary of the fall of Java.

Villages throughout the islands were reported emptied of able-bodied men by Japanese conscription. Black markets exist in everything, except cotton, which is almost non-existent. Food is so scarce that even rice, formerly abundant in Java, is stringently rationed.

Nazis Halt Texas Flyer's Church-Painting Drive

Pilot Missing After Sending $10 for Each Mission

SAN ANGELO, Tex., March 8 (AP).—Lieutenant Louie R. Dobbs's one-man campaign to paint the Katemcy, Texas, church has been halted by the Nazis.

Credited with sixteen missions and downing three German planes, Lieutenant Dobbs had sent home $10 every time he completed a mission, instructing that the money be used toward painting the little frame church of which he became a member when he was sixteen.

Yesterday his parents received word that Lieutenant Dobbs had been missing in action over Germany since Feb. 22.

AIDD LONDON - (YARBROUGH) X: SHEPETOVKA

A CORRESPONDENT OF THE ARMY NEWSPAPER RED STAR REPORTED FROM THE FRONT THAT GERMAN RESISTANCE WAS GROWING, AND THAT "THE LANDSCAPE IS BECOMING EXCEEDINGLY MORE COMPLICATED," BROKEN BY SMALL, FLOODED LAKES, BY STREAMS AND FORESTS.

MAR 9 1:4

THE DISPATCH SAID THE RUSSIANS HITCHED LONG LINES OF SLEDGES BEHIND TANKS, USING THEM TO HAUL MACHINE-GUNNERS ACROSS THE MUDDY FIELDS TO STRIKE THE ENEMY, AND THAT THE NAZIS HAD CONCENTRATED STRONG FORCES OF ARMOR AND MEN TRYING TO HOLD THEIR COMMUNICATION LINES.

"THIS IS UNDERSTANDABLE," IT ADDED, "BECAUSE OF THE LACK OF ROADS, AND THE FIELDS ARE PRACTICALLY IMPASSABLE FOR THE TROOPS."

ZHUKOV'S OFFENSIVE ALREADY HAD ACHIEVED ITS FIRST MAIN OBJECTIVE --A GAP IN THE ODESSA-WARSAW RAILROAD--A PRIZE ALL THE MORE VALUABLE BECAUSE THE SNOW AND MUD HAVE HALTED ROAD TRAFFIC.

THE GERMANS, FAR FROM BELITTLING THE RENEWED SOVIET DRIVE HERE, HARPED ON ITS GRAND PROPORTIONS. FIELD MARSHAL GEN.FRITZ VON MANNSTEIN'S COUNTEROFFENSIVES--AT A TIME WHEN MOST OBSERVERS BELIEVE HE CAN ILL AFFORD THEM--SHOW WHAT A SORE SPOT IN THE WHOLE SYSTEM ZHUKOV HAS TOUCHED.

THE NAZIS MUST FIGHT HARD TO RETAKE THE RAILWAY OR AT LEAST TO HOLD SECONDARY ROADS, OR LOSE ALL HOPE OF A FINAL RETREAT WITH ANY APPRECIABLE PART OF THEIR MEN AND MACHINES.

ONE BERLIN BROADCAST SAID:

"AMERICAN BOMBERS AGAIN ATTEMPTED WITH STRONG FORCES TO REACH BERLIN. THE EXECUTION OF THIS ATTACK WAS VERY NEARLY SIMILAR TO THAT OF THE DAY BEFORE YESTERDAY. A NEW BIG DEFENSIVE SUCCESS FOR THE GERMAN AIR DEFENSE IS EXPECTED."

ANOTHER GERMAN BROADCAST SAID THAT THE BOMBERS "DIVIDED INTO SEVEN MAIN FORMATIONS AND UNDER A NUMERICALLY VERY STRONG FIGHTER ESCORT CROSSED THE GERMAN BORDER. PITCHED AIR BATTLES DEVELOPED OVER THE BORDER TERRITORIES."

"OVER THE GERMAN CAPITAL ITSELF," THE ANNOUNCER CONTINUED, "FLAK BATTERIES WERE EMINENTLY SUCCESSFUL IN ADDITION TO THE DEFENSE OF THE FIGHTER AND DESTROYER FORMATIONS BECAUSE OF THE CLOUDLESS SKY AND EXCELLENT OBSERVATION POSSIBILITIES."

HERE IS THE TIMETABLE IN THE CRESCENDO OF DAYLIGHT ATTACKS ON BERLIN:

FRIDAY, MARCH 3--LIGHTNINGS MAKE OFFENSIVE SWEEP, THE FIRST U.S. WARPLANES OVER THE GERMAN CAPITAL.

SATURDAY, MARCH 4--ONE FORMATION OF FORTRESSES DROPS FIRST BOMBS ON BERLIN.

MONDAY, MARCH 6--AN ESTIMATED 850 HEAVY BOMBERS DROP 2,000 TONS.

WEDNESDAY, MARCH 8--HEAVIES DROP 10,000 HIGH EXPLOSIVE BOMBS AND 350,000 INCENDIARIES.

THE FRENCH RAILROAD CENTER OF LEMANS BLASTED BY THE RAF LAST NIGHT IS A CONVENIENT FUNNEL FOR ROUTING BIG RAIL SHIPMENTS BETWEEN THE NORTHERN AND THE WESTERN AND SOUTHWESTERN FRENCH COASTS.

THE MARAUDERS TODAY SWEPT OUT 150 STRONG AGAINST AIRFIELDS AT SOESTERBERG AND VOLKEL IN HOLLAND AND LEFT HANGARS AND DISPERSAL AREAS AND HEADQUARTERS BUILDINGS AND OTHER INSTALLATIONS BURNING STRONGLY. SOESTERBERG IS 35 MILES NORTHEAST OF ROTTERDAM AND VOLKEL IS ONLY 15 MILES FROM THE GERMAN BORDER. FOR THE THIRD SUCCESSIVE DAY THE MARAUDER OPERATIONS WERE CONDUCTED WITHOUT LOSS.

SWEDISH EYEWITNESSES TO MONDAY'S DEVASTATING ATTACK ON BERLIN REACHED STOCKHOLM TODAY IN TIME TO ESCAPE THE RETURN VISIT OF THE U.S. BOMBERS. THEY REPORTED THE FRIEDRICHSTRASSE AND THE PREVIOUSLY-DAMAGED STETTINER RAILWAY STATIONS WERE HIT MONDAY.

"I WAS STAYING ONLY TWO BLOCKS FROM THE STETTINER RAILWAY STATION, AND AFTER THE ALL CLEAR I WALKED OVER TO SEE THE FIRE," ONE RETURNED TRAVELER SAID IN STOCKHOLM. "YOU COULD SEE WHERE EACH AMERICAN BOMB HAD LANDED.

"THE FRIEDRICHSTRASSE RAILWAY STATION, WHICH IS A KEY POINT IN BERLIN'S TRANSPORTATION NETWORK, WAS STRUCK BY TWO EXPLOSIVE BOMBS AND A NUMBER OF INCENDIARIES.

A HIGH RANKING OFFICER WHO WITNESSED THE FEAT OF THE DOUGHBOY, WHO LIVES AT 59 KENNEDY HOMES, FORT LAUDERDALE, FLA., SAID "HE HAD THE GUTS TO STICK TO HIS GUNS AND HE GOT HIM."

THE ACTION OCCURRED AT DAYBREAK, AND ELDER, A GUNNER ON THE TANK DESTROYER, COULD SEEN ENEMY TANKS TURNING INTO A ROAD THAT CLIMBED TO THE CREST OF A HILL. HIS STORY OF THE ENGAGEMENT:

"THE GERMANS HAD THE BRITISH SURROUNDED, AND WE WENT IN TO GET THEM. IT WAS ABOUT FIVE OR SIX 5:30 O'CLOCK, AND JUST GETTING LIGHT. WE KNEW THE GERMANS HAD TO COME INTO AN EXPOSED POSITION ON THE TOP OF THE HILL, AND WE JUST SAT THERE WAITING FOR HIM.

"HE NEVER HAD A CHANCE TO USE HIS OWN GUNS. I FIRED ONE ROUND AND HIT HIM RIGHT IN THE FRONT. THE TANK SEEMED TO SHUDDER AND STOP. THE CREW MADE NO EFFORT TO LEAVE THE TANK, AND WE CONCLUDED THAT THEY WERE ALL KILLED BY CONCUSSION.

MAR 9 1944

"JUST AT THAT MOMENT, A TANK WHICH FOLLOWED THE MARK SIX UP THE HILL CAUGHT US IN ITS SIGHTS AND WE WERE KNOCKED OUT. THE SHELL HIT US RIGHT IN FRONT, AND THE CONCUSSION WAS PRETTY BAD. SHRAPNEL WAS FLYING AROUND INSIDE THE TANK DESTROYER AND FIRE BROKE OUT EVERYBODY IN THE CREW BUT MYSELF GOT BURNS, BUT I HAD MY FACE IN THE SIGHTS AND WORE GLOVES, AND I GUESS THAT SAVED ME.

"I DON'T REMEMBER MUCH WHAT HAPPENED IN THE NEXT FEW MINUTES. IT WAS EVERY MAN FOR HIMSELF. WE PILED OUT OF THE TANK DESTROYER AND JUMPED INTO A DITCH AND PULLED THE WOUNDED IN AFTER US.

"THE [illegible] OCCUPIED WAS RIGHT IN THE FRONT LINES AND [illegible] JERRY INFANTRY PINNED US THERE FROM ABOUR 6:30 IN THE MORNING UNTIL 3:30 THAT AFTERNOON. WE COULD HEAR THE JERRIES SHOUTING AND EVEN HEAR THEM RUNNING IN DITCHES AND BEHIND COVER.

"FINALLY SOME BRITISH CAME ALONG WITH A GROUP OF GERMAN PRISONERS AND PASSED WITHIN 10 FEET OF WHERE WE WERE LYING. WE LEAPED UP, MINGLED WITH THE PRISONERS AND WALKED WITH THEM UNTIL WE GOT BEHIND OUR OWN LINES. THE GERMANS WOULDN'T SHOOT AT THE PRISONERS BUT THEY TALKED TO THEM AND IT WAS THE STRANGEST SENSATION I EVER EXPERIENCED TO SEE THOSE PRISONERS WAVING AND YELLING TO THEIR COMRADES WHO STOOD THERE WITH RIFLES IN THEIR HANDS N O T 50 YARDS AWAY.

"ONE JERRY PRISONER CLASPED HANDS OVER HIS HEAD LIKE A PRIZE FIGHTER AND WAVED TO A BIG GERMAN INFANTRYMAN AND SHOUTED SOMETHING TO HIM BUT I COULDN'T UNDERSTAND A WORD HE SAID.

MAR 9 1944

ELDER SAID HE PREVIOUSLY HAD KILLED ANOTHER MARK SIX AND POSSIBLY A MARK FOUR. HE FOUGHT ALL THROUGH TUNISIA, BUT HE DECLARED, "THE BEACHHEAD IS A HELL HOLE COMPARED TO TUNISIA. YOU GET PRETTY JITTERY HERE SOMETIMES WHEN THE SHELLING GETS THICK AND THE BOMBERS GET BUSY BUT I GUESS I CAN TAKE IT." #

ALGIERS, MARCH 8-(AP)-PRE-WAR DISCORD BETWEEN FRENCH CONSERVATIVES AND THE POPULAR FRONT AROSE TO PLAGUE THE FRENCH COMMITTEE OF NATIONAL LIBERATION AT THE TREASON TRIAL OF PIERRE PUCHEU YESTERDAY AS GEN. HENRI GIRAUD DROVE A WEDGE BETWEEN THE ARMY AND THE LEFTWING DEGAULLIST LEADERS.

TESTIFYING IN DEFENSE OF THE FORMER VICHY INTERIOR MINISTER, THE COMMANDER OF THE FRENCH ARMED FORCES DEFENDED FRENCHMEN LOYAL TO VICHY BEFORE NOVEMBER, 1942, AND CALLED FOR UNITY BEHIND THE FRENCH ARMY.

GIRAUD SAID A TRIAL SUCH AS THAT NOW IN PROGRESS SHOULD HAVE BEEN POSTPONED UNTIL AFTER THE LIBERATION OF THE FRENCH HOMELAND, THUS PLACING HIMSELF IN OPPOSITION TO THE LEFTWING DEGAULLISTS WHO BROUGHT THE PUCHEU CASE TO A HEAD WITH THEIR DEMANDS FOR HIS IMMEDIATE EXECUTION.

MAR 9 1944

PUCHEU HAD SERVED AS MINISTER OF THE INTERIOR AT VICHY FOR ABOUT A YEAR ENDING IN APRIL, 1942-- SEVEN MONTHS BEFORE THE ALLIED LANDINGS IN NORTH AFRICA.

DECLARING THAT THE BEST FRENCHMEN "ARE THOSE WHO NOW ARE FIGHTING AND DYING IN ITALY," GIRAUD SAID THAT THE FRENCH ARMY HAS SHOWN WHAT FRANCE WANTS.

"IT IS AROUND THESE FIGHTING MEN WHO BEAR NO LABELS THAT OUR UNITY SHOULD BE MADE," HE ADDED. "AS ITS COMMANDER-IN-CHIEF I WANT UNITY AROUND IT."

MAR 9 1944

GIRAUD REMINDED THE COURT THAT UNTIL NOVEMBER, 1942, VICHY WAS THE "OFFICIAL GOVERNMENT RECOGNIZED BY FOREIGN POWERS," THEREBY CONTESTING THE PROSECUTION'S CONTENTION THAT THE VICHY REGIME WAS ILLEGAL FROM 1940 AND THAT ALL ITS OFFICIALS THEREFORE WERE TRAITORS.

THE PROSECUTION'S CONTENTION IS SHARED BY ALL LEFTWING RESISTANCE LEADERS IN THE CONSULTATIVE ASSEMBLY.

ALGIERS, MARCH 8-(AP)-PIERRE PUCHEU TESTIFIED IN CLOSED SESSION TODAY ON METHODS OF DISTRIBUTION AND STORAGE OF MILITARY MATERIALS BY OFFICERS AND MEN OF THE "ARMISTICE ARMY" AS THE DEFENSE CONCLUDED ITS CASE IN THE TREASON TRIAL OF THE FORMER VICHY INTERIOR MINISTER.

THE DEFENDANT RECEIVED THE MILITARY TRIBUNAL'S PERMISSION TO CLARIFY HIS RELATIONS WITH THE PERSONNEL OF THE ARMY ALLOWED FRANCE BY THE 1940 ARMISTICE AFTER A FORMER SUBORDINATE--ONE CAPT. BEIGBEDER--MENTIONED THE CLANDESTINE STOCKS OF ARMS IN TODAY'S MORNING SESSION.

THE CAPTAIN WAS THE DEFENSE'S LAST WITNESS, AND PROSECUTOR GEN. WEISS, AN AIR CORPS OFFICER, IS EXPECTED TO MAKE HIS CLOSING ARGUMENTS TOMORROW.

GEN. HENRI GIRAUD, COMMANDER OF THE FRENCH ARMED FORCES YESTERDAY GAVE EVIDENCE IN PUCHEU'S DEFENSE, ASSERTING HE TRIED TO SWIN MARSHAL PETAIN, VICHY CHIEF OF STATE, AWAY FROM COLLABORATION WITH THE GERMANS. THREE LEADERS OF FRENCH UNDERGROUND GROUPS HAVE TESTIFIED THAT PUCHEU HAD BEEN CONDEMNED BY AN UNDERGROUND COURT TO DEATH FOR COLLABORATING WITH THE NAZIS.

SOLOMONS-BASED BOMBERS AND FIGHTERS CONTINUED THEIR HAMMERING OF RABAUL, ENEMY BASE ON NEW BRITAIN, 170 AIRLINE MILES EAST OF THE MARIFS' MONDAY LANDING NEAR TALASEA ON WILLAUMEZ PENINSULA.

THE BOMBERS HIT RABAUL TOWNSHIP AND TOBERA AIRDROME SUNDAY WITH 98 TONS OF EXPLOSIVES, BLASTING WATERFRONT INSTALLATIONS, PARKED AIRCRAFT AND HARBOR SHIPPING. THERE WAS NO ENEMY AERIAL INTERCEPTION, AS IN THE PAST THREE WEEKS, BUT ANTI-AIRCRAFT FIRE WAS INTENSE. ONE ALLIED PLANE IS MISSING.

ON LOS NEGROS ISLAND, NAVY SEABEES HAVE RESTORED MOMOTE AIRDROME AND NOW SMALL PLANES USED AS SPOTTERS FOR ARTILLERY FIRE ARE LANDING THERE.

IT WAS ONLY NINE DAYS AGO THAT TROOPERS OF THE FIRST CAVALRY DIVISION DASHED ASHORE AT LOS NEGROS AND QUICKLY CAPTURED THE MOMOTE AIRDROME. STIFF FIGHTING FOLLOWED AND IN ONE BATTLE MORE THAN 700 JAPANESE DIED.

A HEADQUARTERS SPOKESMAN SAID THE AMERICANS HAD PUSHED NORTH OF MOMOTE AIRFIELD TO SALAMI PLANTATION AND WEST ALMOST THREE MILES TO PORLAKA ON SEADLER HARBOR, WHICH SEPARATES LOS NEGROS AND MANUS ISLAND, TO THE WEST.

MEANWHILE, AMERICAN DESTROYERS CONTINUED ALMOST DAILY BOMBARDMENTS OF THE CHAIN OF SMALL ISLANDS ALONG THE NORTH RIM OF SEADLER HARBOR. ONE DESTROYER CLOSED WITHIN 800 YARDS OF HAUWEI ISLAND AND SILENCED TWO SHORE BATTERIES.

TWO JAPANESE 4.7-INCH NAVAL GUNS WERE CAPTURED IN THEIR CONCRETE EMPLACEMENTS WHEN PORLAKA WAS TAKEN.

THE MARINE LANDING ON WILLAUMEZ PENINSULA, NEW BRITAIN, WAS FIVE MILES NORTHWEST OF TALASEA. HITTING THE BEACH WITHOUT BENEFIT OF NAVAL BOMBARDMENT, BUT WELL COVERED BY FIGHTER PLANES, THE LEATHERNECKS PUSHED FORWARD TOWARD TALASEA, WHERE THERE IS AN AIRFIELD.

AERIAL ATTACKS ON CAPE HOSKINS, WHERE 32 TONS OF BOMBS WERE DROPPED ON AN ENEMY AIRDROME, AND ON JAPANESE TARGETS ON RIEBECK AND STETTIN BAYS, ALL IN THE VICINITY OF WILLAUMEZ PENINSULA, AIDED THE MARINE THRUST. #

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, SOUTHWEST PACIFIC, THURSDAY, MARCH 9 (AP)-THE BISMARCK SEA, STRATEGIC BODY OF WATER THAT SYMBOLIZES CONTROL OF THE SOUTH-SOUTHWEST PACIFIC, NOW IS VIRTUALLY AN ALLIED LAKE.

THE SOUTHEAST ENTRANCE THROUGH NARROW ST.GEORGE CHANNEL LEADING PAST RABAUL IS COMMANDED BY AMERICAN WARSHIPS.

THE SOUTHWEST GATEWAY, THROUGH THE VITIAZ STRAIT BETWEEN NEW

30.24 — 13585

GUINEA AND NEW BRITAIN, HAS BEEN DOMINATED FOR SOME TIME BY ALLIED GROUND FORCES ON BOTH FLANKS, AS WELL AS BY ALLIED WARSHIPS.

YESTERDAY, GEN.DOUGLAS MACARTHUR ANNOUNCED ALLIED FORCES HAD FULL CONTROL OF LOS NEGROS ISLAND IN THE ADMIRALTY GROUP TO THE NORTH AND THAT MOMOTE AIRFIELD THERE WAS READY FOR USE.

MAR 9 1944

THAT PLACES AN ALLIED AIRBASE WITHIN RANGE OF JAPANESE SHIPPING SEEKING TO ENTER THE BISMARCK SEA FROM TRUK, TO THE NORTH, OR FROM THE NORTHWEST. IT VIRTUALLY CLOSES THE BISMARCK SEA TO ENEMY SHIPPING, FOR ALLIED PLANES EASILY CAN PATROL THE COMPARATIVELY SHORT OVER-WATER DISTANCES BETWEEN MOMOTE AND KAVIENG, NEW IRELAND, TO THE EAST, AND BETWEEN MOMOTE AND THE NEW GUINEA COAST TO THE SOUTHWEST.

FURTHER STRENGTHENING THE ALLIED GRIP ON THE SOUTHERN FLANK OF THE BISMARCK SEA, AMERICAN GROUND FORCES ADVANCED 110 MILES ALONG THE NORTHERN SHORE OF NEW BRITAIN TOWARD RABAUL. THIS ADVANCE WAS PACED ON THE SOUTHERN SHORE OF THE ISLAND BY AN AMERICAN PUSH OF 24 MILES EASTWARD FROM ARAWE TOWARD THE JAPANESE BASE OF GASMATA.

THESE OVERLAND ADVANCES AND SEABORNE THRUSTS BROUGHT MEASURABLY NEARER FULFILLMENT OF MACARTHUR'S PRONOUNCEMENT, IMMEDIATELY AFTER THE SURPRISE LANDING ON LOS NEGROS LAST WEEK, THAT "THE END OF THE BISMARCK CAMPAIGN IS NOW CLEARLY IN SIGHT."

MARINE UNITS OF THE FIRST DIVISION SACRIFICED WARSHIP PROTECTION FOR SPEED AND SURPRISE IN THEIR LEAP-FROG ADVANCE AROUND ENEMY-HELD SHORES TO WITHIN FIVE MILES OF TALASEA AND 170 MILES OF RABAUL. THIS AMPHIBIOUS THRUST TO THE WEST COAST OF THE WILLAUMEZ PENINSULA WAS THEIR FIRST REPORTED ADVANCE SINCE THEY SLOGGED THROUGH RAIN-BOGGED JUNGLES TO ROTTOCK BAY, 25 AIRLINE MILES EAST OF THE CAPE GLOUCESTER AIRFIELD.

GASMATA, NOW THREATENED BY THE AMERICAN GROUND ADVANCE, LONG WAS SERVED JAPANESE ON NEW BRITAIN'S SOUTH COAST AS A SUPPLY AND EMERGENCY AIRBASE.

THERE STILL ARE SOME JAPANESE TO BE ELIMINATED AND POSITIONS TO BE REDUCED AND TAKEN IN THE ADMIRALTIES, AND MUCH LARGER ENEMY FORCES AND STRONGER POSITIONS TO BE DEALT WITH ON EASTERN NEW BRITAIN AND ON NEW IRELAND.

BUT BARRING A MAJOR JAPANESE EFFORT TO REINFORCE HIS ALREADY UNDERMINED AND CLOSELY BLOCKADED SOUTHERN PACIFIC ISLAND BASTIONS, THE MOMENTUM GAINED BY THE ALLIED OFFENSIVE IN THE PAST WEEK IS LIKELY TO BE SUSTAINED BY FULL ALLIED UTILIZATION OF MASTERY OF THE AIR AND SEA THROUGHOUT THE BISMARCK ARCHIPELAGO.

BOUGAINVILLE, SOLOMON ISLANDS, FEB 26-(DELAYED)-ONCE-MIGHTY RABAUL, CENTER OF JAPANESE AIR POWER IN THE SOUTH PACIFIC, LOOKED PEACEFUL AND IMPOTENT UNDER THE WINGS OF THE AIR ARMADA OF ALLIED PLANES.

MORE THAN 200 PLANES WERE BREAKING OUT OF THE HEAVY MASS OF CUMULUS CLOUDS TO UNLOAD A SHATTERING RAIN OF BOMBS ON VUNAPOPE, COASTAL SUPPLY BASE TEN MILES SOUTHEAST OF RABAUL.

"IF YOU HAVE TO GET OUT OF THE PLANE IN A HURRY, REMEMBER THAT EMERGENCY KNOB ON THE COCKPIT ENCLOSURE," SAID LT. (JG) GRAHAM TAHLER OF (8951 70TH ROAD) FOREST HILLS, LONG ISLAND, N.Y., PILOT OF THE AVENGER TORPEDO BOMBER IN WHICH I WAS RIDING.

THE 22-YEAR-OLD PILOT, WHO CAPTAINED THE QUEEN'S COLLEGE (NY) BASEBALL TEAM IN 1939 AND 1940, IS A VETERAN OF 25 BOMBING MISSIONS.

MAR 9 1944

AHEAD OF US A FORMATION OF MORE THAN 50 DAUNTLESS DIVE BOMBERS WERE NOSING OVER IN POWERFUL DIVES THROUGH ANTI-AIRCRAFT FIRE. THROUGH BRIEF OPENINGS IN THE SMALL GREY AND WHITE CLOUDS WE COULD SEE MUSHROOMS OF SMOKE WHERE THEIR 1,000 POUNDERS LANDED..

A VOICE BROKE THE RADIO SILENCE. A DIVE-BOMBER HIT BY ANTI-AIRCRAFT WAS GOING DOWN.

"...I'M HIT! GOING INTO THE DRINK!"

30.24 — 13587

ANOTHER VOICE CUT IN, THE RADIO-GUNNER ABOARD THE STRICKEN PLANE, CALLING TO A REAR BASE FOR A RESCUE PLANE.

THEN THE PILOT'S VOICE AGAIN, SHOUTING TO THE CORSAIR FIGHTERS ABOVE TO COME DOWN AND COVER HIS WATER LANDING.

"COME ON DOWN, YOU F4U'S, COME ON DOWN FELLOWS AND COVER ME." THE PILOT STRETCHED HIS PLANE TO ITS LAST OUNCE OF POWER TO PASS OVER THE ENEMY COAST AND LAND IN THE WATER.

A FEW SECONDS LATER CAME THE THANKFUL VOICE OF THE PILOT AS THE CORSAIRS DIVED TO PROTECT HIM.

NOW WE WERE COMING IN FOR OUR RUN, ROARING THROUGH A CLOUD TO REACH THE TARGET.

BANKING MORE THAN 10,000 FEET WE CAME DOWN THROUGH THE CLOUD IN A POWER GLIDE AT 400 MILES AN HOUR. I COULD SEE A GROUP OF BROWN, STOREHOUSE-LIKE BUILDINGS. A 2,000-POUND BOMB FROM THE PLANE AHEAD SMASHED THEM INTO A GEYSER OF DIRT AND DEBRIS. TAHLER DROPPED HIS BOMB, DODGED AND TWISTED ACROSS VUNAPOPE AT 1,000 FEET AND CROSSED THE BEACH AT 100 FEET TO ESCAPE ANTI-AIRCRAFT FIRE.

HE WAGGLED HIS WINGS AND POINTED DOWN. THERE, TWO MILES OFF CAPE GAZELLE, A SMALL YELLOW LIFE BOAT BOBBED IN THE WATER, CARRYING THE CREW OF THE DIVE BOMBER THAT CRASH LANDED IN THE WATER. ALREADY SCORES OF MESSAGES WERE CRACKLING TO THE NAVY'S PBY "DUMBO" PICK-UP-AND-DELIVERY RESCUE SERVICE. (A DUMBO, ESCORTED BY FIGHTERS, PICKED THEM FROM UNDER JAPANESE COASTAL GUNS LESS THAN TWO HOURS AFTER THEY WERE SHOT DOWN.)

INSIDE TRUK LAGOON FOR NEARLY THREE HOURS, HOPING AND HOPING FOR RESCUE, WASN'T ENOUGH--HE ALSO HAD TO UNDERGO A BOMBARDMENT FROM FIVE INCH GUNS OF A JAPANESE DESTROYER.

THAT'S THE STORY LT.GEORGE BLAIR, "LUCKIEST MAN IN THE PACIFIC", TOLD SHIPMATES.

MAR 9 1944

THE 22-YEAR-OLD SEWICKLEY, PA., FIGHTER PILOT FINALLY WAS RESCUED BY A CRUISER SEAPLANE AFTER A PAIR OF FIGHTERS STRAFED AND DROVE OFF THE DESTROYER.

STRAFING ROWS OF SHIPS ANCHORED IN THE LAGOON ON FEB. 16, THE FIRST DAY OF THE TRUK RAID, BLAIR SAID HIS PLANE WAS HIT REPEATEDLY, THE ENGINE FROZE AT 300 FEET AND THE PROPELLOR STOPPED.

"I MADE A REASONABLE LANDING IN THE WATER BUT SHE WENT STRAIGHT DOWN," BLAIR TOLD ARCHER THOMAS, MELBOURNE, AUSTRALIA, SUN CORRESPONDENT.

"I HAD NO TIME TO GET A RUBBER BOAT AND WOULD HAVE DROWNED IF I HADN'T BEEN ABLE TO SWIM. I GOT TANGLED UP IN MY PARACHUTE HARNESS. WHEN RID OF THAT, I KICKED OFF MY SHOES, DROPPED MY GUN, THEN MY MAE WEST (LIFE JACKET) HELD ME UP. I MADE MYSELF COMFORTABLE AND BEGAN TO LOOK AT THE SCENERY. THE NEXT THING I KNEW A SHELL BURST OVER ME. I SAW A DESTROYER COMING A MILE AND A HALF AWAY, SHOOTING AS IT CAME.

"THEN MY TWO BUDDIES, BOTH FIGHTERS, DIVED IN AND STRAFED THE DESTROYER. THEY TOLD ME LATER IT FIRED 12 SHOTS AT ME. THEY STRAFED SO THOROUGHLY THEY SET IT AFIRE AND TURNED IT BACK. THEN THEY CIRCLED AROUND ME. IT WAS MIGHTY COMFORTING."

BLAIR WATCHED DIVE BOMBERS AND TORPEDO BOMBERS MAKING RUNS OVER SHIPS, THEN ALL LEFT. TWO FIGHTERS, AFTER CIRCLING OVER HIM FOR HALF AN HOUR, HAD TO GO TOO.

"I WAS SLIGHTLY DISCOURAGED DRIFTING ABOUT," BLAIR SAID.

"IT SEEMED AN AWFUL LONG TIME. I WAS THINKING OF TRYING TO SWIM TO THE NEAREST ISLAND THOUGH I DID NOT LIKE THE IDEA MUCH. THEN A CRUISER SCOUT PLANE CAME ALONG. I WAVED, SPLASHED AND EVEN YELLED. IT WENT WAY PAST AND DID NOT SEE ME. SOON SOME FIGHTERS WITH IT FOUND ME AND SHOWED IT WHERE I WAS. IT WAS PRETTY ROUGH INSIDE THE LAGOON AND I COULDN'T SEE HOW IT COULD LAND, LET ALONE TAKE OFF WITH MY ADDED WEIGHT.

"IT BOUNCED IN SAFE. I SCRAMBLED IN THE BACK SEAT WITH THE RADIOMAN AFTER A FIERCE SWIM. THE PILOT DID A MARVELOUS JOB OF GETTING OFF. I THOUGHT CERTAIN WE WOULD DIVE IN HEAD FIRST SEVERAL TIMES.

MAR 9 1944

"NOBODY SHOT AS US AS WE STRUGGLED UP AND FLEW SEAWARDS. I CAN'T IMAGINE WHY THEY DIDN'T."

THE PILOT OF THE RESCUE PLANE STRIPPED IT OF THE REAR GUN AND CONSIDERABLE GASOLINE SO IT COULD TAKE OFF WITH BLAIR'S ADDED WEIGHT.

"YOU CAN'T THANK A GUY FOR SAVING YOUR LIFE LIKE THAT," BLAIR SAID, "BUT WHEN I TRIED ME (THE PILOT) SAID HE ALWAYS HAD HEARD A LOT ABOUT TRUK AND WAS GLAD TO HAVE A CHANCE TO TAKE A LOOK."

ASKED WHAT HE THOUGHT ABOUT WHILE ADRIFT IN THE LAGOON, BLAIR SHOWED A PHOTOGRAPH OF THE GIRL HE HAD MARRIED NOT LONG AGO.

BY ELTON C.FAY

(ADVANCE) WASHINGTON, MARCH 8-(AP)-IF THE NAZIS CHOOSE TO USE POISON GAS, AMERICAN MILITARY MEN THINK IT MAY BE EMPLOYED FIRST AGAINST ANY ALLIED ATTEMPT TO LAND INVASION FORCES IN WESTERN EUROPE.

IN GENERAL, THE WAR DEPARTMENTS AT WASHINGTON AND LONDON INCLINE TO THE BELIEF THAT THE GERMANS WILL NOT TRY AGAIN THE WEAPON THEY USED IN WORLD WAR I, THIS VIEW BEING PREDICATED APPARENTLY ON THE BELIEF THAT THE ALLIES ARE EQUIPPED TO BEAT THE ENEMY AT HIS OWN GAME.

BUT THERE ARE EXPERTS IN GAS WARFARE WHO LOOK UPON THE CHANCE FOR USE OF TOXIC GASES AS AT LEAST 50-50. THEIR THOUGHT IS THIS:

WITH THE WAR GOING AGAINST HIM, HITLER MIGHT, IN DESPERATION,

3024 — 13593

DECIDE ON GAS, PARTICULARLY TO AID IN REPELLING INVASION.

FIRST, HE MAY REASON, CORRECTLY OR INCORRECTLY, THAT IF HE USES LETHAL GAS ONLY AGAINST TROOPS, THE ALLIES WOULD REACT IN KIND, TURNING IT ONLY AGAINST NAZI TROOPS. HE WOULD DO THIS BECAUSE HE KNOWS THAT WITH HIS DEPLETED AIR FORCE HE WOULD BE HURT WORSE THAN THE ALLIES IN GAS WARFARE AGAINST CIVILIAN POPULATIONS.

SECONDLY, FROM A PURELY MILITARY STANDPOINT THE CONCENTRATIONS OF PERSONNEL NECESSARY FOR INVASION WOULD MAKE BETTER TARGETS THAN WOULD OCCUR IN ANY OTHER TACTICAL SITUATION.

SHOULD JAPAN DECIDE TO USE GAS, THE ODDS AGAINST HER WOULD BE GREATER THAN AGAINST GERMANY. GAS WOULD BE OF MORE USE TO US AGAINST THE CONCRETE-AND-STEEL FORTIFICATIONS ENCOUNTERED ON THE ENEMY'S ISLAND OUTPOSTS THAN IT WOULD BE TO THE JAPANESE FOR DEFENSIVE PURPOSES.

MAR 9 1944

THE GAS QUESTION APPEARS TO BE ONE FOR GERMANY AND JAPAN TO ANSWER. PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT HAS WARNED THE AXIS THAT IF THEY USE IT, THE ALLIES ARE PREPARED TO DO THE SAME.

ONE INDICATION OF JUST HOW EXTENSIVE IS THIS PREPARATION IS DISCLOSED IN A REPORT ON A NEW 4.2 INCH MORTAR. THE MORTAR PRESENTLY IS USED FOR WHITE PHOSPHORUS SHELLS AND HIGH EXPLOSIVE.

BRIGADIER GENERAL ALDEN H.WAITT OF THE CHEMICAL WARFARE SERVICE, WRITING IN THE INFANTRY JOURNAL, REPORTS THAT A SINGLE PHOSPHORUS SHELL FIRED BY THIS MORTAR, WHEN IT BURSTS, COVERS AN AREA ABOUT 40 YARDS IN DIAMETER, SETTING FIRES AND CAUSING PERSONNEL CASUALTIES.

THE SECRET OF THE 4.2 MORTAR IS IN ITS RIFLING. INSTEAD OF THE SMOOTH-BORE HOLLOW TUBE OF THE OLD STOKES MORTAR, THE 4.2 IS RIFLED LIKE A FIELD GUN. THIS INCREASES ACCURACY TREMENDOUSLY AND STEPS UP THE RANGE FROM THE ORIGINAL 1,200 YARDS TO 4,000 YARDS.

AS TO POSSIBILITIES OF THE MORTAR FOR FIRING GAS SHELLS, GENERAL WAITT WRITES:

"A CHEMICAL COMPANY FIRING AT THE MAXIMUM RATE CAN PLACE NEARLY TWO TONS OF A NON-PERSISTENT CHEMICAL AGENT SUCH AS PHOSGENE ON THE TARGET IN TWO MINUTES. THIS IS ENOUGH GAS TO PUT COMPLETELY OUT OF ACTION EVERY UNPROTECTED MAN IN AN AREA OF A QUARTER OF A MILLION SQUARE YARDS."

Americans Bomb Berlin a Fourth Time, Little Air Opposition, Only 8 Craft Lost; Russians Sweep on Two Black Sea Ports

GERMAN AIR FORCE MAKES NO FIGHT TO DEFEND CAPITAL

Few Enemy Planes Seen by Squadrons of Fortresses, Liberators.

INDUSTRIAL TARGETS HIT

U. S. Communique Reports No Nazi Craft Downed by Raiders.

LONDON, March 9—(AP) Strong forces of American heavy bombers with their fighter escort—roaring through a sky virtually free of German planes—attacked Berlin industrial targets for the second day in succession today and struck also against a plant in central Germany in operations which cost only seven bombers and one fighter.

The German news agency DNB said tonight that Hannover, 150 miles west of Berlin, also was raided by American bombers today. The agency's broadcast said high explosives were dropped by the "bombers on their way to Berlin."

Nazis Admit Casualties

DNB said casualties were heavy in today's Berlin raid—the German agency claiming as usual that residential areas were the hardest hit.

It was the fourth time in six days that the indomitable armada of U. S. heavy bombers returned to bomb the fire-blackened German capital.

An Army communique announced the losses and said only "a few of our bombers reported minor encounters with the enemy." None of the crews of the participating Fortresses and Liberators or fighter pilots claimed to have destroyed a single German plane.

Mustangs, Thunderbolts and Lightnings of the U. S. Eighth and Ninth Air forces and R.A.F. Mustangs of the Allied Expeditionary Air force provided the escort and support.

The communique declared "The targets were bombed through the overcast by means of scientific instruments." The industrial target in central Germany which was hit was not specified in the war bulletin.

R.A.F. in Action

An indication that the R.A.F. night bomber fleet was making a prompt follow-up attack on German targets came tonight when the Frankfurt radio broadcast an air alert. The broadcast ,at 8:35 p.m. said "enemy planes are approaching our area of warning, coming from a westerly direction."

Apparently referring to one of the seven missing bombers, the Swedish radio said an undamaged American bomber made a forced landing near Ronneby, a Baltic port near the southern tip of Sweden, and that the 10 crew members escaped injury. They were taken into military custody.

The attacks today probably constitute the first major operation ever conducted by the U. S. Eighth Air force in which not a single Nazi plane was shot down. The raiders had very little to shoot at.

The communique said the American forces were "strong," but did not disclose the numbers involved. "There was no official information to indicate that the armada was any larger than yesterday's—which was estimated today to be somewhat smaller than the fleet of 850 bombers which hit Berlin Monday.

Full Week of Attacks

The latest operations brought the daylight aerial war against Germany to its highest pitch, the frequency of the blows attesting to the Americans' strength in reserves of both planes and men. It rounded out a full week of American flights over the capital which began with a fighter sweep last Friday.

Some returning crewmen reported that the Germans threw up a heavy anti-aircraft fire and one said they shot up rockets in bunches of four.

Cloudy weather and the fact that at least 324 Nazi aircraft were lost during the vain attempt this week to save Berlin largely grounded the German air force.

The U. S. Eighth Air force lost a record 68 bombers when it crashed through to the German capital the first time in strength on Monday. It cut its losses to 38 yesterday, and that figure was cut further today when seven bombers and one escorting fighter were listed as missing.

This descending scale in daylight losses is a highly significant part of the air war against Germany. In many ways Berlin is a barometer of the Reich's strength in the air.

If the Nazi air force cannot win the fight over Berlin—one of Germany's most valuable targets—it is probable that it will not win over any other target or over the heads of invasion troops when the western front opens.

Losses Decline

The losses of the last three daylight attacks now have been brought down to an average of 38, only eight more than the average loss of 30 bombers which the R.A.F. suffered during 15 great night attacks in which about 24,000 (long) tons of bombs were cast down on the German capital.

The bomber crews and fighter pilots braved temperatures as low as 60 degrees below zero to make their attacks shortly after the noon hour today.

The Cairo radio, quoting a Stockholm report, said Berlin has been without electricity, gas and water since the daylight raids began in earnest Monday.

Also quoting Swedish information, the Algiers radio reported that German authorities conferred Tuesday on proposals for the total evacuation of Berlin.

A small force of R.A.F. Mosquitos escorted by Spitfires attacked military objectives in northern France without loss in the only other announced British-based daylight aerial activity.

Photographs showed that the Marauder bombings of the Soesterberg and Volkel airfields in Holland yesterday caused heavy damage. Similar reconnaissance showed the Amiens-Longeau railway yards still were inactive on March 6, four days after the Marauders' surprise attack.

NAZI AIR FORCE WEAKENING AS ATTACK GROWS

Yesterday's Toll of Germans Set at 125—Two-day Total Put at 301.

HAZE COVERS CITY TODAY

First Mustangs Back Report No Enemy Planes Are Sighted—Foe's Claims Milder.

London, March 9 (A. P.).—Berlin was attacked again today — for the fourth time in six days—by heavy bombers of the United States Eighth Air Force.

It was the second day in a row that the Fortresses and Liberators had hit the German capital, first attacked by American forces last Saturday and again set afire Monday.

Today's attack demonstrated the amazing reserve strength in equipment and the endurance of the Eighth Air Force crews.

Strong forces of fighters from the Eighth and Ninth Air Forces escorted the bombers.

The first announcement gave no hint as to how today's bomber formations compared in strength with yesterday's raid on the German capital by at least 850 four-engined bombers.

First Berlin announcements failed to crow over the "great aerial battles" as during the previous American raids. Today's formations may have reached the city with comparatively minor resistance from German fighters. It was certain that the German air arm was experiencing one of the most exhausting weeks of the war.

First Fighters Home.

The first bunch of Ninth Air Force Mustang pilots back from the trip said they saw hardly one Nazi fighter and for the second day in a row did not lose a plane. They reported two separate layers of cloud all the way over the Continent, and consequently they did not see the ground at any time after reaching operational height. Lightnings relieved Mustang fighters over the target.

Lieut.-Col. George Bickell of Belleville, N. J., again led a Mustang group and said "not an enemy plane was sighted by me along the entire route."

It was the fifth trip to the Berlin area within a week for this pioneer Mustang group. The flyers were dog-tired and seat-sore from approximately twenty-eight hours in the air during which they flew about 6,000 miles. Their eyes showed strain from long hours of sky-scanning. But they were still enthusiastic and agreed they would like to see a few more German fighters than they did today—"to break the monotony."

Brooklyn Flyer Worried.

The dearth of enemy fighters caused Lieut. George B. Schneidman, 1541 7th street, Brooklyn, bombardier, to remark, "I'm getting worried. I wonder where those damn German fighters are. You can't convince me we've shot them all down."

Although he had put in three missions since Friday, Lieut. Schneidman said he was not tired, but that the hours are long.

"It's gotten so everything west of Berlin is a short run," he commented.

Berlin Version of Blow.

The Berlin radio acknowledged that the Americans struck again at noon, but this time in hazy weather in contrast to the fairly clear skies under which the two previous blows had been struck.

Another Berlin broadcast acknowledge that "in the residential quarters of some parts of the town damage was caused and there were some losses among the population."

"In spite of unfavorable weather German anti-aircraft defenses destroyed a number of four-engined bombers and fighters," it continued. "Enemy formations on the return flight are still ceaselessly engaged by German anti-aircraft defenses."

At least 316 German and 185 American planes had been destroyed in four operations against Berlin and related targets preceding the attack today. American losses included 130 bombers and fifty-five fighters, with a maximum of 1,355 men. The great majority of these were lost around Berlin.

Yesterday's operation, involving from 800 to 1,000 bombers, meanwhile, was disclosed to have taken a toll of 125 planes of the enemy's fighter forces. Forty-two of these were shot down by the bombers and eighty-three by the swarm of American and Allied fighters. This tally brought to 301 the number of enemy planes accounted for in two great sallies against the German capital, Monday and Wednesday.

38 Bombers Lost.

Thirty-eight of the big American bombers were lost, compared with the sixty-eight on Monday, while fighter losses totaled fifteen instead of the sixteen as first reported yesterday. Eleven fighters were lost Monday.

In addition to the damage done Hitler's force in the air, a United States Headquarters announcement said all four of the main buildings of the VKF ball-bearing factory at Erkner in the suburbs of Berlin were bombed yesterday.

The German High Command in its communique today admitted that damage was suffered from the attack, but asserted 112 Allied aircraft, including sixty-six four-engined bombers, were brought down.

"Our very strong fighter escort defeated them again," a United States communique declared, however.

The announcement declared the enemy attempts to disrupt the formations of Flying Fortresses and Liberators were without success.

Berlin has now been shaken by more than 30,000 tons of bombs since the first big R. A. F. raid November 18.

In smashing furiously and continuously at the capital, the American forces have followed the pattern proved successful in earlier operations against Germany. Instead of spacing the raids over long periods and giving Hitler's air force a chance to rest and recuperate, they have pressed a furious assault on the capital within less than a week. German resistance grows weaker the longer raiding continues, while the bombing operations themselves consequently grow easier.

In a concentrated operation like the series against German aircraft plants last month, the Americans, and the British had the additional advantage of the ability to disperse the enemy's forces. Against Berlin, however, there has been a smashing drive over the same route day after day, with the Americans depending on sheer shattering blows to get through more easily each time.

British Hail U. S. Airmen.

British press commentators rolled out their superlatives in describing the attack, one calling it possibly the most significant air victory of the entire war.

"The enemy's failure to stop this week's attacks on Berlin may herald the downfall of the German air force as a defensive force also," the Daily Mail said. Praising the American flyers as "men of skill, men of daring, men of audacity, men of courage," the Daily Express declared editorially:

"The heroic engagement of yesterday that followed the raid earlier in the week shows a spirit of determination that insures the future of the world and inspires confidence in all free people."

Hanover Also Raided

LONDON, March 9 (AP).—The German official news agency, D. N. B., said tonight that Hanover, 150 miles west of Berlin, also was raided by American bombers today.

The bomber crews and fighter pilots braved temperatures as low as 60 degrees below zero to make their attacks soon after the noon hour today.

Apparently referring to one of the seven bombers which did not return, the Swedish radio said an undamaged American bomber made a forced landing near Ronneby, a Baltic port near the southern tip of Sweden, and that the ten crew members escaped injury. They were taken into military custody.

The Cairo radio, quoting a Stockholm report, said Berlin has been without electricity, gas and water since the daylight raids began in earnest Monday. Also quoting Swedish information, the Algiers radio reported that German authorities conferred Tuesday on proposals for total evacuation of Berlin.

A small force of British Mosquitoes escorted by Spitfires attacked military objectives in northern France without loss today.

February Raid Records

LONDON, March 9 (AP).—The Britain-based United States 8th Air Force and the Italian-based 15th Air Force dropped 24,000 tons of bombs on Germany during February, when they made their first co-ordinated attacks on the Reich under the direction of the United States Strategic Air Forces in Europe, Army headquarters announced tonight.

While the American bombers were blasting chiefly at aircraft plants, their escorting fighters knocked down 905 enemy planes during the month.

Army headquarters announced this total of enemy planes destroyed was "considerably more than the monthly fighter production capacity left in Germany at the end of February."

The 8th Air Force, which has led the offensive, experienced heavy bomber losses of 2.5 per cent and fighter losses of less than 1 per cent.

Losses of the three air forces totaled 445 planes during the month.

Of these the 8th Air Force lost 250 bombers and seventy fighters, the 9th Air Force lost seventeen fighters and the 15th Air Force lost 108 bombers and fighters (figures of the latter now being broken down).

Fortresses and Liberators operated eighteen days during the month.

RAF Calls U. S. Berlin Attacks Magnificent

London, March 9 (AP)—An RAF commentator said today the daylight attacks on Berlin are a "magnificent American achievement" and predicted the campaign would have important consequences if carried on with its present intensity for the nxet few weeks. He observed that Lieut. Gen. Carl A. Spaatz, commander of the American Strategic Air Forces, was "leading trumps."

The commentator said the Germans in 16 raids on Britain between January 21 and March 1 dropped only 1,904 short tons of bombs.

Six of these raids were of the nuisance variety and the average for the 10 appreciable raids was less than one-tenth the intensity of the RAF's regular blows at Germany.

In the same period the Allies dropped approximately 40,000 United States tons on Germany itself and approximately 12,000 tons on occupied territory.

"Berlin Is Doomed"

STOCKHOLM, March 9 (AP).—"Berlin is doomed—it has ceased to be a capital or even a town," declared a Swedish traveler who reached here by air today, having witnessed Wednesday's American attack on the city. He said Berlin citizens were under the impression the Nazi government had left the city before Christmas.

Stimson Says No Target Is Safe From Allies

MAR 10 1944

Washington, March 9 (AP)—Secretary of War Stimson said today that the American air raids on Berlin are "a clear indication to the Nazis that now no target is safe from Allied planes either by day or night."

"These attacks are proof," he told a news conference, "of the removal of another barrier, both natural and man-made, behind which Germany sought to hide its industries and its capital. Flak has never stopped us, nor have close-flying fighter defenses, nor clouds, nor fog. Only daylight has stopped us and now that last protection (for Germany) has gone."

Report Damage

He reported that the American air attacks Monday and Wednesday damaged ballbearing factories and aircraft engine plants and electrical works in Berlin.

Turning to the war on the other side of the world, Stimson recalled that about this time two years ago Japanese forces were completing their seizure of the Netherlands East Indies and penetrating Burma.

Now, he said, "the Allied forces are demonstrating to Japan in both the Southwest Pacific and Burma that mastery of the tactics of amphibious and jungle warfare and the maneuvers of encirclement has now passed to the Allies."

Bishop Oxnam Replies To Bombing Protests

New York, March 9 (AP)—"The best military judgment is that to end the war as speedily as possible this bombing is necessary," Bishop G. Bromley Oxnam, of Boston, Mass., said tonight in replying to a statement issued Sunday by 28 clergymen and writers decrying the Allied air war against Germany.

Bishop Oxnam is secretary of the Council of Bishops of the Methodist Church and chairman of the advisory committee of the Federal Council of Churches of Christ in America.

Bullet In Stomach, Pilot Makes A Perfect Landing

P. MOORE

A Bomber Base in England, March 9 (AP)—The pilot of a Flying Fortress, a bullet wound in his stomach and his copilot dead, snapped back from semi-consciousness to make a perfect landing, it was reported today.

Details were revealed following a successful operation to remove the bullet in the stomach of Lieut. Paul R. Breeding, of Hillsboro, Texas.

Attacked Over Leipzig

The Fortress was over Leipzig during a recent raid when German fighters attacked it, killing the copilot and wounding Breeding.

The lieutenant stayed at the controls, however, until the Germans withdrew, and then Sergt. Tatel Cruse, turret gunner, of Mooresville, N. C., and Sergt. Charles H. Sans, nose gunner, of Riverside, Cal., took over the controls.

Grover C. Fowler, radioman, of Canton, N. C., meanwhile began administering first aid to Breeding.

Planned To Abandon Plane

With inexperienced men at the controls and a crackup regarded as inevitable, the crew decided to drop Breeding in a parachute and then abandon the damaged plane.

Breeding snapped back from semi-consciousness when told of the plan and insisted that he could take over long enough to land.

Four hours later, when the English coast was sighted, the crew helped Breeding back into the pilot's seat. He picked out the first airfield he could find and made a perfect landing as an ambulance raced out to speed him to a hospital.

Gets First Nazi In 107 Missions Without Shot

A. United States Fighter Base In England, March 9 (AP)—For Major Joe R. Williams, Houston Thunderbolt pilot, Wednesday's Berlin raid was a record-breaker—on his 107th mission Williams brought down his first German plane.

But he still hasn't fired a shot in combat.

"We were bringing out a box of Fortresses," he explained today. "Everything was peaceful. Bombers were ahead of us and Lightnings, Thunderbolts and Mustangs were all around the sky.

German Bailed Out

"It looked like a Sunday-school session until three ships a mile or so ahead of us peeled off and dived—then I knew they were not Thunderbolts, as I had thought.

"I followed one down and just got him in my sights when he bailed. I had not fired a shot at him, and neither had anybody else, apparently. It was my 107th mission. I destroyed my first Hun, and never yet have fired my guns in combat."

'Every Gunner Was Shooting Like Hell'

MAR 10 1944

[The following is an account of the air battle of Berlin yesterday as told by two crewmen of the Fortress "Little Girl. No. 2."]

By S/SERGT. E. E. HUFFMAN and S/SERGT. R. I. LEHTO.

Told to the Associated Press.

A Bomber Base in Britain, March 9.—It was twice as rough as Regensburg and that was supposed to be rough.

Most of the attacks were from head-on or aimed at our tail. Enemy fighters would charge us single file, in a line of fourteen or fifteen at a time. One string of them would roll through our bombers' formations from one side to the other, just like we were not there, and after a short pause another string would follow them in. That business lasted for about forty-five minutes.

I (Huffman) saw one Fortress collapse after being riddled by a 20-millimeter cannon. One wing came off, carrying two engines with it. Then the tail assembly fell off. Yes, it gives you a sickening feeling but you don't have time to feel sorry for the poor guys in it. You just wonder where lightning will strike next.

Sweat at 50 Below.

All the time, every gunner in hundreds of Forts in our formation was shooting like hell at those Jerries—and knocking plenty of them down. It was more than 50 below zero, but the sweat rolled down our faces like we were hoeing potatoes.

There were about nine Me-109s coming in behind us. The first four were a little high but the fifth man was dead behind me (Huffman), and when he was about 400 yards off, I just froze to my gun. At 300 yards, he started smoking and peeled off out of control, did a quick flip and plunged straight down.

Later on, a pack of Me-170s attacked us. That's when our ship got it. They knocked out our oxygen system and part of the radio controls and damaged the landing gear. A couple of our walk-around oxygen bottles were busted. So for about an hour, four of us gunners had to huddle in the waist compartment—leaving two positions unmanned, in order to share the oxygen supply. We tried to crack jokes to make each other laugh, but it's pretty hard to do in a spot like that.

Gunners Knocked Down.

A 20-millimeter shell burst in the waist compartment and knocked two waist gunners down. A piece of armor plating hit the other waist gunner and knocked him down. He looked up and said, "I thought they had me that time, but I guess my head is too damned thick."

Another 20-millimeter had knocked out one of our engines but the chief (Lieut. Howard B. Lynch of Franklin, Pa., pilot) kept her right on the beam and in formation all the way over Berlin and back. Boy, can those guys fly! (Lieut. Lynch and Lieut. Rudolph J. Dahl, Excelsior, Minn., co-pilot.) All the time we were under attack, they kept calling out to us:

"Don't worry about it, kids. Just keep your chin up, and we'll get there."

They didn't even mention that the navigator up in the nose was killed. We didn't know he was dead until we were back on the ground. A bullet caught him in the side and killed him outright.

When one 20-mm. shell came up through the bomb bay, a piece of lead the size of a thumb hit Sergt. Lehto in the back and was stopped by his flak suit. The only thing he had to show for it was a black and blue spot. Another tiny sliver of lead which he didn't know hit him was extracted from his right leg today.

STREET FIGHTING RAGES AS RUSSIANS ENTER TARNOPOL

105-Mile Gap Cut in German Lines in Southeastern Ukraine.

9 NAZI DIVISIONS ROUTED

Soviet Troops Push Ahead 37 Miles in Four Days.

LONDON, March 9—(AP) Moscow announced tonight that a new Soviet offensive had pounded a 105-mile gap through German lines in the southeastern Ukraine—threatening the big Black sea ports of Nikolaev and Kherson—and that 300 miles to the northwest other Russian troops had captured the "important strongpoint" of Staro-Konstantinov and battered into the streets of the strategic junction of Tarnopol.

Hundreds of thousands of German troops in the Dnieper bend were menaced by the latest developments, announced in two orders of the day by Marshal Premier Joseph Stalin and in the Moscow communique.

Nazis Pushed Back

The new drive, tearing head-on into the Germans from the east, was forcing them back toward regions of southern Poland and Rumania already threatened by the Russians.

Still a third action, announced by the communique, was a drive southwest of Berdichev in which the Russians captured the town of Ulanov, 26 miles southwest of Berdichev. This drive links with the easternmost wing of the Russian forces fighting at Tarnopol and Staro-Konstantinov.

Capture of more than 340 localities was announced today, 200 of them in the four-day action in which Stalin disclosed that Gen. Rodion Y. Malinovsky's Third Ukranian front forces had broken through the German front southwest of Krivoi Rog.

A "heavy defeat" was inflicted on nine German divisions, and the Soviet line rolled westward 19 to 37 miles across the Ingullets river capturing Novy Bug, 55 miles above Nikolaev at the mouth of the Bug river, and Kazanka, 17 miles northeast of Novy Bug, Stalin said.

8,000 Germans Slain

The Russians not only cut the Dolinskaya-Nikolaev railway but the communique, recorded by the Soviet monitor, announced that in the fighting which began Monday 8,000 Germans have been killed, 1,000 more taken prisoner and important German war material captured, including 67 tanks, 175 guns, more than 2,000 trucks and ten stores of supplies.

In their latest advances to the west the Russians connected up a 140-mile active front facing the northeastern frontier of Rumania about 55 miles away at the closest point.

Localities announced captured by the Russians placed their forces south of the Odessa-Lwow railway for the first time and one of the four places reported taken in this area—east of embattled Tarnopol—was Maly Khodachkuv, 55 miles from the Dniester river.

This long front, from east of Tarnopol to south of Berdichev, reached the winding Ukrainian Bug river at two communities about 75 miles north of Rumania, Berezni and Novaya-Sinyavka.

The midnight Moscow communique, recorded by the Soviet monitor, said that in one area of this front Soviet troops crossed the Bug and surrounded two German infantry battalions which were routed at the end of the day, leaving 18 tanks and other equipment in Soviet hands.

Street Fighting Rages

The late bulletin said Russian tank units and infantry "burst into the town of Tarnopol and engaged the enemy in street fighting."

Three railroad stations on the Tarnapol-Shepatovka railway were reported captured, including Shlyakhchintse, five miles northeast of Tarnopol. The town of Ivachuv, five miles from the Odessa-Lwow trunk railway northwest of Tarnopol, was declared occupied.

Five railway stations east of Tarnopol on the Odessa-Lwow trunk line were announced captured, giving the Russians control of a 53-mile sector of this important line from Dichkov west to Gruzhevista.

The late bulletin said that large quantities of war material and prisoners were taken in the capture of Staro-Konstantinov and Soviet advances south of this town left the Germans only a 20-mile wide corridor along the railroad south to Proskurov for retreat.

New details on the advance by Malinovsky's forces southwest of Krivoi Rog were given in the midnight communique.

1,000 Trucks Captured

The Russians, in their four-day old offensive were reported to have captured more than 1,000 trucks and 37 tanks in one area alone.

"Relying on ravines, small streams and heavily fortified populated places, the enemy tried to hold up the advance of our troops," the late bulletin said. "Despite mud and lack of roads, Soviet tankmen, infantrymen and cavalry broke through into the depth of German defenses."

Stalin's second order of the day hailed the capture of Staro-Konstantinov, 26 miles northeast of Proskurov, on the railway between Shepetovka and Proskurov.

Forces of Marshal Gregory K. Zhukov's First Ukrainian front captured the town "as a result of a skillful outflanking maneuver together with a frontal assault."

Stalin ordered 12 salvoes from 124 guns to celebrate this victory.

At the same time other forces of the same front, 80 miles westward, "broke into the town of Tarnopol where they engaged in street fighting," the communique said.

Tarnopol, an important junction on the Odessa-Lwow railroad, is 72 miles southeast of Lwow and is the chief city of Tarnopol province, with a pre-war population of 36,000.

It is at the junction of two rail lines feeding southeast and southwest into Rumania and Czechoslovakia as well as a line going northeast into Shepetovka. The value of all of those lines to the Germans has been virtually erased by recent Russian gains, and capture of Tarnopol would seal their loss to the Nazi supply system.

Moscow dispatches, quoting Russian front-line correspondents, said the Germans had commandeered all available transport planes in a frantic attempt to get oil and other supplies to mud-bound tanks and vehicles.

125,000 NAZIS ROUTED BY REDS

IN NEW SWEEP

Stalin Reports Advance of 19 to 37 Miles in Four Days of Fighting.

STARO-KONSTANTINOV TAKEN

Drive of Russians Is Aimed at Nikolai and Kherson, Two Enemy Defense Points.

London, March 9 (A. P.).—Premier Joseph Stalin announced in two Orders of the Day today that the Russians had begun a new offensive in the southern Ukraine, where in four days they advanced by as much as thirty-seven miles on a 105-mile front, and that other Russian forces in the southwest Ukraine captured the German base of Staro-konstantinov.

The new offensive, Stalin said, was begun by troops of the third Ukrainian front under Gen. Rodion Y. Malinovsky. Aimed westward from the Krivoi Rog area, it was heading toward the German-held cities of Nikolaev and Kherson, and hammering the Germans back toward the anvil being formed by the advancing troops of the first Ukrainian front under Marshal Gregory K. Zhukov to the west.

Kazanka and Novi Bug, twenty-five and forty miles respectively west of Krivoi Rog, have fallen before the Russian forces in the new advance, said the announcement recorded here by the Soviet monitor.

Three German tank and six infantry divisions, probably totaling more than 125,000 troops, have been routed in the course of the new advance, Stalin said.

Nearing Naval Base.

The capture of Novi Bug placed the Russians across the main northern railway into the great Black Sea base of Nikolaev and threatened to flank the base from the north. The new advance also places the Russians only six miles east of the Ingul River, which flows into the Bug at Nikolaev and forms the last natural barrier to a drive on the naval base which lies fifty-five miles below Novi Bug.

Stalin said that 200 other populated places had been captured in the new offensive, and ordered 224 of Moscow's guns to boom out twenty salvoes tonight to celebrate the major victory.

Marshal Zhukov's Red Army troops drove forward through the deep, sticky mud of the southwestern Ukraine today toward the important junction of Proskurov, capture of which, Moscow dispatches said, would give the Russians a firm grip on a forty-mile stretch of the Odessa-Warsaw trunk railway between Proskurov and Volochisk.

A Soviet communique announced that Russian forces already had captured Chern-Ostrov, only eleven miles northwest of Proskurov, and said a furious battle was raging inside Staro-Konstantinov, which was described as a vital German base twenty-five miles to the north.

Failure of the Germans to hold Proskurov, it was pointed out, would force them to fall back on a circuitous rail line running from Lwow to Cernauti, Rumania thence back to the Odessa-Warsaw line at Zhmerinka, if they hoped to maintain contact with the partly isolated German forces in the lower Dnieper River bend.

Nazis in the Mud.

Moscow, March 9 (A. P.).—The German Army command in desperation has commandeered all available transport planes in a frantic attempt to save a large part of its mud-bound mechanized army in the southwestern Ukraine, Soviet dispatches said today.

Capt. Andrei Belaiev, front-line correspondent for the Army newspaper Red Star told how the Nazis, flying in hundreds of their big transport planes, were trying to get supplies to the tanks, trucks, self-propelled guns and tractors so they may be extricated from what probably is the worst mud of the entire Russian campaign.

Estonian Capital Is Bombed

STOCKHOLM, March 9 (AP).—Russian planes tonight bombed Reval (Tallinn), the capital and major port of Estonia, dispatches from Helsinki to the Swedish press said. They said that from Helsinki, the Finnish capital, fifty miles to the north across the Gulf of Finland, fires could be seen at Reval. Anti-aircraft guns were said to have gone into action at various times, indicating that the Russian planes were attacking in waves.

Antonescu And Hitler Map Rumania's Defense

Bern, Switzerland, March 9 (AP)—The Budapest correspondent of the Swiss newspaper Basler Nachrichten said today that Rumanian Premier Ion Antonesco had undertaken extensive arrangements for the defense of the country in talks with Adolf Hitler on February 26.

He said the Rumanian press had carefully concealed defense preparations but it was reported Rumanian mobilization measures had been increased.

TWO BALKAN KINGS ARRIVE IN BRITAIN

Peter of Yugoslavia, George of Greece to Take Part in Conferences.

LONDON, Friday, March 10. — (AP) King Peter of Yugoslavia and two of his ministers arrived in Britain today for talks with the British government on means of settling the differences between the Royal Yugoslav government-in-exile at Cairo and the Partisan government of Marshal Tito (Josip Broz).

Dr. Bozhidar Puric, premier and foreign minister of King Peter's government, and Vladeta Malicevic, interior minister, accompanied the King.

Foreign Minister Josip Smodlaka of Tito's government in Yugoslavia also is reported en route to join the conference called by the British.

LONDON, Friday, March 10. — (AP) King George of Greece has arrived in London from Cairo, it was disclosed today, and is expected to enter into discussions with the British cabinet on the post-war status of his country.

His presence here was revealed in a court circular announcing that he had visited King George VI and Queen Elizabeth yesterday afternoon.

ITALIAN FLEET IS PROBLEM

Churchill Says Disposition May Await End Of The War

London, March 9 (AP)—The immediate transfer of warships to Russia from either the American and British navies or from the Italian navy has been under consideration, Prime Minister Churchill told the House of Commons today, but he said the question of ultimate disposal of Italy's ships may not be settled until the end of the war.

Some members were critical over the method by which President Roosevelt made the first announcement on the subject of the Italian navy at his press conference last Friday, and Churchill said he was speaking about it now because of "a certain degree of urgency" which had developed over the problem.

"As President Roosevelt has said," declared Churchill, "the question of the future employment and disposal of the Italian fleet has been the subject of some discussion, and in particular consideration has been given to the immediate reinforcement of the Soviet navy either from Anglo-American or Italian resources.

No Change At Present

"It may well be found that the general question of enemy or ex-enemy fleet disposal should best be left over to the end of the war against both Germany and Japan, when the entire situation can be surveyed by the victorious Allies and they can decide what is right and just to be done."

Churchill, in his carefully worded statement, said that "at present no change is contemplated in the arrangements" under which Italian ships with their own crews are cooperating in the war against Germany.

President Roosevelt in reply to a question at his press conference said that the Russians want part of the Italian navy and that about one third of the surrendered ships or their equivalent would be turned over to them. The President spoke of the move as part of a general policy of running everything that floats for the benefit of the war, adding that something of a more permanent nature would be done after the war.

Italians Surprised

[The Badoglio Government in Italy immediately expressed surprise over the Roosevelt announcement and asked Allied officials in Italy for "the most complete, urgent and necessary details" of the plan.]

President Roosevelt's announcement came as a surprise to the British Government as well as to the public and brought an appeal to Britain's voluntarily censored press to refrain from comment pending an official statement. This request was generally heeded.

Churchill's statement was followed by criticisms by Members of Parliament of the way the news was released and by demands that in the future important announcements on the war be given simultaneous release in Washington and London.

Wants Joint Reports

Earl Winterton, Conservative, asked Churchill whether he did not think that "it is highly desirable when statements of the greatest importance affecting the whole course of the world are made that they should as far as possible be made simultaneously by the head of state of this country and of the United States."

Churchill, who has in his periodic reports to Parliament made many important disclosures affecting all the Allies, replied that "it is not for me to lay down rules on this matter which affects many countries all over the world and which is governed by circumstances and conditions prevailing in them."

To a request by Leslie Hore-Belisha for simultaneous announcements Churchill said he "certainly could not give any undertaking of that character."

DISCUSSES TRANSFER STORY

Prime Minister Questioned on Why Roosevelt Made Naval Announcement First.

London, March 9 (A. P.).—Prime Minister Churchill said today that disposition of "enemy or ex-enemy" fleets had best be left until the end of the war, but confirmed President Roosevelt's announcement that consideration was being given to reinforcement of the Soviet Navy by Italian or other warships.

30.24 — 13597

Answering a flood of questions, some of which asked if such announcements should not be made in concert by London and Washington in the future, Mr. Churchill indicated to the House of Commons that the Italian warships still were being operated by the Italians under the old arrangements.

"It may well be found that the general question of enemy and of ex-enemy fleet disposal should best be left over to the end of the war against both Germany and Japan when the entire situation can be surveyed by the victorious Allies and they can decide what is right and just to be done," he continued.

He added no details, however, to President Roosevelt's statement of March 3 that negotiations were about half completed for transfer of roughly one-third the Italian fleet to Russia except to say that no change was contemplated at present in the arrangements with Italian naval authorities under which Italian ships and crews take part in the common struggle against the enemy in the theaters where they now operate.

The Prime Minister was plied with several questions concerning the Roosevelt announcement.

Referring to the initial Roosevelt announcement, Earl Winterton, Conservative, asked Mr. Churchill: "Does he not think it highly desirable when statements of the greatest importance affecting the whole course of the world are made that they should so far as possible be made simultaneously by the head of State of this country and of the United States?"

The Prime Minister replied: "It is not for me to lay down the rules on this matter which affects as many countries all over the world and which are governed by circumstances and conditions prevailing in them."

Questioned About Release.

Leslie Hore-Belisha asked if Mr. Churchill would "arrange when announcements of this importance are made that they be made in a concerted manner . . . would it be possible to make them as a concerted statement in Washington and London simultaneously?"

"No," Mr. Churchill answered, "I certainly couldn't give any undertaking of that character. I think complete and close agreement which prevails not only in principle but on methods between Great Britain and the United States is of the greatest importance to all our affairs at the present time."

Aneurin Bevan, Laborite, asked: "Is it not a fact that the method chosen on this occasion to make this announcement has been to the great disadvantage of the British public because following the statement made in America all the newspapers in Great Britain were asked to make no comment if possible on the matter although the newspapers in every other country in the world have been discussing it for six or seven days?"

"I think it was very good of the press to help in that way," said Mr. Churchill.

"Yes," Mr. Bevan commented, "but it leads to abuse."

Italian Fleet a Problem.

Washington, March 9 (A. P.).—The great Italian fleet problem developed into something of an international political mystery today, and the betting now is that most of the craft Russia gets will be American-built. Prime Minister Churchill said today that at present no change is contemplated in arrangements by which Italian ships and crews take part in the common struggle against the enemy.

The Italian fleet problem, meanwhile, continues to develop as one of the most officially hush-hush but publicly talked of Allied deal in months.

Mr. Roosevelt let the cat out of the bag at his press conference on March 3.

Marshal Badoglio promptly came along with a request for explanation—was one-third of the Italian fleet to be physically transferred to Russia? There were reports of political discontent in Italy over the news. Then the reports stopped coming in. Italy is under military censorship.

The British were aroused. Today Mr. Churchill went into the House of Commons the target of a volley of questions. He said consideration had been given to reinforcing the Red Navy either from Anglo-American or Italian resources.

So Churchill Said—

London, March 9 (AP)—Prime Minister Churchill proved himself still a master of House of Commons crossfire today.

To one questioner asking who would speak for the Government in the event of conflicting statements of various Ministers Churchill commented drily: "If the worst came to worst I might have a shot at it myself."

Another question as to the implications of a recent speech by the Home Secretary, Churchill brushed aside with the comment: "I gather he was embarking on a philosophical disquisition on a hypothetical and conjectural situation which might arise after the war."

To a protest against one of his own replies, using the phrase "the matter is under constant review," Churchill chuckled and commented that "a certain amount of latitude in the use of stock phrases always has been accorded to every Government as long as I can remember."

Basic English Seen As World Tongue

London, March 9 (AP)—Basic English—a vocabulary stripped to 850 essential words—will be encouraged by the British Government as an auxiliary international and administrative language, Prime Minister Churchill told Commons today.

A committee which has investigated the language field had distinguished between this use of the system and its use as a method of teaching ordinary English, he said.

Steps Decided Upon

He said the Government had decided upon these steps:

1. To teach basic English in any area where there is demand for it as an auxiliary medium for international communication.
2. Diplomatic and commercial representatives in foreign countries will be asked to do all they can to encourage the spread of basic English as an auxiliary language.
3. To arrange translation into basic English of a wide range of literature, scientific, technical and general.
4. Some colonial governments to experiment in the preparation of basic English handbooks of hygiene, agriculture, etc.
5. To ask the British Broadcasting Corporation to include some teaching of basic English in its broadcasts.

BRITISH COAL STRIKE GROWS

165 Mines Closed By Walkout Of 90,000 Workers

London, March 9 (AP)—Britain's coal strike, which virtually has paralyzed the rich South Wales mine fields, spread today to the Swansea anthracite region and to Scottish pits in apparent rejection of the Fuel Minister's insistence upon a return to work before arbitration.

One of the miners' leaders said this ultimatum, if complied with, would "give the Government a blank check."

It was estimated that 160,000 miners, about 22 per cent. of all in Britain, were idle tonight. A few workers in Monmouthshire and South Wales collieries returned to their jobs in response to urgent appeals by union leaders, but new walkouts had increased the number of strikers.

14 Mines Shut Down

Fourteen more mines shut down in the near-by Swansea anthracite district this morning, and 7,000 workers walked out of nine Scottish pits in protest over the same wage-rate issue.

With Britain's war industries being deprived of sorely needed coal and the country's entire transportation system threatened, press editorials and cartoons reflected the nation's concern.

In Commons, Capt. Oliver Lyttelton, Minister of War Production, described the situation as serious, and an executive of the National Mine Workers' Federation, which had urged the miners to await arbitration, said the walkouts were a "veritable tragedy."

Little Chance Of Break

There appeared little chance of a break in the deadlock until a scheduled meeting of the strike leaders is held on Saturday. Today's new walkouts dealt a blow to optimism engendered yesterday at a conference of miners and operators presided over by Gwilym Lloyd George, Fuel Minister.

At that meeting Lloyd George accepted an agreement between the mine operators and the men permitting extra pay for those working in excessive dust and water and promised that other matters concerning allowances would be considered "after the men have gone back to work."

Union leaders said they were joining the Government in appealing to the miners to return to work, but they declared the men had demanded a full explanation of the Government's intentions.

Some Miners Recalled

Although so far the strikes involved little more than a sixth of Britain's miners, the Government took such a serious view of the situation as to begin recalling some miners from the fighting services and to divert hundreds of conscripted youths to the pits instead of to the armed forces.

The dispute involves not so much general dissatisfaction at over-all pay as it does a demand for special conditions compensation and piecework allowances to permit skilled workers to earn more than unskilled.

By comparison with all other fields of employment, the pay of Britain's miners has risen from 81st from the top in 1939 to 23rd from the top in 1943.

More Miners Quit Pits In Britain

London, March 9 (AP)—The Welsh coal strike assumed more alarming proportions today when a fresh wave of walkouts boosted the number of idle miners to 90,000—or about 90 per cent. of the total in the coal fields.

A total of 165 mines now are idle as a result of the wage dispute, which is depriving Britain's war industries of sorely needed fuel and threatening to cripple the transportation system.

The strike spread this morning to the Swansea anthracite district when 14 pits closed there.

Obstacle Removed

The new walkouts dealt a severe blow to optimism engendered late yesterday when it appeared that one of the chief obstacles to settlement of the dispute was removed at a conference of miners and operators presided over by Fuel Minister Gwilym Lloyd George.

The strike spread to the north in the afternoon when another 7,000 miners in nine Scottish pits quit, disregarding their unions appeals to remain at work pending a meeting of miners and operatives next Tuesday. Like the Welsh miners, the Scots complained that they were dissatisfied with the wage agreement.

Lloyd George accepted an agreement between the operators and men permitting extra pay for those working in excessive dust and water and at the same time promised that "certain other matters" concerning allowances peculiar to South Wales would be considered "after the men have gone back to work."

Concern Expressed

Editorial comment in the British press reflected grave concern over the consequences of a strike at a time when the world is talking about a coming Allied offensive against western Europe.

Union leaders said they were joining the Government in an appeal to the miners to return to work but declared the men had demanded a full explanation of the Government's intentions.

There seemed little chance of a break in the deadlock—at least until a meeting of the strike leaders Saturday. The South Wales Miners' Council will meet Friday and is expected to make a strong recommendation that work be resumed immediately.

BRITISH BUILD INVASION ARMS

London, March 9 (A. P.).—Declaring that 1944 is "a year of challenge," Production Minister Oliver Lyttelton told Commons today that Britain's production is being modified to meet the new needs of attack by increasing the output of specialized invasion equipment.

"There are many new specialized requirements—new weapons, special invasion equipment and secret devices and equipment—that are of the highest urgency," he said.

Explaining that the production of certain basic items of equipment will be reduced, he said "there must be increased production of certain types of bombers and fighters of proved superiority.

"There will be virtually no cuts in the naval construction program," he added.

Admiral Frank H. Pegram

Britain's Fourth Sea Lord, Holder of D. S. O. for Gallantry in 1940

LONDON, March 9 (AP).—Vice-Admiral Frank Henderson Pegram, D. S. O., Fourth Sea Lord, died last night in the Bristol Naval Hospital of a heart ailment, it was announced today. He was fifty-four years old.

Admiral Pegram was with the Grand Fleet at Gallipoli during the World War and was in active service during this war, receiving the Distinguished Service Order for gallantry in naval operations off Norway in 1940.

British Aid To U. S. Announced

London, March 9 (AP)—British reverse lend-lease aid to the United States in the United Kingdom through December 31, 1943, was approximately $1,356,000,000, Sir John Anderson, Chancellor of the Exchequer, told Commons today.

Son Elliott Shrugs Off Story Of Lost Plane

London, March 9 (AP)—Col. Elliott Roosevelt was quoted in official quarters tonight as saying "Nothing to it" when he was informed of Flying Officer John B. Kennedy's account of finding a lost plane on which the President's son and others were traveling.

The colonel could not be reached personally tonight for further comment. Kennedy, stationed with the Royal Canadian Air Force in England, wrote his parents in Southampton, Ont., that he helped find a lost plane aboard which were Colonel Roosevelt and a General Smith. The letter did not identify the latter.

FINDS PRESIDENT'S SON

Southampton, Ont., March 9 (A. P.).—Disclosing a hitherto unreported incident, Flying Officer John B. Kennedy, stationed with the R. C. A. F. in England, said in a letter to his parents that he helped find a lost plane on which Elliott Roosevelt, son of President Roosevelt, was aboard.

The parents, the Rev. T. E. and Mrs. Kennedy, said that in one letter their son mentioned "getting one of the Roosevelt boys out of a bit of trouble" while in another he wrote:

"I was scrambled to find and bring back a lost plane. Just a routine business, but the fact that Elliott Roosevelt and Gen.

Smith were aboard made it a bit more interesting."

The letter gave no other details and did not identify Gen. Smith.

King Inspects Canada Troops

SOMEWHERE IN ENGLAND, March 9 (AP).—Thousands of Canadian invasion troops were inspected today by King George VI, who walked nearly four miles through long lines of soldiers drawn up on both sides of the roads.

MacArthur's Kin Has Verbal Tiff With Well-fed Gaston Henri-Haye

By LUIS LUPI

LISBON, March 9—(AP) Douglas MacArthur, 2nd, diplomat nephew of Gen. Douglas MacArthur, gaunt after internment in Germany, was in no mood for friendly small talk recently when he met well-fed Gaston Henri-Haye, former Vichy ambassador to Washington, a witness reported here today.

MacArthur, former secretary of the U. S. embassy in Vichy, met Henri-Haye when the exchange liner Gripsholm docked here with Vichy diplomats from the U. S. They had known each other well in Paris.

Henri-Haye, known in Washington gossip circles as "the cry-baby" for his repeated complaints that his dignity and rank were not sufficiently recognized, was quoted on landing as saying that "the American government didn't accord me the attentions a diplomat should expect." (Henri-Haye and his entourage were held on a luxurious Pennsylvania estate, pending the exchange.)

Soon after he landed, Henri-Haye saw MacArthur in the Aviz hotel in Lisbon, I was told. The witness said the Frenchman rushed up to MacArthur smiling, and opened this conversation:

"How are you, mon cher MacArthur? You have indeed lost a lot of weight, mon cher. . ."

"You wouldn't be surprised if you remembered that I am just out of an internment camp in Germany," MacArthur replied grimly.

"But certainly, certainly you must realize that we diplomats run some risks . . ." Henri-Haye continued.

"Indeed we do," MacArthur declared, "but nothing can justify that Vichy should have handed us over to the Germans from their own internment camp at Lourdes."

"You know France was occupied, and there were certain legal points . . ." explained Henri-Haye, no longer smiling.

"You would have probably lost weight yourself too, sir, if we had handed you over to the Japanese," MacArthur came back, as Henri-Haye retreated.

(The Nazi-controlled Vichy radio reported that Henri-Haye had been received by Puppet Premier Pierre Laval for a talk and luncheon at a Paris hotel today. An earlier broadcast said Henri-Haye and his staff had arrived "from Lisbon" this morning, after having been interned 15 months.)

Finns Revise Reply to Reds

New Answer Believed to Contain Basis for Further Peace Negotiations.

Stockholm, March 9 (A. P.).—Finland has sent a revised reply to Russian armistice demands which may be a satisfactory basis for furthering the negotiations, it was strongly indicated here today.

Aftonbladet said that the reply should be acceptable from the Russian viewpoint and declared it had the backing of Field Marshal Baron Carl Gustaf von Mannerheim and other high Finnish military officers.

The reply originally was prepared for delivery last Friday, but apparently because of its sharp tone it was held back for revision and modification and the final draft was not transmitted to the Russians until Tuesday.

Aftonbladet said that the modification was the result of objections raised in certain Swedish circles which persuaded the Finns to adopt a milder tone.

The new note was said to seek further explanation and a more precise statement of terms, whereas the first draft rejected Soviet demands for the internment of German troops in Finland, withdrawal of Finnish troops to the 1940 frontier and partly rejected the demand for repatriation of some prisoners, particularly those residents of the Baltic States who went to Finland when the Russians occupied those countries in 1939.

The Morgen Tidningen reported that the Finns had rejected the principal Russian demands in their present form, but this apparently was a reference to the earlier draft, which was understood to have proposed negotiation for a free retreat for the German troops in Finland.

Envoy Hayes Continues Conversation With Spain

Madrid, March 7 (AP—Delayed). United States Ambassador Carlton J. H. Hayes talked with Spanish Foreign Minister Count Francisco Gomez Jordana at noon today.

The only comment concerning the Spanish-American negotiations afterward was that the "conversations continue."

Inasmuch as Hayes had been awaiting the Spanish Cabinet's reaction to certain phases of the negotiations, this comment seemed to indicate the Spaniards had made some counterproposals which must now be communicated to Washington. Hayes apparently has been handling most of the negotiations here, although the British presumably have been kept informed.

STALEMATE HALTS ITALIAN FIGHTING

Germans Gain Deadlock at Cost of 40,000 Battle Casualties.

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, Naples, March 9—(AP) German forces have bought a temporary stalemate on the two Italian fighting fronts at a cost of approximately 40,000 casualties — killed, wounded and captured — since the latter part of January, it was estimated today.

Added to 24,000 casualties suffered on the Anzio beachhead since the Allied landing there Jan. 22, the enemy has lost another 9,000 men in the savage fighting in and around Cassino on the lower Fifth army front, Allied headquarters announced. Possibly 7,000 more German troops were estimated to have been put out of action along the Garigliano river and in the mountains near the Adriatic sea.

Four Divisions Lost

(The strength of the average Nazi division after five years of war has been estimated at 10,000 men, which would mean that Field Marshal Albert Kesselring has lost the equivalent of four divisions in less than two months. He was believed to have had around 20-22 divisions at this disposal below Rome.)

Of 9,000 casualties inflicted upon the stubborn defenders of Cassino by Lt. Gen. Mark W. Clark's forces, 1,500 have been taken prisoner, the Allied announcement said.

Fighting yesterday was limited to two minor German stabs at the beachhead and the never-ending clashes between rival patrols. Allied planes flew 900 sorties over the muddy terrain, mainly against enemy communications. Nine Allied craft were lost and six Nazi planes destroyed. Fliers said Rome's railway yards were a jumble of wreckage from Tuesday's attack by American Marauder bombers.

Gen. Sir Harold Alexander, Allied commander in Italy, after an inspection of the Anzio beachhead front told war correspondents that "things are very much better on the beachhead than when I was here last three weeks ago."

Writing from the beachhead, George Tucker, of the Associated Press, said "some of the craftiest fighting of the campaign is taking place nightly between small bodies of men who roam the alleyway that separates the front lines, groping for each other's throats and fighting it out with bare hands if necessary." He indicated the opposing lines were about 700 yards apart.

The Allied-controlled Bari radio reported the Germans were using tanks against strikers in northern Italy, where 200,000 Italian workers were said to have responded to a general strike call.

Nazi Cassino Toll Put At 9,000 Since Feb. 1

Allied Headquarters, Naples, March 9 (AP)—Fifth Army forces have inflicted 9,000 casualties on the Germans in and around Cassino since the end of January, bringing total enemy losses in Italy for that period to approximately 40,000, Allied headquarters announced today.

The Cassino casualties, including 1,500 captured and the remainder killed or wounded, were disclosed as a communique told of the repulse of two new minor German thrusts against the American beachhead positions southeast of Carroceto.

Beachhead Bombed

German losses on the beachhead have been announced as about 24,000. In addition, the enemy has suffered other casualties at the hands of the British along the Garigliano at the hands of the French in the mountains north of Cassino, and on the Eighth Army front.

Except for the two minor stabs on the beachhead, all fronts remained relatively quiet yesterday aside from routine patrolling, artillery duels and a German night air raid on the beachhead in which anti-personnel bombs were dropped.

Shelled By Poles

In the Garigliano sector British artillery got two direct hits on a house which the Germans were occupying. Eighth Army Canadian patrols engaged in skirmishes with the enemy around the caves in the vicinity of Tollo and Polish artillery shelled enemy movements near Ateleta in the mountains of middle Italy.

The weather was fair to cloudy yesterday and Allied aircraft got off on approximately 900 flights, including Marauder attacks on the harbor of Santo Stefano 80 miles northwest of Rome and Mitchell blows against the rail yards at Orte, north of the capital.

Invaders hit rail and road targets at Montalto di Castro on the west coast, about six miles above Rome, while British Spitfires and Kittyhawks attacked road traffic in the Rome area, destroying 21 enemy vehicles and damaging 10.

Six Planes Bagged

Fighters and fighter-bombers attacked targets in the beachhead area and fighters made shipping sweeps over both the Adriatic and Tyrrhenian seas. Nine Allied planes were lost during the day and six enemy craft were destroyed.

It was announced, meanwhile, that the series of recent raids had caused heavy damage to the Ostiense, Littorio and Tiburtina railyards in Rome. Marauder crews who delivered the latest attack, on Tuesday, said the yards were blanketed with debris and twisted wreckage of rolling stock and pocked with craters.

Spare Rome, Cardinal Pleads

BOSTON, March 9 (AP).—William Cardinal O'Connell, Catholic Archbishop of Boston and dean of Roman Catholic hierarchy in the United States, today called upon his flock to pray that the leaders of all nations may "respect the unique sanctity of Rome and spare the holy city." In a pastoral letter to be read at all masses in the archdiocese Sunday, the cardinal also asked for prayers "for the welfare of our beloved holy father (Pope Pius XII)."

STRIKE IN MILAN AFFECTS 4,000,000

Berne, March 9 (A. P.).—Il Corriere Della Sera in the northern Italian city of Milan declared today that strikers in the Lombard capital were deserting their jobs purely for political and military reasons and would be dealt with accordingly.

The paper placed the number of strikers at 120,000, but reports from the Italian frontier indicated that strikers plus those not working because of temporary shutdowns from lack of power might number as many as 4,000,000.

Nazis Reported Using Tanks In Italy Strikes

Naples, March 9 (AP)—The Germans are using tanks against strikers in Milan and other industrial centers of northern Italy, the Bari radio said today, as the National Committee for Italian Affairs called on all Italians under German rule to take up arms against the Nazis as well as participate in the general strike.

German-controlled broadcasts from northern Italy admitted that more than 200,000 Italian workers had responded to the strike call.

Organized By Ercoli

These broadcasts said that M. Ercoli, chief of the Italian Communist party, had slipped into Milan from Switzerland in January to organize the strike.

Italian Communists say that Ercoli, whose real name is Palmiro Togliatti, has been in Russia. The Communist party convention in Naples in February issued an appeal to the Allied governments for the return to Italy of Ercoli and "other militant and anti-Fascists still in exile."

Chinese Seize Ninghku Ga in Drive in Burma

Half of Japanese Troops in the Hukawng Valley Are Reported Casualties

NEW DELHI, India, March 9 (AP).—Trapped Japanese in the Maingkwan-Hpungnye-Walawbum triangle smashed vainly today against the Chinese-American troop wall around them, choking the Numpyek River near Walawbum with 300 bodies as sharpshooting Americans picked them off in the moonlight.

After artillery preparation the Japanese attempted to force a crossing of the Numpyek and escape southeast toward Myitkyina. Brigadier General Frank Merrill's American infantrymen threw the enemy back with heavy losses while suffering few casualties themselves, Thoburn Wiant, Associated Press correspondent, reported in a dispatch from the North Burma front.

Chinese columns pushing southward from Hpungnye to Lashu Ga, captured Ninghku Ga, three miles north of Walawbum. At least half the Japanese compressed in the Hukawng Valley have been killed or wounded, a Chungking communique said.

There was evidence that Chinese-American forces have made far deeper penetrations southward than previously disclosed. The communique issued here by Adiral Lord Louis Mountbatten said Allied patrols operating in the Fort Hertz area northeast of Myitkyina had successfully ambushed Japanese forces.

This is the first time Allied forces have been reported south of Walawbum.

Mountbatten reported 5,000 Japanese have been killed in the last month on the Arakan and North Burma fronts, about 500 miles apart.

Lieutenant General Joseph W. Stilwell, American commander, said 2,309 Japanese were slain in the Hukawng Valley (North Burma) in the last four months, three-quarters of them in the last thirty days.

650 Japs Die; 7 Yanks Lost

New Delhi, March 9 (AP)—United States troops under the command of Brig. Gen. Frank Merrill have killed 650 Japanese soldiers since entering the Burma campaign against a loss of 7 killed and 37 wounded, headquarters of Lieut. Gen. Joseph W. Stilwell announced today.

Total Japanese casualties in the Hukawng Valley fighting have reached a total of 2,309 killed, the communique said. More than 300 were killed during the night of March 6 alone, when a Japanese force facing entrapment north and east of Walawbum attempted to break through American lines.

American positions in this sector of the north Burma front have been further extended, the Stilwell communique said, while the American-trained Chinese 22nd Division captured the town of Minghku Ga, southeast of Maingkwan, on March 7.

A Southeast Asia Command communique announced that Allied troops have improved their positions on the high ground south of the Maungdaw-Buthedaung road on the Arakan front near the Burmese west coast and have thrown back all Japanese counter-attacks.

American heavy bombers blasted Japanese shipping in the Gulf of Siam, south of Bangkok, Tuesday night, sinking a 200-foot freighter, scoring a direct hit on a 300-foot cargo ship which probably sank, and damaging another with four near misses, the communique added.

By Thoburn Wiant

With American and Chinese Forces in Northern Burma, March 8 (AP — Delayed) — Brig. Gen. Frank Merrill's Marauders, American infantrymen fighting in northern Burma, got a big bag of at least 300 Japanese when the panicky enemy made three unsuccessful attempts to cross the Nambyu river from the west.

The Japanese, frantic because the Chinese were rapidly tightening a noose about them from the west, east and north, laid down a heavy barrage on the Americans to the south before trying to crash through.

Bright Moonlight

But the moonlight was bright and the Americans had a hunter's dream mowing down every Japanese who leaped from the opposite bank into the water.

Daybreak found the river choked with the bodies of enemy dead. The final count may show the score was 500 instead of 300 enemy killed. The Americans lost only a fraction of that number.

In its heyday, Maingkwan, the Hukawng valley's largest village which has now been taken by the Chinese, had only 100 huts. Those now standing could be counted on the fingers of one hand.

Steady Patrols

American bombers and Chinese artillery did an almost perfect job of destroying it.

American fighters, maintaining steady patrols, have been strafing small groups of the enemy, setting fire to villages and holding down Japanese artillery which is afraid to disclose its positions.

Advance Reported

Chungking, March 9 (AP)—More than half the enemy troops surrounded in the Maingkwan area in northern Burma either have been killed or wounded, a Chinese communique said today.

The Chinese have pushed on from Maingkwan and occupied high ground four miles to the south, the announcement added.

14th U. S. Air Force Praised By Chiang

Chungking, March 9 (AP)—Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek, highly praising the United States 14th Air Force on the eve of its first anniversary, declared today that "considering the limited personnel and equipment one must admit that the results achieved are better than that of any other air force in the world."

In a message to Maj. Gen. Claire L. Chennault, Chiang said: "During the brief period of its existence the 14th air force has rendered a splendid account of itself in the Far East.

"You, General Chennault and officers and men of the 14th air force, as members of the fighting Allied Nations, win our admiration and strengthen our confidence."

U. S. Supply Ships Arrive In Admiralty Island Harbor

EUNSON

Allies Have Full Control of Seas Around Los Negros.

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, Southwest Pacific, Friday, March 10—(AP) American warships have moved unopposed into big Seadler harbor in the invaded Admiralty islands, Marines virtually have cut Willaumez peninsula in two on the north coast of New Britain and once-mighty Rabaul shows marked signs of deterioration, headquarters reported today.

The warships along with supply vessels entered waters between Japanese-held Manus island and American-controlled Los Negros to aid cavalrymen of the First division steadily expanding their foothold in the Admiralty group.

Marines Advance

On New Britain, Marines have overcome bitter Japanese resistance, inflicted heavy casualties and pushed three miles from Monday's landing point on the west side of Willaumez peninsula to miles of Talasea on the eastern side. After reaching the town on the coast the Marines will have two more miles to go to achieve the airfield.

A spokesman for Gen. Douglas MacArthur disclosed today that the original operation Feb. 29 in the Admiralty islands, which caught the Japanese so completely by surprise that Momote airfield was seized in fair condition, was made by only 1,000 men, one battery of four mountain guns and one battery of anti-aircraft.

Landing soon after the four troops of dismounted cavalrymen went ashore, Gen. MacArthur decided on the spot to send in reinforcements and go ahead with plans to seize the Admiralties.

Wewak Bombed

Allied bombers and fighters moved up the New Guinea coast to hit the Japanese air base of Wewak and shot down 17 enemy planes, with the bombers' gunners bagging all but one.

Planes from the Solomons, in a Tuesday visit to Rabaul, found it nothing like the Rabaul of old, a spokesman said today, reporting that less than 50 enemy aircraft were there and no undamaged ships were to be seen in the harbor. Rabaul's six airdromes once based hundreds of planes and warships and merchantmen in numbers found a haven in big Simpson harbor and Blanche bay.

In the latest attack, the raiders smashed five parked planes, sank a small cargo vessel and blasted gun positions.

Four separate attacks were made Tuesday on Rabaul. The first wave of Navy dive bombers and fighters left Lakunai airfield a mass of flames visible for 30 miles. Six minutes later, Corsairs and Airacobras attacked Tobera airfield. Then Kittyhawks and Corsairs roared over the town, starting explosions and fires among buildings. More Corsairs went after barges in the bay.

Allies Crush Jap Opposition on Two Fronts.

Allied Headquarters, Southwest Pacific, March 9 (A. P.).—Americans fighting on three invasion fronts around the Bismarck Sea crushed Jap opposition in New Guinea and the Admiralty Islands, and are holding against strong enemy counter-attacks in New Britain, Gen. Douglas MacArthur's communique said today.

Jap troops aboard a small barge fleet dismally failed to dent the First Cavalry Division's positions north of Momote Airdrome on Los Negros Island, in the Admiraltys, Tuesday night. Not one barge reached shore against the hot fire of the Americans.

Marine invaders of Willaumez Peninsula on the north New Britain coast had consolidated their holdings and were slugging it out Monday night with counter-attacking Nipponese, who had recovered from the surprise of the landing the morning of that day.

Thirty-second Division troops have seized complete control of the northeastern New Guinea coast for thirty-five miles west of Saidor, in their drive for the enemy base at Madang, now twenty-three airline miles away. The Americans, after popping ashore behind the Jap at Yalau March 5, struck at Mindiri and captured much abandoned enemy equipment.

Japs around the American beachhead perimeter at Cape Torokina, on Empress Augusta Bay on Bougainville Island in the Solomons, were blasted by dive-bombers.

Dutch in Pacific Planning For Indies Reoccupation

Van Mook Sees MacArthur, Will Head New Regime in Exile

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, Southwest Pacific, March 9 (AP).—Dr. Hubertus J. van Mook, Minister of Colonies for the Netherlands government-in-exile in England, discussed the reoccupation of the Netherlands East Indies with General Douglas MacArthur here today and announced that a Dutch government-in-exile is being formed in Australia.

Dr. van Mook, former Lieutenant Governor General of the Netherlands East Indies, will head the new government-in-exile by decree of Queen Wilhelmina. Cabinet members will include members of a governmental commission which has functioned in Australia for two years.

Dutch troops in England and other forces now in occupied Holland will be brought to the Southwest Pacific for combat duty as soon as the European war ends, Dr. van Mook said.

Airstrip Done on Green Isle.

Green Island, South Pacific, March 8 (Delayed) (A. P.).—Just nineteen days after Sea Bees landed in this jungle island the construction specialists have carved a 5,000-foot airfield which was activated today.

[The first planes to use the strip were fighters escorting bombers in another strike at Rabaul.]

Three Sea Bee battalions—the twenty-second, thirty-third and thirty-seventh—broke ground on the job on February 17 immediately after the United States and New Zealand troops invaded Green Island. Disdaining threats of night air attacks the Sea Bees went on a round-the-clock schedule, using huge floodlights at night.

Allies Turn Aerial Might On Kavieng

Guadalcanal, Solomon Islands, March 9 (AP)—Admiral William F. Halsey's South Pacific Air Force, which has virtually wiped out Japanese air power at Rabaul, New Britain, in less than three months, has turned its might against Kavieng, New Ireland.

Halsey's spokesman announced today that South Pacific planes, some of them springing from the new Allied airport in the Green Islands, dumped more than 60 tons of bombs on the Kavieng-Panapai areas Monday, scoring numerous hits on the vital runways.

Town Area Fired

Kavieng town was blasted by half-ton bombs and the buildings and shipping area were left in flames.

Anti-aircraft fire was heavy but all planes returned.

Other South Pacific airmen staged a 46-ton raid on Rabaul's Lakunai airdrome, a fragmentation-bomb attack on Tobera airdrome, also in the Rabaul area, and strafed barges and small craft in the New Britain sector.

Talasea Landing Hardest To Date, Says Eyewitness

When veteran marines landed on New Britain's north coast Monday, they met the bitterest Japanese opposition of any amphibious operation by Allied forces in the Southwest Pacific. So says Murlin Spencer, Associated Press correspondent who accompanied the marines, in the following eyewitness account.

MAR 10 1944

By Murlin Spencer

With the Marines, New Britain, March 8 (AP Delayed)—Veteran marine shock troops were threading their way through treacherous coral reefs off Talasea and were only 200 yards from shore when the Japanese opened up with mortars and machine-guns.

Japanese Opposition Fierce

As invasions go, this landing Monday on the north coast of New Britain, halfway between Cape Gloucester and Rabaul, was small. But there has never been any landing thus far in the Southwest Pacific more bitterly opposed by the Japanese.

Marines, who had no naval or air support, fought from their landing craft as they followed a snake-like course through the coral reefs. They fought their way blindly through the dense jungle along the beach and dug the Japanese out of his entrenchments. They chased the enemy from his grass huts, where rice was still warm on the table.

"Mortars Fall All Around"

"It was the reefs and mortar fire that was bad," said Bud Thompson, of Denver, Col. "They slowed us and bunched us up on the beach, which gave the Japs just that much better target. Mortars were dropping all around us."

"He's right about that," agreed May. "There was just one open place in the reefs and the Nips had that well covered. Then, when we go closer, they opened up with machine guns. That was rugged, any way you look at it."

Jungle To Water's Edge

That was what the marines went through to reach the beach—which was no beach at all, because the jungle spread clear to the water's edge. The operation was aimed at Willaumez Peninsula, the narrow neck of which is only a few miles across. They landed near Volupai plantation, at the base of rugged Mount Worri.

One of their objectives was the unused Talasea Airstrip and as this story is being written they have it almost within grasp.

But the landing was hard sledding. Take the case of John Cliff, of Des Moines, Iowa, who was in the No. 1 amphibious "Alligator." The big, awkward craft made it to the beach despite the heavy fire, but then ran into trouble.

Encounter Group Of Japs

"We pulled up in a clump of bushes about 50 yards in," Cliff said. "Then 30 Japs—it looked like that many—tried to storm us. We gave them everything we had from machine-guns to tommyguns."

Nearly a score of the attackers were killed and the others driven off.

The Japanese weren't able to stop the marines once they landed, despite the enemy's well-constructed machine-gun emplacements and their 90-mm. mortars, which exploded with a terrific crash like a naval shell, but which you couldn't hear coming.

Unexpected By Enemy

"After we hit the beach," said George Friend, of Evanston, Ill., "we kept pushing inland to widen our beachhead. We ran into opposition, but we went ahead anyway. We chased one Jap into a grass shack and out again. We found warm rice on the table, which showed they hadn't been expecting us long."

After the first few hours the back of the initial Japanese resistance was broken. But it still was nasty business on the beach.

Mortars Hit Near Wounded

Rows of wounded marines lined the beach, waiting for boats to take them out to the mother ships, Robert N. May, of Laurel, Miss., said. "Then that damnable mortar opened up again. The incoming rescue boat had to flee the beach and the wounded lay there listening to the mortars exploding closer and closer and expecting any minute to get it.

"Then our artillery opened up and we never heard the mortars fire again."

Unselfishness Commended

"You can tell the folks back home they should see the unselfishness of their boys out here," said Capt. Joe Beatty, Mannington, W. Va. "I saw one boy about to die—you can almost tell from the sight of them—but he said: 'Help my buddy. I'm okay and he is hurt worse than I am.'

"That was the attitude all the way through and, well, it gets you, that's all."

JAP PLANES RAID ENIWETOK ATOLL IN MARSHALL ISLES

MAR 10 1944
McMURTRY

U. S. PACIFIC FLEET HEADQUARTERS, Pearl Harbor, March 9—(AP) Several formations of Japanese bombers raided Eniwetok yesterday for the first time since American forces completed capture of that northernmost atoll of the Marshall islands on Feb. 22.

Only "small damage" was caused, Admiral Chester W. Nimitz said today in announcing the second counter-action by the enemy since United States forces moved into the mid-Pacific Marshalls the last of January. The first was on the night of Feb. 11, when enemy planes struck at Roi and Namur islets of Kwajalein atoll.

A fleet spokesman said that as far as is known only Engebi islet of the Eniwetok atoll was attacked in yesterday's raid.

Simultaneously, it was reported that a Navy search plane shot down a Japanese medium bomber between Eniwetok and Truk on Tuesday afternoon. The same day United States Army and Navy planes dropped 37 tons of bombs on five enemy-held positions in the eastern Marshalls.

The new attacks in the Marshalls, an almost daily affair for two months, were reported to have damaged barracks and runways and started fires. A coastal vessel was bombed and five wooden barges strafed. One American plane failed to return.

There was no indication where the enemy bombers came from that slashed at Eniwetok. They may have been based at Truk, about 750 statute miles to the southwest; at Wake, less than 700 miles to the northeast, or at Ponape or Kusaie, enemy outpost defenses in the eastern Carolines. Ponape is 425 miles southeast of Eniwetok and Kusaie about 460 south of Eniwetok.

Flyer Describes Rescue From Lagoon At Truk

[War correspondents, after the first attack on Japan's naval base of Truk February 16-17 by planes of an American carrier task force, told how an American flyer was rescued from the lagoon after being forced down. Here, for the first time, is the story of that experience.]

Aboard a Carrier in the Central Pacific (AP)—Floating alone inside Truk lagoon for nearly three hours, hoping for rescue, wasn't enough—he also had to undergo a bombardment from five-inch guns of a Japanese destroyer.

That's the story Lieut. George Blair, "luckiest man in the Pcafic," told shipmates.

Seaplane Rescue

The 22-year-old Sewickley (Pa.) fighter pilot finally was rescued by a cruiser seaplane after a pair of fighters strafed and drove off the destroyer.

Strafing rows of ships anchored in the Lagoon on February 16, the first day of the Truk raid, Blair's plane was hit repeatedly. The engine froze at 300 feet and the propellor stopped.

Went Straight Down

"I made a reasonable landing in the water but she went straight down," Blair told Archer Thomas, Melbourne (Australia) Sun correspondent.

"I had no time to get a rubber boat and would have drowned if I hadn't been able to swim. I got tangled up in my parachute harness. When rid of that I kicked off my shoes, dropped my gun. Then my Mae West (life jacket) held me up. I made myself comfortable and began to look at the scenery. The next thing I knew, a shell burst over me. I saw a destroyer coming, a mile and a half away, shooting as it came.

Buddies Set It Afire

"Then my two buddies, both fighters, dived in and strafed the destroyer. They told me later it fired 12 shots at me. They strafed so thoroughly they set it afire and turned it back. Then they circled around me. It was mighty comforting."

Blair watched dive-bombers and torpedo bombers making runs over ships, then all left. The two fighters, after circling over him for half an hour, had to go too.

Finally Sighted

"I was slightly discouraged drifting about," Blair said.

"It seemed an awful long time. I was thinking of trying to swim to the nearest island, though I did not like the idea much. Then a cruiser scout plane came along. I waved, splashed and even yelled. It went way past and did not see me. Soon some fighters with it found me and showed it where I was. It was pretty rough inside the lagoon and I couldn't see how it could land, let alone take off with my added weight.

"It bounced in safe. I scrambled in the back seat with the radioman after a fierce swim. The pilot did a marvelous job of getting off. I thought certain we would dive in head first several times.

Struggled Up

"Nobody shot at us as we struggled up and flew seawards. I can't imagine why they didn't."

The pilot of the rescue plane stripped it of the rear gun and considerable gasoline so it could take off with Blair's added weight.

"You can't thank a guy for saving your life like that," Blair said, "but when I tried he (the pilot) said he always had heard a lot about Truk and was glad to have a chance to take a look."

Thought About Wife

Asked what he thought about while adrift in the lagoon, Blair showed a photograph of the girl he had married not long ago.

"Funny thing," he remarked, "the men who are shot down usually seem to be married men. Reckon I was lucky."

Although several flyers were rescued outside of Truk, Blair was the only man rescued from within the lagoon.

ARGENTINA LIFTS BAN AGAINST A.P.

Buenos Aires, March 9 (A. P.). The Argentine Government last night lifted the ban imposed earlier this week on wireless reception of the Associated Press news reports here. La Nacion, leading South American newspaper, was authorized to resume transcribing A. P. broadcasts from New York, London, Madrid and other news centers for distribution by La Prensa Asociada, Latin American affiliate of the A. P.

The authorities also said that a teletype printer circuit between La Prensa Asociada offices here and in Montevideo, Uruguay, may be reopened today.

The ban against reception of the Associated Press wireless news reports and suspension of all communications facilities for La Prensa Asociada were ordered on Monday night for a technical violation of radio and telegraph rules. Similar action, which had been taken on Saturday against the United Press and its affiliate, La Prensa Unida, was rescinded yesterday.

CANADA SNUBS ARGENTINA

OTTAWA, March 9—(AP) Canadian diplomatic representatives in Buenos Aires have been instructed to "refrain for the present from any official contacts with administration of General Farrell," Prime Minister W. L. Mackenzie King said today in the Commons.

FIRST LADY VISITS CARIBBEAN TROOPS

MAR 10 1944

San Juan, Puerto Rico, March 9 (A. P.).—Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, touring United States military posts in the Caribbean, yesterday praised the men in this theater "for what you have done" in keeping sea lanes open from the United States.

Mrs. Roosevelt, who arrived here yesterday after visiting posts at Jamaica and Guantanamo, Cuba, said her "whole reason for making the trip was to bring a message from the President. He really does watch what they do."

Praises Negro Soldiers.

Kingston, Jamaica, March 9 (A. P.).—On her visit here early this week Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt commended the valor of Negro soldiers and promised help in sending Jamaica girls to work as domestics in American homes.

Greeted by Major-Gen. William E. Shedd Jr., Commander of United States Caribbean Forces, Mrs. Roosevelt visited a hospital and a service club and heard Jamaican folk songs. She met representative citizens at a cocktail party in Government House.

MOSQUITO FLIES FAST

TORONTO, March 9.—(AP) Test Pilot J. R. Follett taxied a Mosquito bomber to the take-off point at nearby Malton airport yesterday, gunned the twin engines and streaked skywards. Fifty-five minutes later he brought the aircraft down at New York.

The plane, manufactured by De Haviland Aircraft Co., maintained an average speed of 412 miles an hour. Follett, chief test pilot for De Haviland Co., said he was not attempting to break any records and that the Mosquito "can go faster than that."

New York, March 9 (AP)—The Tokyo radio, according to NBC, stated tonight that "the Rumanian Cabinet has resigned en bloc, according to a Berlin dispatch. Further details are as yet unobtainable.

16 JAPANESE SHIPS SUNK BY U.S. SUBS IN PACIFIC ATTACKS

WASHINGTON, March 9—(AP) An increased tempo of submarine operation against Japanese shipping to pin the enemy fleet to its bases and starve out island garrisons became evident today as the Navy announced that submersibles on their latest war patrols destroyed 16 Nipponese ships.

All of the new bag—one of the largest ever reported by submarine commanders after daring cruises in enemy waters—consisted of ships highly important to the Japanese in keeping their bases in operation.

American submarines are now credited with a total of 477 Japanese ships of all types sunk, 36 probably sunk and 114 damaged—an overall total of 627.

Topping the newest list was a large tanker which presumably was carrying fuel to keep enemy warships and planes operating. Each such sinking is a major blow to Japan for its tankers are becoming scarce.

Their destruction already has reached such a point that Admiral Chester W. Nimitz, commander of the Pacific fleet, has said lack of tankers and their cargoes of fuel may have forced the enemy to withdraw warships from Truk, once strong Japanese base in the south Pacific.

30.24 —— 13,601

also included in the bag were 10 cargo vessels which may have been used to move munitions and foodstuffs to men in island garrisons cut off from supply lines. Five transports sent to the bottom could have been moving men as well as supplies.

Loss To U-Boats Lowest Since '41

Washington, March 9 (AP)—Allied ship losses because of U-boat action in February hit their lowest level since the United States entered the war, the Office of War Information reported tonight, with more enemy submarines destroyed than merchant vessels sunk.

The text of the OWI's monthly communique on the battle of the Atlantic follows:

"Despite the increasing traffic of United Nations shipping in the Atlantic, February, 1944, was the lowest month as to tonnage of Allied merchant ship losses to enemy U-boat action since the United States entered the war; and February was the second lowest month of the entire war.

"Again, there were more U-boats destroyed than merchant vessels sunk, so the exchange rate remains favorable to the United Nations. In actual numbers a few more U-boats were sunk in February than in January."

Brig. Gen. Davis D. Graves Reported Missing In Italy

Washington, March 9 (AP)—Brig. Gen. Davis D. Graves, commander of an army air forces fighter wing in the Mediterranean, has been missing in action over Italy since February 8, the War Department announced today.

At the same time, the department reported that Brig. Gen. Paul W. Kendall, whose assignment was not disclosed, was wounded slightly in action in Italy January 22. Kendall's home is at Palo Alto, California.

Graves, whose wife lives at San Antonio, Texas, is the sixth general now carried on the army lists as missing in action.

One Listed As Killed

Others, all brigadier generals, are Asa N. Duncan, missing off the European coast November 17, 1942; Kenneth N. Walker, Southwest Pacific, January 5, 1943; Howard K. Ramey, March 26, 1943, Southwest Pacific; Nathan B. Forrest, June 13, 1943, after raid on Kiel, Germany, and Charles L. Keerans, Jr., July 11, 1943, in Sicily.

Only one general officer is carried now as killed in action—Maj. Gen. Clarence L. Tinker, who was lost in the battle of Midway June 7, 1942.

Born In Buffalo

Graves, who was born at Buffalo, N. Y., August 29, 1903, was promoted from colonel to brigadier general just 18 days before he was lost. A 1927 graduate of Leland Stanford University, he enlisted as a flying cadet in February, 1938, and was commissioned a second lieutenant in the air corps, regular army, on May 2, the following year.

Kendall, born July 17, 1898, in Baldwin, Kan., is an infantry officer and 1918 graduate of West Point. He served with the American expedition in Siberia after the first World War, and has served in the Philippines and in Hawaii as well as at numerous army posts in the United States.

U. S. War Casualties Mount To 162,282

Washington, March 9 (AP) — The nation's battle casualties—of which Secretary of War Stimson says "every community has its sad and honorable share"—now stand at more than 162,282.

This combines 121,458 army casualties up to February 23, the latest total reported, and 40,824 of the navy up to today.

These are all types of casualties, dead, wounded, missing and prisoners of war. The dead total 37,853—20,592 army men and 17,261 of the navy, marines and Coast Guard. The soldier wounded are 47,318; those in the sea services, 9,910.

Better Chance To Live

These 57,228 wounded men, however, have a better chance for living than their predecessors in World War I. The army reported today that the chance for survival of American soldiers wounded in this war is nearly twice that in the World War.

Although World War II uses the most destructive weapons ever invented, only 3.7 per cent. of American wounded have died, compared with 6.1 in the last conflict.

The War Department issued the following report of army casualties by theaters through January 31:

ASIATIC—Killed, 231; wounded, 156; missing, 395; prisoners, 144; total, 926.

CENTRAL PACIFIC—Killed, 447; wounded, 589; missing, 83; prisoners, 1; total, 1,120.

EUROPEAN—Killed, 2,419; wounded, 2,214; missing, 4,622; prisoners, 4,542; total, 13,797.

LATIN-AMERICAN — Killed, 44; wounded, 4; missing, 8; prisoners one; total, 56.

MIDDLE EASTERN — Killed, 379; wounded, 232; missing, 671; prisoners, 294; total, 1,576.

NORTH AFRICAN — Killed, 9,271; wounded, 29,278; missing, 3,141; prisoners, 7,361; total, 49,051.

NORTH AMERICAN—Killed, 1,243; wounded, 1,018; missing, 39; prisoners, none; total, 2,300.

PHILIPPINES — Killed, 1,096; wounded, 1,720; missing, 15,198; prisoners, 13,590; total, 31,604.

SOUTH PACIFIC — Killed, 1,918; wounded, 5,627; missing, 467; prisoners, 6; total, 8,018.

SOUTHWEST PACIFIC — Killed, 1,959; wounded, 3,577; missing, 1,353; prisoners, 458; total, 7,347.

The figures for the Philippines included 12,506 Filipino scouts.

Latin-American Figures

The army did not explain the figures for Latin America and North America. They apparently cover losses resulting from the campaign in the Aleutians as well as those from air-force operations in the anti-U-boat warfare in the western Atlantic.

Stimson said the Allies had not been stopped in their air attacks on German military strength in the homeland by enemy fighters, clouds nor fog; that "only daylight itself remained as protection for this one all-important city of Berlin." Then he added with reference to the AAF's recent daylight attacks, "and now that last protection is gone."

Eire Reported Asked To Cut German Ties

Washington, March 9 (AP)—Reports circulated in Washington tonight that the United States has asked neutral Eire to cut her ties with Germany.

The State Department declined to discuss the matter.

While the six northern counties in Ireland have joined in the war since Great Britain entered hostilities and large Allied bases are established there, Eire has maintained strict neutrality.

The United States has been making efforts to get other neutral countries to crack down on German agents, but this is the first reported action in connection with Eire.

Britain was understood to have approved the reported American move.

Talks With Spain Bearing Fruits

Washington, March 9 (AP)—Negotiations with Spain to halt wolfram shipments to Germany and curtail other Nazi advantages in Spain are continuing, the State Department said today, but, in the meanwhile, exports of vital tungsten ore have been suspended.

While the talks have carried on far longer than we expected, there is every indication they will reach a successful conclusion.

It has been learned unofficially that Spain has acceded to several of the Anglo-American requests regarding the release of Italian ships, control over German agents in Tangier and in the rest of Spain.

As far as can be ascertained here, Spain already has freed Italian ships which were interned in her ports. Those in the Canary Islands and other Spanish colonial ports have not yet been released, however.

Want Solitude?—Alaska Jobs Await 30 Couples

Washington, March 9 (AP)—Married couples craving to be all alone should see the Civil Aeronautics Administration about a job in Alaska.

The CAA announced today that it wants 30 couples who are willing to live at remote outposts of the Federal airways. W. P. Plett, supervisor of airways in Alaska, is in Washington to recruit the personnel.

The outposts are a "paradise," he said, for persons who like to hunt, fish, and take scenic pictures. Basic salary is $1,620 a year for each person but overtime increases this to about $2,000.

Plead to Keep Palestine Open

MAR 10 1944

Groups Meet in Washington to Mobilize Sentiment in This Country.

Washington, March 9 (A. P.).—Friends of the keep-Palestine-open resolutions pending in Congress held an all-day session in a Washington hotel today for the announced purpose of "mobilizing American Christian sentiment in favor of the free entry of Jews into Palestine and the reconstruction of that country as a free and democratic commonwealth."

Dr. William F. Albright of Johns Hopkins University told the gathering: "We are not going beyond our rights in stating to our Government our conviction that the White Paper conflicts with American sentiment and American interests."

War Department Request.

He referred to the British White Paper on Palestine under which the movement of Jews into that area would be restricted after March 31. Congress has been asked to go on record as favoring continued free immigration of Jews into Palestine, but members of the committees considering the resolutions have reported War Department requests that the matter be laid aside at this time, for military reasons.

Urging that Congress go ahead and act, Dr. Albright said:

"Strong arguments are being used against this bill, but no argument yet advanced is strong enough to nullify the plain pledges given by the governments of the world to the Jewish people."

Wallace Asked to Speak.

Dr. Carl J. Friedrich of Harvard University said: "I am convinced that a firm American stand — diplomatically presented —would mobilize British liberal opinion. British people have come and begged us to help them in this fight, because the bureaucrats in the Colonial Office, like most bureaucrats, would respond largely to pressure."

They joined others in stating that apart from humanitarian considerations based upon persecutions in Europe, the Jews had shown industry and skill in developing the Palestine area in recent years. Vice-President Wallace was invited to address an evening session.

The American Palestine Committee, headed by Senator Robert F. Wagner (D.-N. Y.), sponsored the gathering, announcing that it had done so in co-operation with the American Federation of Labor, the Congress of Industrial Organizations, the Christian Council on Palestine, the Free World Association, the Union for Democratic Action, the Unitarian Fellowship for Social Justice, and the United Christian Council for Democracy.

Rabbis Visit White House.

Rabbis Stephen S. Wise of New York and Abba H. Silver of Cleveland saw President Roosevelt today and said that he authorized them to say that the American Government had not approved a British white paper restricting the movement of Jews into Palestine at the end of this month. The rabbis, co-chairmen of the American Zionist Emergency Council, gave this statement to reporters after seeing Mr. Roosevelt:

"The President has authorized us to say that the American Government has never given its approval to the White Paper of 1939. The President is happy that the doors of Palestine are today open to Jewish refugees and that when future decisions are reached, full justice will be done to those who seek a Jewish national home, for which our Government and the American people have always had the deepest sympathy and today more than ever in view of the tragic flight of hundreds of thousands of homeless Jewish refugees."

Kelly's One-man Army Cited

MAR 10 1944

Pittsburgh Irishman's Italian Saga Is Released by War Department.

Washington, March 9 (A. P.).—Tech. Sergt. Charles E. Kelly of Pittsburgh is going to get the Congressional Medal of Honor.

Does he deserve it? Listen to the story the War Department tells about the fighting Irishman whose friends call him Commando, and judge for yourself.

On September 13, last, near Altavilla, Kelly, who is 23 years old, volunteered as a member of a patrol which located and put out of action some enemy machine-gun positions, at considerable risk of life and limb.

But that was just a start. He promptly volunteered to establish contact with a United States infantry battalion which was believed to be located on a hill a mile away. The route he had to follow was under enemy observation, plus sniper, mortar and artillery fire. But Commando got back with the information that the Americans weren't there—the hill was occupied by the Nazis in organized positions.

Ready for Next Job.

Kelly volunteered immediately for another patrol going after enemy machine guns, and "assisted materially" until he ran out of ammunition. So he got permission to go to an ammunition dump for more, and arrived to find the Germans attacking ferociously. He got his ammunition, plus an assignment to stay right there and protect the rear of an adjacent storehouse, which he did all night.

Next morning, when the Nazis resumed the attack, Kelly took a position at an open window where a machine gunner had been killed and several soldiers wounded. There he "delivered continuous, aimed and effective fire" until his rifle locked from overheating, whereupon he found another and kept up his shooting until the same thing happened to that one.

There wasn't another rifle handy, but the enemy was threatening to overrun the post.

Kelly picked up some 60 mm. mortar shells, pulled the safety pins and used the shells for grenades, killing at least five Germans.

"When it became imperative that the house be evacuated," the citation continues, "Corporal Kelly, despite his sergeant's injunctions, volunteered to hold the position until the remainder of the detachment could withdraw. As the detachment moved out, Corporal Kelly was observed deliberately loading and firing a rocket launcher from the window. He was successful in covering the withdrawal of the unit, and later in joining his own organization."

But That Wasn't All.

The citation ends there, with a bow to Kelly's "fighting determination and intrepidity in battle." But Commando hadn't stopped there. The boys learned later that, after firing the last Bazooka shell, he slipped out of the storehouse, and started making cautious but speedy steps away from there, down a hill.

And what did he find? An abandoned 37 mm anti-tank gun, with shells. So as long as the shells lasted, he stayed with that gun, too.

That was at Altavilla. Kelly was at San Pietro, too, as a corporal—the citation for the earlier actions was written while he was a corporal—and then as section sergeant. He crossed the Rapido River three times as a platoon sergeant, but had to come back each time because of overwhelming enemy strength. He has fought at Cassino, also. He's had a total of seventy days of active combat, and his only injuries have been a scraped nose and some tiny cuts on his hands from shell fragments. Officially he's credited with killing forty Germans. Unofficially, he has become a legend of the Italian campaign.

His mother, Mrs. Irene Kelly of 532 Shawano street, Pittsburgh, has six other sons in the fighting forces, too. One of Commando's brothers is in England, another in the South Pacific, a third in the merchant marine "somewhere," and three are in this country.

ROOSEVELT NAMES HOLCOMB AS ENVOY

Washington, March 9 (A. P.).—Gen. Thomas Holcomb, who retired recently as Commandant of the Marine Corps, was nominated by President Roosevelt today to be American Minister to the Union of South Africa. His appointment was one of a number of diplomatic nominations sent to the Senate. Others included:

Leland B. Morris of Pennsylvania, who has been Minister to Iceland, to be Ambassador to Iran, and Louis G. Dreyfus Jr., of California, envoy to Iran, to be Minister to Iceland.

Avra M. Warren of Maryland, now Ambassador to the Dominican Republic, to be Ambassador to Panama, and Ellis O. Briggs of Maine, Consul at the embassy in Cuba, to be Ambassador to the Dominican Republic.

Kenneth S. Patton of Virginia, Consul-General at Calcutta, to be Minister to New Zealand.

Willard L. Beaulac of Rhode Island, counselor of embassy at Madrid, to be Ambassador to Paraguay.

Orme Wilson of New York, a foreign service officer in the State Department, to be Ambassador to Haiti.

Circulation Of 'Smear' Article Laid To Army

Washington, March 9 (AP)—Senator Vandenberg (R., Mich.) protested in the Senate today that the War Department is permitting the circulation of "prejudicial and partisan" magazine articles to the troops at home and abroad through a service established by the Army War College.

Criticizing the circulation of what he described as "smear" article entitled "General MacArthur, Fact and Legend," Vandenberg told his colleagues:

"I think the War Department had better concentrate on the war abroad instead of the political war at home.

One Of Ten Articles

The MacArthur article, which appeared in the American Mercury magazine, was one of ten which Vandenburg said the Army War College library was prepared to send to the troops.

The Michigan Senator said that the War Department's library bulletin for February described the MacArthur article, written by John McCaten, as "a comprehensive and objective appraisal of the general as Presidential timber, with special reference to the character of his backers and an analysis of his military reputation before Pearl Harbor and afterward."

Challenges Right

Vandenberg, who has proposed that the Republicans draft MacArthur as their Presidential nominee, said he wanted to know what right the War Depaartment had to circulate such material.

"I ask, what business is it of the War Department to present a 'comprehensive and objective appraisal' of any man as Presidential material," Vandenberg shouted.

He called the McCarten story a "smear article if I ever read one in my life and written for the purpose of making a definite attack on this American (MacArthur)."

KNOX ENDORSES LEND-LEASE AID AS VITAL IN WAR

WASHINGTON, March 9 — (AP) Secretary of the Navy Knox told Congress today the Axis now knows the only remaining chance it has for victory is Allied disunity and he said this last enemy prop can be knocked out by extension of the Lend-Lease act.

"We can be certain of victory if we continue to pull together," the secretary told the House Foreign Affairs committee which is considering legislation to extend the mutual aid act for another year beyond June 30.

Testifying that the Allies are "on the threshold of critical offensives" that will dwarf all activities of the past, Secretary Knox said:

"If our Allies are to do their best for us as well as for themselves, they must have confidence that the pipeline of Lend-Lease supplies will be kept full. As their partners in the United Nations, we must make certain that they can throw their full power into the fight."

With Secretary Knox's testimony, the committee concluded open hearings on the bill and Chairman Bloom (D.-N. Y.) predicted the measure would go to House floor by a week from next Monday.

Discussing post-war control of air and naval bases, Secretary Knox said that he believed that question "goes far beyond any question of the Lease-Lend settlement," adding:

"The question of air fields and naval bases cannot be considered on a bilateral basis as a Lend-Lease problem alone, although the solution of our problems of national security may well give rise to Lend-Lease benefits."

To enforce peace after the war, he said cooperating nations each should have a responsibility of protecting a certain area and therefore bases will be necessary from which to operate.

ARABIAN OIL DEAL DEFENDED BY KNOX

Washington, March 9 (A. P.).—Secretary of the Navy Knox defended the proposed $50,000,000 Arabian oil pipe line before the House Foreign Affairs Committee today, declaring that it is a military necessity and essential to prevent draining of vast amounts of oil from dwindling United States reserves.

Representative Bloom (D.-N. Y.), the chairman, asked about the agreement with three major oil companies under which the line from Arabian oil fields to the Persian Gulf would be built by the United States Government. The oil companies would use the line, repaying the Government for the cost of the line within twenty-five years and providing it with 1,000,000,000 barrels of oil as demanded at 25 per cent below market price.

Mr. Knox departed from testimony in favor of extension of the lend-lease act to discuss the project and tell the committee that it is simply an effort by the Government to "provide for acquisition of oil resources outside the limits of the United States for the safety and security of this country."

"We're going to look into oil reserves all over the world," he said, pointing to decreasing supplies in the United States. "We are building a pipe line into China now. This is the same thing. It is a military necessity."

Echo Devices Expected To Aid Deep-sea Fishing

Washington, March 9 (A. P.).—The Navy's echo-sounding devices, used to detect submarines and mines, may revolutionize commercial deep-sea diving.

Secretary of the Interior Ickes, who is Co-ordinator of Fisheries, disclosed today that the ultra-sensitive equipment soon will be tested off the California coast to determine its usefulness in locating schools of fish.

Technical aids to Secretary Ickes told reporters that they believed the method not only would find the fish but would also determine their size and direction—twenty-four hours a day—in any kind of weather.

Roosevelt Puts Waterway High on Post-War List

Favors Early Construction of St. Lawrence Project

WASHINGTON, March 9 (AP).—[illegible]letter from President Roosevelt [illegible]orsing the St. Lawrence Waterway and hydro-electric development as an early post-war project was made public today by Senator George D. Aiken, Republican, of Vermont.

"I am convinced that the time has come for a non-partisan effort to secure Congressional authorization for the St. Lawrence development in order that the project may be available for early post-war construction," Mr. Roosevelt wrote.

"The undertaking will offer such important benefits to many states that I am sure it will provide a desirable stimulus to industrial and business activity which will assist the entire country in its reconversion to a stable peace-time economy on a continued high production level. Many competent studies have shown that it will not hurt the railroads or ports through which foreign commerce now flows but will ultimately increase their business.

"I am advising interested Federal agencies that your bill, modified to provide for construction as a post-war project, has my approval.

"I have appreciated your consistent support of this great undertaking."

2 CHARGES DENIED BY FCC CHAIRMAN

WASHINGTON, March 9—(AP) Before a House investigating committee, Chairman James L. Fly of the Federal Communications commission denied today two more charges aimed at the agency—

1—That the FCC was lax in not tapping wires out of Pearl Harbor before the Japanese attacked. Mr. Fly said the law at that time prohibited wire-tapping by his force, but that it was done by the Federal Bureau of Investigation which felt it was acting legally.

2—That he unnecessarily delayed turning over to the FBI fingerprints of 250,000 radio operators. Mr. Fly said the prints were obtained by voluntary agreements with labor union heads. The FCC finally gave the FBI the whole set of files "because if we hadn't they wouldn't have processed them at all and we wanted them processed."

Mr. Fly, on the witness stand of the LEA committee investigation for the third straight day, was questioned sharply by the Republican members, Miller of Missouri and Wigglesworth of Massachusetts.

Representative Magnuson (D-Wash.) interjected at one point that the Congress and "all America was responsible for Pearl Harbor."

Mr. Miller, who has contended that the FCC was lax, and at odds with the military authorities in Hawaii, brought into the testimony a letter by Chairman Vinson (D-Ga.) of the House Naval committee which was critical of the agency.

That letter, Mr. Fly declared, was inspired by Rear Admiral Stanford A. Hooper, retired, in an effort "to remove me as chairman of the War Communications board."

The committee requested Mr. Fly to resume his testimony next Tuesday.

NELSON EXPLAINS POST-WAR POLICY FOR PRODUCTION

MAR 10 1944

Pre-War Firms Should Have Preference in Reconversion, Says WPB Head.

HAS MARKETING PLAN

Would Require First Producers to Sell Goods Through Others.

WASHINGTON, March 9.—(AP) Pre-war producers of consumer goods are entitled to a head start over new firms, Donald M. Nelson said today, in the post-war race to supply the pent-up American market for articles whose manufacture was suspended by the war.

The war production chief laid down this principle in a letter to Senator Maloney (D-Conn.) in which he also set forth these other views on reconversion:

Explains Policy

1. "Our policy is to expand civilian production as it becomes possible to do so without interference with the overall war program."

2. It is a "physical impossibility" to allow all manufacturers in each industry to resume production at the same time.

3. Where it can be "soundly done," he would favor a policy of requiring firms first returned to civilian manufacture to market part of their output through other companies still working on war contracts.

Mr. Nelson emphasized he was speaking of the intitial reconversion period, saying the government should not attempt to prevent new competition and should relax its industrial controls whenever they cease to be necessary.

Senator Maloney, concerned over the future of Connecticut industries, had asked Mr. Nelson's views on these particular problems.

The war production head will have chief responsibility for post-war conversion of industry if recommendations of Bernard M. Baruch, Presidential adviser, are carried out. Some congressional groups, however, are backing establishment of a new demobilization agency which might result in lessening Mr. Nelson's influence.

Post Now Vacant

An influential deputy under Mr. Nelson will be the director of the Office of Civilian Requirements, a post now vacant, but to which Dr. William Y. Elliott may be appointed.

Dr. Elliott, now stockpiling and transportation director of the War Production board, is a former chairman of the Harvard university Department of Government and also has taught at Vanderbilt and California universities.

Mr. Nelson's proposal that pre-war producers get first chance to return to civilian production would mean, for instance, that industrialist Henry Kaiser, if he wished to turn his huge war-born plants to automobile production, would have to get in line behind General Motors, Chrysler, Ford and other automobile producers when necessary materials are parcelled out.

"Restrictions on 'new' companies which want to enter an industry for the first time will undoubtedly be needed until the critical components and materials are in easy supply," Mr. Nelson said.

Senator Maloney was prompted to write to Mr. Nelson primarily because of the concern over future of Connecticut industries—watchmakers, etc.—and the war production chief commented:

"There are certainly many fine old established firms in Connecticut which have done a remarkably good job of producing and selling things that the public has wanted, and they certainly deserve every consideration.

"However, as I have said, the public interest is paramount. Maximum employment of workers, which lies at the heart of the public interest in peacetime, must be an essential test of any government policy affecting industrial readjustments, and the most farsighted elements in industry accept that plain fact as a basis for their planning and expectations x x x.

Detailed Study Needed

"As to the board's decision with reference to the manufacture of civilian items in Connecticut, the questions which you ask can only be answered in terms of specific situations, and after detailed analysis. In dealing with problems of program readjustment, as in setting up the original war programs, we seek the advice of our industry committees, which are representative of all classes of manufacturers, big, medium and small, and we accept that advice so long as it accords with the public interest and makes for the fulfillment of our obligation to our fighting men.

"Many of the problems brought out in your letter are now being discussed by our industry committee, and I shall be glad to discuss these important questions with you or your constituents in person at any time convenient to you."

Mr. Nelson listed ball bearings as "our number one production problem" and said manpower was badly needed for the plants in the Connecticut valley.

"Consequently," he told Senator Maloney, "we must try by every means at our disposal, including such cutbacks as may be practicable in other local industries, to solve the problem of more manpower for the ball bearings industry in the Connecticut valley."

Willkie Urges Non-Nationalist U. S. After War

Would End 'Narrow' Policy, Show World Co-operation, Unlock Economic Doors

By The Associated Press

CONCORD, N. H., March 9.—Wendell L. Willkie declared today that the America of the future could be the greatest in history if it effects "abandonment of narrow nationalistic policies" and shows "real and tangible co-operation among the nations."

The 1940 Republican Presidential candidate, in an address before the fortieth annual meeting of the New Hampshire Good Roads Association, said the "initiative and the self-reliance and the character of our individual citizens . . . can find a fruitful field for operation only in the unlocking of America's economic doors."

Mr. Willkie spoke only a few days before the New Hampshire Presidential primaries—the first in the nation—in which supporters of Mr. Willkie and Governor Thomas E. Dewey of New York, will battle for votes of the electorate as delegates to the National Republican Convention.

At a press conference sandwiched between this speech and an appearance at a dinner for the benefit of the Red Cros drive Mr. Willkie said that if "we base our campaign on experience, the President will win before we start."

"Any of the Republican candidates for President, together with all the Republican governors and even some of the Democratic governors, could take over the White House and direct the nation's business successfully," he said.

"If the Republican party wants a leader who by silence wants soft financing, then it doesn't want me. That's why I want every one in New Hampshire to vote next Tuesday."

He told newsmen that he "came to New Hampshire because you are going to have a primary." "I want no subterfuge or anything indirect about that," he added.

As he left for New York tonight he described it as a successful visit, declaring that friends had assured him that he had helped their candidacies for delegate to the Republican convention.

Mr. Willkie pointed out that Robert P. Burroughs, of Manchester, national committeeman and his campaign manager in the state, was among the unpledged candidates. And "I certainly am sure" of Mr. Burroughs's continued support, Mr. Willkie said.

Told that some of his New Hampshire followers were a little upset by his recent speech declaring that new taxes of $16,000,000,000 should be added to the national budget this coming year, rather than $10,000,000,000, as proposed by President Roosevelt, Mr. Willkie replied: "Some one has to tell the truth. It is my way to do so, even though it might cost me votes. Trying to be of service to my country and my fellow citizens means more to me than to do otherwise and become President.

"That has been our trouble for some years now. They have been telling the people too much of what they like to hear, rather than the facts and what we must face in the future."

OPPOSES PIPELINE PLAN

NEW YORK, March 9 — (AP) James A. Moffett, oil man and former Federal housing administrator, today characterized the United States as "Uncle Suckers of America" in the proposed Arabian oil pipeline deal and charged that Petroleum Administrator Harold L. Ickes was wrong in saying there is a shortage of gasoline on the Atlantic seaboard.

"Every move that Secretary Ickes makes," said Moffett, "is another step toward getting the U. S. government into the oil business."

In another attack on Ickes during a press interview, Moffett waved aside Ickes' recent charge that Moffett was a "playboy," and said he was still waiting for an answer to his statement last week that the Arabian plan was "wasteful."

70 SHIP SURVIVORS ARRIVE IN NEW YORK

NEW YORK, March 9—(AP) Seventy survivors of a medium-sized cargo ship destroyed recently by a torpedo off the Atlantic coast arrived here yesterday.

One member of the crew, purser Daniel McClory of Boston, Mass., had been left at a hospital for treatment of injuries he received when caught between a raft and a ladder of the ship.

The survivors said their vessel was attacked during sub-zero weather made worse by a snowstorm and a gale. They said the ship broke in two after the torpedo struck.

Repair Kits for Invasion Units

BOSTON, March 9 (AP).—Army ordnance invasion units accompanying the first Allied assault waves to hit Europe will be equipped with specially designed seventy-pound repair kits containing such small spare parts as welding rods, solder, batteries and gas cylinders, Lieutenant Colonel Whitney Stone, commander of the Boston Ordnance District, announced today. Colonel Stone said that Colonel George D. Rogers, of Buffalo, Mo., who recently returned from North Africa, where he was chief of the Ordnance Department's general supply branch, sent word that the new invasion kits contained spare parts most likely to be in immediate demand during the first few days of the attack.

Somervell's Service Forces

Acclaimed on Anniversary

Fort Belvoir, Va., March 9 (A. P.).—A lot of the winning of the war is done by one branch of the Army—the Army Service Forces—without the shooting of a single gun. These are the duties of this unit as listed by Lieut.-Gen. Brehon B. Somervell, commanding general of the A. S. E., in a speech prepared for delivery today on the anniversary of the unit:

"We feed, clothe, shelter and transport the Army. We construct its roads, bridges, airfields and port facilities. We operate its telegraph, telephone, radio, and electronic devices. We protect troops from poison gas and maintain our own supply in case of need.

"Except certain items peculiar to the Air Forces, we design and procure all arms and ammunition, all tanks and trucks, everything the soldier needs to fight and live. We keep the Army's records, pay its bills, pay each individual soldier and his allotments.

What U. S. Fights For.

"We are responsible for morale of troops. Our Corps of Chaplains offers religious consolation. We administer military justice, handle prisoners of war, maintain law and order, keep traffic moving on the roads to battle. We carry the mail to soldiers around the world. We operate the service commands. We maintain the Army's health; we nurse the sick and wounded; we bury the Army's dead."

What is the nation fighting for? For this, said Gen. Somervell:

"We fight for simple things, for the little things that are all-important. We fight for the right to lock our house doors and be sure that no bully with official sanction will break the lock.

Freedom of the Press.

"We fight for town meetings, for the soapbox in the public square, for the high school debating team, for open doors to cathedral and church and synagogue. We fight for the country editor and for the metropolitan daily and for the editor's right to say the wrong things if he thinks it's right.

"We fight for the right to organize for any decent purpose; for labor; for employers; for the Grange and the legion and the ladies' literary club and for lodge meetings in full regalia on Tuesday nights. We fight for our candidate for sheriff and for the other fellow's candidate; for the right to be sorry we elected him and to say so.

"We fight for free radio, for the right to listen to what we want and to turn off what we don't want. We fight for the high privilege of throwing pop bottles at the umpire."

CHENNAULT OPENS JAP GAME SEASON

New Orleans, March 9 (A. P.).—Conservation Commissioner Joseph McHugh recently sent Major-Gen. Claire Chennault a shiny chrome-plated badge, which certified him as a game warden. The general had said that was the only office in Louisiana that interested him. He has replied as follows:

"In celebration of my appointment as a special conservation agent, I have declared open season on all Japanese, be they in the air, at sea, or on the ground.

"These are local varmints which must be extinguished lest the breed spread.

"Night-hunting rules have accordingly been suspended on this type of varmint and they may be shot sitting, or running, without penalty. I trust the job will be finished soon and that I may come home. To date, I am happy to report we have had good hunting.

"Good hunting to you, also."

The letter was sent from headquarters of the wiry Louisianian who commands the Fourteenth Air Force in China.

Eight Soldiers Accused of Aiding Nazis to Flee from Prison Camp

MAR 10 1944

CAMP HALE, Colo., March 9—(AP) Eight American soldiers were accused by Camp Hale authorities today of being involved in the escape from the camp last month of two German prisoners of war whose unsuccessful flight already has brought military charges similar to treason against another American soldier.

The camp's announcement also disclosed that five members of the WAC detachment at the camp had exchanged notes with German prisoners of war there. While Lt. Col. John A. Chase, commanding officer, said he could not divulge the nature of the notes, three of the WACS have been sentenced to four to six months' confinement, the announcement said.

The two other WACS await trial.

Referring to the "indiscretion of the five in exchanging notes," the announcement said their actions, however, had no connection with the "male soldiers involved in the escape of the German prisoners." The note-writing was discovered while the escapes were being investigated.

The two Germans and Pfc. Dale Maple of San Diego, Calif., were captured in Mexico, and Maple, accused of aiding their escape, is awaiting trial by court martial.

The announcement, which was released through Lt. William W. Garner, public relations officer, said four of the eight men, Pvt. Theophil J. Leonard, Stonewall, Tex.; Pvt. Paul A. Kissman, Erie, Pa.; Pfc. Eric B. Hotelling, Mountain Lakes, N. J., and Pfc. Friedrich W. Siering, Chicago, "were directly implicated in the escape plot in a statement made by Maple following his apprehension in Mexico."

Of the four above named men all except Hotelling, the announcement said, have made admissions substantiating Maple's accusations as to themselves and it added that their admissions involved one or more of the others.

The other four men, whose names were withheld for the present, "were implicated, but less seriously, by Maple and are being held in confinement at Camp Hale pending further investigation into their activities."

One other soldier, Staff Sgt. Guido M. Gundisch, Milwaukee, Wis., is confined on charges of trafficking commercially with German prisoners of war and will be tried before an Army court martial, the announcement said. He is not implicated, it continued, in the escape of the German prisoners of war, Erhard Schwichtenberg and Heinrich Kikilius, whose getaway Maple was accused of aiding.

The three WACS in confinement were named as Pvt. Frances H. Bundorf, Birmingham, Ala.; Pvt. Florence C. Pechon, New Orleans, and Pvt. Mergerete L. Franklin, Oakland, Calif. They pleaded guilty before courts-martial.

Maple, 23, who also formerly lived at Middletown, R. I., and the Germans were captured just across the border from Columbus, N. Mex., Feb. 18, three days after they fled Camp Hale. Maple was taken to the Federal prison at Fort Leavenworth, Kas., to await trial by a court martial.

Army authorities and FBI agents described Maple as a German sympathizer and as a former student at Harvard university. He is charged with violating the 81st article of war, comparable in civil code to treason or desertion. Trial date has not been announced. He was a Camp Hale guard.

GERMAN FIGHTERS, GIVEN A BLOODY GOING-OVER IN THE THREE PREVIOUS ASSAULTS ON BERLIN, OFFERED ONLY NEGLIGIBLE OPPOSITION, FIRST RETURNING PILOTS REPORTED. ANTI-AIRCRAFT FIRE WAS HEAVY BUT HAMPERED BY THICK CLOUD LAYERS OVER THE FIRST CITY OF GERMANY.

BOMBER CREWS SAID THEY FOUND HUGE PILLARS OF BLACK SMOKE SURGING UP THROUGH THE CLOUDS TO 15,000 FEET OVER THE CAPITAL. THE SMOKE STILL WAS VISIBLE 60 MILES AWAY ON THE RETURN TRIP.

GROUP AFTER GROUP LANDING AT WIND-SWEPT ENGLISH BASES AFTER THE RAID REPORTED THEY HAD SEEN ONLY ONE OR TWO FIGHTERS ON THE WHOLE TRIP. THE LARGEST GROUP OF ENEMY INTERCEPTORS SIGHTED CONTAINED 15

30-24 —— 13605

PLANES, BUT THEY STAYED PRUDENTLY FAR AWAY FROM THE MAIN STREAM OF BOMBERS AND SOUGHT ONLY STRAGGLERS.

THE LACK OF FIGHTER PLANE OPPOSITION WAS IN WIDE CONTRAST TO THE RAID YESTERDAY, WHEN U.S.FLIERS SAID "IT SEEMED LIKE THE WHOLE LUFTWAFFE WAS UP."

THE RETURNING BOMBER CREWS WERE JUBILANT AND ANIMATED, ALTHOUGH IT WAS THE SECOND HEAVY RAID ON BERLIN, A 1200-MILE ROUND TRIP HAUL, IN 24 HOURS AND THE EIGHTH AIR FORCE'S NINTH MAJOR BOMBING OPERATION IN ELEVEN DAYS.

SO REGULAR HAVE THE ATTACKS ON BERLIN BECOME THAT SOME CREWMEN ARE NOW REFERRING TO IT AS "A REGULAR STOP ON THE MILK RUN," A TERM USUALLY RESERVED FOR MUCH NEARER AND EASIER TARGETS.

THE BERLIN RADIO REPORTED THE CITY CLOAKED IN A "THICK FOG" AND STRESSED THE GOOD WORK OF FLAK BATTERIES, WHICH IS USUALLY A PROPAGANDA BUILDUP FOR ACKNOWLEDGING THAT FIGHTER AIRCRAFT WEREN'T VERY EFFECTIVE.

MAR 10 1944

"THIS SYSTEM OF ATTACK (THROUGH CLOUDS) IS OBVIOUSLY A NEW METHOD FOR DAYLIGHT ATTACKS ON BERLIN," THE GERMAN RADIO SAID, PERHAPS HINTING THAT AMERICAN BOMBERS DID A PRECISION JOB OF PIN-POINTING SELECTED TARGETS.

THE GERMAN NEWSCASTERS SAID THE BOMBERS WERE OVERHEAD AT NOON AND "INDISCRIMINATELY ATTACKED THE ENTIRE GREATER BERLIN DISTRICT THROUGH CLOUDS."

THE WEEK-LONG, DAYLIGHT BATTLE OF BERLIN BEGAN LAST FRIDAY WHEN LIGHTNING FIGHTER PLANES MADE AN OFFENSIVE SWEEP OVER THE CAPITAL, "BIRD-DOGGING" FOR THE BIG BOMBERS WHICH FOLLOWED SATURDAY.

TEN BOMBERS AND SIX FIGHTERS WERE LOST FRIDAY IN ALL OPERATIONS OVER GERMANY, AND AT LEAST EIGHT ENEMY AIRCRAFT WERE DESTROYED.

SATURDAY'S U.S. LOSSES IN THE BERLIN RAID WERE 14 BOMBERS AND 23 FIGHTERS, WITH AT LEAST 15 ENEMY PLANES DOWNED.

THE AMERICAN DAYLIGHT BOMBERS WENT BACK TO BERLIN MONDAY WITH A MASSED FORCE OF 850 OR MORE BOMBERS. THEY LOST A RECORD 68 BIG PLANES, PLUS 11 FIGHTERS, BUT BAGGED AT LEAST 176 GERMAN FIGHTER CRAFT.

WEDNESDAY'S ASSAULT LOOSED 10,000 HIGH EXPLOSIVE AND 350,000 INCENDIARY BOMBS ON THE REELING REICH CAPITAL. AMERICAN LOSSES WERE 38 BOMBERS AND 15 FIGHTERS; THE NAZIS LOST AT LEAST 125 FIGHTERS.

RECAPITULATION SHOWS THAT THE EIGHTH AIR FORCE HAS LOST 130 BOMBERS AND 55 FIGHTERS IN THE FIRST FOUR ASSAULTS, WHILE THE GERMANS HAD TO SCRATCH OFF NO LESS THAN 324 OF THEIR DWINDLING SUPPLY OF INTERCEPTOR AIRCRAFT.

BERLIN RAIDS INTERPRETIVE

BY GLADWIN HILL

LONDON, MARCH 9-(AP)-THE AMERICAN DAYLIGHT RAIDS ON BERLIN ARE DEALING A DOUBLE BLOW TO THE GERMANS--DESTROYING REMAINING IMPORTANT WAR FACILITIES IN THE SHATTERED CAPITAL AND BITING BIGGER AND BIGGER PIECES OUT OF GERMANY'S SHRINKING AIR FORCE.

THE BOMBARDMENT STILL IS THE PRIMARY AIM WITH THE SHOOTING DOWN OF GERMAN FIGHTERS SECONDARY, ALTHOUGH AS GERMAN FACTORIES ARE KNOCKED OUT AND THE ALLIED INVASION APPROACHES INROADS ON HITLER'S AIR FORCE BECOME INCREASINGLY IMPORTANT.

THE INVASION OF EUROPE, LIKE ALL OTHER MILITARY OPERATIONS PLANNED WITH A MAXIMUM CERTAINTY OF SUCCESS, REQUIRES AIR SUPERIORITY. THE EIGHTH AIR FORCE'S UNOFFICIAL SLOGAN IS "YOU'VE GOT TO KNOCK DOWN THE WALL TO GET THE APPLE," MEANING, KNOCK DOWN THE GERMAN AIRFORCE TO GET AT THE PRIZE OBJECTIVES IT CURTAINS.

SHOOTING DOWN THE ENEMY'S AIRFORCE AS WELL AS BLASTING ITS SPAWNING GROUNDS WAS THE NEW NOTION DEVELOPED BY THE AMERICAN AIRFORCES AS A PART OF THEIR THEORY OF DAYLIGHT BOMBING.

MAR 10 1944

THE RAF'S MAJOR NIGHT BOMBING CAMPAIGN IS BASED ON THE IDEA OF DODGING THE ENEMY BY USING DARKNESS AND SPEED FOR PROTECTION AND CARRYIN LITTLE ENCUMBERING ARMAMENT BEYOND .303 MACHINE-GUNS--WHICH ARE ONLY A LITTLE LARGER THAN .22 RIFLES AND PACK ONLY ABOUT ONE TWENTIETH THE POWER OF THE .50 MACHINE-GUNS WHICH LIBERATOR AND FLYING FORTRESS GUNNER HAVE BEEN FIRING AT THE GERMANS. THE AMERICAN GUNS SHOOT HALF-INCH SLUGS WHICH MAKE A HALF-INCH HOLE WHERE THEY ENTER A PLANE AND A FOUR-INCH OR GREATER HOLE WHERE THEY COME OUT.

THE AMERICANS' DUAL BOMBING-SHOOTING PROGRAM ALREADY HAS PAID OFF.

THE FIRST OBJECTIVE OF THE SECONDARY SHOOTING CAMPAIGN WAS--AS FAR BACK AS A YEAR AGO WHEN RAIDING FORCES OFTEN NUMBERED ONLY 60 TO 70 HEAVY BOMBERS--TO MOW DOWN ENOUGH GERMANS TO LESSEN THE RESISTANCE TO SUBSEQUENT RAIDS.

THIS OBJECTIVE MANIFESTLY HAS BEEN VIRTUALLY ACHIEVED FOR HUGE BOMBER FORCES NOW CAN GO TO BERLIN DAY AFTER DAY WITHOUT PROHIBITIVE LOSSES. ITS RESULTS ARE REFLECTED ALSO IN THE RAF'S ECONOMICAL BIG NIGHT ATTACKS, FOR WHICH THE AMERICAN AIRFORCES HAVE BEEN GIVEN OFFICIAL CREDIT.

NOW THE SHOOTING OBJECTIVE IS TO MOW DOWN SO MANY GERMAN PLANES THAT, TOGETHER WITH THE AIRPLANE FACTORY DESTRUCTION, GERMANY'S INVASION AREA AIR DEFENSES WILL BE WEAK OR NON-EXISTENT.

THE TOLL OF GERMAN PLANES IS ALREADY EVIDENT IN GERMANY'S ADOPTION OF THE POLICY OF CONSERVING HER FORCES TO OPPOSE MAJOR ATTACKS AND LETTING LIGHTER FORMATIONS OF MEDIUM BOMBERS AND FIGHTERS ATTACK FRANCE AND HOLLAND OFTEN UNOPPOSED.

MAR 10 1944

THE RELATIVE IMPORTANCE OF THE BOMBARDMENT AND SHOOTING CAMPAIGN DEPENDS LARGELY ON THE INVASION DATE. OBVIOUSLY AS D-DAY APPROACHES THE EXTERMINATION OF GERMANY'S AIR FORCES TO ACHIEVE A DECISIVE BEACHHEAD SUPERIORITY RISES IN IMPORTANCE AS COMPARED WITH THE OBJECTIVE OF FACTORY BOMBING, DIVIDENDS FROM WHICH DO NOT ACRUE FOR MONTHS.

LONDON, FRIDAY, MARCH 10-(AP)-THE DEVASTATING SUCCESS OF AMERICAN DAY RAIDS ON BERLIN HAS PRECIPITATED A CRISIS AMONG TOP RANKING MEN OF THE GERMAN AIR FORCE WITH A SWEEPING REORGANIZATION NOW IN PROGRESS, THE LONDON DAILY MAIL SAID TODAY IN A STOCKHOLM DISPATCH QUOTING NEUTRAL SOURCES.

UNDER THE CHANGES DIRECTED BY HITLER, THE DISPATCH SAID, REICHSMARSHAL HERMANN GOERING WILL TAKE A BACK SEAT AND YOUNGER MEN WITH MORE SPECIALIZED KNOWLEDGE OF FIGHTER DEFENSE WILL GET POWER.

THE DISPATCH DESCRIBED GOERING AS "UTTERLY BEWILDERED BY THE STRENGTH OF THE ALLIED AERIAL BLOWS" AND SAID THAT "HE STANDS OUTSIDE HIS VILLA IN THE BERLIN SUBURBS GAZING VACANTLY AT THE SKY."

london, friday, march 10--(ap)--allied dominati n of the air over germany has brought the "serious suggestion," the london daily mail said today that american bombers winging into the reich send a direct radio warning to german civilians to flee. the newspaper did not say who made the suggestion, nor was mention made of the RAF's night bombers. daylight raiders the newspaper said that could now afford to send a warning such as this to berliners:

MAR 10 1944

"this is the united states strategic bomber force calling on the people of berlin. at 12:30.5 today approximately 10,000 high explosive bombs will be rained on military objectives in your midst. clear out."

the newspaper declared that in the last hour of 600-mile flight to the nazi capitel there was virtually no fresh move the enemy could make to combat the raiders so the warning would cost the attackers nothing.

(however, such a warning would doubly alert the german anti-aircraft gun crews and the german fighter planes could take their stations knowing definitely that they were going up to protect a point designated as the target for the day's operations. this would appear to depr the attacking force of the advantage of any element of surprise.)
american whether the warning plan is introduced, the daily mail said.

depends "probably on the moral advantages to be gained."

LONDON, MARCH 9 (AP)--IT WAS AN ILL WIND--AND NINE NAZI FIGHTER PILOTS--THAT SENT LT. NICK MEGURA STREAKING FOR RUSSIA AT 400 MILES AN HOUR, BUT HE MADE THE MOST OF IT.

MAR 10 1944

COMING OUT OF A DIVE WEDNESDAY OVER A BERLIN AIRFIELD WHERE HE SHOT DOWN AN ME-109 FIGHTER, THE ANSONI, CONN. MUSTANG FIGHTER PILOT FOUND HIMSELF HEMMED IN ONE THREE SIDES BY NAZIS.

"SO I HEADED FOR RUSSIA AT SIX MILES A MINUTE," HE SAID.

TEARING OVER THE TREETOPS, HE WAS ELUDING THE NAZIS WHEN A TRAIN LOOMED AHEAD. HE OPENED UP WITH HIS GUNS AND BLEW THE LOCOMOTIVE

TO PIECES.

"I HAD TO PULLED THE STICK RIGHT BACK INTO MY BELLY TO GET OVER IT," HE SIGHED.

LT. MEGURA THEN SWUNG AROUND FOR HOME, BUT FURTHER JUSTIFIED HIS ENFORCED DETOUR BY SHOOTING OUT THE PORT MOTOR OF A PASSING JU-88.

A U.S. BOMBER BASE IN BRITAIN, MARCH 9-(AP)-SGT.LEO H.KOEBELEN, JR., YANKED THE NOSE-TURRET DOOR OFF THE LIBERATOR "PATSY ANN" TODAY.

IT WOULD NOT BE MUCH OF A STORY EXCEPT THAT THE LONE WOLF, OKLA., ENGINEER DID IT AT 165 MILES AN HOUR, TWO MILES HIGH, HANGING BY HIS FEET AND WITH NO PARACHUTE.

"THE PATSY ANN" WAS ON ITS WAY TO BERLIN WHEN THE DOOR CAME LOOSE AND STARTED FLAPPING AGAINST THE FUSELAGE THREATENING TO FLY OFF INTO AN ENGINE OR WING.

"THE NAVIGATOR HAD A GOOD GRIP ON MY LEGS," SAID KOEBELEN, MODESTLY ACKNOWLEDGING THE BACK-SLAPPING OF HIS MATES.

LT.STANLEY M.LIPMAN OF 15 WEST 81ST STREET, NEW YORK CITY, WAS THE NAVIGATOR WITH THE GOOD GRIP.

LONDON, MARCH 9-(AP)-THE EUROPEAN RAILWAY SYSTEM HAS DEFINITELY SLOWED DOWN, BUT THERE IS NO EVIDENCE OF A GENERAL BREAKDOWN AND THE GERMANS HAVE MADE EXTENSIVE PREPARATIONS TO DEAL WITH ACUTE TRANSPORTATION PROBLEMS WHEN INVASION BEGINS, A MINISTRY OF ECONOMIC WARFARE OFFICIAL SAID TODAY.

TO MEET THE ATTACK, A LARGE NUMBER OF MILITARY TRAINS HAS BEEN PREPARED. AIR RAID PRECAUTION MEASURES HAVE BEEN TAKEN AND WORK TRAINS HAVE BEEN MADE READY TO DEAL WITH DAMAGE.

THE OFFICIAL SAID THE SLOWING DOWN WAS PARTICULARLY NOTICEABLE IN FRANCE WHERE PATRIOTS "HAVE PLAYED UP REMARKABLY WELL" IN SABOTAGE.

"THE SLOWING DOWN WAS NOTICEABLE IN THE AUTUMN OF 1943 AND THERE IS A REASONABLY SPORTING CHANCE NOW OF SEEING IT ACCELERATED CONSIDERABLY." THE OFFICIAL SAID.

"IN THE SUMMER AND EARLY AUTUMN OF 1943, THE RETREAT FROM RUSSIA BROUGHT THE GERMANS SOME RELIEF AND THIS WAS FURTHER ASSISTED BY A SPECIAL PROGRAM OF CONSTRUCTION BY WHICH SEVERAL THOUSANDS OF LOCOMOTIVES AND MANY THOUSANDS OF CARS WERE PRODUCED IN TWO YEARS."

THE OFFICIAL SAID DIRECT DAMAGE FROM AIR ATTACKS WAS NOT SO IMPORTANT AS THE GENERAL DISORGANIZATION OF THE WHOLE GERMAN SYSTEM.

"IN BERLIN IMMEDIATELY AFTER A RAID, RAILWAY OPERATIONS ARE COMPLETELY DISORGANIZED, OFTEN BECAUSE OF NON-RAILWAY DIFFICULTIES," HE SAID.

HE DECLARED THERE WAS A POSSIBILITY THAT THE RAILWAYS OF FRANCE, BELGIUM AND HOLLAND MIGHT BE "BROUGHT TO A STATE OF IMPOTENCY" BUT ADDED:

"IT WOULD BE SUICIDE FOR THIS COUNTRY TO RELY ON THE GERMAN RAILWAY SYSTEM BREAKING DOWN."

LONDON, MARCH 9-(AP)-POST-WAR PROBLEMS FACING THE UNITED STATES AND GREAT BRITAIN, INCLUDING THE QUESTION OF AMERICAN DOMINATION OF THE PACIFIC AS A GUARANTEE AGAINST FUTURE JAPANESE AGGRESSION, WERE REGARDED TODAY AS POSSIBLE SUBJECTS FOR DISCUSSION AT BRITISH-AMERICAN TALKS SCHEDULED TO START LATE THIS MONTH.

EDWARD R.STETTINIUS, U.S. UNDER-SECRETARY OF STATE AND ~~JOSEPH C.~~ ~~GREW, FORMER AMERICAN AMBASSADOR TO JAPAN,~~ ARE EXPECTED TO PRESENT WASHINGTON'S ATTITUDE ON THE PACIFIC WHEN THEY ARRIVE HERE WITHIN THE NEXT FORTNIGHT. THIS QUESTION IS REGARDED AS ONE OF THE MOST IMPORTANT OF THE MANY FACING THE TWO COUNTRIES IN THE POST-WAR WORLD, AND IT IS BELIEVED LIKELY THAT ISLAND BASES NOW IN THE POSSESSION OF JAPAN WILL BE ~~FAR-WORKED~~ jar-marked FOR THE UNITED STATES FOR USE IN ITS PACIFIC PROGRAM.

WELL-INFORMED BRITONS ASSERTED TODAY THERE WOULD BE NO LIMITATION ON THE SCOPE OF THE COMING DISCUSSIONS AND THAT THEY WILL PROBABLY INCLUDE POST-WAR BORDERS OF EUROPEAN COUNTRIES.

OTHER QUESTIONS WHICH MAY BE DISCUSSED INCLUDE:

1. THE FUTURE GOVERNMENT OF ITALY.

2. TREATMENT OF SATELLITE COUNTRIES WHEN AND IF THEY PART FROM THE AXIS.

MAR 10 1944

3. STATUS OF THE FRENCH COMMITTEE FOR NATIONAL LIBERATION AFTER THE WAR.

4. AN ATTEMPT TV UNITE YUGOSLAV FACTIONS HEADED BY KING PETER AND MARSHAL JOSIP BROZ (TITO).

LONDON, MARCH 9-(AP)-GERMANY, FIGHTING TO SAVE FACE AMONG EUROPE'S SMALL NATIONS AND TO PREVENT LOSS OF VITAL MINERAL SUPPLIES, WAS REPORTED HERE TODAY TO BE BRINGING HEAVY PRESSURE, INCLUDING THREATS, TO MAKE FINLAND REJECT RUSSIA'S TERMS FOR PEACE.

BRITISH INFORMANTS REMAINED HOPEFUL, HOWEVER, THAT FINLAND WILL PULL OUT OF THE WAR, BUT THESE HOPES WERE QUALIFIED BY EXPRESSIONS OF FEAR THAT A PROLONGED DELAY ON FINLAND'S PART IN AN EFFORT TO WIN A COMPROMISE WOULD MEET WITH A FLAT REFUSAL FROM RUSSIA.

THE GERMANS ARE NOT EXPECTED TO WITHDRAW THEIR ESTIMATED SEVEN

DIVISIONS FROM FINLAND WITHOUT A FIGHT. THEY FEAR THE IMPACT OF WITHDRAWAL ON THE WAR-WEARY BALKANS WOULD END WHATEVER USEFULNESS THE SATELLITE NATIONS HAVE FOR THE AXIS CAUSE.

MW633PEW

LONDON, MARCH 9-(AP)-SOVIET DEMANDS THAT FINLAND WITHDRAW HER TROOPS TO THE 1940 RUSSIAN FINNISH BORDER AND INTERN ALL GERMAN TROOPS NOW IN FINLAND APPEARED TODAY TO BE THE CHIEF STUMBLING BLOCK BARRING THE PATH TO PEACE BETWEEN THE TWO NATIONS.

BRITISH PRESS DISPATCHES FROM STOCKHOLM LAST NIGHT SAID THE FINNS HAD ADVISED MOSCOW THAT THEY WERE READY TO ACCEPT MOST OF THE CONDITIONS IMPOSED BY THE RUSSIANS AS A PREREQUISITE TO FURTHER PEACE NEGOTIATIONS BUT THAT THEY COULD NOT ACCEDE TO THESE TWO DEMANDS.

MAR 10 1944

THE FINNISH NOTE, HOWEVER, WAS DESCRIBED AS CONCILIATORY AND APPARENTLY LEFT THE DOOR OPEN FOR FURTHER EXCHANGES.

THE FINNS WERE SAID TO HAVE TAKEN THE STAND THAT COMPLIANCE WITH THE DEMANDS TO WHICH THEY TOOK EXCEPTION PROBABLY WOULD RESULT IN A REVOLT OF FINNISH PRO-GERMAN ELEMENTS AND ACTION BY GERMAN TROOPS THEMSELVES LEADING TO HOSTILITIES WITHIN FINLAND BETWEEN THE FINNS AND GERMANS.

ON THE OTHER HAND, IT WAS SAID, THE FINNS EXPLAINED THAT IF NEGOTIATIONS WERE PRESSED TO A SATISFACTORY CONCLUSION AND A PEACE TREATY WERE SIGNED, IT WOULD BE POSSIBLE TO EASE THE GERMAN TROOPS OUT OF FINLAND AND WITHDRAW FINNISH FORCES TO THE OLD BORDER WITHOUT INCIDENT. IT IS ESTIMATED THERE ARE ABOUT SEVEN GERMAN DIVISIONS IN FINLAND.

(A BERLIN BROADCAST RECORDED LAST NIGHT BY CBS QUOTED A GERMAN COMMENTATOR AS SAYING THAT ONLY MILITARY FORCE COULD DISLODGE THE NAZI FORCES FROM FINLAND. HE RECALLED WHAT THE GERMANS HAD DONE IN ITALY AND ADDED: "INDEPENDENT OF ANYTHING THE FINNISH GOVERNMENT DOES THE GERMAN TROOPS ARE IN FINLAND TO DEFEND FINNISH TERRITORIAL INTEGRITY.").

MAR 10 1944

THE DAILY MAIL QUOTED STOCKHOLM ADVICES AS SAYING THAT THE FINNISH NOTE TO MOSCOW HAD DISCLOSED THAT RUSSIA HAD ASKED FINLAND TO PROVIDE WORKERS FOR REBUILDING LENINGRAD AFTER THE WAR.

THE FINNS AGREED TO THIS AND TO RUSSIAN DEMANDS THAT THEY CEDE TO THE SOVIET UNION THE ARCTIC PORT OF PETSAMO AND THEIR NORTHERN NICKEL MINES, THE DAILY MAIL SAID.

THE FINNS ALSO WERE SAID TO HAVE EXPRESSED THEIR READINESS TO RELEASE ALL RUSSIAN WAR PRISONERS.

SWEDISH ADVICES SAID THE FINNISH REPLY HAD BEEN DELIVERED TO MOSCOW VIA STOCKHOLM TUESDAY AFTER BEING PREPARED FROM DELIVERY LAST FRIDAY AND THEN HELD UP, PRESUMABLY FOR REVISION.

RUSSIA, HOWEVER, REMAINED SILENT ON THE SITUATION AND AN ASSOCIATED PRESS DISPATCH FROM MOSCOW EARLY TODAY SAID NO FURTHER INFORMATION HAD APPEARED THERE CONCERNING THE ARMISTICE NEGOTIATIONS.

THE DISPATCH INDICATED THE RUSSIANS REGARDED THEIR PROPOSALS AS GENEROUS, THAT THEY WERE LOSING PATIENCE OVER FINLAND'S FAILURE TO ACCEPT THEM AND THAT THE SITUATION COULD BE EXPECTED TO COME TO A HEAD SHORTLY.

MOSCOW, MARCH 9-(AP)-ADOLF HITLER WILL NOT FALL FROM BOMBING ALONE, BUT BY THE "ACTIVE OPERATIONS OF A LAND ARMY OF MANY MILLIONS IN COOPERATION WITH AIR AND SEA FORCES," LT. GEN. BORIS STERLIGOV DECLARED IN RED STAR TODAY IN COMMENTING ON THE BRITISH-AMERICAN AIR OFFENSIVE AGAINST THE REICH.

STERLIGOV SAID THAT IN THE BEGINNING THE ATTACKS ON HITLER'S HOMELAND MIGHT HAVE BEEN INTERPRETED AS REVENGE RAIDS FOR THE ATTACKS ON LONDON, BUT IT WAS NOW CLEAR THEY HAVE OTHER PURPOSES.

"FOREIGN MILITARY SPECIALISTS SAY THESE OPERATIONS ARE STRATEGIC BOMBING--DESIGNED TO WEAKEN THE WAR EFFORT, DISRUPT TRANSPORT AND BREAK DOWN MORALE. THE ROLE OF THE BOMBER IS EXTREMELY GREAT BUT IT DOESN'T MEAN IT CAN SOLVE ANY STRATEGIC PROBLEMS," HE DECLARED.

"SOME FOREIGN OBSERVERS SEEK TO PROVE THAT BY AIR RAIDS IT IS POSSIBLE COMPLETELY TO DEMORALIZE HITLERITE GERMANY, DEPRIVE IT OF THE CAPACITY TO RESIST AND EVENTUALLY FORCE IT TO CAPITULATE. THERE IS NO NECESSITY TO DISPROVE THIS THEORY BECAUSE THE BATTLES OF THE SECOND WORLD WAR HAVE SUFFICIENTLY PROVED THE INFALLIBILITY OF THE PRINCIPLE THAT THE ISSUES OF THE WAR CAN BE DECIDED ONLY BY THE ACTIVE OPERATIONS OF A LAND ARMY OF MANY MILLIONS IN COOPERATION WITH AIR AND SEA FORCES."

HE ADDED THAT THIS DID NOT REDUCE THE SIGNIFICANCE OF STRATEGIC AERIAL PREPARATION FOR A LAND INVASION.

MAR 10 1944

GIVING RUSSIANS THE BEST PICTURE YET OF THE AIR ACTIVITIES OF THE UNITED STATES AND BRITAIN, STERLIGOV GAVE SPECIAL ATTENTION TO THE WAY AMERICAN AVIATORS DAILY FLY DOZENS OF PLANES ACROSS THE ATLANTIC, AND DECLARED THE RAIDS WERE HAVING A TREMENDOUS EFFECT ON THE INDUSTRIAL LIFE OF GERMANY AND SAID THE ALLIES HAVE EXCELLENT PHOTOGRAPHIC SERVICE TO PROVE THEIR RESULTS.

THE TELEGRAPH BUREAU QUOTED A DISPATCH FROM REVAL, THE ESTONIAN CAPITAL, AS ITS AUTHORITY. THE DISPATCH COINCIDED WITH REPORTS FROM BERLIN THAT THE GERMANS WERE UNEASY ABOUT THE PROSPECT OF RUSSIAN AIR RAIDS ON GERMANY PROPER, IN CONJUNCTION WITH ALLIED ASSAULTS FROM THE WEST. THOUGHTFULLY HE TOLD OF LAST NIGHT'S PATROL.

"I HAD A PATROL OF 12 MEN AND BY 8 O'CLOCK IT WAS DARK SO WE CRAWLED OUT OF OUR HOLES AND JUST KEPT CRAWLING BECAUSE NOBODY STANDS UP HERE AND LIVES.

"THERE WASN'T A STICK OF WOOD AS BIG AS YOUR ARM TO HIDE BEHIND, SO WE CRAWLED ON THROUGH MUD THAT WOULD HAVE BEEN KNEE DEEP IF WE HAD

TRIED TO STAND IN IT. WE WANTED TO GO 600 YARDS WHICH WOULD TAKE US WITHIN 100 YARDS OF THE GERMAN LINES, AND IT TOOK US BETWEEN THREE AND FOUR HOURS TO CRAWL THAT FAR, JUST WORMING OUR WAY ALONG, NOT MAKING ANY NOISE, NOT TALKING, JUST PAUSING TO GET BREATH EVERY NOW AND THEN.

"WHEN WE GOT THERE WE SPREAD OUT IN SKIRMISH FASHION IN AN OLD SLOUGH AND JUST LAY THERE LETTING THE MUD SOAK IN FOR AT LEAST TWO HOURS. THEN WE HEARD A JERRY PATROL WORKING TOWARD OUR LEFT FLANK. YOU CAN ALWAYS HEAR JERRY PATROLS. THEY TALK TOO MUCH.

"ONE JERRY WAS CALLING TO HIS BUDDY UNTIL THEY GOT ABOUT 50 YARDS FROM US. SO WE STARTED FIRING. THEY HIT THE GROUND AND BEGAN FIRING MACHINE PISTOLS AT US AND RETREATING. WE SAW A COUPLE BEING CARRIED AWAY. WE GOT BACK JUST IN TIME TO ESCAPE OUR OWN ARTILLERY FIRE."

OTHER PATROLS WERE MORE FORTUNATE AND BROUGHT IN PRISONERS. FROM THEIR CONDUCT 1ST LT. FELIX STOLENSKU, HILLSIDE, N.J., IS CONVINCED THE GERMANS HAVEN'T THE SLIGHTEST INTENTION OF SURRENDERING.

"I DON'T THINK THEY GIVE IT A THOUGHT," HE SAID. "THEY TAKE DESPERATE CHANCES TO ESCAPE. ONE OF OUR PRISONERS EVEN TRIED TO BREAK AWAY THROUGH A MINEFIELD WITH THE ODDS 100 TO ONE AGAINST HIM. HE LOST. I'VE SEEN PRISONERS RUN INTO THEIR OWN ARTILLERY FIRE TRYING TO ESCAPE."

SGT. ANDREA TERSIGNI, 13515 ARLINGTON ST., DETROIT, MICHM TOLD OF TAKING A PATROL UP A GULLY THAT WAS SEPARATED FROM ANOTHER GULLY BY ONLY A THIN WALL OF MUD AND OF PASSING A GERMAN PATROL ON THE OTHER SIDE, EACH UNAWARE OF THE OTHER'S PRESENCE UNTIL IT WAS SEPARATED FROM ITS OWN LINES BY THE ENEMY PARTY.

"WE HAD JUST REACHED A BEND IN THE CREEK BED WHEN I HAD TO SIGNAL MY COMPANY TO GET READY FOR THEM," HE SAID. "IN A FEW MINUTES THE GERMANS GOT WITHIN RANGE AND THEY GOT A DOSE OF MACHINEGUN FIRE.

"THEY SCREAMED. ONE OF THEM ACTUALLY SCREAMED LIKE A WOMAN, AND THEN THEY BROKE AND RAN UP THE CREEK BED. WHEN THEY PASSED US WE CAME DOWN ON THEM WITH TOMMYGUNS. IN AN ACTION OF THIS KIND YOU DON'T HAVE A CHANCE TO TAKE PRISONERS. JUST AROUND THE BEND WAS A HOUSE WITH A MACHINEGUN ON THE PORCH AND HALF A DOZEN JERRIES RUNNING AROUND THE YARD. THEY TURNED THE GUN IN THE DARKNESS AND BEGAN FIRING WILDLY, BUT NONE OF OUR MEN WAS HIT. WE FADED BACK AND SIGNALLED ARTILLERY

SGT.NEILY LEAVERTON, GRAYVILLE, ILL., RELATED HOW HIS GUN JAMMED JUST AS AN ENEMY PATROL BROKE INTO THE OPEN.

BUT THE JAMMED GUN MAY HAVE SAVED HIS LIFE, FOR THE ENEMY PATROL PROVED TO BE THE ADVANCE ELEMENT OF A COMPANY AND IF HE HAD REMAINED TO FIGHT HE PROBABLY WOULD HAVE BEEN KILLED.

"THERE WERE JUST THREE OF US," LEAVERTON SAID SOFTLY. "WE WENT OUT FRONT TO SET UP A LISTENING POST AND SEE IF WE COULD PICK UP INFORMATION. AFTER ABOUT TWO HOURS WE HEARD JERRIES COMING TOWARD US AND PRESENTLY THREE OF THEM BROKE INTO THE OPEN. THAT MADE IT EVEN STEPHEN. THREE OF THEM AND THREE OF US. WE STARTED TO CUT THEM DOWN, BUT EVERY TIME ONE OF OUR RIFLES JAMMED. THE JERRIES BUCKED AND BEGAN TO THROW GRENADES. WE SAT THERE TRYING TO UNJAM THE RIFLES, BUT THE GRENADES BEGAN TO COME IN CLOSE AND WE HAD TO PULL OUT. IT WAS A LUCKY THING FOR US THE GUNS JAMMED FOR THOSE JERRIES WERE JUST THE ADVANCE POINT OF A COMPANY ATTACK ON OUR LEFT FLANK AND THE BRITISH RIGHT FLANK. THE ATTACK WAS BEATEN BACK BUT IT MIGHT HAVE BEEN A CLOSE THING FOR US IF WE HAD GOTTEN IN THE FIRST SHOT. THEY SIMPLY WOULD HAVE ROLLED OVER US."

(ADVANCE)..ANZIO BEACHHEAD, FEB 29-(DELAYED)-(AP)-UNLOADING SUPPLIES ONTO THE BEACHHEAD IS A BIG AND TOUGH JOB AND IT FALLS LARGELY ON THE HUSKY SHOULDERS OF MEMBERS OF AN ENGINEERS UNIT COMPOSED OF NEGROES WHICH HAS BEEN HERE SINCE "D" DAY.

THEY DO MANUAL LABOR AND THEY WORK 24 HOURS A DAY COME RAIN, COME BOMBS, COME SHELLS. THEY HAVE BEEN UNDER MORE FIRE THAN ANY OTHER NEGRO UNIT IN THE FIFTH ARMY.

THEY DO OTHER WORK BESIDES UNLOADING SHIPS. THEY HELPED CLEAR THE LANDING FIELD AND HAVE BUILT MILITARY ROADS.

ONE OF THEM, KARL H.GIBSON, A POLICEMAN FROM NEWARK, N.J., DIRECTED THE REMOVAL OF 24 WOUNDED SOLDIERS FROM A MINEFIELD IN THE EARLY HOURS OF "D" DAY. PVT.HERBERT RICE, OF BALTIMORE, TOOK A WOUNDED SOLDIER TO A HOSPITAL UNDER FIRE HOLDING HIS HAND OVER THE WOUND TO STOP THE FLOW OF BLOOD.

TWO OF THE OFFICERS ARE NEGROES, THE OTHERS WHITE. THE NEGRO OFFICERS ARE THE CHAPLAIN AND A DOCTOR, LIEUT.ROBERT H.C.LEE AND CHARLES ~~BIGGS~~ GIBBS, BOTH OF CHICAGO.

MAR 10 1944

CHAPLAIN LEE, WHO WAS PASTOR OF THE GREATER WALTERS AME ZION CHURCH 38 OF DEARBORN, SAID: "I WOULD LIKE THE FOLKS BACK HOME TO KNOW THAT THE MEN HAVE HAD A SQUARE DEAL FROM THE OFFICERS IN EVERY WAY. THIS IS THE FIRST TIME THESE MEN HAVE BEEN UNDER FIRE AND THEY ARE DOING MARVELOUSLY. THIS IS JUST ONE BIG HAPPY WORKING FAMILY."

DOCTOR GIBBS GOT HIS DEGREE IN MEDICINE AT THE UNIVERSITY OF PARIS AND LIVED MANY YEARS IN EUROPE. HIS HOME ADDRESS IS 618 EAST 50TH PLACE, CHICAGO.

CHAPLAIN LEE HAS AN ASSISTANT, T-5 HOWARD T.DODSON WHO USED TO BE ORGANIST AT THE ABBYSINNIAN BAPTIST CHURCH IN MANHATTAN AND WHO NOW PLAYS A SMALL FIELD ORGAN AT SERVICES HERE. HE ALSO HAS A PINCH-HITTER, PVT. JOSEPH C.CURRIE, WHO WAS A TEACHER IN DEKALB, MISS., AND WHO CONDUCTS PRAYER MEETINGS HERE.

COMMANDING THIS UNIT IS MAJOR JOHN T.ORTINO OF 43-22 45TH ST., SUNNYSIDE, QUEENS, NEW YORK, WHO SAID "WE MADE A RECORD WHEN WE UNLOADED 41 TONS OF SUPPLIES IN 40 MINUTES."

MAR 10 1944

THE MEDICAL OFFICER, CAPT.BENJAMIN BENDER OF 40 WOODRUFF AVENUE, BROOKLYN, DESCRIBING THE WORK OF T-5 GIBSON, SAID "DURING THE EARLY HOURS OF "D" DAY HE WAS HELPING ON THE SHORE WHEN A CALL CAME TO GET SOME WOUNDED MEN FROM A MINEFIELD. HE VOLUNTEERED TO LEAD A GROUP INTO THE FIELD TO CARRY THE WOUNDED OUT. RATHER THAN RISK TIME BY TAKING A MARKED BUT TORTUROUS PATH OUT OF THE MINEFIELD, HE BLAZED HIS OWN PATH FOR THE MEN CARRYING THE WOUNDED. THERE WAS AN AIR ATTACK AT THE TIME, BUT THEY BROUGHT THEM ALL OUT."

LOOKING AFTER THE TEETH OF THIS UNIT IS CAPT. WILLIAM BARKAS OF 423 PENNSYLVANIA AVE., BROOKLYN, N.Y. CAPT. W.R.B.FROEHLICH SAID SINCE HIS ARRIVAL HERE HE HAS MET ANOTHER CAPT.FROEHLICH--A GERMAN WARPRISONER. CAPT.FROEHLICH COMES FROM JEANNETTE, PA.

CAPT.ANDREW HARVIN OF 4909 INDIANAPOLIS BLVD., EAST CHICAGO, IND., IS SPORTING A FINE BLACK BEARD. IT IS A RESULT OF A WAGER AND HE SAID HE WILL HAVE IT SHAVED OFF ONLY BY A BARBER IN ROME.

OTHER OFFICERS INCLUDE FIRST LIEUT. WILLIAM PUTNAM SAUNDERS, JR., OF CHEVY CHASE, MD., CAPT.LAWRENCE KRAMP, SPRINGFIELD, ILL.; CAPT.FREDERICK CARL MEYER, FRAMINGHAM, MASS.; FIRST LIEUT.MARK B. WILSON OF LAUREL, MD., AND CAPT.A.R.HOOKS, JR., OF 563 SEMINOLE AVENUE, (ADVANCE) WITH THE ALLIED BEACHHEAD FORCES AT ANZIO, MARCH 4 (DELAYED)--GEN.SIR HAROLD ALEXANDER, ALLIED COMMANDER IN ITALY, TOLD WAR CORRESPONDENTS TODAY AFTER A TOUR OF INSPECTION THAT "THINGS ARE VERY MUCH BETTER ON THE BEACHHEAD THAN WHEN I WAS HERE LAST THREE WEEKS AGO.

"THEN I SAID I WAS CONFIDENT WE WOULD PULL OFF THIS NEW LANDING BEHIND THE ENEMY'S MAIN FRONT," HE CONTINUED. "SOMEBODY IMPLIED THAT I WAS AN UNWISE MAN TO SAY THAT, BUT I WAS ABSOLUTELY CONFIDENT.

"I WAS CONFIDENT FIRST, BECAUSE WE HAVE MAGNIFICENT MEN, AMERICAN AND BRITISH; SECONDLY, BECAUSE WE HAVE MAGNIFICENT EQUIPMENT, AND THIRD, BECAUSE WE HAVE GOOD LEADERS.

"WHAT IS GOING TO WIN IS TOUGHNESS, DETERMINATION, GUTS AND CONFIDENCE.

30.24 —— 13621

"WE HAVE FIRST TO PUT CONFIDENCE IN OUR OWN TROOPS. WHEN IT COMES DOWN TO A REALLY BITTER STRUGGLE WHERE BOTH SIDES ARE PRETTY EVENLY MATCHED, THE PEOPLE WITH GUTS AND DETERMINATION ARE GOING TO WIN A SLOGGING MATCH.

MAR 10 1944

"IF WE HAVE THESE QUALITIES--AND ABOVE ALL CONFIDENCE--THEN WE SHALL WIN IT. IF WE THINK WE WON'T, WE WON'T. I SAY THAT BECAUSE I DON'T WANT PEOPLE TO HAVE MISTAKEN IDEAS. THE SITUATION IS NOT EASY. I AM QUITE CONFIDENT THAT IT WILL BE ALL RIGHT NOW.

"IF HAS NOT OF COURSE GONE AS WE ORIGINALLY HAD HOPED. BUT ONCE YOU HAVE STOPPED, THEN IT BECOMES A QUESTION OF BUILDING UP AND SLOGGING.

"WHEN WE SHALL BE ABLE TO BREAK OUT OF IT IS DIFFICULT TO SAY, BUT OTHER THINGS ARE HAPPENING."

MAR 10 1944

EXONERATING WAR CORRESPONDENTS WHO LANDED WITH THE BEACHHEAD FORCES FROM ALL BLAME OF CAUSING UNEASINESS TO PUBLIC OPINION IN THE UNITED KINGDOM OR THE UNITED STATES FOR WHICH HE CENSURED THEM THREE WEEKS AGO, ALEXANDER SAID "I HAVE GONE INTO THIS MATTER AS FAR AS NEWS FROM THE BEACHHEAD IS CONCERNED AND I AM PLEASED TO TELL YOU THAT, FROM THE DISPATCHES I HAVE SEEN, WE ARE FULL OF ADMIRATION FOR YOUR WORK X X X.

"THE ONLY THING I WOULD SAY TO YOU IS THAT YOU SHOULD ALWAYS TRY TO STRIKE A CONFIDENT NOTE."

ALGIERS, MARCH 9 (AP)--DEFENSE COUNSEL ALFRED GOUTTENBAREN TODAY ARGUED THAT THE VICHY GOVERNMENT IS LEGALLY ESTABLISHED UNDER THE FRENCH CONSTITUTION OF 1875, AND THAT PIERRE PUCHEU, FORMER VICHY INTERIOR MINISTER, WAS NOT GUILTYOF TREASON FOR SUPPORTING THE VICHY REGIME PRIOR TO 1942.

GOUTTENBAREN ACCUSED LEFTIST MEMBERS OF THE FRENCH NATIONAL COMMITTEE OF LIBERATION OF FORCING PUCHEU'S TRIAL PREMATURELY FOR POLITICAL REASONS. THE DEFENSE LAWYER POINTED OUT THAT THE COMMITTEE IN JANUARY HAD DECIDED TO POSTPONE THE TREASON TRIALS UNTIL FRANCE IS RE-OCCUPIED.

~~XXX~~ PUCHEU'S COUNSEL MADE A POINT WHEN HE QUOTED A SPEECH OF THE SPECIAL PROSECUTOR, GENERAL WEISS, IN WHICH WEISS PRAISED THE VICHY GOVERNMENT IN FEBRUARY, 1941. PUCHEU ENTERED THE VICHY CABINET ABOUT THE SAME TIME. GEN. HENRI GIRAUD, PRESENT FREE FRENCH ARMY COMMANDER, ALSO

UPHELD THE PRE-1942 VICHY GOVERNMENT AS OPPOSED TO THE PRESENT PUPPET REGIME

EARLIER PROSECUTOR WEISS DEMANDED THE DEATH PENALTY FOR PUCHEU, ON THE BASIS OF DECREES SIGNED BY THE DEFENDANT DURING HIS TERM OF OFFICE. THE FIVE-MAN MILITARY COURT IS EXPECTED TO DECIDE THE CASE THIS WEEK.

ALGIERS, MARCH 9-(AP)-A STRONG FORCE OF GERMAN AIRCRAFT ATTACKED AN ALLIED CONVOY OFF THE COAST OF NORTH AFRICA, IT WAS ANNOUNCED TODAY, BUT ALLIED AIRMEN KNOCKED DOWN FIVE OF THE ATTACKERS AND DAMAGED TWO OTHERS.

FRENCH PILOTS FLYING P-39'S DESTROYED ONE JUNKERS-88 IN THE FIRST WAVE AND RAF BEAUFIGHTERS ENTERING THE FRAY THEREAFTER ACCOUNTED FOR FOUR MORE.

MAR 10 1944

ALGIERS WAS ALERTED AND A HEAVY ANTI-AIRCRAFT BARRAGE WAS CAST UP.

AN ALLIED SPOKESMAN SAID ABOUT 60 GERMAN PLANES TOOK PART IN THE ATTACK BUT FAILED TO DAMAGE ANY OF THE CONVOY SHIPS. TWO ALLIED PLANES WERE LOST.

(ADVANCE) HEADQUARTERS U.S. 14TH AIR FORCE IN CHINA, MARCH 9-(AP)- COMMEMORATING THE FIRST ANNIVERSARY OF THE U.S. 14TH AIR FORCE, MAJ. GEN. CLAIRE L.CHENNAULT, TOLD HIS COMMAND IN A LETTER TODAY THAT "SOON OR LATE, THE END IS IN SIGHT" IN THE WAR WITH JAPAN.

"THERE WILL NO DOUBT BE HARD TIMES IN THE FUTURE," GEN. CHENNAULT WROTE, "BUT WE ARE ON THE OFFENSIVE, NOT THE DEFENSIVE NOW. SOON OR LATE, THE END IS IN SIGHT. MAR 10

"AS YOUR GENERAL, I CANNOT FORETELL THE DATE OF OUR VICTORY, BUT I WILL SAY TO YOU THAT IF YOU GO ON AS YOU HAVE STARTED, YOU WILL BRING MEASURABLY NEARER THE DAY WHEN JAPAN HAS BEEN HUMBLED AND WE CAN ALL MAKE THAT HOMEWARD JOURNEY WHICH WE DESIRE."

THE LETTER WAS WRITTEN TO BE READ TO ASSEMBLED AIRMEN AT EVERY ONE OF THE FAR-FLUNG ESTABLISHMENTS OF GEN. CHENNAULT'S AIR FORCE. THERE WILL BE APPROPRIATE ANNIVERSARY CEREMONIES.

A YEAR AGO ON MARCH 10, 1943, THE FOURTEENTH SUCCEEDED THE CHINA AIR TASK FORCE, WHICH IN TURN HAD SUCCEEDED GEN. CHENNAULT'S AMERICAN VOLUNTEER GROUP (AVG) "FLYING TIGERS," ON JULY 4, 1942.

GEN. CHENNAULT'S MESSAGE CALLED THE ANNIVERSARY "A SIGNIFICANT MILESTONE ALONG THE ROAD TO FINAL VICTORY," AND CLAIMED "ACHIEVEMENTS OF WHICH I BELIEVE A FAR LARGER FORCE MIGHT REASONABLE BE PROUD."

HE NOTED THAT IN COMPARISON WITH OTHER AIR FORCES, THE 14TH IS STILL A SMALL ORGANIZATION.

"WE HAVE DEFENDED AGAINST A FAR MORE NUMEROUS ENEMY ALMOST THE ENTIRE AREA OF FREE CHINA," THE GENERAL WROTE, "WHEN THE ENEMY HAS ATTACKED WE HAVE TAUGHT HIM HOW IT FEELS TO SUFFER LOSSES SIX OR SEVEN OR EIGHT OR EVEN NINE FOR ONE X X X

"SMALL AS WE HAVE BEEN, AND STILL ARE, WE HAVE MADE OUR ATTACKS FELT WHERE IT HAS HURT THE MOST. THE SEA ROUTES BETWEEN THE JAPANESE ISLANDS AND THE JAPANESE EMPIRE ARE THE JUGULAR VEIN OF THE JAPANESE MILITARY SYSTEM.

"WE HAVE STABBED TIRELESSLY FOR THE JUGULAR, AND SINCE MARCH 10, 1943, WE HAVE CERTAINLY SUNK 274,939 TONS OF ENEMY SHIPPING, HAVE PROBABLY SUNK MORE, AND HAVE DAMAGED 282,550 TONS.

MAR 10 1944

"SOME DAY, I VENTURE TO PREDICT, WE SHALL CUT HIS JUGULAR AND THE ORGANISM WILL DIE."

THE LETTER RECITED THE ACHIEVEMENTS OF THE FORCE IN SUPPORT OF CHINESE GROUND FORCES LAST SUMMER AND FALL IN THE TUNGTING LAKE CAMPAIGN.

OTHER NOTEWORTHY ACCOMPLISHMENTS LISTED BY GEN. CHENNAULT INCLUDED, THE ESTABLISHMENT OF A COMPOSITE CHINESE-AMERICAN WING "IN WHICH CHINESE AND AMERICANS LIVE TOGETHER, WORK TOGETHER AND ENTER COMBAT TOGETHER," AND THE ESTABLISHMENT OF AN AIR SERVICE COMMAND "TO AID US IN THE SUPPL MAINTENANCE AND EXPANSION OF OUR OWN FIGHTING UNITS AND THEIR REINFORCEMENT WITH IMPROVED TYPES OF AIRCRAFT AND THE CONSTRUCTION OF NEW AIRFIELDS AND THE IMPROVEMENT OF THE OLD."

THE MARINES MOVING AGAINST TALASEA HAVE CUT OFF SMALL BANDS OF JAPANESE ON THE NORTHERN TIP OF THE PENINSULA. THE MARINES WERE GIVEN AIR SUPPORT TUESDAY BY AIRACOBRAS WHICH HIT CAPE HOSKINS TO THE EAST AND AUSTRALIAN BEAUFORTS WHICH POUNDED TALASEA.

WITH THE NIPPONESE AIRFORCE NEUTRALIZED AT RABAUL, SOLOMONS PLANES NOW ARE SWINGING HEAVIER PUNCHES AT KAVIENG, NEW IRELAND. TUESDAY, LIBERATORS AND FIGHTERS HIT ITS PANAPAI AIRDROME WITH 55 TONS OF EXPLOSIVES, DESTROYING A PARKED PLANE AND DAMAGING THE .....

WITH THE NIPPONESE AIR FORCE VIRTUALLY WIPED OUT AT RABAUL, THE SOUTH PACIFIC AIRFORCE HAS TURNED ITS ATTENTION TO KAVIENG, SAID A SPOKESMAN AT SOUTH PACIFIC HEADQUARTERS. THE NEW 5,000-FOOT AIRFIELD ON GREEN ISLAND, AT THE NORTHERN TIP OF THE SOLOMONS AND 230 MILES SOUTHEAST OF KAVIENG, IS BEING USED IN THE NEW CAMPAIGN.

ALREADY THE FIRST FIGHTER ESCORTED BOMBERS HAVE HIT KAVIENG FROM THE NEW SEABEE-BUILT AIRBASE. IN THAT STRIKE 60 TONS OF BOMBS HURTLED DOWN ON BUILDINGS AND THE SHIPPING AREA OF KAVIENG. THE AREA WAS LEFT IN FLAMES. HEAVY ANTIAIRCRAFT FIRE WAS REPORTED BUT

30.24- 13625

ALL PLANES RETURNED.

KAVIENG, ON THE NORTHEASTERN DEFENSE PERIMETER OF THE STRATEGIC BISMARCK SEA, HAS LONG BEEN AN IMPORTANT JAPANESE BASE. ITS PLACE IN THE ENEMY'S SCHEME OF DEFENSE HAS MOUNTED WITH THE NEUTRALIZATION OF RABAUL.

MURLIN SPENCER, ASSOCIATED PRESS WAR CORRESPONDENT WITH AMERICAN MARINES NEAR TALASEA, REPORTED THAT THEIR LANDING ON THE WILLAUMEZ PENINSULA, WITHIN 170 MILES OF RABAUL, WAS BITTERLY OPPOSED. THE MARINES WERE THREADING THEIR WAY THROUGH THE TREACHEROUS CORAL REEFS 200 YARDS OFF SHORE WHEN ENEMY MORTARS AND MACHINEGUNS OPENED UP ON THEM. WITH NO NAVAL OR AIR SUPPORT, THE VETERAN SHOCK TROOPS FOUGHT FROM THEIR LANDING CRAFT AND REACHED SHORE. THEY PUSHED INTO THICK JUNGLE TO ROUT THE JAPANESE FROM THEIR ENTRENCHMENTS AND CHASE THEM FROM THEIR GRASS HUTS.

MAR 10 1944

ONE OF THE AMERICAN OBJECTIVES WAS THE UNUSED TALASEA AIRFIELD. SPENCER REPORTED THAT ON MARCH 8 THE MARINES HAD IT ALMOST WITHIN THEIR GRASP. YESTERDAY'S COMMUNIQUE DID NOT MENTION THE AIRFIELD BUT SAID THE MARINES "ARE CONSOLIDATING THEIR BRIDGEHEAD NEAR TALASEA AGAINST STRONG ENEMY OPPOSITION."

DISMOUNTED AMERICAN CAVALRYMEN ON LOS NEGROS ISLAND IN THE ADMIRALTIES EXTENDED THEIR AREA OF OCCUPATION AFTER BEING BACK AN ENEMY ATTEMPT TO LAND REINFORCEMENTS ON THE WEST COAST OF THE ISLAND, PRESUMABLY FROM ADJACENT MANUS ISLAND. A NARROW CHANNEL SEPARATES THE TWO ISLANDS.

ALSO FOUND SEVERAL HUNDRED MORE JAPANESE BODIES, THE COMMUNIQUE SAID. THE INVADERS PREVIOUSLY HAD BURIED MORE THAN 1,200 ENEMY DEAD.

THE MARINES ON WILLAUMEZ PENINSULA, NEW BRITAIN, WERE FACING STIFF FIRE FROM JAPANESE REINFORCEMENTS APPARENTLY FROM TALASEA. THE LEATHERNECKS' LANDING ON THE WEST COAST OF THE PENINSULA WAS ABOUT FIVE MILES NORTHWEST OF TALASEA, WHERE THERE IS AN AIRSTRIP.

ALLIED AIRCRAFT SUPPORTED THE MARINES BY ATTACKING ENEMY BARGES AND INSTALLATIONS AT CAPE HOSKINS, EAST OF TALASEA.

MAR 10 1944

THE OFFENSIVES IN NEW GUINEA, THE ADMIRALTIES AND NEW BRITAIN ALL EMPHASIZED THE GROWING ALLIED CONTROL OF THE BISMARCK SEA, AND PROMISED MORE HARDSHIP FOR JAPANESE TROOPS APPARENTLY LEFT STRANDED IN THESE AREAS BY TOKYO STRATEGISTS.

MACARTHUR SAID WORK HAS BEEN COMPLETED ON THE AIRSTRP ON GREEN ISLAND IN THE NORTHERN SOLOMONS. NEW ZEALAND AND AMERICAN TROOPS CAPTURED THE ISLAND FEB. 2, PUTTING THE ALLIES ASTRIDE THE JAPANESE SUPPLY LINE DOWN THE EAST COAST OF NEW IRELAND TO THE SOLOMONE, W..ERE SEVERAL THOUSAND ENEMY TROOPS ARE ISOLATED.

OPERATIONS FROM THIS AIRSTRIP WILL SUPPLEMENT THE STRENGTH OF ALLIED PLANES FROM SOLOMONS AIRFIELDS IN FURTHER REDUCING THE ENEMY'S TOPPLING BASES AT RABAUL, NEW BRITAIN, AND KAVIENG, NEW IRELAND.

AIRCRAFT FROM THE SOLOMONS HAMMERED THE LAKUNAI AND TOBERA AIRDROMES AT RABAUL MONDAY WITH 55 TONS OF BOMBS. RABAUL HAS BEEN THE DAILY TARGET OF THESE PLANES FOR SEVERAL WEEKS.

WHICH TWO PT'S WERE ATTACKED BY 30 TO 40 ZEROS AND DIVE BOMBERS IN A 45-MINUTE ENGAGEMENT. ALL THREE ENGINES WERE HIT. HE NOT ONLY KEPT THEM RUNNING BUT GAVE FIRST AID TO TWO OF THE WOUNDED CREW.

FARLEY, A VETERAN TORPEDO BOAT SKIPPER, ALSO WAS IN THAT BATTLE. EWING DARED RIFLE FIRE FROM A HUNDRED JAPANESE ON SHORE IN DAYLIGHT TO SNEAK IN AND RESCUE THE CREW OF A STRANDED PT.

BANNARD, A VETERAN OF 30 LONG ARDUOUS PATROLS, WAS IN THE BATTLE WITH 30 JAPANESE PLANES.

AGNEW WAS ON A BOAT WHICH WAS BATTLING IT OUT WITH SHORE BATTERIES WHEN A JAPANESE HEAVY BOMBER ATTACKED. ALTHOUGH THROWN TO THE DECK AND WOUNDED HE REFUSED TO ACCEPT FIRST AID AND CRAWLED BACK TO HIS GUN TO CONTINUE THE FIGHT UNTIL THE ACTION WAS BROKEN OFF.

HUNT TOOK HIS BOAT CLOSE IN TO SHORE TO FERRET OUT AND DESTROY ENEMY BARGES SEEKING TO TAKE FOOD IN TO BELEAGUERED GARRISONS ABOVE FINSCHHAFEN, NEW GUINEA, AND IS CREDITED WITH DESTRUCTION OF A MEDIUM BOMBER.

WILCOX, A MACHINER GUNNER, WAS IN A BATTLE IN WHICH THREE BARGES WERE DESTROYED. EARLY IN THE FIGHT HE WAS WOUNDED IN THE THIGH BUT REMAINED AT HIS GUN UNTIL THE MAGAZINES WERE EMPTY. THEN HE WENT BACK FOR MORE AMMUNITION AND REOPENED FIRE. WHEN A CREW MEMBER WAS WOUNDED AND THROWN TO THE DECK WHERE HE WAS IN DANGER OF FALLING OVERBOARD, WILCOX CARRIED HIM TO SAFETY.

ADVANCED SOUTH PACIFIC AIR BASE, SOLOMON ISLANDS, MARCH (10 -(FRIDAY)-(AP)-THE NAVY'S LAND-BASED SKULL AND CROSSBONES SQUADRON COMPLETED ITS SECOND TOUR OF AERIAL DUTY TUESDAY AFTER DESTROYING 156 JAPANESE PLANES, FIVE CARGO SHIPS AND 16 BARGES.

THE SQUADRON LOST ONLY 13 PILOTS. THE SQUADRON'S RATIO AGAINST JAPANESE AIRMEN OVER RABAUL HAS BEEN 12 TO 1. ITS MARK OF 154 ENEMY PLANES SHOT DOWN IN THE AIR IS A RECORD FOR ANY SQUADRON IN THE SOUTH PACIFIC FOR TWO TOURS OF DUTY.

SINCE JAN.25 WHEN CROSSBONES--SOMETIMES CALLED BLACKBURN'S IRREGULARS IN HONOR OF THEIR SQUADRON LEADER, LT.COMDR. J.T. BLACKBURN OF CHEVY CHASE,MD.,--BEGAN THEIR SECOND TOUR THEY SHOT 107 PLANES FROM RABAU'S COTTONY SKIES, BELIEVED TO BE A RECORD FOR SIX WEEKS--A NORMAL TOUR OF DUTY.

MAY 10 1944

ON NOV.11 THE CROSSBONES JOINED HANDS WITH A CARRIER OUTFIT AGAINST RABAUL AND SHOT DOWN 19 JAPANESE WITHOUT THE LOSS OF A PILOT. FEB.19 WAS ANOTHER BLOODY DAY FOR THE JAPANESE AT THE HANDS OF THE CROSSBONES. ABOUT 75 ZEROS ATTACKED THE SQUADRON. SIXTEEN ZEROS WERE DESTROYED. NOT A SINGLE CROSSBONES PILOT WAS LOST.

THE CROSSBONES ARE PROUDER OF THEIR RECORD OF NEVER HAVING LOST A BOMBER THEY WERE PROTECTING. THEY HAVE PROTECTED BOMBERS ON 40 RABAUL MISSIONS.

THE SQUADRON'S TOTAL IS WELL DISTRIBUTED. ONLY TWO MEMBERS HAVE FAILED TO SHOOT DOWN AT LEAST ONE JAPANESE PLANE, AND EACH OF THOSE HAS SCORED PROBABLES.

THIRTEEN ACES ARE IN THE SQUADRON, HIGHEST IS LT. (JG) IRA KEPFORD,MUSKEGON,MICH., WITH 16, INCLUDING THREE IN THE FEB.19 AIR BATTLE WHEN HE BARELY ESCAPED THREE ZEROS THAT GOT ON HIS TAIL AT 500 FEET. HE WAS SO SURE HIS NUMBER WAS UP THAT HE

RADIOED HIS BASE, "BOXED IN BY THREE. CHALK UP THREE FOR IKE. THIS LOOKS LIKE THE WORKS."

OTHER ACES INCLUDED BLACKBURN WITH 11; LT. (JG) CLEMENT D. GILE, PITTSBURGH,PA., EIGHT; LT. (JG) EARL MAY, MILWAUKEE, WIS., EIGHT.; LT. GUADALCANAL, FRIDAY, MARCH 10-(AP)-JAPANESE ARTILLERY ON BOUGAINVILLE ISLAND IN THE NORTHERN SOLOMONS OPENED UP TUESDAY ON THE TWO AIRFIELDS WITHIN THE 40-SQUARE-MILE AMERICAN HOLDING AT EMPRESS AUGUSTA BAY AND OFFICERS BELIEVE THE ENEMY IS PREPARING FOR A LAST SUICIDAL ATTACK.

"I HOPE THEY ATTACK," CONFIDENTLY SAID MAJ.GEN.JOHN R.HODGE, OF CARBONDALE, ILL., COMMANDER OF THE DIVISION HOLDING THE AREA WHERE THE SHELLING OCCURRED.

"OUR DEFENSES ARE SET AND WE'RE READY FOR THEM."

HE SAID THE NIPPONESE APPARENTLY REALIZE THEY HAVE BEEN LEFT, WITHOUT AIR SUPPORT AND PROSPECT OF MORE SUPPLIES, TO STARVE.

(JAPANESE ON BOUGAINVILLE AND ADJACENT SOLOMON ISLANDS HAVE BEEN ISOLATED FROM RABAUL AND KAVIENG SUPPLY BASES BY ALLIED INVESTMENT OF THE GREEN ISLANDS AT THE TOP OF THE SOLOMON CHAIN).

THE SHELLING, MARKING THE FIRST JAPANESE USE OF ARTILLERY AGAINST THE AMERICAN HOLDINGS SINCE DECEMBER, DAMAGED SOME PLANES AND CAUSED CASUALTIES BEFORE COUNTER BATTERY FIRE SILENCED THE ENEMY GUNS.

MAR 10 1944

LT. (JG) THOMAS LAMBERT, OF SPOKANE, WASH., SAID THE JAPANESE LOBBED SHELLS UP TO SIX INCHES IN CALIBER INTO THE PERIMETER FROM SEVERAL THOUSAND YARDS BEHIND THE LINES. HE REPORTED THAT ONE MAN WAS KILLED AND ABOUT 20 WOUNDED. THE SHELLING WAS DIRECTED AT THE PIVA AND TOROKINA AIRFIELDS.

(THESE FIELDS, BUILT SOON AFTER BOUGAINVILLE WAS INVADED LAST NOVEMBER, ARE PLAYING A MAJOR ROLE IN THE AIR RAIDS NOW DIRECTED AT RABAUL, 250 MILES TO THE NORTHWEST.)

AMERICAN DIVISION HEADQUARTERS LATER REPORTED THAT EIGHT JAPANESE GUN POSITIONS WERE KNOCKED OUT BY THE COUNTER BARRAGE AND TWO ENEMY SUPPLY OR AMMUNITION DUMPS WERE SET ABLAZE.

"THEY GAVE IT TO US FOR ABOUT AN HOUR AND 10 MINUTES," SAID LT.DANIEL J.ROURKE, OF ALAMEDA, CALIF.

"WE KIND OF ENJOYED IT. THERE HASN'T BEEN ANYTHING DOING AROUND HERE LATELY."

(EDITORS NOTE: THE FOLLOWING STORY OF ONE DAY IN THE CAMPAIGN ON LOS NEGROS ISLAND IN THE ADMIRALTIES WAS WRITTEN BY ASAHEL BUSH, ASSOCIATED PRESS WAR CORRESPONDENT AND THE ONLY PRESS REPRESENTATIVE WITH THE TROOPS AFTER THE FIRST FEW HOURS OF THE LANDING FEB.29).

BY ASAHEL BUSH MAR 10 1944

LOS NEGROS ISLAND, ADMIRALTY GROUP, MARCH 6-(DELAYED)-(AP)-THE JAPANESE BROKE AND RAN TODAY, LEAVING LITTLE HEAPS OF BODIES OF THEIR COMRADES BEFORE FIRST CAVALRY DIVISION GUNS.

OF COURSE THE JAPANESE HAD BEEN THOROUGHLY BOMBED AND STRAFED FOR THE PAST TWO DAYS BY FLEETS OF ATTACK PLANES AND HEAVY AND MEDIUM BOMBERS OF THE FIFTH ARMY AIR FORCE.

BUT HE WAS IN THERE FIGHTING ALL THROUGH LAST NIGHT; THE SMALL HEAPS OF HIS DEAD WHICH COVERED THE NARROW NECK OF LAND NORTH OF MOMOTE AIRSTRIP, WHERE THE NIGHT ACTION CENTERED, VIVIDLY TESTIFIED TO THAT.

SO THE DIVISION COMMANDER HAD GOOD REASON TO ORDER ALL AVAILABLE FORCES IN THE LINE THIS MORNING IN WHAT WAS TO BE THE FIRST GRAND SCALE EFFORT TO DRIVE THE JAPANESE FROM LOS NEGROS ISLAND.

THE AMERICANS PRESENTED A FORMIDABLE COLUMN, STRETCHED OUT IN A DOUBLE ROW ALONG THE RIM OF HYANE HARBOR, EACH MAN CARRIED A PART OF HIS UNIT'S SPECIAL EQUIPMENT AS WELL AS HIS JUNGLE PACK AND CARBINE.

SGT. MELVIN G.SHUMACHER OF NEW CASTLE, WYO., BOSS OF A MORTAR CREW, STAGGERED UNDER THE 50-POUND WEIGHT OF A BASE-

PLATE FOR THE WEAPON. WITH HIM WERE PFC. NORMAN MYERS, RT. 2, BOX 353, NEW KENSINGTON, PA., ANOTHER MORTARMAN, AND PFC WALTER MONTAG OF EAST DUBUQUE, ILL., WHO CARRIED SHELLS.

CAPT. BILL COMBS OF FRANKFORT, IND., LIAISON OFFICER FROM AN ARTILLERY BATTALION ATTACHED TO THE DIVISION, CONSULTED ALONG THE ROADSIDE WITH CAPT. HARRISON W.SHELDON, 205 SOUTH VICTORIA ST., PUEBLO, COLO., OF THE CAVALRY STAFF.

IN THE LINE OF MARCH AS THE COLUMN APPROACHED THE STARTING POINT FOR THE ADVANCE WERE PVTS. JAMES BARR, 22014 HARPER LAKE DRIVE, SAINT CLAIR SHORES, MICH., AND MONTFORT JONES, TCHULA (CORRECT) MISS.

MAR 10 1944

PVT. N.A.FALGOUST, 814 MEBOEUF ST., NEW ORLEANS, AND PFC JESSE E.RIDDEL, IRVING, KY., WERE BURDENED WITH AN AUTOMATIC RIFLE, A SPOOL OF TELEPHONE WIRE AND WALKIE-TALKIE RADIO SET.

WHEN THE ORDER CAME TO MOVE IN ON JAPANESE GROUND, CAPT. N.L. RUPKEY OF SAN CARLOS, ARIZ., LED THE WAY INTO THE THICK, SWAMPY JUNGLE GROWTH. SEVERAL JAPANESE BODIES LAY SPRAWLED ALONG THE TRAIL, BUT THERE WAS NO SIGN OF A LIVE ENEMY.

THE COLUMN ADVANCED HALF-MILE IN COMPLETE SILENCE PAST MORE JAPANESE BODIES AND THE BLASTED WRECKAGE OF ENEMY TRUCKS.

ROUNDING A CURVE THE MEN CAME UPON A BARRICADE OF TREES ACROSS THE TRAIL. THE TROOPS BROKE WARILY AROUND THE BARRICADE AND PRESSED ON.

THE AREA BEYOND THE ROADBLOCK, SURPRISINGLY, PROVED BARREN OF THE ENEMY.

IT WAS APPARENT THAT THE ENEMY HAD DEPARTED IN GREAT HASTE AND THAT HE HAD BEEN HERE IN STRENGTH; BOTH SIDES OF THE ROAD WERE LINED WITH MANY FOXHOLES. EVERY TURN OF THE TRAIL BROUGHT INTO VIEW FRESH PILES OF ABANDONED FOOD, AMMUNITION, CLOTHING AND FIGHTING GEAR OF ALL SORTS. THE CAPTURED MATERIAL WAS STILL SERVICEABLE. ANTIAIRCRAFT GUNS, TRUCKS AND MOTORCYCLES WERE IN GOOD RUNNING CONDITION.

THERE WAS A WOODEN SHRINE DECORATED WITH SPRIGS OF BLOOD-RED LEAVES FROM A JUNGLE SHRUB AND OFFERINGS OF COCONUTS.

A GENERAL STUART TANK - THE FIRST IN ACTION IN THE LOS NEGROS CAMPAIGN - CAME UP, ITS SIREN HOWLING. VARIOUS TRAPDOORS OPENED AND HEADS POPPED OUT OF THE TANK.

THE TROOPERS ENTHUSIASTICALLY RECEIVED THE TANKMEN-1ST LT. GEORGE HALLANAN, PIERPONT MANOR, N.Y., THE COMMANDER; PFC WILLARD RUSSELL, 13 MIDDLE ST., CARIBOU, MAINE, DRIVER; AND PFC DWIGHT STRICKLER, GALION, O., COPILOT AND BOW GUNNER.

MAR 10 1944

"MOST WELCOME SIGHT I'VE EVER SEEN," EXCLAIMED PFC JULIUS A.CHORBA OF SOUTH BEND, IND.

THE OCCASION CALLED FOR A CELEBRATION, SO A GROUP OF OFFICERS AND SPECIALISTS GATHERED AROUND A LUNCHEON, WITH K RATION THE PIECE DE RESISTENCE.

AMONG THEM WERE CAPT. ANTHONY LAWRENCE, 415 UNION ST., NEW BEDFORD, MASS., THE LIVELY LEADER OF A CAVALRY TROOP; 1ST LT. JERRY WALLACE, 1520 SOUTH 4TH ST., SPRINGFIELD, ILL., COMMUNICATIONS OFFICER FOR CAVALRY SQUADRON HEADQUARTERS; 1ST LT. ERIC BERQUIST, 3421 WEST GLEN AVE., BALTIMORE, TRANSPORT QUARTERMASTER AND AN EXPERT ON SHIPLOADING, AND SGT. ROBERT BURGARZ, 1789 WEST 8TH ST., BROOKLYN, N.Y., FORWARD

2. CV — 13631

30.24 — 13631

OBSERVER FOR AN ARTILLERY BATTALION.

LATER PVT. FRANK BARBALATE, 712 AVENUE L, BROOKLYN, WAS DISPATCHED BACK TO HEADQUARTERS WITH A REPORT ON THE PROGRESS OF THE ADVANCE, WHILE THE COLUMN TURNED WESTWARD, FOLLOWING THE TROOPERS WHO PREVIOUSLY HAD PASSED.

BY LATE AFTERNOON AND IN THE MIDST OF A THUNDEROUS DOWNPOUR, THE ENTIRE FORCE REACHED THE COAST OF SEADLER HARBOR AND PREPARED TO DIG IN FOR THE NIGHT.

MAR 10 1944

DURING THE FINAL STAGES OF THE MARCH SOME SLIGHT JAPANESE RESISTANCE HAD BEEN MET, BUT THIS WAS ELIMINATED WITHOUT CASUALTY TO THE AMERICANS. THE WHOLE DAY'S ADVANCE HAD BEEN A FULL SIX MILES. THE TROOPERS HAD EXPECTED TO MEASURE THE GAIN IN YARDS. THEY HAD ACHIEVED CONTROL OF THE WHOLE NORTHERN SECTION OF LOS NEGROS ISLAND, ISOLATING THE REMAINING JAPANESE FROM ANY POSSIBILITY OF OVER-WATER REINFORCEMENT FROM NEARBY MANUS ISLAND.

"WE ARE NOW CLOSER TO TOKYO THAN ANY OTHER AMERICAN FORCE IN THE PACIFIC," ONE OFFICER JUBILANTLY REMARKED AS HE STOOD ON SEADLER BEACH.

MN 1 31 PCH

PAPITALAI PLANTATION, LOS NEGROS ISLAND, MARCH 7 (DELAYED)-(AP)-AMERICAN CAVALRYMEN LANDED ALONE TODAY AT THIS JAPANESE STRONGPOINT ALONG THE WESTERN REACHES OF LOS NEGROS ISLAND, GOING ASHORE IN THE FACE OF UNKNOWN JAPANESE STRENGTH.

THE LANDING PARTY, DISMOUNTED UNITS OF THE FIRST CAVALRY DIVISION WHICH INVADED THE SOUTHERN PORTION OF LOS NEGROS FEB.29, WERE QUICKLY REINFORCED AND BY MIDNIGHT HELD THEIR POSITION FIRMLY. FOR AWHILE, HOWEVER, IT WAS TOUCH-AND-GO WHETHER THE REINFORCEMENTS WOULD ARRIVE IN TIME.

ONLY A SMALL NUMBER OF "ALLIGATORS" (AMPHIBIOUS BARGES) WERE AVAILABLE AT THE TIME TO TRANSPORT THE SOLDIERS ACROSS THE 1500-YARD STRETCH OF WATER SHORT-CUTTING THE LAND ROUTE TO THE NORTHERN PORTION OF THE ISLAND. IT SEEMED UNWISE TO RISK ALL THE PRECIOUS CRAFT IN THE FIRST WAVE, SO A SMALL NUMBER OF CAVALRYMEN SET OUT IN ONE "ALLIGATOR" WHILE THE REST OF THE FORCE AWAITED DEVELOPMENTS.

THE FIRST BOAT REACHED SHORE SAFELY AND THE SOLDIERS FOUND THEY HAD LANDED IN THE VERY HEART OF THE ENEMY'S DEFENSE CONCENTRATION. A LINE OF TRENCHES 15 YARDS FROM THE WATER'S EDGE CROSSED THE NECK OF THE POINT.

THIS, IT APPEARED, WAS GOING TO BE NO UNOPPOSED WALK-IN, DESPITE THE HOUR-LONG ARTILLERY BARRAGE WHICH PRECEDED THE LANDING.

JAPANESE OPENED FIRE AN INSTANT AFTER THE CAVALRYMEN HIT THE BEACH. MURDEROUS MACHINE AND RIFLE FIRE SPRAYED THE LITTLE INVASION FORCE FROM TREE-TOPS, HASTILY-PREPARED GROUND POSITIONS AND FROM THE THICK FERN UNDERGROWTH.

MAR 10 1944

THE AMERICANS HELD GRIMLY TO THEIR TINY BEACHHEAD AND FINALLY INCHED FORWARD TO THE PROTECTION OF THE TALL FERNS BORDERING THE SHORE.

THEY SUFFERED CASUALTIES. THEY COULDN'T RETREAT EVEN IF THEY HAD WANTED TO, BECAUSE THE "ALLIGATORS" BY NOW HAD WITHDRAWN FOR THE NEXT LOAD.

SO THEY FOUGHT ON BRAVELY, THESE MEN OF A PROUD CAVALRY REGIMENT, MEN LIKE PFC JESSE R.HAZEL, TOMMY-GUNNER FROM BOWLING GREEN, KY.; CORP.CHARLES W.BRUCE, NOCONA, TEXAS, AND PRIVATE LAURENCE ROSS, SAN LEANDRO, CALIF.

THEY HELD OUT UNTIL THE NEXT BOATLOAD ARRIVED, THEN OTHERS, UNTIL SUPERIOR FIREPOWER WAS BROUGHT TO BEAR ON THE JAPANESE.

ONE MORTAR CREW WHICH STAGGERED ASHORE WITH ITS DISMOUNTED WEAPON AND AMMUNITION INCLUDED PFC EDWARD HAUGSY, BALTIC, S.D., AND PFC TIM SAILO, BRILYEN, MINN., (RADIO COPY, MAY BE BRICELYN).

PFC CERREL H.WRIGHT OF BOONEVILLE, MISS., AND PVT.JOHN DOLDGOWSKI OF DORR, MICH., CLAMBERED OVER THE BOW OF AN ALLIGATOR CARRYING THEIR AUTOMATIC RIFLES. PVT BILL FARLEY OF (516 28TH ST.) UNION CITY, N.J., LEAPED ONTO THE BEACH WITH THE FISHPOLE AERIAL OF HIS WALKIE-TALKIE RADIO SNAPPING IN THE AIR.

MAR 10 1944

THE CAVALRYMEN PUT THEIR MORTARS AND MACHINEGUNS INTO ACTION PROMPTLY AND FOR A TIME IT SEEMED AS IF THEIR FIRE SUCCEEDED IN QUELLING ENEMY RESISTANCE. WITHOUT INTERFERENCE, A HANDFUL OF CASUALTIES WAS LOADED ABOARD AN ALLIGATOR FOR THE RETURN TRIP. BUT JUST AS ANOTHER BARGE HEADED ACROSS THE HARBOR WITH ADDITIONAL REINFORCEMENTS, THE JAPANESE OPENED COUNTER-FIRE WITH MORTARS.

FROM A BOAT THE ENEMY MORTAR SHELLS APPEARED TO BE STRIKING DIRECTLY ON THE BEACHHEAD AND AMONG NATIVE BUILDINGS WHICH THE FIRST PARTIES OF AMERICANS SUCCEEDED IN OCCUPYING. TO DEAL WITH THIS SITUATION AN IN-BOUND BARGE -- WHICH CARRIED CAPT.MATTHEW BIKEMAN OF TEMPLE, TEX., COMMANDER OF THE INITIAL INVASION TROOPS, CHANGED ITS COURSE AND HEADED IN THE DIRECTION FROM WHICH THE MORTAR FIRE APPEARED TO BE COMING.

A LANDING WAS MADE IN A THICK CLUMP OF BUSHES SOME 75-YARDS IN ADVANCE OF THE ORIGINAL BEACHHEAD. THE MEN SCURRIED UP THE BANK AND DISPERSED QUICKLY AMONG THE HUGE FERNS.

O THERE WAS HEAVY COVER FOR BOTH SIDES AND FOR SOME MINUTES THE NEWLY ARRIVED ELEMENT CROUCHED EXPECTANTLY WITH GUNS READY AND EYES SCANNING THE TREETOPS AND UNDERBRUSH. IN THIS LINE WERE PFC LOUIS ZALUSKY, MARYD, PA.; PVT FELICIANO PERI, (250 PACIFIC ST.) ROOKLYN AND PFC NOSAL PAUL, ROCK HILLS, PA.

THEN ARTILLERY FIRE OPENED AGAIN. CAPT.HERBERT GUSTAFSON, (1848 W.8TH ST.) ERIE, PA., AND 1ST LT.WILLIAM S.BARKER, (130 UNDERWOOD ST.) FALL RIVER, MASS., WHO LANDED WITH THE CAVALRYMEN AS FORWARD OBSERVERS FOR AN ARTILLERY UNIT, HAD SPOTTED THE SOURCE OF THE ENEMY MORTAR FIRE AND CALLED FOR DIRECT SUPPORT FROM THE BIG GUNS AT MOMOTE. FARLEY FLASHED THE MESSAGE AND IN AN INSTANT PROJECTILES WERE FALLING DIRECTLY IN FRONT OF THE FORWARD POSITIONS HELD BY CAPTAIN BIKEMAN'S FORCE -- SO CLOSE THAT MEN ALONG THE BRUSH-CLOAKED OUTER PERIMETER WERE SPATTERED BY BITS OF FIRT AND FOLIAGE CHURNED ALOFT BY THE EXPLODING SHELLS.

MAR 10 1944

AFTER THAT THE ENEMY MORTAR FIRE CEASED.

(NATIVE LIFE IN THE MARSHALL ISLANDS GOES ON WITH REMARKABLE SERENITY THROUGHOUT THE PACIFIC WAR. ASSOCIATED PRESS WAR CORRESPONDENT SPENCER DAVIS PICTURES THE DOMESTIC SCENE ON MAJURO ATOLL WHEN U.S. FORCES OCCUPIED THE MID-PACIFIC ISLET GROUP AFTER JAPANESE WITHDRAWAL).

BY SPENCER DAVIS.

MAJURO LAGOON, MARSHALL ISLES, FEB.7, (DELYD) -AP-

THE STORY OF KING LANGALIN AND HIS MAJURO NATIVES WHO HAVE WATCHED THE PALM-COVERED MARSHALL ISLANDS PASS FROM GERMAN TO JAPANESE TO AMERICAN HANDS OFFERS THE BEST PICTURE OF LIFE IN THESE PACIFIC ISLES.

MICHAEL MADISON SPEAKS ENGLISH AND THUS WAS APPOINTED CHIEF INTERPRETER FOR AMERICAN FORCES NOW HOLDING MAJURO LAGOON'S 30 ISLETS. MADISON IS THE SON OF AN AMERICAN TRADER WHO MARRIED

30.24-13633

A NATIVE. NEARLY 60 YEARS OLD AND NEW ZEALAND EDUCATED, MADISON HAS BEEN LIVING ON MAJURO FOR 17 YEARS UNDER JAPANESE RULE.

THROUGH HIM, PROCLAMATIONS WERE POSTED IN ENGLISH AND JAPANESE ON EACH INHABITED ISLET PROCLAIMING THE END OF NIPPONESE RULE AND THE MILITARY GOVERNMENT OF ADM.CHESTER W.NIMITZ, CENTRAL PACIFIC COMMANDER.

MAR 10 1944

THE INTERPRETER EXPLAINED TO KING LANGALIN, A DIGNIFIED ELDERLY MICRONESIAN, THE URGENT NEED OF GATHERING HIS PEOPLE AND THEIR POSSESSIONS AT ONCE FOR EVACUATION. A FLOTILLA OF HIGGINS BOATS STOOD BY TO TRANSFER THEM TO OUTLYING ISLETS.

WHEN I WAS PERMITTED ASHORE ONE WEEK AFTER THE OCCUPATION, KING LANGALIN'S CORAL AND COCONUT KINGDOM WAS WELL ON ITS WAY TO TRANSFORMATION INTO AN ATOLL FORTRESS. CORAL CAUSEWAYS LINKED ISLETS. BULLDOZERS RIPPED THROUGH BRUSH AND COCONUT TREES. ROADS REPLACED NATIVE TRAILS. ORDERLY ROWS OD PUP TENTS REPLACED NATIVE HUTS OF PANDANUS FIBER. AN AIRSTRIP NEARS COMPLETION, MAIL ARRIVES FROM HOME, MOVIES AND BEER ARE EXPECTED NEXT WEEK.

THE HIGGINS BOATS HAVE SHUTTLED THE ISLANDERS AND THEIR MOST VALUED POSSESSIONS--PIGS, CHICKENS AND CALICO--TO OUTLYING ISLETS WHERE A VILLAGE IS ARISING AROUND A MAKESHIFT PALACE BUILT FOR KING LANGALIN.

THE KING WAS NAPPING IN HIS HUT WHEN MADISON BROUGHT US TO PAY OUR RESPECTS. HE POKED HIS HEAD OUT OF THE OPENING TO LOOK AT THE VISITORS, THEN DUCKED QUICKLY INSIDE. IN A FEW MINUTES HE EMERGED WEARING A HIGH CROWNED PANAMA HAT AND A SPOTLESS SUIT OF WHITE DUCK WHICH LOOKED LIKE IT DATED BACK TO THE DAY OF GERMAN OCCUPATION BEFORE WORLD WAR I.

30.24—13633

HIS QUEEN, A STOUT LONG-HAIRED MICRONESIAN OF 28, WAS DRESSED IN A MODEST DUN-COLORED MOTHER HUBBARD. IN HER ARMS SHE HELD THE KING'S YOUNGEST SON, A SOLEMN-EYED TWO-YEAR-OLD.

THE KING'S PRIME MINISTER IS A MIDDLE-AGED ISLANDER NAMED NOAH, WHOSE HAIR IS CLOSE-CROPPED IN THE JAPANESE STYLE AND WHO SPORTS A BRISTLY TOJO-LIKE MUSTACHE.

THE KING WAS READY TO HOLD COURT. SOLEMNLY, MADISON PRESENTED US, ONE BY ONE. LANGALIN MURMURED THE NATIVE GREETING: "YOKWO YOKWO (WELCOME WELCOME)."

THERE WERE UNMISTABABLE SIGNS KING LANGALIN HAS ALREADY BEEN EXPOSED TO AMERICAN LIFE. HE ACCEPTED OFFERS OF CIGARETS WITH OBVIOUS RELISH. ON A GRASSY PLOT FRINGING HIS COURTYARD, I SPOTTED A HALF-EMPTY JUG OF FAMILIAR AMERICAN COLA SYRUP AND BRIGHT YELLOW GRAPEFRUIT.

MAR 10 1944

WE ASKED THROUGH THE INTERPRETER WHAT THE KING THOUGHT OF THE JAPANESE DAPARTURE. HE GLANCED APPREHENSIVELY AT THE MIGHTY MEN-OF-WAR ANCHORED IN THE LAGOON AND SAID:

"OUR SONS ARE GONE. AMERICANS YOKWO."

SIX TIMES THIS YEAR AMERICAN PLANES HAVE HIT THE JAPANESE IN THE KURILE ISLANDS ON THE NORTHERN APPROACH TO TOKYO AND RETURNED WITHOUT LOSS OF A PLANE.

THE LATEST RAID, MADE SUNDAY BY NAVY SEARCH VENTURAS ON PARAMUSHIRO IN THE FACE OF HEAVY ANTI-AIRCRAFT FIRE, WAS ANNOUNCED YESTERDAY BY PACIFIC FLEET HEADQUARTERS.

THE ATTACK OCCURRED AT NIGHT AND THE RESULTS, IF OBSERVABLE,

WERE NOT DISCLOSED.

HEADQUARTERS ALSO REPORTED THE DROPPING OF 31 TONS OF BOMBS MONDAY ON AIRFIELDS AND OTHER INSTALLATIONS OF THE JPANESE IN THE EASTERN MARSHALLS. THE ATTACKING NAVY SEARCH VENTURAS AND HELL-CAT FIGHTERS SUSTAINED SOME DAMAGE FROM ANTI-AIRCRAFT FIRE BUT ALL GOT BACK TO THEIR BASES.

MELBOURNE, AUSTRALIA, FRIDAY, MARCH 10-(AP)-A PLANE CARRYING 14 AUSTRALIAN AND UNITED STATES SERVICE PERSONNEL, INCLUDING AN AMERICAN NURSE, LANDED SAFELY THURSDAY IN THICKLY TIMBERED COUNTRY NEAR YEA, NEW SOUTH WALES, AFTER BOTH WINGS WERE TORN OFF.

PILOTED BY CAPT.L.BUNN, THE AUSTRALIAN NATIONAL AIRWAYS PLANE RAN INTO A RAINSTORM AND THE PILOT FLEW BLIND. WATER IN THE CARBURETOR STOPPED THE FLOW OF GASOLINE. SPOTTING A SMALL CLEARING, THE PILOT NOSED DOWN. ONE WING WAS TORN OFF BY A TREE. A LITTLE LATER, THE OTHER WING WAS LOST. APPROACHING THE CLEARING, THE PLANE STRUCK A FENCE, SHATTERING THE TAIL.

WHEN THE PLANE LANDED, THE PASSENGERS WERE FLUNG TO THE FLOOR-- AND THE RADIO OPERATOR STILL WAS SENDING OUT MESSAGES TO THE AIRDROME.

SANTIAGO, CHILE, MARCH 9-(AP)-PRESIDENT JUAN ANTONIO RIOS SAID TODAY THAT CHILE'S DECISION IN THE MATTER OF ARGENTINA "COULD NOT BY ANY MEANS WHATEVER BE CONSIDERED AS A DEPARTURE FROM OUR ESTABLISHED AND DEMONSTRATED POLICY OF CONTINENTAL UNITY, DEFENSE OF THE AMERICAS AND OF SINCERE COOPERATION AND FRIENDSHIP WITH THE UNITED STATES."

(CHILE HAS ANNOUNCED THAT SHE WILL CONTINUE TO MAINTAIN RELATIONS WITH THE REGIME OF ACTING PRESIDENT EDELMIRO FARRELL OF ARGENTINE. AT THE SAME TIME THE CONFEDERATION OF WORKERS, CHILE'S STRONGEST LABOR UNION, HAS CRITICISED THIS ACTION.)

REPLYING TO A QUESTION, PRESIDENT RIOS ADDED THAT THOSE WHO SPECULATE THAT CHILE MIGHT ENTER ANY BLOC OF NATIONS EXCEPT THE BLOC COMPOSED BY ALL THE NATIONS OF THE CONTINENT "ARE VERY BADLY MISTAKEN."

"CHILE MAINTAINS," HE ADDED, "AND WILL CONTINUE TO MAINTAIN ITS EFFECTIVE AND TRADITIONAL POLICY IN INTERNATIONAL AFFAIRS. THAT MEANS IT WILL NEVER FORM A PART OF ANY BLOC OF ANY KIND WHICH MIGHT IMPAIR THE POLICY OF SINCERE PAN-AMERICANISM WHICH WE HAVE ALWAYS PRACTICED."

THE CHIEF EXECUTIVE'S STATEMENT WAS MADE IN AN INTERVIEW GRANTED THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.

"CHILE'S POLICY CAN NEVER BE DOUBTED," THE PRESIDENT SAID. "IT IS A POLICY PURELY AMERICANIST (NETAMENTE AMERICANISTA). WHEN CHILE EXTENDS ITS HAND OF FRIENDSHIP, IT DOES SO SINCERELY AND NO ONE HAS THE RIGHT TO DOUBT ITS LOYALTY."

SANTIAGO,CHILE,MARCH 9-(AP)-CHILE'S MOST POWERFUL LABOR UNION, THE CONFEDERATION OF WORKERS, ASSERTED TODAY THAT THE GOVERNMENT'S DECISION TO RECOGNIZE THE FARRELL REGIME IN ARGENTINA WAS PREMATURE AND A MOVE TENDING TO "AID THE AXIS IN ITS ACTION AGAINST THE PEOPLES OF THE UNITED NATIONS."

THE CONFEDERATION ALSO URGED THAT CONRADO RIOS GALLARDO BE REMOVED AS CHILEAN AMBASSADOR TO ARGENTINA ON THE GROUND THAT HE HAD GIVEN "TWISTED REPORTS TO OUR FOREIGN OFFICE ON MATTERS ABOUT THE ARGENTINE PEOPLE."

"HE SHOULD BE REMOVED IMMEDIATELY AND REPLACED BY A NATIONAL PERSONALITY RECOGNIZED AS DEMOCRATIC AND ANTI-FASCIST," THE UNION ADDED.

THE INSTRUCTION, HE SAID, WAS GIVEN "PENDING A CLARIFICATION OF WHAT REMAINS A MOST CONFUSED AND OBSCURE SITUATION" AND IS IN LINE WITH A POSITION TAKEN BY THE UNITED STATES AND BRITISH GOVERNMENTS.

"WITH THE PEOPLE OF ARGENTINA OUR FRIENDSHIP REMAINS UNAFFECTED," SAID KING. "WE HOPE AND TRUST THAT ARGENTINA WILL EVOLVE A POLICY COMMENSURATE WITH HER PAST, WORTHY OF HER CITIZENS AND CALCULATED TO MEET THE NEEDS OF HEMISPHERIC DEFENSE."

OTTAWA, MARCH 9-(AP)-PRESENTING HIS $410,000,000 ESTIMATE OF 1944 NAVAL EXPENDITURES TO COMMONS TODAY, NAVY MINISTER ANGUS MACDONALD

HIS COMMENT THAT THESE ADDITIONS WOULD GIVE CANADIANS EXPERIENCE IN HANDLING LARGER SHIPS AFTER HAVING SERVED IN A SMALL SHIP NAVY WAS TAKEN TO MEAN A NEW OFFENSIVE PROGRAM FOR A NAVY THAT HAS BEEN WAGING AN INCREASINGLY SUCCESSFUL DEFENSIVE OPERATION IN PROTECTING CONVOYS CARRYING SUPPLIES TO THE BATTLE FRONTS.

OTHER THAN ADDING THAT CANADA WOULD OPERATE THE CARRIERS WITH HER OWN OFFICERS AND MEN, WITH BRITAIN SUPPLYING PLANES AND AIR PERSONNEL, MACDONALD DID NOT ELABORATE.

THE ESTIMATED EXPENDITURE FOR THIS YEAR OF $410,000,000 IS ABOUT THE SAME AS WAS SPENT LAST YEAR, WHEN $489,000,000 WAS BUDGETED.

PERSONNEL WILL BE ENLISTED AT THE RATE OF 1,000 A MONTH--THE SAME AS LAST YEAR.

WASHINGTON, MARCH 9-(AP)-SIGNS THAT THE BRITISH GOVERNMENT IS ABOUT TO BACK MARSHAL JOSIP BROZ (TITO) WITH DIPLOMATIC AS WELL S MILITARY SUPPORT MULTIPLIED HERE TODAY WITH THE DISCLOSURE THAT G PETER OF YUGOSLAVIA IS EXPECTED TO GO TO LONDON SOON.

RESPONSIBLE SOURCES SAID THE ALLIES HAVE GONE AS FAR AS THEY CAN IN SENDING TITO MILITARY AID WITHOUT PREJUDICING THEIR RELATIONS WITH THE YUGOSLAV GOVERNMENT-IN-EXILE, TOWARD WHICH THE PARTISAN LEADER HAS DECLARED HIS HOSTILITY.

THE GOVERNMENT-IN-EXILE, NOW IN CAIRO, IS HEADED BY PREMIER BOZIDAR PURICH AND ITS WAR MINISTER IS GENERAL DRAJA MIHAILOVIC, LEADER OF THE MAIN SERBIAN FORCES IN YUGOSLAVIA.

FOR SOME TIME, HOWEVER, THE ALLIES HAVE BEEN SENDING SUPPLIES TO TITO, WHO IS ACTIVELY FIGHTING THE GERMANS, RATHER THAN TO THE APPARENTLY STALE-MATED MIHAILOVIC FORCES.

30.24 — 13639

THERE ARE ANGLO-AMERICAN MISSIONS WITH BOTH FACTIONS UNDER GENERAL SIR HENRY MAITLAND WILSON, ALLIED COMMANDER-IN-CHIEF IN THE MEDITERRANEAN.

BOTH PRIME MINISTER CHURCHILL OF ENGLAND AND THE STATE DEPARTMENT HERE HAVE EXPRESSED STRONG APPROVAL OF TITO'S PERSISTENT BATTLES WITH THE NAZI OCCUPIERS, AND FROM TIME TO TIME THE QUESTION HAS ARISEN WHETHER RUSSIA, BRITAIN AND THE UNITED STATES MIGHT EXTEND POLITICAL RECOGNITION TO TITO.

MAR 10 1944

INDICATIONS HERE ARE THAT THE MAIN PROJECT AT THE MOMENT IS TO SECURE SOME KIND OF RAPPROCHEMENT BETWEEN TITO AND THE YOUNG KING. THIS UNDOUBTEDLY WOULD INVOLVE DROPPING AT LEAST SOME OF THE MEMBERS OF THE KING'S GOVERNMENT IN CAIRO.

TWO OF THE CABINET MEMBERS ALSO ARE GOING TO LONDON, ORIGINALLY AT OF THE GOVERNMENT-IN-EXILE, AND ARE EXPECTED TO BE THERE, LONDON DISPATCHES SAID, WHEN UNDERSECRETARY OF STATE EDWARD R. STETTINIUS ARRIVES.

SO FAR AS CAN BE LEARNED, THERE IS AS YET NO ASSURANCE THAT TITO WOULD BE WILLING TO WORK WITH KING PETER, WHOM HIS PARTISANS HAVE REPUDIATED, BUT THE FEELING HERE AND IN LONDON APPEARS TO BE THAT A COMPROMISE COULD BE EFFECTED.

THE YUGOSLAV POLITICAL QUESTION TAKES ON INCREASING IMPORTANCE AS THE TIME FOR ALLIED INVASION OF THE CONTINENT NEARS.

A SETTLEMENT WHICH WOULD ERASE THE RIVALRY BETWEEN TITO AND MIHAILOVIC MIGHT BRING INTO ACTIVE BATTLE SUBSTANTIALLY MORE YUGOSLAV RESISTANCE SOLDIERS.

AT THE SAME TIME, IF SOME ARRANGEMENT AMONG SUPPORTERS OF CROAT, SLOVENE AND SERB AMBITIONS COULD BE MADE BEFORE THE PEACE, IT WOULD BE A LONG STEP TOWARD ELIMINATION OF A POTENTIAL VOLCANO IN THE STRUCTURE OF POSTWAR EUROPE.

WASHINGTON,MARCH 9-(AP)-THE ARMY DISCLOSED SOME DETAILS TODAY ABOUT ITS 4.2 INCH MORTAR WHICH HAS BEEN USED WITH GREAT SUCCESS BOTH IN THE PACIFIC AND IN ITALY, AND WHICH TROOPS USING IT HAVE DUBBED "THE GOON GUN."

IT IS NEW ONLY WITH RESPECT TO CERTAIN REFINEMENTS, BECAUSE IT WAS ORIGINALLY DEVELOPED BY THE U.S.CHEMICAL WARFARE SERVICE SOME 20 YEARS AGO. NOW, WITH IMPROVEMENTS, IT CAN LOB A SCORE 24-POUND PROJECTILES AS FAR AS TWO AND A HALF MILES IN 60 SECONDS, AND SOME GUN CREWS HAVE GOTTEN SIX SHELLS IN THE AIR BEFORE THE FIRS ONE LANDED.

IT IS CURRENTLY BEING USED FOR HIGH EXPLOSIVE AND WHITE PHOSPHORU SHELLS AND VETERANS BACK FROM SICILY HAVE REPORTED THE GERMANS FEAR THESE LATTER MORE THAN ANY WEAPON EMPLOYED BY THE ALLIES. WRITING IN THE INFANTRY JOURNAL, BRIG.GEN.ALDEN H.WAITT REPORTED THAT A SINGLE PHOSPHORUS SHELL FIRED BY THIS MORTAR SPREADS ITS BURS OVER AN AREA 40 YARDS IN DIAMETER, SETTING FIRES AS WELL AS CAUSING CASUALTIES.

ONE "GOON GUN" COMPANY IN ITALY WAS REPORTED TO HAVE ENGAGED A BATTERY OF GERMAN 88-MM. GUNS (WHICH HAVE FOUR TIMES THE RANGE AND OUTWEIGH THE 4.2 SOME 30 TIMES), AND TO HAVE DESTROYED THE BATTERY WITH 12 ROUNDS.

THE MORTAR IS ALSO A PRIME RESERVE WEAPON SHOULD THE ENEMY PROVOK A GAS WAR IN THE FACE OF PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT'S WARNING THAT GAS ATTACK WILL MEET WITH RETALIATION IN KIND. GENERAL WAITT SAYS THE "GOON" CAN--IF NEED ARISES--PLACE NEARLY TWO TONS OF CHEMICAL AGENT "SUCH AS PHOSGENE" ON A TARGET WITHIN TWO MINUTES--"ENOUGH GAS TO PUT COMPLETELY OUT OF ACTION EVERY UNPROTECTED MAN IN AN AREA OF A QUARTER OF A MILLION SQUARE YARDS."

THE GUN WEIGHS ABOUT 300 POUNDS, CAN BE DISMANTLED FOR QUICK MOVEMENT BY ITS CREW AND IS RIFLED LIKE A FIELD GUN IN CONTRAST TO THE OLD SMOOTH-BORE STOKES MORTAR. THIS PROVIDES TREMENDOUS ACCURACY.

IGHT LEAD UNDATED BERLIN ATTACKS (110)

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

FIVE AERIAL OPERATIONS AGAINST BERLIN THE PAST SEVEN DAYS HAVE COST 193 AMERICAN PLANES WHILE THE NAZIS DEFENDERS OF THE REICH'S HEART HAVE LOST A MINIMUM OF 316 AIRCRAFT.

AMERICAN LOSSES INCLUDED 137 BOMBERS AND 56 FIGHTER PLANES, WITH A TOTAL COMPLEMENT OF 1,426 MEN.

THE LOSSES IN TODAY'S CLOUD-HIDDEN ASSAULT ON THE CAPITAL WERE NEGLIGIBLE FOR THE SIZE OF THE OPERATION. SEVEN BOMBERS AND ONE FIGHTER PLANE, CARRYING 71 MEN, WERE OFFICIALLY LISTED AS MISSING.

THE FACT THAT NO RETURNING U.S. AIRMEN CLAIMED TO HAVE DOWNED A SINGLE GERMAN PLANE EMPHASIZED THE UNPRECEDENTED ABSENCE OF GERMAN DEFENDERS FROM THE SKY AT THE END OF THE FIRST WEEK OF DAYLIGHT OFFENSIVE ON BERLIN.

PREVIOUS ATTACKS IN BRIEF:

FRIDAY, MARCH 3: LONG RANGE FIGHTERS MAKE FIRST OFFENSIVE PATROLS OVER BERLIN. LOSSES AND VICTORIES IN THE BERLIN OPERATION WERE NOT ANNOUNCED, BUT IN ALL THE DAY'S OFFENSIVE INCLUDING HEAVY BOMBER ATTACKS ON NORTHWEST GERMANY AND MEDIUM BOMBER BLOWS AT FRENCH AIRFI TEN BOMBERS AND SIX FIGHTERS WERE LOST.

SATURDAY, MARCH 4: ONE FORMATION OF HEAVY BOMBERS DELIVERED THE FIRST AMERICAN BOMBS ON BERLIN. THE MAIN TARGETS WERE UNSPECIFIED TARGETS IN EASTERN GERMANY, AND IN ALL OPERATIONS 14 BOMBERS AND 23 FIGHTERS WERE LOST. AT LEAST 15 GERMAN PLANES WERE DESTROYED.

30. 24— 13641

30. 24— 13641

MONDAY, MARCH 6: PROBABLY 850 OR MORE HEAVY BOMBERS AND MORE THAN THAT NUMBER OF FIGHTERS DROPPED AN ESTIMATED 2,000 TONS ON BERLIN. LOSSES WERE 68 HEAVY BOMBERS AND 11 FIGHTERS TO 176 GERMANS SHOT DOWN

WEDNESDAY, MARCH 8: SOME 850 TO 1,000 HEAVY BOMBERS, PROTECTED BY HUNDREDS OF FIGHTERS, SPRAYED BERLIN WITH 350,000 INCENDIARIES AND 10,000 EXPLOSIVE BOMBERS. U.S. LOSSES WERE 38 HEAVY BOMBERS AND 15 FIGHTERS AND 125 GERMAN PLANES WERE DESTROYED.

MAR 11 1944

U. S. REQUEST IS REJECTED BY DE VALERA

Irish Premier Refuses To Expel Japanese And German Envoys

Washington, March 10 (AP)—The United States publicly accused Ireland tonight of affording a base for Axis spies endangering the approaching Allied invasion of Europe, but the Irish Government replied it was taking effective anti-espionage measures and refused an appeal to expel German and Japanese diplomats from the country.

The State Department announced that the request for expulsion of the enemy officials, held to be leaders in the spy ring, was transmitted to Prime Minister de Valera at Dublin February 21. The department made public the text of a note setting forth the spy accusations.

Simultaneously the Irish legation here issued the text of de Valera's reply rejecting the request and stating that "should American lives be lost, it will not be through any indifference or neglect of its duty on the part of this state."

Reminded Of Operations

The American note, presented by Minister David Gray, had reminded the Prime Minister of the vast military preparations now underway in Britain and Northern Ireland and declared it is "vital that information from which may be deduced their nature and direction should not reach the enemy."

Specific evidence of enemy espionage operations within Ireland was given in the assertions that the German legation in Dublin, at least until recently, had possessed a radio-sending set, and that German planes had dropped into Ireland two parachutists equipped with radio-sending apparatus.

While acknowledging Ireland's good faith in their efforts to maintain strict neutrality, the United States said it actually is impossible to determine "with certainty" the extent of the enemy's Irish-based espionage against American shipping and troops.

Immunity Cited

It then cited the fact that German and Japanese diplomatic and consular officers in Dublin still enjoy their customary immunity and declared "Axis representatives in every country use these special privileges and immunities as a cloak for espionage activities against the United Nations."

The Irish Government was specifically requested to force the recall to their homelands of the enemy officials, and the American note expressed the hope that this would be accomplished by a complete break in relations between Ireland and the Axis.

De Valera replied to this that forcing removal of diplomatic officials "is universally recognized as the first step toward war" and he added that the Irish Government "could not entertain the American proposal without a complete betrayal of their democratic trust. . . . Irish neutrality represents the united will of the people and the Parliament."

Transmitter In Custody

On the charge that the German Minister had a radio transmitter, de Valera said he had been "debarred from using it" for a long time and that for "some months" it had been in the custody of the Irish Government.

"As regards the two parachutists dropped in Ireland last December," the Irish reply said, "they were apprehended within a few hours. Two other agents dropped here since the war began met a similar fate. The fifth, who arrived during the first year of the war, remained at large until December 31, 1941, but the police were aware of his presence here almost from the first moment of landing and successful activities on his part were rendered impossible.

"It has become increasingly apparent," the American note said, "that despite the declared desire of the Irish Government that its neutrality should not operate in favor of either of the belligerents, it has in fact operated and continues to operate in favor of the Axis powers and against the United Nations on whom your security and the maintenance of your national economy depend.

Axis Opportunity Reported

"One of the gravest and most inequitable results of this situation is the opportunity for highly organized espionage which the geographical position of Ireland affords the Axis and denies the United Nations.

"Situated as you are in close proximity to Britain, divided only by an intangible boundary from Northern Ireland, where are situated important American bases, with continuous traffic to and from both countries, Axis agents enjoy almost unrestricted opportunity for bringing military information of vital importance from Great Britain and Northern Ireland into Ireland and from there transmitting it by various routes and methods to Germany.

"No opportunity corresponding to this is open to the United Nations, for the Axis has no military dispositions which may be observed from Ireland."

Tension Aroused

The American note caused extreme tension in Ireland for several days after its delivery and the Irish army was ordered to stand by for action along the Ulster border February 25 to 28.

The Irish apparently were apprehensive lest a rejection of the note should result in an Anglo-American military move against Ireland. On one occasion during the period of tension the Irish Minister to Washington, Robert Brennan, called at the State Department here and is understood to have inquired specifically whether the Allies intended a military stroke at Ireland. He was told, according to reports, Ireland was safe from Anglo-American invasion.

The Irish have other problems of a more practical nature involving Britain and the United States. Only last week Brennan asked Under Secretary of State Stettinius about the possibility of acquiring two American merchant ships to haul wheat to his country. The Irish have a 20 per cent. deficit in wheat supplies.

Text Of De Valera's Reply

MAR 11 1944

Washington, March 10 (AP)—Following is the text of the Irish Government's note of rejection to the American request that German and Japanese agents be expelled from Ireland, as written by Prime Minister de Valera:

The note of the American Government was handed to me by the American Minister on February 21. I informed him at once that the request it contained was one with which it was impossible for the Irish Government to comply. The Irish Government have since given the matter careful consideration and I now confirm the reply which I then gave verbally.

The Irish Government have also received the assurance of the American Government conveyed to the Irish Minister at Washington and later confirmed by the American Minister here in an interview with me on February 29 to the effect that the American Government did not contemplate proceeding to military or other measures because of the reply which had been given.

President's Message Quoted

The American Minister quoted in particular the President's personal message to me of February 26, 1942, that "there is not now nor was there then the slighest thought or intention of invading the territory of Ireland or of threatening the security of the Irish" and added that this attitude was unchanged.

The Irish Government wish to express their appreciation of this assurance. They were indeed surprised that so grave a note as that of February 21 should have been addressed to them. The terms of the note seemed to them altogether out of harmony with the facts and with the traditional relations of friendship between the Irish and American peoples.

They doubted that such a note could have been presented had the American Government been fully aware of the uniform friendly character of Irish neutrality in relation to the United States and of the measures which had been taken by the Irish Government, within the limits of their power, to safeguard American interests.

Called Step To War

They felt, moreover, that the American Government should have realized that the removal of representatives of a foreign state on the demand of the Government to which they are accredited is universally recognized as the first step toward war, and that the Irish Government could not entertain the American proposal without a complete betrayal of their democratic trust. Irish neutrality represents the united will of the people and Parliament. It is the logical consequence of Irish history and of the forced partition of national territory.

Already before American entry into the war, the policy of the Irish Government toward Britain, America's ally, had been directed toward carrying out the intentions indicated in a statement of policy made by me in Dail Eireann (Irish Parliament) on May 29, 1935, namely, that "our territory would never be permitted to be used as a base for attack upon Britain."

That policy has during the war been faithfully pursued. From the beginning, by the establishment of strong observation and defense forces, by a wide and rigorous censorship of press and communications, by an extensive anti-espionage organization and by every other means within our power, we have endeavored to prevent the leakage through Ireland of any information which might in any way endanger British lives or the safety of Great Britain.

Since the United States entered the war the same spirit of scrupulous regard for American interests has been shown. American officials have had an opportunity of seeing the measures which have been taken — they have indeed made favorable comments on their effectiveness—and it is satisfactory to observe that in the note itself not a single instance of neglect is alleged and no proof of injury to American interests is adduced. Should American lives be lost it will not be through any indifference or neglect of its duty on the part of this state.

As was known to the American officials, it is true that the German Minister had a wireless transmitter; but he had been for a long time debarred from using it and it has been in the custody of the Irish Government for some months.

Parachutists Apprehended

As regards the two parachutists dropped in Ireland last December, they were apprehended within a few hours. Two other agents dropped here since the war began met with a similar fate. The fifth, who arrived during the first year of the war, remained at large until December 3, 1941, but the police were aware of his presence here almost from the first moment of landing, and successful activities on his part were rendered impossible.

The total number of persons, inclusive of these parachutists, suspected of intentions to engage in espionage, and now held in Irish prisons, is ten foreign and two Irish nationals. These are the facts, and it is doubtful if any other country can show such a record of care and successful vigilance.

The British Government have informed the Irish Government that they welcome the initative of the American Government in sending the note and that they attached the utmost importance to it.

Feelings Changed

The Irish Government do not wish to comment on this, except to remark that it is perhaps not known to the American Government that the feelings of the Irish people toward Britain have during the war undergone a considerable change precisely because Britain has not attempted to violate our neutrality.

The Irish Government feels sure that the American Government would agree that it would be regrettable if any incident now should alter that happy result.

The Irish Government are therefore safeguarding, and will continue to safeguard, the interests of the United States, but they must in all the circumstances protect the neutrality of the Irish state and the democratic way of life of the Irish people. Their attitude will continue to be determined not by fear of any measures which could be employed against them but by good will and the fundamental friendship existing between the two peoples.

EIRE'S REPLY IRKS BRITISH

Yorkshire Post Calls Action "A Deliberate Rebuff"

London, Saturday, March 11 (AP). The British press deplored today Prime Minister Eamon de Valera's rejection of a United States Government request that Eire close the German legation and Japanese consulate in Dublin, and the Yorkshire Post characterized the Irish action as "a deliberate rebuff."

The Yorkshire Post said that "Mr. de Valera can be under no misapprehension about the strength of American feeling on [illegible] the necessity of closing the legations.

"His rejection of the American request can be construed only as a deliberate rebuff. The Irish suggestion that the American representations were couched in the form of an ultimatum can now be seen by everyone to be false and to have been adopted in all probability for the purposes of domestic propaganda.

Called Deplorable

"In this country de Valera's unstatesmanlike action will be deplored, and public opinion will not fail to admit and sympathize with the justice of the American contention."

The London Daily Sketch said: "Eire cannot legitimately claim that the United States and Britain are acting precipitately in requesting that southern Ireland should be cleared of Axis agents. After all the war has been in progress for over four and a half years and the request was bound to come in the end."

"We deplore de Valera's refusal to comply with the American request," said the Daily Mail. "Enemy agents in Dublin have for too long been able to spy on us almost on our own doorstep. They jeopardize the safety of free nations, among which Eire is numbered."

Approved In Dublin

The Irish in Dublin enthusiastically approved de Valera's point that the closing of the German and the Japanese establishments might be one step toward war, and maintained that they were going to retain their neutrality, dispatches reported.

A qualified Dublin observer said the fact that not one of Eire's political parties had advocated a belligerent status is the "best proof of the true feelings of the people."

"The people in Eire are in no mood at this stage of the war to invite possible Nazi raids against the country by such a slap in Hitler's face as the closing of the legations," he said.

The observer added that he believed the United States probably realized the request would be refused, but wanted to have the refusal on the record for possible post-war dealings.

U. S. ASKS EIRE TO BREAK LINK WITH GERMANY

America Moves to End Leak About Allied Troops in North Ireland.

BRITAIN APPROVES STEP

Roosevelt Reported to Have Told Irish Envoy No Question of Force Is Involved.

Belfast, Northern Ireland, March 10 (A. P.).—The United States has asked neutral Eire to close the German legation and the Japanese consulate as an anti-espionage measure to protect Allied troop movements in Northern Ireland.

Although a note presented late in February by David Gray, United States Minister to Eire, contained no ultimatum and no demand for southern Ireland bases, rumors arose that such demands had been made. A "stand to" by Eire's Army was ordered along the Ulster border from February 25 to February 28.

The British Government approved the American note, but the United States is handling the job of trying to plug this information outlet to the Axis which has been a source of worry to Washington and London for years.

News of the development reached Belfast early this week, but transmission was banned by British censorship until today.

One account said that following a conference with Mr. Gray at which the note was presented, Prime Minister Eamon De Valera immediately had the Irish Minister to Washington, Robert Brennan, contact President Roosevelt.

The President was reported to have assured Mr. Brennan there was no question of force and that the note simply was a request as a matter of urgency that something be done against the activities of Axis establishments in Eire.

NEW NIGHT ATTACK BY RAF INDICATED

Paris Radio Silenced—U. S. Bombers Take Day Off

London, March 10 (AP)—The Paris radio clicked off the air tonight, indicating that the RAF night bombers which last night blasted a Nazi airplane factory near Marseille, might have returned to deliver another blow at the German-dominated Continent.

An air-raid alarm sounded in Berlin today for several hours but no bombs were dropped, a Stockholm dispatch said. The alert presumably was caused by reconnaissance planes as American Flying Fortresses and Liberators took a day off after setting an endurance mark for large-scale heavy bombing by hitting the German capital four days out of six.

Travelers arriving in Malmoe, Sweden, from Germany said fires were still seen burning in Berlin today.

Marignane Bombed

The heavy British Lancaster bombers winged through a bright "bomber's moon" last night to hit Marignane in the wake of the American daylight pounding of Berlin. It was the RAF's third straight heavy bomber operation without the loss of a plane.

The German-controlled Scandinavian telegraph bureau quoted both German and Swedish air passengers as saying that American bombers attacked Berlin from all directions on Wednesday. The noise of the engines could be heard in deep air-raid shelters, they said, adding that the sky was "crowded with bombers."

Underground and elevated transportation systems were said to have been disrupted on both Wednesday and Thursday.

Key Factory Pounded

The RAF night blow was against a factory building six-engined flying boats and converting French planes into troop carriers which the Germans sorely need. It is a part of the plane-manufacturing "reserve" which the Germans left in France when they moved many plants and much equipment to Germany.

It was the third such attack for the RAF in just over a month. A similar force using the new six-ton "factory-buster" bombs hit the Gnore-Rhone airplane engine factory at Limoges February 8 and on March 2 plants near Paris and Albert in northern France were bombed.

"Bomber's Moon" Raids

The "bomber's moon" campaign has been devised to take advantage of the usual period when the RAF's night fleet is prevented by the bright light from making heavy attacks deep in the Continent.

The American heavy bombers and their escort fighter crews rested after making nine assaults in 11 days, nosing out the record pace of nine raids in 12 days set last month against a much easier assortment of targets. The RAF has not exceeded half a dozen raids in the same time, even during the battles of Hamburg and Berlin.

Goering was described as "utterly bewildered by the strength of the Allied aerial blows."

A United States communique last night said yesterday's blow against

RAF Pounds Plane Plant In France

MAR 11 1944

London, March 10 (AP)—Britain's four-engined Lancasters, striking again at Germany's aircraft production, reached far into Southern France last night and bombed the large factory at Marignane near Marseille, the Air Ministry announced today.

The RAF strike kept Allied aerial blows going around the clock following yesterday's bombings of Berlin through dense clouds by the American Eighth Air Force.

Already a shakeup of the top men of the German air force had been precipitated by the series of heavy assaults of Berlin in which at least 324 Nazi planes were destroyed, Swedish press dispatches reported.

Western Reich Hit

The Air Ministry communique said the factory at Marignane was attacked in bright moonlight and first reports indicated the bombing as accurate and concentrated.

At the same time Mosquitos, giving western German no ease, struck objectives in that area.

The Air Ministry said none of its planes was missing.

The Lancaster raid was the RAF's third night attack on German aircraft factories in France in a month.

Six-Ton Bomb Used

On February 8 a similar force using the new six-ton "factory-buster" bomb, hit the Gnome-Rhone plane-engine factory at Limoges, and on March 2 smashed at plants near Paris and Albert in northern France.

The Swedish dispatch, published in the London Daily Mail and quoting neutral sources, said that under a reorganization of Hitler's air command now in progress Reichsmarshal Hermann Goering would take a back seat and younger men with more specialized knowledge of fighter defense would come to power.

Called Bewildered

Berlin and a coordinated raid on unspecified objectives in central Germany—identified by the Berlin radio as Hannover—cost seven heavy bombers and one fighter, figures that contrasted sharply with 68 bombers and 11 fighters lost Monday.

Although the bombers and their escort plunged through heavy anti-aircraft fire to reach yesterday's targets, most of the German air force apparently was grounded.

Heavy Toll Admitted

Despite a heavy overcast yesterday, the American raiders bombed industrial targets "by means of scientific instruments," the communique said. A DNB broadcast said casualties were heavy.

It was the fourth time in six days that American bombers hit Berlin.

Those raids have cost 193 American planes, as against the minimum of 324 German planes destroyed.

No accurate assessment of the new punishment inflicted upon scarred Berlin by the Americans has yet become available, but a Stockholm dispatch quoted a traveler as declaring "It has ceased to be a capital or even a town."

905 Planes Bagged

The might of American air power was reflected in a United States Army announcement that the British-based Eighth Air Force and Italian-based 15th Air Force dropped 24,000 tons of bombs on Germany in February.

Escorting fighters knocked down 905 enemy planes during the month.

This Allied domination of the air over Germany has brought the "serious suggestion," the London Daily Mail said today, that American bombers striking into the Reich give radio warnings to German civilians to flee.

The newspaper said that warnings such as this be sent:

"This is the United States Strategic Bomber Force calling on the people of Berlin. At 12.30.5 today approximately 10,000 high explosive bombs will be rained on military objectives in your midst. Clear out."

Bomb Accuracy

'Stuns Berlin'

Stockholm, March 10 (AP)—Germans are convinced that American bombers "must have some new weapon" making possible such pinpoint accuracy as the awful destruction of the ball-bearing works and tank plants in Erkener, southern suburb of Berlin, a Swede arriving today from the ravaged capital said.

The Erkener works were a target of the American day raiders Wednesday. German dispatches said the bombers had penetrated to the very heart of the city yesterday, taking advantage of thick clouds.

Astonishing Accuracy

"There must have been more than 500 incendiaries landed on that factory," the eyewitness said of the ball-bearing works. "The whole place was covered and five or six blocks were blasted or gutted by fire. Berliners are astonished that such a small place could be hit so accurately."

The Swede said that he counted 120 big fires and that the whole district was in ruins. Skies above Berlin were an eerie red from fires.

Evacuation Plans

In another precision bombing Wednesday, the Swede said, a submarine parts plant at Wildau also was smashed. He said Propaganda Minister Goebbels, also Gauleiter of Berlin, had called a meeting of all district leaders, high-ranking party men, police and storm troop leaders to plan total evacuation of Berlin within the next few days should the daylight raids continue.

Berlin dispatches said the Americans on Thursday caused heavy damage to dwellings and hit three hospitals, the Hubertus, Rittsbergs and Hindenburg.

German Claims On Losses

German quarters said American losses were higher than the seven bombers and one fighter announced in London. They asserted that the losses were not greater because of the weather.

Foreign travelers leaving Berlin received Gestapo warnings not to talk or they would be barred from returning to Germany.

RESIDENTS OF BERLIN WATCH YANKS IN ACTION

STOCKHOLM, March 10.—(AP) Some residents of Berlin have so much confidence in the accuracy of American bombers sent against industrial targets that they climb onto roofs to watch the air battles, a traveler from the German capital said today.

"There is virtually no damage to the center of Berlin as a result of the American attacks," he said

"The Americans simply flew over the city to reach vital war targets such as the ball bearing works."

Good Reason For Berlin Bombing, F. D. R. Says

Washington, March 10 (AP)—President Roosevelt said today he is sure the American air forces in England have a good reason for their continued bombing of Berlin— and that they apparently are well satisfied with the results.

The Chief Executive closed with that comment a brief discussion at his press-radio conference of the terrific air assault on the German capital which has brought protests from some groups in both this country and in England.

These protests were not, however, directly mentioned in the exchange, which was touched off when the President was asked, "How complete has the destruction of Berlin been?"

The question itself brought a quick smile from the President, who observed first of all that he had not seen anybody from Berlin in a long, long time.

A reporter continued by saying there is a popular idea that Berlin has been pretty well destroyed and that people are asking, "Why do we continue to bomb it?"

Mr. Roosevelt replied with a question of his own, asking if it isn't up to the press to say why.

Another reporter suggested that perhaps the primary reason was to engage the German air forces.

Bishop Disapproves Protest

New York, March 10 (AP)—Bishop William T. Manning, of the Episcopal Diocese of New York, declared tonight that the protest against obliteration bombing of German cities issued by 28 American clergymen and writers "is spiritually and morally a gravely harmful one."

Bishop Manning's disapproval of the protest was voiced in a letter addressed to three New York newspapers, the Times, the Herald-Tribune and the Sun.

Called "Gravely Harmful"

"As a minister of the Christian church," the letter said, "may I express through your columns my profound disagreement with the position taken in the protest, a disagreement which, I believe, is shared by the vast majority of ministers of all churches of our land. I have great respect for the signers of the protest individually, but the protest which they have issued is spiritually and morally a gravely harmful one.

"It is morally confusing and weakening to our people at a moment when they need every support that religion can give them; it depreciates and casts a doubt upon the heroic service of the men in our armed forces who are giving their lives for us and for others; it gives aid and comfort to the aggressors and evildoers in this world conflict; it tends to discredit religion by giving the impression that the pacifist position is the true Christian position."

Pictures Show Leipzig Plane Plants Wrecked

London, March 10 (AP)—Aerial photographs taken after the February 20 bombing raids on aircraft factories in the Leipzig area show four important German fighter-bomber and bomber-transport factories so devastated that "production is completely suspended," the United States Army Air Force reported today.

"The results of the bombing constitute a severe blow at the German aircraft industry," the report said.

A United States Bomber Base, England, March 10 (A. P.).—The crew of the Flying Fortress "Round Trip Ticket" did a solo sightseeing flight over Berlin yesterday closer to the capital's pavement than the observation roof of a New York city skyscraper.

Lieut. Lyman D. Barkalow, 28 years old, of Xenia, Ohio, brought the damaged plane home almost two hours late, after skimming across Berlin, maneuvering through intense anti-aircraft fire and almost clipping corners off some of the tallest buildings. Due to oxygen equipment failure and the threat of enemy fighters, the plane flew the journey back at between 500 and 1,000 feet after dropping its bombs.

Unable to remain at a high altitude with the rest of his formation, Lieut. Barkalow dropped down through the clouds—and found himself smack over Berlin. Some quick figuring by Lieut. Stephen H. Maris, 27, of Little Rock, Ark., navigator, got them headed for home. JAMESON Doesn't See Much.

"A very low-hanging cloud prevented us from seeing much of the city, and besides we were all too busy to do much looking around," said Lieut. Mayer Taylor, bombardier, of Philadelphia, "but I saw one big building go by my nose so close we must have just missed it by inches."

Fire started in the top turret compartment, causing some anxious moments before being extinguished. Meanwhile, the crew threw everything but the guns overboard to lighten the load and conserve gas.

"The flak is pretty noisy up there at high altitudes, but brother you've had it when sailing along right over the gun tops," Lieut Taylor commented.

Lieut. Melton Fancher, 24, of West Blocton, Ala., co-pilot, described the clatter of low-altitude flak as "that noise a busy painter makes wielding a stiff wire brush on a tin roof."

ACE IS CONFIDENT OF VICTORY IN AIR

A FIGHTER BASE IN ENGLAND, March 10.—(AP) "Give us 15 more good days when we can get the Jerries up and I think it will mean the war is won as far as the Luftwaffe is concerned," Capt. Walker Mahurin, leading fighter ace in the European theater, said today.

While his prediction definitely was on the optimistic side it showed how American fighter pilots feel about this week's savage air battles during which the men flying Thunderbolts, Mustangs and Lightnings have shot down 197 enemy aircraft.

The former Fort Wayne, Ind., clerk's 20 victories are only six under the American World War II record of 26 held jointly by Marine Major Gregory Boyington, missing in action since last January, and Marine Major Joe Foss. Captain Eddie Rickenbacker topped America's aces in the last war, also with 26 triumphs.

Capt. Mahurin likes to see Berlin under his wing tips.

"It shows the trend more than anything else when we can go all the way in there and shoot them up," he observed. "We definitely have superiority now."

Capt. Mahurin frankly admitted he is "scared to death" on every flight. "I think a lot of us are," he added in the interview.

Flyer Tells Of Aiding Elliott

London, March 10 (AP)—Details became known here today of how an RAF flying officer saved Col. Elliott Roosevelt, son of the President, and General Smith from a forced landing recently when their plane became lost in a storm.

(The dispatch did not further identify General Smith, but Lieut. Gen. Walter B. Smith has been in the European theater as Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's chief of staff of supreme headquarters of the Allied Expeditionary Force.)

Guided Craft To Safety

The Roosevelt plane was unable to establish contact by radio, but RAF watchers realized the situation and the RAF sent out a plane piloted by Flying Officer John Kennedy. He located the lost plane and guided the craft to safety.

Colonel Roosevelt was quoted as saying "there is nothing to it" after publication of the rescue story in Canada and the United States yesterday, but his words apparently were meant to depreciate the importance of the incident rather than to deny it.

Revealed Through Letter

The incident first became known when Canadian Flying Officer Kennedy, stationed in England, wrote his parents in Southampton, Ont., that he had helped find a lost plane which Colonel Roosevelt and the General Smith were aboard.

(One or more words were deleted by censorship at eight places in this dispatch. A total of 29 words was stricken out.)

USAAF Explains Raid Phraseology

London, March 10 (AP)—To forestall guessing such as London newspapers indulged in concerning Wednesday's American raid on Berlin, the American Air Force has prepared a memorandum to the press on the phraseology of raid announcements.

Such terms have been adopted as "a very strong force" and "a strong force" as broad indications of whether the attacks are of major, medium or small proportions.

One London newspaper promoted Wednesday's American attack on Berlin to the greatest raid of all time although in announcing the daylight attacks the United States headquarters announcements had termed Monday's force as "very strong," and Wednesday's as "strong." This and all other indications hinted that Wednesday's attack was not so strong as Monday's assault which was estimated unofficially to have involved 850 bombers, but another London newspaper guessed that a force of 1,200 bombers made the Wednesday attack.

Yesterday's raid was described only as made by "heavy bombers."

London aerial writers were taken to task on behalf of the American Air Force by an RAF commentator at a press conference yesterday. His comments evoked a chorus of protests—none taking cognizance of the United States announcements' phraseology — that the United States Air Force had provided no guidance for estimates.

NAZI ACE KILLED

London, March 10 (A. P.).—The Paris radio said today that Lieut.-Col. Mayer, a German fighter ace credited with 102 air victories, had been killed in combat.

Mayer was cited recently by the Germans as the only surviving original member of the Richtofen Squadron, named for the German world I ace, Capt. Baron Manfred Richthofen, which has been operating along the channel coast.

The broadcast gave no details, but it was viewed here as likely that Mayer fell before American guns during the recent big daylight operations.

COMMANDO RAID ON ADRIATIC ISLE REVEALED BY NAZIS

MAR 11 1944

LONDON, March 10—(AP) The Berlin radio said today that 1,500 British and American Commandos —"under the command of General Churchill"—have landed on the tiny Adriatic island of Lissa, and that other raids on the Dalmatian coast and nearby islands may be expected.

The German reference to a "British general with the name of Churchill," suggested it might be Capt. Randolph Churchill, 32, Prime Minister Churchill's son who was recently reported to have parachuted into Yugoslavia to confer with Marshal Tito.

British sources said, however, they had no information about the reported landing or whether the raiders were led by Randolph Churchill. There has been no official announcement that American Rangers or British Commandos were in Yugoslavia.

The Germans said the landing was "probably designed" to secure the island—10 miles long and five miles wide—as a supply base "on behalf of Tito bands in southeast Europe," and added that it had yet to be determined whether the Commandos included the 2,000 Tito followers on Lissa.

The broadcast termed the raids of small military value but said they had propaganda value, "particularly towards the Tito bands which during the last few weeks have complained about the lack of British and American support."

Lissa is about 25 miles southwest of the Yugoslav port of Split and about 50 miles southwest of the nearest territory held by Tito's forces.

Lissa lies between Italy and Yugoslavia and is about twenty-five miles southwest of the Yugoslav port of Split and about fifty miles southwest of the nearest territory held by Partisan forces.

The broadcast communique from Marshal Broz today said his forces were pressing a determined offensive in Slovenia, in northern Yugoslavia, inflicting severe casualties and continuing a steady advance. It credited repeated successes to units attacking the Nazis between Ljubljana and Novo Mesto. Sharp fighting also was reported in Macedonia, where, the Partisans said, they were carrying the battle to German and Bulgarian troops.

The Text of the Broadcast.

"Events taking place at Lissa are of major interest. A British general with the name of Churchill arrived there a few days ago and has taken over command of Allied island troops.

"Whether these troops also include the Tito followers of whom there are about 2,000 on the island remains to be seen. At any rate, there are several American and British Commandos under the command of Gen. Churchill, comprising a total strength of about 1,500 men.

"These detachments are probably designed to secure the island as a supply base and to guard American and British supplies located on the island on behalf of the Tito bands in southeast Europe.

Minimize Importance.

"As these troops are solely comprised of single formations, so-called Commando raids must be expected at some points on the Dalmatian coast and on Dalmatian islands. These raids are of only small military value, but can well be exploited for reasons of propaganda, particularly toward Tito bands which, during the last few weeks, have complained about the lack of British and American support."

Lissa, an island about ten miles long and five miles wide, is in the Adriatic thirty miles off the important port of Split. It is 120 miles east of Italy's mainland.

Tito's broadcast communique today said his forces were pressing a determined offensive in Slovenia, in northern Yugoslavia, inflicting severe casualties, and are continuing a steady advance.

Say 1500 Commandos Are on Lissa Under 'Gen. Churchill'—Believe Force Will Raid Coast.

MAR 11 1944

London, March 10 (A. P.).—The Berlin radio said today that British and American Commandos under the command of "a British general with the name of Churchill" had landed on Lissa Island off the Dalmatian coast of Yugoslavia.

There was no confirmation here of the landing, but it was widely believed in London that the German broadcast was talking about Capt. Randolph Churchill, son of Prime Minister Churchill, who is reported to have gone to Yugoslavia, presumably dropping by parachute.

The broadcast said Capt. Churchill, son of the British Prime Minister, had taken command of Allied troops on the island, but it remained to be seen whether his forces would include 2,000 followers of Marshal Tito (Josip Broz) there.

Capt. Churchill, 32 years old, was the first member of Parliament to become a paratrooper. The Allies have been giving aid to Tito's Partisans, but there has been no official announcement of the presence of British Commando or American Ranger troops in Yugoslavia.

More Nazis Massed In Yugoslavia

By DANIEL DE LUCE

Bari, Italy, March 1 (AP—Delayed)—High officers of Marshal Tito's National Liberation army declared today that German forces in Yugoslavia had reached a new peak of strength, with elements of 20 divisions on duty.

Field Marshal General Albert Kesselring's offensive against the Anzio beachhead south of Rome drew the German 114th Infantry Division from Yugoslavia, but it was replaced by the 13th SS Division, which had been in training in the Reich, it was said.

The officers pointed out the German winter drive in Yugoslavia, meanwhile, had failed in its primary objective — destruction of Tito's army.

Nazis Paid Heavily

The officers further asserted that German occupation of nine important Dalmatian islands — Korcula, Brac, Hvar, Solta, Drvenik, Uljan and Pasman, in the Split area, and Krk and Cherso, near Fiume—cost the enemy a heavy expenditure of lives in fierce winter fighting, yet fell short of stopping Allied supplies from reaching the Partisans.

Recent Partisan recapture of the islands of Rab and Pag, south of Fiume, and attacks against German garrisons on other Dalmatian islands were cited as weaknesses of the so-called enemy stranglehold on sea communications.

Supply Lines Protected

Besides attempting to throttle the supply lines between Allied bases in Italy and liberated sections of Yugoslavia, the Germans also campaigned with varied results to establish the safety of their own rail communications through southern Slav territories.

Partisan officers said the heavy Allied air raids in Tito's support had whittled down the German air strength in Dalmatia and Bosnia to the lowest level of the war, but that the enemy was constructing fighter bases deep in the country to serve as a protective screen against anticipated gigantic bombings of Austrian and Hungarian targets in the spring.

Partisan officers said the National Liberation Army continues guerrilla tactics successfully, declining to be forced into a big defensive battle for position but always taking the initiative with attacks at the weak points in the enemy's flanks and rear.

brothers, have been killed while fighting for the fatherland, according to German radio reports heard here. No details were given as to the date or front on which they died.

Announcement of the death of the brothers who represented Germany in 1936 Olympics and held most of the country's ski championships, was made during a news report of the ski championship at St. Anton.

Another conspicuous absentee at the meet was Sister Christel, Germany's outstanding woman skiier. Radio reports said she no longer was competing, but gave no reason for her retirement.

Deputy Police Chief Of Brussels Slain

London, March 10 (A. P.).—Leon Deschaens, deputy police chief in Brussels was fatally shot in the street by an unidentified assailant today, a Berlin broadcast said.

NAZI SHIP SUNK

LONDON, March 10—(AP) Light British navy coastal forces attacked a German convoy off the Dutch coast today and sank a large auxiliary vessel, damaged a medium-sized tanker and silenced an escort vessel and set her afire, the Admiralty announced tonight. The British force returned safely to port without casualties, it said.

London, March 10 (A. P.).—Negotiations looking toward the settlement of differences between the Yugoslav Government-in-Exile and Marshal Tito (Joseph Broz), leader of the Yugoslav Partisan government, were expected to begin shortly as King Peter and two of his chief Ministers arrived in London today from Cairo.

Foreign Minister Josip Smodlaka of Tito's Partisan government was reported en route to London to participate in the conferences, called by the British Government.

Slavs Take Big Toll Of Nazis In Slovenia

London, March 10 (AP)—Yugoslav forces pressing a determined offensive in Slovenia have inflicted severe casualties upon the Germans and are continuing a steady advance, Marshal Josip Broz (Tito) announced today in a communique broadcast from his headquarters.

The bulletin credited repeated successes to units smashing at the Nazis between Ljubljana and Novo Mesto.

Sharp fighting also was reported in Macedonia, where the Partisans said they were carrying the battle to German and Bulgarian troops.

Parliament To Invite Group From Congress For A Visit

MAR 11 1944 HOWARD — COWAN

London, March 10 (AP)—The British Parliament, on its next sitting day, will invite the Congress of the United States to send a delegation of members for a visit of several weeks as guests of the British Government, it was disclosed today.

The project already has been discussed in Washington by Major A. N. Braithwaite, M. P., who recently returned from the United States, the announcement said.

All-Party Motion

The historic all-party motion which will start the machinery for the visit reads: "That this House, desiring to promote closer association between the British Parliament and the Congress of the United States, requests Mr. Speaker on its behalf to invite the Congress of the United States to send a delegation of its members to visit Parliament at as early a date as may be convenient."

The size of the delegation will be left to Congress, which, it is understood, will accept the invitation. The delegation is to include Democrats, Republicans and members of the minority parties in both houses.

Women members of the Congress will almost certainly be included, it was reported.

To Visit Troops Also

Although Prime Minister Churchill has addressed the Congress, political commentators believe it will be impossible for any of the visiting Congressmen to make speeches in the House of Commons.

"Plenty of other opportunities will, however, be found for them," one commentator wrote tonight. "It is probable that a big meeting at which members of Parliament and the House of Lords, representing all parties, will be present, will be arranged in some suitable hall."

Trips will be scheduled to permit the visiting Congressmen to inspect United States troops in Britain and to get a glimpse of the British war effort.

100,000 Miners Strike In Britain

London, March 10 (AP)—Britain's rate of coal loss from the South Wales strike rose to 500,000 tons a week today as the number of strikers increased to 100,000, and the Ministry of Fuel and Power described the situation as "just a little worse" with prospects for a week-end settlement no better than even.

The strikers went to the pits today—but not to work. It was a "collar-and-tie" appearance at the colliery offices to draw pay due.

Meeting Today

The next move to settle the dispute, the worst coal field strike since 1926, when the Government took over the mines, is set for tomorrow at Cardiff, where delegates of miners' locals will hear the details of the Government's proposals to remove some of the main causes of the walkout.

These include a graduated system of wage allowance above the minima to meet special conditions. Union leaders said the miners did not fully understand the Government concessions.

Thirteen members of Parliament from coal field districts are to be present to underscore the nation's drastic need for maximum production and to urge a return to work pending arbitration.

Seizure Of Coal Mines Hinted In Britain

London, March 10 (AP)—The British war Cabinet let it be known today that firm action will be taken to halt the coal strike, which has virtually paralyzed the rich South Wales minefields, unless the nearly 100,000 miners now idle return at once to the pits.

There was no official indication what the action would be, but labor leaders said the Government was prepared to take over the mines as it did during the general strike of 1926.

Mass Meetings Called

Arthur Horner, president of the powerful Welsh Miners' Union, returned to Cardiff last night after a day-long meeting with Fuel Minister Gwilym Lloyd George and immediately appealed to the miners to resume work pending future negotiations to settle their wage complaints.

Miners' delegates, meanwhile, went forward with plans for a conference Saturday, at which they will discuss concessions already won, and issued a call for a series of workers' mass meetings Sunday.

Unoin leaders said he miners did not fully understand the concessions which were granted Wednesday when the Fuel Minister approved an agreement between the operators and men advancing the piece-rate scale and providing extra allowances for those forced to work in water or heavy dust.

Thirteen members of Parliament from labor districts will go through the mining districts over the week-end to explain the concessions, which, it was said, will net the miners between seven and eight million pounds ($28,000,000 to $32,000,000) annually.

It is estimated that the strike now is costing Britain about 80,000 tons of badly needed coal daily. A total of 165 pits in the Welsh fields have been closed and the strike spread yesterday to nine Scottish pits, where 7,000 workers walked out.

'Shelter Legs'

London, March 10 (AP)—Women who spend their nights sleeping in deck chairs in air raid shelters are in danger of being afflicted with "shelter legs"—an unsightly swelling of the lower limbs—says The Lancet, a medical journal.

The malady, the journal said, is "caused by pressure during relaxation of the muscles, giving rise to chronic lymphatic obstruction."

Stiffness of the ankle joints, as well as a hard swelling below the knees, often results.

Penicillin Cures Described To British

London, March 10 (AP)—Experiments in the United States indicate that penicillin may cure syphilis rapidly, Dr. A. H. Harkness, vice president of the Medical Society for Study of Veneral disease, told the Royal Institute of Public Health and Hygiene.

Dr. Harkness said it was too early to be sure that the apparent swift cures were permanent, but that from all he had been able to learn, there was a good chance they might be.

He said he knew of no similar work yet being done in the United Kingdom.

RETREATING NAZIS LEAVE TANKS, GUNS MIRED NEAR UMAN

YARBROUGH

14 German Divisions Routed by Drive in Middle of Southern Front.

20,000 OF FOE SLAIN

Red Troops Sweep Ahead 44 Miles in Five Days of Battle.

LONDON, Saturday, March 11.—(AP) Moscow announced yesterday that the Red army had opened a third great offensive in the Ukraine and had sent 14 Nazi divisions into such headlong retreat that they abandoned all their equipment—including 1,100 mired tanks and big guns—and lost 20,000 men killed.

The new offensive, heading south in the middle of the southern front, broke through on a 109-mile line, overran 300 populated places, including the pivotal stronghold of Uman and resulted in the capture of 2,500 Germans, the Russians said.

Announced by Stalin

The announcement was first made by Premier Marshal Joseph Stalin in an order of the day and later information was given in the Moscow communique and its midnight supplement—all recorded by the Soviet monitor from broadcasts.

The latest Soviet report, which revised the number of German divisions routed upward from ten to 14, said the German units in flight included one artillery, six tank and seven infantry divisions.

"The true scale of the German defeat can be judged from the huge quantity of trophies captured by our troops," the late bulletin said. "Weapons, equipment and military supplies were strewn on the whole course of the road from the Gniloi Tikich river to the town of Uman. All the roads were packed with enemy tanks, self-propelled guns, armored troop carriers and trucks."

Five Divisions Flee

Five German "Adolf Hitler tank divisions" which "were intended to stop our offensive" were "compelled to abandon all their military and technical equipment and flee," said the Soviet daily communique, recorded by the Soviet monitor.

This third offensive already has rolled forward from 25 to 44 miles in five days, Stalin announced, thus setting ablaze the entire Russian southern front along a curving battleground more than 500 miles long. It joined offensives already under way to the east above Nikolaev and Kherson and to the west in the region of Tarnopol.

The Germans were retreating on each of the three big fronts as the Red army mounted a supreme effort to throw them back into Rumania and Poland or cut them to pieces if they should elect to make a stand in the Ukraine.

The latest push directed by newly-promoted Marshal Ivan S. Konev, commander of the Second Ukrainian front, was pushing south toward Bessarabia from the top of the German salient into the Dneiper bend.

On his right were the First Ukrainian front forces under Marshal Gregory K. Zhukov moving into southern Poland and toward Rumania and on his left were the Third Ukrainian front troops of Gen. Rodion Y. Malinovsky.

Street Battle in Tarnopol

Zhukov's forces "continued to fight street battles in the town of Tarnopol," the communique said, while his left wing captured the district center of Khmelniki and more than 30 other populated places. Khmelniki is on the Ukrainian Bug river, 34 miles northwest of Vinnitsa. Also captured was the rail station of Uladovka, 22 miles northwest of Vinnitsa.

Malinovsky's troops swept up 150 more communities in the area west of Krivoi Rog, the communique said, and "retreating under the blows of our troops, the enemy is suffering huge losses of men and material." The Russians captured Novgorodka, a district center 21 miles southeast of Kirovograd, and the rail station of Kazanka, 75 miles northeast of Nikolaev.

Stalin's announcement of the

drive by Konev's forces ordering a victory salute of 20 salvoes from 224 guns, came only a few hours after the Germans broadcast a communique saying they had "abandoned" Uman "during heavy fighting."

Details of Victory Drive

The order of the day gave these details of the newly announced push:

The Russians advanced from 25 to 44 miles through the 109-mile gap.

They captured 300 localities including Uman, 95 miles northwest of Kirovograd, and Babanka, 10 miles southeast; also Talnoye, 25 miles northeast of Uman, Buki, 26 miles northeast, Mankovka, 18 miles northeast, Monastyrishche, 27 miles northwest and Khristanovka, 15 miles northwest.

The Russians captured more than 500 tanks and self-propelled guns, of which over 200 were Tigers, Panthers and Ferdinands "in good working order; about 600 field guns and 12,000 trucks," Stalin said.

The Uman offensive began last Monday, the order of the day indicated, simultaneously with Malinovsky's attack from Krivoi Rog in the east. Both of these drives began a day after Zhukov opened the great battle of southern Russia with a strong offensive from Shepetovka which now has reached Tarnopol.

Moscow reports have continually emphasized the Red army's tremendous difficulties in advancing through unusually heavy mud but nevertheless have announced steady progress and have said the Germans were being deprived of great quantities of heavy equipment which they were unable to drag back through the clinging mire.

From the southeastern corner of pre-war Poland to the mouth of the Dnieper the Germans were being pounded back and six important cities were threatened—Tarnopol, Proskurov, Vinnitsa, Odessa, Nikolaev and Kherson. In addition, continued Russian success may have serious repercussions among the Balkan satellites of Adolf Hitler.

109-MILE GAP IS CUT IN FOE'S UKRAINE FRONT

Railhead of Uman Captured in Great New Russian Drive in South

MAR 11 1944

10 GERMAN DIVISIONS ROUTED

20,000 Enemy Troops Reported Killed as Soviet Units Gain 44 Miles in Five Days.

London, March 10 (A. P.).—Premier Stalin announced tonight that the Russians had torn a 109-mile gap in the German lines in a third great Ukrainian offensive, had heavily defeated ten Nazi divisions, had seized 1,100 Nazi tanks and big guns and had captured the pivotal German stronghold of Uman, near the center of the southern front.

This third offensive has rolled forward by from twenty-five to forty-four miles in five days, Stalin announced in an order of the day, and tonight's official communique from Moscow added that more than 20,000 Germans have been killed in the new drive.

Stalin's Order of the Day revealed the capture of Uman shortly after the German High Command had announced its "abandonment in the course of heavy fighting."

500-mile Front Ablaze.

The new offensive set ablaze the entire Russian southern front along a curving battleline more than 500 miles long. It joined offensives already under way to the east, above Nikolave and Kherson, and to the west in the region of Tarnopol. The Germans were retreating on each of the three big fronts as the Russians mounted a supreme effort to throw them back into Rumania and Poland or cut them to pieces if they should elect to make a stand in the Ukraine.

The captured city of Uman, a railhead midway between Vinnitsa and Kirovograd, and twenty-five miles east of the River Bug, lies at the hinge between the two Russian drives aimed southward at the Black Sea naval base of Nikolaev and westward into Poland.

Stalin's Order of the Day, broadcast by the Moscow radio and picked up here, declared that the new break-through at Uman had swept up 300 occupied places.

Khristinovka, fifteen miles west of Uman, also was captured, Stalin said, along with Talnoe, which lies eighteen miles southwest of Zvenigorodka.

Stalin ordered a twenty-salvo salute from 224 guns to roar out in Moscow tonight in celebration of this newest victory.

Whole Front Ablaze.

Last night's communique from Moscow reported the whole south Ukrainian front ablaze with Russian offensives.

The southward push, Moscow said, has resulted in the capture of Staro-Konstantinov, the storming of the inner defenses of Tarnapol and the breaching of the German lines guarding the Black Sea ports of Nikolaev and Kherson.

Most spectacular of the day's development was the disclosure by Premier Stalin of a new Russian drive launched by Gen. Rodion Y. Malinovsky southwest of Krivoi Rog.

Eight thousand Germans were killed and 1,000 captured in this advance, the Russian communique asserted. Nazi forces were driven back from nineteen to thirty-seven miles, abandoning huge stocks of war material, including sixty-seven tanks, 175 guns and more than 2,000 trucks. More than 200 localities were liberated by Gen. Malinovsky's troops, the bulletin added.

Capture of Staro-Konstantinov, twenty-six miles north of Proskurov, by Marshal Gregory K. Zhukov's First Ukranian Army netted large stocks of war material, Moscow said. It left the Germans in this sector only a twenty-mile corridor along the railway south to Proskurov as a retreat route toward Rumania. Proskurov itself was threatened with capture by Red Army troops last reported only seven miles away.

London, March 10 (AP)—The German radio announced today that Nazi troops had abandoned Uman, one of their strong bases in the western Ukraine.

Uman, a rail head, lies about midway between Vinnitsa and Kirovograd and about 25 miles east of the Bug river. It is at the hinge between the Russian drive toward Nikolaev and the other Soviet southern Ukrainian drive into old Poland on the west.

Reds Use Cavalry

Moscow, March 10 (AP)—The Red army took to horses in the deepening mud of the Ukraine today as the offensives of Gen. Rodion Y. Malinovsky and Marshal Gregory K. Zhukov rolled the Germans back on a 340-mile-long front from the streets of Tarnopol to the outer defenses guarding the Black Sea ports of Nikolaev and Kherson.

It is fully apparent that the last Nazis are being chased from the southwestern corner of the Soviet Union, but only under tremendous difficulties, front line dispatches to the Moscow newspapers Red Star and Izvestia said. They reported the whole area was one great inland sea of mud and water.

Germans Fall Back

The German garrison in Odessa was said to be feeling the pressure of the growing offensives as remnants of battered German divisions commenced falling back upon Nikolaev, Kherson and the outposts of Odessa, where only speedy evacuation can save thousands of Nazis from entrapment. GILMORE

From the Third Ukrainian front, commanded by Malinovsky, came reports emphasizing the use of cavalry and small groups of infantry with light mortars. In many places Red army horsemen, charging through the mud and flooded streams, have isolated large German units from their headquarters staffs, these advices said.

Retreat "Disorganized"

Red Star dispatches said bluntly that the German retreat had become "disorganized."

The Nazis were still holding one escape route westward from the Dnieper bend—the railway running from Novo Ukraine and Pomoshnaya just below Kirovograd to Pervomaisk, from where two lines run west to Slobodzeya and Rudnitsa on the Odessa-Warsaw trunk railway.

But strategically the Germans have lost the Dnieper bend and their purpose now is to see what they can save in men and equipment.

Concentrate On Railway

Zhukov, dispatches said, appeared intent on consolidating his forces along the Odessa-Warsaw railway. His newest thrusts, following the capture yesterday of Staro-Konstantinov and the Kazatin region, apparently are aimed at filling out the sector which lies southeast of the junction town of Proskurov.

Capture of Staro-Konstantinov, 26 miles north of Proskurov, netted large stocks of war material, Moscow said in a bulletin reported in London. Proskurov itself was threatened with capture by Red army troops last reported only seven miles away.

Tarnopol Stormed

Marshal Zhukov's right wing made short work of the Tarnopol defenses, Russian advices indicated. Previously reported nine miles from that key rail junction, Red army infantry, buttressed by tank units, swept over enemy lines, "burst into the town and engaged the enemy in street fighting," the Moscow bulletin said.

Pravda Charges Nazis Remobilize Prisoners

Moscow, March 10 (AP)—German soldiers taken prisoner by the British and then exchanged for British troops captured by the Nazis have been remobilized and sent to the Russian front in violation of international law, the newspaper Pravda charged today.

Pravda printed a signed statement obtained from a German prisoner, Corporal Karl Wilde, of the 1st Battalion, 257th Regiment, 83d Division, who said he figured in an exchange of "healthy prisoners" between Britain and Germany and was then sent to the Russian front.

This is the second case of the kind reported in the Russian press and Pravda published the Wilde statement under the headline "Hitlerites Violate International Laws."

Wilde said in his statement that he was captured in the summer of 1942 near El Alamein and interned in a camp near Port Said. Here, he added, Swiss and Swedish officials checked the list of prisoners and sent 800 healthy and 400 wounded to Barcelona on two British ships, where an exchange was effected.

Civil War Seen If Finns Okay Russ Terms

Stockholm, March 10 (AP)—Acceptance of Russia's original armistice demands might precipitate civil war in Finland, Eric Lindquist, foreign editor of the Swedish newspaper Morgon Tidningen, reported today after a trip to Helsinki.

While Finland was reported awaiting Moscow's reaction to a revised Finnish answer to the Russian terms, Lindquist reported Finnish public opinion was so unprepared for peace that only one person was capable of uniting the people in their current dilemma. This person, he said, was Field Marshal Baron Carl Gustaf Mannerheim, the Finnish commander in chief.

Unaware Of Predicament

There is strong opposition to the Government's attempts to get out of the war, not so much because of any feeling of friendliness for the Nazis as because the long blackout of information had left a great segment of the population unaware of the nation's real predicament.

"One must hope that Russia understands Finland's internal situation which is beset by difficulties which could lead to an enormous split in the nation," the Swedish editor wrote.

Hopes Called Dim

The same note was struck today in the Stockholms-Tidningen editorial which said, "It is best that there not be great hopes for peace because the practical difficulties involved are very big."

Meanwhile, the latest reports from Finland indicated that the Finns in their revised answer to the Russians sought more precise information on the Russian terms. The original answer, flatly rejecting Russian demands for internment of German troops in Finland and withdrawal to the 1940 frontiers, was reported to have been withdrawn for revision.

Reports Comfort Nazi Press

WERNER

Lisbon, March 10 (AP)—The German press appears to be trying to find some comfort in the fact that American repatriates recently released from internment at Baden-Baden reported that Germans living in that area seemed to be adequately fed and that their morale evidently was unbroken.

The Berlin Boersen-Zeiting, for instance, featured a story by its correspondent at Lisbon—whence the Americans recently sailed for home on the exchange liner Gripsholm—that the repatriates agreed "it would be nonsense to believe for one minute that Germany is starving."

Grim Editorial

"Many even declared that civilian morale had been strengthened by the terror attacks of English and American bombers," the correspondent wrote.

At the same time Das Schwarze Korps, organ of the S. S. (Elite Guard), printed a grim editorial declaring that while Germans may be weary of the war they should remember that the Allies may also be "sick and tired" of the conflict.

Describes Stage Of War

Likening the present stage of the war to the last half mile of a difficult mountain climb, the organ said:

"We can be blunt for a change and say that in the fifth year we are really fed up with the whole war . . . . The danger is the tendency of Germans to forget the other side is getting tired, too. In the first World War the enemy was more than once within a hair's-breadth of collapse, but we didn't see it. . . .

"This time Germany must remember that while her enemies—particularly the United States—are better off in some respects, they are getting tired, too, and in the last analysis, victory means simply holding out one day longer than the enemy."

RAID ON VITERBO BARES OLD MURDER

MAR 11 1944

Lisbon, March 10 (A. P.).—A murder mystery 400 years old has been uncovered in the Italian city of Viterbo by Allied aerial bombs, according to a Rome dispatch appearing in a copy of the Hamburger Fremdenblatt received here today.

The dispatch said that the bodies of two men and a woman, all with fractured skulls and clad in sixteenth century dress, were found in the sarcophagus of a cardinal when preparations were being made to move it from a bomb-damaged church. The cardinal died in the thirteenth century, and 300 years later a murderer, the dispatch added, apparently hid the bodies in the sarcophagus.

Italian Leader Is Satisfied Reds Will Not Get His Ships

By JOSEPH MORTON

NAPLES, March 10—(AP) The Badoglio government announced tonight that it had received satisfactory assurances from an official American source that no transfer of Italian warships to American, British or Soviet ownership is implied in the current discussions concerning assignment of Italy's fleet to the various war theaters.

Expressing appreciation to President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Churchill for their "clarifications," a statement from Marshal Badoglio's office said that this would make Italy's 100 warships an effective force toward the defeat of Germany.

Indignation Sweeps Navy

The misapprehension that President Roosevelt had announced that Italy's ships were to be divided among the United States, Britain and Russia had caused the Italian navy to seethe with indignation, although it remained calm on the surface and performed its duties without interruption.

During a three-day visit to the headquarters of the Italian navy early this week I found that men of all ranks, including some of the navy's most important, opposed unequivocally turning over any ships to Russia.

They agreed, however that a satisfactory plan could be worked out under which British or American war vessels might be turned over to Russia in lieu of Italian craft. They are adamant in their determination that any Italian craft assigned to Russia be manned by Italian crews and permitted to fly the Italian flag.

"These men want to keep our fleet intact," an Italian admiral told me, pointing out that its present duties, while unspectacular, were releasing an equivalent tonnage of Allied vessels for duties elsewhere.

The admiral said that the active cooperation of the Italian fleet with the Allies began with the fall of Naples when four or five Italian submarines were sent there so their generators could supply power to the shattered city.

Activities Expanded

Since then the activities of the Italian navy have expanded until at present a large number of Italian vessels and torpedo craft are cooperating with the Allies. Italian ships have been used both in the Mediterranean and outside, and have participated in attacks on German shipping.

The antagonism of the Italian navy to Russia is difficult to trace to its roots, but unquestionably much of it stems from loyalty to King Vittorio Emmanuele and the House of Savoy. This feeling is so strong that serious repercussions would occur if a new Italian government is formed excluding the King, I was told.

The Italian naval base at Taranto, which has about the same importance to Italy as Norfolk, Va., has to the U. S., is likewise being operated by Italian personnel. Its three graving docks, half a dozen floating dry docks and numerous shops are humming with activity. The administrative staff, including 30 admirals, is supervising coastal defenses, port control and other shore functions in addition to directing ships afloat.

RUSSIA TO GET ALLIED SHIPS

F. D. R. Hints U. S. Or British Craft Will Be Transferred

Washington, March 10 (AP)—American and British warships will be turned over to the Russian navy to satisfy Soviet wartime claims on the Italian fleet, informed reports said today. They were apparently borne out by statements from President Roosevelt.

At the Chief Executive's press-radio conference, the gist of these reports—as related in an Associated Press dispatch—was read by a reporter who asked for comment.

Mr. Roosevelt replied that it was a matter of military strategy which ships were going where and perhaps he had better not say.

Along the same line, however, he told the newsmen emphatically that there was no conflict whatsoever between what he has said and what Prime Minister Churchill has said about the Italian fleet.

Key Words Cited

It would have been apparent all along that there was no controversy, he asserted, if some reports of what he said a week ago had not left out certain key words.

"Were those key words 'or the equivalent'?" a reporter asked.

They were, Mr. Roosevelt agreed.

The President first disclosed last Friday that Moscow had made a claim on the Italian navy since Marshal Badoglio's surrender was to Britain, the United States and Russia. He said it had been half-decided to transfer to the Red navy about one third of the Italian fleet or the equivalent.

Disquiet In Italy

[The Associated Press account for morning papers of March 4 reported the words "or equivalent," said they were not expressly clarified, and added that they left the possible implication the Russians "might take some other types of war materials of equivalent value, rather than ships "or" if ships of the categories desired by the Russians are not available in required numbers, Britain or the United States might supply them."]

In some quarters the President's remarks were interpreted to mean there was to be an immediate three-way splitup of the Italian fleet and some disquiet was stirred in Italy and Britain with the result that Prime Minister Churchill discussed the matter in Commons yesterday.

As the situation now stands, the Associated Press learned here today, the plan is to assign a dozen or more British and American warships to Russia while keeping the Italian fleet intact in the Mediterranean where it now is operating under Allied direction.

Convoy Craft Needed

It appears the Russians could best use additional seapower on convoy routes to northern ports.

On the basis of what has been disclosed concerning the surrendered Italian fleet, it appears the Russian claim would embrace one or two battleships, two to four cruisers, nine destroyers and several submarines and smaller craft.

On convoy work, the Soviets could best use destroyers and other lighter vessels, and translating the Russian claim into "equivalent" is reported to be the major unsolved question now in the whole matter.

Fleet Statement Correct, Says Roosevelt

Washington, March 10 (AP)—President Roosevelt asserted today that what he and Prime Minister Churchill had said about disposition of the Italian fleet was correct, that no controversy could be made of it and that he would violate military security by discussing what vessels might go to various places.

Mr. Roosevelt spoke in response to a question at a press-radio conference whether there was anything further that might be said about the status of the Italian fleet, since "considerable comment, controversy or discussion" has arisen.

Announcement A Week Ago

The President announced a week ago that a third of the Italian fleet, or its equivalent, might be turned over to Russia.

The President remarked that quite a lot of people had omitted some of his key words and he agreed with a reporter that those words were:

"Or the equivalent."

Unearthed By Newsmen

The story of the partition of the Italian fleet came out because newsmen followed a Presidential clue.

President Roosevelt told his news conference on February 22, in reply to queries about a call he had received from the Russian Ambassador, that Marshal Stalin had sent him a question and that he was trying to find out about it.

At the President's March 3 conference, the news broke something like this:

A reporter asked—A week or two ago you said you were trying to find the answer to a question. Did you have any luck?

Reminded Of Subject

Mr. Roosevelt—What was the question?

Reporters—We don't have the question. You said you were looking up the answer to a question Marshal Stalin asked you through the Ambassador.

Mr. Roosevelt—Oh, that. It's rather old, and it isn't settled yet—what particular ships would go to the Russians from the Italian navy, or whether, if we didn't want to send those, equivalent ships should go. It's been about one-half decided.

Everything To Benefit War

Question—Is there going to be a distribution of the Italian navy?

Mr. Roosevelt—You know, we're in a war, and during the war we are going to run everything that floats for the benefit of the war. We will do something after the war of a more permanent nature.

Question—Will they be manned by Italians?

Mr. Roosevelt—That depends on the ships and the circumstances. Some might and some might not.

Question—Does this date back to your meeting with Stalin?

Mr. Roosevelt—That dates back further than that. That dates back to the surrender of Italy.

Roughly One-Third Basis

Question — What was determined?

Mr. Roosevelt—The thought was this. There was a certain number of ships that came to the Allies after the Italian surrender. In that surrender, Russia was a party. Italy surrendered to Russia, Britain and ourselves, and we acquired certain materials of war; in this connection, some ships. We will do the thing in a logical way. It will be roughly on a one third basis. The question is whether Russia will use some Italian ships or their equivalent.

Badoglio Pleased By Fleet Statement

Naples, March 10 (AP)—Premier Pietro Badoglio expressed gratification today at Prime Minister Churchill's statement on disposition of the Italian fleet. A spokesman for Badoglio's Government said "the incident is closed."

Churchill told Commons yesterday that the transfer of warships to Russia from either America or Britain, or from the Italian navy, had been under consideration—but that the question of ultimate disposal of Italy's ships might not be settled until the war ends. He said "at present no chance is contemplated" in arrangements under which Italian ships, with Italian crews, are cooperating in the war.

Previously, Badoglio had expressed distress at reports 'there were plans to divide the Italian fleet among the United States, Britain and Russia.

GERMAN ATTACKS HALTED BY YANKS IN ANZIO SECTOR

KENNEDY

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, Naples, March 10.—(AP) Two small but vicious German stabs at American positions southeast of Carroceto on the Anzio beachhead were repulsed by Yank infantry at dawn yesterday, leaving no-man's land so clustered with enemy dead and wounded that German details required several hours to remove them under a Red Cross flag of truce.

The two attacks gained not a yard of ground, reported Associated Press Correspondent George Tucker from the beachhead. Other advices from that tense sector reiterated that the Nazis were making extensive troop movements around the beachhead perimeter, almost certainly in preparation for a fourth major try at driving the Allies into the sea.

Supplementing yesterday's estimate that 40,000 casualties had been inflicted upon the Germans in Italy since Jan. 22, when the landing was made at Anzio, headquarters announced that the total of Nazi prisoners taken in Italy now had passed 15,000. Of these, 3,000 were taken on the beachhead and 1,500 in and around Cassino.

German shelling of the beachhead has dwindled to its lowest point in over a month, with only some 20 shells daily from long-range guns now falling in Anzio and vicinity. There were periods when these guns poured some 200 big projectiles per day into the 100-square-mile area. Allied attack planes have blasted many enemy guns into small pieces. Warhawk pilots reported hitting two of them yesterday.

The weather continued bad throughout central Italy, sharply limiting ground action, but floods were receding in the Cassino sector, where streams were out of their banks a few days ago.

Fighting Slows On Italian Fronts

Allied Headquarters, Naples, March 10 (AP)—Activity on all battle fronts in Italy dwindled to minor patrol operations yesterday in the face of severe weather, Allied headquarters announced today.

Allied aircraft managed to get into the air, however, for 900 sorties. Medium bombers again attacked shipping and other targets at Santo Stefano and Montalto di Castro northwest of Rome. Light bombers hit enemy gun positions at Campoleone back of the Anzio beachhead and the railway at Capranica.

Two Planes Missing

Approximately 30 enemy aircraft were sighted over the battle area during the day, the announcement said. Two Allied planes are missing.

Headquarters announced that the total of Germans captured on all fronts in Italy since the Salerno landings last September has now passed 15,000. Three thousand of these were taken on the beachhead and 1,500 in and around Cassino.

Skirmishes occurred between patrols at various points yesterday on the beachhead, one of them in the ravines of the Moletta river southwest of Carroceto. In another area British soldiers shot down an enemy fighter plane with small arms fire.

Alexander Pleased

A delayed dispatch released last night quoted General Sir Harold Alexander, Allied commander in Italy, as telling war correspondents on a visit to the beachhead March 4 that the situation there now is "very much better" than three weeks before.

Yesterday's air war brought the first announcement of P-39 Airacobras carrying bombs. They blasted a fuel-carrying train at Montalto di Castro and the airfield at Marina di Pisa, a few miles up the coast from Leghorn.

U. S. Bombers Raid Rome, Striking at Two Rail Yards

Main Supply Line Cut in Two Places by Daylight Attack.

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, Naples, March 10.—(AP) Fighter-escorted American medium bombers attacked railroad yards in Rome again today and heavy damage was reported.

(The Nazi-controlled Rome radio said "a large number of houses were hit and it is feared casualties are high." The broadcast made the claim, unsupported in Allied announcements, that two of the raiders crashed in flames near the outskirts of the city. The Swiss radio, meanwhile, quoted the German commander of Rome as saying that Rome was considered an open city and had no anti-aircraft guns.)

The Tiburtina yards in Rome's eastern suburbs were hit by Marauders escorted by American-piloted Spitfires and rolling stock and warehouses were declared blasted.

Thunderbolt-escorted Mitchells struck the Littorio yards on the northern limits of the city. The Littorio yards were bombed last Tuesday.

Photographs indicated that the main rail line from Rome to Florence, down which the Germans have been sending supplies to troops fighting the Allied Fifth army, had been cut in two places by bombs from the Mitchells attacking the Littorio yards. Fifteen to 20 railway cars appeared to have been destroyed in the yards.

Crewmen returning from the Tiburtina yards attack expressed confidence heavy damage was done there.

"The bombing was as perfect as could be, all in the right area," said one returning crewman. "I saw some warehouse explode and flames shoot up, then the whole thing came right apart."

London, March 10 (A. P.).—Rome was heavily bombed today, the German-controlled Rome radio said tonight. It was indicated that the raid was one of the heaviest the capital has undergone.

In previous heavy raids on the Italian capital, American airmen have blasted at the city's railway centers and outlying air fields.

ROME IS STRUCK BY NEW HEAVY RAID

Catholic Bishop Warns Allies on Attacking Rome

Hurley Says Nazis Set Trap to Hurt American Prestige

ST. AUGUSTINE, Fla., March 10 (AP).—The Most Rev. Joseph P. Hurley, Bishop of the Catholic Diocese of St. Augustine, charged today that "our Nazi enemies" set the "most dangerous booby trap of history" in Rome in an effort to lure the American Army into it.

"If we spring this trap, so cunningly prepared by the arch-criminals of our times," he said in an article in today's "Florida Catholic," "we shall destroy not only the city of the Popes and the capital of Christendom, with all that it holds so sacred to the Christian heart, but we shall destroy our own prestige and thereby make a decent peace almost impossible."

Bishop Hurley said countless millions in Europe and South America would "turn resolutely" from a country, which, despite Christian professions, used the Prussian plea of military necessity and "dared to raze the beloved shrines of the Christian centuries."

He said the Allied armies already are in an "excellent strategic position" in south Italy and that there could be no question of saving American lives.

PRISONERS DIE BY OWN MINES

TUCKER

Two Lost, but U. S. Patrol Brings In Third.

On the Anzio Beachhead, Italy, March 9 (Delayed) (A. P.).—An American patrol that penetrated into German territory last night accomplished its mission by capturing three prisoners for questioning, but lost two through death when the patrol wandered into a minefield.

"We had ten men in our patrol," said Pfc. Guadalepe Merquez of San Diego, Cal. "We started out about 1 A. M. and got about 900 yards beyond our lines. About then we ran into a German outpost and they opened up with flares and shells."

Private Charles Oliver of Dorchester, Mass., chimed in:

"The Germans scattered, but one ran right into us and we made him our prisoner."

Private Merquez said that they were anxious to get the prisoner back for questioning without delay. But they bumped into a machine-gun nest with three Germans in it.

There to Stay.

"I never saw such a hole," he said. "It was at least 7 feet deep and those boys were prepared to stay.

"They had quilts, blankets and boxes of provisions. The lieutenant ordered the Germans to surrender. There was no answer and he sprayed the hole with a tommygun.

"One of the Germans jumped out and I had to shoot him. Another came out with hands raised and surrendered, but the third was dead."

Private Oliver said they then came to two houses which the Germans had occupied.

"They had a machinegun on the porch and when they sent up flares and opened up it seemed like Broadway," he said. "One German ran right in front of us and we captured him."

Ran Into Minefield.

"We floundered into a German minefield," said Private Merquez. "One of the prisoners fell on a mine and was blown to bits. Another made a rush and was shot. That left only one and he was wounded in the head by shrapnel.

"We finally got out of the minefield by picking our way in the darkness. But we were lost and a moment later we had to crawl through barbed wire as the Germans shelled us. Then we found a telephone line and followed it with our hands.

"We delivered our prisoner and turned in about 4:30 A. M. That was O. K. with me. You see, before the war I used to be a bartender and I hardly ever got home before that time anyway."

Sen. Austin's Son Leads Unit Halting Nazi Tanks

MAR 11 1944

New York, March 10 (AP)—An American tank-destroyer battalion led by Major Edward L. Austin, son of Senator Warren R. Austin (R., Vt.), halted the Nazi drive on the Anzio beachhead in Italy on February 16-17, the New York Herald Tribune said today in a copyright dispatch from Homer Bigart on the beachhead south of Rome.

The dispatch quoted Capt. James LeGendre, of New York, battalion officer, as saying the battalion had never encountered an enemy tank until it arrived on the beachhead, but on one day alone—February 17—the crews sighted 30 to 40 tanks and destroyed 25 and damaged others.

Details Announced

Some of the tank-destroyer units were overrun by German infantry and tanks, but the main defense line held and knocked the enemy back, Bigart said. His dispatch gave these details of the fighting:

On the morning of February 17, German Tiger tanks came down a road leading Nazi infantry and took concealment about 400 yards from where an American tank-destroyer was mired in the mud.

The crew of the destroyer decided to fight it out and knocked out two Tigers before an 88-mm. shell hit the destroyer and set it afire.

Helmets Blown Off

"The concussion blew our helmets off," said Private Andrew Bomberowitch, of Philadelphia.

The explosion injured the sergeant and Bomberowitch and Private Xavier Marquis, of St. David, Maine, carried him out of danger.

A half mile away Private Frank C. Bally, of the Bronx, New York, saw 100 Germans enter a barn. He told the crew commander, Sergt. John Lowe, a Creek Indian from Holdenville, Okla., who earlier had destroyed three Mark IVs and damaged two Mark VIs.

"We blasted the building like nobody's business," Bally said. "Later some tanks went down and found a lot of dead Germans."

Three Tanks Previous Score

Sergeant Lowe bagged his three tanks the previous day after Corp. Joseph Sasnauikas, of Philadelphia, had spotted a group of enemy tanks.

Lowe's company, commanded by Capt. Joe T. Carr, bagged 13 tanks. Three of these and a self-propelled gun were destroyed by Sergt. John Kirk, of Nolan, W. Va.

SAYS CASSINO'S A BED OF MINES

HEINZERLING

New Yorker Tells What Lies Ahead of Troops.

With the Fifth Army at Cassino, Italy, March 10 (A. P.).—Quiet had settled over Cassino, whose streets and buildings have been torn by weeks of house-to-house fighting, but the outlook today was not alluring to Capt. Mark Reardon of 235 East 57th street, New York, commander of an engineers unit. He believes that the town and valley are probably one great big booby trap.

"The place undoubtedly is crawling with minefields," he said. "I have been on some of the fields, which are flooded, and you can see the trip wires through the water."

These deadly contraptions include the cement picket mine, the teller mine, the S-mine and the shoe (shoo) mine. The picket mine consists of a stake driven into the ground and covered by a cylinder of concrete and metal fragments with a heavy explosive charge. A detonator is connected with the top, and the trip wire is then linked with other mines, so that a soldier, in tripping over one wire, sets off the entire field.

The teller mine, which looks like a metal soup plate with a cover, contains eleven pounds of TNT, and is used against tanks and vehicles. It takes between 200 and 300 pounds of pressure to explode this.

The S-mine, which has the appearance of a tin can, can be set off by the pressure of a man's foot. This contains 350 steel balls and TNT. It springs into the air when a soldier steps on the almost invisible prongs, and explodes at head height. It can kill personnel within a radius of twenty-five yards. Another S-mine explodes in the ground. Capt. Reardon said he found a stream-bed near Cassino with S-mines planted every five paces. Six men were killed by them.

The shoe (shoo) mine is a wooden box, holding a third of a pound of TNT, and mine detectors will not register its presence.

The ways in which a house can be boobytrapped are "limited only by your time and your imagination," said Capt. Reardon. Pictures and doorknobs explode at touch. A wheelbarrow in one farmyard would have set off three teller mines if moved one inch. An American leaned against a post for a smoke and heard a pop. Engineers found he had nearly set off 900 pounds of explosive. Rain had soaked the fuse.

Bread Lines Disappear From Southern Italy

Somewhere in Southern Italy, March 10 (AP)—Italians of Southern Italy are getting more to eat, bread lines have disappeared, and locally produced commodities are flowing more freely into regular trade channels after a clamp-down on black markets, Allied Control Commission officials said today.

"Things are looking up on the food side," Lieut. Gen. Frank N. Mason-MacFarlane, deputy president of the ACC, stated at a press conference.

Judgment Delay Asked In Trial Of Vichyite

Algiers, March 10 (AP)—Defense counsel for Pierre Pucheu, former Vichy Interior Minister, now on trial for treason, today asked the military tribunal to suspend judgment in the case until missing documents and witnesses now in France are brought within the jurisdiction of the court.

The general demurrer to the indictment and motion to suspend further action was presented by Defense Counsel Louis Buttin at the conclusion of day-long arguments.

The defense move caught the court and prosecution by surprise. The prosecution objected to the proposal, and the five-man military court announced that the defense proposal would be taken under advisement for further study.

Tactics In Pucheu Trial Assailed

Algiers, March 10 (AP)—Chief Defense Counsel Louis Buttin accused the French Committee of National Liberation of a deliberate violation of justice in hurrying Pierre Pucheu to trial on treason charges as the case neared its conclusion today before a special military court.

Buttin was expected to conclude his final argument this afternoon and court attaches predicted a verdict would be reached late tonight or tomorrow morning by the tribunal sitting in judgment on the former Vichy Interior Minister.

Processes Hit

Apparently seeking to have the court suspend judgment until after the liberation of the French homeland, Buttin assailed the processes whereby the case was brought to trial.

He referred at some length to the stormy session of the consultative assembly January 12 when leftwing delegates showered criticism on Justice Commissioner Francois Dementhon for delay in starting the case.

Madeleine Carroll In Algeria

Oran, Algeria, March 10 (AP)—Film Actress Madeleine Carroll, now a Red Cross hospital worker, arrived here today on an assignment which may take her to Italy.

TURKISH ENVOY QUITS

ANKARA, March 10—(AP) Husein Rauf Orbay, 63, Turkish ambassador to Britain has resigned, it was announced tonight.

(The announcement gave no reason for Orbay's resignation, but Britain and Turkey have been at odds recently over the rate of delivery of war materials to Turkey).

Orbay, a stocky, gray-haired bachelor who speaks English with the ease of his native tongue, was appointed ambassador to Britain in February, 1942.

STILWELL'S ARMY GAINS FOUR MILES IN BURMA BATTLE

GROVER

NEW DELHI, March 10—(AP) Chinese-American forces under Gen. Joseph W. Stilwell smashed southward three to four miles in the Hukawng valley of north Burma in the past 24 hours while Chinese troops continued to chop up trapped Japanese in the Nagamaw Ga-Walawbum-Ninghku Ga area, killing 600, it was announced today.

The communique issued by the southeastern Asia command headquarters here told of the first advance in force south of Walawbum, where jungle-trained American troops emerged after a secret march through the Burma jungles.

Elements of the Chinese 2nd division moving down the east side of the Hukawng valley contacted the Americans at Walawbum, and the merged forces advanced on Channa (Changmai), four miles south on the only road in the valley able to carry motor traffic.

The Chinese force on the west flank advanced two to three miles in the direction of Ginewe Ga and Payawm, and were in battle with the fleeing Japanese.

Chinese troops killed approximately 150 of the enemy in mopping up action near Ninghku Ga. Another Chinese force killed approximately 450 Japanese trapped between their lines at Ngamaw Ga and the American roadblock near Walawbum on the Nambyu river.

Between the two flanks, units of the 22nd division pushed against Kumnyen Ga, where large quantities of enemy supplies and vehicles were captured and heavy casualties were inflicted on the Japanese.

There was little important action on the other Burma fronts.

U. S. medium and fighter-bombers raided Shwebo, Anisakan and Bauk airfields in central Burma, escorted by R.A.F. fighters, with "highly successful" results. Preliminary reports indicate 46 enemy aircraft were destroyed, and great destruction was caused to field installations.

Japanese concentrations at Magaung and Kamaing in north Burma were attacked by medium and heavy bombers of the U. S. Air force, and a bridge was destroyed. Later raids loosed 100,000 pounds of bombs on the two towns, and large fires were started.

Showdown Seen Approaching In Burma Drive

An eyewitness account of the critical moments in the battle for Los Negros Island in the Admiralties appears on Page 3.

By Preston Grover

New Delhi, March 10 (AP) — So fast is Lieut. Gen. Joseph W. Stilwell forcing the fighting pace in north Burma that a crisis which will make or break this year's Burma campaign is rapidly approaching.

Crictics who once scoffed at the possibility of a major Burma action this year have begun to show surprise and real interest in the fact that, with limited resources, "Vinegar Joe" has forced his way approximately 100 miles into north Burma.

Chinese Face Major Decision

The leathery-faced general is rapidly confronting the Japanese with a major decision—they must draw forces from other Burma fronts to halt Stilwell's Chinese and American columns, or permit him to accomplish his objective relatively unhindered. His aim is to clear the Japanese from north Burma, so he can build a new link to the Burma road, which can carry supplies to fighting forces in China.

Stilwell has been advancing much faster than the Southeast Asia high command thought possible. So far as seizing territory is concerned, Stilwell's show is the biggest operation going on against the Japanese this side of the Japanese-held zones.

His Plan Questioned

Critics in this theater have questioned the military and engineering feasibility of General Stilwell's Ledo road from northeast India down the Hukawng valley and on to north central Burma, where it would hook up with the old Burma road.

Stilwell's reply to both objections was given at a recent press conference when he said his forces had already accomplished what he had been told here was "impossible."

First Plan Drastically Revised

"Vinegar Joe's" action in diverting his American infantry column into operations in direct cooperation with his American-trained Chinese in a drastic revision of the first plan to have the column led by Brig. Gen. Frank Merrill merely make a long-range harassing penetration of Burma similiar to the operation conducted last year by Wingate's Raiders.

Instead Merrill's Marauders made a big left loop around the Japanese and came in ten miles behind their ranks to spread confusion. Such liberty of action is perhaps not enjoyed by any other commander in the Southeast Asia command. It is perhaps conceded to Stilwell because he is in command of all United States forces in the China-Burma-India theater.

May Be Deputy Commander

Originally, it evidently was planned to make General Stilwell deputy commander under Admiral Lord Louis Mountbatten, southeast Asia commander in chief, and an official announcement to this effect has been expected for some time.

As chief of staff under Generalissimo Chiang Kai-chek, Stilwell holds a position somewhat independent of the Southeast Asia Command, since China was never incorporated in the command.

Under Mountbatten

His operations, however, are based on India and supplied from there, and come under Mountbatten's command. For that reason it must be assumed that the British "big boss" not only approves Stilwell's present operations but will be ready to exploit them if the tough American general can prove his point—that he can take North Burma away from the Japanese.

Despite reinforcements to the Japanese forces in Burma during the past several months, "Vinegar Joe" is going a long way toward doing just that.

Takes Personal Command

So determined is Stilwell to make his operation a success that he has taken personal command of the operation. He is accompanied by some of his key staff members who left the sumptuous "fox holes of Delhi" for the discomforts of the advance base in north Burma.

From there he is issuing a daily press release giving far more detail than is carried in the daily communiques of the Southeast Asia command.

Correspondents who found him prickly as a porcupine to deal with in New Delhi, where he necessarily must play second fiddle, find him a boon companion around a can of beans on the Burma front.

He just simply isn't a front-porch general.

2,000 Japs Mopped Up

New Delhi, March 10 (AP)—The rapid mopping up of 2,000 Japanese caught in the Maingkwan area of the Hukawng valley in northern Burma was announced today by a Southeast Asia communique which said 1,200 to 1,300 enemy troops had been killed by American and Chinese troops.

The Chinese 38th Division continued to push southward on the east edge of the valley while to the west the 22nd Chinese division made contact with the Americans and advanced southward on Changmai along a motor road.

Mopping up the trapped Japanese, Chinese units fought a series of engagements along the Nambyu river to the north of the American positions, wiping out 450 at one place and 150 near Ninghku Ga, six miles southeast of Maingkwan.

To the south in Arakan, British units made further headway in the Sinohbyin area about a mile north of Buthedaung and occupied positions on the east bank of the Kalapanzin river which flows southward through Buthedaung. Buthedaung is about 50 miles north of Akyab.

British and American aircraft carried out a series of furious operations against enemy airfields at Shwebo, Anisakan and Bauk, in central Burma, where forty-six planes were destroyed; against Magaung and Kamaing, in northern Burma, where fifty tons of bombs were dropped, and against Japanese headquarters in the Arakan area where a heavy explosion was caused. American heavy bombers hit Tavoy airfield on the Malay Peninsula.

'Round The Clock Burma Flights

Washington, March 10, (AP)—Planes are flying around the clock over the "Aerial Burma Road" into China, four pilots of the China National Aviation Corporation reported today.

En route to their homes for a rest, the pilots estimated that each DC-3—the standard airliner in this country—equaled 90 trucks in delivery capacity under present operating schedules by which they make one and a half round trips a day, or three crossings of the Himalayas.

"Incredible" Job

The pilots are Harold Chinn, of Vancouver, B. C.; Ray Allen, of Briston, Okla.; Julius Petach, of Fort Vue, Pa., and Peter Goutiere, of Bangor, Maine.

CNAC, operated by Pan American Airways for the Chinese Government, now hauls about ten per cent. of the total going over "the hump," the rest being handled by the United States Army's Air Transport Command, which the pilots said was doing an "incredible" job.

"The Air Transport Command now measures its loads delivered in thousands of tons," Allen said, "while we used to measure ours in pounds. Where we used to try to hold things together with six overworked airplanes, the army has a fleet of hundreds of their big transports flying."

JAP TROOPS TRAPPED

Yanks on Los Negros Continue to Expand Their Holdings.

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, Southwest Pacific, Saturday, March 11.—(AP) United States Marines captured Talasea airdrome Wednesday and then wheeled north to occupy the township the following day, thus cutting in two the Willaumez peninsula of north New Britain which they invaded only last Monday.

Headquarters reported the victory today. The successes firmly implanted Gen. Douglas MacArthur's forces more than 100 miles east of their Cape Gloucester holdings and within 170 miles of bomb-ravaged Rabaul.

No details were available concerning the final fight for the airstrip and town but a spokesman said enemy reaction, which had developed several hours after units of the first Marine division gained its beachhead Monday, reached its peak of intensity Tuesday.

Clear Path Through Mines

The leathernecks, who landed on the peninsula's west coast opposite Talasea, cleared a path through land mines and began a push across the five-mile-wide peninsula.

The occupation trapped any Japanese caught on the northern tip of the narrow land strip which sticks up like a sore thumb from the northern coast.

In the invaded Admiralty islands to the north of the New Britain action, cavalrymen have pushed their steadily expanding lines three and a half miles northwest of captured Momote airdrome on Los Negros. Japanese planes strafed the sector without effect.

Drive Toward Madang

In still another action on the borders of the Bismarck sea, Americans moving west of Saidor toward Madang achieved steady progress. Japanese planes bombed these forces Tuesday night and early Wednesday but headquarters said the attacks were ineffectual.

On Los Negros, one force which ranged three and a half miles from Momote airdrome reached Lombrun plantation on the northwest. Another force advanced through coconut plantations on the northern arm of the island. No mention was made of Japanese resietance.

Liberators and Mitchells bombed and straffed islets fringing the northern coast of Los Negros on Wednesday as well as the larger enemy-held island of Manus.

No Japanese resistance was reported encountered by 32nd division units skirting Astrolabe bay west of Cape Rigny on the New Guinea coastal approaches to Madang. Three enemy bombers made the light ineffectual raid and ground batteries downed one.

A single Liberator bomber attacked Rabaul Tuesday night. Wednesday, a sizeable force of Liberators, Mitchells, Kittyhawks and Ariacobras from the Solomons dropped 134 tons of explosives. Building and piers were wrecked and fires started which could be seen for 50 miles. Rabaul's six airfields, now occupied by less than three score planes, sent up no interceptors, but one raider was lost to ground fire.

M'ARTHUR'S MEN GAIN ON 3 FRONTS

Allied Headquarters, Southwest Pacific, March 1 (A. P.).—American Marines have cut their way three miles forward on Willaumez Peninsula, New Britain, and are within two miles of the enemy base at Talasea, the Allied communique said today. The Marines have cut off groups of enemy troops on the north tip of the Peninsula.

The cleanup of enemy strength on Los Negros Island in the Admiraltys continues, and American warships and supply vessels have entered Seadler Harbor, formerly fringed by Jap coastal guns, without interference.

American troops advancing west of Saidor on the northeastern New Guinea coast have reached Cape Rigny at the lower lip of Astrolabe Bay. Madang, enemy base on the bay and objective of the drive, is twenty airline miles away.

Solomons - based aircraft hit Rabaul in four attacks Tuesday with fifty-six tons of bombs. There was no interception. Allied heavy bombers and fighters attacked airdromes at Wewak with fifty-six tons of bombs and downed seventeen of the forty Jap fighters which attempted interception. Solomons-based bombers dropped sixty - five tons on Panapai Airdrome, near Kavieng, New Ireland.

BOUGAINVILLE LINES BROKEN

HAMMAR 11 1944

Japanese Break Through U. S. Defenses, Take Pillboxes

Guadalcanal, Saturday, March 11 (AP)—Striking during a rainstorm and under cover of low mists, Japanese broke through barbed-wire entanglements Thursday on the northern perimeter of the American lines at Empress Augusta Bay on Bougainville, in the northern Solomons.

A 32nd Division spokesman said the enemy succeeded in occupying a few machine-gun pillboxes on commanding ground.

Japanese artillery continued to shell the American perimeter and the two airstrips. A United States dive bomber on patrol was shot down by Japanese machine guns. Other American planes were damaged on the ground.

Invaded November 1

[The Americans invaded Bougainville November 1, now hold a 40-square-mile area and have set up two airfields from which raids are made on Rabaul 250 miles to the northwest. Although Japanese occupy the bulk of Bougainville, their supply line to Rabual has been severed by Allied occupation of the Green Islands].

American artillery during the night and early morning poured about 2,000 rounds into the Japanese force sighted in the area Wednesday.

Although it appeared certain some American lives were lost when the Japanese occupied the pillboxes Thursday, division headquarters made no estimates.

Different At Rabaul Now, Navy Pilot Finds

Advanced South Pacific Air Base, Saturday, March 11 (AP)—A then-and-now story about Rabaul, New Britain, was told today by a navy dive bomber pilot, Lieut. Edward Laroe, of Mahwah, N. J.

Laroe made his first land-based dive-bombing attack on Rabaul last September 1. On March 8 he returned after a rest and leave and made another.

"The first time," he said, "about 80 Zeros attacked with guns and phosphorus bombs, and the ack-ack was plenty good. Two of our ships were set afire. But on March 8 there were no Zeros and the ack-ack was lighter and inaccurate.

"The first time I went to Rabaul there were 12 big ships in Simpson Harbor. March 8 there was only one old hulk."

Magine Isles Taken By Allied Forces

Bougainville, Solomon Islands, March 10 (AP)—The unopposed occupation last February 27 of the small Magine Islands just offshore from the Allied beachhead at Empress Augusta Bay on Bougainville's west coast was announced today.

All enemy positions on the islands had been abandoned.

U. S. Troops See Los Negros Foe In Mass Suicide

Watch Japanese Marines Kill Themselves Rather Than Accept Surrender

By Asahel Bush

WITH THE 1ST CAVALRY DIVISION ON LOS NEGROS, Admiralty Islands, March 5 (Delayed) (AP).—These are the Mikado's front-line troops on Los Negros—big marines, well trained, well nourished, well armed, proud wearers of their dragon belts.

These are Japan's proud warriors. So that when they failed to crack the line held by American 1st Cavalry Division troops, they took their own lives rather than admit failure.

"One Jap officer jumped upon a bunker directly in front of us," said Private First Class Wilbur Resler, "waving a Jap battle flag in one hand and a sword in the other. 'Kill all the American dogs,' he shouted. Then he plunged his sword into his own stomach."

They waited until night, then charged American lines singly, in twos, threes, even in waves, always with a desperate reckless daring. And when they failed—

"I saw one group of a dozen or so Nips gather in a circle in a clearing after we had thrown them back," said Private Dan Burnett, of Franklin, N. C. "Then each pulled the pin on a grenade and held it against his chest. All were blasted to death."

Others seemed to invite death openly. One walked slowly toward American lines waving a huge bottle and refusing to stop at command. An instant later he was riddled by the fire of many rifles.

"Probably in honor of our Fort Bliss (Texas) background, they came at us singing 'Deep in the Heart of Texas' at the top of their squeaky voices," said Corporal J. L. Licon, of El Paso.

Sutherland And Casey Receive Promotions

Allied Headquarters, Southwest Pacific, Saturday, March 11 (AP)—Promotions of Richard K. Sutherland to lieutenant general and of Hugh J. Casey to major general were announced today by Gen. Douglas MacArthur.

Both men are from Washington, D. C., and came out of the Philippines with General MacArthur.

Sutherland is MacArthur's chief of staff, and Casey is chief engineer in the Southwest Pacific theater.

Crisis In Los Negros Battle Is Described

Asahel Bush, the only correspondent to remain with American troops after the first few hours of the landing on Los Negros island, in the Admiralties, describes the critical moments in the fight for Momote airdrome and the ensuing campaign which wrested the island from the Japanese.

By Asahel Bush

Aboard a Bomber Over Seadler Harbor, Los Negros Island, March 8 (AP—Delayed)—Within a few minutes—a few hours at the most—all of Los Negros Island should be under American control.

Some small segments have not yet been invested by Americans, but these are uninhabitable mangrove swamps or isolated sectors where Japanese, if any are there, are hopelessly cut off.

Warships are ranging the mouth of Seadler harbor to provide protection against any threat from that direction, and this bomber, piloted by Lieut. Col. Clinton True, of New Orleans, and other Mitchell mediums are ready to do any strafing needed.

Japs Disorganized

I know from observation that the Japanese who remain on this island are beaten, frightened and largely disorganized, and incapable of prolonged resistance. This was far from the case a week ago.

The enemy was taken by surprise in the initial landing. He had expected an invasion to be through Seadler harbor rather than by the back door through Hyane harbor. All of his strongly prepared defenses, including 6-inch guns, pointed toward Seadler harbor.

The terrific naval bombardment which was laid into the Momote area before the initial landing force—a portion of the Fifth Cavalry Regiment—moved into Hyane harbor February 29 drove the Japanese back into the coconut groves surrounding the airfield.

Well-Equipped Troops

But Japanese here were well-equipped members of crack battalions. When the destroyers withdrew leaving a relatively small force of Americans on the beach, the enemy moved to counter-attack.

The seesaw battle for control of Momote airdrome reached its crisis in the second night, when the Japanese, who already were in temporary control of the airfield, broke through to the beach on both sides of the invaders.

The Americans were hemmed into a tight perimeter of scarcely 1,000 yards, and the fighting reached even to the outer face of a revetment containing American headquarters.

Reinforcements Arrived

On the third morning, tank landing ships entered Hyane harbor, bringing reinforcements, more supplies and ammunition and a unit of navy Seabees with their heavy construction equipment.

From that moment there was no question about the Americans holding on. But to hold and to inch forward was the best they could manage, with fighting on a 24-hour basis.

On the fifth morning, destroyers returned with additional reinforcements and the Japanese promptly curtailed their fighting, retiring in the day and attempting assaults only at night.

Work On Airdrome Begins

Possession of Momote airdrome was permanently secured and the Seabees with their bulldozers pressed the task of leveling the bomb-cratered runway and extending its length.

On the seventh morning—day before yesterday — tank-landing ships steamed into Hyane harbor, bringing more reinforcements, light airplanes for artillery spotting, tanks and ammunition.

This impressive sight seemed to break the enemy's spirit. When the reinforcements started their attack along the single trail linking Momote with Seadler harbor to the northwest, they covered the six miles of jungle track without encountering more than a few enemy stragglers. Evidence of the enemy's hasty retreat was everywhere.

Paitalai Harbor Seized

The Americans crossed the base of Seadler harbor yesterday to seize Paitalai harbor as a prelude to today's final offensive against Lombrum plantation, some two miles away.

With both shores secured, Seadler harbor has become an American anchorage, a splendid one with deep channels and an entrance well guarded by small islands. A tight naval blockade threatens to starve out the remaining Japanese on Manus Island.

Nearly 1,200 Japanese dead have been counted and headquarters officers estimated at least several hundred bodies are still to be found. No enemy wounded have been seen.

U. S. BOMBERS RAID BASES IN CAROLINAS

U. S. PACIFIC FLEET HEADQUARTERS, Pearl Harbor, March 10—(AP) Army heavy bombers hammered anew at Japan's oft-hit Ponape and Kusaie bases in the eastern Caroline islands Wednesday, Admiral Chester W. Nimitz headquarters announced today.

Airdromes and docks were bombed at Ponape and ground installations hit at Kusaie. Results were not announced. There was no air interception and anti-aircraft fire was light.

The same was true in raids carried out simultaneously on four eastern Marshall islands, where Army, Navy and Marine aircraft concentrated on wrecking gun emplacements and keeping airfields unusable.

MAR 11 1944

Japanese Marshalls Bases Bombed Again

Washington, March 10 (AP)—Six bombing raids were carried out Wednesday against Japanese positions in the Marshall and Caroline islands without any fighter opposition and only slight anti-aircraft fire.

The navy told of the raids today in this Pacific fleet announcement:

"Seventh Army Air Force Liberators attacked Ponape and Kusaie in the Caroline Islands on March 8. Airdrome and dock facilities at Ponape were bombed and ground installations were hit at Kusaie.

"On the same day four enemy bases in the eastern Marshall Islands were attacked by army and marine aircraft, including Mitchell bombers, Dauntless dive bombers and Warhawk fighters and Ventura bombers of Fleet Air Wing 2. Airfields and gun emplacements were principal targets.

"There was no fighter interception on any of these raids, and damage from anti-aircraft fire was light."

COMMANDER FLIES ON KURILES RAID

By NORMAN BELL

AN ALEUTIAN BASE, March 10.—(AP) Commodore Leslie E. Gehres, commanding the Navy's Fleet Air Wing 4, rode stormy north Pacific skies with bomber crews in the latest "empire express" raids on Japan's Kuriles.

"I wanted to see what it was like over there," said the big, genial 45-year-old commodore, after word leaked out that he had flown on the week-end mission. "Also I wanted to let my boys know their old man was willing to go where they go."

He added that the new raids were a continuation of the attacks started last December against Paramushiro and Shimushu, the northernmost Kuriles. The latest was the night of March 5-6.

Commodore Gehres made the long run, hundreds of miles across the ocean and back, in his flagplane with its regular crew. The ship was piloted by Cmdr. David J. Welsh, second senior officer of the air wing, and Lt. Cmdr. Carlyle Ingram of Milledgeville, Ga., wing operations officer.

The commodore said he was gratified with the success of the bombing campaign which was interrupted by the weather only once since it started Dec. 22.

"We know we've done some damage, and we've worried the enemy plenty. They're not sleeping very well on Paramushiro," he said.

JAMES ROOSEVELT WINS SILVER STAR FOR MAKIN ATTACK

SAN FRANCISCO, March 10. — (AP) Lt. Col. James Roosevelt, Marine corps, was presented with a Silver Star at the Presidio of San Francisco today for gallantry in action at Makin atoll, Gilbert islands.

The citation to the eldest son of the President said that while attached as an observer to a unit of the 27th infantry division which effected the landing on Makin, "Col. Roosevelt voluntarily sought out the scenes of the heaviest fighting."

"Throughout the three-day period," the citation said, "he continually accompanied the leading elements of the assault, exposing himself to constant danger.

"His calmness under fire and presence among the foremost elements of the attacking force was a source of inspiration to all ranks."

Lt. Gen. Delos C. Emmons, commanding the Western Defense command, presented the decoration to Col. Roosevelt, who previously was awarded the Navy Cross for participating in the Aug. 17-18, 1942 raid on Makin. He was credited with rescuing three drowning men in that attack.

The 37-year old Roosevelt landed as an observer on Tarawa in the Gilberts, Nov. 20, 1943. He was in the second battle of Midway in July, 1942, and at Kiska when American forces regained that Aleutians island.

Gen. Farrell Now Rules As President of Argentina

BUENOS AIRES, March 10—(AP) Gen. Edelmiro J. Farrell, who had served for two weeks as acting president of Argentina, assumed the office of president today upon the resignation of Gen. Pedro Pablo Ramirez.

Col. Gregorio Tauber, executive secretary of the presidency, announced the action which made Farrell the titular chief executive. This latest change in Argentina's kaleidoscopic political picture came after Ramirez—whose administration previously had broken relations with the Axis—delegated his executive powers to Farrell two weeks ago on the ground that he was fatigued by the tasks of office.

Texts Withheld

Neither the text of Ramirez' resignation nor of the manifesto which explained the change to the public has been disclosed.

The Supreme court, which received copies of both documents yesterday, met this morning and decided to acknowledge their receipt and place them on file. This was interpreted to mean that the court intends to remain aloof from this latest change.

(At a press conference in Washington, U. S. Secretary of State Cordell Hull said Friday that the situation inside Argentina was in such a state of confusion at the moment that it defied intelligent or accurate comment.)

The effect of Ramirez' gesture on Argentina's foreign relations was variously interpreted here. One view is that the retiring president's decision strengthened the position of the Farrell regime in the international field since it disposed of questions raised by the circumstances surrounding the original delegation of power to Farrell by Ramirez.

On the other hand the original delegation of authority had the advantage of maintaining the continuity of the regime. This was recognized by the governments of Chile, Bolivia and Paraguay in announcing their intention to preserve diplomatic relations with the Farrell government.

(Formal diplomatic relationships with the Farrell government have been withheld by the United States and Britain pending clarification of its purposes with respect to hemisphere defense and protection against Axis agents.)

Court Ruled by President

The Supreme court had no constitutional precedent to do much else than acknowledge receipt of Ramirez' resignation. When Ramirez constituted his government he so notified the court which replied in a statement acknowledging that a military regime possessed the qualities of a de facto government.

The last elected president, Roberto M. Ortiz was obliged by illness to delegate his powers to Dr. Ramon Castillo, the vice president. A year later Ortiz resigned. Thereupon Castillo became titular president without further formality.

A military revolution last June 4 overthrew the Castillo government and Gen. Arturo Rawson held the office of president for two days before being succeeded by Ramirez.

Ramirez' resignation was accepted by the council of ministers (the cabinet), Colonel Tauber said. The resignation had been addressed to the vice president and chief of the armed forces (Farrell).

Making his announcement after a two-hour meeting of the council, the presidential secretary said that a decree appointing Farrell as president would be published in due time. He explained that the matter of choosing a new vice president had not come up.

Questioned about a rumored resignation of some ministers, Tauber said these rumors were untrue and added that the cabinet meeting had not discussed any such possibility.

sent a notification of his resignation to the Supreme Court. The court, at a hastily convoked session, merely acknowledged receipt of the notification and a manifesto Ramirez addressed to the nation.

Cabinet In Session

Neither document was made public immediately.

Meanwhile, Farrell and his ministers were discussing the situation in a special Cabinet meeting.

Ramirez already had vacated the presidential palace and taken a private villa in Buenos Aires.

(Dispatches from Montevideo, Uruguay, said it was reported from Buenos Aires that Ramirez' resignation had placed the Farrell regime in a difficult position.

Setup Is Explained

(The Farrell Government has taken the position that Ramirez had merely delegated his authority to his successor on account of ill health, and that consequently no new issue was raised concerning its recognition by other nations.

(The United States and Britain, however, have withheld formal diplomatic relationships with the Farrell Government, pending clarification of its purposes with respect to hemisphere defense and protection against Axis agents. Chile and Bolivia have recognized the Farrell Government.)

Regarded As Chief

The Supreme Court previously had recognized Ramirez as head of the de facto government after the military revolution against President Ramon Castillo last June 4, and the withdrawal of Gen. Arturo Rawson, who held the office for two days.

Ramirez's action in delegating his Presidential mandate to Vice-President Farrell on February 25 followed his Government's decision to rupture relations with the Axis.

Status Questioned

Although Farrell announced almost immediately his government would continue both the domestic and international policies established by Ramirez, the sudden change in the presidential office led Edward R. Stettinius, Jr., United States Under Secretary of State, to declare that the American Ambassador at Buenos Aires had been directed to refrain from establishing official relations with the Farrell regime pending developments.

A similar course of action was announced in the British House of Commons by Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden.

Ramirez Formally Quits Argentine Presidency

Buenos Aires, March 10 (AP)—Pedro Pablo Ramirez formally resigned the Presidency of Argentina today.

Ramirez, whose administration broke relations with the Axis only to confront a palace coup in which Edelmiro J. Farrell became Acting President under an announced delegation of powers from Ramirez.

Montevideo, March 10 (A. P.).—It was reported from Buenos Aires today that the resignation of ex-President Ramirez had placed the Farrell regime in a difficult position. The latter has taken the position that Ramirez had merely delegated his authority to his successor on account of ill health and that consequently there was no question raised concerning its recognition by other nations.

MRS. ROOSEVELT DOUBTS 4TH TERM BID DECIDED

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico, March 10.—(AP) Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, asked at a press conference today whether the President intended to seek a fourth term, replied:

"I never talk to the President about those things. I don't think a man's family has any right to influence him in things like that, which are truly important and which must be decided from circumstances at that time. I have no idea whether the President will run for a fourth term and I doubt very much that the President knows."

20 Men On U. S. Subchaser Rescued

An Eastern Canadian Port, March 10 (AP)—Rescue of a United States Navy subchaser and her crew of 20 men, adrift in the stormy North Atlantic for 23 hours without communication or motive power, was announced today by the Royal Canadian Navy.

A statement by naval service headquarters said a Canadian mine sweeper threw a line to the disabled vessel and towed her to shore after sighting a distress flare at 5 A. M. on a cold and rough morning.

The American ship first ran into grief when a drifting log smashed her steering gear. Before she could call for help, her radio system went dead, and while trying to make port through heavy seas she ran out of fuel.

Henry-Haye Plans Parley With Petain

New York, March 10 (AP)—The German-controlled Vichy radio said today that Gaston Henry-Haye, former Vichy Ambassador to the United States, had arrived in Paris yesterday to confer with Chief of Government Pierre Laval.

Henry-Haye, who was among the group of internees exchanged recently at Lisbon for Americans interned in Germany and France, will go to Vichy later to confer with Chief of State Marshal Petain, said the broadcast.

It was recorded by United States Government monitors.

Russ Envoy To Ethiopia

New York, March 10 (AP)—The Moscow radio, in a broadcast recorded by United States Government monitors, announced today the appointment of Victor Semenovitch Kozlov as Soviet Minister to Ethiopia.

TWO NAZI AGENTS FORCED TO LEAVE POSTS AT TANGIER

WASHINGTON, March 10—(AP) The Spanish have already ousted two German diplomats from Tangier, movie-like intrigue center, and are making arrangements to move fifteen others out because of their espionage activities, a government official just returned from North Africa said today.

The seventeen operators are among those most objectionable to the State department, he said.

Ouster of the Germans from the international city which is just across the straits from strategic Gibraltar, was one of the requests made of Spain by this country before the embargo was placed on oil.

Whether Spain will move the rest of the Germans out of Tangier and close the German consulate there is a matter of speculation, he said.

He explained there are about fifty persons in the consulate headed by Dr. Kurt Reitt, one of the smoothest and ablest Nazi operators.

"There is even a police attache in the consulate who is nothing more than a Gestapo agent," the official said. "All of this despite the fact that there are no German residents in the city and very few travellers."

"It is a simple matter for them to watch from their windows ships moving through Gibraltar and radio the news to Berlin," he continued. "In addition they have girls who frequent the few night clubs and bars in the city and pick up all kinds of information helpful to the Axis."

British soldiers quartered at Gibraltar used to spend their off time in Tangier, he said, but when it was realized that they were falling victims to the girls, the British had to declare the city out of bounds for the soldiers.

Lehman to Visit London and Cairo

Washington, March 10 (A. P.).—Herbert H. Lehman, director-general of the United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Administration, announced today that he will leave soon for London and Cairo.

Mr. Lehman's office said he would visit officials in both places with regard to future UNRRA operations. He talked with President Roosevelt this morning.

MEN IN SERVICE MAY SEEK OFFICE

Army, Navy Will Permit Candidacy But Bar Active Campaigning.

WASHINGTON, March 10—(AP) President Roosevelt today approved a joint Army-Navy policy agreement which would permit General Douglas MacArthur, Lieut. Commander Harold E. Stassen or other members of the armed forces to become candidates for elective office, but would bar them from campaigning.

A regular Army or Navy man, such as Gen. MacArthur, could become a candidate, however, only if a nomination "is tendered without direct or indirect activity or solicitation on his part" while a member of the reserve on active duty, such as Commander Stassen, could announce as a candidate without waiting on a nomination.

Regulations Clarified

The new regulations, clarifying previous ones and bringing those of the Army and Navy into line for the first time, require release from active duty for any military man elected to public office.

They were made public at a news conference with the Presidential comment that they were not new and were not directed at any one in particular.

The prohibition in the Army-Navy regulations against campaigning by military men follows an expression that a candidacy must not interfere with the performance of military duty. Once nominated, such a candidate, while on active duty, would retain the right to vote and to express political opinions privately and informally. But he could not make political speeches or publish articles or engage in any other public activity looking to the influencing of an election or the solicitation of votes for himself or others."

Under the regulations, if Gen. MacArthur or any other retired officer now on active duty should be elected President he would revert to the retired list. A reserve officer would be returned to inactive status

Citations for Two Officers

WASHINGTON, March 10 (AP).—The Navy announced today award of a gold star in lieu of a second Navy Cross to Brigadier General Marritt A. Edson, and a Legion of Merit decoration to Colonel Christian F. Schilt, for services against the Japanese in the Solomon Islands. General Edson was decorated for his services as commanding officer of a combat group which landed on Japanese-held Tulagi Island, in the Solomons, Aug. 7, 1942. Colonel Schilt was decorated for his service as commanding officer of the search and patrol command in the Solomons from April 1 to July 25, 1943.

NAVY CASUALTIES

Washington, March 10 (A. P.).—The Navy Department announced today a list of 127 casualties in the Navy, Marine Corps and Coast Guard. This makes a total casualty list of 40,950 since December 7, 1941, of which 17,318 are dead; 9,974 wounded, 9,244 missing and 4,414 prisoners of war. Included in today's list are the following, with their next of kin:

BRIDGES FOR LIMIT ON WARTIME RULE

Washington, March 10 (A. P.).—Unless a limit is set upon the duration of the President's wartime executive powers, says Senator Styles Bridges (R., N. H.), "American democracy is finished."

"Shall Congress continue to make the laws of the land," he asked in a Senate speech yesterday, "or shall that central task be transferred in large measure if not entirely, to the Executive?

Shall Congress, as the most direct and most sensitive instrument of the popular will, be permitted to play its constitutional role, or shall it be reduced and degraded into a blotter for the thoughts and wishes and purposes of the executive branch?"

"I propose" he said, "to join in introducing legislation with the purpose of defining the time element in all war powers and setting a clear and unequivocal limitation on the exercise of those powers.

"I believe Congress should act on this matter before it becomes another political football to be kicked around by the partisans of expanded and well-nigh unlimited executive authority."

CHARGES ICKES BROKE PLEDGE

Senator Attacks Persian Oil Line Plans.

30 24 — 13651

Washington, March 10 (A. P.).—Senator Moore (R.-Okla.) today accused Secretary of the Interior Ickes of having flagrantly violated a pledge to the Truman committee in proceeding with plans to construct a pipeline from the Persian Gulf area to the Mediterranean.

"It has been said," Senator Moore declared, "that his conduct constitutes an impeachable offense."

The Oklahoman said that Mr. Ickes earlier had advised the Truman committee that he would not act on a program until he had presented it to Congress, and that Mr. Ickes has been directed by the White House in plunging ahead with a program to socialize the American oil industry.

Meanwhile Senate leaders undertook to speed action on Senator Moore's resolution to create a nine-member Senate committee to draw up a petroleum policy before additional secret international commitments are made.

Eight members—two each from the Foreign Relations, Commerce, Interstate Commerce and Public Lands Committees—are called for in the resolution as it was reported to the Senate by the Commerce Committee.

C. A. B. Will Take Over Air Liner Allocations

Army Control Is Relaxed for Civil Companies

WASHINGTON, March 10 (AP).—The Civil Aeronautics Board in the future will be responsible for allocations to the commercial companies of air liners which the War Department releases from military service or priority.

A War Department announcement today said the commercial air lines, which since Dec. 13, 1941, have operated under Army control, had been partly reconverted to peace-time administrative status on March 1 and certain functions previously exercised by the Army have been delegated to the C. A. B.

In addition to allocations of used and new planes, the C. A. B. will determine routes, schedules and type of service to be rendered, "subject to War Department redetermination for reasons of military necessity."

The War Department retains all other powers conferred upon it by Presidential order issued at the beginning of the war, including control of air priorities and control of all service for military purposes carried on by the air lines.

RAYBURN CLARIFIES SOLDIER VOTE VIEW

Washington, March 10 (A. P.).—Speaker Rayburn said today that he was misquoted yesterday in press dispatches which stated that he had announced his support for the compromise service vote bill worked out by Senate-House conferees.

"What I said," the Speaker told newspaper men today, "was that I would support it (the compromise) if I am convinced, after studying it, that it is better than the present (1942) law and would enable a larger number of soldiers to vote."

This position coincides with that taken by President Roosevelt, who told a recent press conference that his attitude toward the compromise would rest on the question if more service people could vote under it, or the 1942 service voting statute. The Associated Press, and news-agency reporters, quoted the Speaker, after yesterday's press conference in Mr. Rayburn's office, as saying that he would support the compromise, providing only limited use of the Federal uniform ballot urged by the administration.

The A. P. specifically quoted Speaker Rayburn as saying:

"From the beginning, it was my position that I would stand by Chairman Worley of the House Elections Committee and Representative Bonner in this matter, and I understand they will support the compromise bill. As you know, the bill that passed the House did hardly anything."

Messrs. Worley (D.-Tex.) and Bonner (D.-N. C.), Federal ballot advocates, were among the Representatives on the conference committee which finally evolved the compromise bill, still to be acted upon by both House and Senate.

Moses Urges House to Adopt Highway Plan

Says It Is Way to Provide Jobs and Solve Traffic Problems After the War

WASHINGTON, March 10 (AP).—Robert Moses, New York City Commissioner of Parks and Parkways, urged today passage of a House roads committee bill for post-war highway construction as a means of preventing unemployment after the war and of solving the nation's traffic problems.

In a letter read to the committee by Sidney M. Shapiro, deputy engineer of the Long Island State Park Commission, Mr. Moses said "we are headed straight for made-work and a handout unless we have ready a sizable program of public works, headed by a large road program."

He added that although time was short "we can still prepare public works contract plans for about $15,000,000,000 worth of work over a period of between two and three years. The combined Federal-state highway program should represent between four and five billion dollars of this total."

At the peak of such a program, he said, "some 5,000,000 persons can be employed on the site, together with a larger number back of the jobs who mine, manufacture, ship and otherwise supply materials and equipment."

Mr. Moses approved of the formula in the committee bill calling for allocation of $3,000,000,000 over a three-year period on a basis of one-half according to population, one-quarter on area and one-quarter on mileage.

He suggested as a compromise that the formula for establishing the shares to be paid by the Federal and state governments be changed from the proposed 75 per cent for the Federal government and 25 per cent for the states to a 60 per cent and 40 per cent basis, respectively.

This suggestion was made, he said, "to bring together the conflicting proposals" of those who favor greater stress on population and those who stress area.

Representative James W. Mott, Republican, of Oregon, contended Mr. Moses was biased because he has served as a planning consultant for various communities, but a ruling by Committee Chairman J. W. Robinson, Democrat, of Utah, prevented the Oregan Representative from developing his contention.

Representative Robinson ruled that Mr. Shapiro could not be expected to testify as to the salary Mr. Moses receives from New York City. Both Representative Robinson and Representative William M. Whittington, Democrat, of Mississippi, described Mr. Moses as one of the greatest planning authorities in the United States.

U. S. LIQUOR IMPORTS CUT

WPB Wants Latin-American Alcohol For Industry

Washington, March 10 (AP)—The Government today put a severe kink in the last unhampered source of drinking liquor—the pipeline from the cane countries to the South.

A new curb on imports of rum, gin, cordials and whiskies distilled from cane is expected to slash imports from Cuba, for instance, by more than 50 per cent.

In evident fear of a resumption of rum running in the Caribbean the War Production Board said the Coast Guard had been notified in advance to be prepared to help with enforcement.

No WPB Figures

WPB gave out no figures on the actual curtailment to be effective by its order, which controls imports from Mexico, Cuba and other countries and limits both the production and imports of Puerto Rico, the Virgin Islands and other United States territories and possessions.

It was explained that the action is designed to encourage Latin-American countries to devote their molasses to production of industrial alcohol needed in the war rather than to beverages.

The WPB said "the fair way to tell the public about it" is to state that as much cane-distilled liquor will enter the country this year as in 1943.

Deep Reduction Seen

On its face, however, this comparison means a deep reduction from current imports, because the monthly rate of shipments from Cuba alone was five times greater in December than it was in the first month of 1943.

The WPB order goes into effect March 15, just 16 days before the country's elbow-benders take another blow—new Federal taxes ranging from 36 cents to 60 cents for every bottle of distilled spirits in the now-standard one-fifth gallon size.

To make the day even more dismal for drinkers, the Office of Price Administration said it had not yet decided whether the new tax would be added to the price of drinks sold over the bar. The betting, however, was that the tax would be passed on to the highball drinkers and not absorbed by the tavern-keepers.

"Gin" Drinkers Get Break

Drinkers of the Mexican and Cuban fluids which are labeled gin, a designation in which the United States Government does not concur, got the only break of the day. A new and lower ceiling price was imposed by OPA at the importers' level. Passed on to consumers, the cut would mean a price drop of about 15 cents a "fifth."

Furthermore, OPA ruled that this beverage hereafter must be sold under this label: "Distilled spirits made from cane products and flavored with aromatics."

About 2,000,000 gallons of the "new commodity have recently been imported as gin," OPA said.

DOUGLAS RESIGNS

Washington, March 10 (A. P.).—The resignation of Lewis W. Douglas as Deputy War Shipping Administrator to return to the presidency of the Mutual Life Insurance Company of New York was announced today by President Roosevelt.

The Chief Executive said Mr. Douglas would continue on as deputy of the Combined Shipping Adjustment Board and as chairman of its employment and policy committee. Probably, however, he will relinquish these posts by mid-year.

ABOLITION OF 2-A CLASS IS STUDIED

WASHINGTON, March 10—(AP) While reiterating the War Manpower commission's desire to have all occupational draft deferments placed on a "strict basis of essentiality and irreplaceability," a spokesman said today that the commission has not given specific consideration to abolition of classification 2-A to accomplish that end.

"We are studying any and all means of reducing less essential deferments to a minimum in order to keep key men in war production," the spokesman said, "but we have not recommended to Selective Service that the 2-A classification be eliminated as a solution."

Men deferred in class 2-A are those whose work contributes to the war effort but are not directly engaged in war production. The commission is "deeply concerned," the spokesman said, that war production may suffer from the liberal policy of many draft boards in deferring pre-Pearl Harbor fathers. The feeling is, he said, that too much emphasis is being put on family status and not enough on occupational eligibility for a 2-A classification.

This point also was stressed yesterday by Lawrence Appley, executive director of the commission. He told a press conference that "all deferments from this point out must be put strictly on the basis of essentiality and irreplaceability without regard to any other factor but physical disability or personal hardship."

Phila. Chinese Send Aid To Interned Japs

Philadelphia, March 10 (AP)—Many Chinese in Philadelphia are sending barrels of clothing and sums of money to Japanese in internment camps, the Philadelphia Annual Methodist Conference was told today.

The Rev. W. V. Middleton, executive secretary of the Philadelphia Missionary and Church Extension Society, said the work is being carried on through the Chinese Christian Center, supported by seven protestant denominations.

Local Chinese also have helped relocated Japanese-Americans find jobs and homes, Rev. Middleton said, adding, "such evidence of Christian conviction ought to strengthen our conviction that the day will yet come when the lamb and the lion shall lie down together."

British to Receive Ship

SOUTH PORTLAND, Me., March 10 (AP).—The S. S. Samdaring, constructed for the British Ministry of Shipping, wil be launched at the New England Shipbuilding Corporation yard tomorrow.

Dominicans Get 2 U. S. Ships

MIAMI, Fla., March 10 (AP).—Lieutenant Colonel S. Cobian, the Dominican Republic's military attache at Washington, accepted on behalf of his government today three United States coast guard patrol vessels. The ships were turned over at a ceremony at the sub chaser training center here, where Dominican crews were taught newest methods of manning them. Captain E. F. McDaniel, commanding officer, made the presentation.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 10 (AP).—Major Joe J. Foss, Sioux Falls, S. D., marine pilot ace, credited with twenty-six planes, is returning to the South Pacific as commander of a newly organized marine air squadron, marine headquarters announced today.

Nimitz Daughter-In-Law Fails In Citizenship Test

San Francisco, March 10 (AP)—Mrs. Joan Leona Labern Nimitz, daughter-in-law of Admiral Chester W. Nimitz, failed in her citizenship examination today, but she said it was because she was overanxious.

Mrs. Nimitz, who was born of British parents in Leon, Nicaragua, was informed that as the wife of a citizen she could take the examination immediately or at any time. She decided to take it at once.

Examiner Edgar R. Bonsall said Mrs. Nimitz, who by occupation is a teacher, was unable to answer the questions satisfactorily. She was given time to prepare for another test. Mrs. Nimitz is the wife of Lieut. Com. Chester W. Nimitz, who she married at Mare Island in 1938.

DUBLIN HOTELS AND BARS HAVE BEEN THE CENTERS OF DOZENS OF RUMORS DURING THE PAST TWO WEEKS CONCERNED PRINCIPALLY WITH THE POSSIBILITY OF AN ALLIED ATTACK ON EIRE TO SEIZE NAVAL BASES.

THE IRISH FREE PRESS SAID EDITORIALLY: "THE GOVERNMENT'S REPLY REPRESENTS THE WILL OF THE IRISH PEOPLE."

THE IRISH INDEPENDENT COMMENTED: "THE IRISH REPLY X X X STATES REASONABLY AND DISPASSIONATELY THE ATTITUDE WE ADOPTED WITH THE UNANIMOUS APPROVAL OF ALL OUR PEOPLE IN 1939, AN ATTITUDE MAINTAINED WITH SCRUPULOUS FAIRNESS EVER SINCE. OUR PEOPLE ARE WHOLEHEARTEDLY BEHIND THE GOVERNMENT X X X NOW THAT THE FULL FACTS OF THE SITUATION ARE BEFORE THEM DISPELLING ALL ALARMIST RUMORS THE PEOPLE CAN BEST SHOW THEIR LOYALTY AND DETERMINATION BY REMAINING CALM."

THE IRISH TIMES DID NOT COMMENT.

IN BELFAST, STAFF MEMBERS OF THE IRISH DAILY TELEGRAPH SAID THE AMERICAN REQUEST WAS ENDORSED GENERALLY AMONG THE PEOPLES OF NORTHERN IRELAND.

MAR 11 1944

"PEOPLE IN BELFAST KNOW HOW EASY IT IS TO COLLECT INFORMATION FROM OUR CAMPS AND SHIP YARDS HERE AND TO TAKE THIS BACK INTO EIRE FOR TRANSMISSION TO THE AXIS," ONE OF THE EDITORS OF THE NEWSPAPER SAID.

PRAISING THE AMERICAN REQUEST, THE IRISH DAILY TELEGRAPH SAID EDITORIALLY: "THIS STEP WAS LONG OVER DUE. X X X WHILE PREPARATIONS ARE BEING MADE FOR THE OPENING OF A SECOND FRONT IN EUROPE, THE PRESENCE IN DUBLIN OF A CENTER WHERE ALLIED INFORMATION OF A VITAL NATURE CAN BE COLLECTED AND TRANSMITTED TO THE ENEMY IS A GRAVE SOURCE OF DANGER."

IN AN OFFICIAL STATEMENT ISSUED IN DUBLIN THE IRISH GOVERNMENT SAID THAT "IT IS UNDERSTOOD AND AGREED THAT A STATEMENT BY BOTH GOVERNMENTS OR A TEXT OF NOTES EXCHANGED WILL BE PUBLISHED."

THE UNITED STATES REQUESTED THE OUSTING OF THE GERMAN LEGATION AND THE JAPANESE CONSULATE STAFFS IN NEUTRAL EIRE ON THE GROUND THAT THEIR AGENCIES SERVED AS LISTENING POSTS FOR THE AXIS POWERS ON THE WESTERN FRONT.

30.24 13653

THE TEXT OF THE STATEMENT:

"INQUIRIES HAVING BEEN MADE AT GOVERNMENT BUILDINGS WITH REGARD TO NEWSPAPER AND RADIO STATEMENTS ORIGINATING OUTSIDE THIS COUNTRY CONCERNING A RECENT AMERICAN REQUEST TO THE IRISH GOVERNMENT FOR REMOVAL OF THE GERMAN MINISTER AND HIS STAFF AND THE JAPANESE CONSUL AND HIS STAFF, THE GOVERNMENT INFORMATION BUREAU INFORMED THE PRESS THAT SUCH A REQUEST HAD BEEN RECEIVED.

"THE BUREAU ADDED THAT THE REPLY OF THE IRISH GOVERNMENT WAS GIVEN IMMEDIATELY AND CONFIRMED LATER BY A NOTE HANDED IN AT THE STATE DEPARTMENT IN WASHINGTON. IT IS UNDERSTOOD AND AGREED A STATEMENT BY BOTH GOVERNMENTS OR THE TEXT OF THE NOTES EXCHANGED WILL BE PUBLISHED."

THE IMMEDIATE ANSWER OF PRIME MINISTER EAMON DE VALERA'S GOVERNMENT WAS A "STAND TO" ORDER TO EIRE'S ARMY ALONG THE ULSTER BORDER FROM FEB. 25 TO FEB. 28.

MAR 11 1944

THERE YET WAS NO INDICATION HERE WHAT THE UPSHOT WOULD BE, BUT SOME OBSERVERS BELIEVED EIRE WOULD REITERATE ITS PREVIOUSLY EXPRESSED VIEWS THAT SO LONG AS IT REMAINS NEUTRAL AND MAINTAINS DIPLOMATIC RELATIONS WITH GERMANY AND JAPAN, THE AXIS OFFICES IN DUBLIN MUST REMAIN OPEN.

THE NEWS THAT THE REQUEST HAD BEEN PRESENTED TO EIRE BY DAVID GRAY, U.S. MINISTER TO EIRE, REACHED LONDON MARCH 6 AMID RUMORS THAT AMERICA WAS PREPARED TO BACK UP THE DEMAND BY FORCE, BUT BRITISH CENSORSHIP DID NOT PERMIT THE STORY TO PASS UNTIL IT WAS RELEASED IN WASHINGTON.

ORAL REMARKS MADE BY GRAY WHEN HE PRESENTED THE NOTE WERE SAID TO HAVE GIVEN RISE TO THE RUMOR THAT WASHINGTON THREATENED TO USE FORCE TO BACK UP ITS REQUEST. PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT WAS REPORTED LATER TO HAVE ASSURED DE VALERA THAT NO QUESTION OF FORCE WAS INVOLVED.

BRITAIN APPROVED THE NOTE, BEING EQUALLY WORRIED ABOUT PLUGGING THIS ENEMY OUTLET OF INFORMATION, BUT THE U.S. WAS LEFT TO HANDLE THE JOB. THE SITUATION IS CONSIDERED ESPECIALLY URGENT AT THIS TIME, WITH AMERICAN TROOPS IN NORTHERN IRELAND AND WITH WESTERN FRONT SHIPPING PLOWING THE ATLANTIC.

DIPLOMATIC POUCHES PASSED FROM THE ENEMY'S DIPLOMATIC OFFICE IN DUBLIN OFFER THE MOST CONVENIENT CHANNEL THROUGH WHICH INFORMATION GATHERED BY AXIS AGENTS MAY BE TRANSMITTED WITHOUT INTERFERENCE TO BERLIN. NOW THAT SOUTH AMERICAN COUNTRIES HAVE SEVERED RELATIONS WITH GERMANY, EIRE IS ONE OF THE FEW LISTEN POSTS STILL AVAILABLE TO THE NAZIS.

MAR 11 1944

THE EIRE PRESS HAS NOT YET MENTIONED THE U.S. NOTE.

THERE ARE NO RECENT OFFICIAL FIGURES ON THE NUMBER OF PERSONS EMPLOYED IN THE GERMAN LEGATION AND THE JAPANESE CONSULTATE IN DUBLIN, BUT IT IS KNOWN IN LONDON THAT THE GERMANS HAD ABOUT 40 EMPLOYES, SEVERAL OF THEM PRESS ATTACHES, IN 1941. BELFAST SOURCES SAY THE JAPANESE CONSULTATE HAS A PERSONNEL OF TWO.

VISCOUNT CRANBORNE, BRITISH DOMINIONS SECRETARY, SAID IN DECEMBER, 1940, THAT THERE WERE 306 GERMANS IN EIRE, OF WHOM 141 WERE REFUGEES AND 30 MEMBERS OF RELIGIOUS ORDERS. AT THAT TIME HE STRESSED THE DIFFICULTY IN GETTING ACCURATE INFORMATION ON THE NUMBERS IN THE LEGATIONS.

IN NORTHERN IRELAND, WHERE THE UNITED STATES HAS HAD TROOPS FOR MORE THAN TWO YEARS, THE COMPLAINT WAS MADE EARLY IN THE WAR IN THE ULSTER HOUSE OF COMMONS THAT DEFENSE MATTERS WERE QUICKLY CONVEYED TO THE GERMAN LEGATION IN DUBLIN AND SENT TO GERMANY.

GH2A2PEW

(ADVANCE) WASHINGTON, MARCH 10-(AP)-THE TEXT OF THE STATE DEPARTMENT'S NOTE TO PRIME MINISTER DE VALERA OF EIRE ON UNITED STATES DEMANDS THAT IT CLOSE AXIS CONSULAR OFFICES, FOLLOWS:

"YOUR EXCELLENCY WILL RECALL THAT IN YOUR SPEECH AT CORK DELIVERED ON THE FOURTEENTH OF DECEMBER, 1941 YOU EXPRESSED SENTIMENTS OF SPECIAL

FRIENDSHIP FOR THE AMERICAN PEOPLE ON THE OCCASION OF THEIR ENTRY INTO THE PRESENT WAR AND CLOSED BY SAYING, 'THE POLICY OF THE STATE REMAINS UNCHANGED. WE CAN ONLY BE A FRIENDLY NEUTRAL.' AS YOU WILL ALSO RECALL, EXTRACTS OF THIS SPEECH WERE TRANSMITTED TO THE PRESIDENT BY YOUR MINISTER IN WASHINGTON. THE PRESIDENT, WHILE CONVEYING HIS APPRECIATION FOR THIS EXPRESSION OF FRIENDSHIP, STATED HIS CONFIDENCE THAT THE IRISH GOVERNMENT AND THE IRISH PEOPLE, WHOSE FREEDOM IS AT STAKE NO LESS THAN OURS, WOULD KNOW HOW TO MEET THEIR RESPONSIBILITIES IN THIS SITUATION.

M 1 1944

"IT HAS BECOME INCREASINGLY APPARENT THAT DESPITE THE DECLARED DESIRE OF THE IRISH GOVERNMENT THAT ITS NEUTRALITY SHOULD NOT OPERATE IN FAVOR OF EITHER OF THE BELLIGERENTS, IT HAS IN FACT OPERATED AND CONTINUES TO OPERATE IN FAVOR OF THE AXIS POWERS AND AGAINST THE UNITED NATIONS ON WHOM YOUR SECURITY AND THE MAINTENANCE OF YOUR NATIONAL ECONOMY DEPEND. ONE OF THE GRAVEST AND MOST INEQUITABLE RESULTS OF THIS SITUATION IS THE OPPORTUNITY FOR HIGHLY ORGANIZED ESPIONAGE WHICH THE GEOGRAPHICAL POSITION OF IRELAND AFFORDS THE AXIS AND DENIES THE UNITED NATIONS. SITUATED AS YOU ARE IN CLOSE PROXIMITY TO BRITAIN, DIVIDED ONLY BY AN INTANGIBLE BOUNDARY FROM NORTHERN IRELAND, WHERE ARE SITUATED IMPORTANT AMERICAN BASES, WITH CONTINUOUS TRAFFIC TO AND FROM BOTH COUNTRIES, AXIS AGENTS ENJOY ALMOST UNRESTRICTED OPPORTUNITY FOR BRINGING MILITARY INFORMATION OF VITAL IMPORTANCE FROM GREAT BRITAIN AND NORTHERN IRELAND INTO IRELAND AND FROM THERE TRANSMITTING IT BY VARIOUS ROUTES AND METHODS TO GERMANY NO OPPORTUNITY CORRESPONDING TO THIS IS OPEN TO THE UNITED NATIONS, FOR THE AXIS HAS NO MILITARY DISPOSITIONS WHICH MAY BE OBSERVED FROM IRELAND.

"WE DO NOT QUESTION THE GOOD FAITH OF THE IRISH GOVERNMENT IN ITS EFFORTS TO SUPPRESS AXIS ESPIONAGE. WHETHER OR TO WHAT EXTENT IT HAS SUCCEEDED IN PREVENTING ACTS OF ESPIONAGE AGAINST AMERICAN SHIPPING AND AMERICAN FORCES IN GREAT BRITAIN AND NORTHERN IRELAND IS, OF COURSE, IMPOSSIBLE TO DETERMINE WITH CERTAINTY. NEVERTHELESS IT IS A FACT THAT GERMAN AND JAPANESE DIPLOMATIC AND CONSULAR REPRESENTATIVES STILL CONTINUE TO RESIDE IN DUBLIN AND ENJOY THE SPECIAL PRIVILEGES AND IMMUNITIES CUSTOMARILY ACCORDED TO SUCH OFFICIALS. THAT AXIS REPRESENTATIVES IN NEUTRAL COUNTRIES USE THESE SPECIAL PRIVILEGES AND IMMUNITIES AS A CLOAK FOR ESPIONAGE ACTIVITIES AGAINST THE UNITED NATIONS HAS BEEN DEMONSTRATED OVER AND OVER AGAIN. IT WOULD BE NAIVE TO ASSUME THAT AXIS AGENCIES HAVE NOT EXPLOITED CONDITIONS TO THE FULL IN IRELAND AS THEY HAVE IN OTHER COUNTRIES. IT IS OUR UNDERSTANDING THAT THE GERMAN LEGATION IN DUBLIN, UNTIL RECENTLY AT LEAST, HAS HAD IN ITS POSSESSION A RADIO SENDING SET. THIS IS EVIDENCE OF THE INTENTION OF THE GERMAN GOVERNMENT TO USE THIS MEANS OF COMMUNICATION. SUPPORTING EVIDENCE IS FURNISHED BY THE TWO PARACHUTISTS EQUIPPED WITH RADIO SENDING SETS RECENTLY DROPPED ON YOUR TERRITORY BY GERMAN PLANES.

MAR 11 '44

"AS YOU KNOW FROM COMMON REPORT, UNITED NATIONS MILITARY OPERATIONS ARE IN PREPARATION IN BOTH BRITAIN AND NORTHERN IRELAND. IT IS VITAL THAT INFORMATION FROM WHICH MAY BE DEDUCED THEIR NATURE AND DIRECTION SHOULD NOT REACH THE ENEMY. NOT ONLY THE SUCCESS OF THE OPERATIONS BUT THE LIVES OF THOUSANDS OF UNITED NATIONS' SOLDIERS ARE AT STAKE.

"WE REQUEST THEREFORE, THAT THE IRISH GOVERNMENT TAKE APPROPRIATE STEPS FOR THE RECALL OF GERMAN AND JAPANESE REPRESENTATIVES IN IRELAND. WE SHOULD BE LACKING IN CANDOR IF WE DID NOT STATE OUR HOPE THAT THIS ACTION WILL TAKE THE FORM OF SEVERANCE OF ALL DIPLOMATIC RELATIONS BETWEEN IRELAND AND THESE COUNTRIES. YOU WILL, OF COURSE, READILY UNDERSTAND THE COMPELLING REASONS WHY WE ASK AS AN ABSOLUTE MINIMUM THE REMOVAL OF THESE AXIS REPRESENTATIVES WHOSE PRESENCE IN IRELAND MUST INEVITABLY BE REGARDED AS CONSTITUTING A DANGER TO THE LIVES OF AMERICAN SOLDIERS AND TO THE SUCCESS OF ALLIED MILITARY OPERATIONS.

"IT IS HARDLY NECESSARY TO POINT OUT THAT TIME IS OF EXTREME IMPORTANCE AND THAT WE TRUST YOUR EXCELLENCY WILL FAVOR US WITH YOUR REPLY AT YOUR EARLY CONVENIENCE."

(END ADVANCE FOR USE IN AMS OF SATURDAY, MARCH 11, WHICH DO NOT APPEAR ON THE STREETS BEFORE 8 P.M., EASTERN WAR TIME, TODAY, MARCH 10)

LONDON, MARCH 10-(AP)-INFORMED SOURCES PREDICTED HERE TODAY THAT EIRE WOULD NOT ACCEDE TO A REQUEST BY THE UNITED STATES THAT THE GERMAN LEGATION AND THE JAPANESE CONSULATE IN DUBLIN BE CLOSED AS A MEANS OF HALTING AXIS ESPIONAGE ON ALLIED TROOPS AND SHIPPING.

THESE SOURCES SAID PRIME MINISTER EAMON DE VALERA'S GOVERNMENT COULD BE EXPECTED TO REITERATE ITS PREVIOUS STAND THAT SO LONG AS IT REMAINS NEUTRAL AND MAINTAINS DIPLOMATIC RELATIONS WITH GERMANY AND JAPAN, THEN THE AXIS OFFICES IN DUBLIN MUST REMAIN OPEN.

FROM BELFAST, NORTHERN IRELAND, CAME A SUGGESTION THAT THE ONLY CONDITIONS UNDER WHICH EIRE MIGHT ACCEDE TO THE U.S. REQUEST, DELIVERED SEVERAL WEEKS AGO, WAS IF THE UNITED STATES AND BRITAIN ALSO WOULD CONSENT TO CLOSE THEIR DIPLOMATIC OFFICES IN DUBLIN.

BOTH P-38 LIGHTNINGS AND P-51 MUSTANGS HAVE BEEN ACCOMPANYING THE AMERICAN BOMBERS ON THE LONG HOPS TO BERLIN, AND HAVE REMAINED TO BATTLE GERMAN FIGHTERS ABOVE AND BEYOND THE CAPITAL UNTIL BOMBING RUNS WERE COMPLETED.

P-47 THUNDERBOLTS, THE THIRD AMERICAN FIGHTER TYPE OPERATING IN THE EUROPEAN THEATER, HAS ONLY A SLIGHTLY SHORTER RANGE AND IS CAPABLE OF PENETRATING GERMANY AS FAR AS THE RUHR VALLEY FROM BRITISH BASES.

THE EXTRA RANGE WAS ADDED TO ALL THREE TYPES BY RESERVE FUEL TANKS ATTACHED TO THE PLANES' BELLIES AND JETTISONED WHEN EMPTY. THE RESERVE TANKS HAVE BEEN USED ON THE AMERICAN FIGHTERS IN THIS THEATER FOR SEVERAL MONTHS, BUT THE MAXIMUM RANGE THEY HAVE ADDED TO THE FIGHTERS STILL IS SECRET.

IT IS KNOWN, HOWEVER, THAT THE LIGHTNING GROUPS WHICH WERE THE FIRST AMERICAN PLANES TO FLY OVER THE GERMAN CAPITAL ON MARCH 3 SWEPT AT LEAST 20 MILES PAST THE CITY, AND MUSTANGS WENT EVEN FARTHER IN THEIR PENETRATION THE FOLLOWING DAY.

A U.S. BOMBER BASE, ENGLAND, MARCH 10-(AP)-THE SOLE SURVIVOR OF A 10-MAN LIBERATOR CREW WHICH WAS PLUNGED INTO THE ICY NORTH SEA ON THE RETURN FROM MONDAY'S BERLIN RAID WAS A 125-POUND BOMBARDIER. HE TOLD TODAY HOW HE SAW TWO OF HIS BUDDIES DROWN 40 MILES FROM THE ENGLISH ~~COAST~~ COAST.

A U. S. FLYING FORTRESS BASE IN BRITAIN, MARCH 10--(AP)--LIKE A WINNING FOOTBALL TEAM THE U. S. ARMY AIR FORCE HAS BEEN ABLE TO MAINTAIN THE TERRIFIC BOMBING PACE OF NINE MAJOR RAIDS IN THE LAST 11 DAYS, INCLUDING THE OPENING O THE DAYLIGHT BLITZ AGAINST BERLIN, BECAUSE IT HAD PLENTY OF RESERVE POWER IN BOTH MEN AND PLANES.

IT IS DUE MAINLY TO THAT DOUBLE RESERVE STRENGTH THAT MAJ. GEN. JAMES H. DOOLITTLE, EIGHTH AIR FORCE COMMANDER, WAS ABLE TO SEND HIS BOMBERS ~~BA~~ OVER THE NAZI CAPITAL THREE TIMES IN FOUR DAYS.

MANY OF THE CREWS WHICH HAD TO FIGHT THEIR WAY IN AND OUT THROUGH DESPERATE GERMAN FIGHTERS ONE DAY WERE ABLE TO REST THE NEXT WHILE FRESH CREWS FLEW IN THEIR [redacted] PLACE.

SOME OF THE MOST EXPERIENCED, HOWEVER, HAVE BEEN ON ALL THREE BIG RAIDS. THEY WERE THE ONLY ONES TO SHOW SIGNS OF FATIGUE. AMONG THEM ARE A SELECTED FEW "HOT" CREWS WHO HAD BEEN PRIMED AND TRAINED ESPECIALLY TO LEAD THE SHOW ON THE "BIG TOWN."

"I'VE BEEN OVER BERLIN THREE TIMES AND I HAVEN'T SEEN LONDON YET," REMARKED SGT. ELLIOT A. GROSSMAN, 20, A FORTRESS GUNNER OF 450 EAST 50TH STREET, BROOKLYN, N. Y.

WHEN HE AND THE OTHERS ON WHAT ALREADY HAS BEEN CALLED THE "BERLIN ROUTE" LANDED BACK AT HOME BASE LATE YESTERDAY THEY [redacted] HAD SPENT APPROXIMATELY 24 OF THE PRECEDING 96 HOURS IN THE AIR WITH AN AVERAGE OF NOT MORE THAN FIVE HOURS SLEEP PER NIGHT.

ONLY THOSE WHO HAVE BEEN THROUGH THE TOUGHEST BATTLES OR SEEN PLANES GO DOWN WITH CLOSE FRIENDS APPEARED AT ALL JITTERY.

"OF COURSE YOU CAN'T KEEP UP THAT KIND OF A PACE VERY LONG, BUT IT SURE WAS WORTH IT TO ME," DECLARED SGT. LESTER ISBELL OF BATAVIA, ILL., A TAIL GUNNER WHO FINISHED HIS TOUR OF OPERATIONS. "IT BECOMES AWFULLY TIRESOME GETTING UP EARLY EVERY MORNING AND BREATHING CANNED OXYGEN FOR EIGHT OR [redacted] 10 HOURS."

MAR 11 1944

EVEN THOUGH THE TAKE-OFF TIME MIGHT NOT BE UNTIL WELL AFTER DAWN THE CREWS ARE ROUTED OUT OF THEIR BUNKS AROUND 2 OR 3 A. M. FOR BRIEFING AND BREAKFAST. UPON THEIR RETURN A MINIMUM OF TWO OR THREE HOURS IS REQUIRED FOR UNLOADING, CHANGING CLOTHES, INTERROGATION AND CHOW BEFORE THEY CAN "HIT THE SACK."

THEN IT IS ONLY IN CASES OF [redacted] EXTREME EXHAUSTION THAT THEY GO TO BED SO PROMPTLY FOR THE AVERAGE YANK IS THE SAME ANYWHERE YOU PUT HIM-- NOT AN EARLY TO BED MAN.

NO MATTER WHAT HIS RANK YOU WILL USUALLY FIND HIM AROUND A FAVORITE BASE CLUB OR HAND OUT HAVING A DRINK OR SANDWICH AND REVIEWING THE

WITH THE FIFTH ARMY AT CASSINO, ITALY, MARCH 10-(AP)-BRIG.GEN. PAUL Y.KENDALL, OF PALO ALTO, CALIF., WAS WOUNDED IN ACTION ON THE BANKS OF THE RAPIDO RIVER JAN. 21 WHILE SERVING AS AN OBSERVER WITH THE 36TH DIVISION, WHICH CROSSED THE RIVER IN A BLOODY FIGHT ONLY TO BE FORCED BACK 48 HOURS LATER.

MAR 11 1944

KENDALL, WHOSE WOUNDING WAS ANNOUNCED LAST NIGHT IN WASHINGTON, BECAME LESS AND LESS OF AN OBSERVER AS THE HEAT OF THE BATTLE GREW. HE SPENT HIS TIME WITH THE FORWARD TROOPS, HELPING THEM GET THEIR BOATS ACROSS THE RIVER.

THE GERMANS PUT THE RIVER BRIDGEHEAD UNDER SHELL FIRE, AND A SHELL FRAGMENT STRUCK THE GENERAL IN THE LEFT HAND. DESPITE THE WOUND, HE REMAINED AT THE RIVER, AIDING IN DIRECTION OF THE OPERATION AFTER HIS WOUND WAS TREATED. HE RECEIVED THE SILVER STAR FOR COOLNESS AND BRAVERY.

WITH THE ALLIED BEACHHEAD FORCES IN ITALY, MARCH 10-(AP)-MEMBERS OF AN AMERICAN TANK DESTROYER BATTALION TODAY TOLD OF DEFINITELY DESTROYING 25 NAZI TANKS AND PROBABLY DESTROYING NINE OTHERS IN THEIR FIRST CONTACT WITH GERMAN ARMOR ON THE BEACHHEAD.

THEIR VICTORY WAS THE TURNING POINT IN THE RECENT GERMAN DRIVE. IN ADDITION TO THE TANKS PUT OUT OF ACTION THEY ALSO KNOCKED OUT ONE SELF-PROPELLED GUN, TWO ENEMY PERSONNEL CARRIERS AND TWO MORTARS AND SHOT UP NAZI INFANTRY WITH THEIR MACHINE-GUNS.

THE BATTALION WAS COMMANDED BY MAJ. EDWARD L. AUSTIN, THE SON OF U.S. SEN. WARREN AUSTIN OF BURLINGTON, VT. IT DREW INTO POSITION TWO DAYS BEFORE THE BIG GERMAN PUSH STARTED AND WAS READY FOR ACTION WHEN THE BATTLE GOT UNDER WAY.

ONE TANK DESTROYER COMPANY ALONE "KILLED" NINE ENEMY TANKS AND PROBABLY KNOCKED OUT TWO OTHERS. ITS COMMANDER, CAPT. CHARLES W. LYDIARD, 11 DAY ST., WESTFIELD, MASS., ALSO DIRECTED ARTILLERY FIRE AND FOR HIS SKILL IN THE HEAT OF BATTLE WAS CREDITED WITH TEN TANKS DEFINITELY KNOCKED OUT, TOGETHER WITH THREE PROBABLES.

MAR 1 1944

"THE SECOND DAY WAS THE HOTTEST," LYDIARD RECALLED, "WE WERE IN A FACTORY AREA AND WE COULD SEE THE BULK OF THE ARMORED ATTACK COMING OUR WAY.

"THEY WERE SPREAD OUT ALONG A 6,000-YARD FRONT. THEIR TANKS CAME FORWARD IN ECHELON THREE OR FOUR ABREAST, BUT EACH SECTION WAS COVERED BY A SUPPORTING SECTION IN DEFILADE WHICH POURED MURDEROUS FIRE INTO ANYTHING THAT SHOWED ITS HEAD.

"WE HELD A LITTLE LINE OF GROUND BEHIND SOME HOUSES AND THE GERMANS POURED EVERYTHING THEY HAD INTO OUR POSITIONS. HOUSES WERE LEVELED. SOME OF OUR MEN WERE BURIED ALIVE AND OTHERS WERE TORN BY HIGH EXPLOSIVES. BUT EVEN WITH OUR PUNISHMENT, WE WERE ALWAYS ABLE TO DO MORE TO THE ENEMY THAN HE WAS ABLE TO DO TO US."

SECOND LT. JACK W. LINDEBERG, 205 S. JORDAN ST., MILES CITY, MONT., PERSONALLY DESTROYED TWO GERMAN MARK VI TANKS AND A MARK IV.

"ABOUT 8:45A.M. SPOTTED FIVE ENEMY TANKS APPROACHING A HILL THROUGH A LITTLE DRAW," HE SAID, "OUR TANK DESTROYER WAS SITTING AT RIGHT ANGLES TO A BEND IN THE DRAW WHICH COVERED THE HILL. "WHEN THE FIRST TANK ROUNDED THE BEND I LET HIM HAVE IT. IT WAS A BIG MARK VI. HE WAS ABOUT 400 YARDS OFF. THERE WAS SO MUCH SMOKE AFTER THE FIRST ROUND I COULDN'T SEE, BUT SGT. CHARLES DE MAYO OF MORGANTOWN, W.VA., WAS SENSING SHOTS FOR ME--THAT IS, CALLING DIRECTIONS.

"THE SECOND TANK THEN CAME AROUND. THE FIRST SHOT STOPPED IT AND IT BEGAN TO SMOKE. GERMAN INFANTRYMEN BEGAN JUMPING OFF, AND OUR MEN RAKED THEM WITH SMALL ARMS FIRE."

LINDEBERG COMMANDED TWO TANK DESTROYERS AND ONE OF THEM WAS HIT BEFORE IT EVER FIRED A SHOT.

MAR 11 1944

"IT STARTED TO BURN AND EVERYBODY SCRAMBLED OUT AND JUMPED IN A DITCH," LINDEBERG SAID, "WE WERE PINNED THERE BY THE MOST UNGODLY FIRE WE EVER ENDURED. WE COULDN'T MOVE. ONE SHOT BLEW UP MY JEEP NOT TEN FEET FROM ME."

SGT. CLARENCE O. VOLNER, 39, OF 10 CLEVELAND AVE., ST. LOUIS, MO., WAS IN POSITION WITH HIS TANK DESTROYER BEHIND THE BATTLE AT A COMMAND POST. THE NEWS SEEMED TO BE GOOD. THE BATTLE SEEMED TO BE GOING WELL. SUDDENLY SGT. ALVIN NEWMAN, 23, 2326 W. 23RD ST., OKLAHOMA CITY, OKLA., SPOTTED FOUR TANKS COMING DOWN THE ROAD AND SIMULTANEOUSLY WORD CAME THAT GERMAN INFANTRY WAS CLOSING IN.

"WE WERE JUST SITTING THERE TAKING THINGS EASY WHEN SUDDENLY IT GOT BAD," NEWMAN SAID, "THERE WAS PLENTY OF FIRE WHISTLING OVERHEAD AND I LOOKED DOWN THE ROAD AND THERE THE TANKS CAME."

VOLNER THEN MOVED HIS DESTROYER FROM BEHIND THE HOUSE AND STARTED FIRING.

"I LAID IN SIX OR SEVEN ROUNDS BEFORE I GOT THE RANGE AT OVER 1,000 YARDS," HE SAID, "SUDDENLY ONE TANK STOPPED AND BURST INTO FLAMES I GUESS THEIR AMMUNITION EXPLODED BUT I COULDN'T WAIT TO SEE BECAUSE JUST THEN THEIR ARTILLERY LAID ON US AND WE WITHDREW BEHIND THE HOUSE."

CAPT. LYDIARD SAID HIS MEN HAD BEEN GIVEN LITTLE REST SINCE THE SALERNO LANDING SIX MONTHS AGO. HE SAID ONEOF HIS MEN WAS DUE TO GO HOME AFTER THE LAST PUSH, BUT LOST AN EYE ON THE LAST DAY OF THE BATTLE AND WAS NOW HOSPITALIZED.

"HE'LL GET HOME ONE OF THESE DAYS," CAPT. LYDIARD SAID. "A LOT OF US WILL GET HOME SOME DAY, I HOPE. THIS IS THE BEST DAMNED BUNCH OF MEN IN ITALY, AND IF I HAD IT TO DO ALL OVER AGAIN, I'D COME RIGHT BACK IN A TANK DESTROYER BATTALION."

MAR 11 19

LYDIARD'S VOICE IS SO SOFT AND SMOOTH IT IS DIFFICULT TO HEAR HIM IN NORMAL CONVERSATION. HE IS MARRIED AND HAS A DAUGHTER 18 MONTHS OLD, BUT HE'S SEEN HER ONLY ONCE--FOR ONE DAY.

THEY LANDED BEHIND INVADING CAVALRY FORCES AND IMMEDIATELY SET TO WORK TO REPAIR AND EXTENDTHE JAPANESE-BUILT, BOMB-DAMAGED MOMOTE AIRSTRIP.

THESE SEABEES ARE A VETERAN GROUP OF CONSTRUCTIONISTS, AVERAGING 38 YEARS OF AGE. THEY ARE NOT INTENDED TO FIGHT. THEY RECEIVED ONLY THREE WEEKS OF MILITARY TRAINING.

BUT FROM THE FIRST THEY HAVE DETERMINED THAT THEIR ACHIEVEMENTS ON THE AIRSTRIP DURING THE DAY SHOULD NOT BE UNDONE BY THE JAPANESE

AT NIGHT. SO EACH NIGHT THEY POSTED [illegible] OF THEIR NUMBER AS GUARDS ALONG THE INTERIOR EDGE OF THE RUNWAY TO FORM A SECONDARY DEFENSE BEHIND THE CAVALRYMEN HOLDING THE FRONT IN THE COCONUT GROVE AHEAD.

THIS MORNING THE ENEMY MADE THE MOST INTENSE AND DETERMINED OF HIS NIGHTLY ATTACKS. THE DRIVE TEMPORARILY PENETRATED THE CAVALRY LINE AND THE SEABEE GUARDS, UNDER THE COMMAND OF COMDR.I.S. RASMUSSEN OF PHILADELPHIA,PA., AND THE LEADERSHIP OF WARRANT OFFICER JIM TAYLOR OF MIAMI,FLA., AN OLD MARINE CAMPAIGNER, SUDDENLY FOUND THEMSELVES HOLDING THE ACTUAL FRONT.

TAYLOR'S LITTLE BAND, WITH ALL GUNS FIRING, S

OWED THE ENEMY CHARGE LONG ENOUGH FOR THE CAVALRYMEN TO REGROUP AND REINFORCE THE SEABEE LINE. THEN TAYLOR HIMSELF HELPED RALLY BOTH FORCES FOR A COUNTER-ASSAULT WHICH ULTIMATELY DROVE THE ENEMY BACK. THE AIR-STRIP WAS SAVED FOR ANOTHER DAY'S WORK.

SALAMI PLANTATION, LOS NEGROS ISLAND IN THE ADMIRALTY GROUP, MARCH 3-(DELAYED)-(AP)-LADS OF THE FIRST CAVALRY DIVISION WHO YESTERDAY TOOK POSSESSION OF THIS SECTION OF LOS NEGROS ISLAND WHERE THE ENEMY APPARENTLY MAINTAINED HEADQUARTERS ARE GROWING A BIT LEARY OF ENTERING ABANDONED DUGOUTS.

AT LEAST TWICE TODAY SUCH UNDERTAKINGS FLUSHED LIVE JAPANESE.

PVT. FLOYD COAST, 513 ELK STREET, FRANKLIN, PA., ENTERED ONE DUGOUT TO INVESTIGATE. INSIDE HE FOUND A NUMBER OF BOXES. HE WAS HEAVING THEM OUT THE LOW, OVAL ENTRYWAY WHEN HE HEARD A COUGH IN THE DARKNESS BEHIND HIM. PRIVATE COAST REAPPEARED IN THE DAYLIGHT IN A CONSIDERABLE HURRY.

MAR 11 1944

WHEN THE COUGHER FAILED TO HEED THE ORDER TO COME OUT, COAST AND PVT. MARION L.NICKENS, 521 MADISON AVENUE, EVANSVILLE, IND., VOLUNTEERED TO GO IN AFTER HIM UNDER INSTRUCTIONS FROM AN OFFICER TO TAKE HIM ALIVE, IF POSSIBLE.

"WAIT A MINUTE UNTIL I GET MY SPUNK UP," NICKENS SAID.

THEN BOTH MEN, ARMED WITH PISTOLS, STOPPED AND ENTERED THE DUGOUT.

SHORTLY THE SOUND OF GUNFIRE CAME FROM THE INTERIOR AND NICKENS RE-EMERGED.

"I SAW HIS HAND COMING UP AND IT HELD A GRENADE," THE SOLDIER REPORTED. "I PURPOSELY DIDN'T HIT HIM. HE APPEARS TO BE LYING IN BED."

AT THAT POINT, FIRST LT. WOODROW H.MCMANUS, BAKERSFIELD, CALIF., ENTERED THE DUGOUT WITH A FLASHLIGHT. HE SAW A JAPANESE PRESSING A GRENADE AGAINST HIS STOMACH.

30.24— 13669

UNDER THE CIRCUMSTANCES, THERE SEEMED NO ALTERNATIVE TO KILLING THE ENEMY SOLDIER SO MCMANUS DID, SHOOTING HIM WITH A PISTOL.

LATER PFC FLOYD LEWIS, KANNAPOLIS, N.C., SIMILARLY EXAMINING THE INTERIOR OF ANOTHER DUGOUT, HAD JUST PICKED UP AN ENEMY OFFICER'S SWORD WHEN HE HEARD A NOISE BEHIND HIM. HE TURNED TO FIND HIMSELF CONFRONTED BY A GOOD LIVE JAPANESE OFFICER, PISTOL IN HAND.

LEWIS LUNGED FORWARD AND IMPALED THE JAPANESE OFFICER ON HIS OWN SWORD.

SALANI PLANTATION, LOS NEGROS ISLAND, MARCH 8 (DELAYED)-(AP)- RAIN AND MUD AND TOIL--IT'S THE SAME OLD STORY, BUT THE CHARACTERS ARE NEW.

ON LOS NEGROS ISLAND THE CAST IS MADE UP OF ELEMENTS OF THE FIRST CAVALRY DIVISION NOW IN COMBAT FOR THE FIRST TIME.

FOR FOUR DAYS NOW, THESE ASSAULT TROOPS HAVE ATTACKED AND ADVANCED BY DAY, ENTRENCHED AND RESISTED COUNTER-ATTACKS BY NIGHT. THEY'VE HAD LITTLE SLEEP AND LESS REST. OFTEN, THEIR ADVANCES CARRIED THEM BEYOND THE CAPACITIES OF THEIR SUPPLY SYSTEM.

YESTERDAY, A TROPICAL DELUGE REDUCED THEIR SUPPLY ROADS TO MIRE SO THAT EVEN TANKS AND TRACTORS WERE STOPPED.

ALTHOUGH THE SUPPLY OFFICER, LT.JAMES HALL, FORMER RACEHORSE STABLE OWNER FROM (SPRING CREEK ROAD) ROCKFORD, ILL., RISKED HIS LIFE REPEATEDLY TO GET THROUGH WITH PROVISIONS, THERE WAS NO WATER FROM NOON YESTERDAY UNTIL SCOUTS REPORTED TO FIRST SGT.PAUL R. BYRD, 309 NORTH AVE., CLARKSBURG, W.VA., THAT THEY HAD FOUND SEVERAL ABANDONED JAPANESE WELLS. BYRD, 39, A VETERAN OF 21 YEARS IN THE CAVALRY, CHECKED WITH THE MEDICAL UNIT AND LEARNED THE WATER WAS SAFE IF TREATED WITH CHLORINE TABLETS.

STILL, THERE WAS NO FOOD AND NONE ARRIVED UNTIL MIDAFTERNOON WHEN AN AMPHIBIOUS "ALLIGATOR" SUCCEEDED IN BRINGING IN CASES OF "K" RATIONS.

MAJ.C.H.PATTIE, HILLSBORO, ILL., STAFF SUPPLY OFFICER, AND LT.HARRY R.SAGE, LOS ANGELES, BEACH CONTROL OFFICER, ARE DIRECTING THE SUPPLY SPEED-UP.

MAR 11 1944

THE PRIME CONSIDERATION RIGHT NOW SEEMS TO BE REST AND SLEEP. AS SOON AS DARKNESS APPROACHES, THE ADVANCE IS STOPPED AND EVERYONE STARTS DIGGING HIMSELF A FOXHOLE OR SHELTER.

FIVE OF US, WORKING TO THE LIMIT, SUCCEEDED IN DIGGING A TRENCH ALMOST WIDE ENOUGH TO ALLOW ONE MAN TO STRETCH OUT. WE COVERED IT WITH A HOSPITAL LITTER AND TORN TARPAULIN FROM AN ABANDONED JAPANESE CAMP.

THEN WE TROOPED IN AND TOOK UP POSITIONS, SIDE BY SIDE, BACKS TO THE WALL, TIN HATS AT OUR FEET, KNEES PULLED UP TO OUR CHINS. WITH ME WERE CAPT.P.R.WEXLER, 18 WOODWARD AVE., CLINTON, N.J. AND THREE OTHER OFFICERS.

BY 10 P.M., OUR CIGARET SUPPLY RAN OUT, AND BY MIDNIGHT, OUR CONVERSATION. BY 1 A.M., RAIN COURSED IN CASCADES DOWN THE BANKS OF THE TRENCH. ABOUT 2 A.M., THE SAND AT THE BOTTOM OF THE TRENCH SETTLED UNDER OUR WEIGHT AND EXPOSED A GRILLWORK OF TREE ROOTS.

AT 4 A.M., THE TIDE IN THE HARBOR REACHED ITS PEAK AND WATER

SEEPED INTO THE BOTTOM OF THE TRENCH. FROM 5 TO 7 A.M., WE COUNTED THE PASSAGE OF TIME IN SECONDS UNTIL DAYLIGHT WHEN WE COULD STRETCH OUR LEGS.

WASHINGTON, MARCH 10-(AP)-THE SITUATION IN ARGENTINA, DESCRIBED BY SECRETARY OF STATE HULL TODAY AS IN A STATE OF CONFUSION, HAS AROUSED CONSIDERABLE CONCERN AMONG DIPLOMATS OVER POSSIBILITIES ARISING FROM THE FORMAL RESIGNATION OF PRESIDENT PEDRO RAMIREZ.

THE MAIN WORRY IS WHETHER RECOGNITION OF THE REGIME OF PRESIDENT EDELMIRO FARRELL BY BOLIVIA, CHILE AND PARAGUAY MEANS THAT A SOUTHERN SOUTH AMERICAN BLOC OF ANY PERMANENCE MAY HAVE BEEN FORMED.

FARRELL, FORMERLY VICE-PRESIDENT, TOOK OVER DURING THE COUP D'ETAT WHICH FOLLOWED SHORTLY AFTER THE RAMIREZ GOVERNMENT BROKE RELATIONS WITH THE AXIS.

THERE IS THE FEELING HERE THAT AN ARGENTINE-LED BLOC WOULD MOST PROBABLY BE DIRECTED AGAINST THE UNITED STATES AND MIGHT ENGENDER FORMATION OF AN OPPOSING GROUP CLUSTERED AROUND BRAZIL WHICH HAS CLOSE TIES OF FRIENDSHIP WITH THIS COUNTRY.

ONE POSSIBLE TEST OF THE STRENGTH OF THE LINKS BETWEEN ARGENTINA, CHILE, BOLIVIA AND PARAGUAY MAY COME IN THE CHILEAN AND PARAGUAYAN REACTION TO RAMIREZ'S RESIGNATION.

BOTH COUNTRIES MAINTAINED RELATIONS WITH ARGENTINA ON THE OFFICIAL BASIS THAT NO UNCONSTITUTIONAL CHANGE HAD TAKEN PLACE; THEY ACCEPTED THE FARRELL INTERPRETATION OF THE COUP AS A TEMPORARY WITHDRAWAL OF RAMIREZ BECAUSE OF ILLNESS.

NOW THEY HAVE A CHANCE TO REASSESS THE CHANGE AS MORE FUNDAMENTAL AND TO RECONSIDER THEIR RELATIONS WITH ARGENTINA.

U.S. Planes Meet No Foe in Air In Raids on Germany and France; Russians Drive Toward Kherson

MUENSTER RAIDED BY YANK BOMBERS, MEETING NO NAZIS

BEALMEAR

Pas-de-Calais Area of France Smashed by Force of Liberators.

R.A.F. OUT AGAIN

Continental Radios Announce Warning of British Night Attack.

LONDON, March 11—(AP) American heavy bombers blasted military targets in Muenster, Germany and the Pas-de-Calais area of France today to cap perhaps the most significant week of the air war and late tonight Axis-controlled radio stations indicated that R.A.F. night bombers were keeping up the tempo of the attack with new assaults.

The Paris radio failed to come on with its regular 10 p.m. news bulletin and the Luxembourg transmitter announced that it was "closing down because of the approach of enemy aircraft." The Frankfurt radio then broadcast a warning that airplanes were reported in the alert area.

14th Raid of Month

The operation of the American bombers was the 14th this month for the Allied heavyweights based in Britain.

Meeting no opposition from enemy fighters, Fortresses bombed Muenster through an overcast, using navigational instruments, U. S. headquarters announced. This transportation center is in western Germany 35 miles from the Netherlands border.

Liberators attacked the Pas-de-Calais area, where enemy emplacements threaten the Allies' shortest invasion route from Britain.

Fighters Strafe Airdromes

Thunderbolt fighters, meanwhile, swept over occupied territories and strafed airdromes and enemy gun positions.

Other Thunderbolts, as well as Lightnings and Mustangs, accompanied the bombers. No bombers were lost in the day's operations, but four fighters were missing.

It was the third time that American heavy bombers have hit Germany without loss—the previous "perfect records" having been set last November.

Despite the lack of enemy fighter planes today, enemy anti-aircraft was severe. The bombers plowed through snowstorms to reach the targets.

Bombers Shed Camouflage

The Muenster bombers were the first all-silver Fortress group to attack Germany. It had none of the old dun-colored camouflage, which has been dropped to save 50 pounds of weight. All new ships arriving here are silver-colored, and old Fortresses are being stripped.

"The ships aren't only beautiful —they're faster too," Gunner Sgt. Walter Megan, of Waterbury, Conn., commented. He and other fliers called it an "easy" mission.

For the hard-working American crews, some of whom had been over Europe 10 of the last 13 days, it was the eighth attack since March 1. The R.A.F.'s heavy bombers have attacked continental objectives six nights in March, although with considerably smaller forces than the great fleets which smashed Berlin, Leipzig, Schweinfurt and other German cities last month.

The RAF last night copied the American precision technique in bombing specific targets at night with the help of a bright moon. The targets, in France, were airplane factories at Clermont-Ferrand, Ossun and Chateauroux, and a bearing factory at Laricamarie.

Emphasizing the significance of this week's bombings, the American heavyweights went to work on precision targets untouched by the RAF in its three-month obliteration campaign, while divisions finding too many clouds for precision bombings let go their explosives in efforts to flatten whole industrial districts, as the British have done at night.

To reach Muenster, a key point on the supply route for Hitler's anti-invasion forces, the Fortresses and their escorts had to fly a round-trip of at least 650 miles in weather which only a few months ago would have kept bombers at home.

The city of 143,000 previously was attacked four times by the United States Air Force. Several rail lines converge there and the railyards handle a heavy volume of traffic to and from the industrial Ruhr.

The strafing operation by Thunderbolts may indicate a part they will play in the invasion. Originally designed as an high altitude fighter, the Thunderbolt has been transformed into a fighter-bomber by replacing the belly gasoline tank with a 500-pound bomb. Now the fighter has demonstrated ability to sweep over areas at low level and shoot up targets on the ground.

London, Sunday, March 12 (AP)—RAF planes closed out an historic week of heavy aerial attacks last night with a trip across the Channel under a "bomber's moon." There was no immediate indication what targets the British planes were after.

BEALMEAR

Muenster, Invasion Coast Lashed By Yank Flyers

HILL

London, March 11 (AP)—American Flying Fortresses hit Muenster in Western Germany today while Liberator bombers were loosing hard blows at German military installations in the Pas-de-Calais region of the French coast, headquarters announced.

The two-pronged American daylight attack was made through substratosphere snowstorms without the loss of a single bomber, but four fighters were lost.

The new blows followed up an RAF Lancaster night assault on four factories in France.

Airdromes Strafed

Other forces of American Thunderbolt fighters also contributed to the daylight sweeps by straffing airdromes, gun positions and other German military targets in occupied territory.

The bombers were accompanied by Thunderbolt and Mustang fighters.

The new American assaults on western Germany and the French coast where Prime Minister Churchill said the Germans are readying rockets and robot planes were a resumption of their marathon attacks following a one-day lull.

Plane Plants Pounded

Targets of the RAF Lancasters were airplane factories at Chateauroux, 150 miles south of Paris and Clermont-Ferrand, 100 miles south of Chateauroux.

Ossun, another of the night targets, lies only five miles from Tarbes, 40 miles from the Spanish border and representing a round trip of more than 1,000 miles.

Factories also were hit at Laricamarie, near Saint Etienne, 75 miles south of Vichy.

Unprecedented Streak

These targets on the northern French coast have now been hammered by Allied planes on 60 days out of the last three months. They first were hit early in September.

The American campaign has now taken the bombers on a scorching tour of German targets, including Berlin, on 10 of the last 13 days—an unprecedented streak of activity for this theater. Eight of these attacks were against Germany itself.

Fighters Grounded

Earlier reports indicated that the Americans had taken advantage of thick clouds, which apparently kept most of Hitler's fighter defenses grounded.

The Germans attempted to compensate for the weather handicap by sending up terrific barrages of flak.

"I didn't see a German fighter during the whole trip, or anything else," said Major Charles J. Rosenblatt, of Tampa, Fla., who piloted one of the escorting Thunderbolts. "The clouds were stacked up in layers just like cake right up to 20,000 feet. I doubt if the Germans could get a plane off the ground."

Heaviest Flak

He said the flak was the heaviest he had seen in 37 missions.

The American attack on western Germany was the second quick dose of bombs for that section of the Reich, the RAF's Mosquitos having made another of their incursions there during the night.

Last night's assault was the RAF's fourth sizable mission this week and the fifth in a new campaign in which seven airplane plants and two big railroad centers have been bombed.

These raids are capitalizing on a period of bright nights which are excellent for pinpointing targets but which are not good for the concealment required for deep penetrations of the Continent.

Five Planes Bagged

Earlier announcements said the RAF continued its campaign against U-boats in the Bay of Biscay in day-long patrols yesterday during which five JU-88s, the "eyes" of the underseas raiders, were shot down.

Mosquito bombers drew first blood in the aerial battles over the day by shooting down three JU-88s, and RAF fighters got another in the afternoon.

WOULD SEE LONDON NOW

Brooklyn Gunner Has Been Over Berlin Three Times

A UNITED STATES FLYING FORTRESS BASE in Britain, March 11 (AP)—As a Flying Fortress gunner with the fast-traveling Army Air Force, Sgt. Elliot A. Grossman, 20 years of age, of 450 East Fiftieth Street, Brooklyn, has seen Berlin three times this week but, says he:

"I haven't seen London yet."

When he and others in certain crews trained especially to lead attacks on the German capital landed back at their home base late Thursday they had spent approximately twenty-four of the preceding ninety-six hours in the air, with an average of not more than five hours sleep per night.

"Of course, you can't keep up that pace very long, but it sure was worth it to me," declared Sgt. Lester Isbell of Batavia, Ill., a tail gunner. "It becomes awfully tiresome getting up early every morning and breathing canned oxygen for eight or ten hours."

U. S. ACE SEES NAZI AIR FORCES WEAK

MAR 12 1944

A Fighter Base in England, March 11 (A. P.).—Capt. Walker Mahurin, former Fort Wayne, Ind., clerk who now is the leading American fighter ace in the European theater, declares the German air force could be eliminated as an effective weapon of war in fifteen days of combat.

"We definitely have superiority now," said Capt. Mahurin, who likes to look at Berlin from the sky. "It shows the trend more than anything else when we can go all the way in there and shoot them up."

The 25-year-old pilot, although frankly scared to death on every flight, said he gets lots of fun out of combat. His twenty victories are only six under the American record of twenty-six, held jointly by Marine Major Gregory Boyington, missing in action, and Marine Major Joe Foss—both of whom tied Capt. Eddie Rickenbacker's world war I total.

30. 24 — 13675

Capt. Mahurin, who spends hours studying planes and planning aerial tactics against the Germans, flew thirty missions before getting his first Nazi; but has more than made up for his late start by twice scoring :rebles—the last one over Berlin.

8th Air Force Officer Now A Major General

MAR 12 1944

Lemay, 37, One of Youngest to Hold Rank; Pioneered Daylight Precision Raids

LONDON, March 11 (AP).—United States Army headquarters announced today the promotion from brigadier general to major general of Curtis E. Lemay, the commander of an 8th Air Force bomber division.

Lemay, who lives at 1478 Orchard Place, Lakewood, Ohio, is thirty-seven years old and one of the youngest major generals in the Army and one of the pioneers in the development of daylight precision bombing of Germany. As a flying colonel he led an unescorted Flying Fortress formation on the England-to-Africa shuttle bombing of the Regensburg, Germany, Messerschmitt plants last Aug. 18. For this mission he received the Distinguished Service Cross for heroism.

He was made a brigadier general Nov. 18, 1943.

First All-Silver Fort Group Attacks Reich

A United States Fortress Base in England, March 11 (AP)—The first all-silver Fortress group—minus the former standard dun-colored camouflage—to attack Germany returned from today's assault virtually without a scratch.

The bombers are now beginning to go out in their shiny "birthday clothes" because the saving of some 50 pounds weight in paint is considered more valuable than concealment. The older planes are being stripped of their paint and the new ones are arriving from the United States without paint.

TO RED ASSAULT NORTH OF KHERSON

YARBROUGH

Captured City Is 37 Miles Above Important Black Sea Port.

ENTIRE FRONT IN ACTION

Greatest Fight Rages at Tarnopol Where Nazis Try to Make Stand.

LONDON, Sunday, March 12—(AP) Red army troops forced a spectacular new bridgehead across the wide Dnieper river in the last 60-mile stretch held by the Germans near the Black sea yesterday and captured the district center of Berislav, only 37 miles above the big sea port of Kherson, Moscow announced today.

Berislav is a highway hub for at least four major roads branching out into the Ukraine.

Units of X formation forced the Dnieper during the night (Friday-Saturday) and after a vigorous attack captured Berislav, district center of the Nikolaev region," the midnight Moscow communique announced.

Tarnopol Fight Rages

Other Russian forces at the northwestern end of the flaming 500-mile Ukraine front were reported still fighting in the streets of Tarnopol at the end of the third day of battle for the strategic rail town.

The Moscow communique and its supplement—both recorded by the Soviet monitor—gave few details of the Russian crossing but for the first time spoke of fighting "southwest and south of Apostolovo."

The Russians apparently crossed from Kakhovka which they reached early last November after racing in swift strides across the Nogaisk steppes. By yesterday's short cut they won an advance of about 20 miles eastward from their last reported position on the west bank of the Dnieper in this area.

The troops on the east bank in this region had previously been part of the fourth Ukrainian front under Gen. Feodor I. Tolbukhin, and announcement of the crossing may indicate that the Fourth Ukrainian front forces have either begun or are preparing to join the three other Russian army groups already pounding the sagging German salient in the southern Ukraine.

3,600 Germans Killed

These three captured 280 localities yesterday and killed about 3,600 Germans in continued gains along the winding front. In one area, the late bulletin said, Red army guardsmen, "following their tanks through the sticky mud and carrying gun shells on their shoulders pushed ahead 13 miles during the day."

Among the gains reported by the Russian communique were:

First Ukrainian front under Marshal Gregory K. Zhukov in southern Poland German counter-attacks were hurled back in the Tarnopol area. More than 30 localities were captured 62 miles to the west in the Proskurov area of the western Ukraine, including the village of Davidkovtsy, six miles east of Proskurov. The Russians also crossed the Bug river and captured Pedosy, 13 miles northwest of Proskurov and four miles south of the river.

Second Ukrainian front under Marshal Ivan S. Konev—Ladizhenka, 14 miles south of Uman and 200 other populated places were captured while 70 miles to the west Zlatopol and Novomirograd, 36 and 34 miles northwest of Kirovograd, were captured among 40 more communities.

Third Ukrainian front under Gen. Rodion Y. Malinovsky—The railway junction of Dolinskaya, 37 miles southeast of Kirovograd was menaced as the Russians reached the town. Other troops inside the Dnieper bend, advancing southwestward, captured Berislav on the west bank of the Dnieper, and 60 more communities.

20-Mile Advance

The capture of Berislav represented an advance of approximately 20 miles down the west bank of the Dnieper river from the last previously reported position of the Soviet troops.

The Germans were apparently putting up their strongest resistance in south Russia at Tarnopol, where the Red army was nearest the Rumanian frontier and menacing the Polish rail center of Lwow.

The fighting in the Dnieper area menaced not only Kherson but also Nikolaev where the Russians were last reported 35 miles away on the Nikolaev-Dolinskaya railway. Kherson was in most immediate danger for the Germans in this city had only one rail line through Nikolaev for retreat.

The armies of the three Russian fronts were tearing into 50 overburdened German divisions with synchronized blows which with luck could bring Soviet forces into pre-war Rumania in a week.

These three great drives were pressing on with such vigor that the German radio hastened to tell the home front of the Russian successes—as if preparing it for a disaster that could not be concealed.

Under the impact of a great preponderance of Soviet forces—perhaps two to one or better—Field Marshal Fritz von Mannstein's harried divisions were being squeezed out of the Soviet Union all the way from the strategic Polish base of Tarnopol to a sector about 25 miles north of Nikolaev.

The latest massive stroke in the grand offensive came from the Second Ukrainian army under Marshal Ivan S. Konev who struck through Uman so speedily that Moscow radio said villagers told of seeing Germans "rushing away, putting their clothes on as they ran."

In some areas the back-tracking Nazis left "endless rows of trucks covering dozens of miles in some places three or four rows deep."

MAR 13 1944

The German official news agency, D. N. B., acknowledged the Russians had succeeded well in achieving "a remarkable success" in the south. At the same time it told of a German withdrawal in the north, around Narva.

By breaking through east of Tarnopol, the 1st Ukrainian Army already has won a position from which it may turn the long-prepared German line on the Bug River which the Germans designed to keep the Red armies away from Rumania. A German high command communique said Russian forces which had broken into Tarnopol were dislodged by a counter-attack. Tarnopol is a hinge to the swinging front which must hold if the defeated Nazi forces to the southeast are to have a chance of getting out.

The Germans acknowledged yesterday that the Russian drives toward Nikolaev and on the newly opened south-central Ukrainian front near Uman had gained further ground.

"Strong forces," supported by tanks and aircraft, also have reopened the assault on German defenders of the far northern front, a Berlin broadcast said.

Berlin Says Nazis Hold Tarnopol

London, March 11 (AP)—The German high command said today that Russian forces of the southern Ukraine which had broken into the German strongpoint of Tarnopol have been dislodged by a German counter-attack. The communique was broadcast from Berlin.

Soviet communiques had announced previously that Russian troops were engaged in street fighting with German forces within the town, which lies west of the old Polish border and less than 60 miles from the Rumanian frontier.

The Germans acknowledged, however, that the Russian drives on the naval base of Nikolaev and on the newly opened south-central Ukrainian front near Uman had gained further ground.

New Assaults In Far North

"Strong forces," supported by tanks and aircraft, also have reopened the assault on German defenders of the far northern front, the broadcast said. It claimed, however, that new breaches in the German lines had been eliminated or sealed off in German counter-attacks near Nevel, Pskov and Narva.

Three Soviet armies, advancing through the mud and water of the southern Ukraine, have shattered German lines over a 500-mile front in a drive to clear the enemy from all southern Russia, Moscow dispatches reported today.

Third Offensive

The drive was highlighted by yesterday's announcement that a third offensive had been launched in that area—by Marshal Ivan S. Konev's Second Ukrainian Army.

Moscow said his forces had broken through enemy defenses on a 109-mile line southwest of Cherkasy, killing 20,000 Germans, capturing 2,500 more and liberating more than 300 towns and villages, including the pivotal stronghold of Uman less than 30 miles northwest of the Bug river.

Fourteen German divisions—approximately 150,000 men—were routed in this five-day drive, the Russian communique said. They included seven infantry, six tank and one artillery division.

Much Equipment Seized.

"The true scale of this German defeat can be judged from the huge quantities of trophies captured by our troops," the Soviet bulletin said. "Weapons, equipment and military supplies were strewn on the whole course of the road from the Gniloi Tikich River to the town of Uman. All the roads were packed with enemy tanks, self-propelled guns, armored troop carriers and trucks."

Marshal Konev's tremendous southern lunge, covering from 25 to 50 miles since last Monday, possibly spelled the doom of the enemy's Dnieper bend forces. Spearheads of his army, exploiting their success, were already driving the Germans back upon the Bug River line, further to the west, and clearing out German positions to the southeast in the direction of Kirovograd.

On Marshal Konev's right, Marshal Gregory K. Zhukov's First Ukrainian Army was storming into southern Poland across the severed Odessa-Moscow Trunk railway. Yesterday his troops in the Proskurov area captured Krasilov, fifteen miles to the north. They also swept up several towns along the Bug River in a lunge toward Vinnitsa.

Marshal Zhukov's right wing continued to fight street battles in the town of Tarnopol.

Southeast of Marshal Konev's front, Gen. Rodion Y. Malinovsky's Third Ukrainian Army pressed on toward the Black Sea ports of Kherson and Nikolaev. His forces captured Tavkino thirty-four miles northeast of Nikolaev and Andreyevka thirty-six miles northeast of Kherson. Baratovka and Dobroye were other important points taken in this drive.

2,000,000 REDS SLAIN

London, March 11 (A. P.).—A Moscow broadcast declared today that the Extraordinary States Commission on the investigation of crimes by the German invaders had reported 2,000,000 men, women and children murdered since the Nazis moved into Russian territory.

The broadcast, recorded by the Soviet monitor, said that prisoners of war were among those killed and poisoned in murder vans and tortured to death.

BRITISH PRESSURE ON DUBLIN FAILS

London Gets Same Answer As U. S. From De Valera

State Department discloses it recently refused sale of ship to Eire..... Page 4

London, March 11 (AP)—British pressure was applied on Dublin to accept the United States request for the closing of Axis listening posts in Ireland, and in answer Eire's Prime Minister Eamon de Valera merely gave the British Government a copy of the rejection he sent Washington, it was disclosed today.

De Valera's refusal of the request, which was aimed at preventing the leakage of important military information, may bring the imposition of stringent restrictions on travel between Eire and the United Kingdom. Responsible quarters said there was little chance that force—such as economic sanctions—would be brought to bear against the Irish Government.

British Stand Stated

In a note dated February 22, Sir John Maffey, United Kingdom representative to Eire, informed de Valera that the British "fully support the request for the removal from Eire of German and Japanese diplomatic and consular representatives," and stated the British desire "to emphasize the importance which they attach to this request."

The prospect that border restrictions would be tightened found support in Home Secretary Herbert Morrison's statement of last July that "we are watching the border position, and when further improvements in control are wanted we will make them."

Allied Policy Stiffens

The belief was general also that the United States would not have made its request without considering what it would do in the event of a refusal. And the demand coincided with other evidences of a stiffening of United Nations policy toward neutral nations suspected of playing ball—willingly or unwillingly—with the Axis.

These evidences include the Allied stand on the new Argentine regime, the halting of lend-lease shipments to Turkey, and the pressure on Spain to grow closer to neutrality.

Meanwhile, many Irish apparently were indorsing de Valera's position. Irish censorship forbids criticism of the Government's neutralty policy, but it cannot compel such commendation as came from the Irish Independent, which said the Prime Minister's reply represented the general attitude of the people and the will of Parliament.

Eire "Unfairly Attacked"

The Dublin correspondent of the British Press Association said that the Irish feel that Eire's "clearly defined policy of neutrality has been unfairly attacked. We in this country are at a loss to understand why a similar attitude has not been adopted on the part of the United States toward such neutrals as Sweden and Turkey."

The people of Northern Ireland, however, were said by the Irish Daily Telegraph in Belfast, to back up the American request. The paper said editorially that "the presence in Dublin of a center where Allied information of a vital nature can be collected and transmitted to the enemy is a grave source of danger."

Attitude Of British Press

The London Daily Mirror said Britain, while not participating in the present negotiations, "is expected to act jointly with America in taking any steps considered necessary." The Daily Mail declared that "enemy agents in Dublin have for too long been able to spy on us almost on our own doorstep."

The Irish stand was hailed in Berlin as a "resolute act of defense." DNB called the American request a "new chapter in Anglo-American pressure politics against all neutrals and non-belligerents and part of a general political offensive against the neutral perimeter of Europe."

Capital Reveals Roosevelt Bid To Eire in 1942

He Urged De Valera to Earn Peace-Table Seat; U. S. Bars Ship Sale to Irish

MAR 12 1944

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, March 11.—President Roosevelt was disclosed tonight to have advised Prime Minister Eamon de Valera two years ago that the Irish government should take steps not to "stand alone" when the time comes for the peace-table conference.

The Chief Executive gave the friendly warning to Prime Minister de Valera in a message, handed to the Irish Legation here Feb. 26, 1942, which had the primary purpose of assuring Mr. De Valera that American troops in the British Isles did not constitute a threat to Ireland, but rather a protection.

"There was not, and is not now, the slightest thought or intention of invading Irish territory or threatening Irish security," Mr. Roosevelt's note said.

The note was made public by the State Department tonight by way of clarifying the record on Irish-American relations, which reached a climax yesterday with official announcement that Mr. De Valera had rejected an American appeal to oust Axis diplomats from Eire because of their spy work.

The State Department also released the text of a note delivered to De Valera Jan. 6 by David Gray, the American Minister at Dublin, setting forth the reason for rejecting Ireland's request to purchase an 8,000-ton merchant ship from the United States War Shipping Administration.

The text of Mr. Roosevelt's message to Mr. De Valera follows:

"I have received, through Mr. Brennan, Irish Minister in Washington, the text of your statement on Jan. 27 last, following the arrival of American troops to the British Isles.

"The decision to dispatch troops to the British Isles was reached in close consultation with the British government as part of our strategic plan to defeat the Axis aggressors. There was not, and is not now, the slightest thought or intention of invading Irish territory or threatening Irish security. Far from constituting a threat to Ireland, the presence of these troops in neighboring territory can only contribute to the security of Ireland and of the whole British Isles, as well as furthering a total war effort.

"I have noticed in your previous statements expressions of gratitude for the long interest of the United States in the Irish freedom. Special ties of blood and friendship between our two countries are recognized here no less than in Ireland and have never left us unconcerned with the problems and fate of Ireland.

"At some future date when Axis aggression has been crushed by the military might of free peoples, the nations of the earth must gather about a peace table to plan the future world on foundations of liberty and justice everywhere. I think it only right that I make plain at this time that when that time comes the Irish government in its own best interest should not stand alone but should be associated with its traditional friends, and among them the United States of America."

Two Ships Were Sunk

The shipping note reminded De Valera that the former American ship Irish Pine and also the Irish Oak had been sunk while operating under charter to the Irish government.

The Maritime Commission, acting through the War Shipping Administration, rejected the request for the purchase.

The text of the note on the requested sale of American ships to Ireland follows:

"I have the honor to refer to recent efforts of the Irish government, through its officials in Washington, to obtain additional merchant ships in the United States. Several weeks ago the Irish Shipping, Ltd., an agency of the Irish government entered into negotiations with the United States Marine Corporation in New York for the purchase of the S. S. Wolverine, a vessel of approximately 8,000 tons under charter to the United States Shipping Administration. Application was made to the Maritime Commission for approval of the proposed sale and the Irish Legation in Washington, in a note of Dec. 4, requested the State Department to recommend to the War Shipping Administration that the application be approved.

"I am instructed to inform you that the State Department, in consultation with the President, has given this matter careful consideration and for the reasons set forth below has been unable to make the recommendation requested by the Irish government The United States Maritime Commission on Dec. 7 denied the application for the proposed sale as not being in the interest of the United States.

Recalls Ship Transfers

"You will recall that in September, 1941, in the face of a growing world shortage of shipping, the American government made available to the Irish government by charter the American merchant ships. These two ships have now both been destroyed and, in view of all the circumstances, we must assume they were destroyed by the Axis submarines. The American government understands that the Irish Pine (formerly the West Hematite) sailed from Ireland Oct. 28, 1942, and failed to arrive at its destination, and that the Irish Oak (formerly West Neris) was torpedoed on the morning of May 15, 1943, in open daylight and under conditions of good visibility. Although no definite information seems to be available regarding the precise matter of the sinking of the Irish Pine, the torpedoing of the Irish Oak appears to have been definitely established, as well as the fact that a German submarine was observed by a crew of the Irish Oak some hours prior to the sinking. The sinking of the Irish Oak, which you have rightly described as a "wanton and inexcusable act', and of other Irish ships, must be presumed, in the absence of evidence to the contrary, to be the work of Axis submarines in their campaign of indiscriminate warfare against all ships, whether belligerent or neutral.

Cites U. S. Efforts to Aid

"In chartering the West Hematite (Irish Pine) and the West Neris (Irish Oak) to the Irish government, the American government was motivated by the most friendly considerations and by the sole purpose of helping the Irish government and the Irish people to carry to their shores foodstuffs and other supplies of critical necessity. This, of course, constitutes only a part of the efforts of the American government since the outbreak of the war to assist the Irish people in obtaining needed supplies. The chartering of these ships to the Irish government represented a real sacrifice on the part of the United States at a time when shipping space was most badly needed. The Irish government sailed these ships with distinct neutral markings and they carried supplies in no way connected with the war. The action of the Axis submarines in sinking these ships without warning, is therefore, to repeat your own language, a 'wanton and inexcusable act.'

"So far as the American government is informed, the Irish government has taken no steps against the Axis governments and, thus far, has offered no word of protest to the Axis governments against these wanton acts. These repeated attacks on Irish ships appeared to be conclusive proof, if further proof were needed, that the Axis powers are in fact making war upon Ireland while at the same time using Ireland's friendship to the detriment of the United Nations war effort. The loss of the West Hematite (Irish Pine) and West Neris (Irish Oak) has harmed not only Ireland but the United States, to whom those vessels belonged and the whole United Nations war effort.

Bear Neutral Markings

"The fact that ships sailing under the Irish flag bear distinct neutral marking and travel fully lighted at night should make them immune from belligerant attack but in reality serves only to make them easy targets for Nazi submarines. Any further ships transferred to the Irish flag would be subjected to the same hazards.

"In view of the foregoing circumstances, it is regretted that the State Department cannot comply with your request that it recommend to the Maritime Commission the approval of the sale now in question."

At the same time that the State Department released the President's message and the note on shipping, the Irish Minister issued at the legation here his side of the story.

Sees Lack of Evidence

He noted that the American note had stated that the Irish government had not protested to the German government over the sinking of the Irish Pine and the Irish Oak.

He said he called this to the attention of Under Secretary of State Edward R. Stettinius jr. on Jan. 24, this year, and told him the accusation was "most unreasonable because such a protest could not be made without positive evidence that the loss of these two vessels was due to German action; that the Irish Pine disappeared from the high seas and we had no knowledge as to what had happened to her; that the Irish Oak was torpedoed, but the members of the crew had not been able to identify the nationality of the submarine which fired the torpedo."

EIRE DENIED SHIP BY U. S.

Roosevelt's 1942 Advice To De Valera Disclosed

MAR 12 1944

Washington, March 11 (AP)—The State Department announced tonight that it had refused sale of a merchant ship to Eire because Axis submarines had wantonly sunk other American ships operating under the Irish flag despite Ireland's policy of neutrality toward the Axis.

Although the refusal was made more than a month before the United States asked Eire to abandon neutrality, the fact that it was announced tonight on the heels of disclosure that Prime Minister de Valera had rejected the abandonment request strongly indicated that a firmer American policy on economic cooperation with Eire is in operation.

Facts In Note To De Valera

The fact that Eire had asked to purchase the steamship Wolverine, an 8,000-ton vessel, in this country and the Government's reason for declining to approve the sale were set forth in a note delivered to Prime Minister de Valera in Dublin on January 6 by David Gray, American Minister to Dublin.

Simultaneously, the department released the text of a message from President Roosevelt to de Valera on February 26, 1942, reassuring the Prime Minister that the arrival of American troops in Britain during the first weeks of war did not constitute a threat to Irish security. The President declared this Government had not "the slightest thought or intention of invading Irish territory."

Roosevelt To De Valera

None the less, Mr. Roosevelt took occasion to tell de Valera bluntly that when the time comes for the peace tables he thought that Ireland "in its own best interest should not stand alone but should be associated with its traditional friends, and, among them, the United States of America."

The Irish legation issued, simultaneously with the State Department release, a statement by the Minister, Robert Brennen, on the proposed ship deal in which Brennen contended there was no convincing evidence that Axis submarines actually had been responsible for the loss of the two American ships operating under Irish charter on which the State Department based its case for disapproving the sale of the Wolverine.

Charter Ships Sunk

The shipping note reminded de Valera that the former American ship Irish Pine and also the Irish Oak had been sunk while operating under charter to the Irish Government.

"These repeated attacks on Irish ships appeared to be conclusive proof," Gray told de Valera, "if further proof were needed, that the Axis powers are in fact making war upon Ireland while at the same time using Ireland's friendship to the detriment of the United Nations' war effort."

The loss of the two ships, it was stated, harmed not only Ireland, "but the United States, to whom those vessels belonged, and the whole United Nations' war effort."

Same Hazards Exist

"Any further ships transferred to the Irish flag would be subjected to these same hazards," the note added.

"In view of the foregoing circumstances, it is regretted that the State Department cannot comply with your request that it recommend to the Maritime Commission the approval of the sale now in question."

The Maritime Commission, acting through the War Shipping Administration, rejected the request for the purchase.

Eire's envoy, giving his side of the story, noted that the American note had stated that the Irish Government had not protested to the German Government over the sinking of the Irish Pine and the Irish Oak.

Why Eire Filed No Protest

He said he called this to the attention of Under Secretary of State Stettinius on January 24, this year, and told him the accusation was "most unreasonable because such a protest could not be made without positive evidence that the loss of these two vessels was due to German action; that the Irish Pine disappeared from the high seas and we had no knowledge as to what had happened to her; that the Irish Oak was torpedoed, but the members of the crew had not been able to identify the nationality of the submarine which fired the torpedo."

Brennen also said that he had cited the case of another ship, the Kerlogue, which had been machine-gunned from the air and he stated that a protest in that case to Germany would have been both ridiculous because the plane involved proved to be British. The British admitted the facts of the case, he said, but denied responsibility because the vessel was off its course.

Drastic Measures by Allies Against Eire Are Expected

Closing and Fully Guarding of the Irish Border Regarded as Likely—Need for Action Imperative.

MAR 13 1944

Washington, March 11 (A. P.).—Drastic measures to safeguard Allied invasion preparations in Britain from Axis espionage were expected today to follow Prime Minister De Valera's refusal of an American request that Ireland oust German and Japanese diplomats accused of heading a spy ring.

The need for early and decisive action to keep enemy agents from further enlarging their knowledge of Allied plans for the second front assault on Europe was emphasized by an official statement that because of spy activities based on Ireland "not only the success of the operations but the lives of thousands of United Nations' soldiers are at stake."

The American case was set forth in a note made public by Secretary of State Hull last night in which Mr. De Valera was urged to expel all Axis diplomats and consular officials from his country.

At the same time the Irish legation here released the text of De Valera's reply, turning down the appeal. Mr. De Valera contended Ireland's counter-spy methods were effective and asserted that no American lives would be lost through any indifference or neglect of its duty on the part of his country.

He also made two other main points: That expulsion of German and Japanese officers would be a first step toward going to war with the Axis, which his country is determined not to do; and that he had received assurances from the United States that it did not intend invading Ireland.

Thus for the first time it was officially revealed how gravely the Dublin government had viewed events of the past few weeks, during which the world knew only that Ireland had been swept by waves of invasion jitters.

Several further measures appear to be open to the United States and Britain, which had backed the American request to the limit. All of them and possibly others are believed to be under consideration here and in London. They include:

1. Closing and fully guarding the border between Eire and Northern Ireland as an emergency military measure.

Would Create Problems.

2. Breaking diplomatic relations with the Dublin government. This appeared to be the most improbable step of all since it usually creates more problems than it solves.

3. Clamping down on economic collaboration with Ireland. The country is an integral part of the British economic system and dependent entirely on British and American shipping.

From the text of the two notes it was clear that the aim on both sides was a friendly solution of the difficulties which have jeopardized Eire's neutrality more directly than at any previous point in four and a half years of European war.

However, the American note was equally clear in emphasizing that something has to be done to insure secrecy for the most vital Anglo-American military operation of the whole war—the cross-channel invasion of Europe.

As things stand now, the note said, Axis spies have a grandstand view of the Allies' most secret preparations because of the geographical location of Ireland.

Evidence of Espionage.

Two specific evidences of espionage were cited:

1. The German legation in Dublin had, at least until recently, a radio sending set. (Mr. De Valera admitted in his reply that the German minister had possessed a transmitter but said that he had been "for a long time debarred from using it and it has been in the custody of the Irish Government for some months.")

2. Two parachutists equipped with radio sending sets recently dropped on Irish territory from German planes. (Admitting this, Mr. De Valera said it occurred last December and that the parachutists "were apprehended within a few hours." He said two other agents had dropped since the war started and met similar quick arrest and that a fifth who arrived in the first year of war was put under almost immediate police surveillance and was arrested in December, 1941.)

In general Mr. De Valera said of the American note that "not a single instance of (Irish) neglect is alleged and no proof of injury to American interests is adduced."

Balanced against this was the American statement that it has been demonstrated over and over again that Axis representatives in neutral countries use (their) special privileges and immunities as a cloak for espionage activities against the United Nations."

The War Shipping Administration has turned down Eire's request for permission to buy two merchant ships.

The refusal, based on lack of tonnage, was forwarded to the Irish legation here about three months ago, it was learned at the State Department. That was long before the American note requesting that Ireland clean out Axis agents was delivered on February 21.

About a year and a half ago, the War Shipping Administration granted an Irish request to charter two American merchantmen.

IRISH IN DUBLIN BACKING DE VALERA

MAR 12 1944

London, March 11 (A. P.).—The Irish in Dublin were reported giving enthusiastic approval today to Eamon De Valera's rejection of a United States request for closing German and Japanese diplomatic offices in Eire, but the British press strongly deplored the Prime Minister's action.

"There is every reason to believe that America does not intend to regard the matter as closed," said the London Daily Mirror. "Britain, although not taking part in the present negotiations, is expected to act jointly with America in taking any steps considered necessary."

Advices from Dublin, although pointing out that the Irish people were determinedly behind Mr. De Valera in desiring to continue their neutrality, said that Dubliners were aware it would be possible for the United States to apply economic sanctions in an effort to force closing of the Axis listening posts in Eire. A great part of the country's food is imported and it lacks ships.

One qualified Dublin source said: "The people in Eire are in no mood at this stage of the war to invite possible Nazi raids against the country by such a slap in Hitler's face."

"The Government's reply represents the will of the Irish people," said the Irish Free Press.

Irish censorship forbids criticism of the Government's neutrality policy, however, and the absence of any comment from the Irish Times could be interpreted as silent disapproval of De Valera's step.

Britain Supports U. S. Demand, Eire Told

London, March 11 (AP)—Britain has informed Eire that it "fully supported" the United States' request for the removal of German and Japanese diplomats and consular representatives from Ireland, it was disclosed today.

Prime Minister Eamon de Valera has rejected the American request for the ouster of the Axis representatives as an anti-espionage measure.

The text of the correspondence disclosed that the British "wish to emphasize the importance which they attach to this request."

In answer, de Valera merely sent the British Government a copy of the reply he had given the United States.

Anxious Days Ahead For Eire, Dublin Feels

Dublin, March 11 (AP)—It is felt in this neutral capital tonight that the days ahead will be anxious ones for Eire.

Such a feeling prevails despite the widespread relief at the assurance by the United States Government that it did not "contemplate proceeding to military or other measures" because of the Irish reply to its note asking for the expulsion of Axis agents.

The publication of the texts of the Irish and American notes had a calming effect on the populace, which in the last two weeks had buzzed with alarming rumors.

But on all sides were heard expressions of concern over the age-old good relations between Ireland and America. The hope was expressed generally that a way might be found out of the impasse without imperiling the ties that bind the two countries.

British Note to de Valera

LONDON, March 11 (AP)—The text of the note, dated Feb. 22, sent to Mr. de Valera by Sir John Maffey, United Kingdom representative to Eire, follows:

The Government of the United States of America recently consulted His Majesty's Government in the United Kingdom on their proposal to address to the Government of Eire a request for the removal of Axis diplomatic and consular representatives in Eire.

It was with the full concurrence of His Majesty's Government that the United States Government made this approach to the Government of Eire in their note of Feb. 21, 1944.

The United Kingdom Government desire to make it clear to the Government of Eire that, for their part, they warmly welcome the initiative which has been taken by the United States Government and they fully support the request for the removal from Eire of German and Japanese diplomatic and consular representatives.

The United Kingdom Government wish to emphasize the importance which they attach to this request.

GENERALS GIVE INVASION TIPS

MAR 12 1944

Eisenhower And Montgomery Express Confidence

London, March 11 (AP)—General Sir Bernard L. Montgomery declared today that "we have got this war absolutely gripped in a firm hold and the enemy cannot escape," but he predicted that the fighting would probably extend into next year.

In another confident expression, Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, supreme commander of the Allied invasion forces, told graduates at the Royal Military College at Sandhurst that he hoped to meet them soon, east of the Rhine.

"Almost Finished" This Year

Montgomery, commander of British ground forces under Eisenhower, told war workers on a tour of tank and gun plants that: "I have not the slightest doubt that if the battle front and home front really get down to it this year, we can get the thing almost finished—held so tightly that next year we will just topple it over."

"At the end of this year, if not sooner, we shall have it just about right for toppling over," he added.

Eisenhower Emphasizes Speed

Eisenhower told the young officers at Britain's "West Point" that "a small unit of leadership will win the fothcoming ground battle. You must master your job, and master it quickly."

Colorful Sir Bernard, of British Eighth Army fame, who took a day off from training the invasion force to inspect and chat with the men and women making tools for the attack, was cheered when he remarked on the changes that had occurred since the days of Dunkerque.

"I got pushed into the sea myself at Dunkerque—very unpleasant. But we are doing the pushing now," he said.

"Partners In Great War"

Eisenhower, emphasizing the need of continuing Anglo-American cooperation, said:

"Since 1812 there has been no question, no difference arising between our two countries that has not been capable of amicable settlement. Now your nation and mine have found themselves partners in a great war.

"More than at any other time in history we find the forces of evil ranged against those of decency and respect for the human mind. We stand on the side of decency, democracy and liberty.

"Our great air forces by night and day are punishing our enemy, softening him up, but much remains to be done. . . . Every one of us must not fail in his duty."

Gen. Eisenhower Speaks At English 'West Point'

Sandhurst, England, March 11 (AP)—In his first visit to Britain's "West Point," Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower told a graduating class of young officers here today he hoped to "meet them soon east of the Rhine."

"Can And Must Win"

The supreme commander of the Allied invasion forces reviewed several hundred cadets of the Royal Military College from the steps of the 130-year-old administration building. Some of those in the review had served under Eisenhower in Africa as enlisted men and were completing their training to serve as officers on the western front.

"We can and must win this war," the American general told them in his short address. "Everyone, whether he is in uniform or behind the plow, must do his duty or have on his conscience the fact that he has prolonged the agony our two nations are enduring."

"A small unit of leadership will win the forthcoming ground battle," he told the cadets after presenting Sam Brown belts to the three top men of the class in a traditional, symbolic ceremony.

"You must master your job and master it quickly."

Stresses Need Of Cooperation

He stressed the need of British and American cooperation both during the war and the peace to follow.

General Eisenhower's inspection tour included the stone in the chapel, which was the gift of West Point cadets during the first World War.

The Military College's courses have been condensed into 26 weeks of training. A small class is graduated each week, with many of the cadets coming from the ranks.

YUGOSLAV KING SEEKS ACCORD

Expected To Try For Compromise With Tito—Sees Fiancee

By WES GALLAGHER

London, March 11 (AP) — Youthful King Peter of Yugoslavia, absorbed in romance as well as politics, launched an effort today to save his throne against heavy odds by seeking an agreement with his country's leading guerrilla leader, Marshal Tito.

He faced a difficult task. Peter, coming from Cairo, had scarcely stepped off a plane at a London airport before a dispatch from Moscow disclosed that his Minister to Russia, Stanojf Simic, had resigned and placed himself at the disposal of Tito. Similar action by Lieut. Col. Meodrag Lozic, military attache at the Moscow embassy, also was announced.

Strolls With Fiancee

Peter presumably came with his Premier, Dr. Bozhidar Purie, to seek British help in working out a compromise with Tito, who has established his own Government in the liberated sectors of Yugoslavia.

However, the young ruler cast aside these cares of state to rush to his fiancee, Princess Alexandra of Greece, and a short time later both were seen strolling in the lobby of a London hotel in the best of spirits.

The couple wanted to marry at once when their engagement was announced in the summer of 1942, but their respective Governments opposed a war wedding.

Allies Support Tito

Peter's political situation at present may be summed up in this manner:

Britain, Russia and the United States have been giving wholehearted support to Tito.

Tito's forces might accept Peter as the figurative head of the Government if the King discards his present ministers.

Unofficial reports say Josip Smodlaka Titoe, 70-year-old Foreign Minister, who now is out of Yugoslavia, has suggested tentatively a compromise might be worked out if the King handed over his constitutional prerogatives to a regency committee of Partisans and agreed to have his post-war status determined by plebiscite.

Nazis Expect Raids.

London, March 11 (A. P.).—Increase of German forces in Yugoslavia to a new peak of strength was reported in a delayed dispatch today on the heels of a Berlin statement that Allied Commandos had landed on the Adriatic island of Lissa and that other raids along the Dalmatian coast might be expected.

Associated Press Correspondent Daniel De Luce, in a dispatch from Bari, Italy, dated March 1, quoted high officers of Marshal Tito's National Liberation Army as saying the Nazis now had elements of twenty divisions in Yugoslavia, but that their winter offensive had failed in the primary objective of crushing Tito's forces.

The officers declared that German occupation of nine important Dalmatian islands—Korcula, Brac, Hvar, Solta, Drvenik, Uljan and Pasman in the Split area, and Krk and Cherso near Fiume, was accomplished at a heavy cost in lives, but failed to stop Allied supplies from reaching the Partisans.

The Bari dispatch said that the Partisan officers declared that heavy Allied air raids had whittled down German air strength in Dalmatia and Bosnia to the lowest level of the war, but that the Nazis were building fighter bases deep in the country in anticipation of mighty bombings of Austria and Hungary in the spring.

Yugoslavia's King Peter, it was officially announced, reached England today and Britain speculated as to whether Prime Minister Churchill or Dan Cupid was responsible for his coming.

His appearance in London strengthened indications of a mounting British determination to bring about unity among Yugoslav factions—probably under the fighting banners of Marshal Tito (Josip Broz) with King Peter remaining as head of the Government.

However, there's another angle. Princess Alexandra of Greece, Peter's fiancee, is also in London, and upon the outcome of the King's visit may depend the answer as to whether the royal couple will marry in exile or wait for a post-war ceremony.

YUGOSLAV LEADER TO JOIN WITH TITO

MAR 12 1944

GILMORE

MOSCOW, March 11—(AP) Accusing the Yugoslav government-in-exile of failure to conduct a people's war against Germany, Stanojf Simic has resigned as minister to Russia and offered his services to Marshal Tito (Josip Broz), leader of the Partisan forces fighting in his homeland.

Simic's resignation and that of Lt. Col. Meodrag, Lozic, military attache, were announced in letters printed today in the newspapers Pravda and Red Star.

In a subsequent interview, Simic discounted any desire to become the next Yugoslav premier and declared, "We have a perfectly good government in Yugoslavia. If Marshal Tito wants me, I plan to stay on here to represent him and my country. If he wants something else of me, I'll be glad to do that, too."

Simic related his disappointment with the Royal Yugoslav government established in exile at Cairo. He said that when Yugoslav soldiers first suggested forming a unit in the Soviet Union to fight with the Red army he informed Cairo, but never had received a reply.

He said he was convinced that Russia was not interested in "communizing" Yugoslavia, but wanted only a friendly Yugoslavia with an agreement based along the lines of the pact negotiated recently with Czechoslovakia. Simic added that he made up his mind several weeks that such an agreement could not be worked out with the Royal government headed by Premier Dr. Buzhidar Puric and could only be arranged with a government established in Yugoslavia.

In published letters, dated March 10, and addressed to Marshal Tito, Simic wrote that he considered the Partisan regime "the sole, truly organized power both in the country and beyond its borders."

Envoy Joins Tito's Group

Moscow, March 11 (A. P.).—Stanojf Simic, Yugoslav Minister to the Soviet Union, has renounced King Peter's Government and placed himself at the disposal of Marshal Tito, it was disclosed today in a letter published in Pravda.

In a second letter Lieut.-Col. Meodrag Lozic, Yugoslav military attache here, announced similar action. Both letters were addressed to Tito.

Simic and Lozic accused the Royalist Government of failing to conduct a people's war against the Germans.

British Miners Vote Today on Ending Strike

MAR 12 1944

Coal Reserves Used to Keep Factories Going; Wales Steel Output Threatened

LONDON, March 11 (AP).—Action toward ending Great Britain's coal strike hit a snag today, while apartment dwellers in London began to shiver in almost heatless buildings.

About 250 miners' delegates met to pass upon back-to-work recommendations for the 100,000 strikers but returned to their homes without voting. The miners' executive council had urged an immediate return to jobs.

Arthur Horner, president of the South Wales Miners' Federation, said the "mandates which certain of the delegates had could not be regarded as being satisfactory because they were given at (miners') lodge meetings which were not in possession of the latest information."

Horner and other federation leaders have urged repeatedly that the strike end.

The miners will meet in small groups tomorrow to vote on returning to work. Horner said he understood several groups already had agreed on resolutions to end the strike.

The miners are seeking better pay.

Government officials said the loss of 300,000 tons of coal this week had forced the nation to dip into reserves to keep factories going. In London some apartment dwellers, besides finding little heat in their homes, had no hot water.

The steel and tin plate plants of Wales, important to Britain's war production, announced today that their operations would be crippled within the next few days unless deliveries are resumed from the coal mines.

All but seven of the 202 collieries in the south Wales district now are idle. Miners left two more today in the west Wales anthracite field and the walkout extended to three more in north Wales, where 6,000 men are idle. Several hundred more also walked out of the North England Durham mines and another Scottish mine closed.

Wales Plant Output Periled By Coal Strike

MAR 12 1944

London, March 11 (AP)—The steel and tinplate plants of Wales, important to Britain's war production, announced today that their operations would be crippled within the next few days unless deliveries are resumed from the coal mines, virtually paralyzed by a spreading strike in which 100,000 workers have quit the pits.

"Those controlling heavy industries in the area have taken every possible step to reduce coal consumption," said Lewis Jones, labor member of Parliament and secretary of the South Wales Steel Association.

Stocks Kept To Minimum

"The shortage has resulted in stocks being kept down to a minimum, and unless there is an almost immediate calling off of the miners' strike it will be impossible for the plants to carry on production more than a few days."

All but seven of the 202 collieries in the South Wales district now are idle. Miners left two more today in the West Wales anthracite field, and the walkout extended to three more in North Wales, where 6,000 men are idle.

Several hundred more also walked out of the North England Durham mines, and another Scottish mine closed, bringing the number of strikers in Scotland to 8,000

Deliveries Ordered Reduced

The Government ordered deliveries to homes, offices and small factories in six South Wales counties and in Monmouthshire to be cut at once to two long hundredweight (224 pounds) for the rest of this month. The previous allowance had been five long hundredweight per month.

Urgent appeals to resume work at once, ending this worst wartime strike which is costing Britain 350,000 tons of coal weekly, were made by officials of the Mine Union Federation and members of Parliament from the coal-field districts at a Cardiff meeting of 250 delegates of union locals.

There was no immediate indication of the outcome of the appeals, for the strike is a wildcat and the miners so far have rejected repeated union appeals to return to work pending negotiations of their wage rate dispute.

Tieup Seen Prolonging War

The newest appeal said "the war will certainly be prolonged and British soldiers' lives in consequence will be endangered if the stoppage is continued.

"Moreover, the reserves of coal set aside for the invasion of Europe are being encroached upon to meet immediate urgent needs."

The miners were told that "the immediate situation with regard to the industrial and non-mining sections of the community hourly is becoming more critical, and may become calamitous."

The British Press Association said that due to the strike the electricity for the whole southwest area, extending as far as Oxford, England, might have to be cut off.

DEMOCRATS HAIL

PARLIAMENT'S BID TO VISIT BRITAIN

MAR 12 1944

WASHINGTON, March 11—(AP) A projected invitation for a congressional delegation to visit the British Parliament found legislators in a receptive mood today, but the shadow of a political campaign cast some doubt on their final decision.

Democratic leaders in both houses greeted with approval word from London that the British lawmakers intend to extend a formal invitation for such a visit, but there was some Republican dissension.

Senate Majority Leader Barkley (Ky.) said he thought an exchange of ideas between the British and American legislators would be "very helpful" toward a better understanding of the mutual problems both countries will face at the peace table.

Likewise, House Majority Leader McCormack (Mass.) saw in the projected visit an opportunity to "promote better relations and better understanding." He said it "would be fine if all the friendly nations would exchange visits of their law-making groups."

However, House Minority Leader Martin (Mass.) said he doubted that legislators "could take time out from our work now to send a delegation abroad."

Senator Nye (R-N.D.), a member of the Senate Foreign Relations said he saw little to be gained by the proposed trip, adding:

"I fail to see any real purpose that has been served by parliamentary delegations coming over here. There probably will be a good many members of Congress willing to join such a party, but, as for myself, I am not interested in the matter."

Chairman Connally (D-Tex.) of the Foreign Relations committee said that acceptance of the British invitation "may prove very helpful in the matter of cooperation in the war, particularly with respect to the proposal for the establishment of a peace agency after the war."

Senator George (D-Ga.) pointed out that the press of congressional business will be heavy until July 1 and he, and others, cited the political campaign as a possible deterrent, although he said he approved of the idea behind the invitation. All members of the House are up for reelection as well as one-third of the senators.

COMMONS TO SEND BID

London, March 11 (A. P.).—A delegation of members of the Congress of the United States will be invited by Parliament to visit Great Britain as guests of the British Government within the near future, it was disclosed last night.

The invitation will be extended by the House of Commons on its next sitting day and it is understood here that Congress will approve the proposal as soon as it is received. The delegation will include Democrats, Republicans and members of the minority parties in both houses.

British Subs Sink 4 Ships

London, March 11 (AP)—British submarines, attacking enemy convoys attempting to keep open the supply route between Germany and Norway, have sunk four supply vessels and damaged five others, the Admiralty announced tonight.

Berlin Claims 16 Allied Ships Sunk

MAR 12 1944

London, March 11 (AP)—The Berlin radio claimed today that U-boats have sunk 16 Allied escort destroyers either from convoys or from anti-submarine groups in northern waters, the Atlantic and the Mediterranean.

The broadcast did not say when the attacks took place. President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Churchill, in their last report on the submarine warfare, said Allied merchant losses in February were the lowest since the United States entered the war and that more U-boats had been sunk than Allied vessels lost.

22 Million Britons In Full-time War Work

London, March 11 (A. P.).—Minister of Labor Ernest Bevin said today 22,000,000 Britons now are engaged in full-time war work and in the armed forces and that of these more than 7,000,000 are women.

Opening a rest home for women workers at Tadworth, Surrey, which was built with donations fro n American war workers, Bevin said that $525,000 was contributed in the United States in 1943 to build British rest homes.

Plastic Eyes Developed

Army Dentists' Invention; They Are Put on Exhibit in London

LONDON, March 11 (AP).—Newly developed artificial eyes of plastic were exhibited today during an inspection of the American Army dental dispensary in London by high-ranking Allied medical officers.

The Army dentists who invented the eyes call them "bouncing eyes" because they won't break when dropped. They say they are more lifelike than glass eyes, can be ground to insure fit and are not affected by eye secretions or temperature changes.

They are made from dental acrylic resin, used in dental plates. The technique was developed by Captain Stanley F. Erpf.

British Seamstress, 19, Turns To Killing Rats

Poole, England, March 11 (AP)—Anne Hunt, 19, peacetime worker in the tailoring trade, is champion rat catcher of Britain's Women's Land Army and winner of a silver cup. One of 21 girls working on pest destruction in Dorset, Miss Hunt has trapped more than 5,000 rats and gassed and poisoned many more.

Court Bans Baby Commandos

Nottingham, Eng., March 11 (AP). Herbert Robinson, charged with ill-treating his two-year-old son, told the court he was bringing up all his children to be Commandos and the two-year-old had to have the same treatment. He was fined $14.

FINNISH OFFICIALS FOREGO HOLIDAYS

Action Said to Indicate New Turn in Peace Question

STOCKHOLM, Sweden, March 11 (AP)—Several prominent members of the Finnish Government are remaining in Helsinki for the week-end rather than taking their usual holiday in the country, it was learned today, leading some observers to believe that a development in the Finnish peace crisis was imminent.

The Aftonbladet's Helsinki correspondent was able to report through a tight censorship that there were "several signs that Russia was trying to keep the way open for negotiations," but his dispatch gave no indications as to what those signs were. He reported, however, increased optimism among some Finns over the possibility of a peaceful solution.

The German-controlled Scandinavian Telegraph Bureau said in a Berlin dispatch that it was only a question of time before the Russians would launch a big offensive against Finland, and declared there had been considerable Red Army activity north of Lake Ladoga and on the Murmansk front the last two days.

Eventual Link To Allies Seen For 3 Neutrals

Stockholm, March 11 (AP)—The Stockholm Tidningen, commenting on the United States request to Eire to remove German and Japanese consular and diplomatic representatives, declared editorially today that soon or late "Western neutrals" must align themselves with the Allies, whether they like it or not.

"As the war draws nearer to its end, the political pressure of the Allies on those neutral countries which they can control will grow stronger," the newspaper asserted.

The editorial mentioned Spain, Portugal and Eire as "Western neutrals."

Danish Polar Explorer Escapes Into Sweden

Stockholm, March 11 (AP)—Peter Freuchen, Danish Polar explorer and author, escaped from Denmark to Sweden yesterday, a Malmoe dispatch to the newspaper Allehanda said today.

Freuchen's home was searched by the Gestapo five days ago. The explorer was the director of several Hollywood productions, including "Eskimo."

POPE WILL SPEAK TODAY TO OBSERVE CORONATION DATE

AT THE SWISS-ITALIAN FRONTIER, March 11—(AP) Pope Pius XII, worn by the war, will observe the fifth anniversary of his coronation by speaking to the world tomorrow from the loggia of St. Peter's. The pageantry that usually marks the anniversary will be missing.

Dispatches from Italy indicate a widespread expectation there that the Holy Father will make some announcement concerning the future of Rome. Information here is that the Vatican is continuing its efforts to have Rome spared the ravages of war.

Geneva's La Suisse said Luigi Cardinal Maglione, papal secretary of state, had obtained important assurances from the German ambassador to the Holy See that henceforth the German air force will not pursue Allied planes over Rome. The newspapers said anti-aircraft batteries, which until recently put up barrages against Allied planes, have been removed beyond the city limits, although railroads passing through Rome continue to carry supplies to the German armies. Railroad yards in the vicinity have been bombed frequently by the Allies.

Despite recent bombings of the vicinity of Rome, the newspaper added, Romans have not given up hope that the Pope will be able to make a "great announcement" that the city will not become a battle-front—or at least that the pontiff will address a new appeal to leaders of the belligerents.

A pontificial mass at Lateran cathedral will be followed by the Te Deum. The Pope then is scheduled to appear on the St. Peter's balcony at 3:30 p.m. (10:30 a.m., Eastern War Time) to address the people and to give by radio the apostolic blessing "Urbi et Orbi"—to the city and the world.

The Vatican radio said bells of all Rome's churches will peal for five minutes preceding the Pope's appearance. It said the papal blessing will hold good for all listeners who tune in at home.

The Vatican plans the broadcast on 50.26 and 31.06 meters, with relay by the Italian radio network on 31.42.

(U. S. networks said Saturday in New York they had no plans for a rebroadcast in this country).

MARAUDERS BLAST RAILWAY TARGETS IN HISTORIC CITY

Fortresses Meet Stern Opposition in Daylight Attack on Padua.

NAZIS USE MANY PLANES

Submarines Bombed at Naval Base on French Mediterranean Coast.

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, Naples, March 11—(AP) American aerial might based in Italy was unleashed in full force and variety today, hitting historic Florence for the first time in the war as well as the great Nazi naval base at Toulon in France and the railroad yards at Italian Padua.

A savage 35-minute running battle was fought by the Flying Fortresses and their escort of Thunderbolts during the strike at Padua, 22 miles from Venice, and returning airmen called it the hardest fight by airmen of this theater since the attack on Regensburg, Feb. 25.

The Germans apparently sent up every type of plane at their command including rocket-firing fighters, and swept against the American bombers in waves.

Bags Two Messerschmitts

One description of the spectacular air struggle was given by Capt. William A. Rynne, 28-year-old veteran fighter pilot of Yonkers, N. Y., who shot down two Messerschmitts.

"We were flying top cover for the Forts," he said, "when we saw the first fighters—about 20 Focke-Wulf 190s—coming in from above in a shallow dive and firing rockets at the B-17s.

"Soon the sky was like a swarm of flies around a molasses barrel.

"Behind we could see about 50 Messerschmitts and Macchis (an Italian-built fighter) attacking a lone formation of bombers.

"We went back and joined in the fight. That's when I picked off my two."

Rail Yards Blasted

In spite of the violent battle, the Fortresses were able to blanket the Padua yards with a heavy load of bombs and crewmen said that smoke rose more than a mile high as they left.

A special air force announcement dwelling on this battle said that early reports indicated both bombers and fighters destroyed a large number of enemy planes with comparative minor losses of their own.

The attack on Toulon, the second in five days, was made by Liberators with an escort of Lightnings and met comparatively light opposition and scant flak.

Marauder medium bombers were especially chosen for the inaugural blow at Florence because their crews had been trained for precision work and had been instructed to take extraordinary precautions in wrecking the network of railroads without damaging the city's famed art treasures.

First photographs brought back from the raid showed hits on the railroad yards, locomotive repair shops and rolling stock and disclosed that no bombs fell closer than 1,500 feet to any object of cultural significance, the air force announced.

Maj. Gen. John K. Cannon, commander of the tactical air force, congratulated the Marauder groups for the Florence raid with the assertion, "You have hit the most vital rail target left in Italy and you have hit it without injury to the priceless art treasures of the city.

"You were picked for this job because you have demonstrated on other pin-point targets, bridges and harbors and the railway yards in Rome, that you can sharpshoot at any aiming point without wasting your bombs. You have done it again today."

First Raid on City

Padua, like Toulon's submarine pens, which were attacked as recently as last Tuesday, had been raided frequently but until today Allied airmen had spared historic Florence, even though pounding enemy communications lines on all sides of the city.

The heavy bombers plastered submarines and submarine pens at Toulon and covered factories and port installations with a pattern of heavy bombs.

Twin-tailed Lightning fighters escorted the big bombers and provided a strong cover which met but little fighter opposition. Flak was moderate over the target, in contrast to the raid earlier this week when anti-aircraft fire was strong and accurate.

The widespread aerial offensive also sent powerful formations against Prato and Pontassievo near Florence. They reported good coverage of the targets.

Of the heavy battle that developed during the attack on Padua, a special air force announcement said:

"Flying Fortresses and their P-47 Thunderbolt escort fought through waves of enemy fighters to attack the already mauled Padua rail yards.

"In a 35-minute running battle with swarms of Nazi ME 109s, ME 110s, ME 202s and rocket-firing JU 88s early reports indicate both bombers and fighters downed a large number of enemy fighters, suffering only minor losses to themselves."

The widespread operations were made possible by a sudden break in the weather and early reports indicated good results at all targets.

Allied Bombers Lash Rome And Florence Targets

London, March 11 (AP)—The Rome area was bombed again this morning following yesterday's attacks by Allied aircraft, and casualties and damage were caused in heavily populated districts, the Rome radio said in a broadcast.

Allied Headquarters, Naples, March 11 (AP)—United States Marauders bombed the strategic railyards of Florence today in the first attack on that city, taking special precautions to spare Florence's cultural, religious and historical landmarks.

The Florence "freight yards are a vitally important center of rail communication serving the enemy front in Italy," an air force statement said.

Sought To Save Treasures

"Up to now we have imposed on ourselves the severe handicap of leaving them alone in order to avoid any responsibility of damage to the unique art treasures of the city."

"To this end we have had to attack a number of objectives around Florence in an attempt to achieve the same end which an attack on a single objective would have served. We have no longer been able to accept this responsibility," the statement continued.

Likened To Rome Situation

"There is no doubt whatever that in Florence, as in Rome, the Germans have made deliberate use of our obvious reluctance to risk incidental damage to artistic, historic and religious objects in the city."

The statement said only the most experienced crews were used for the operation against the city 140 miles north of Rome, and "every possible precaution was taken to avoid damage to the city itself."

The first crewmen to return termed the attack successful.

Rail Junction Blasted

The bombers hit crowded rail junctions. Recent photographs had disclosed large groups of trains and cars there, and these were well covered with bombs.

Florence is one of the richest cities, culturally, in Italy, famous for its many churches, art galleries, libraries and museums.
